

Lions Pancake Supper Is Well Attended

Rotan Lions fed a large number of local citizens and guests last Thursday evening at High School cafeteria.

Lions expressed their thanks to everyone who helped on the event, especially Mrs. Blount, Gene Wallace and Charlie Bennet for their untiring efforts in turning out such wonderful pancakes, also Mrs. Murphy for the musical program.

The Lions also thank Mr. McCasland, the school and luncheon ladies for the cafeteria and helping with the supper.

Most of the Lions did a good job in ticket selling and in helping with the supper.

This is an annual event and the Lions ask your continued cooperation and promise plenty of good pancakes and the trimmin's in addition to fellowship for the evening, again next year. This is their principal financial effort for funds to carry on their worthy projects for the year. All food is donated for these events.

Sardis Revival To Be April 4-11

Sardis Baptist Church's Spring Revival begins April 4 and continues through April 11. The Pastor-Evangelist Rev. Paige Patterson will be speaking on such important topics as "an A Saved Person Live Like The Devil?"; "When God Shuts The Door"; "The Second Coming of Christ"; "Can a Twentieth-Century Intellectual Believe in a Literal Hell?"; and "The Cross at Calvary". Two Elections To Be Held Tuesday

Two local elections are scheduled for next Tuesday, election of two city commissioners and two members on the Water Authority Board.

Charles Atwell and Rudy Lotief appear on the City ticket and H. T. Fillingim and W. I. Branch in Water Board.

Little interest is expected in either election as both are unopposed, but citizens should vote regardless of contest, in interest of good government, and to show these men we stand behind them and appreciate their free-service work.

Both elections will be held at City Hall with Kaufman Florida as election judge.

Slides of Holy Land At Sardis Sunday

Color slides of Jordan, Israel and Lebanon (the Holy Land) will be shown Sunday night, April 1. The pastor, Rev. Patterson will be showing slides of the Mount of Olives, Calvary, Jerusalem, Nazareth, the Sea of Galilee, the Jordan River and many other interesting scenes.

In the brief period following the slides, the Pastor will tell about the Moslems.

Interest Growing Among Golf Fans

Sunday, the first pretty day in several weeks found a number of local citizens enjoying the golf course. The course has been kept in good winter condition, will need considerable work for the playing season, but is a real asset to Rotan and territory. Most of the greens are in playing condition.

Interest has waned somewhat during the last year or two, but we still have a nice course. It seems about all we need is more golfers to again get this recreational spot booming. A number of tournaments have been held in past years and many out of town players have enjoyed the course.

Being close to town it is very convenient for after work hours during the spring and summer, when local citizens have a limited time in the afternoon for recreation.

If you need a little exercise and fresh air, why not slip out to play

They ask that suggestions be signed. All suggestions will be considered and if used you might be asked to help with the project. Board members are Ray Womack, Bennie LeBleu, Bill Green, Billy Gladson, Wendell Morrow and E. J. Crawford.

All members and wives are urged to attend the Installation Banquet, Thursday night, March 29. Fee is $1.25 person.

Career Day At School Proves Profitable

Rotan High School recently held its third annual Career Day, under the general direction of Mr. John Redd, principal. The Career Day was sponsored by the High School Parent Teachers Association with Mrs. H. L. Dycus, president in charge of arrangements.

Moisture from the recent snow and rain last week has enabled most farmers to get much work done in their fields. Most of them report 'moisture met' and the soil plowing nicely. A good deep season remains from last year's rains and with normal spring and summer rains prospects will be good another bumper crop.

Rangeland is still needing rain and stock water is short. High winds have ravaged most of the past week with Saturday bringing an 'ole timer', the worst sandstorm of the year.

County Votes To Keep Clerks Office Separate

Separation of the Fisher County district clerk's office from the county clerk's office was approved in a light vote Saturday.

Of 723 votes tabulated by late in the evening, 530 voters voted for the separation and 193 voters against.

