Clean Up Drive Was Very Successful

Practically all the heavy hauling of debris about town has been hauled away by city truck. If you have any of this about your premises now is the time to call City Hall and trucks will come for any heavy trash, trees etc.

The Clean Up has been very successful as 50 loads have been hauled by the big truck. Citizens have cooperated nicely and the entire town now has a 'new look'.

Some of the heavy hauling was delayed when workmen and trucks had to be transferred to street work following the heavy rains last month.

Cotton Growers Assn. Urges Weevil Fight

The following recommendations concern practices which will reduce the overwintered weevil population. If all farmers in a weevil infested area follow these steps the overwintered weevil population can be greatly reduced.

1. Dessicate or defoliate the crop as soon as the cotton has reached the proper stage.

2. Add a phosphate insecticide such as Guthion or methyl parathion to the dessicate or defoliant. (Do not add phosphate insecticides to chlorate defoliant and/or dessicants.)

3. Harvest cotton as soon as possible.

4. Destroy stalks immediately after harvest to prevent regrowth.

When cotton is dessicated, the boll weevil's food supply is destroyed. The addition of an insecticide to the harvest-aid chemical provides a quick kill, preventing weevil movement from the dessicated field into other fields. Stalk destruction immediately after harvest will prevent the cotton from regrowing and supplying food for weevils. These practices force the boll weevil into starvation before time to enter winter quarters, prevent late season build-up of weevils and bollworms, and reduce the overwintering populations.

This information is given by Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

'As It Looks From Here'

Omar Burleson, M. C. 17th District, Texas

Washington, D. C. -- An Ancient Oriental Proverb goes something like this: "Give a man a fish and he will eat for a day; teach him how to fish and he will eat for the rest of his life."

One way or the other this philosophy is involved in our Foreign Aid Program. Too much of it has been a fish for a day. Not only has it not done any lasting good, but our Nation gets no credit for it.

Almost as futile, and more expensive, has been the effort to jump over centuries some undeveloped and unexperienced countries at self-government, and into a modern society. They are not equipped to govern themselves in any advanced system, much less to utilize complicated machinery and equipment.

The remaining part of foreign aid, having to do with self-help in matters of education, health and technical assistance, has been a much cheaper experiment. Like the latter part of the proverb, it teaches them how to fish. Much of this type of aid has been worthwhile.

For different reasons, the Communists have for a long period of time extended this sort of help to areas where conditions were ripe to indoctrinate people into Communism. This method of operation is as old as Lenin. Lenin laid out a plan for communication of countries by organizing farmers cooperatives, introducing better farming techniques, teaching the illiterate how to read and write, and arousing the peasants in conflict with landowners. This continues to be the practice, plus entertainment such as plays, skits, dances and songs, all carrying a message in folk song.

The Communists are in no great hurry as we are. They begin with the smallest operation and gradually expand their activities until revolution is ready.

At any moment they are ready to agitate in any nation which shows signs of having fermented unrest. Examples for the moment are Java in Southeast Asia, but closer to home is Venezuela, Colombia and Guatemala. Trained guerrillas move into a rural area and start buying produce from farmers at prices above that which they have ever received. This establishes friendships.

The next stage is to begin agitating the people about deepseated grievances against the landowners and against the government. When the people are excited enough, guerrillas stage attacks against small outposts of the army. Such attacks bring larger detachments of the military into the area.

Because the lack of supplies, soldiers are forced to confiscate food

Carter Honored On 75th Birthday

Tuesday, June 15th, the following gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Carter to help Mr. Carter celebrate his 75th birthday: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carter; Mr. and Mrs. Odell McQueen; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Carter, Robert and Reba; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Singley, Roy and Larry; Mr. and Mrs. James Carter and Darell; and Miss Emily Garrett all of Rotan. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carter, Barbara and Roy Lee of Snyder; and Mr. Carter's sister, Mrs. Lura Bradley of Friona. Mrs. Bradley's son and wife Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Coldiron brought Mrs. Bradley to Rotan last Saturday to visit and went on to Caldwell to visit. They will come back Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Grover Carter, Gwen and Charles, of Dallas will come home this week end to spend Father's Day with his parents and visit other relatives a few days.

