FARMERS UNION LEADER CALLS FOR STABILITY

National Farmers Union President, Tony Dechant, called for stability in agriculture last Monday night as he addressed a crowd of area farmers and ranchers at Roby concerning the farm policy as it now stands.

Dechant told the crowd, "I want to stress that what we need in agriculture today is stability. We need to get off the boom and bust situation." He was referring to a fair return on a farmer's investment that can be depended upon each year.

Dechant also said, "We deperately need a national food policy in the country as well as a national energy policy. This is what the world needs. Leaders should lead and the United States should set the pace on these two fronts."

Dechant was strongest in his presentation of an estimated 8.5 million dollar loss to this three county area with the recently defeated farm bill. Dechant explained by saying that Fisher County has approximately 65,000 acres in cotton with an average yield of 420 pounds to the acre.

When the bill raising the support to 38 cents was defeated, it meant a loss to Fisher County in cotton alone amounting to approximately $1,615,000.00. The loss in wheat was estimated at $1,466,000 and in milo a loss of $1,005,000. The total loss to Jones, Fisher and Scurry counties amounted to $8.5 million.

President Dechant is recognized as one of the foremost authorities on international farm policy. He was born and raised on a western Kansas wheat farm and is still involved in wheat production on the family farm near Hays. He has received numerous awards for his contributions to United States as well as international agriculture.

The Texas Farmers Union state president, Jay Naman, and Vice-President Joe Rankin of Rolly accompanied the National Farmers Union president while he was in Fisher County.

The R.M. Wells Company also presented an estimate of the monthly expenditures for June, July and August, as requested by the local hospital board. According to a Wells representative, approximately $500,000 will be needed by the board to meet obligations within the 90 day period. A breakdown of the estimate is, June 20 - $149,200; July 20 - $129,815; and August 20 - $119,885.

Rotan Primary Library Open By FHA In Summer

The Primary School Library will be open to the public on Thursdays from 2:30 to 3:30 for the purpose of checking out books to Primary School children for summer reading. During this hour homemaking students will be in charge of a story-telling project. Stories are planned for pre-school children also.

This project is sponsored by Mrs. N.E. Kennedy as a part of the Summer Phase of the Home-making Department and the Future Homemakers of America Organization.

The Summer Phase of Home-making Education is an extension of homemaking education beyond the regular school term and provides for future development of the instructional program for both students and adults. A balanced Summer Phase consists of 10 days of organized group instruction in one or more areas of homemaking education in the homemaking department plus projects to be done at home or elsewhere equivalent to work done in a semester during the regular term.

Student work may be developed on a credit or non-credit basis. To receive one-half credit for the first Summer Phase, a student must have completed two semesters of homemaking; a second one-half credit may be earned after completion of four semesters of homemaking.

The schedule for this year's Summer Phase offers a choice of several activities. Already some students have participated in a Craft's field trip to Sweetwater and in a Furniture Refinishing Demonstration in Roby. A play school for children, ages 2-4 is planned for the week of June 9-13. Story telling for pre-school and primary age children is a project chosen by some to supplement the Library Hour--through the month of June.

For a culminating activity, a field trip is planned for all Summer Phase students and FHA members. This field trip is scheduled for Tuesday, June 17, to tour the Textile Engineering Department on the Texas Tech Campus in Lubbock. Here students will be able to see cotton processed from the bale all the way to finished bolts of fabric. Other points of interest are planned for the day. Students need to contact Mrs. Kennedy for reservations and time of departure and other information by Friday, June 13.

Visiting in Rotan during the Memorial Holiday and paying honor to their deceased loved ones, husband, father, grandmother, grandfather and uncle were Mrs. A.R. Anybody for a slump, grunt, flummery or pan dowdy? These traditional New England desserts may sound funny today, but everyone can love those luscious concoctions of juicy fruits and hot biscuit toppings. In old-time cookery slumps and grunts were boiled, while flummeries and pan dowdies were baked. This modern-day version of a pan dowdy uses canned red tart cherries to delight both the traditionalists and modernists.