An unusual feature of the election was that every box in the county carried for separation of the two offices.

The offices are separate at the present and have been for quite some time. The offices would have merged next Jan. 1 if the separation had not been approved. State law says that when a county falls under the 8,000 population mark, the offices are to be merged.

Voters had no voice in the matter until recent legislation gave the Commissioners Court the authority to call an election to decide the matter.

Nealy A. Morton, the present district clerk, filed for re-election before the deadline was passed. Morton has served the office since 1949.

New VA Hospitalization Procedure Outlined

Under the date of January 15, 1962, the Veterans Administration Deputy Chief Medical Director advised all VA hospitals that a veteran making application for hospitalization who is out in receipt of compensation for a service connected disability must go through admission counseling. The purpose of the admission counseling is to determine the ability of the veteran to pay for hospitalization or treatment in a private hospital.

The new directive states that all applicants for admission under VA Regulation 6047(D) (non-service-connected cases) will receive counseling. The intensiveness of the counseling will depend upon the circumstances of each case. The Admission Counselor will review each item on the applications forms, particularly asset information which includes insurance information, the estimated cost of comparable hospital care in the community, and other pertinent factors with the applicant. As may be indicated, the Counselor will insure through discussion that all the entries are correct, complete and fully understood by the applicant. The warning statement will be fully explained so the applicant is completely aware of the significance of his actions. If the applicant then affirms his inability to defray his expenses and costs of comparable hospital treatment, he will be requested to sign VA Forms 10-P-10 and 10-P-10a. Thereafter, the application will be processed in accordance with current procedures. If such a veteran, after counseling, believes and indicates on Form 10-P-10 that he is financially able to defray the costs of such care, his application will be rejected. Any significant information obtained during counseling will be noted on the reverse side of VA form 10-P-10a. If VA forms 10-P-10 and 10-P-10a were signed prior to the veterans arrival at the hospital, the same procedure applies except that after counseling the applicant will be asked to reaffirm his statement of inability to pay.

Emergency admission will be referred to the examining physician without delay for administrative processing. Administrative processing will be completed when the patient's condition permits an interview, including counseling, and the patient is able to understand the meaning of the questions and nature of his actions. If the patient cannot be interviewed within a reasonable time, necessary information will be obtained from the next-of-kin or other person acting for the patient. All hospital directors have been instructed that all interviewing and counseling is to be conducted privately and with the utmost courtesy. No veteran should be expected to furnish information of a personal or confidential nature in public. Whenever possible, all hospitals will provide private rooms for this counseling. This information is furnished so that all Service Officers who assist veterans in getting into hospitals should let the veterans know they will be a period of counseling when they arrive at the hospital.

This is perfect proof beyond doubt that all veterans that are eligible should pay their dues and belong to some service organization or another. Just through strength and organization can we keep these people from continuing to cut our throats through these small actions such as these. The way this law is now is that a man has to swear to something twice, which just doesn't look fair. A letter to your Congressman might help in this matter, but, it would carry more weight if you belonged to some organization and got behind them.

Thank You,
Come see me with your problems

I'm a candidate for the Texas Senate. I want to stop this highway robbery.

There was a time in Texas when people were afraid to go from one town to another for fear of being robbed. In those days, the man that stopped you was the same man that robbed you.

Nowadays, a cop stops you with radar, and your insurance company robs you for the next three years by increasing your premiums.

Friend of mine in Aspermont says if that ain't highway robbery, he'll eat his hat.

Bright Newhouse Is Transferred From Miami

The article below is taken from the Miami News in regard to the Bright Newhouse family. He is a Roby native and Mrs. Newhouse was reared in Roby. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Ngles and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Eaton.

