Cubs - Cowboys Play Here Tonite

Pony League play is getting well underway in the season and the Rotan Cubs will meet Jayton Cowboys here tonight. The Cubs have a well balanced and cooperative club which is showing these results. Their third consecutive win was against Jayton Indians Tuesday night, 17-2, in Jayton. Homeruns were made in this game by Ronnie Miller, Bobby Cooper and Walter Hargrove.

Give the Cubs your support by attending, at least the home games and, perhaps a little financial help, also. This is a splendid movement for boys of this age group and fills a need for summer recreation.

GT Scrapbook Rated Superior

At the State Convention of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society held in Fort Worth, June 8 through 11, the scrapbook of the local chapter was on exhibit with a rating of Superior. Ratings are based on the number of news stories reporting chapter activities, radio and television coverage, pictures, mementoes and other chapter and state activities. Its primary purpose is to preserve a record of the activities of the organization, and it becomes a part of the permanent file of chapter history.

The scrapbook project is under direction of the state publicity chairman, Gamma Tau, scrapbook committee is Mmes. Wendell Morrow and Charles McCall.

Miss Della Baird, publicity chairman for Gamma Tau chapter, and Mmes. Morrow and McCall wish to express appreciation to the Rotan Advance and Sweetwater Reporter for giving space to the publication of activities of the organization. This news coverage was in large part responsible for the rating received on the scrapbook.

W. T. Helms is reported to be slightly improved following a stroke last week. He is in an Abilene Hospital for treatment and visitors are not allowed. His condition was very critical several days, but he is slowly improving. His daughter, Mrs. Paula Lewis and husband and other relatives have been here since his illness. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis live at Homestead, Fla. where he is stationed.

Good Rains Over Most Area

The rains finally came. First general rain in the county in 8 months came Sunday and Monday. Up to this fall our total for the year was 4.36 at weather observer station and much of the territory, especially to the west had much less than that, in fact much of the area had no crops planted.

Both of these rains were general, especially Monday. Fred Byerly, local weather observer gauged the fall Sunday as .70 and Monday at 1.67. At least this much coverage every point of the immediate area and many parts had up to 3 and 4 inches.

Most farmers who had growing crops estimated very little replanting to be done, and everyone contacted now had ample season to get a crop started. Many stock tanks filled and stockmen are very happy with their range condition. Some farmers are nervous about the late planting, but many bumper crops have been made here with late June planting.

Service Held For Mrs. B. F. Young

No property damage was reported from either day, although high winds accompanied the precipitation. Some light hail was reported with Sunday's cloud.

A number of pretty crops are reported north of town, as this section had several early rains, not received by other parts of the county.

C of C Asks Rags For Viet Nam

Mrs. Rodney Denton received request from her husband in a recent letter for supply of rags to be used in maintenance of helicopters in Viet Nam. Capt. Denton has been in Viet Nam for some time and stated that with the current rainy season, maintenance of the copters is really a problem and rags are badly needed.

The Chamber of Commerce, learning of this took on the gathering as a project. They are making a drive and also ask everyone who will contribute any type of clean rags to leave at any store in town. This should be done during the week.

Mrs. Denton states that she will pay for transportation of the bundles.

Origin of Names In County Asked

Residents of Fisher County were asked this week to help solve the mystery of the origins of several geographical names found on county maps. The information is needed for an accurate listing of place names, including Fisher and the other 253 counties, to be published soon by the East Texas State University Press.

Before Dr. Fred Tarpley, professor of English at the university, submits his final manuscript, he is appealing to county residents for assistance in contributing information about several names with explained origins.

With the following exceptions, the reasons for the choice, approximately 200 names found on detailed maps of the county have already been determined: Abilene, Bannock Oil Field, Center, Dalton Oil Field, Gannock Community, Grady, Highland Home, Nitro, Kidron, Green, Liberty, Parden Oil Field, Raven Creek Oil Field, Red Creek, Round Top Oil Field, Sandia, Tiger Canyon Creek and Whitefield.