CHERRY PAN DOWDY

1/4 cup cornstarch
dash salt
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

2 No. 303 cans red tart pitted cherries
1/2 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon almond flavoring
2 tablespoons butter or margarine few drops red food coloring

Combine sugar, cornstarch, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg; add to cherries and juice in a saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thick. Remove from heat and add lemon juice, almond flavoring, butter and food coloring. Pour into greased 8 x 8 x 2 inch baking dish.

Topping

2 cups biscuit mix
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk

Batter Up!!

There are times when you just know you'll get a hit—until you swing and miss that third strike!

Success is never certain in this world—even to the fellow with confidence written all over his face.

Frequently, achievement comes with giving your best when you're not convinced your best will be enough.

Religion cannot guarantee success to any man. It promises all men the spiritual impetus to realize their best.

When you come to church next Sunday, you'll gain a deeper understanding of your virtues and of your faults.

Such understanding—with God's help and God's forgiveness—inspires us to give our best to every challenging opportunity.

New Cotton Market Looks Good

New market potentials for cottonseed, an improved outlook for cotton fiber consumption, and cost-cutting developments in bale packaging were among encouraging prospects recently outlined to National Cotton Council directors.

Preliminary findings of a special Council study--due for completion by mid-year--show that cottonseed has more than tripled in value since 1969 and now accounts for over 21 percent of the total revenue from cotton production.

While 61 percent of cottonseed revenues presently come from oil, Council Market Researcher Randall T. Jones told the board most processors believe cotton seed protein has the greatest growth potential.

Research suggestions stemming from the study focus on the need for eliminating gossypol from the seed to allow greater access to human food and animal feed markets. Two answers to this problem are production of glandless seed and use of the liquid cyclone process to remove gossypol from glanded seed.

"Until enough glandless seed is produced, the industry must continue to use glanded cottonseed, and every effort should be made to realize this raw material's full potential," Jones said.

Preliminary analysis of yields and revenue expectations suggest that the LCP process could add as much as 50 percent to the value of cottonseed products at the oil mill level. Jones observed that past trends reflect close correlation between revenues from cottonseed products and the value of seed at the farm level.

"If we fully exploit both fiber and seed, there is every reason to believe that cotton can compete successfully for both markets and land resources," he continued.

Regarding cotton's outlook in fiber markets, Dr. Arlie Bowling indicated that cotton can share in the domestic market growth which most analysts are projecting for this year's second half. The Council economist noted that price, fashion, and other factors are working in cotton's favor.

He said cotton export expectations have improved recently and, if shipments continue at the recent level for the remaining 14 weeks of the 1974-75 season, the total should reach 3.8 million bales. Current trade information indicates a significant reduction in foreign cotton acreage for 1975-76 and a somewhat stronger potential export market for U.S. cotton. All of this points to the possibility of a lower cotton carry-over at the end of the coming season, Dr. Bowling said.

New cotton bale packaging technology--developed and adopted over the past four years--has brought net gains of approximately $50-60 million annually to the industry, according to Frank M. Mitchener, Sumner, Miss., producer. The head of the Cotton Bale Packaging Committee said three significant packaging developments to be tested this year include: (1) woven polypropylene in both gin universal density presses and flat bale compress systems; (2) woven or knitted bags in place of shrink bags for gin universal density bales; and (3) cotton bagging in flat-bale compress systems.

Plans for Council participation in the nation's Bicentennial celebration were outlined by Public Relations Director Emmett E. Robinson. Already developed and in use, he said, is special symbol denoting cotton's heritage of past contributions to the nation's progress and its dedication to continuing service. A film featuring the Maid of Cotton at key historic locations is now in production and will be released in early '76. Footage from the film was shown and narrated by Maid of Cotton Tour manager Debra Ploch. Also detailed work with other organizations and with national network media on Bicentennial programs.

In another report, Council Technical Director J. Ritchie Smith said chances are good that the boll weevil trial eradication program slated for Virginia and the Carolinas can get fully under way next year. He added that most of the questions regarding the trial program have apparently been cleared up by recent appropriation subcommittee hearings and that Congressional interest and support seem widespread.

Smith also reviewed the status of Occupational Safety and Health Administration proposals regarding noise standards, farm and gin machinery safeguards, and pesticide exposure standards. On these and other regulatory matters, he said Council efforts are directed toward achieving reasonable rather than needless and unworkable rules.