Mrs. Mattie Key left Monday on two weeks vacation trip. She will visit friends in San Diego, Calif., and will travel to San Francisco, Seattle and other points, then to Cleveland, Ohio, where she will visit the family of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Canfil and children. Her father, M. M. Price who makes his home with her went to Uvalde Sunday to visit his son and family while Mrs. Key is away.

R. L. Price of Lamesa stopped in Rotan last Thursday to visit relatives and friends. He is Veteran Service Officer of Dawson County and was enroute to Wichita Falls for Disabled American Veterans meeting. He is brother of Elmer Price, and was reared in Rotan.

and lodging, which acts antagonize the local populace. With the help of the peasants, army units are usually ineffective against the hit-and-run guerrilla tactics.

As in the case of South Viet Nam and Java, Communists go a step farther by holding public executions of natives who do not cooperate with them. The people conclude their security lies with the guerrillas.

The next step is to increase activities against the central government, with the backing of the people from areas under their control. As in the case in some Latin American countries, the Communists provoke and inspire general strikes in the cities to coincide with attacks in more remote areas of the country.

By these total efforts they are able to build major crises which call for all-out government use of massive force and, as in the case of the Dominican Republic, for example, the government calls on the United States for assistance.

When this assistance is given, they then use the action as propaganda in other nations to make them despise the United States.

Our policy in South Viet Nam is to offset these sort of tactics, but better answers have got to be found than we now have to head off these developments in countries of the Western Hemisphere.

REA Employees Go Back To School

Employees, directors, minutemen, and the wives of the three electric cooperatives serving rural areas in this part of Texas went back to School Thursday in Roby.

Midwest Electric, Roby, was host to representatives from Lone Wolf Electric, Colorado City, and Taylor Electric, Merkel, for a one day employee training session held in the Agriculture Building in Roby.

The forty employees and interested persons spent the day reviewing principles of the cooperative method of doing business and examining their individual roles within their organizations.

Johnnie Ammons, Manager of Midwest Electric, told the group, "This program is being presented to help us do our jobs better, to help us perform more effectively as members of a team and to more fully understand the significance of the cooperative method of doing business within our nation's free enterprise system."

How To Improve Your Gelatin Salads

Molded gelatin salads need not come out watery after freezing and thawing, says Alice Ballenger, county home demonstration agent.

To avoid this, simply use one-fourth less liquid than usual.

When using lemon-flavored gelatin, for instance, use 1½ cups water instead of the 2 cups recommended on the label.

Not only will you avoid weeping salads, but the celery in them will also stay crisp.

The research on the molded gelatin salads was done recently by food specialists at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station.

To thaw frozen salads of this nature, thaw overnight in the refrigerator, they recommend.

7 Youths To Work In State Selective Service

Austin, Texas, June 15 - Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state director of Selective Service, Wednesday announced the hiring of seven young people this summer as a part of the President's youth opportunity campaign.

They will work for Selective Service in Austin, San Antonio, Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth.

The employment of this summer help is part of the Federal government's participation in the President's campaign to provide summer jobs in private and public employment for thousands of youths.

Purpose of the campaign is to give extra opportunities for work and responsibility to young citizens entering the labor force for the first time, Colonel Schwartz said.

The campaign stresses the hiring of young people 16 through 21, and the creation of extra work training opportunities beyond normal hiring programs.

Federal agencies have set a goal of hiring one extra trainee for temporary summer work for every 100 on the regular work force.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

When we watch TV and see the Nomadic tribes wandering around, most of us feel that this is a pretty rustic way of life. We often forget all those "For Sale" signs we see in our neighborhood. Americans move around nowadays. Selling your home is a very important tax transaction. Keeping records on your investment in your home keeps you from paying tax dollars that you do not owe. It is a pretty good system to set up a folder to keep all your home investment papers together just in case your company sends you to the far away shores of our dear land.

Learn to Read Danger Signals of Appliances

Learn the language of your electrical appliances and you may prevent a fire, appliance damage, or personal injury.