Dr. Tarpley, who started his research on Texas geographical names five years ago, has exhausted material available in his history books, newspaper files, student research and interviews with county leaders. He is hoping that the story behind the naming of the communities, creeks and other geographical sites listed above can be explained before his book goes to press.

Information will be welcomed by Dr. Fred Tarpley, Department of English, East Texas State University, Commerce, Tex. 75423.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. J. A. Brown during the past week were her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Coker of Dallas, her grandson Carroll C. Coker of Dallas, her daughter, Mrs. Jay S. What marvelous buildings man has erected through the centuries. What lofty and inspiring structures he has created.

But how many of these glorious accomplishments stand intact today? We can see famous ruins the world over — mute reminders that what man builds is not permanent.

Today our buildings contain great slabs of concrete holding hidden wire and steel that will not break with stress. But can we be sure that today's creations will be standing a hundred years or two hundred years from now? Of course not.

Of what can we be certain? What does last?

Certainly the gifts of God tower indestructibly today as they have for generations . . . the things of the spirit — faith, hope and love. Our church buildings may crumble or be destroyed, but the fellowship of believers is perpetual throughout the ages.

Discover for yourself the great spiritual truths. Discover for yourself through His Church, those things which endure forever.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

His. Com. Plans Marker For San Saba Grave

San Saba, Texas

It was 131 years ago on April 21 since Sion R. Bostick was buried in the City Cemetery at San Saba, personally helped to capture the Mexican General Santa Ana in the Battle of San Jacinto, April 21, 1836. The San Saba Historical Survey Committee plans this year to place a government marker at the grave commemorating his part in this historical event.

Bostick, who operated the Bostick House, a pioneer hotel on the east side of the plaza in San Saba for many years, was one of a detachment of six Texas soldiers who captured Santa Ana and brought the Mexican General to General Sam Houston after the Texas victory on April 21.

Bostick was born in Alabama in December 1819, and he died in San Saba in 1902.

He is listed in Texas histories of Bolton and Barker, Pennybacker, as well as Wharton, as being one of the soldiers who captured the Mexican General. He was listed as a private in Company D, Texas Volunteers.

He was 15 years old when he joined Capt. Slaine's Company at Gonzales and took part in the defense of the cannon which the Mexicans were undertaking to move. This was accounted as the beginning of the Texas Revolution.

The young soldier went with the first detachment to San Antonio and there took part in the assault under Ben Milam on Dec. 5, 1835. According to the records, he re-enlisted in the Army of the Republic on March 11, 1836, and was at the Battle of San Jacinto.

Bostick settled in San Saba as a comparatively young man and operated the Bostick House, which was moved during his operation to the northeast corner of the plaza, where it was demolished about 20 years ago.

Older citizens in San Saba, including the late J. D. Estep, long time merchant and Banker, who was next door neighbor to Bostick for many years, recalled him as an upright old gentlegan who talked frequently of his part in the capture of Santa Ana, but was never boastful of his participation in the capture of the "Napoleon of the West" as the Mexican leader called himself.

The old cap and ball pistol which Bostick carried at the capture of Santa Ana was kept for a time by members of his family until it was sold to the late Dud S. Barker of Alpine. Mrs. Barker had known Bostick in San Saba.

Sion R. Bostick received land, a 640 acre tract in Tom Green County, six miles northeast of San Angelo, in Section 5, S. R. Bostick Survey. This was for his services as a soldier in the Republic of Texas.

An old hand bell, which was used for a dinner bell at the old Bostick House in San Saba until a large bell was installed, an old iron waffle iron and other items used in the hotel are in possession of Mrs. Amos Bostick. These were given to her years ago by her step mother, who was the widow of Sion R. Bostick.

Descendants of Mr. Bostick living in this area are Mrs. J. J. Green, Rotan; Mr. John Bostick, Roscoe; Mr. Ace Bostick, Lubbock; Mr. G. B. Bostick, Matador.

