The Finished Town

The appearance which a town presents to the outside world has very much to do with its development. If it looks attractive, people will desire to live there. If it looks run down, they will feel that prospects are not good there, and they will get out as soon as they can or stay away from it if possible.

The attractiveness of a community does not depend upon the amount of money spent on public buildings and homes. It depends far more on the way in which these structures are maintained. A town built of expensive homes, which is not maintained in good shape, is forlorn and depressing.

When a touch of beauty is given by flower gardens, shade trees, well kept lawns and nicely kept parks, the community looks like a home of people of culture and everyone gets the impression that it is an advancing place. The more appearance of such a town will do more to pull it ahead than the spending of large sums of money without any maintenance.

The way in which people keep their lawns and gardens, and the way they throw litter around the streets, but some of them act almost as if they were trying to make their town as ugly as possible. Some of them, probably most of them, children, will take bits of paper and tear them into little pieces and then throw them out in the streets.

Disorderly Habits

People's lawns are sometimes noticed, where the only way to get out such bits of litter is to pick them out one by one by hand. Such disorder is terribly discouraging to people who take pride in maintaining nice appearing places.

Music

(By Joe Meacham)

As I said last week, I have nothing against jazz in its place. I do not have my hand to play it very much because I feel that a band is better fitted for other types of music.

As for the student and jazz here is a question easily settled, just by the use of a little of what is called common sense. It is true that the youngster just starting has a tendency to improvise fake and flashy sounds before his foundation is completed.

This fault is nothing if the teacher is conscientious capable and broadminded. The teacher should watch closely and use good judgment. I have no sympathy for those teachers who refuse to let a student play a single note of popular music and look upon jazz as the work of the devil himself.

That kind of reasoning will merely make bootleg musicians in short order, because most young people will play some jazz just for the fun of it.

In our reading we enjoy a good love story or a western story and a detective story where we will join in the chase after some imaginary offender.

The greatest educators we have will do it just for the fun of it.

Jazz music should not be played too much by the young musician, but if he has been properly trained jazz music will not injure him in the least.

A few months ago an orchestra came to Haskell to play for a dance at the Elks Club. This orchestra was supposed to be one of the best in this part of the country.

We were having band rehearsal that evening and before time for the dance they set in with my band. I put up the lightest music I had but they simply could not read it.

My advice is to use jazz as a diversion for a student even one who intends to play in a dance orchestra later on but remember that good musicians are made only by a serious study of the sound fundamentals of music.

Bible School 9:45 a. m.

Morning worship and Lord's Supper 11:00 a. m.

Evening services 7:30 p. m.

Easter has come and gone and we press on to Pentecost. In the days preceding the celebration of the time when the Gospel was preached in its fulness for the first time, we should strive to accomplish greater things. Begin now and become a regular attendant at the Bible school hour and the morning worship and Lord's Supper. After Pentecost we read "And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship and in breaking of bread, and in prayers." Acts 2:42.

Again we read "And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them." Acts 20:7.

As previously announced G. Robert Forester, minister, will begin a series of sermons on the different cases of conversion found in the New Testament. At the evening services next Sunday, the subject will be "The Conversion of the Three Thousand." The public is cordially invited to come and hear this important subject discussed. You will enjoy it.

Early Umbrellas Clumsy

The first fashionable sunshades imported into England were luxurious affairs, composed on the outside of bird feathers. During Queen Anne's reign a more practical oiled silk came into use and umbrellas began to be used as much on rainy days as they were under the summer sun. These early English specimens were clumsy affairs made of heavy waxed cloth with cane ribs. When wet, the material stuck together and opening or closing them was a job for a superman. It was not until 1852 that Samuel Fox invented the modern type.—Detroit News.

Slaps Sister; Saves Her From Strangling

Sioux City, Iowa.—George Geary, thirteen, proved himself a hero when his quick thinking and acting saved his five-year-old sister from choking to death. She fell and a small ball she had in her mouth lodged in her throat, shutting off breathing.

