Texas celebration to be held on the square Sat.

Whether you are a native Texan or just got here as soon as you could, you will enjoy Celebrating Texas Independence Day-Haskell County Style, Saturday, March 7. Events begin on the square at 10 a.m. and end at 3 p.m.

Texas boasts a most colorful history. It was on March 2, 1836, known to Texans as Texas Independence Day, that the Texas Declaration of Independence was adopted, thus declaring itself free from Mexico.

One hundred seventy-nine years later, we are still celebrating that independent spirit. The Committee to Help Haskell County has planned the sixth "Texas Independence Day-Haskell County Style."

The day begins at 10 a.m. with a flag raising ceremony. Many of the past favorite attractions will return, including the Native American flintknapper. Jay Webber of Round Rock will be here once again with the Drummer Boy Ice Cream Tent. Even on a cool day, his root beer floats and vanilla ice cream, can't be beat.

Back by popular demand is the Dign for Gold, sponsored by Haskell National Bank, for kids ages 8 and under. Coins will be scattered through a pile of sand and children will be given 2 minutes to dig for gold. Each child will only be allowed to win one gold coin, but there is no limit on other coins.

Other activities include a roping dummy, Native American games, Burro Bingo and picture taking in the western cutouts.

The Earthman family of Knox City will perform. They are a very talented group of fiddle players, sure to entertain.

A variety of vendors will be set up around the courthouse, and the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department will be cooking brisket sandwiches along with their special recipe french fries.

The day's events will conclude with a drawing at 3 p.m. for $500 in Haskell Dollars. The drawing is made possible by these participating merchants: The Drug Store, Wild Horse Trading Post, Rike Real Estate-Meagan Cox, The Personality-Slipper Shoppe, Sue's Flowers and Gifts, Boggs and Johnson, Communication Connection/Verizon Wireless, Sport-About, Richardson's True Value, Modern Way/ACE and Fuel, Kaleidoscope and Farm Girl Diva. Remember to visit these businesses to get your tickets.

Be sure to mark your calendars and come on out, all you proud Texans, as we Celebrate Texas Independence Day-Haskell County Style.

Candidates file for elections

by Caron Yates

With the Feb. 27 filing deadline now past, candidates for the city and school board elections on May 9, are set.

The only contested races are three Haskell city council seats and Haskell CISD school board places 5 and 7.

The cities of Rule, Rochester and Weinert, as well as Rule ISD school board, will not hold elections, because all incumbents are unopposed.

Seeking re-election to the Haskell city council are incumbents Ernest Frye, Shane Whitt and Allen Morrow. Challenging for a position on the council are Jason Isbell and Randy Bowers.

On the Haskell CISD board of trustees, Lance Sloan is unopposed for place #4, currently held by Susan Turner, who chose not to run. No election is necessary for that place. On the incumbent for place #5, will be incumbent Bert Alvarez and Paul Weiser, while Paul Leonard and Sheena Crosson are vying for place #7, presently represented by Mark Stewart, who is not seeking reelection.

Early voting by mail begins March 10 and concludes April 30.

Early voting by personal appearance will be April 27 through May 4. Early voting for city council will take place at Haskell City Hall during regular office hours. Extended hours on April 28 and May 5 will run from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

To vote early for places #5 and #7 on the Haskell CISD school board, you will need to go to the school administration office from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Only registered voters living in single member districts 5 and 7 are eligible to vote in the school election.

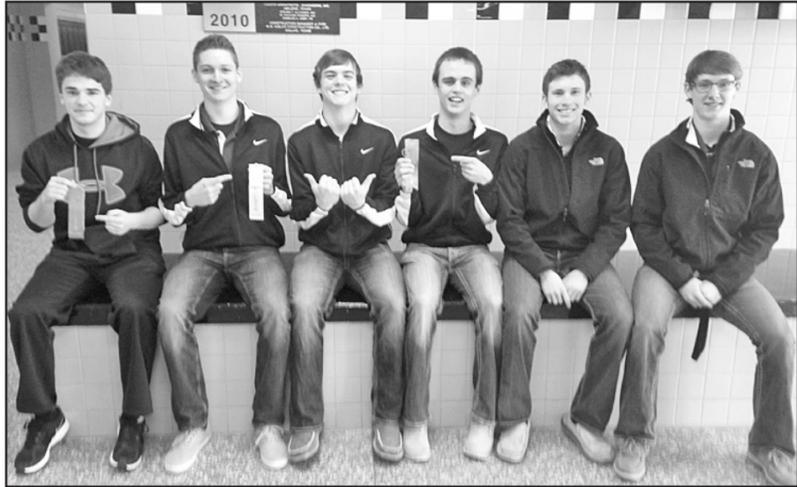

Information as to the member district in which you are eligible to vote, is found on your voter registration card. Additional information for voters and their corresponding single member districts is available at the school administration office.