Sense of Humor Is Essential

Many times we've thanked the Lord that He gave us a sense of humor. You need one in the newspaper business (and most other business too, we imagine.)

Put yourself in our shoes for a minute or two and see if you agree with us.

Okay, here we go! You're the editor of a weekly newspaper. You try to publish a paper that will be a credit to your community.

You may be boasting a little, but you think your newspaper may be a bit better-looking, bigger and contain more news of area-wide interest than a number of others you've seen published. (And these other editors probably think the same thing about their papers.)

Naturally, you try to do the best job you can to publish an interesting newspaper — to serve your reading public by thorough coverage of spot news events, as well as news of their public bodies.

You try to support all civic activities and drives. And do your best to accommodate folks who want special stories published.

You make mistakes, sure, and you'll be the first to agree that various aspects of the paper could be improved — with time and money.

The management has a payroll to meet — of course — local folks who trade in your home community. And there are considerable mechanical costs and overhead, plus local taxes, dues and donations.

You know that the advertising in your newspaper must pay these bills, as the money you get on subscriptions barely cover the cost of the newsprint the paper is printed on.

It's the day before press day. You've had a long hard day and you're ready to head for home. Just then a friend of yours — or his wife — who runs a local business comes in with some "hand written" copy for you to "fix up" for this week's paper.

You're glad to oblige. It's a good story. So you stay a little longer to do the typing and re-writing, write the headline and schedule the story. Your Linotype operator sets it and you read the proof. And you make sure the story runs as your friend wants it.

Next week your friend does the same thing, with some civic activity he wants publicity on. Again you're glad to help.

Then, comes the next week. Your friend is called on to see if he wants to run an ad in your newspaper. "Not this week," He says, "dorp by in a week or so and maybe I'll have something."

You go to the post office the day before your newspaper is published and check your mailbox. What do you find but an "advertising sheet" your business friend has used to promote his store. And you know it probably cost him more than the same size ad in your newspaper.

Here's where your sense of humor comes in — if you can get it percolating.

You see numerous copies of the "mailer" dumped in the post office wastebasket. But you don't find one single copy of your newspaper in that wastebasket the next day when it comes out.

You can't help wondering a bit, though, why didn't your friend use his "circular" for his news stories, too?

Co. Agent News

Seventeen Texas Screw-worm cases and one in Arizona brought the May total to 18 confirmed cases in the United States. Total for the year thus far is 40, with 38 of the cases in Texas, one each in California and Arizona.

During May, livestock owners of the nation sent in 364 non-screwworm samples to the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Lab in Mission for checking. Texans submitted 219 of these samples.

Texas counties reporting Screwworm cases in May included: one each - Atascos, Brewster, Crockett, Hidalgo, LaSalle, Presidio, Starr, Val Verde and Willacy; and two each - Bandera, Medina, Terrell, and Uvalde.

The 18 confirmed cases of screwworms in the United States in May corresponds to 122 for the same period in 1966; 93 in 1965; 37 in 1964; 705 in 1963, and 6,372 in 1962.

"It was our best May since the Eradication Program started in 1962," emphasized Dr. M. E. Meadows, Jr., Veterinarian in charge of field operations.

Another note of guarded optimism was sounded by Dr. S. C. Gartman, veterinarian in charge of the Southwest Screwworm Program activities at Mission. "For the past five weeks, we've had an average of only three cases per week." "Of course, this picture could change rapidly following recent rains and continued hot, moist weather, so please continue to observe livestock closely, treat all wounds, collect larvae samples and send them to the Mission laboratory for checking," Dr. Gartman urged.

Vials and failing tubes are available at the county extension office.

The decision on whether or not to purchase beef by the side or by the retail cut is an often pondered question by beef buyers.

The answer largely depends upon the local retail pricing for each cut.

As an aid to those pondering the beef buying question, Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist, has prepared a fact sheet on the subject and copies are available locally at county extension offices.

