HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Chapel Exercises
The student body enjoyed another chapel program Wednesday, Oct. 10 sponsored by Mr. Bass.

We were promised that the program would take up the whole period and we were surely not disappointed. In fact three numbers on the program were left out because of lack of time. They are to be given at some other time, we were told.

The program opened with a debate on the presidential campaign. Marshall Pierson and Myrtle Branch took sides with Hoover and Joe Thomas and Vivian Bernard with Smith. It was agreed before the debate started that no decision would be made, but every student had the right to make his own personal decision. This was not an easy thing to do for the debaters were so evenly matched that it was difficult to tell which one presented his argument best. The students were kept continually interested in the debate and the speakers were cheered often. The arguments for Smith ceased when Joe Thomas said that "Mr. Hoover carried a bottle on each hip. A bottle of water on his right hip for his dry democrats and a bottle of liquor on his left hip for his wet republicans."

The longer the debate lasted the more interesting it became, and all were sorry when the bell rang ending the period. The program was ended with two selections by a sophomore quartet.

Haskell At Anson
On Friday, Oct. 19, the Haskell Indians will meet Anson at Anson on the football field. There is no doubt as to whether or not Anson has a good team. She has always had a good team and has a good one this year.

The Haskell Indians have a good team, also. The Indians are not going to Anson merely to play a game, but to win it and bring home the victory.

The town is not giving the Indians the backing they did last year. The Indians can play much better when they have fans there than if they have none. The Haskell Indians need the support of the town and they appreciate the support that is given them.

Football either makes you or breaks you. While Raul was on the second team he was not so particular about his clothes. Now that he is on the first team he slicks his hair, shines his shoes, washes his teeth and comes to school all dressed up.

P. S. Herman said that Raul had better save those old clothes as he was going to put him back in them before long. (He is playing in Herman's place.)

Every purchaser of a new Ford is entitled to Free Inspection Service for the first 1500 miles

THE modern automobile is a finely built piece of machinery and it will stand a lot of abuse. Considering the work it does, it gives surprisingly little trouble. But there isn't a car made that will not run better and longer if given proper care.

The first few hundred miles are especially important because that is when the mechanism of your car is being broken in.

Proper attention during this period will lengthen its life and prevent unnecessary trouble later on.

We are particularly interested in this matter because we believe it is our duty not only to make a good automobile, but to help the owner get the greatest possible use over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

With this in view, the entire Ford dealer organization has been specially trained and equipped to service the new Model A car.

Furthermore, we have instructed every Ford dealer to give the following Free

Inspection Service at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles:

Check battery
Check generator charging rate
Check distributor adjustment
Check carburetor adjustment
Check lights
Check brakes
Check shock absorber adjustment
Check tire inflation
Check steering gear
Change engine oil
Lubricate chassis

No charge is made for labor or materials incidental to this service, except, of course, where repairs are necessary through accident, misuse or neglect. The only charge is for new oil.

See your Ford dealer, therefore, and get this Free Inspection of your new car at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. Find out, too, how little it will cost to have your car given a thorough going-over at regular periods thereafter.

A checking-up by experienced mechanics, together with oiling and greasing every 500 miles, will add months and years to the life of your car and mean more economical and pleasurable motoring every mile you drive.

TRIP TO CALIFORNIA

Each man milks 21 cows twice each day. That's his job and that's all he does. He is dressed in white garments which have been neatly laundered when he goes to milk. The cows are behind screens during milking time and not a single fly is permitted to be in the barn while the cows are milked.

The milk is handled from the milking barns to the bottle ready for market in the most sanitary ways possible which makes this certified milk the most wholesome food known to mankind. Guernsey cows do not give as much milk as the Holstein cows, but the milk shows a little greater percent of cream than the Holsteins. The Guernsey is said to be just a little behind the Jersey in richness of milk. But all of them are rated high in cream production. The Holstein is the cow principally used in all the dairies of California because of the quantity of milk. This was a wonderful sight to our party who have never had an opportunity to see things of this kind and we were amazed at the immensity of this great dairy.

In a report on the quantity of milk given, Mr. Rosenburger said that the Guernsey cows average 3 gallons of milk per day and the Holsteins 5 gallons. And they are increasing the Holstein herd because of this quantity. This does not mean during their milking season or when they are giving milk but that is the average per year. They give much more milk than that while they are giving milk. These cows on this farm were valued at $2,000 average. Some cows of course could not be bought for thousands of dollars.