He sought to dislodge the ball with his fingers and failed. Then he picked her up, slapped her on the back and dislodged the ball as she was losing consciousness.

Movies and Medicine Fight Diet Fakir

Health First Requirement for New Stars.

In ancient Bagdad the fakirs performed amazing feats before the eyes of the admiring throng. They made silver coins appear and disappear by a mere wave of the hand. Another sold charms to ward off plagues and pestilences. To the Arabian maiden he offered beauty to a husband.

That was the fakir of the color-days of old. Today's magician is out neither charms nor husband. His bait is the promise that he can make pounds disappear by a magic method and with virtuousness a pass of the hand change a plump lassie of middle life into a waiflike miss of sixteen.

It is against this modern Alladin, apostle of the instantaneous and the trick diet that the medical authorities have been warring. And now the moving picture industry, arbiter of social fashions and pulchritude, has enlisted on the side of the medical profession.

Loretta Young, one of the newer stars, typifies the ideal now demanded by the screen.

Curves Compulsory

Study the figures of any of the greatest stars of the screen today. You won't find among them anything resembling that product of sugar dementia, the flat-chested, plump and emaciated creature that was a young female trying to look like a young male.

Girls are going to be girls again. The new ideal—the oldest in the world—has risen again. The soft curves and the clear, warm complexion that are the most alluring signs of radiant health have returned to their rightful ascendancy. And, once again, the fashions of girls and women are being set by the heroines of silver screen accomplishing it? The answer is just as sensible as the new ideal and the new feminine are sensible. Hollywood has a through all the throes of the fadists and has learned its lesson. But let Loretta Young, the reigning First National star, tell requisite to a clear and glowing complexion, must have several distinct types of nourishment. Loss of vitality, ill-health and bad complexion are inevitable effects of starvation.

"If your curves are too accentuated and your weight above normal, make certain that your health is what it should be, and take plenty of exercise. Then reduce the quantity of food you eat, but—and this is the important point—be sure that your diet every day includes some of each of the following food groups.

"Sugar and starches, among the least fattening of which are fruits, vegetables and crisp cereals.

"Proteins, such as fish, lean meat, milk, and eggs—avoid fat meats.

"Mineral foods, including celery, spinach, chard, lettuce, cabbage, tomatoes.

"Vitamins, which are found in apples, raw cabbage, lettuce, lemons, liver, milk, oranges, grapefruit, fresh pineapple.

"Roughage of the least fattening sorts, such as bran, lettuce, celery, cabbage, string beans, asparagus."

Beauty of line and mechanical excellence

BEAUTY has been built into the graceful flowing lines of the new Ford and there is an appealing charm in its fresh and varied harmony of color. Yet more distinctive even than this beauty of line and color is its alert and sprightly performance.

As days go by you will find that it becomes more and more your favorite car to drive—so responsive, so easy to handle, so safe and comfortable that it puts a new joy in motoring.

The city dweller—the farmer—the industrial worker—the owner of the spacious two-car garage in the suburbs—to all of these it brings a new measure of reliable, economical service.

Craftsmanship has been put into mass production. Today, more than ever, the new Ford is "a value far above the price."

SOCIETY and Club

Magazine Club Luncheon

Probably one of the oldest traditions and most important of the events in the Magazine Club Spring Luncheon given each year in honor of the President. This year, honoring Mrs. V. Payne, the retiring President was given last Friday at the building.

Guests were met at the door by Fred T. Sanders, and Wilson, who introduced Mesdames Earnest Grissom of Abilene, Fields, and S. R. Rike, the entertainer for next year; then into the club rooms, which were beautifully by the use of bluebonnets and haw, truly the idea of spring.

The luncheon was served in style and the menu consisting of Mesdames J. P. Bailey Post, John V. Davis, P. Trice, assisted in seating guests, and further serving.

Joe A. Jones, on behalf of the club, very ably expressed to Mrs. Payne for her unflinching interest shown during administration the past year and presented an Easter Lily in her appreciation.

John W. Pace rendered a selection, well suited to the occasion.