W. S. Allen, Extension agricultural engineer, Texas A&M University, lists five warning signals, that if unheeded, could cause a lot of trouble.

1. Blinking or annoying "on-off" periods in the operation of an appliance usually means there is a loose connection. Perhaps it is only loose screw but repair it before a more serious problem occurs.
2. "Tingle" or slight shock when handling an appliance or switch tells you there's trouble brewing. Inspect loose wires or poor insulation. Or the appliance may need a "ground wire" connected.
3. Crumbling or rubber insulation on lamp or appliance cords can eventually expose electric wires which can short circuit, or make lamp bases a serious shock hazard.
4. Dimming of lights or slowing of heating appliances when motors start indicates that the circuits are overloaded. Overloaded circuits means overheated wires—a dangerous fire hazard.
5. Blown fuses or tripped circuit breakers are also signals of overloaded or shorted circuits.

Be sure the fuse is the right one for the size of wiring. If the fuse will get more power through than the wiring can safely carry, it is not a safety device.

Overheated wires, damaged motors and fires can be caused by using the wrong fuse or a penny-repaired fuse.

These five warning signals are more than mere annoyances, Allen said. They are real dangers which only the foolish will ignore.

When you get the signal, discard and replace worn cords, and have outlets, switches, and sockets repaired. If you aren't sure of your own repair techniques, call on your electrical repairman, advised Allen. If the need for repairs is a constant and continuing problem in your home, the reason may be old and inadequate wiring. The simplest and least expensive answer in the long run may be additional wiring. Check with your utility residential wiring specialist or a competent electrician. They can give you the pros and cons, explain new developments, and tell you what an adequate wiring system for your home would cost, Allen said.

8-Year Old Offers Help on Hiway Work

Austin, Texas -- "I am sending this money to fix the highways with."

That was the terse letter received recently in the Texas Highway Department main office in Austin. Enclosed was a one dollar bill in a separate envelope.

The good-roads writer is Kent Sojourner, age 8, of Abilene. His explanation of why he sent the money to "fix highways with" is simple.

"We studied that a long time ago roads used to be just gravel and stuff like that," he said. "And there were Model T's instead of modern cars. Now the roads are made of thick cement and are pretty and real wide. And they are safer, with posts and guards, and reflectors showing curves, and white lines."

Kent said he wrote the Highway Department because he was studying roads and travel at school. The children wrote for the Department's travel map.

"Texas roads are real good," said Kent. "They have roadside parks and all kinds of stuff. So I just wanted to help build some of the highways."

State Highway Engineer D. C.
Greer sent the dollar back to Kent expressing his appreciation for the boy's interest in better highways.

Kent is the son of Mr. and Mrs.
Jimmy W. Sojourner in Abilene. His mother teaches school and his father runs a drilling company. Kent has a 10-year-old brother in the fourth grade. Kent's mother knew nothing of her son's gift to the Highway Department.

"He's an extraordinary boy," Mrs.
Sojourner said. "He's always sending off for various pamphlets and free travel literature. He uses his own allowance and money he earns from running errands, and he writes his own business letters and buys his own stamps and addresses his own envelopes. We're always getting all kinds of things in the mail that Kent has written for."

Kent and his family travel Texas highways quite a bit.

"We went to the Sonora Caverns and to Dallas and Houston, and Aunt Barbara took us to Old Mexico," he said. "I like the pecan trees and Bluebonnets along the roads, and roadside parks."

Kent has no favorite subject in school. But I do like working together in class projects. . . . like the "travel project," he said.

MIRACLE MAN

Today's successful man makes enough money so his family can spend as much as the neighbors.

DID YOU KNOW THAT?

The first capitol building at Austin was partially built from logs and sawn lumber obtained at Bastrop, in the heart of the Lost Pine area, according to the Texas Forest Service. Today, wood production from the pine-hardwood area furnishes much of the economic life blood of the state.

Redhead Duck Dodges Hunters for 16 Years

Some ducks are smarter than some duck hunters!

One of the smartest ducks that ever dodged a load of shotgun pellets finally met its fate in the vicinity of St. Catharines, Ontario, Canada.

