This threatened rupture between France and the Vatican is another proof of the waning political power of Papal Rome.

JAPAN has purchased a war ship built on the Tyne. While commerce and manufactures furnish the Pagans with the implements of war, Christianity must be in haste to supply them with the gospel of peace.

The Vatican having refused to approve the Archbishop whom the Pope nominated, that power has broken relations with Rome. The secular power of the Pope is rapidly dissolving, and the pathway for the Bible is being opened among all nations.

At the request of good citizens the newsmen of Newburyport, Mass., have agreed to discontinue the sale of the Police Gazette. Like action should be taken in every community where parents are anxious that their sons should grow up honest men and not thieves or desperadoes.

DAMAGES have been awarded by a Philadelphia court for damage received by falls in holes in the pavements. If a corporation is held responsible for neglect in keeping safe sidewalks, ought it not be held responsible for injuries of which the run holes it licenses occasion its citizens?

The suggestion of H. S. T. respecting the Jubilee of Texas Methodism is timely. That class-meeting held in Texas in 1834 was the beginning of a great religious movement which will continue, we trust, till the judgment day. Texas Methodists should hold it in lasting remembrance.

A MAN of vast fortune has recently taken his own life. The strange act is explained by the fact that he had encountered heavy financial reverses which unsettled his reason. That reason was deranged is possible, for no man in his right mind would take his own life. The strange thing is that a man should be so wedded to wealth that its loss should unsettle his mind. It shows how completely absorbed the mind of an immortal may become with transitory things.

The Philadelphia relief committee having on hand an unexpended balance of the fund raised for the Ohio valley food sufferers, now proposes to give part of it to the tornado victims. Indelicacy claims that Christianity is simply one of the religions of the world, no higher in its authority, no purer in the principles it announces. What other religion suggests relief to the sufferers as one of the highest obligations of its followers? When did the people of China or India ever send relief to a neighboring province in distress?

The gospel must be sent to the nations, but the money that will bear the messengers' expenses will not be paid by rich men. Now and then a gift will be laid on the altar by wealthy men, which corresponds with their obligations to God and man; but it will be mainly the gifts of the poor that will swell the treasury of the Lord and sustain the missionary in his work. David gave with all his might to supply the silver and gold with which to build the temple, and the princes gave also, but it was the gifts of the people that caused the treasury to overflow.

CRYLERS are so valuable in New York that builders make up in height what they lack in breadth of foundation. Seven and eight stories are common. Families live in apartments, and the rent diminishes as they approach the sky. One bold landlord proposes to build a tenement house fifteen stories high. It makes one shiver to think of the possibility of this building, crowded with tenants, being destroyed by fire. What risks men take every day and never give them a thought. We will guarantee that landlord will not forget to insure that lofty building; and yet there will be hundreds in it who must die in the blaze, should the house be burned, who will provide no safeguard either for body or soul.

The principal of a school in St. Louis having flogged one of the pupils was tried for assault and battery. In summing up the case the judge closed as follows:

Four years' experience in the administration of criminal law convinces me that the boy who becomes a criminal is the boy who has been whipped, and when it is a remembrance that a whipping or the holder children know that the law are committed by boys ranging in age from 14 to 20 years, the question arises: Is it better to whip a boy for a first offense, or to let him from infancy accustomed to the law of their own vicious inclinations go on from bad to worse and unrestricted in his vicious traits. The defendant is discharged.

Solomon set his sons a bad example, but his theory was not remote from the right track when he said, "Spare the rod and spoil the child." A lawless boy will usually graduate into an outlaw when he attains manhood.

REVIVAL NEWS.

9 Accessions.
P. R. ELLIOTT, Sunday, May 27, says Kempsville is looking up. The missionary collections will be above the assessment. A new class of 11 members formed. Another will be organized soon. Have received nine members. Congregations good and a revival is expected.

5 Accessions.
S. W. JONES, Lone Oak, May 20, says Bro. Neely and a good official attendance were present at the second quarterly conference, Emmaus, May 19. Congregation good, finances well up, and accessions. The circuit is in good condition; a revival expected, and the Advocate very popular.