PD. NOTICE

MMR vaccine information

by DaLinda Black
CEA/FCS, Haskell Co.

The best way to protect against measles is to get the measles-mumps-rubella shot (called the MMR shot). Doctors recommend that all children get the MMR shot.

Why should my child get the MMR shot?

The MMR shot:

- Protects your child from measles, a potentially serious disease (and also protects against mumps and rubella)
- Prevents your child from getting an uncomfortable rash and high fever from measles
- Keeps your child from missing school or childcare (and keeps you from missing work to care for your sick child)

Is the MMR shot safe?

Yes. The MMR shot is very safe, and it is effective at preventing measles (as well as mumps and rubella). Vaccines, like any medicine, can have side effects. But most children who get the MMR shot have no side effects.

What are the side effects?

Most children do not have any side effects from the shot. The side effects that do occur are usually very mild, such as a fever or rash. More serious side effects are rare. These may include high fever that could cause a seizure (in about 1 person out of every 3,000 who get the shot) and temporary pain and stiffness in joints (mostly in teens and adults).

Is there a link between the MMR shot and autism?

No. Scientists in the United States and other countries have carefully studied the MMR shot. None has found a link between autism and the MMR shot.

What is measles?

Measles is a serious respiratory disease (in the lungs and breathing tubes) that causes a rash and fever. It is very contagious. In rare cases, it can be deadly.

What are the symptoms of measles?

Measles starts with a fever that can get very high. Some of the other symptoms that may occur are:

- Cough, runny nose and red eyes
- Rash of tiny, red spots that start at the head and spread to the rest of the body
- Diarrhea
- Ear infection

Doctors recommend that your child get 2 doses of the MMR shot for best protection. Your child will need one dose at each of the following ages:

- 12 through 15 months
- 4 through 6 years. Infants 6 months to 11 months old should have 1 dose of MMR shot before traveling abroad.

Is it serious?

Measles can be dangerous, especially for babies and young children. From 2001-2013, 28% of children younger than 5 years old who had measles had to be treated in the hospital.

For some children, measles can lead to:

- Pneumonia (a serious lung infection)
- Lifelong brain damage
- Deafness
- Death

How does measles spread?

Measles spreads when a person infected with the measles virus breathes, coughs or sneezes. It is very contagious. You can catch measles just by being in a room where a person with measles has been, up to 2 hours after that person is gone. And you can catch measles from an infected person even before they have a measles rash. Almost everyone who has not had the MMR shot will get measles if they are exposed to the measles virus.

Where do measles cases in the United States come from?

Measles disease can come into this country when unvaccinated U.S. residents travel internationally or foreign visitors to the United States are exposed to measles in another country and travel into the United States. The risk of getting measles may be very high for unvaccinated U.S. residents who travel abroad. The reason for this high risk is because measles is common in other parts of the world, including countries in Europe, Asia, the Pacific and Africa. Worldwide, about 20 million people get measles each year. When people with measles travel into the United States, they can spread the disease to unvaccinated people including children too young to be vaccinated.

How many measles cases are there in the United States each year?

From 2001 to 2013, the number of measles cases reported in the United States ranged from 37 to 220. However, in some years like 2014, there were more measles cases than usual. In 2014, 644 people from 27 states were reported as having measles. Most of these people got measles in the United States after being exposed to someone who got measles while in another country. So far in 2015, more than 100 people in the U.S. have been reported to have measles. Most of these cases are part of a large, ongoing outbreak linked to an amusement park in California. For more information, see <http://www.cdc.gov/measles/cases-outbreaks.html>.

Where can I learn more about the MMR shot and my child?

To learn more about the MMR shot, talk to your child's doctor, call 1-800-CDC-INFO, or visit www.cdc.gov/vaccines/parents.

USDA extends deadline to update base acres or yield history for programs

Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack has announced that a one-time extension will be provided to producers for the new safety-net programs established by the 2014 Farm Bill, known as Agriculture Risk Coverage (ARC) and Price Loss Coverage (PLC). The final day to update yield history or reallocate base acres has been extended one additional month, from Feb. 27, 2015 until March 31, 2015. The final day for farm owners and producers to choose ARC or PLC coverage also remains March 31, 2015.