The computers at the Migratory Bird Populations Center, Laurel, Maryland, have furnished bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife biologists with proof that this duck, a female redhead, had dodged the shotguns of Canadian and United States hunters for sixteen years before being downed last hunting season.

When young waterfowl biologist Cecil Williams leg-banded this duck at the Delta Research Station in Manitoba way back in 1948, World War II had only been over for three years, Harry Truman was in the White House, and manned space flights were only a gleam in the eyes of our scientists.

Now Cecil Williams is the Director of the Bureau's Denver Wildlife Research Center and human beings are taking a stroll through space at a speed of over 17,000 miles per hour.

It's a remarkable world we live in, and this duck's feat of dodging the hunters' guns on its southward migrations each fall for sixteen years has to rank as one of the marvels of the age.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

The Texas Forest Service operates nine pine seed orchards. These orchards are made up of trees selected genetically for outstanding characteristics. Superior seed produced by the trees will be sold to forest landowners for direct seeding and used in the state forest tree nursery to produce quality seedlings for sale to landowners.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

Today people are taking to the water like ducks, but unfortunately, they don't swim anywhere near as well.

A generation or two ago water sports consisted chiefly of leaping into the old swimmin' hole or rowing around the lake.

But today, more people than ever before are seeking their summer partimes in an aquatic setting - and literally dying from it.

Several hundred will drown this year in Texas, according to a projection of previous records. On a nation-wide scale, 6,000 persons are predicted to drown from a variety of aquatic sports and activities.

Scuba and skin diving, surfboard-ing, water skiing and high-powered boating have added to the hazards of conventional swimming, diving and boating. And the proliferation of municipal and private pools and public beaches have further compounded the opportunities for injury, infection and death.

Let's take a look at the type injuries that accompany the various sports, and from this investigation we can gain clues to prevention.

Sailing accidents often are head injuries from a swinging boom. Power-boating accidents are frequently lacerations and amputations from motor boat propellers and collisions.

Common injuries among water skiers are finger, nose and face abrasions or fractures, mostly occurring from a fall onto the skis while in motion.

Some of the dangers of skin diving and underwater swimming include hyperventilation, malfunctioning scuba apparatus, face mask squeeze, middle ear squeeze, water pressure, and the threat of underwater life such as sea urchins, coral, the Portuguese man of war and others.

The dangers from these aquatic sports depend, of course, on your proximity to water - fresh or salt.

If you live close to the water, or plan to vacation by the waterfront this summer, follow this plan. Make sure you and your family are trained in survival treatment. Check with your local health department or civil defense director about the medical-self help courses.

SELF-APPRAISAL

Every time you find a fault in a friend match it with one of your own and you'll decide all your friends are perfect.

LACK WILL-POWER

Wayward men figure it's easier to pray for forgiveness than it is to fight temptation.

SIX FLAGS ADDS CIRCUS

Beginning June 12, Six Flags Over Texas will add a three-ring circus to its list of attractions.

All the trappings of a wholesome old-fashioned American circus will be in force with clowns galore, aerialists, animal acts and colorful production numbers.

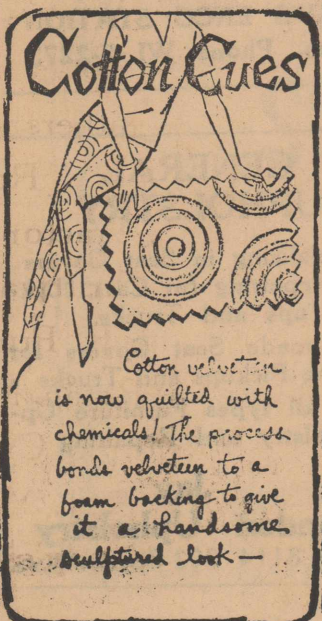

Show times for the 14-act show will be at 1:00, 3:00 and 5:00 p.m. seven days a week.

Location of the circus is adjacent to the Log Flume ride, just across the narrow-gauge railroad tracks. A special tunnel has been built under the tracks for easy access by visitors to the circus grounds.

The open-air spectacular will have seating for 2,500 people in the newly built grandstands on the north and south sides of the arena.