2 Accessions.
JOHN F. COOK, Valley Springs circuit, May 22, says he held a meeting on the San Fernando, May 23. Congregations were large. Five penitents at the altar, and two accessions by letter. We have here a fine Sunday-school, good singing, good order, and good teachers, and increasing in numbers.

6 Conversions.
W. T. CLARK, Sherman, May 27, reports a meeting last Sunday at Georgetown, Grayson county. Have had 6 conversions to date, with 20 penitents last night. I will continue next week. This church is in the bounds of the Passmore work. Bro. Dixon with me four weeks were exceedingly good. Nothing like Bro. Dixon's youth. He is a promising young man; preaches well for one of his age. We are expecting a sweeping revival all over the work.

1 Accession.
W. A. SHOOK, Cooper, May 14, reports his second quarterly meeting. The church at Ben Franklin dedicated and out of debt. It cost about $1200. Preaching and singing were good, and he preached well here. We have now a good Sunday-school with our own literature. Had one accession. The church much encouraged. Prospects brightening. The circuit will represent a very good year. Nothing to fear if we do our duty, and I feel satisfied the church will do hers.

4 Accessions.
F. C. PEARSON, Walker, May 21, reports accessions at nearly every appointment. Had good meetings at Whiteoak and Williams' chapel. The latter place had an interesting class-meeting. Bro. Duke, an old itinerant, administered the sacrament. At Pine Springs preached three times and received three members. By request, Rev. E. W. Alderson preached three able sermons on baptism. He is the man for this work. He adds our round of protracted meetings will commence in June. We need help.

11 Accessions—5 Conversions.
R. R. NELSON, Galveston, May 21, desires to call attention to the strange and unaccountable opposition on the Galveston circuit, to be held the 23rd Sunday in August. The campers are requested to move in on Friday, so as to have services Friday night. Preachers and workers are invited. The camp-ground is eight miles east of Galveston, near Grove Spring. It will be self-sustaining. Arrangements will be made for persons from a distance. He invokes prayers for success. Spiritual life in the work is reviving. Four Sunday-schools, doing good work, and using our literature. Eight conversions since conference. Eleven accessions—five by letter, six by ritual. Five adults and five infants baptized.

3 Accessions.
A. J. JOHNSON, Galton, May 28, writes about the work on Bolivar Peninsula, on the main land, east of Galveston. "Notwithstanding the difficulties under which we labor, our little church on Bolivar is still on the upgrade. We had high day in 2nd May 27th. There were three accessions to the church. Three children and one adult were baptized by sprinkling, and four baptized by immersion. We need the prayers of all good Christians to help the work along as ably conducted by our worthy pastor, Bro. E. S. Dingman." We are obliged to Bro. J. for this report of this interesting work under the direction of the able preacher. They have an excellent Sunday-school. Bro. D. tells us that they are awaiting an accession every appointment. The young men's prayer-meeting and ladies' all society have a weekly prayer-meeting.

CONDENSED CORRESPONDENCE.

J. F. COOK, Valley Springs, May 14, reports a good sermon by Bro. Stevenson the 13th. Some religious interest. Two came forward for prayer. Congregations large.

G. B. KILLGORE, Medina, May 21, says a recent visit of Dr. J. G. Walker was a benediction to his people at West Spring. His sermon, recommending St. Paul and St. James on justification was much appreciated. The work is improving spiritually.

M. A. BLACK, Marblehead, May 22, reports organization of a Methodist Sunday-school at New Hope, W. D. Thornton, superintendent. They have a good start. New Hope is coming to the front. Success to the Advocate. Take care of the children.

J. D. CROCKETT, Ocmulgee, May 19, says he is just at least in a severe illness. He fears he will not be able to attend his next four appointments. Thanks Dr. Mc-Clellan one of the best of physicians, and is deeply grateful to Sister Young and other neighbors.

L. N. REEVES, Eastland, May 19, announces his camp-meeting, near W. E. Filler's, ten miles from Strawn. Dedication on the 1st Sunday in July. Come over, come all. He reports some of the converts who were baptized from infancy are allowed to follow the lead of their own vicious inclinations go on from bad to worse and unrestricted in their vicious traits. The defendant is discharged.