Uvacek points out that about 2.25 pounds of live choice grade steer are required to produce 1 pound of salable beef in a retail store and that only about one-quarter of the beef carcass gives us the popular steaks we all like.

The fact sheet also points out other factors which effect the decision of buying by retail cuts or by wholesale purchase of a portion of beef. These include price specials, grade purchased, meat guarantees, storage costs and convenience.

The meat inspection stamp is your assurance of wholesale meat prepared in a sanitary manner.

Persons interested in the information contained in the fact sheet may contact the county extension office for

Herbicide combination improves mesquite control — A relatively new hormone-type herbicide, picloram, in combination with the well known 2,4,5-T has shown superior results in mesquite control on West Texas ranges. Aerial application tests begun in 1964 boosted mesquite root kills from two to five times above kills obtained with 2,4,5-T alone, according to the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Picloram, however, is not yet U.S. Department of Agriculture - approved for rangeland use. Further testing is necessary.

Showtime---

by Oscar Dietz

Well here we go again. Our second time to try to write a column. If you read the first one, you will know after reading this one that regardless what the major crops are around here, mine is CORN. And as straight corn gets a little tiresome, I'll have to sprinkle in a little seasoning. Not having been here very long, I have to stick close to home and all I can say is I wonder if one of my employees really did sneak into the swimming pool the other night?

Well back to business. Tonight thru Friday we have Audie Murphy in "TRUNK TO CAIRO" plus "THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH." Then Saturday the Best Western of the year starts a five day run, starring John Wayne, Kirk Douglas, Howard Keel, and Keenan Wynn "War Wagon" is a Glorious, Brawling, Shooting Western. And what surprised me was Howard Keel. With out anyone telling you, I bet you will not recognize him when he first appears. Truly, Saturday's program is the greatest! "WAR WAGON," "GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH" and as a late show, "DOCTOR YOU'VE GOT TO BE KIDDING" with George Hamilton, Linda Bird's boy friend, and Sandra Dee that little sugar Plum. In by 8:00, out by 1:55 - Almost 5 hours of good entertainment.

Then Sunday thru Wednesday, we continue with "WAR WAGON" and "DOCTOR YOU'VE GOT TO BE KIDDING"

Say, do you know that we use Mead's Fine Buns, Armour's Star Weiners, Morton's Mustard and your's truly home-made chili on our Hot Dogs. The worst thing about them is I can never eat just one, Bet you can't either.

See you all now -

Oscar

Hancocks 50th Anniversary

In celebration of their golden wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hancock held open house in their farm home nine miles southwest of Rotan, in the Sardis Community, Sunday.

Hosting the event were children of the couple, the Rev. and Mrs. James Clifton Hancock of Mason; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rogers, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Park, Roby; Mr and Mrs. E. B. Dennis, Snyder. Also assisting was a granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hale of Midland. Mrs. Hale was reared by her grandparents.

The Hancocks were married Jan. 14, 1917, at Proctor in Comanche County, but decided to celebrate their anniversary year in the summer.

The Hancocks' home has been in the Cross Roads and Sardis communities since they moved to Fisher County in 1922. They have engaged in farming and ranching all their married life.

Hancock managed local cotton gins for 23 years, and has been service agent for the Fisher County Farm Bureau, with office in Rotan, for the past five years.

Mrs. Hancock became a licensed vocational nurse in 1957, and worked in Callan Hospital for a number of years.

Hancock is a deacon in the Baptist Church at Sardis, and a member of the Maconic Blue Lodge at Rotan and the Chapter and Council at Roby.

Mrs. Hancock is assistant pianist in the Sardis Church where she is also Training Union secretary.

The Hancocks, who never lived more than four miles apart since the age of four, met at a singing in a neighbor's home in 1915, in Comanche County.

Mrs. Hancock was born in Erath County near Dublin.

Hancock was born in Comanche County.

When the Hancocks came to Fisher County in the fall of 1922, Mrs. Hancock and their firstborn came through by train, accompanied by a nephew. The train broke down at Moran, and had to send back to Cisco for another engine. Her brother and husband came through in a wagon to bring the stock and household goods.