They also keep the milk of each breed separate and they are labeled and sold separately. They pay their milkers $100.00 and board and keep only men who are healthy and can stand the proper physical examination.

We saw 12,000 tons of alfalfa in one rick on this farm. This was some hay stack. The Adhr ranch has about 600 acres of land and about four hundred of this is in alfalfa. They also have a number of American race horses on the ranch, but they do not graze cattle. Everything is cut and fed to them.

After leaving the Adhr Dairy we headed our bus for Los Angeles through Holly Wood. Everybody knows about Holly Wood and what it is noted for. We passed along by a number of the studio's of the producers of the moving pictures. This is a beautiful city, the homes are magnificent and the whole creation is a land of tropical flowers. We did not stop at any place only observed things as we passed through. We passed through part of Los Angeles and made our way to Long Beach arriving there after night fall securing our hotel and retired for the night.

Next week we will tell of our trip to the Catalina Islands, the trip on the glass bottom boat bathing beach etc.

Would You Know One If You Saw It?

If you ever came face to face with a germ, would you recognize it? Of course it is not likely that you ever will see a germ, unless you own a tremendously powerful microscope, for you would have to magnify one over a thousand times to make it as big as a pin head. But you should recognize the fact that these tiny germs can get into your blood streams through the smallest cut, and give you typhoid fever, tuberculosis, lockjaw, blood poisoning, and many more dangerous and perhaps fatal diseases. There is one sure safeguard against these dangers—washing every cut, no matter how small, thoroughly with Liquid Borozone, the safe antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borozone at Reid's Drug Store or Payne Drug Co.

TELLING THE WORLD

By W. M. FREE Field Editor

Monday Oct. 15th, we began anew our field work, going to Sagerton and starting out from there on Route one out of that city.

This has been a very dry year in that section, the crops are very short but the people are courageous and are making everything count and saving every mite of their crops.

The farming section joins the city and Route One begins in the city limits and goes through one of the finest farming sections to be found in West Texas.

W. R. Beene was our first stop. He and his family were away from home for the day.

A. L. Darden was busy in the field. Mrs. Darden stated that crops were very short with them this year and they would soon be through gathering.

O. G. Neinst was heading maize. He will make plenty of feed to do him for the year. He stated that every farmer, especially on a small farm should plant one third of his land in feed every year.

J. R. Laughlin will make enough feed this year to feed his stock to make another crop. He says that a feed crop is worth more to the farmer this year than a cotton crop.

E. A. Laughlin was away from home. Frank Piley was also away from home.

H. Helm has lived in Haskell County five years. Mrs. Helm said their crop was very short. The boll worms ate up the cotton. But they have 150 White Leghorns which are paying their way.

G. L. Nehring, a young farmer is making a success at his vocation. He is making plenty of feed for his stock. His cotton crop is very short. Mrs. Nehring has quite a flock of Red chickens and she likes them very much.

G. H. Nehring, father of the young man mentioned above is a farmer who has made good farming in Haskell Co. for 22 years.

R. W. Wyatt, a good farmer, was very busy gathering his crop. He has some of the best maize we have seen this fall. He will make feed enough this year to supply his needs.

Cliff Lefevers and his family were not at their home. They were busy in their field gathering their cotton.

Henry King was very busy with his farm work. Mrs. King stated their crop was very short this year. The worms almost destroyed the cotton in the whole community of Tanner Point and all the farmers suffered severe loss in their cotton crops this year.

A. T. Wright, a young farmer, was busy heading maize. He thinks he will make enough feed to do him next year by feeding carefully. Mrs. Wright has a small flock of White Leghorns to help pay the grocery bill.

Lowell Fulbright, was busy with his farm work and he was not but the house when we called. Mrs. Fulbright stated that their crop was not so good as usual, but they were doing all they could to save it all.

W. I. Karr, one of our old friends was very busy gathering his crop. He was in fine spirits although his crop is short this year.

The sun had gone behind the western hills as we left this home, so we drove to the home of our friend J. S. Stephens in the Gauntt community, where we were given a good supper after which this musical family brought out their instruments and made some real good music which we enjoyed.

We wish to take this method of extending our heartfelt thanks to our many kind friends and neighbors for their sympathy and acts of kindness toward us in our recent bereavement, and for the beautiful floral offerings.

YOUNG MAN EXHIBITS PAINTING AT FAIR

One of the most interesting features of the Haskell County Fair was a painting by K. A. McGregor a Haskell County boy. The painting referred to was hanging on the wall in the art display which was that of an Indian bending down looking over a row by the campfire. The picture was painted on ordinary door screen wire and it had all the details of the picture brought out just like it had been painted on the finest canvas.