W. M. STOCKLEY, Williamsburg, May 27, says a shower of rain and or of grass are much needed on Boxville circuit. Corn injured and some cotton not planted for want of rain, and some of the last not up. He adds: "The Lord reigneth. Let the pomp tumble." His kind words for the author and the Advocate are gratefully appreciated.

C. C. WILLIAMS, Rosston, May 17, says: Bro. Easterling preached three sermons with power at our second quarterly meeting. Twenty officials were present. We have built a parsonage at Georgetown.

J. N. BRIDGES, Palestine, May 17, reports the pastor and family of Palestine circuit in the new parsonage, with outside work complete and ready for the painter. He expresses special thanks to the Gilbertsons of Palestine for their liberal aid. He reports the outlook on the circuit good.

JAS. DESAINT, Village Creek, May 21, writes, on May 3 his dwelling and its contents were burned, and they are needing the necessities of life. He appeals to the readers of the Advocate for aid in his distress. Any aid can be sent to him at Arlington, Tarrant county, Texas.

REV. E. B. CHAFFELL, LaGrange, May 14, writes the subjoined request: If any reader of the Advocate knows anything of the whereabouts of Sam'l T. Goode, he will please convey the information to the writer, LaGrange, Texas. When last heard from in January, 1883, he was at Fort Louis, Platte county, Colorado.

JAMES McDONALD, Birthright, reports good attendance at the second quarterly conference. Is pleased with his people. They were at first much disappointed that Bro. Hays was not returned, but he was not discouraged, as he felt he was with a people who appreciate faithful work and honest merit. The church has pledged itself to meet all its obligations.

E. L. ALDRINGER, Dresden, May 29, reports the presiding elder present at his third quarterly meeting, in due time, preaching and presiding to the profit of all. Official attendance very small. Finances away behind, and, religiously, he feels the church is in the same dire straits. Hopes to record an advance movement ere long.

J. M. DAVENPORT, St. Joe Circuit, May 15, reports the second quarterly meeting at St. Joe, Mo., a very successful one. The presiding elder, a spiritual success. He comments the opening of conference with reading and expounding Scriptures and prayer. Nearly all the official members were present. Bro. Hays was present, and his report is not forgotten in this work. Our preacher, Bro. Gorsline is much loved.

SAM'L MORRIS, Masterville, May 21, writes that Bro. S. P. Wright, of Waco, will preach at Masterville on the fourth Sunday in June and dedicate our new church at that place. Rev. Jas. Mackey, D.D., of Waco, will preach at Masterville on the first Sunday in July, and dedicate our new church at that place. Let all interested in these appointments take due notice and arrange accordingly.

GEO. W. WATKINS, Andora, May 25, gives it as his opinion, and that of many friends, that in view of Sister Piner's health, Rev. W. K. Piner was justifiable in leaving his work. He says: It was hard for him to yield to what was plainly his duty. We feel our loss most sorely, yet we feel it our duty to advise him to this course. We commend him to the Louisville conference as a faithful pastor, truly devoted to the Bible and its teachings.

A. D. GAVRELL, Granberry, May 22, expects to build a church. He says: We have some beautiful lots desired to our church by Bro. Joe Anderson. Trustees have been selected, and we cordially as such. We have $250 subscribed, and have hope of success. How desirable. There is no sanctity or solemnity about a courthouse. We are preaching to an increasing audience at Thompson's Springs, and at Granberry College, with success of good.

WESLEY SMITH, Abilene, May 14, says: "This little book will do harm." So says W. W. Horner, concerning a certain book in the Advocate of May 12. Yes, of course it will do harm to the Baptist church. It won't hurt me. The "Great Iron Wheel," by the same author, tried that thirty years ago, but the Advocate ought not to have advertised it. Once on a time when I criticized a naughty book I headed it "A needless book by a nameless author."

R. M. ADAMS, Manning, May 11, writes that he is sick. He designs starting for the West at Eagle Pass and Del Rio as soon as he is able. Rev. T. L. Adams, of Tennessee, will take charge of the Medina circuit. He reports three pleasant plagues on the Medina circuit. The Pleasant Sunday-school has received a hundred-dollar organ. They have over 750 subscribers for a church, but need help from abroad, as the membership is small. He accepts Bro. Denton's proposition. The spiritual condition of the circuit is good.

