Unordered Merchandise

These bills had better concern us, which would prohibit the mailing of merchandise to prospective customers who have not ordered. For many years it has been the practice of various concerns to mail out listless catalogues, perfumes, greeting cards and the like to persons likely to accept and pay for the stuff rather than go to the trouble of returning it. This practice is the source of great annoyance to persons whose names happen to get on the mailing lists of firms employing it. Even though there is no legal obligation to pay or return the goods sent them "on approval" most persons will do one or the other through fear of appearing to be dishonest. While, ordinarily, we do not favor the passing of more laws for the restriction of the public, the schemes which are being worked for forcing merchandise upon unwilling customers are a nuisance, and ought to be prohibited.

Can You Read

One of the most important questions the census taker will ask is whether you can read and write and speak English. The American people need to realize that the proportion of people who can not answer these questions fully in the affirmative is very large, and that this illiteracy is one of the worst difficulties our country has to contend with.

Many people who say "yes" to this question, can read so very little that even a short newspaper paragraph makes their heads ache. Such folks are not in a good position to take a useful part in American community life.

They can not inform themselves from the newspapers as to the qualifications of candidates at election, and they can not benefit by the constant instruction given in newspapers as to how people can solve the problems of daily life. The American people should be stirred by these illiterate figures, to give these people a better chance to learn.

Why All These Questions?

The United States census takers have a quite long list of questions to ask each one of us this month. Some people will not be able to see what good all this information will do the government. Before knocking Uncle Sam or his representatives for quizzing them so extensively, they might well look into the question what answers are for.

These enumerations of the people and various facts of their life reflect social and industrial progress. They tell which communities are going ahead and which ones are lagging behind.

THIS MONTH in the GARDEN

THIS MONTH in the GARDEN

The revelation of these facts should be a stimulus to every sluggish city to wake up, stir its inactive forces, and get into the game of modern progress.

(By Chas. M. Conner)

The census of unemployment attempts to give exact facts on one of the most perplexing questions of modern life. It seeks to find out how far our business methods provide regular work for our people. If they fail to provide tasks which people can perform to obtain their bread, something is vitally lacking. Manifestly the first thing is to find out what proportion of people are now out of work.

Statistics in regard to people—their marital status, their race and color, their ability to read and write, the value of their homes, ownership of radio sets, their studies in educational institutions, their fight on the movement and activities of the people and what they have been able to achieve. They reveal the drift of population, the development of different elements, the prospects and longevity of the people.

It is a kind of natural inventory. After the great arm-of-decks have "upped" the results, we shall know more what gains as a nation we have made, and we shall be able to discover some weak points that need attention.

To Scrap Old Cars

Automobile manufacturers of the United States have set aside $15,000,000 to be expended in scrapping 400,000 unsafe cars this year in the interest of highway safety.

It is declared that one of the serious hazards of the highway situation has been the rattle-trap car which is fished out of the scrap heap and put on the road to menace its own occupants and others. Under the new plan these vehicles will be taken and demolished, so that they can not possibly be used again.

While the plan is undoubtedly in the interest of public safety, it is considered that it will also be a good business move for the manufacturers, as it will create a market for more new cars.

Spring is here for sure now, and you will have to step lively in order to keep up with things. You should have your garden in a high state of cultivation by this time, if you do not prepare the soil at once.

Place proper supports for your sweet peas as it is necessary to insure straight stems, you will have to train the vines to first take hold of supports.

Divide your chrysanthemum clumps this month, setting one plant in a place, 12x12 inches is a good distance for beds where you intend to stand, when planted in rows, 12 inches apart and two feet rows, use a liberal amount of well rotted manure in beds as chrysanthemums are heavy feeders.

Summer Flowering Annuals

Sow this month outdoors where they are to flower, seeds of annuals. Among such we have the Cypripedia, Candytuft, Zinnia, Scabiosa, Snapdragons, Marigolds, Cosmos and others.