FLOWER-FRESH — Swiss embroidered white organdy s posed over pink cotton or a classic look. Light and gay with a whirling skirt and ribbon sash, it's a Celeste design.

Hospital Visiting Etiquette

by John A. Bardley, Ph.D., Chairman Council on Public Education
Texas Hospital Association and Associate Administrator
Santa Rosa Medical Center, San Antonio

Many people do not realize it, but in the role of a visitor to a friend or loved one in the hospital, you play a part in the patient's recovery. Every person who visits a patient may do something to promote or retard the patient's recovery.

Hospital rules and regulations may seem unnecessary and possibly too stringent, but they have been established over a long period of time in the best interests of the patient. Many times rules governing visits are the result of the doctor's wishes or perhaps those of the patient. When calling upon a friend in the hospital, the first thing to remember is to limit your visit to 15 minutes. If the patient wished to discuss his illness, be a good listener, but don't ask questions or add comments to prolong the discussion and try tactfully to switch the topic away from his sickness.

Invariably, when the patient is first admitted, visitors come in droves at a time when he is least able to cope with them. The time to visit is during convalescence when he is more himself and in better shape to receive you. During the period of initial hospitalization, a brief, cheery note or get well card shows you are concerned about your friend and that your thoughts are with him.

When the patient has several other visitors in his room, and after you make your presence known, if they do not indicate that they are leaving, it is desirable that you leave and return another time. Actually, only two visitors should be in the room at a time to avoid overcrowding which may hinder the activities of the nursing staff or physician.

If the physician or minister should call upon the patient while you are visiting him, you should immediately withdraw. Such consultations are privileged and should be conducted in private.

If you notice signs of weariness or discomfort, it is a good time to cut your visit short. It could be that the patient may have personal needs that he is not able to attend to until you leave.

It is always comforting to those in the hospital to know that members of the family are being looked after. You can perform a real service to the patient by relieving any anxiety he may have in this regard by offering assistance to his family while in the hospital.

In addition to things which you can do to make your visit worthwhile, there are those things which may have an adverse effect on the patient.

He certainly doesn't want to hear of a similar case that resulted in dire circumstance, a condemnation of the course of treatment or ridiculing those responsible for his recovery. If the patient does not bring up the nature of his illness, do not probe for information. His illness is a personal thing and he may find it embarrassing to discuss.

The patient looks forward to getting well and returning home. It is inconsiderate to discuss unpleasant situations or bad news that will have to be faced. Any added worry or anxiety will tend to hinder the patient's recovery. Besides, chances are he will not be able to resolve an unpleasant situation at home until he is back in familiar surroundings.

One of the most abused liberties taken by a visitor is to make smoke during a visit. Even though the patient may be a smoker, an excess of cigar, cigarette or pipe smoke may make him feel nauseated or a little more sick.

Before you make a trip to the hospital, it is suggested that you first call to see if the patient's condition will permit him to have visitors and to check the hospital's visiting hours. If the patient has undergone surgery, it is best to wait until the third post-operative day after major surgery or the second after minor surgery.

When the patient is on the road to recovery, he wants to see his friends. When properly handled, a visit breaks the monotony and becomes a pleasant respite to which he looks forward. If children accompany you, and it becomes necessary to have them remain in the hospital's main lobby, it would be well to observe the principles of hospital etiquette by making sure they are attended.

Remember, visits should be enjoyed, not endured.

36th Annual DKG Convention Held

Approximately 917 members of the 186 chapters of Alpha State, the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, met in the 36th annual convention, June 10-13 at the Shamrock-Hilton Hotel, Houston.

"Action for Leadership" was the theme chosen by the State President, Miss Sarah Tobolowsky, Dallas. Present at the opening meeting of the Executive Board were Miss Ray King, Fort Worth, and Miss Lela Lee Williams, Dallas, International Founders. Miss King is a member of the International Administrative Board.

The President of Gamma Tau Chapter, Mrs. Joe Benson was represented by Mrs. Whit Clark at the President's Dinner. Other members from Gamma Tau Chapter were: Mrs. Herman Phillips, Mrs. T. E. Knapp, and Miss Delila Baird.