One example of such efforts was cited by Cauley Cortright, Rolling Fork, Miss., regarding the application of cotton dust standards to cottonseed oil mills and mattress plants earlier this year. After industry leaders met with top OSHA officials and pointed out that no byssinosis problem has been shown to exist in these operations, the agency suspended plant inspections, withdrew citations, and returned fines. Cortright said the Council is working with other industry groups in developing information on the economic impact of the standard on the textile industry and a statement regarding issuance of a new standard.

Council President Chauncey Denton, Denwood, Ark., told directors that the cotton industry's future--like that of the nation--depends on the ability of its diverse interests to come together and work out objectives for the good of all.

Council Executive Vice President, Albert R. Russell reviewed farm legislation developments, followed by reports on other legislative activities by Macon Edwards, Council Washington representative, and Tony Coelbo administrative assistant to Rep. B.F. Sisk (D-Calif.). Participating in discussions on flammability were Dr. William H. Martin, a Springs' Mills vice president; Dr. William F. Baitinger, Cotton Incorporated's fire retardant research manager; and Dr. George Buck, Council consultant. Progress in resolving letter-of-credit problems for U.S. Cotton in the Far East was outlined by Carl Campbell, Council foreign operations director and energy regulations were discussed by Phil Burnett, both of the Council's Washington office.

Senator Farabee Opposes Revised School Bill

State Senator Ray Farabee was one of several rural Senators opposing Senate passage of a new school finance plan. The measure, known as the Revised Foundation School Plan, has passed the Senate.

Farabee said he voted against passage of the bill because portions of the legislation would cause increases in the amounts local school districts have to raise. School districts under the present plan are required to raise at least 20 percent of the cost to participate in the Foundation Program. Under the new plan, districts would be required to contribute approximately 30 percent.

"Under this new program," Farabee said, "it is estimated Roby ISD would have to increase its local payment by $39,000. In return, it would receive a $42,000 increase in State aid. It is also estimated Rotan ISD would have to increase its local payment by $66,000. In return, it would receive a $111,000 increase in State aid."

The Senator explained that a portion of the increase in local money required would be offset by increases in State funding.

"Since some programs are currently being paid for with local money," Farabee said, "it is unclear as to whether new taxes will be required at the local level. It is my contention that the Legislature should not pass a state-wide program such as this one and then expect local districts to shoulder such a tremendous portion of the burden for funding the program."

During Senate debate, Farabee and other West Texas Senators attempted to amend the bill to insure that no school district would lose teachers over the number they presently employ. At first, the amendment was not accepted; however, it was later included in a modified form.

Farabee pointed out several portions of the bill which he felt would be beneficial to rural areas.

One section provides a 62.5% increase in transportation allotments. The Senator acknowledged that such an increase would be a great help in the face of rising transportation costs, "particularly in our rural areas where the school districts cover a large area," Farabee said.

The new program would also provide some funds for Driver Education Programs.

Hobbs HDC Has Monthly Meet

Mrs. Turner Houghton presided as the Hobbs Home Demonstration Club met recently with Mrs. Fred Martinez.

Roll call was answered with "My favorite way in preparing chicken."

Mrs. Dale Cave, council delegate, gave the council report and showed shoulder bags she had made and gave out the pattern.

The group voted to change the meeting time of the club from 2:30 to 3:00 p.m. during the summer months.

Mrs. Alice Ballenger, county agent, showed slides on ways to barbecue chicken. She said, "Just mention barbecued chicken and you can always get the crowd together. Start with a clean grill and pit and use charcoal or any hardwood such as oak, hickory, pecan or mesquite for fuel. There are many types of barbecue pits, the small portable pits are widely used, as well as the built in or your oven, when outside weather does not permit. The children should be basted with each turning. Apply the finishing sauce of your choice."

Delicious refreshments of sandwiches, chips, cheese, olives, German chocolate cake and punch were served to Mmes. Alice Ballenger, Turner Houghton, Clarence Anderson, Dale Cave, Bill Hardy, Lester Hardin, J.P. Phillips and the hostess, Mrs. Martinez.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. James Nettleton June 12, at 3:00 p.m. Visitors are welcome.