C. M. KEITH, Buffalo, May 21, sends sad news. The many friends of Bro. W. E. Weaver and family will not be surprised to hear that his little babe, that was buried on the 22d of last March, died May 19—last Saturday. It suffered 58 days, and a more patient little sufferer I never saw. Father, mother, and family had showed untiring energy in watching over it during 58 days of affliction; but at last the Lord called it home. It was interred in the Buffalo cemetery Sunday, at 3 o'clock; a large crowd in attendance. It budged here to bloom up yonder.

Many hearts will sympathize with the sorrowing family; for there are very few households that have not been invaded by death.—E. P.

M. SIMMONS, Albany, May 19, writes on interesting account of his visit to Willbarger, Baylor and Throckmorton counties. His description of the country appeared last week in the Advocate. He reports a fine Sunday-school and was delighted with the interest of the few brethren in the place. He is confident they will soon have a good church. While making a talk to the Sunday-school on little fellow, with tears, cried out: "I go to Sunday-school every day." He praised the privilege. We have a good membership at Seymour. No church, but one will be built in a few months. The church is well pleased with Bro. Hollier. At Albany the church is about completed—cost about $1500; membership is about fifty.

JAMES IRBY, Rising Star, May 24, writes about the second quarterly meeting held at Cove Valley by J. T. L. Amis; official attendance good. Collections for preacher in charge, $35.50; for Sunday-schools, $4. An evangelistic missionary society of 23 members was organized, and $2.15 collected. A committee composed of H. C. Ancliff, T. G. R. King and James Irby appointed to build a church at Rising Star. They have secured a location, and hope to build before annual conference. We need a revival.

N. A. KEEN, Bonham, May 18, writes: Our second quarterly conference passed off encouragingly. The official attendance quite full, and quarterly came up satisfactorily. One young man was licensed to preach. Our good brother Rogers have done credit to themselves in building a nice new church house costing $600 in cash. The quarterly conference, by unanimous vote, named it Binkley Chapel, and Bro. B. dedicated it in one of his sermons. If we should have one hundred conversions on this work, we would still prize our house even above this.

FROM OUR TEXAS STATIONS.

PALMERS.
May 28—JOHN R. ALLEN, pastor: We have been making a circuit at a revival in Palmers, last week. Two were converted, baptized and joined the church; a few of the members were revived, and then in spite of Bro. Pierce's earnest preaching and all that we could do, the wheels stood still. We thought best to quit, and I left so with a disappointed heart.

WACO.
May 29—JAMES MACKAY, pastor: Sunday-school 300, and 200 attendance. 11 at 11 a. m.—Sermon by pastor. Text, John 10:16. Subject: "The mysteries of the gospel." Attendance good. 4:30 p. m.—Class-meeting, led by Bro. Appell. Every Friday night our young men have a meeting for prayer and the study of the blessed Bible. The ladies have a prayer-meeting once a week. We also have the ladies' aid and missionary organization May 22.

TEXARKANA.
15 Conversions—15 Accessions.
May 28—W. D. MOUNTCASTLE, pastor: The protracted meeting at this station has just closed. Two other churches in this city joined us in the meeting. There were about 15 professions of religion and 15 accessions to the church. We expect to harvest much yet from our labors. We are advancing here every way in our church interests. Finances all up to the present time.

SAN ANTONIO.
May 27—W. J. YOUNG, pastor: The pulpit was filled by Rev. C. G. Armstrong, of the West Virginia Conference. Subject: "The power of Christ." Text: "See that ye refuse not him that speaketh, for if they escaped not him that refused him that spoke on earth, much more shall not we escape if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven." Attendance good. No service in the evening. Sunday-school well attended and interesting.

SELENA.
May 29—H. G. HORTON, pastor: Sermon by A. J. Potter, on the "Widow's Mite," followed by a good collection for San Saba Academy. At night Bro. Peter's sermon was on "I am the door." These are the best sermons we ever heard here. May 22—in the Baptist church a vibrant and eloquent sermon by J. R. Graves, of Memphis, producing an impression on the community with a variety of aspects. May 23—Methodist church service, with singing and prayer. The cause of temperance and religion alive.