Outside Living Room

Why plant any old way just so as to get the stock out when, with very little more work, you can lay out a piece of ground in beds and sod paths in a sort of formal garden and thereby transform that piece of your garden into a show ground?

Don't be afraid of tackling the job; you can do it easily if you want to. Get your four corners and then put a stake in the middle or center of the square or oblong as the case may be. From it locate your beds using a good line, a tape measure, a few stakes and a hand axe to drive them with. If this is all new to you, start out by drawing a 6 or 8 ft. circle with the line for the center bed and placing stakes every 2 or 3 ft. along that line. Another row of stakes 3 or 4 ft. away, from the first stakes and parallel with the mark the outer edge of a sod or gravel path. Another row, 3 or 4 ft. away, will be the inside limit of a flower border running parallel to the walk, which, again, is followed by a sod path and so on.

Or a sod path may be laid out by stretching a line so as to divide the whole square into four equal parts, the line forming the center of a path running from the center-bed to the outside of the plat. Each of the four smaller squares can then be laid out in straight beds or other shapes, any way to obtain a good layout, and give an attractive setting. If you haven't enough cannas, Geraniums, Petunias or Salvias, with Coleus borders, make use of annuals. After you have looked at the layout all summer, you may want to change it for another year. Maybe this fall you will even want to plant part of it in spring flowering bulbs, Pansies and Daisies. You may still further improve your layout with a sundial, gazing globe, concrete benches, fountain, arches, pergolas, rose trellises or other garden furniture.

Enter the beautiful yard contest it will be helpful to you and you will derive a world of enjoyment planning and working in your yard.

Watch out for insects, a good way is to spray every two weeks whether you need to or not.

WISHES HE'D HEARD OF IT A YEAR AGO

"I Thought I Would Die But Since Taking Orgatone Feel Like New," Says Wichita Falls Man.

"If I had heard of this Orgatone about a year ago, I would have been a happier and healthier man instead of suffering like I did," said O. L. Habern, living east on the Petrolia Road, Wichita Falls, Texas. Mr. Habern was formerly with the McFall Motor Co., he was with them for 19 years.

"I have been a constant sufferer for the last year, with my stomach," he continued, "and the misery I went through was terrible. After eating I would suffer for hours at a time, until I would take something to belch up the gas that formed on my stomach. I was operated on for appendicitis about 10 years ago and I have been bothered ever since. I had severe pains at the margin of my ribs and in my right side, and when the gas would form, it was difficult for me to get my breath and I thought I had heart trouble. At times, the pains in my back would hurt me so, I could not straighten up. For ten long days I laid in bed with intense gas pains, so bad, I thought I would die, and so did everybody else that saw me. I thought I would die, and so did everybody else that saw me. I lost my appetite and hardly ate enough to keep me alive. I didn't sleep at all well, and would get restless and roll from side to side till I was worn out, and would get up in the morning feeling like I hadn't gone to bed at all. I would be so tired.

"I got my first bottle of Orgatone after continual treatment under doctors and all kinds of medicines failed to do me any good, and have taken three bottles and I am now feeling fine. Soon after beginning Orgatone I found my appetite improved and I can eat anything I want, and have gotten rid of all that swelling and bloated feeling and gas has quit forming and the pressure in my side has been relieved. I'm not constipated any more, and have gained five pounds in weight. Those severe pains in my back and sides are gone, and I am not nervous and restless as I was, and go to bed and sleep every night. I know that Orgatone will do all that is claimed for it, as it has been such a benefit to me. I have told a lot of people about it and they say it is giving good results.

I think it is a wonder and I am glad to recommend it to the public. Genuine Orgatone may be obtained at the Oates Drug Store.—Adv.

It's wise to choose a SIX!

After all, it is a perfectly simple matter to decide which automobile to buy in today's market. Only two questions must be answered to your satisfaction—

First: Which car gives the most for my money?

Second: Which car represents the soundest investment in satisfaction and pride of ownership?

In buying a low-priced car consider the following facts:

It is wise to choose a six-cylinder motor—for six cylinders are necessary to take out vibration and roughness. Six-cylinder smoothness will save the motor, the chassis, the body, the passengers and the driver.