Roby Happenings

By Buelene Shipp
Roby, Texas 776-2254

Hi, well I'd better explain the reason for not having my column in last week's paper. I was out of town. It was the week for the Roby Fire Department's annual fishing trip so when Gene went east, the kids and I headed west to Seminole. We had a real nice visit there with a cousin of mine, Sue Presley and her husband, Jim. And of course, Bruce, Scott, Cheryl and Misty. I arose on Tuesday morning for the early trip home, to find that I had not one, but two flats. So I didn't get home until late that afternoon and didn't have time to write my column before press time. I'll try to catch up this week.

Bessie Holcomb's brother, Oscar Ratliff of Wink, came and picked her up last week to carry her back to Wink where she stayed for several days with a sister, Elnora Gould who is recuperating from surgery in the Monahans Hospital. She is back home now.

Jayne Gramethaur was to go home this week after undergoing surgery in a Lubbock hospital last Friday. She and her husband Raymond and son Justin Ryder live in Denver City.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hilliard last weekend were their sons and families, Ross, Beverly and Cody Hilliard of Sweetwater and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hilliard, Lisa and Lori of Stephenville.

We are all very sad about Rev. Steve Harper, Jeannie and John Stewart leaving Roby. They will move to Borger where he will be pastor of the Methodist Church. We will all sorely miss them. They have been an inspiration to everyone who has had the privilege of knowing them and have become most beloved.

Monty and Sharron Neighbors went to Ruidoso with friends, Marvin and Joyce Cole of Abilene, for the weekend. They enjoyed the trip and the Coles showed them a very good time.

Shannon Neighbors went to Lubbock to stay the weekend with her uncle and aunt, John and Dorothy Starr, Freddie and Patty.

The First United Methodist youth Sunday School Class was treated to a day at Six Flags last Thursday. Rev. Steve and Jeannie Harper and Monty and Sharron Neighbors sponsored the trip. The youth that went were Mitch and Rhonda Welch, Revis and Lois Ann Cauble.

We wish Harmon Holcomb a speedy recovery.
See you next week.

REDDY'S HELPFUL FREEZER TIPS

Lock in flavor. Use moisture and vapor-proof materials especially designed for freezers to wrap your foods. Tightly sealed, these lock in flavor and moisture and prevent "freezer burn" (surface drying) on foods. Don't use wax paper, bread paper or regular cellophane for freezer foods.

Label packages. Date and identify freezer packages so (1) you don't accumulate a lot of mysterious shapes and (2) you'll be able to pick out foods that have been in the freezer longest.

Take advantage of sales. Avoid overstocking with commercially frozen food that's always available; use your freezer as your own bargain counter and store foods you can buy on sale. But do allow space for short-time baked goods, leftovers and special party foods.

New rates for long distance calls within Texas.

With Discount Periods and a new One-Minute Rate, you may be able to save money.

Rates for Long Distance calls within Texas have just changed.

For you—the telephone customer—it means most rates are going up.

But you may be surprised to learn that rate changes won't necessarily bring higher telephone bills.

Because with our new discount for dialing your own calls, you can better control your Long Distance costs.

In some cases, you may be able to save money on your Long Distance bill by taking advantage of these rates.

For example, there's a new one-minute rate on all calls that you dial yourself—without the operator's help.

Under the old rate, the initial rate period was for three minutes. Now on One-Plus dialed calls the initial rate period is one minute.

That means you can save by reducing the length of your call.

*DISCOUNT RATE PERIODS FOR ONE-PLUS CALLS WITHIN TEXAS
	Mon	Tues	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat	Sun
8 a.m. to 5 p.m.	Day Rate Period Full Rate
5 p.m. to 11 p.m.	Evening Rate Period 25% Discount						Eve. 25% Discount
11 p.m. to 8 a.m.	Night and Weekend Rate Periods 35% Discount

NOTE: The Evening rate applies all day on the following holidays: New Year's Day, July 4, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas Day, except in instances where the holiday falls into Night/Weekend period. In this case, the lower rate applies.

*On operator-assisted calls, the same rate applies at all hours on all days.