MARLBOROUGH.
May 20—H. M. GLASS, pastor: Our Sunday-school has full attendance; Jesse Seragus, superintendent; application of the lesson by Rev. J. P. Mussett. Preaching at 11 a. m. by the pastor. Text, Hab. 1:2—"What God does for his people when he renews his work among them." 4 p. m.—Preaching by J. P. Mussett. Ps. xxviii:11—"Bonds of patiently waiting upon God." Preaching at 8 p. m. by Bro. Spencer. Three addresses by letter. Meeting instructed. Prayers, Refreshing showers, natural and spiritual, needed.

GALVESTON.
May 27—ST. JAMES, H. M. SEARS, pastor: Interesting Sunday-school at 11 a. m. Service at 11 a. m. conducted by Dr. L. G. John. His text was the Golden Text in the Sabbath-school lesson for the day—Acts xiii:2. The sermon was listened to with most earnest attention by a large congregation, and accomplished good among them. The "Bible" was the pastor spoke ten minutes in the lecture-room conducted by Dr. John.

May 27—ST. JAMES, H. M. SEARS, pastor: Good attendance at Sabbath-school at 11 a. m. Sermon by the pastor. Text: John 10:16—Central ideas: Walking with Christ. At night good congregation. Services conducted by the pastor. Text: Job xxii:21.

FLATON.
May 27—W. WOOLTON, pastor: Preacher sick. Weather cool and dry. Congregation Sunday morning not large. Very good attendance at Sunday-school. The pastor spoke ten minutes to the school on the subject of missions. Preached at 11 a. m. Text, Col. iii:5. Church conference at 3 p. m. Signs of distress along the line. Too much balliards and balls; too much drinking; too little prayer; too little interest in my brother's welfare. If my brother's house were on fire, I would arouse him, or use all the means in my power. My brother's soul is in danger; let some one else save him. My child is lost in the woods, so with me to find him. Certainly I will. We will do so. We will give up everything else until the child is restored to its mother's arms and its father's protection. Your child is a lost sinner, wandering away from God and heaven and eternal life—away down to hell and ruin and eternal night. Who will go after him? Who will help to bring him back? If your child is lost in the dark woods you will not sleep until he is found. How can you rest when he is every moment exposed to eternal danger? God help me. Preaching at night. Text—2 Peter 1:10-11. Very good attendance. Sacrament of the Lord's supper administered to about 75 communicants. A happy, meeting time. 1 accession to the church by ritual. To God be all the glory.

From the Continental Divide.

To the Advocate.
As I see but very little in the Advocate from this Western country, I thought I would write something that might interest your readers. My last in the Advocate gave Denning a pretty bad name, but thank God the preachers have come the Sunday-school is going on in the city with an average attendance of about thirty-five; the stores now close on Sunday; the saloons are doing a poor business, and the schools are full at service. Bro. Willis, of the M. E. Church, is here preaching with power, while Bro. Stanton is preaching, praying and laboring with all power to advance the cause of our Master. We can all rest assured with two such Methodist preachers laboring side by side with the warmest brotherly love in their hearts, that great good will be done. May God bless and help them. We have prayer-meeting Wednesday nights. While there is much wickedness, yet we cannot help believing much good has been done toward saving souls.

The contract for the building for the M. E. Church, South, is let out, the foundation has been dug and work will begin to-morrow. It will be of brick, twenty-eight by fifty in size. The cost about twenty-five hundred dollars, about one-half of which is already subscribed. Will Texas help us a little? Many Texans are here, among them some young men whose parents are yet living in Texas. The writer lives in Texas more than any other country, and wants Texas to put a few bricks in our church. Will some of the Texas Sunday-schools send us one Sunday's collection? Bro. Stanton is laboring long and hard, and would be great encouragement to him to receive something from some strange friends. We are going to take a collection in our Sunday-school for the church, and the next church that starts we will do the same for it. The Baptists and Episcopalians are also talking of building. Denning has a population of about 1500; is right on the great continental divide. East of us the water runs into the Rio Grande, and on the west it runs toward the Pacific.