"This is an important decision for producers, because these programs provide financial protection against unexpected changes in the marketplace. Producers are working to make the best decision they can. And we're working to ensure that they've got the time, the information, and the opportunities to have those final conversations, review their data, and to visit the Farm Service Agency to make those decisions," said Vilsack.

If no changes are made to yield history or base acres by March 31, 2015, the farm's current yield and base will be used. A program choice of ARC or PLC coverage also must be made by March 31, 2015, or there will be no 2014 payments for the farm and the farm will default to PLC coverage through the 2018 crop year.

"These are complex decisions, which is why we launched a strong education and outreach campaign back in September. Now we're providing a one-time extension of an additional month so that every producer is fully prepared to enroll in this program," said Vilsack.

Nationwide, more than 2.9 million educational postcards, in English and Spanish, have been sent to producers, and over 4,100 training sessions have been conducted on the new safety-net programs. The online tools, available at www.fsa.usda.gov/arc-plc, allow producers to explore projections on how ARC or PLC coverage will affect their operation under possible future scenarios.

Covered commodities include barley, canola, large and small chickpeas, corn, crambe, flaxseed, grain sorghum, lentils, mustard seed, oats, peanuts, dry peas, rapeseed, long grain rice, medium grain rice (which includes short grain rice), safflower seed, sesame, soybeans, sunflower seed and wheat. Upland cotton is no longer a covered commodity.

To learn more, farmers can contact their local Farm Service Agency county office. To find your local office visit <http://offices.usda.gov>.

The Farm Bill builds on historic economic gains in rural America over the past six years, while achieving meaningful reform and billions of dollars in savings for the taxpayer. Since enactment, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has made significant progress to implement each provision of this critical legislation, including providing disaster relief to farmers and ranchers; strengthening risk management tools; expanding access to rural credit; funding critical research; establishing innovative public-private conservation partnerships; developing new markets for rural-made products; and investing in infrastructure, housing and community facilities to help improve quality of life in rural America. DPS offers spring break safety tips for Texans

The Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) is reminding Texans to drive responsibly and to take extra precautions as they make travel plans during Spring Break.

"With students and families out of school and off work, the weeks during Spring Break can result in an influx of traffic on Texas roadways," said DPS Director Steven McCraw. "DPS urges all drivers to do their part to help keep the roads safe for all travelers by adhering to safe driving practices and always driving sober."

DPS offers the following tips for safe travel during the Spring Break holiday:

- Slow down—especially in bad weather, construction areas, heavy traffic and unfamiliar areas.

- Eliminate distractions while driving, including the usage of mobile devices.

- Buckle up everyone in the vehicle—it's the law.

- Don't drive fatigued, and allow plenty of time to reach your destination.

- Drive defensively, as holiday travel may present additional challenges.

- Make sure your vehicle is properly maintained before your trip begins.

- Slow down or move over for tow trucks and police, fire, EMS and Texas Department of Transportation vehicles stopped on the side of the road with emergency lights activated—it's the law.

DPS also urges Texans to avoid travel to Mexico. The Mexican government has made great strides batting the cartels, and the department commends their continued commitment to that effort. DPS also has a responsibility to inform the public about safety and travel risks and threats, and based on the unpredictable nature of cartel violence and other criminal elements, the department urges individuals to avoid travel to Mexico at this time.

(U.S. citizens who do travel to Mexico should always check the U.S. Department of State website for the latest information regarding security issues in Mexico, and they should register with the Smart Traveler Enrollment Program by visiting <http://travel.state.gov/content/passports/english/country.html>.)

Booster seats: A simple solution that saves lives

by DaLinda Black
CEA/FCS, Haskell Co.

Several years ago, Krista Baker and her three sons were involved in a crash that totaled their car. Only months earlier, Krista received some life-saving advice: technicians at a child safety seat checkup told her that Zachary, her four-year-old son, should be riding in a booster seat and using it along with an adult lap and shoulder belt. This simple tip may have saved Zachary's life as he escaped the crash virtually unharmed.

Unfortunately, Autumn Alexander Skeen did not know the importance of booster seats until it was too late. While visiting family in Yakima, Washington, Skeen and her son, Anton, were both buckled into a sport utility vehicle using a standard lap and shoulder seat belt. Autumn Skeen was distracted and lost control of the vehicle. The crash caused Anton's small, four-year-old body to slip from the seat belt, and he was thrown from the vehicle as it rolled over. Anton was killed instantly.

Skeen thought she was doing the right thing by simply buckling Anton in. What she now knows—but what most other parents don't realize—is that once children outgrow their convertible child safety seats, they need to be put in booster seats until the seat belt system designed for adults fits them correctly.