Also, for the first time we are offering flat percentage discounts for Evening, Night and Weekend One-Plus calls.

Using the Day rate as the base, the Evening rates will be 25 per cent less. And, on Nights and Weekends there will be a 35 per cent discount.

So, if you call later in the day or night, or on weekends, you're going to get the lowest rates possible.

But if you place calls through an operator, rates for these Zero-Plus calls will be higher, at any time—night or day. These include calls from a coin phone, collect, credit card and calls billed to a third number.

The initial rate period of three minutes will continue for these and other operator-assisted calls.

And, person-to-person calls will cost more than any other type call.

*EXAMPLE OF NEW RATES FOR MAXIMUM DISTANCES
	#One-Plus	Each Additional One-Plus Minute
DAY RATE	50¢ or less	42¢ or less
EVENINGS 25% Discount	38¢ or less	32¢ or less
NIGHTS AND WEEKENDS 35% Discount	33¢ or less	27¢ or less

#One-Plus charges for 1 minute.

NOTE: One-Plus rates also apply on station-to-station calls placed with an operator where One-Plus facilities are not available.

*Rates quoted do not include taxes.

Simply put, if you dial the call yourself, you are going to get a lower rate. If you place your call through an operator, it will cost more.

Now our new rates offer you a choice. By dialing your own calls and by taking advantage of our discount rate period, you can still get low rates and fast service.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

Austin--When we talk about energy in Texas we are talking about oil. And when we talk about oil we are talking about big money in state taxes.

But despite oil's importance to Texas, the future and the fortunes of our oil tax revenue depends on the actions and situations at the national and international levels.

This is why President Ford's energy programs--and whatever the Congress does about them--will have a drastic effect on our state treasury.

In the first place, the President has announced that effective June 1 he was putting a $1 a barrel import tax on all foreign oil coming into America. Congress gave him authority last year to order such import taxes up to $3 a barrel. He levied $1 of the $3 in February.

The net result of raising the price of imported oil $1 a barrel is to raise the price of oil produced in the United States also. The result of price increases is an increase in tax revenue because Texas' oil production tax is figured at 4.6 per cent of the oil's market price.

Based on price increases we saw when the first dollar's worth of import tax was put on in February, we estimate that the new increase will bring in an additional $32.5 million in tax money--above the $1.1 billion oil production taxes will produce in the next two years.

But there is a chance Congress will override the President's plan. Therefore, Texas can't bank on this money until Congress has its say.

The President also wants Congress to phase out price controls on what we call "old oil". This is just a name--and not a very good one--given to the amounts of oil produced by each producer in 1972. Today oil produced up to the 1972 level is under a federal price ceiling of $5.25 a barrel. Oil produced above the 1972 level is considered "new oil" and is not under price controls. It now sells for about $11 a barrel.

Obviously, if the $5.25 price ceiling is removed--altogether or by phases--the price will rise and as it does the revenue from the 4.6 per cent tax will increase.

We estimate that taking off the price lid would bring about a fantastic tax revenue increase of between $175 million and $225 million because about 60 per cent of the oil produced in Texas is under the price control.

But again, it may be several months before Congress finally acts on this and we know where we stand.

Whatever gains we get from whatever federal action is taken comes too late for use on this year's budget. By early next year the picture will be in focus and if we had annual budget sessions of the Legislature the money could be used then.

But as it stands, whatever dollars we gain will just have to build up in the treasury as a surplus for use in the 1977 budget session--a situation very similar to the past two years when we built up a billion dollar surplus from oil prices skyrocketing during the Arab embargo.

Texas runs on oil--as far as the federal government lets it.

DEAR EDITOR

EDITOR'S NOTE: The opinions expressed here are those of the writer, and do not necessarily reflect the views of this newspaper. All letters must be signed and are subject to be edited for libelous material. Letters are accepted on that basis. Names can be withheld upon request, however, initials will be used on all letters. Signed original letters will remain in the possession of this newspaper.

It has come to the attention of many readers of your paper the past few months that you print the Police Reports in Bold type on front page of paper.

I am not upholding for any one individual, in fact I usually do not know them.