We have a very good climate, with the exception of high west winds, which make the place very dusty; but the wind is not destructive. We have no surface water, but fifty feet under the surface supply is inexhaustible, and of the purest kind. No farming has been done here yet; but people are experimenting some this year. It is not much of a stock country on account of the dryness of the grass. There has been plenty of rain this year. It is usually very dry. The Southern Pacific railroad passes this place. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad forms a junction with the Southern Pacific at this point. The Silver City, Denning and Pacific railroad is just completed to Silver City, fifty miles north of us. It is a narrow gauge. All this, with mines in silver and copper in the mountains near by, will surely make this a permanent town. The Advocate comes regularly and at the right time. We get it by the Sunday morning mail, and after reading our Sunday lesson and attending Sunday-school and praying, we enjoy its columns, often reading them with tears in our eyes, and with the deeper resolves to serve God better than ever before. We take it to our work, while coming away from home, and what a pleasure while resting at noon to read such a paper. It has cheered us on many times while out here with no religious surroundings. I continue to publish all the excellent sermons. Don't let the children lounge and loaf after righteousness without being encouraged by the older children. Any who may wish to send their gifts for our church can send it to Rev. F. L. Stanton, Denning, New Mexico, and they will receive the books of all of our poor Christians in this Western country.—ISAAC SILLERS, DENNING, MONTGOMERY, N. M., May 20, 1883.

"Each" said a mother, hearing of her son who seemed to be suffering greatly. "What is the matter with him?" The physician examined the sufferer, and replied, "He's sick." "There," exclaimed the woman, "I know you could not tell what he was wrong with him. How fortunate it is that you are in the neighborhood!" And she looked at the medical gentleman with an expression that spoke of restful confidence.—ARKANSAY TRAVELER.

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS.

The majority of the ills of the human body arise from a derangement of the Liver, affecting both the stomach and bowels. In order to effect a cure it is necessary to remove the cause. Irregular and sluggish action of the Bowels, Headache, Sickiness at the Stomach, Pains in the Back and Loins, etc., indicate that the Liver is out of order, and that nature requires assistance to enable this organ to throw off impurities. Prickly Ash Bitters are especially compounded for this purpose. They are true in their action and effect a cure; are pleasant to the taste and taken easily by both children and adults. Taken according to directions, they are a safe and pleasant cure for Biliousness, General Debility, Habitual Constipation, Diseased Kidneys, etc., etc. As a Blood Purifier they are superior to any other medicine cleansing the system thoroughly, and imparting new life and energy to the invalid. Ladies' Column
The Social Critic.

BY JULIA FLETCHER TRUITT.

Once upon a time, a great many years ago, there was a social gathering at a private house, and a lady who was present, having been asked to give a select reading or recitation for the entertainment of the company assembled, complied. At the close of the performance one of the hearers grasped his host by the arm and remarked in an under tone, "Oh, come, let's get out of here, I have had enough of this stuff." A few moments afterwards, meeting a relative of the lady who had read, he said in bland and stalling confidence, "The difficulty is that there is no one here capable of appreciating that reading." These two remarks will not fail to inform the reader that the gentleman belonged to that particular variety of humanity known as the social critic, and this trifling incident will serve as a kind of prologue to my remarks.

The social critic is an animal of extensive distribution, being found, like some of the domestic animals, not only in every clime and country, but also in every community. It is not at all generally found to inhabit each social circle and what is very strange, it is supposed to be a ruminating animal, enjoying itself every night in chewing the cud of pleasant reflections over its conquests during the day. The intelligent reader will not need to be informed, in conclusion, that the animal in question has a cloven foot, but I trust that no unfavorable prejudices will be founded upon this important fact.

The social critic has been found of both sexes, of all ages, and of various degrees of respectability. Whether the sex, age, or social standing of the incumbent, however, the office is usually held by the most intelligent lady or gentleman in the community. Society is now a polished horde. Formed of two mighty tribes—the Bore and the Bear.

Only the very intelligent people are always bored, and the social critic falls into that position so naturally that he feels somewhat hurt to think that the world was not made a little more amusing for him to live in. He gets what amusement he can out of it, however. He knows very well that the rest of mankind were made for his entertainment. He believes profoundly that "scars roll to wait me; suns to light me; my footstool earth, my canopy the skies." His pitiful reminders of the world ought to be very glad that we can at least furnish amusement for the social critic. Carlyle says there are humane fireflies in the tropics which they impale with sticks and carry like torches to light travelers at night. It is rather hard on the fireflies, to be sure, but travelers must have light—and the social critic must be amused.