DaLinda Black, Family and Consumer Sciences Extension Agent, warns that traffic crashes are the leading cause of death for children of every age from 6 to 14 years, due in part to the fact that most kids are unbuckled or improperly restrained in vehicles. From birth to age one, restraint use is 97 percent; for ages one to four, it is 91 percent. From ages 5 to 15, restraint use falls to 68.7 percent, and over 47 percent of fatally injured children ages four to seven are completely unrestrained. One National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) study showed that only 6.1 percent of booster-aged children were restrained in a booster seat. NHTSA recommends that all children ages 12 and under ride in the back seat, properly restrained at all times.

Child safety seats, including boosters, are very effective in keeping kids safe. Parents should use boosters for children once they outgrow forward-facing child safety seats at about 40 pounds and around four years old. They should continue to use booster seats until children are 4'9" tall and about 80 pounds. Certified and trained child passenger safety technicians will be in Haskell Thurs., March 26 from 1 to 4 p.m. at Cornerstone Fellowship Baptist Church. Come by and have a technician make sure your seats are installed correctly. This event will be free of charge.

Big Country Electric Cooperative announces Operation Round Up

At Big Country Electric Cooperative, we love our communities and believe in the power of working together to make good things happen, and to take care of people. Each of us has the ability to do good, but when we band together that ability multiplies, turning good things into great things. This is why we have initiated Operation Round Up: to allow the cooperative and its members to partner together to provide financial assistance to those in need locally.

This program is supported by co-op members whose electric bills are "Rounded Up" to the nearest dollar. The "Round Up" amount goes into the Big Country Electric Cooperative trust fund for distribution of funds to individuals and organizations for charitable purposes only in the counties we serve: Borden, Fisher, Garza, Haskell, Jones, Kent, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Shackelford, Stonewall and Throckmorton.

Applications will be handled with the utmost confidence and respect. Applications will be evaluated and funds will be disbursed by the trust's Board of Directors—your peers and neighbors, who volunteer their time, hearts and consideration to making decisions that will positively impact lives in our communities.

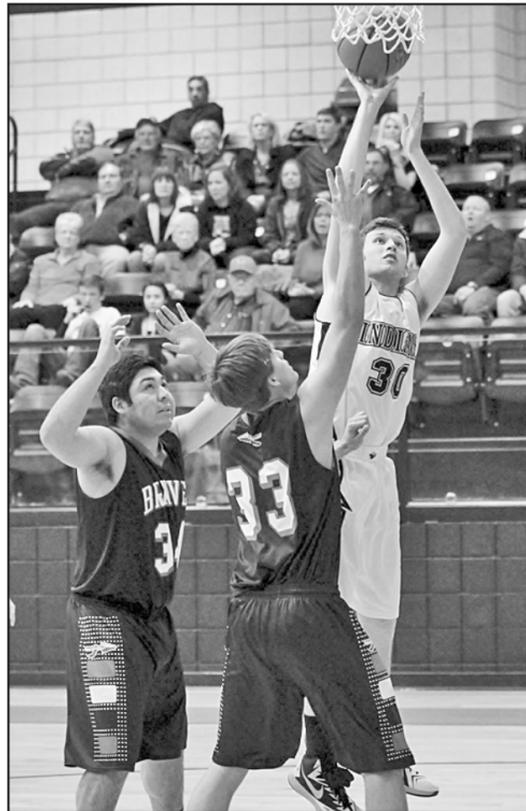

Food needs and food banks, shelter, health needs and rescue organizations, educational projects, child care programs and other special needs are just a few of the ways Operation Round Up can help strengthen our communities. Every penny will stay right here at home, in the counties we serve.

For more information about the program or to download an application

Security is our middle name

By Ray Vigil
Social Security Public Affairs Specialist in El Paso

On March 6, Americans recognize Middle Name Pride Day.

At the Social Security Administration, our middle name is "Security," and every day, we do everything we can to live up to that name. As part of protecting our vital services, we safeguard against all forms of Social Security fraud.

Social Security has zero-tolerance for fraud and those who try to cheat the system. While we can't prevent all fraud schemes any more than the best police force can stop all crime, we work aggressively with our Office of the Inspector General to investigate and prosecute people who commit fraud.

Acting Commissioner Carolyn Colvin's message to those who would defraud Social Security is clear: "We will find you; we will prosecute you; we will seek the maximum punishment allowable under the law; and we will fight to restore to the American public the money you've stolen."