"Going, Going! and soon they will be gone. The Bright Newhouses. They will be missed by their many friends and especially those of the Church of Christ. Bright is being transferred to the Soil Conservation office in Cleardon. We understand this is an advancement in position as well as a substantial increase in salary. The Newhouse family came to Miami July 1960. Shortly thereafter he was selected as one of the deacons of the church. He has also alternated every other Sunday with Hollis Adams as minister for our congregation. Bright has served in both capacities well. He has spent many hours of manual labor to help bring our building to its present status. The last of these has been the supervising of curb and sidewalk installation. Sunday March 25th will be Bright's final preaching services. We urge his many friends who have never heard him speak on God's Word to attend the services at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. and join with us in showing

Carriker Named To Advisory Committee

Speaker James A. Turman today announced the appointment of Representative Max D. Carriker of Roby to the Advisory Committee which will assist the Texas Legislative Council in its study of coordination of the health and welfare agencies of the State. The Committee has our appreciation to this fine family. Bright has been very active in many civic organizations in Miami and we know he will be missed by these groups also. So to Bright, Cleo Ann, Kim, Mike and Buddy we bid farewell and wish them God's richest blessings in their new location. —Contributed.

tee will have three members appointed by Speaker of the House, six by the Governor and three by the Lieutenant Governor.

Representative Carriker is serving his second term in the House. He is Chairman of the Standing House Committee on Judicial Districts and Vice-Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture. He serves as a member on the Committees on Education, Penitentiaries, and Revenue and Taxation.

This study of coordination of the health and welfare agencies of the State which is being undertaken by the Council was requested by the 57th Legislature in view of the fact that 90 percent of every State dollar expended is for highways, education, and public health, and welfare agencies of the State government are not centrally coordinated. State highway administration is through the State Highway Department, and educational endeavors of the State are controlled for secondary schools through the Texas Education Agency, and for the State's colleges and universities through the Commission on Higher Education.

Affiliated with some of the major manufacturers of building materials and the world's largest finance company, The Institute For Essential Housing can actually finance a completely finished house for less than you'd pay per month for a "shell" alone.

The Institute is the only organization that offers houses in various stages of completion. Typical: the "basic" or "shell" stage; the "basic plus materials package" stage; the "ready-to-live-in" stage and the "finished" stage in which the house is completely finished and decorated. These big homes are built from the ground-up by skilled local craftsmen on your own land . . . on farm land, rural site or lake side. And no down payment if you own your own land.

County
Agricultural Agent
Texas A. & M. College
Extension Service

Individual premises on which screwworms are found will not be quarantined, advises Dr. R. G. Garrett, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission in Austin.

State and federal animal health authorities must have reports on all suspected screwworm infestations to conduct the eradication program properly. Livestock owners who make such reports will get the earliest and most thorough relief, Dr. Garrett said.

A screwworm transport patrol line has been established by the Commission across Texas from Del Rio generally east to Columbus and south through El Campo and Bay City to the Gulf of Mexico. This action was taken to contain known infestations in the southern part of the State, where their presence has been confirmed, and to prevent their transportation by truck or rail to the free area north and east of the patrol line.

Dr. Garrett requests that all animal handlers be especially watchful for animal wounds. He suggests that, where possible, such wounds be treated immediately with remedies and fly repellents so they will not be come infested.

If worms are found in animal wounds, their identity should be established as quickly as possible, Dr. Garrett said. Free mailing kits may be obtained from county Agricultural Agents, livestock inspectors and others. Samples of the worms found will go to Screwworm Identification, ADE-USDA, Box 969, Mission, Texas. Identify of the worms will be known to the owner immediately.

Ever have trouble with soil sticking plows? U. S. Department of Agriculture agricultural engineers may have found an answer to this problem.

In tests conducted at Auburn, Alabama, moldboard plows covered with sheet plastic did an excellent job of shedding soil. Two plastics, Teflon and H. D. polyethylene, were effective in turning sticky, difficult-to plow clay soil.

The plow covered with Teflon required 23 percent less pulling power than a conventional steel moldboard plow. The USDA engineers say this is the first time the Davidson clay used in the test has been satisfactorily plowed with a moldboard since the tillage machinery laboratory began using this soil for test nearly 25 years ago.