"Seen a lot of changes in this country since we came here," Mrs. Hancock says. "There was a time when we drove nine miles and back in a wagon just to listen to a Victrola."

Mrs. Patty Noel and 2-sons visited her uncle, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Price Monday. They were enroute to San Antonio from Bolder, Colo. She is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Alford, who are former Rotan residents.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bill House last weekend were her brother and family. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bradford and David of Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gabel and Neva, Mrs. Erlene Tankersley and Vicki, and Mrs. A. L. White attended funeral services in Lubbock Saturday for Roy Simpson.

Tax Man Sam sez

If everything has been going your way this year and you are making money hand over fist, you may need to file an estimated tax return or amend the estimated tax return that you filed on April 15. The withholding system works beautifully for most of our taxpayers, but self-employed taxpayers must file an estimated tax return and pay their tax during the year.

On the same basis, if you receive wages, but make a profitable deal during the year, you may be required to file a tax estimate and to pay the tax you owe on the additional income.

As of March 31, 1967, almost 23 million beneficiaries were receiving $1,652,891,000 in monthly Social Security checks.

Small Towns Offered Help

George M. Dorman, chairman of the Fisher County Technical Action Panel said today the Department of Agriculture had instructed its rural development specialists to "end the migration of rural people to large cities by helping small communities revitalize themselves."

Mr. Dorman said instructions had been sent by Assistant Secretary John A. Baker to all the fields of USDA agencies urging them to expand efforts to:

- ..Provide assistance to multi-county planning and development groups.
- ..Extend services and benefits to all Federal agencies into rural areas.
- ..Help rural communities make economic developments plans and secure services needed to carry out the plans.

The Assistant Secretary's action emphasized the importance of the Technical Action Panels that the Secretary of Agriculture has ordered established in each State and the approximately 3,000 rural counties to work with local community development organizations.

"Basically, what the department is doing," Baker explains, is realigning and fortifying its field offices to insure that rural communities do not miss out on help available from any source in their development programs.

"We have established a "one-stop" service concept in every rural county to enable local leaders to (1) get help they need in finding out what is impending the development of their local economy, (2) obtain assistance in preparing economic development plans, and (3) tap all government and private services that can be used to turn dreams into reality."

Membership of the technical action panels at the state level consists of the heads of all Department of Agriculture agencies that have State offices. The heads of all other government agencies that provide support in the development or rural areas are invited to become members. The panels are assisted by the directors of the Extension Service, who in some States also serve as a panel member.

The State Director of the Farmers Home Administration serves as chairman, the Soil Conservation Service State Conservationist is co-chairman, and the State Executive Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is alternate chairman.

To give staff support to the panels a Farmers Home Administration rural development specialist has been assigned as executive director in 40 states.

Mr. Baker in his directive also give details on multi-county panels that are to be set up where needed to service area-wide planning bodies. These panels will include development specialists from the same group of agencies represented on state and county panels, but will deal with projects that serve more than one county.

"Modern communications and transportation," Baker points out, "have made possible a new kind of functional rural community that has a population base adequate to support a large number of basic public services. Generally this new type of community includes two or more rural counties and at least one small city which is the focal point of local economic, educational and social activity. Areas of this type can undertake development programs that no single county or community could afford."

In addition, Mr. Baker's instruction listed the contributions to be made in rural areas development by USDA agencies that do not have nationwide, county-level field staffs.

For example the Consumer and Marketing Service will provide technical assistance in the area of marketing services and food assistance programs.

The farmer Cooperative Service will help provide advisory and educational assistance to rural cooperatives.

The Forest Service, through its cooperative State and private program, will provide technical assistance in each area where forests are economically important.

The Rural Electrification Administration, working through its borrower organizations, will furnish credit-finding aid for commercial and industrial projects.

Support efforts of the Agricultural Research Service, the Cooperative State Research Service, the Economic Research Service, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, and the Statistical Reporting Service were also listed.