Miss Elsie M. Lindgren, International Parliamentarian from Twin Falls, Idaho, speaker for the Presidents' Dinner, entitled her address "Sand and Salt," taken from a quotation by Randall Jarrell: "The tide comes in, the tide goes out, but the sand stays on the beach and the salt stays in the sea." Miss Lindgren throughout her talk challenged members to stand for quality in membership and for lasting values. She challenged members with the question, "What has happened to our ideals?"

At the Birthday Luncheon, Mrs. Doris Hibbert, Sherman, presented the recipients of the State Achievement Awards. Dr. Lola Beth Green, Lubbock, presented the recipients of the scholarship awards.

At the first general session the following incoming officers were elected: President, Mrs. Ruby Lee Lafferty, Kappa, El Paso; First Vice-President, Mrs. Bess Desmuku, Beta, San Antonio; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Mae Hope Reid, Delta Gamma, Jasper; Recording Secretary, Ella Mae Gehring, Beta, Houston; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Frances Lowrance, Kappa, El Paso; Parliamentarian, Jessie Sim, Lota, Denton; Committee on Finance, Elpha Lee West, Ilene Coke, Alpha Nu, Laredo, Alpha Sigma, Port Arthur.

Prior to the Founders' Dinner, Mrs. Sadie Ray Powell, Chairman of the State Committee on Nominations, directed the Installation Ceremony for the officers for the 1966-1968 term.

An original ceremony honoring the twelve Founders, was narrated by Miss Yvette Rosenthal, Galveston, Past State President. Mrs. Nelj B. McMains, Texas City, Southwest Regional Director, spoke on Robert Frost's words, "Promise to Keep and Miles to Go." Mrs. Edyth Bosse, Dallas, Co-Chairman of the State Committee on Scholarships, directed the Corsage Ceremony through which approximately $600 was added to the state scholarship funds.

The Convention concluded with Memorial Service conducted by Mrs. Pauline Hix, Abilene, Chairman of the State Committee on Necrology, at which 83 deceased members were honored.

The 1966 Alpha State Convention will be held in San Antonio.

Texas Farmers and ranchmen were asked this spring to contribute additional funds to help finance the screwworm eradication program through July 1. Their response, reported the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation in late May, was overwhelming. Their contributions almost doubled the $300,000 requested.

Farmers and ranchmen in Fisher County participated in the fund drive and showed their appreciation for the outstanding results obtained under the program, said Roger Smith, chairman of the county screwworm eradication committee. County stockmen and sportsmen, he added, contributed $2149.90 to the fund. Contributions, he said, were based upon 10 cents per animal unit. Fisher County was one of 126 in the state exceeding their potential goal. Dolph Briscoe, Jr., SWAHRF chairman, praised the livestock industry for its support of the program and gave special thanks to the county committeemen for their work in contacting farmers and ranchmen.

The foundation chairman said the latest fund drive had brought the total contributed by stockmen and sportsmen in Southwest to almost $4 million. Contributions have also come from Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Louisiana, Mississippi, Kansas and Indiana.

The manner in which fish are cleaned and handled from the time they are caught until they are cooked greatly affects their flavor and eating quality.

Old fishermen who say they love to fish but don't like to eat their catch, probably do so because they have eaten improperly prepared fish.

The most important factor in proper handling of fish is to keep them alive until they are to be cleaned. Fish can be kept alive by the correct use of a stringer or by submerging them in a burlap bag or metal fish basket in the water.

One of the more common mistakes made by fishermen is improper stringing. They pass the string or metal hook of the stringer beneath the gill cover and this irritates the gills resulting in death of the fish.

This problem can be remedied by passing the point of the stringer through the jaws of the fish instead of the gill cover. First, pass the point through the thin skin just behind the lower jaw bone and then up through the upper jaw. Stringing in this manner helps keep the mouth closed and does not interfere with functioning of the gills.

Proper cleaning of the fish should begin as soon as possible after the catch is made. Caution should be taken to see that all of the entrails are removed and the fish is thoroughly washed following cleaning.