Later tests of the plastic-covered plows were conducted at Plains, Ga. A rye cover crop was completely turned under with six inches or more of soil by a Teflon-covered moldboard. In an adjacent field, an uncovered moldboard failed to shed the soil, which was merely broken loose and pushed over. The soil in these fields was a very sticky clay.

Although both Teflon and H. D. polyethylene were effective in shedding soil, tests comparing sheets of equal thickness showed that Teflon lasts longer. The engineers estimate a 14-inch moldboard plow covered with Teflon will turn about 30 more acres of highly abrasive, sticky soil than will a similar plow covered with H. D. polyethylene.

USDA engineers are presently working with coverings for moldboard plows only, but they believe plastic coverings may eventually prove useful on any farm implement that comes in contact with the soil. This research is continuing.

The plow coverings are not yet commercially available. Manufacturers will have to determine, on the basis of potential demand, whether production of these items is economically feasible.

Mrs. Dale Rector left Sunday for Bradfordsville Kentucky, where she will be with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Coakley Followell, while Dale is on duty with the U. S. Army in Germany.

Girl Scout Exhibit To Be Held April 20

"Honor the past, serve the future" will be the theme April 20, when Skill Displays and "Picture Your Home Frontier" art exhibit will be held in the Fair Store building. Were you ever, at any time, a member of Girl Scouts, either as a Scout, leader, or in any capacity? Were you a member here, or in some other city or state? Have you saved any of your hand craft? Then the Girl Scouts would like to borrow it for the show. Remember the things you did? Please write it up and contribute it to the show. Have you any pictures of previous G. S. troops? In this the 50th anniversary, Rotan Girl Scouts want to truly Honor The Past, Serve The Future.

Texas Traffic Death Toll Lower in 1961

Austin—The Texas Department of Public Safety has officially closed the 1961 traffic "death book," and reported that last year 60 or more persons died in Texas traffic than in 1960.

The motorcade total was 2,314, as compared to 2,254 in 1960, or an increase of 3 percent.

The report, prepared by the Department's Statistical Services, indicated that although the number of motorcades increased, the death rate—the number of deaths per 100,000,000 miles traveled—decreased from 4.9 to 4.8, the lowest rate on record in Texas. In 1961, Texans traveled 47.9 billion miles, or 3.42 percent more miles than they did in 1960.

In addition to the 2,314 deaths, in 1961 there were an estimated 132,570 injuries sustained in 324,149 motor vehicle accidents.

On an average, last year in Texas traffic, a person was killed every three hours and forty-seven minutes, and a traffic accident occurred every 97 seconds.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., Director of the DPS, said:

"It is a sobering thought to realize that the number of persons killed on Texas streets and highways was greater than the populations of most Texas towns, and that the number of injuries was more than the population of Lubbock. When the economic loss resulting from traffic accidents in 1961—over 356 million dollars—is added to these losses, the problem we face is only too apparent."

"Texans must accept the challenge posed by these figures. The best way to do this is for every driver to obey the traffic laws, because in almost every accident at least one violation is involved."

Other observations made from the analysis include:

The 141 motorcades in February was the lowest number of any month since February 1950, when 140 were killed.

The most deadly day in Texas Highway 80 East - PO Box 1427 Phone OR 2-2942, Abilene, Tex.

traffic last year was December 22, when 23 persons were killed in 15 fatal accidents.

There were only 4 days last year when no fatal accidents occurred in Texas.

14 counties—Borden, Brewster, Delta, Hansford, Hardeman, Kent, Lipscomb, Loving, Mason, Rains, Roberts, Somervell, Sutton and Upton—had no fatal accidents or deaths during 1961.

The largest increase in the number of deaths in 1961 over the previous 3 year average was 20.7 in Lubbock County.

131 counties had fewer deaths in 1961 than the previous 3 year average.