Language Project To Be At Abilene

Washington, D. C. — Congressman Omar Burleson, announced today Office of Education approval of a Tutors of Language Disorders Project to be conducted by the Abilene Independent School District, to serve Fisher, Taylor, Jones, Shackelford, Callahan, Coleman and Nolan Counties.

The program will be planned and operated to diagnose language disorders and their relation to behavior. Instructional methods will be designed and tutors will be provided by the area colleges. The tutors and the regular teachers will receive inservice training.

This is one of 49 projects over the United States which had been placed in the "Bold category pending program negotiations. This program is authorized under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (P. L. 89-10) Title III, Supplementary Educational Centers and Services.

The Abilene Independent School District seeks $50,000 for this project. Commitments for funds will be made after negotiations and execution of grant awards.

Tax Man Sam sez

If you were a June Bride - or a December Bride - during the tax year (it makes no difference what time of the year you get married) you may need to check on the type of income tax return that you file with your new husband. If your Father provided principal support for you during the year that you get married and would be entitled to claim you as a dependent, you can help dear old Dad on his taxes. However, you must file a separate return from your husband. You can split the community income, but if you file a joint return your Dad can't claim you.

From Here As It Looks

Washington, D.C. — (Note: Due to the death of Congressman Burleson's Mother, this release is being prepared by his Washington staff for this week.)

The Congress of the United States, in its 90th Session, already has more than 11,000 bills to consider in the House of Representatives and 2,000 in the Senate. The scope of these proposals covers about every facet of American life. By reason of the great progress of our Nation, there are now legislative proposals which would not have been dreamed of a few years ago.

One such complication is involved in legislation for a comprehensive national weather modification program. The day when "everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it" seems to be gone forever. There are currently some 40 or 50 commercial weather firms at work, and government and university research projects are hearing the same figure. The most recent figures, for 1962, indicated there were 6,120 scientists and engineers in the field.

Laws In Effect Relating to weather modification present a subject of controversy because of the lack of pertinent litigation and statutory law. The unique features of the subject have caused considerable discussion by law review commentators and students in an attempt to define the rights and duties of those engaged in changing the weather, as well as the rights of those who would be affected by such changes. So far, legislation dealing with it at the State level is generally of a regulatory nature, while Federal legislation has been largely concerned with the support of research and development.

Obviously, time and events will bring the need for both.

A number of years ago, in Jeff Davis County near El Paso, a battle erupted when farmers hired a private weather research firm to suppress hailstorms which had wreaked havoc on their crops. Every time a thunderhead or any other hail-hurling type of cloud began to form, planes were sent up to "seed" the clouds with silver iodine crystals. Each time this was done, the threat was dissipated into fuzzy mist.

Although the farmers were delighted with these results, cattlemen in the area were dismayed. Not only was hail suppressed, but also rain—which was needed badly for the parched ranchland. After experiencing the vanishing of rainclouds, the cattlemen decided to sue and an injunction was issued, barring the seeding of any more clouds in Texas skies for that year.

The courts have received other cases resulting from weather modification entanglements. One such recent lawsuit involved the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, which launched a cloud seeding program near Lake Almanor, California, on the headwaters of the Feather River. The intent was so increased the snowfall around Almanor and, in turn, increase the spring runoff for its power station dams. Below the dams, a disastrous flood occurred, causing millions of dollars worth of damage. Although citizens of the area sued the utility company, the Court concluded there had been no unusual spillover at Lake Almanor and the lake had contained whatever extra rainfall the seeding had produced.

Among weather-control victories are impressive experiments conducted by airlines in clearing fog and banks of low-lying clouds from airports. By dropping crushed ice on top of a "fog deck" results have been described as "spectacular" in allowing flights to land.

It is a field in which great strides are being made — this field of Weather Science. It has left the ground and gone up into the air, to inner space and outer space, where all our weather comes from. It involves making measurements, collecting data, going