There should be a place to print this kind of news in a paper without being on front page. Many times you disgrace the family or who ever you are running down on writing about who in no way can help what their father, son or husband has did.

If one can not speak good of a person, certainly they should not shout out the bad, or could print it in back of paper where every one will not notice it.

Thanks,
R.E. Douglass

Editors Note: Thanks for your letter, if it does nothing else it makes us stop and think about what we are doing.

Your's is the first letter concerning this matter that we have received, however, many comments have been passed our way concerning the very matter you are writing about. Now may be a good time to attempt to make a general statement concerning our police reporting.

We as a newspaper have made every effort to remain consistent with our police reporting. We do not single out any individual or offense for publicity. We are currently carrying DWI's and accidents investigated by the Rotan Police Department; accidents investigated by the Texas Highway Patrol and items that we deem of an unusual nature by either the Rotan Police Department; Texas Highway Patrol or Fisher County Sheriff's Department.

Mr. Douglass...your closing paragraph is wonderful, but I can't adhere to it as a newspaper publisher. I don't manufacture the news, all I do is report what happens and try to do that in a fair, just, and impartial manner.

I don't want to have to write a story about your son, daughter, grandson or granddaughter being run over and killed by some drunk. Nor do I want to write a story about Mickey Counts being killed by someone while he is performing his duty. If a person is over 18 years of age, I feel like he should be accountable for what he does. Let that person drink all he wants, but if he gets behind the wheel of a car and gets picked up by the Rotan Police Department, he is going to get his name in the paper. The embarrassment caused may just make someone else think twice before they get all juiced up and running over one of my neighbor's kids.

This business of printing information in the back of the paper where no one will notice it may hold true in the Abilene Reporter News, but we can't hide anything in this paper.

I appreciate you taking the time to write your letter. I respect your opinion and I am giving serious consideration to grouping some of these offenses together in a "Police Report" Column. If and when this comes about, it will be because of people like you that had guts enough to write a letter like you did, that made it happen.

Dear Editor, News Media and All Congressmen:

We have an effort going on in our Beloved Country, now, that is of grave concern to every law abiding citizen. The move or mania going on in Washington, D.C. for Congress to legislate or enact a law to prohibit ownership of a gun or ammunition for a gun, now that is something to think about.

In our constitution the second amendment very plainly gives full rights to bear arms. A man's home is his castle. He is obligated to his family and loved ones to protect them with all he has, even his own life.

We have a crime condition in our country now that is the worst in history. Take away all guns and ammunition for the honest, upright citizens and the robbers and highjackers will have a field day.

You take one of these dudes, who thinks or has reasons to believe you could have Mr. Colt in reach, he sometimes thinks crime in that joint just might not be the pushover. If he knows you aren't allowed a gun of any kind, now think how good that would be for the killers. A dead man cannot testify, so let's be practical.

There is a saying. When guns are outlawed, outlaws will have guns. Well that is one thing you can place your money on and win.

If this law is passed, it will be like the 18th Amendment. The bootleggers, moonshiners and smugglers will be in business. It will take all our law enforcers' time trying to stop it, not considering the awful cost involved and they will have very little time to protect you and me.

Now another argument is the sportsman or hunter as we might call him. What about his American rights? Who can say he is a criminal. I have grown too old to hunt anymore. Do I have a right to prohibit my fellowman from hunting or even owning a gun. I hardly think so.

In the beginning the Creator created man in his own image. A pair of perfect humans, set them up housekeeping, but naturally they couldn't let well enough alone, so they started sinning. At that all men were equal, but after a few thousand years, things changed. Some men mean and ugly, others so small and helpless, they just had to accept being kicked around by these big boys. Thanks to men like Mr. Colt, Mr. Winchester, Mr. Smith and Mr. Wesson, others too numerous to mention developed equalizers that has us pretty well the same size, again. Thanks boys.

I read of some men, who advocated this type of control in their country. One was Adolph Hitler, you may have heard of him. Mr. Benito Mussolini, of course nobody ever heard of him. Also, there was Mr. Joseph Stalin, the mighty Bolshevik. They are all dead now, but if they were still alive they would shout Hallelulah-our dreams have come true.