A weak and timid foreign policy has caused nations all around the world, and particularly those of long standing association, to question the value of the support of the United States. An immediate result is the lack of help from our allies to put a squeeze on Red Cuba.

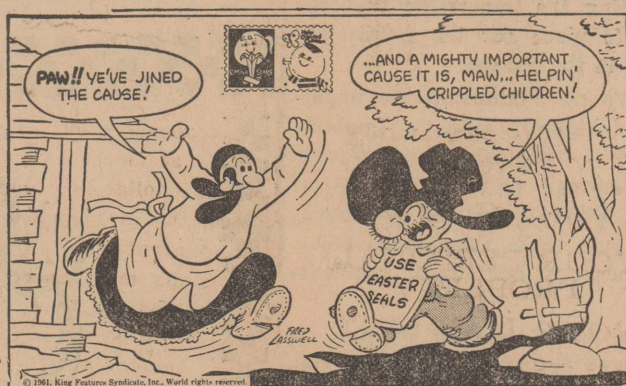

We have not been a "Tie Fast" nation. We are the natural leader of the nations of the world, and being so, we are looked to for leadership. It seems we have been using the slip-knot. Here we are, the world's most powerful nation, both economically and militarily, yet we seem afraid exposed, insecure and unsure.

With other leading free nations with whom we have had an historical relation, we are capable of almost anything. Yet, by our preoccupation to please and placate small minorities in Asia, Africa and the Middle East, we continue to lose the cold war.

We need to "Tit Fast."

Before anyone embarks on an important venture, it's only the part of wisdom to try to learn the experience of others who have followed similar trails.

That little truism goes for government, as well as an individual. It can be applied to proposals for government domination of medicine.

England's socialized National Health Service provides our precedent here. And we can go to English journalist reported that "the suits have been."

A documentary film prepared by the British Broadcasting Corporation said that some patients "have been waiting as long as six years for surgery." A well known British journalist reported that "the number of people medically insured for private treatment has risen by more than 1,000 per cent . . . "because" . . . Socialist medicine is just not good enough." A distinguished Oxford professor found that the system has been " . . . progressively creating despondency and frustration among the doctors . . ." An AP release told of the complaints of patients at over-crowded waiting rooms, and of physicians' complaints of excessive work-loads and underpayment. A British doctor now in this country wrote, "The poor British taxpayer has been milked dry. The Health Service now costs more than five times the original estimate." The Chicago Tribune's London Bureau Chief said that British "hospital have 500,000 on their waiting lists."

So it goes--and such a list could be continued almost indefinitely. The question for us is: Shall we emulate, in any way, such a costly

'As It Looks From Here'

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

Washington, D. C. -- In the early days when the plains of the West were filled with beef on the hoof and real "cowboys," there was what was known as the "Tie Fast Man."

The "Tie Fast Man" was the cowboy who, rather than play it safe and use a slip-knot when his rope was on a wild steer, tied a rope fast to his saddle horn. Whatever he roped would be irrevocably attached to him. A rope tied to the saddle horn in this fashion afforded no easy escape such as that provided by the slip-knot. Whatever the cowboy threw his rope over "was his--or he was its."

The determination of the "Tie Fast Man," his dogged willingness to be committed to his task and to actually throw his life in with it if necessary, was, it seems, the very essence of the pioneer spirit which built the West.

It seems also to have had a relation to our national characteristics. By and large, we have always been a plain people with fewer complexes and sophistication than countries with older civilizations.

Until recent years, in our relation to other nations, we have always "stood fast." In more recent years we have vacillated. Since the end of World War II, we have been pursuing a sort of a slogan entitled the "struggle for the minds of men." The result of this policy has been to concentrate and cater to newly emerging nations at the expense of neglecting tried and true allies.

We have now reached the point where old friends are asking the question, "What sort of ally is the United States when the chips are down?" These old allies ask why it is that the United States appears to be going out of its way to take the side of the so-called "neutral" nations of the world against interests of tried and true friends.