We provide benefits to one-fifth of the American population, including elderly retirees, people with severe illnesses, and widows and children after the death of a wage earner. Our beneficiaries also include wounded warriors and the chronically ill, all of whom tend to be the most vulnerable of our population. Protecting our critically important programs from fraud can be challenging. Yet, our standard is absolute—any fraud is unacceptable. And, our focus on preventing fraud works.

Our Office of the Inspector General works in concert with our frontline employees to identify fraud and bring offenders to justice. Together, we use a number of tools to help us accurately predict where fraud may occur. By monitoring cases closely, we identify fraud sooner rather than later—and often we prevent it before it happens. We also have stiff penalties that discourage people from committing fraud, including hefty fines, suspension of benefits, and even jail time for the most severe offenses.

We take our middle name seriously and so should you. If you suspect someone is committing Social Security fraud, we ask that you report it online at <http://oig.ssa.gov/report> or call the Social Security Fraud Hotline at 1-800-269-0271 immediately.

Maidens fall to the defending State Champs

It was a much anticipated Regional Quarterfinal Championship game between the #3 Plains Cowgirls (33-1, 12-0) and the #4 Haskell Maidens (27-2, 14-0). Plains led 30-29 at the end of the third quarter. Unfortunately, the defending State Champions outscored the Maidens 12-4 in the final quarter to get the 42-33 playoff win and advance to the Regional Tournament.

The Maiden offense was led by Jacie Klose with 9 points, Reagan Hadaway 9, Destiny Benavides 4, Ashlyn Bevel 4 and Kenzie Shelton 4. Haskell was (11-48) for 22% from the field, (5-12) for 41% from the three point line, and (6-13) for 46% from the free-throw line. Klose had a team high 3 assists followed by Benavides with 2 and

"Offensively, I thought we got really good looks from the inside and outside. We shot a high percentage from the three point line. Unfortunately, we just had a hard time making shots over their long arms and length inside the paint," head coach Blake Eddleman said.

Haskell forced Plains to shoot 31% from the field. Klose had a team high 4 steals followed by Hadaway, Benavides and Bassett with 1 each. The Maidens out rebounded the Cowgirls 40-27. Hadaway led the team in rebounds with 17 followed by Shelton with 10, Klose 5 and Bassett 4.

"Defensively, I was really pleased with our man to man defense. We held Plains to 42 points and not too many teams have accomplished that in the past two years. They have very skilled players and I thought we did a solid job defending their high scoring offense," Eddleman said.

"Overall, I was very proud of the girls. We put up a great fight and it was a battle to the very end. We went toe to toe with the defending State Champions and we definitely got their respect."

"It's been an awesome journey throughout the season. We have so much to be thankful for and so many memories to cherish. We had a great team this year. I appreciate all their hard work and sacrifices. They have been a joy to coach and they have paved the way for future Maiden players and teams to follow," Eddleman added.

This Week's Devotional Message:

Your faith is not confined within the church

The busy lives we lead are like a solid fabric woven into a jumbled pattern of work, recreational pursuits and the personal problems inherent in our material world. Faith is too often omitted from the design; or at best, crowded into a small corner known as Sunday morning. But the message of faith received in church can re-weave the tangle of doubt and confusion with threads of peace, harmony and order, and mend the raveled edges of trouble; if you will only carry it with you throughout the week. Faith is not confined within the walls of the church, but that is where it begins.

BCEC sponsors three students to Government-In Action Youth Tour

The annual Big Country Electric Cooperative (BCEC) Government-In-Action Youth Tour speech contest was held March 2 at the Roby High School Auditorium. Out of an outstanding group of competitors, three winners were selected: Alannah Luce of Haskell, Mattie Johnston of Roby and Molly Pruitt of Rotan. They will join 1,500 other teens from across the country for a 10-day all-expense-paid trip to Washington, D.C. in June. Along with the trip to D.C., the students will each receive a $1,500 scholarship.

Bryan Harris of Roby

receives a $1,500 scholarship and will serve as alternate in the event one of the students is unable to go on the trip.

The purpose of this tour is to provide an opportunity for youth to visit monuments, government buildings and cooperative related organizations in order to become familiar with the historical and political environment of our nation's capital. They will enjoy the best of Washington, D.C., tour the Smithsonian Institute, Ford's Theatre, the FBI Building, Jefferson and Lincoln Memorials, Mount Vernon and countless other points of interest. The students will experience the sight of Arlington National Cemetery, the Vietnam Memorial, and the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. They will visit their Congressman's office and find out face to face what's going on in national government. Their Congressman will meet with the students and answer questions about current governmental issues.

We at Big Country Electric Cooperative are excited to offer our area youth a chance for such an experience.