Card of Thanks We wish to take this method of extending our heartfelt thanks to our many kind friends and neighbors for their sympathy and acts of kindness toward us in our recent bereavement, and for the beautiful floral offerings.

The Rotan High football team defeated Haskell last Friday afternoon. They were all in good shape and confident that they would make Haskell Indians hustle. They played a good game according to their and experience. Some of the showed wonderful ability at the whistle to the one that ended the although they left the Indians a bacon 39-0.

Fall Merchandise is Arriving

We have frequent occasion to visit the stores of Haskell from day to day and from week to week.

Just at this particular time we are seeing large supplies of new fall merchandise being unpacked in the rear of some of the stores and placed in stock for public inspection.

Ladies' ready-to-wear, millinery, men's clothing, shoes, etc., seem to be arriving daily.

It is not our purpose to make any announcements for these merchants. They always make their own. But we do want to go on record with the statement that our local stores are making some very elaborate preparations for the fall trade.

If you are planning any fall purchases, it would pay you to visit the Haskell stores. Take a day to it. You will be surprised and pleased at the many complete and attractive displays you will find.

THE KING OF KINGS
Triumphs With Production

Mr. Warner's production of "The King of Kings" is a masterpiece of the screen. It is a story of the life of Jesus Christ, from his birth to his death and resurrection. The production is a work of art, with every detail carefully planned and executed. The acting is superb, and the scenery is magnificent. This is a picture that will stay in the minds of all who see it.

Beautiful and Impressive
It would be hard indeed to find an actor better fitted to undertake the role of the Christ than Mr. H. B. Warner. Too much cannot be said in praise of his deeply thoughtful performance. By following almost entirely the letter of the Gospels, Mr. De Mille has succeeded in screening a beautiful and an impressive picture—Wilella Waldorf, New York Evening Post.

Great Cinema Spectacle
Mr. Warner presents his Savior as an always believable and tremendously moving combination of tenderness, quiet humor, spiritual nobility and just the right touch of earthliness. The second part of the photoplay stands it is to be suspected, among to heights achieved in cinema spectacle. Every performance in the picture is admirable. Throughout "The King of Kings" there are episodes of enormous effectiveness both dramatic and pictorial—Richard Watts, Jr., Herald Tribune.

Great Religious Document
"The King of Kings" with Cecil De Mille as producer, is a religious document which not only follows the Bible with fidelity but, in one scene, at least brings out the stark drama and tragedy of the life of Jesus as the printed word has never done. "The King of Kings," we prophesy, will find ready acceptance by the public and church officials as an able pictorial version of the Bible—Donald Thompson, New York Telegram.

Achievement of New Art
The supreme achievement of the new art. De Mille has done a mighty work.

WARMING UP

A Paramount Picture

Remember Monday Night is China Night—Be here and get Your Chinaware.

With a reverence that has brought a true inspiration he has written in flaming characters the Torch that has lightened the world for two thousand years.—Herbert Cruickshank, Morning Telegram.

Symphony of Beauty
A great cinema. A symphony of beauty. A great accomplishment. A stellar cast breathes life, each gives a splendid performance. The beauty of this picture is an inspiration to all who see it. That's all—Dorothy Herzog, Daily Mirror.

Tremendous in Every Respect
Tremendous is "The King of Kings" in its lesson, in the drama of its production for a commercial theatre, and tremendous in its big scenes, the crucifixion of Christ. The subject is carried away, "the picture" is forgotten! It might almost be predicted that this production will not only exert itself as the greatest picture ever produced, but it will reach the greatest gross ever earned by a motion picture—Sime Silverman, in Variety.

Incoming President of Magazine Club Honors Past Presidents.