Mr. Congressman, THINK, THINK, AND THINK again. The victims of these thugs could very well be you or your family.

Dear Mr. Cole:

This will acknowledge receipt of the copy of your letter addressed to editors, news media and Congressmen regarding your opposition to efforts to again pass a gun control act here in Congress.

This, of course, is an issue which has been before us in the past and, let me say, that I have strongly opposed every effort of this nature which has come before me.

It has been my feeling that if our laws were properly enforced and if those who are found guilty of crimes with guns were to receive appropriate sentences from the courts, that there would be no need or such a provision. These efforts to restrict handguns by law abiding citizens, appear to be more an act against such citizens than against the criminals themselves.

Thank you for advising me of your view and with good wishes, I remain

Sincerely yours,
Omar Burleson

Santana Yanez Helps Settle Vietnamese

NEW MACHINE: Fisher County Deputy Sheriff, Mickey Counts, patiently awaits for the results of a license check on the county's new teletype machine.

County Sheriff's Office Accepts New Teletype

The Fisher County Sheriff's Department has accepted delivery of a new teletype machine made available through the West Central Texas Council of Governments (Law Enforcement Grant) and the Fisher County Commissioners Court.

The machine is leased from Southwestern Bell at a current cost to Fisher County of $55.00 per month. The cost is expected to increase $128.00 per month under a new grant period beginning in 1976.

The machine is available to all law enforcement agencies in Fisher County and gives each agency a direct hook-up with other police agencies throughout Texas and United States.

Checks on stolen vehicles, driving records, stolen property and checks on persons suspected of being wanted by other law enforcement agencies can be made in a matter of minutes on the high speed computerized equipment.

Guidelines for loading a freezer are simple and logical—designed to keep food rotating and the freezer temperature at 0 degree.

Be careful about adding too much "new" or unfrozen food at one time. Three pounds of food for every cubic foot of storage space is a reasonable addition.

Another way to determine the amount of food to freeze at one time is to add no more than 1/15 the capacity of the freezer. After this amount is put in, wait 24 hours before adding more.

For fast freezing, new food should be placed near the walls or bottom of either chest or upright types of freezers.

Keep similar foods together in baskets or on shelves. Foods also may be organized in heavy plastic or mesh bags.

Label all home frozen food with name and date stored. Masking tape makes a good label for this. Also, it's a good practice to date-label commercially frozen foods.

If the freezer is large, keep an inventory. Add each new food to the inventory when it is put into the freezer. When keeping an inventory, keep one page for each food—meats, fruits, vegetables, baked goods, and any others.

As items are used, deduct them from the inventory sheet. This systematic storage helps keep track of foods that should be cooked and lets the homemaker know when she's running low.

Strawberries, in season now, are a good source of Vitamin C, a nutrient needed daily. The family will stay happy if an ample supply of berries is frozen now to serve them throughout the year. Fully ripe strawberries should be selected for freezing. Wash carefully and cap. Leave small berries whole and slice large ones into a bowl or shallow pan.

If sweetened berries are desired sprinkle about 3/4 cup of sugar over each quart of berries. Turn them over gently until sugar is dissolved and juice forms.

Pack strawberries in moisture-vapor-proof containers. Press down into juice. Leave 1/2 inch headspace in wide-mouth pint container. Place lid on container, label with name of fruit and date. Then freeze immediately at 0 degree F. or below.

Frozen strawberries will keep for 12 months at this temperature with hardly any loss of quality.

Richard Ray Gets Degree At West Texas

Richard Thomas Ray of Rotan was among the 1,005 West Texas State University graduates who received diplomas May 17 in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum. University President Lloyd I. Watkins presented diploma covers to the students, as well as recognized six retiring faculty members. Rev. Bill M. Kent, minister of the First United Methodist Church of Canyon, delivered the invocation.

Every one who has been in love knows that the passion is strongest, and the appetite weakest, in the absence of the beloved object, and that the reverse is the case in her presence.

U.S. Cotton Production Is Expected To Decline

U.S. cotton producers may not be able to plant the 9.9 million acres of cotton they intended to plant on March 1--even if they want to.

That's the latest reading from economists at the Cotton Incorporated Research Center.