The Chevrolet is a six. And yet it sells at a price that anyone can afford to pay.

This very low-priced car lasts longer, not only because of fine materials and oversize parts, but also because it is a six. Its big, smooth, 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine is always "taking it easy." There is no feeling of strain.

With all its six-cylinder smoothness and power the New Chevrolet Six uses no extra gasoline or oil. Efficient design makes this possible—overhead valves—high compression power from any fuel—very latest carburetor—close-fitting, long-wearing pistons—crankcase ventilation—air cleaner. You can really have extreme economy and still satisfy your ideal of truly modern transportation.

Chevrolet economy is also the mark of Chevrolet sincerity in manufacture. To illustrate:

Chevrolet valves are readily accessible and adjustable. This saves replacing valves, and also makes it possible to preserve the efficiency of the engine.

A similar example is found in Chevrolet's molded brake lining—reducing the necessity of frequent replacement, and consequent expense.

Furthermore, there is a rear axle inspection plate on the Chevrolet.

See your nearest Chevrolet dealer today and drive a Chevrolet Six. Ten minutes at the wheel will show you what a difference six cylinders make.

WHY Risk Loss By FIRE

It's so needless to take a chance when safety may be purchased at a few cents a day. Yearly, experience proves the value of Fire Insurance. The wails and moans of the uninsured contrast vividly with the satisfaction of those compensated for their losses.

LOWEST-PRICED SIX EVER TO BEAR THE CHRYSLER NAME

THE NEW CHRYSLER SIX

Another great triumph of great engineering
The new Chrysler Six comes to the public at a price that almost anyone can afford—a splendid tribute to the Chrysler ability to turn out extraordinary values. It is a typical Chrysler creation from rims to roof—by long odds the finest motor car ever to appear in the field of lower-priced sixes.

Here at amazingly low prices are the great advantages of Chrysler engineering—such advantages as weatherproof interlocking 4-wheel hydraulic brakes, 40-horsepower high-compression engines, special-type spring shackles and shock absorbers; and typically Chrysler-styled bodies of new design and construction. Such a car at such a price is hardly believable, here it is. There is no other body should be desired—the thrill and pride of owning a Chrysler.

Appreciation

I personally appreciate the response made by each of you to our announcement in last week's paper. However, I want to meet more of you.

If our Station at Haskell, hasn't been operated to your liking, come to me and advise with me how we may better serve you as an individual and the public as a whole. I've been in this game a long time and have never yet been in a locality where I didn't enjoy the confidence of the public in general. I am going to do my dead best to merit that confidence at Haskell.

Armour doesn't require or expect me or any other employee to take one pound that belongs to you, in fact an employee that is found to be guilty of such don't stay with the company very long.

A WORD TO THE CREAM PATRONS

We receive cream every day in the week, outside of Sunday, and are prepared to give you a test on it at any time.

I am going to try to prove to the public that our service is second to none in every respect. You can search Texas over and not find a better little buying station than we have. That compiled together with our aim and efforts to serve you better, surely will merit at least a part of your business. At any rate give us one trial. Thank you.

Music

(By Joe Meacham)

Following the same line upon which I wrote last week, the next thought is success or rather what is the keynote to success in music. It is desirable but not most important for the young musician to have a personality for it is more difficult for the one who lacks it to get ahead rapidly but the two principal things to gaining success are skill and sincerity. An insincere musician will in music as in any other line invariably fail.

I remember some years ago in a small town of hearing a young pianist play. Every one who heard him play were talking about what a great future he had before him. Only one man an elderly gentleman who had been a splendid musician in his day shook his head and said, "The fellow is not real neither is his music. Later I found out that this fellow was working on a small salary and doing a little teaching. His fault was just exactly as the older musician knew insincerity and the world soon found it out.

The sincere musician with music in his soul will treat difficulties like they were boosts.