The Magazine Club rooms presented an ideal setting for President's Day last Friday afternoon, when the incoming president, Mrs. R. C. Couch, honored the past presidents. Tall wicker baskets of white and yellow flowers carried out the club colors. In the center of the room was the massive library table, surrounded by four chairs where sat the president, Mrs. R. C. Couch and the treasurer, Mrs. B. Sutherland; recording secretary, Mrs. T. C. Rogers and the corresponding sec., Mrs. J. E. Bernard, during the program period. All of the past presidents are living and all were present with the exception of those who live out of town and those who are sick. Punch was served before the program began, the punch bowl being presided over by Mrs. S. R. Rike and Mrs. J. E. Bernard. The receiving line was headed by the incoming president, Mrs. R. C. Couch and the past presidents; Mesdames, R. J. Reynolds, Henry Alexander, J. U. Fields, H. S. Wilson, W. H. Murchison, F. T. Sanders, H. S. Post, C. L. Lewis, Courtney Hunt, O. E. Patterson, and H. M. Smith. In the program that followed Mrs. Wiley Reid gave a pretty toast to the honorees, the past presidents and Mrs. J. U. Fields in her characteristic way responded. Mrs. Clayborn Payne sang, "Smiling Through," with Mrs. O. E. Patterson accompanying at the piano and Mrs. Virgil Meadows playing the violin obligato. Mrs. Patterson played a piano solo, Rhapsody No. 2 by Liszt. Miss Martha Rogers played Trauman, on the violin accompanied at the piano by Miss Marjorie Rogers. Mrs. Frank Thomas read, "Betty at the Home Ball Game," by Marjorie Benson Cook. Virginia Sue Cook read, "The Church Fair." Mrs. Couch made a pleasing address and called upon Mrs. Henry Alexander to give her views on the past achievements of the club which she did. The chairman of standing committees discussed plans for the year. The meeting was an outstanding link to join the accomplishments of the past of the Magazine Club to endeavors of the future. The large membership which was present was served brick ice cream and cake in club colors and lovely corsage bouquets of yellow and white flowers were presented the honor guests.

SECOND DOOR EAST OF FARMERS STATE BANK, Haskell

Mr. and Mrs. Miller were married in McDonald County, Missouri, Oct. 2, 1873, at the respective ages of 19 and 17 years. They came to Texas 34 years ago and came to West Texas and the home place in December 1902. The family party of Tuesday was composed of five of their children together with their wives and husbands, 15 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren.

The children that were present with their families were: A. A. Miller of Ft. Worth, Mrs. W. H. Hobbs of O'Brien, Mrs. C. W. Campbell of Stamford, J. E. Miller of Stamford, and Mrs. G. C. Sanders of Roaring Springs. Two daughters Mrs. G. R. Randel of Mosquero, N. M. and Mrs. J. H. Suggs of Bronte, Texas were unable to attend. A cousin, Mr. Miller Hilton of O'Brien was present also.

Four neighboring families felt honored in being included in this family party. They were: W. T. Haney and family, Claude Haney and family, L. R. Overby and family and E. J. Barb and family.

The inclemency of the weather forced the big table to be abandoned and the dinner was spread in the house and served cafeteria style. However the rain outside seemed to have failed to diminish the appetites of the party and the half-hundred persons ate to repletion of turkey, chicken, meats, salads, vegetables, pies and cakes.

The neighbors and friends had intended spending the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Miller, but the continued rain made this impossible. The entire neighborhood joins in congratulating them upon a long and successful life together and everyone wishes for these two dear old people many more happy years in which to live and to love among their children and friends.

TRIP TO CALIFORNIA
By W. M. Free

We spent Thursday night in Azusa California as our last week's letter stated. Here we were royally entertained and welcomed to this city by many. We enjoyed our stop and rest. Mr. Whiteaker our conductor at one time in his early life had gone to school in this city and he has some relatives living there now. We took time to find out that aside from the citrus fruits that poultry and rabbits are produced in large quantities for market. The price of eggs were at that time selects 30c per dozen and the small eggs 28c. Eggs are graded before they are placed on the market. This price is just about the same as Haskell county people were receiving at that time. In other words the prices are no better in California for eggs than they are in Texas. I mention this for what it is worth to our poultry raisers of Texas to show that we are on equal footing with California on prices, taking our average prices for the year.

We left Azusa at 9 a. m. Friday morning, going toward Los Angeles, passing through a number of towns and small cities before reaching the great metropolis. One of the most interesting cities through which we passed was Pasadena. Nestling at the foot of the Sierra Madra (meaning Mother of Mountains), it is eleven miles from Los Angeles. It is in the heart of a great citrus belt with flowers of all kinds growing in profusion. This is a great resort for all classes of people. It is the fertile San Gabriel Valley. The San Gabriel Mission built in 1700 is only six miles from the heart of the city. It was erected by the Franciscans. The world's renowned Busch Garden comprising 30 acres privately owned but open to the public is also in this city.