The social critic has frequently—nearly always—traveled. He has been as far as Atlanta, or perhaps even as far as New York, and has come back with his ideas of distances considerably improved, and with a great additional polish and refinement of manner. "Perkinsville is rather dull, after Atlanta," he says, and feels himself surrounded by beings of humdrum possibilities. How tame and dull he finds everything. Just listen what awful singing that church choir are doing! You ought to have heard the Thomas orchestra in New York. I tell you, there's mighty little intelligence in Perkinsville. These people here can't appreciate a good thing when they hear it. And so on, ad infinitum.

The social critic, much as he is bored by society, goes around a good deal. He is frequently at church, in spite of the choir; and he attends most of the social gatherings, and makes his presence felt wherever he goes. Through him we learn, with humility and sorrow, that we are not as wise, nor as learned, nor as graceful, nor as elegant, nor as traveled as we ought to be. We owe to him our knowledge of most of the defects of our community. There are men whom we would take to be very pleasant and attractive men if it were not for our critic, who informs us otherwise, in the most kindly manner; then he goes away and tells our friends of our defects; and so we find each other out all over the community, through the pleasant medium of the social critic. We do not find that peace and love spring up in his footsteps, but they are a small consideration when we can exchange them for his keen, intelligent insight into the affairs, and motives, and characters of our neighbors.

Strange as it may seem, there are some persons who have an objection to furnishing amusement for the social critic. These selfish and inconsiderate people claim that they don't wish to be made the subjects of remark by a person pretending to be their friend; and they have asked me, as biographer, to point out some of the distinguishing characteristics by which they may always recognize the presence of the social critic. For their convenience I will state that when they find a friend who regards them as the only sensible people in the community, they will certainly be the next subjects laid upon the dissecting table in the social critic's green-room. There are other indications also, no less marked. When a certain animal dressed himself in the lion's hide he frightened the smaller animals very much, until he unfortunately brayed; and the social critic has not at all a lionine roar.

T. F. DOWNEY, Millican, May 14, calls attention to the fact that the name of Rev. C. L. Spencer, who was by special motion, at the late Texas Conference, added to the Board of Education, does not appear in the minutes. The omission was of course unintended. Bro. Spencer was secretary at conference and he always does, did faithful service on the Board.

S. A. D. TORREVILLE, May 19, says Concrete has a live preacher who believes in revivals, and works for them. He adds: "Our preacher has married. We hope Concrete circuit will so contribute to his support that he will not have to leave the field of the world, but devote his time to the church."

This is exactly what Concrete and every other church should do. The preacher's claim is only a support. Let him have that, and he will work with a will.

REV. W. N. BONNER, Tyler, May 14, writes that he was with Bro. T. D. Smith at Lufkin, May 6. Congregation large and attentive; Sunday-school booming, with 50 officers and pupils. We visited one family; had just moved into the circuit without their church letters. The sister said, in answer to the question: Do you have family prayer? We have one who prays every night. Who is that? It is a little boy six years old. He had been with his pa fishing, spent the night on the bank of the river, and prayed there. I would all the church members do this. No one, not acquainted with the character of the State church and the narrow-mindedness of some of its clergy, can have any idea of the difficulties to be overcome in the way of revivals. In the fall of 1882 he held several religious services in South Germany, with marked success. At the earnest invitation of Prof. Cristlieb, and the court preacher, Dr. Stocker, he came to Berlin to hold religious services in the most neglected portion of the city. REV. J. T. L. ANNIS, Vice-President of the Church Extension Board, North-west Texas Conference, says: Please say to the brethren that subscribed to the church extension fund that the time of payment is near at hand, and the sending of the board will be in July. I have the list, and I will acknowledge receipt through THE TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

The interest in the church extension move is increasing in every part of the church. No part of our connection offers for it a broader field than our Northwestern and Western border. Responses to every call should be prompt.

REV. GEO. HINSON, Corpus Christi, May 18, writes: Rev. J. Young has just paid us a visit, leaving two signs of temperance and prohibition. He has portrayed the evils of drink, and the duty of combining effort to arrest it, that he carried his large audience with him. We organized a temperance council of 60 members, and many more are working here, for secret drinking is on the increase, and the laws of the State are not properly enforced with respect to the saloons. Prohibition is the only radical cure.