We are presently seeing a reaction against this sort of policy. We sent an envoy to Europe to convince certain allies that they should not continue to trade with Cuba. We got a cool reception. The principal reason is what the United States has failed to side with its allies at times when it really counted.

The Dutch are unhappy with us because we seem to side with Indonesia. Portugal is bitter about our position with Nassar, who had accused French diplomats of espionage. The Belgians, of course, have opposed United States policy on Katanga and in the Congo.

Even Thailand in Southeast Asia, long time friend of this Country, observes that we yield to threats of small insignificant nations that they may go Communist if we do not instances, support their interest against old friends.

Thompson Honored By 64th Troop Carrier Group at Dyess

Dyess AFB, Texas—There was a family reunion at Dyess last Tuesday. Mr. Hubert G. Thompson, ROTC Lumber Dealer, got a look at just how TAC's 64th Troop Carrier Wing operates in 1962. The reunion? Mr. Thompson was Sergeant Major for the Army Air Corp's 64th Troop Carrier Group during World War II, and was with the unit in Africa, Italy and Southern France.

Abilene Reporter-News columnist Kathryn Duff brought Mr. Thompson's association with the 64th to the attention of 2nd Lt. John D. Price, Wing Information Officer. Lt. Price notified Col. D. F. Blake, Wing Commander, and Mr. Thompson was invited to see the current version of the Troop Carrier unit at Dyess.

SMSGt. Robert W. Hoover, the present Sergeant Major for the Wing acted as tour guide for Mr. Thompson, and on the Dyess Flight line they got a first-hand comparison of the progress in aircraft from 1946 and 1962. One of the base's C-47s, workhorse of the 64th during the war years was parked just downwind from one of the giant C-130 Hercules aircraft that provide the air transport for the modern Air Force. C-47s, being one of the most reliable aircraft in the Air Force inventory, are still used daily all over the world to carry light cargo loads and on passenger hops.

Mr. Thompson's memories of the C-47 include the dangerous missions that brought ammunition, arms, food and personnel up to the front lines, the air evacuation of wounded, and, during invasions, the towing of gliders carrying airborne infantry and the dropping of paratroopers behind enemy lines.

During the closing years of the war, Mr. Thompson, then a Technical Sergeant, was assigned to the 64th Group as an Administrative Specialist. He was with the group when it was awarded the Distinguished Unit Citation for outstanding service in the China-Burma-India Theatre.

After his tour, Mr. Thompson was the guest of Col. Blake for dinner at the Dyess NCO open mess. "When I was Sergeant Major", Mr. Thompson mused, "It was in a tent in North Africa. I can remember when the sky would be black with our C-47s. There have been a lot of changes."

Highway Safety Sense

A deluge of ghoulish guessing and bloodthirsty reporting has obscured the very real progress that has been made in automotive highway safety in the nation.

From a high of 11.5 deaths per 100 millions vehicle miles in 1945, the rate was slashed to 5.3 in 1960. In 1961, it was reduced even more, with a record low of 5.1 posted in the first 11 months. This outstanding progress was made during the decade and a half since World War II when the number of cars, trucks and buses on America's streets and highways soared from a little over 31 million to more than 74 million.