After leaving Pasadena we missed our road which brought us to the little town of Montrose and here we got a glimpse of the waters of what is known as the Indian Spring of Sky Blue water. The spring empties into a bathing pool which is just as blue as indigo. People were bathing in this water which was the most peculiar in color it was ever our opportunity to see. This bathing pool looked like a sea of blue glass. Words can not describe its beauty. This city is filled with all kinds of resorts, but this was the most picturesque.

Near this place was a large turkey ranch. Don't get the idea of broad acres when ranch is mentioned in California from two to three acres is a large ranch in that country. We could see numerous bronze turkeys strutting around in the enclosure. Do not know anything of what profit could be realized from turkeys there but the outlays of the ranch showed much prosperity.

We passed through the town of Roseland. The name of this town was commemorated by thousands of roses growing in all parts of the city. More beautiful roses were growing here than in any other place passed through on the entire trip. It was roses every where you looked.

San Fernando a beautiful little city in the LaJunta Valley was passed. This city was noted for its beautiful pepper tree groves and other evergreens making this city very attractive. The old San Fernando Mission is here but we had no time to explore and learn anything about it more than just know that it is there it showed age by its scathed walls.

Zelma a little town through which we passed was very beautiful indeed and it is said that here is the world's most productive acres of land, because of the fertility of the soil and the abundance of snow water from the mountains from which it is irrigated. Lots of poultry is raised here in addition to the citrus fruits and other tropical crops.

The Weeks One Acre Poultry Colony
At last after a number of days driving we reached the goal of our trip, The Weeks One Acre Poultry Colony established by Charles Weeks who is still the head and inspiration of this project. We arrived here in the afternoon Friday and did not have to wait long until Mr. Weeks was on the grounds and opened up his big heart and welcomed us to his enclosure where we found more things of wonder than we ever dreamed could be produced from one acre of land. When it was first announced that the net profits of Mr. Weeks last year from this one acre of ground was $7,500.00. This sounds incredible until it was explained by Mr. Weeks which made the project one of simplicity and every statement was verified by proof indisputable.

We shall not attempt in this letter to give a detailed account of this wonderful one acre farm project, but will announce it only to our readers briefly and will in the near future give a detailed account of this man's efforts.

There are six hundred men in this colony at the present time doing this one acre intensive farming. Every one according to reliable information is making a reasonable success in his efforts.

There is an organization existing and every man belongs to the co-operative plan through which they buy their needs and sell their products. They have their own packing plants, paved roads, trucks and every thing they need to make their business an absolute success.

They grow fruits and vegetables for the family on this acre, but the money crop is White Leghorn hens producing eggs for the market. The one acre will house 2500 hens which have been culled and graded so that each hen will produce at least 200 eggs per year and when she has done this she nets her keeper $2.00. If she has a higher egg record the profits are much greater. These hens come from ancestral stock which have been culled and graded so that 300 eggs per year is not a rare production for the individual hen. Some go much higher according to reliable records kept.

We will have more to say about the plan during the fall and winter months when our folks have time to carefully read and study the project and benefit from the things accomplished by this great benefactor Charles Weeks, who is to the poultry world what Burbank is to the plant life. He has blazed the way to success and he is unselfish in letting others know of their own partake of the blessings he has devised.

His plans are simple and his methods based on practical ideas (and not theories) which have stood the test of time and are no more an experiment, but established beyond question.

He hatches forty thousand chickens each year and broods them on the roof of his hen house which is 24 feet wide and 300 feet in length. Because of the even temperature of the climate he can do this very successfully. The only reason for this is because on one acre they do not have room on the ground floor of the hen house which is filled with mature layers. Mr. Weeks keeps 2500 hens in a house 300 by 24 feet and these hens are never allowed out of the building day nor night. They are kept 200 in a colony in a room 24x24 with an Auto Culler or trap nest dividing the space. This is also a wonder device which we will fully describe later on in another article.

Many of the boys were outspoken in saying that if we had not seen another foot of territory or any other development this Weeks Colony alone was worth the price of our long journey.

After showing us through every department of the plant, Mr. Weeks called us into the work room where chairs were provided and he proceeded to tell us in a short lecture of the many phases of the largest single fact, how a man and his family can make a living from so little as one acre intelligently cultivated. Mr. Weeks has been living this ideal life and his words have the wait from actual experience of a successful life.

Space will not permit us to say more at this time on the one acre farm, but as we have told you before we wish to discuss this until all who are interested shall understand the methods and can put many of them into practice.

We visited the great eggs packing plant of this colony and saw how the enormous amount of eggs were handled which represents more than one million dollars worth of eggs sold each year from these six hundred one acre farms.