Earnest Grissom, ex-president of the organization, told of her trip to South America in a interesting and clever manner. Her chosen phrases, as well as the way of handling her remarks were highly appreciated.

Miss Mrs. Fields presented an Easter Lily. The members and guests present at the luncheon were: Mesdames H. M. S. R. Rike, Fred T. R. J. Reynolds, O. E. Pat. U. E. Reid, A. W. H. Reid, W. B. Reid, Dennis P. V. Payne, J. P. Payne, M. Robertson, R. C. Mont. John W. Pace, W. P. Trice, Thelma J. B. Post, W. N. B. H. Persons, Guy A. Jones, John V. Davis, Hugh Hary Bettis, Herman E. Martin, Bruce W. Bryant, Smith, and Earnest Grissom.

Afterwards, followed the regular meeting, which is to be the this year, at which time U. Fields gave a report of the Federated Clubs of the First District, as recently held in Stephentown, Mrs. Fred T. Sanders, who presided at the District meeting, gave a short talk on John Tarleton of that city, which was enjoyed by the Club members from all over West Texas.

The meeting was then turned over to the officers for the ensuing year. S. R. Rike, the President, gave the most interesting talk on her own aspirations for the next year.

Members arriving for the luncheon were: Mesdames W. H. M. Clay Smith, John R. Hill Oates.

Miss Lillian Paxton, who has been the parents in Lubbock, has been home.

Thin, Pale, Weak

"I had been through a bad case of sickness and I felt very weak," says Mrs. Lillian Paxton, of Lubbock, Va. "I was pale and lifeless, and my strength did not return."

"I spent most of my time on the bed. I was nervous, and the least upset me. I did not have strength enough to lift my head. At times I would have bad headaches, which hurt me until I could hardly see."

"Someone asked me why I did not try Cardui. I had heard of it, so I thought I would try it. It was really a wonderful strength-renewer, and I felt better than I had in years. I gained weight, my color was good, and I was able to suffer from headaches. I have told my friends about Cardui because I was cured after taking it."

The Berean Class, The Class of Southern Hospitality

This spring weather makes us feel mighty good. It makes us realize that it is good to be alive and enjoying such wonderful days. It makes it that much easier for us to attend Sunday school. And as we look about for a class to attend it is inevitable that our eyes fall on the Berean Class. And so we go to visit them and then finding everything to our satisfaction we join them. Last Sunday the Berean's enjoyed an ably discussed lesson on "What is True Forgiveness?" Mr. Conner made some wonderful applications and we all enjoyed it immensely. Next Sunday the subject of our lesson is: "Stewardship of Possessions," taken from Matt. 19:16-26 and we are looking forward to a splendid discussion.

Also we are going to be favored with the reports from the Sunday School Convention. We allowed Rogers and Marvin this additional week so that they may prepare some good reports from the notes they attended.

Now listen, you Bereans, last Sunday we enjoyed a well rendered solo by the "song bird" of the class, Roy Baughman, and you who were absent missed a treat. You never can tell when you are going to be favored by these treats, so if you want to keep up with the gang you had better be in your place next Sunday.

And if you who would visit us we say: "Welcome Friend, Welcome," for we are proud of our slogan, "The Class of Southern Hospitality."

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Does your child take books from the Public Library? Does he depend upon the books casually selected for him by members of the family, books borrowed from other children, newspaper supplements, and "funny sheets" for his reading at home? In one case, he is gaining something worth while. In the other case, he is merely drifting and forming no habits of self-helping in his own development and growth. The public library will set him on the right track to gain information, resourceful self-education, mental development, growth that comes through personal choices. All children should have the interest and help that the public library offers them.

The public library is a friend, a companion, a good counselor and guide. The handling of property that is not one's own tends to develop a regard for thought of others as well as neatness and carefulness and obedience to library rules. All this is training for the child. He is taught to be punctual in return of borrowed books. He is taught to be considerate of others. But more than this it trains the child to find his own entertainment in the wide field of reading and how to supplement school work through use of encyclopedias, reference shelf and card index. All this is valuable training that only children who take library books secure.