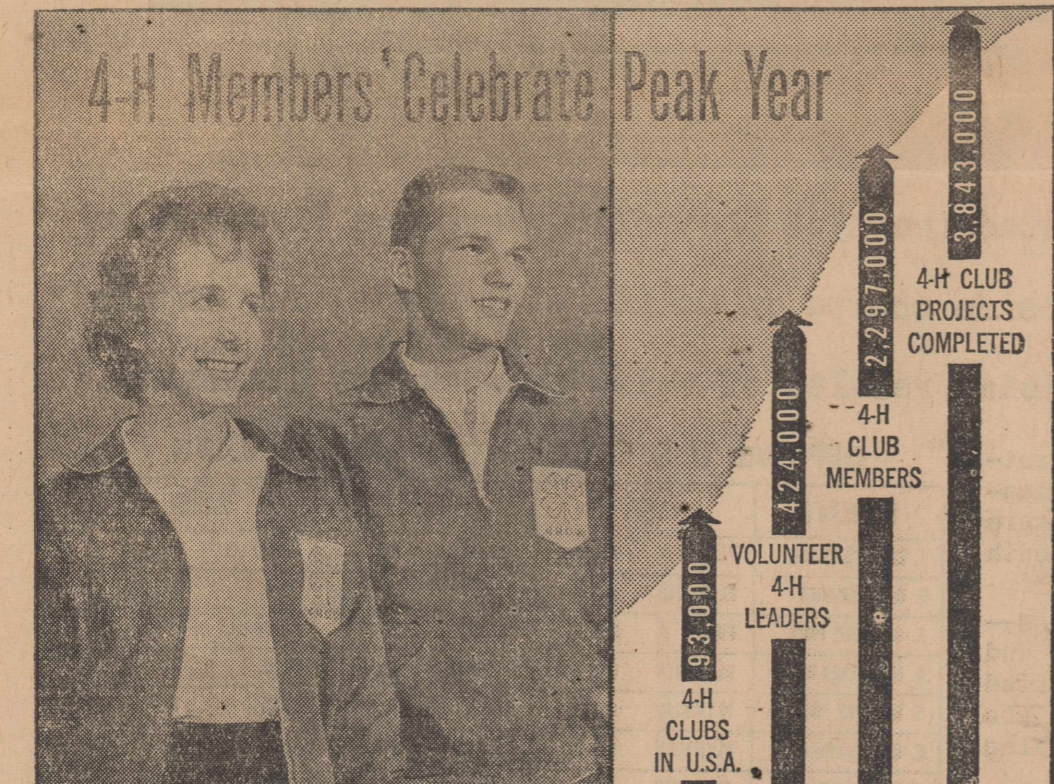

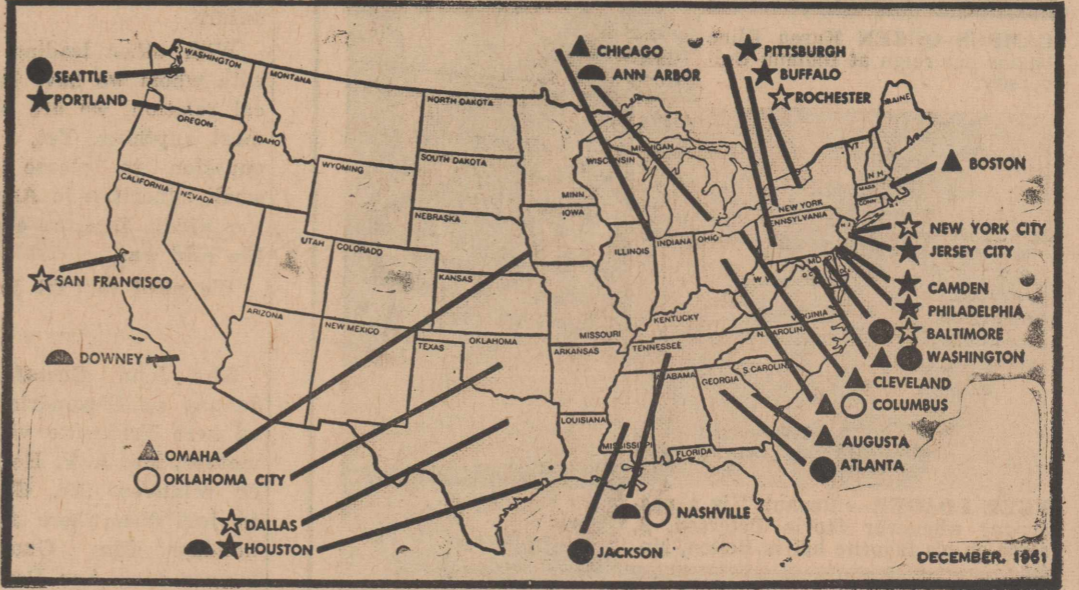

With the automotive safety record constantly improving, it's time to stop screaming death and destruction. It's time to call a halt to creating the impression that the only safe place for the family car is home in the garage.