One of the best musicians we have today played a trumpet with out a single lesson, his mother taught him his scale from a hymn book before he could read his alphabet and he made good on a trumpet right from the start. That boy had music in his soul and it had to come out. Another and important thing is a good school education. The good student in school if he is musically inclined will make the best musician.

The road to success in music passes through difficulties, discouragements and requires deep study, self-denial and endless hours of practice.

If you love music well enough to do this then your success is assured otherwise not. Choose your vocation early in life and be sincere. Then don't give up until you have reached your objective.

THE FIRST REALLY NEW OIL IN 25 YEARS

This is the simple story of the new oil that is now enjoying such remarkable acceptance: Conoco Germ-Processed . . . In the first place, this new oil is an extraordinarily fine paraffin-base lubricant. And then . . . under exclusive Conoco patents, this oil is endowed with the unusual faculty of penetrating and combining with metal surfaces. This faculty, we call "Penetrative Lubricity." The Germ Process, by adding a precious oily-essence lacking in all other oils, does this . . . And so provides constant un-failing lubrication for your motor under any conceivable strenuousness of motor operation. Germ Process is the first fundamental improvement in refining methods in the last quarter century.

So won't you come into the next station you see bearing the Red Triangle and join the thousands of other motorists who have changed to Conoco Germ-Processed Oil in the last few weeks?

Tom Davis Announces Candidacy for Judge of 39th Judicial District

The name of Tom Davis will be found in our announcement column this week, as a candidate for the office of District Judge of the 39th Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July.

Although it was stated that he would be a candidate for the office, Mr. Davis had not made his formal announcement until this week, and we are pleased to present it in another part of this article.

We do not think it necessary to present here an introduction to the candidate, as he has been a resident of Haskell county for a number of years and is probably personally acquainted with nearly every voter of the county.

Mr. Davis is well-known throughout this section as an able lawyer, and for several years was District Attorney of this district; prior to that time he was County Attorney of Haskell county, retiring from this office to enter the army during the World War. For the past several years he has been engaged in the practice of law in this city.

In presenting his candidacy, we believe that it can be truthfully said that Mr. Davis is qualified in every respect for the high office to which he aspires, and that he will discharge them in a fair and impartial manner should he be selected by the people. Believing this, we take pleasure in presenting his candidacy for the earnest consideration of the voters of the district.

Concerning his candidacy, Mr. Davis says:

To the People of the 39th Judicial District:
I take this method of submitting to the people of the 39th Judicial District of Texas my candidacy for District Judge subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July next.

I was elected county attorney of Haskell county in 1916 and before the expiration of my first term resigned to enter the World War. I was discharged in 1919 and resumed the practice of law at Haskell, and was elected district attorney of the old 39th Judicial District, composed of the counties of Throckmorton, Haskell, Stonewall, Kent, Jones and Fisher, and was re-elected to this office. I resigned as district attorney before the expiration of my second term because at that time the needs of my family demanded my presence at home.

My record as your district attorney is an open book and I shall leave that record to your judgment. I have practiced both civil and criminal law and in the discharge of my duties to my clients I have attempted to act in an honorable way, and this record is also one to which I invite your investigation.

I do not consider that an announcement for this important office should be a long argument upon my merits or the discussion of the demerits of any opponent I might have. I believe that a campaign for the important office to which I aspire should be pitched on a high plane and along lines in keeping with its importance and I am making this race upon my merits, if any, and am entering the same without malice towards anyone. I do not care to impose upon the press to make at this time, a lengthy reply to the announcement and argument of my opponent appearing in a recent issue of this paper, but in fairness to myself I do state that his charges to my motives in becoming a candidate for office against him are without foundation in fact.

At the proper time, I will discuss before the people of the 39th Judicial District my candidacy and meet the charges and insinuations contained in my opponent's announcement.

I will deeply appreciate your support and if elected will discharge the duties of the office impartially.

Respectfully,
Tom Davis

Mayor Emory Menefee in a short talk pointed out the need of co-operation between farmer and business man, to their mutual advantage, and endorsed the points brought out by the preceding speaker.