The Haskell Public Library is located in the Magazine Club rooms.

two blocks north of the square. Everyone is invited to visit the library and to use it. 237 books were issued to the public from this library last week.

If at any time you have a book or donation of any kind you care to bring them to the library. We are very grateful for all donations. This week seven books were donated by J. P. Payne, three by Mrs. O. V. Payne and C. B. Breddlove is donating the "Literary Digest" each week.

WICHITA FALLS CARPENTER PRAISES ORGATONE HIGHLY

"I Was Unable to Work at Times and Could Not Lie Down and Could Not Rest—Orgatone Relieved Me." Says Maloney.

"Orgatone is certainly a wonderful medicine and I want to tell everybody what it has done for me," says J. D. Maloney, residing at Wichita Falls, Texas, P. O. Box 710, well known and prominent citizen in Wichita Falls. Mr. Maloney made this remarkable statement while talking with an Orgatone representative in Allison's Drug Store recently.

"For a long time I've suffered with stomach trouble and indigestion," he continued, "gas would form on my stomach and affect my heart and could not lie down and didn't get any rest at all at night. There's many a day when I couldn't work from such misery. I was in a very nervous condition most of the time and could hardly eat anything I had to be very careful of what I ate."

"While talking with an engineer in Denison, Texas, he advised me to take Orgatone, saying that it had relieved him of a serious condition and so decided to try it. I am sure thankful he told me about it for I am not bothered with indigestion any more, gas does not bother me any more, and the soreness is all gone out of my stomach and it won't be long until I can eat anything I want and that certainly is saying a lot for I was unable to eat the things that I cared for. I can keep right on with my work now and am gaining in every way.

Orgatone has been a help to me and I could tell the difference after the first few doses. I am glad to recommend it to my fellow sufferers, who are troubled like I was, for it does what they say it will." Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Haskell at the Oates Drug Store.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Therwanger of Weinert, spent Easter in Haskell.

Haskell Baptists

Average For April Higher Than For March

On April 6, there were 371 in Sunday School. On April 13, there were 423 in Sunday School. On April 20, there were 371 in Sunday School. The average attendance in Sunday School for April is 388 1-3. This is a splendid average. Baptists, if we can have 436 next Sunday, it will give us an average of 400. We have no special drive or contest on. We are asking you to come for the purpose of worship. It should not be necessary to hire people to come to church. It is for the sake of Christ and for the welfare of your own spiritual life that we urge you to come.

The Men's Bible Class Welcomes You

The men are studying the book of Revelation. The sixth chapter will be the lesson for next Sunday. This chapter begins the most interesting part of the book. The class is getting a great blessing out of this study. We extend a warm welcome to every man that is not attending Sunday School at some other church. Come and give our class a trial. If you will come once, you will come again.

Growing A Great Soul For God

This is to be the subject for the eleven o'clock hour. Growing a great soul for God is a wonderful privilege and a glorious task. It brings to the individual an unspeakable peace. We will make an attempt to tell you how others have performed this holy task and assure you that we can do the same.

Hear A Self Made Man Sunday Night

Rev. L. B. Smith, a close friend of the pastor, will preach for us Sunday evening. He surrendered to preach the Gospel after he had a family and could not so much as read his text, but now he preaches with a power and ability that few men possess. When you hear him you will say, "If this man could have had a university education he would have been pastor of some great city church." I want you to come and see what the grace of God can do for a man that will make a complete surrender of his life to God.

TRIPLE TESTED

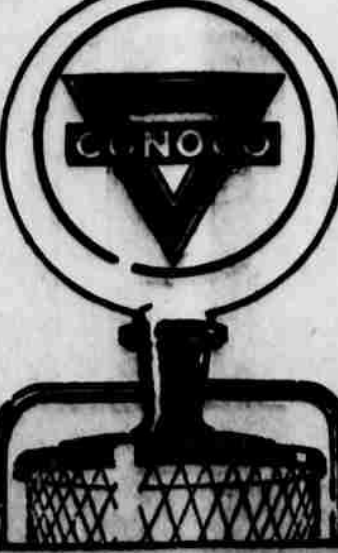

CONOCO Gasoline is actually tested dozens of times in the process of refining—but it is called Triple Tested Gasoline because of all of these tests converged into three main tests—for starting—acceleration—power!

