"Air Force people building the world's most respected air and space force ... global power and reach for America"

Vol. 47, No. 30

August 4, 1995

Reese AFB, Texas

Maj. Gen. Nicholas Kehoe, 19th Air Force commander, passes the command of the 64th Flying Training Wing to Col. Randy Gelwix from Col. Roger Brady here Monday. Several hundred people, including many representatives from the local community, attended the flightline ceremony. Gelwix takes a look at what lies ahead for the 64th FTW on Page 2.

Colonel Gelwix assumes command of 64th FTW

Col. Randy Gelwix became the base's 32nd wing commander during a 64th Flying Training Wing change of command ceremony here Monday.

Gelwix succeeded Col. Brady, a brigadier general selectee who has been reassigned as vice commander of the Ogden Air Logistics Center, Hill Air Force Base, Utah.

Maj. Gen. Nicholas Kehoe, 19th Air Force commander, who presided over the flightline ceremony, praised the accomplishments of the wing under Brady's guidance and predicted similar success for the wing and Gelwix in the future.

The general cited the 64th FTW's tradition of excellence, noting that Reese has been one of the Air Force's premier pilot training bases for over 50 years.

In accepting command of the wing, Colonel Gelwix said training "the worlds best pilots" remains the wing's top priority. He also said he knew that members of the wing are "anxious" to show the Air Education and Training Command inspection team how "good we are" during the Quality Air Force Assessment in September.

The colonel also talked about his commitment to keeping people informed about issues affecting the wing. In that respect, he has scheduled a mandatory officers call for all wing officers at 4 p.m. today at the Reese Club. During the officers call Gelwix will outline his views as the new wing commander and answer questions on Reese issues.

Prior to assuming command of the 64th FTW, Gelwix was commander of the 64th Operations Group for one year.

He relinquished command of the 64th OG to Col. Bruce Burda on July 28 (see 64th OG change of Command story on Page 3)

Colonel Gelwix began his flying career in 1971, graduating from pilot training at Reese. During his career he has logged more than 2,100 hours in the F-4 and various trainer aircraft. He is a combat veteran of both the Vietnam War and Desert Storm.

Prior to assuming command of the 64th OG, he served as the executive officer to the commander, Air Education and Training Command.

Colonel Gelwix and his wife, Irmgard, have two sons, Chris and Steve.

Mission

QAFA countdown

Week 5

The Air Education and Training Command Inspector General Quality Air Force Assessment Team is scheduled to arrive at Reese on Sept. 11.

This condensed checklist will help prepare for the visit by highlighting key areas to clean up on a day-by-day basis. For more information call Lt. Col. John Shackelford at 3033.

Monday

✓ In-basket purge

Clean out those "to busy to do" files. File needed items properly. Ask the experts for help.

Tuesday

✓ Yard party

Clean up outside your building. Look for immediate fixes and improvements. Look for safety problems.

Wednesday

✓ House party

Move yesterday's effort inside.

Thursday

✓ Supervisor walk-through

Talk to to your folks -- ask questions. Share your inspection experiences.

Are your QAE/QARs practicing their required surveillance duties and techniques? Do your QAE/QARs know their contract specifics.

Friday

✓ Assessment Day

Sit back and honestly decide how you are doing so far.

What's left? Clean up items from weeks nine through five.

Pride in past, faith in future

Together, we will continue tradition of excellence

by Colonel Randy Gelwix
64th FTW commander

Twenty-three years ago I was fortunate enough to earn my pilot wings at the best flying training wing in the Air Force — the 3500th Pilot Training Wing, Reese Air Force Base, Texas.

Over the years, the wing has seen many changes, including a name change to the 64th FTW.

One thing that hasn't changed at Reese is the quality of the people who make up the wing and their tireless dedication to producing the world's best pilots.

When I was reassigned to Reese last year as the operations group commander, I knew I was inheriting a great organization with numerous challenges ahead. When I accepted command of the wing on Monday, the same held true.

A year ago the operations group was tasked to develop and implement the first joint-service specialized undergraduate pilot training program in the Air Force. With all of your help, we made it happen.

Today, the 64th FTW faces an even bigger challenge. We must continue our proud tradition of training excellence while preparing for the possibility that the last Reese student may walk across the Simler Theater stage and accept the wings of an Air Force or Navy pilot.

This will not be an easy task. But that's part of our tradition ... taking on the tough jobs like being the first UPT wing to bring the T-1A Jayhawk on line and the first to implement Specialized Undergraduate Pilot Training and then Joint SUPT are what have brought this wing to an unparalleled state of efficiency and productivity.

That level will increase even further as we continue to fine-tune all of our operations in preparation for next month's Quality Air Force Assessment. We are proud of our accomplishments and ready to show the inspection team our "stuff."

Every good commander knows that he or she is only as good as the people they command. The challenge, is to make sure the people know how important each is to the mission and to provide an environment which fosters creativity, resourcefulness and excellence. I am committed to cultivating this type of environment.

In that respect, one of my chief responsibilities is ensuring that each member of the wing is able to focus on the job at hand, secure in the knowledge that the senior leadership is working every possible venue to provide for your futures.