There's no minimizing the importance of highway safety -- nobody wants to -- but sensational reports of widespread carnage, instead of making drivers safer and more competent, can make them more tense, more nervous and more accident-prone.

What makes better drivers is not horror but help; not scares but suggestion; not terror but teaching. Safe driving is a skill which, once mastered and remembered, provides great pleasure. America's automotive safety record can be improved still more, without horror and hysteria, by the conscientious application of the principles of safe driving.

Experts Back Versatile Youths

When 400,000 men and women volunteer their time and know-how to help 2.3 million 4-H Club members "learn, live and serve," the results are no less than spectacular.

For instance, the Head, Heart, Hands and Health youths finished nearly 4 million projects in more than 40 different categories just this past year.

In almost every instance, the completed project benefited the entire family and in many cases, the community as well.

The information comes from the Cooperative Extension Service which directs 4-H Club work.

Further proof of the far-reaching effect of 4-H was found in 1,900 record books maintained by state award winning club members. The records were reviewed in the headquarters of the National 4-H Service Committee last November, said Norman C. Mindrum, director, for the purpose of selecting boys and girls for scholarships and trip awards to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Miss Sheila Nixon, 20, of Pomona, California, winner of a $400 Ford scholarship, commented: "The awards we win in 4-H work aren't totally ours. Many people have helped us win them."

Another national champion, who won a Spear Buckskin Farm scholarship for leadership, is 20-year-old Hoosier farmer Wayne Buck. He has a 4-H record so long "it would fill a book." Now a student at Purdue University, Buck credits 4-H training with teaching him how to accept responsibility, and to better understand the world and the people in it.

President Kennedy expressed a similar feeling when he said in a recent message to 4-H members: "I would commend you especially for your constructive and worthwhile efforts in learning to live and work cooperatively with others."

In the beginning, 4-H Clubs were intended for farm youngsters, and offered only projects in crops, livestock, home canning and cooking. The present program embraces a wide range of agricultural, home economics and scientific programs. With the exception of a few such as livestock, tractor and field crops, the projects can be carried on in town as well as on the farm.

4-H Moves to Town

Today, membership in 4-H Clubs is about equally divided between farm and non-farm boys and girls. The main reason for this shift is the disappearance of the small farm from the American agricultural scene.

Meanwhile, more and more business people are participating in 4-H as it moves into suburban and urban areas, Mindrum points out. National 4-H Club Week, National 4-H Club Congress, Farm-City Week, state fairs, Farm-Safety Week and the like are but a few examples, he said.

Director Mindrum, who is a former 4-H member and state extension official, has this to say: "To sum up 4-H achievement one should call special attention to the concurrent efforts of many which, over the years, have made the 'learn by doing' program the success it is.

Business Gives Cash

"Besides the paid and volunteer workers who carry out the teaching-training aspect, there are business people who contribute know-how and money," he added.

Approximately 60 different business concerns provide funds for 4-H through the National 4-H Service Committee, he said.

Donors of awards for the last 25 years or more include: International Harvester, Montgomery Ward, Westinghouse Educational Foundation, Kerr Glass Mfg. Corp., Cudahy Packing Co., Armour and Co., Livestock Conservation, Inc., Wilson & Co., Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen. Also, Santa Fe, Chicago and North Western, Illinois Central and Burlington railways.

Newer 4-H backers are the Sperry and Hutchinson Co., Ralston Purina, Moorman Mfg. Co., General Foods, E. I. du Pont de Nemours and John Deere. Also, Pyrofax Gas and International Minerals & Chemical corporations. These firms have supported the program for five years or less, according to the 4-H Service Committee.