These are the things that motorists want—and are entitled to get—from the gasoline they use. A gasoline may be ever so powerful—but if it is not volatile enough to start the motor quickly and give rapid acceleration in traffic—it will not satisfy today's demands. An easy starting, swift acceleration, are mere snares if they are not backed up with power for every need—economical power!

CONOCO Gasoline meets all three of these important practical tests—that's the reason so many people insist on Triple Tested—

WILL FRITTS TO FACE NEW TRIALS IN MURDER CASES

Will Fritts, who has been confined in the Fort Worth jail for the past year pending action of the higher courts on an appeal from the death penalty assessed against him for murder, was returned to Haskell Tuesday to face two new indictments returned Monday by the Grand Jury for the April term of District Court, in which he is charged with the murder of D. W. Hamilton, well-known Rochester farmer, and Hamilton's 18-year-old son, Earle.

Fritts was convicted at Anson in April, 1929, on a murder charge after the case had been transferred to Jones county from the court here. He was given the death penalty, but the verdict was recently set aside by the Appeals Court because the indictment under which he was tried failed to allege the murder was committed with malice aforethought.

Date for trial of the case will probably be set Friday of this week by District Judge Bruce W. Bryant.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Grissom who have been guests of the latter's parents for the last week, have returned to their home in Abilene.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY WILL BE GIVEN TUESDAY

The Senior Class of the Haskell High School will present "Out of Court," a fast moving modern play with seventeen characters, on next Tuesday evening at the High School auditorium at 7:30 o'clock.

The heroine, Evelyn Capell (Mary Willis) is the only daughter of a rich man, and she has had her own way so long that obeying her own sweet will is practically the only law she knows. The two high comedy characters are the old negro servants, Remus (Carl Drusedow) and Mammy (Selma Maples).

The plot of the play deals with the adventures of Evelyn Capell, who settles the case "Out of Court" for the damage done David Bourne (Clarence Whiteker) when she runs him down in her high powered car.

The schemes of an aunt of Evelyn Capell, Mrs. Gardner (Mavis Branch) to marry her to Percy Alban (David Ratliff) furnishes plenty of conflict. Others in the cast are:

RIGHT OF WAY BEING SECURED FOR NO. 30

The first step to be made by Haskell County toward paving of Highway 30 south from Haskell was begun today by the Commissioners Court when Commissioners Simmons and Phillips began securing the right of way along the proposed route from property owners.

The field notes for the new road were turned over to the Commissioners Court Tuesday afternoon by Engineer Puckett of the Highway Department. According to the field notes the highway will run parallel with the Wichita Valley railroad a good part of the way to Stamford, but will leave the railroad right of way in a few instances where the railroad does not run straight. The highway will take the shorter route, which will lessen the distance between Haskell and Stamford possibly two miles. The new road will remain on the west side of the railroad the entire distance.

The Commissioner's Court expects to rush the work of securing the right of way as fast as possible in order that actual construction work may begin at the earliest possible date.

HASKELL GIRL TO COMPETE IN STATE TENNIS FINALS

Miss Juanita Adams of the Haskell High School won the county championship in girls tennis singles at the tournament held in Haskell on Saturday, March 15th. On the 11th and 12th of April she played her way through to the district championship at Abilene, winning over the representative from the Abilene High School in the finals. Then on last Saturday, April 19th, she met a young lady from Breckenridge, representing District No. 9, in a bid-district game. After getting a bad start the local girl came from behind to win the match two out of three sets. This wins for her the right to represent the two districts comprising twenty counties in the state meet in Austin next week. Plans are being made by the local high school to send her to this meet. This will be Miss Adams' first time to appear in a state contest but we are predicting serious trouble for the girls who find themselves on the opposite side of the net.