In short, each of you have a job to do and so do I. Yours is to keep producing top military aviators. Mine is to ensure that we have the resources to accomplish our mission safely and efficiently.

Working together, I know we can meet these challenges.

You've sworn to protect it.

Take time to respect it.

Observe military customs and courtesies during reveille and retreat.

Bioenvironmental officials caution against excessive fluoride levels

Since fluoride was first added to drinking water and toothpastes, the number of cavities in children under 14 has decreased.

In West Texas there is enough natural occurrence of fluoride in the water so local water systems don't have to add it to the water.

It is possible for these levels to be higher than considered safe for drinking by the Environmental Protection Agency,

When is this likely to occur? Primarily in the summer months when ambient temperatures reach above 90 degrees. The City of Lubbock Health Department and Reese Bioenvironmental Engineering continually monitor the water for fluoride content.

Despite the recent heat wave, fluoride levels in the Reese and Lubbock drinking water remain at safe levels. If the fluoride level did increase, bioenvironmental would alert Reese personnel through various media sources including the Roundup, Reese Bulletin and the Commander's Access Chanell (11).

Excessive levels of fluoride occur in two categories -- maximum contaminant levels and secondary maximum contaminant levels. Maximum levels would be high enough to pose an actual health risk, secondary levels -- the most likely to occur -- could cause a condition known as fluorosis, which can discolure and damage teeth.

There are two ways to help prevent fluorosis in the case of secondary fluoride levels. Children can drink bottled water, but this won't have any fluoride. The Reese Dental Clinic can provide fluoride drops by prescription which will provide the necessary amount of fluoride. For information about fluoride prescriptions contact the clinic at 3711. Children can drink a mixture of bottled and tap water (1:1 ratio).

Anyone with questions concerning the base's water should call bioenvironmental engineering at 3327.

Colonel Burda accepts command of 64th OG

Col. Bruce Burda accepts command of the 64th Operations Group from Col. Roger Brady, former 64th Flying Training Wing commander, here July 28. Burda succeeded Col. Randy Gelwix, who became the 64th FTW commander on Monday. Burda recently completed the Air War College at Maxwell AFB, Ala. He is a command pilot with more than 4,000 hours in the T-1A, T-37, T-38 and C-130E aircraft. The colonel and his wife, Stacy, have three children, Ryan, Mathew and Megan.

64th FTW selects best of quarter

Six Reese personnel have been recognized by the 64th Flying Training Wing as the "best" of the quarter for the third quarter of Fiscal Year 1995.

Four of the six wing quarterly awardees are from the 64th Operations Group, with three of those winners coming from the 64th Operations Support Squadron. The Instructor Pilot of the Quarter is Capt. Eric Cain, 64th OSS.

Lt. Michael Siracuse, USN, 64th OSS, is the Company Grade Officer of the Quarter.

The Senior NCO of the Quarter is Master Sgt. Curtis Bartells, 64th OSS.

Staff Sgt. Robert Palos was the fourth 64th OG winner. He is the NCO of the Quarter.

The 64th Medical Group's Senior Airman Kyle Gibson, 64th Medical Support Squadron, is the Airman of the Quarter.

Representing the 64th Support Group, Senior Airman John Fox, 64th Logistics Squadron, is the Honor Guard Member of the Quarter.

The awardees were selected from a field of candidates representing all three wing groups.

Judge Don McBeath, Dana Neugebauer (standing in for her husband, Randy Neugebauer) and Fred Underwood are pictured beside black and white sketches which symbolize their selections as Friends of Reese. The new Friends of Reese were inducted Monday, raising the total number of honorees to 17.

McBeath, Neugebauer and Underwood inducted Monday as Friends of Reese

Three Reese supporters have been named "Friends of Reese", an honor bestowed on benefactors and advocates of Reese.

The Honorable Judge Don McBeath, Fred Underwood and Randy Neugebauer were inducted July 31, bringing the list of honorees to 17. Each earned Friends of Reese membership for his invaluable contributions to the Reese community.

McBeath whose support spans twenty years, is noted for fostering a close relationship between Reese and Lubbock. McBeath was cited for orienting civic leaders and elected officials on Reese's impact in the local area and communicating Reese's interests to city leaders. McBeath is also active in the host-family program, which provides a "home away from home" for Reese students.

Underwood, who previously served as an honorary squadron commander here, is also a host-family participant. Without Underwood's continuing support many high profile Reese events would not have been possible — including the highly successful Reese Air Show '95.

Neugebauer was praised for his work as Chairman of Lubbock's Save Reese Committee, the focal group in the communities' fight to elude base closure.

President dedicates Korean memorial

WASHINGTON — President Clinton, Republic of Korea President Kim Young Sam and thousands of Korean War veterans and veterans' family members from around the world gathered on the National Mall July 27 for the dedication of the Korean War Veterans Memorial.

The throng, estimated at more than 50,000, endured oppressive heat and horrid humidity to pay tribute to those from 22 nations who fought, died, were wounded and are missing from the 37-month war that began June 25, 1950, and has commonly been called "The Forgotten War."