Skinnering of all fish, whether they be catfish, bass or sunfish, often helps remove the distasteful flavor that fish occasionally have. An inexpensive fisherman's pliers made for this purpose is almost a necessity.

Pack the fish in ice after cleaning if the trip home involves many miles. And if they are to be frozen, see that they are properly packaged to prevent freezer burns. And be sure the fish are cooked to the "well done" stage before they are served.

Where does Texas rank in dairying -- June is Dairy Month and a good time, says A. M. Meekma, Extension Dairy specialist at Texas A&M University, to take a look at how we stand. Texas ranks 10th in the nation in the number of milk cows on farms, 11th in the total pounds of milk produced but 38th in milk produced per cow. Also 9th in the production of ice cream, 24th in cheese production and 26th in butter production. Room for improvement, he says.

Get grasshoppers early -- Grasshoppers are showing up in large numbers in many areas of the state, causing damage to range vegetation as well as crops. Entomologists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service say that control measures should be started as soon as numbers warrant control. Best results can be obtained while the hoppers are young and before they leave their hatching beds. Local county agents can supply information on control methods.

THE WAR ON POVERTY: A Message to High School Seniors

We believe high school seniors are mature enough to comprehend the tragedy of poverty—and to contribute meaningfully to the battle that is being waged against it.

Today the United States is committed to the greatest humanitarian cause in its history—a massive counter-attack on the causes of poverty, which are robbing 35,000,000 Americans of the opportunities most of us are free to pursue because we had the advantage of a decent start in life. That start has been denied to one-fifth of the nation's people. Thirteen million of them are children.

VISTA, Volunteers in Service to America, was organized to give individuals the opportunity to apply their talents in a compassionate national cause—to fight poverty in the front lines. Here, lack of education, poor health, unemployment, inadequate housing, and disrupted family relationships condemn people, often from childhood, to a life of futility. The work of VISTA volunteers is to help intervene with the tools of opportunity.

You will become eligible for VISTA once you are 18 and have completed high school. VISTA training will prepare you to take part in programs for the poor of all ages, in all parts of the country. Young people who plan to go to college later often enroll for a year both to help others and to enlarge their own capacities for teaching, social work, or careers in sociology, economics, law, and other fields.

Home base for VISTA volunteer groups can be a city tenement row, a struggling farm community, an Indian reservation, or a migrant labor camp. Volunteers may help organize recreation programs or tutor children who are behind in school. Some serve as aides to social workers, as mental health assistants, as teachers of hobbies and crafts to the elderly. In VISTA, volunteers do whatever is needed to encourage people to find their way up from poverty.

The opportunities are great: you can help pave the way for an America in which the democratic ideal is big enough to encompass everyone.

Will you lend your abilities to people who live in need? Join the War on Poverty as a VISTA volunteer.

TELLING the SIMPLE STORY

MANY of us smiled at the farmer in Pearl Buck's story of the Good Earth. It seemed to us most strange that a man should buy his coffin ahead of time and take grim satisfaction in looking at the fine box in which he was to be buried. Perhaps many of us are as strange in our American refusal to think about death at all. The old adage "as sure as death and taxes" should have put us in the frame of mind to look forward to our own death and to make some preparation for it. Too many of us, however, are like the proverbial ostrich; we dig our heads down into the sand and assume that while death will overtake everybody else, by some strange shift of good fortune, it will never knock at our door. We are "foolish virgins" as Jesus called the people who made no provision for the coming of The Great Day, because the hour was uncertain.

ONE of the SIMPLEST STORIES ever told is the one told by Jesus to the Disciples on how to be saved. . . how to be ready for death. He made it so simple that even a "little child" can understand. Let us not take lightly the responsibility of telling this simple story! May we be conformed to right; subject to, and influenced by the moral laws of the Supreme.

FACE TO FACE let's face the fact of death and its certainty for ourselves. Then make plans that take death into account. See to it that we have arranged our minds and our souls for the promotion that we expect, from earth to Heaven. See to it that our families have been adequately provided for; let us face the fact fearlessly. May we be resolute and more determined to keep telling the Simple Story of how to live and what to live for so that we may know how to die. Come with me to Church.