While farmers in some areas of the cotton belt may reach, or even exceed, their March 1 plantings intentions, those in other areas may be forced by bad weather to cut back even further than they had planned.

"Overall, the drop may be as little as 100,000 acres, or as much as 500,000 acres," said David Cox, Cotton Incorporated vice president for economic research and development.

Cox pointed out that plantings in the Mississippi Delta have fallen far behind schedule because of heavy rainfall throughout the planting season. "If substantial progress is not made during the last week of May, the combination of low planting intentions and unfavorable weather will result in record low plantings throughout most of the Delta," said Cox.

Cox said the unplanned, additional cutbacks induced by bad weather come just as U.S. textile mills--cotton's biggest customer--show signs of recovering from their economic ills.

"Mill use of cotton has increased steadily since reaching a nadir in January," said Cox.

"Moreover, March figures just released on the ratio of mill inventories to orders of cotton fabric showed the first significant improvement since this index began a period of steady deterioration almost two years ago."

On foreign production, Cox said Cotton Incorporated information still shows that it will be down sharply, although not quite as much as reported earlier.

"Word cotton prices have strengthened during May and April, while prices for alternative crops have softened," said Cox. "In addition, government assistance to the cotton industry in some countries has been a factor in encouraging increased cotton plantings."

Cox said increases over earlier plantings reports are now expected in Central America, Greece and Turkey.

Cox's remarks reflect the opinions of Cotton Incorporated, the fiber company of U.S. cotton growers, published in the May 1975 "Cotton Summary."

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

BY RICHARD SPENCER

Texas cotton farmers are continuing to rely more and more on herbicides (chemical weed killers) to take care of their weed problems.

In 1974 more than 89 per cent of the state's cotton crop, or almost 4.4 million acres, were treated with one or more herbicide applications. County Extension Agents were surveyed in all the cottongrowing counties to obtain the data on herbicide use.

According to the survey, pre-plant type herbicides were used most widely, with almost 65 per cent of the acreage receiving this type of treatment.

Cotton acreage treated with either preemergence or post-emergence herbicides varied only slightly, with preemergence herbicides used on 17 per cent of the cotton and postemergence herbicides, on 15.4 per cent of the crop.

Herbicide use was highest in the South Plains where more than 1.9 million acres were treated. More than 650,000 acres were treated in the Rolling Plains, with just over 550,000 acres treated in North Central Texas. Almost 400,000 acres were treated in South Texas, primarily in the Rio Grande Valley and Coastal Bend.

In the survey extension agents were asked to identify the "hardest-to-control" weeds in cotton. Forty-three different species of weeds were listed, with johnson-grass winning "hands down". Of the 163 county agents completing the survey, 136 of them pointed the finger at johnson-grass as the top villain.

Other cotton weeds that were often mentioned as hard-to-control included silverleaf nightshade, morning glory and nutsedge.

"Due to the development of more effective herbicides and the high cost of farm labor, herbicide use in cotton will continue to increase."

Milk fat calves make excellent eating, and families may want to consider having one processed for the home freezer.

Select a calf that is still nursing and weighs 400 to 600 pounds. The calf will be 7 to 9 months of age and still gaining weight rapidly, which improves the quality of the meat. It should be carrying as much fat as possible.

It is recommended that a calf not be weaned and fed for 30 to 40 days. If a calf has not been eating feed while nursing it will take 30 days or more to regain weight loss in the weaning and learning-to-eat period.

Calves will be available from ranchers, at livestock markets or from your local custom processor.

The calf should be processed in 3 to 5 days after slaughter, for it does not "age" well in coolers. There is not enough fat to prevent drying of outside lean.

A 500-pound calf will yield a carcass weighing about 330 pounds. The carcass should cut out about 240 pounds of retail cuts ready for storage in a home freezer. Most custom slaughter plants charge about $50 to slaughter, chill, cut, wrap and freeze for a home freezer.

Cuts from this size calf will be about half the size of heavy beef cuts. A t-Bone or rib steak cut one-half to three-fourths of an inch thick is just about right for one serving.

Beef from these young animals does not charcoal broil as well as heavy choice beef, but it is excellent for all other cooking methods.