"The Korean War veterans endured terrible hardships, deathly cold, weeks and months crammed in foxholes, an enemy of overwhelming numbers, the threat of brutal imprisonment and torture,"

Clinton said.

"They set a standard of courage that may be equaled but never surpassed in the annals of American combat," Clinton said.

Roughly 1.5 million Americans served in the Korean War, including 54,246 who died; 103,284 who were wounded, 7,140 who were prisoners of war, and more than 8,100 still listed as missing.

Set on 2.2 acres directly across the reflecting pool from the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, the $20 million memorial was paid for largely with private donations and is a dramatic blend of granite and steel and water and landscaping.

The dominant element of the memorial is a column of 19 larger-than-life stainless steel statues of servicemembers trudging up a hill toward an American flag that represents home.

Each statue weighs about 1,000 pounds and all U.S. branches of military and ethnic groups who served in the war are depicted. The expressions on their faces — as they scope the surrounding area for snipers — mirror weariness and resolve.

Next to the American flag is a 30-foot in diameter black granite reflecting pool that pays homage to those who lost their lives and those who are still missing.

The memorial is anchored by a 164-foot-long and 8-inch thick highly polished dark granite wall that features more than 2,500 photographic archival images of all aspects of land, air and sea and support troops who fought the war.

Among the attendees was Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Ronald R. Fogleman.

Services officials institute new rules for Reese Beach

by Capt. John Povelones
Commander, 64th Services Squadron

By now, I am sure you have noticed the Reese Beach is open seven days a week. In addition, the pool is available for private parties hosted by any Reese member.

To insure we all have a fun safe summer, services officials have instituted several new rules.

In the past, one 15-minute break was given to children under 13 years old every hour. Now, there are two breaks every hour; one for 5 minutes at 25 minutes after the hour and the other for 10 minutes at 50 minutes after the hour. Everyone else can swim during these time periods except for the last 5 minutes of the second break. This is to allow the lifeguards time to change shifts.

The purpose of breaks for children under 13 is to give them time to rest, take a break from the sun and use the restrooms.

Other rules are no children with diapers allowed in the big pool. This means only potty-trained children are allowed in the big pool.

Also, children under 10 years old must be escorted by adults. The purpose for this rule is to provide someone to watch the children away from the swimming pool. This allows the lifeguards to provide the necessary attention to people in the water.

With these things in mind, we invite you and your friends to come out and have a great time at the Beach!

35th FTS wins intramural swim meet

The 35th Flying Training Squadron left the competition treading water as it swam to victory with 65 points in the intramural swim meet Saturday.

The 54th FTS had won more events but finished in second place with 51 points.

The team of Capt. Dwight McArthur, Capt. Leland Scifers, Lt. Scott Bailey, USN, and Lt. Dadie Lanza, Italian Air Force, placed first in the 200-meter relay for the 35th FTS at 2:46.82. They were followed by Capt. Ron Baldinger, Capt. Jon Elis, 2nd Lt. Kevin Barnes and 2nd Lt. Francisco Gallei, 54th FTS, at 2:58.17. The 35th FTS placed the team of Capt. Mark Thompson, 2nd Lt. John Cluck, 2nd Lt. Craig Vincent and Capt. Shelly Scifers in third at 4:21.37. In the 50-meter backstroke, Capt. Doug Hammen, 54th FTS, took honors at 45.59. He was followed by Scifers at 48.16 and McArthur at 55.93.

First Lt. Paul McNeme, 54th FTS, left his competition behind as he took first in the 100-meter freestyle at 59.09. Less than one second was the difference in second and third place as 1st. Lt. Anthony Rosello, 35th FTS, finished at 106.66 and L. Scifers at 106.66.

In the 50-meter breaststroke, Lt. Mike Donohue, USN, 35th FTS, captured first at 51.11. Capt. Kevin Dill, 52nd FTS finished second at 53.06, followed by Lt. Col. Bob Herris, 54th FTS, at 54.31.

Hammen brought home his second victory for the 54th FTS in the 200-meter freestyle at 2:15.74. Rosello came in a distant second at 2:36.00, and McNeme in third place at 2:42.25.

Hammen took another race in the 50-meter butterfly at 44.91. Donohue followed at 50.52 with Capt. Darren Purser finishing in third at 52.50. In the final event, the team of Herris, Hammen, Capt. Charles Waits and McNeme took first place in the 200-meter medley relay by posting a time of 3:17.00.

The 35th FTS took second and third place with the team of Lt. Jim Fleming, USN, Donohue, Purser and 1st. Lt. Daryl Page at 3:35.00 and Roselle, 1st. Lt. John Olson, 2nd Lt. Leroy Reynolds and 2nd Lt. Dave Trombly, USMC, at 3:43.00.

SCOOP UP SAFE SAVINGS...

When it comes to safe savings, there's more than one way to scoop up the interest. Consider U.S. Savings Bonds. Interest on earnings can be federally tax-deferred and is exempt from state and local income taxes. They are safe, backed by the United States, and they are easy to buy through a payroll savings plan or at local banks.