Mr. Weeks discussed thoroughly the feed proposition which is one thing that is thought about by the poultry raiser more than any other one thing especially in Texas. Mr. Weeks stated that his feed cost him a little above $2.50 for every hundred pounds he fed these hens which he keeps in his houses. He buys all his feed except green feed which he grows on the acre, through irrigation. All grains, mash, oyster shell, grit etc is bought at the rate of above $2.50 per hundred. This is above the price we can feed our poultry for in Texas.

The prices for eggs are not but very little higher if any than we receive here in Texas the year-round. Some of our men who were experienced poultrymen said that we could adopt the methods used there and make more money in Texas than they are making in Calif. Of course the houses would have to be changed slightly because of our winter season here, but we have more room, cheaper land and can in many instances grow our feed.

We expect to give this more fully in the future, if interested watch for it. Mr. Weeks entertained us in what he calls his play ground before we left his place which is a little park filled with canary birds, flowers and gold fish swimming in the tanks. Here he served punch to the entire party and a few friends of his who dropped in from the colony surrounding his premises.

The Adohr Dairy
Doubtless one of the most important stock farms and dairies of California is the Adohr Stock Farm and Dairy about 20 miles out from Los Angeles. This was also on our itinerary and we visited this place after leaving the Weeks Colony. Mr. Weeks went with us to the Dairy and helped us to better understand the working of this wonderful plant.

We were shown through this great dairy plant by Mr. Rosenburger a young son of Dr. M. Rosenburger owner of the stock farm. They have about 1500 head of cattle on the farm and are milking at this time almost one thousand cows. They have the largest herd of pure bred Guernseys in the world with a smaller equally fine group of Holstein cows and from these two herds, two kind of certified milk is marketed. There are many things to be mentioned about this certified milk, which we will not take the time now to mention in this letter but will later on give a detailed account of the many things of interest about this great dairy and what it means to sell certified milk.

Certified milk sells for double the price of the ordinary milk and they find a ready sale for all the products they can place on the market. These cows are kept up in small lots and all the feed they get is selected and fed to them and every particle of it is closely inspected. The cows are placed in the barns at milking time and they are washed until they are scrupulously clean, the walls and floors are also washed and cleaned. The cows are milked by hand because a milking machine can not be used where certified milk is sold.

Escapes Unhurt When Car Plunges Over 12-Foot Embankment

While returning from a business trip west of Rule last Friday night, T. A. Williams, local real estate agent, narrowly escaped serious injuries when he drove his car over a twelve-foot embankment on the bank of the Brazos River several miles west of Rule.

According to Mr. Williams, the accident occurred about 9 o'clock Friday night. He was driving a Ford coupe, and as he neared the approach to the bridge he took the wrong road, not knowing that the road had been changed recently. Before he realized his mistake he says he was on the edge of a high bank, too late to stop the car. The coupe turned over several times, but luckily Mr. Williams escaped without a scratch, although he was considerably shaken up. The only damage to the car was one broken wheel, which was quickly replaced at a nearby filling station, and Mr. Williams drove across the bed of the river and up the old ford road on the east bank, arriving home at 11 o'clock none the worse for his experience.

Manager Gene Hughes of the Texas Theatre stated to a representative of the Free Press that the bringing of the "King of Kings" to Haskell so early after its National release date and while the big cities of the state were showing the production, was in keeping with the policy of the Westex Theatres, Inc., to advance the standard and ethical practices of their company to a degree worthy of the highest respect of the community.

In his opinion the picture is a climax of unselfish effort to broaden the field of endeavor in the production and presentation of motion pictures, and takes its place as the greatest of the great pictures to have yet reached the screen. Notwithstanding the fact, he says, that such pictures as "Ben Hur" and "The Ten Commandments" will live on and on in the memory of all who were fortunate enough to see them; yet "King of Kings" has reached more sublime heights than either of these acknowledged masterpieces.

According to the managements statements, "The King of Kings" is not by itself in the distinction of early showing, as the entire service has been brought up to a new level of exhibition from their respective release dates. Not only the feature productions, he avers, but as well the short subjects, including news reels only a few days from release. The matter of their attitude toward the community and the standard of their policy seems of much concern to Mr. Hughes and he states that his desire is to know the people whom he is endeavoring to serve better and for them to know him and his associates better. Much effort is being put forth by the management to bring the "King of Kings" to the attention of the public. Its exhibition dates for Haskell are given as October 25, 26, and 27, after its national release on Oct. 1.