That is sound in logic and safe in policy. We guard against yellow fever by quarantine. We must quarantine society against the evils that saloons bring with them.

Board of Church Extension
To the Advocate.

Of formal applications for help, we had before the board last sixty, besides a number of suggestions that assistance was much needed, and would be asked if proper encouragement were given. One of these applications has been met in full, for another we are ready, and six others have been withdrawn. Fifty-two were faithfully examined in the light of all the information we had, and passed upon as follows:

Two asking for $2,000 were respectfully declined.

Twenty-one, aggregating $12,875.00, were granted, with the understanding that when certain formalities are complied with, and the money is in our treasury, they will be paid.

Nineteen requesting $2,200, and two in which amounts were not named, were granted, with the understanding that they were regarded with favor, but could not be acted upon because of their vagueness.

Five others soliciting $1,150, and three which did not specify amounts, were given to secretary, with instructions to say to applicants that in the judgment of this board their applications come more properly before their respective Conference Boards.

The grants made must not be construed as contracts to pay until we get the money; through the channels named on 15th page of our present discipline. Not a dollar can or will be borrowed to meet them, for our constitution says "that the board shall not involve itself in debt, and no draft will ever be signed until the money is in the treasury to pay it."

This suggests other figures. From the Treasurer's report, submitted at this meeting, we gather that he has received during the year—

From collections taken at the conference	$ 475.00
From collections taken at the conference sessions, and personal responses	2,107.00
From advertisements in, and sale of catalogues of papers, and of plates	114.00
From special donations	48.75
From collections taken in the charges, and reported and paid by the preacher	222.89
Total	$4,069.64

This is perhaps doing well, as we have been at work but a few months,

Remarkable Revival in Berlin.

A series of meetings conducted by Rev. F. Von Schlemmback, has just been concluded in Berlin. Mr. Von Schlemmback was on one of the other side of a German infidel paper, and was active in organizing a club among his countrymen in various parts of the United States, but was finally converted through the singing of little children and the kind words of an American lady. After studying five years, he was converted by the Methodist Conference of Texas, and for some years was a successful local preacher. Last summer he came to Germany for medical treatment, and through skillful physicians, he recovered of what seemed to be an incurable disease. In the fall of 1882 he held several religious services in South Germany, with marked success. At the earnest invitation of Prof. Cristlieb, and the court preacher, Dr. Stocker, he came to Berlin to hold religious services in the most neglected portion of the city. No one, not acquainted with the character of the State church and the narrow-mindedness of some of its clergy, can have any idea of the difficulties to be overcome in the way of revivals.

It seems that a spirit of intolerance is passing the church conference. Ever and anon somebody takes it into his head to send a stone or brickbat at the church conference. Here is about the last that we have seen: TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, May 10: "Bishop Hargrove's sermon at the church conference, and says there is no lawful way to get one's name on the church records except through this conference."—Colorado Methodist.

We do not know what it is to "get one's name on the church records," but if the Colorado Methodist means to get a name on the membership list, it certainly misrepresents Bishop Hargrove. It seems a little unfortunate that such statements as that made by the Colorado Methodist should get currency through the sister Advocates, seeing that the tendency is to use the church conference for about anything that chances to come into the hands of the preachers. One tries his members for dancing and tipping before a church conference, another brings an applicant before that body and asks if there are any objections to his reception into the church; another will grant letters to members in good standing with the consent of the church conference; and now here comes the Colorado Methodist, and says that Bishop Hargrove says there is no lawful way to get one's name on the church records except through this conference."

Now, these erring brethren who have been making all kinds of ill-uses of this conference, and saying that Bishop Hargrove says there is no lawful way to get one's name on the church records except through this conference."

USE THE MEDICATED GLASSES
A WONDERFUL AND SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.

These Glasses are chemically treated in the process of manufacture, and possess the property of keeping your eyes in good condition, as when first you use them. They have been carefully examined and analyzed by American and European oculists, who claim that the MEDICATED GLASSES have no equal, and can in some cases restore the sight if used a time, but in no case can the eye become impaired by their use for the following reasons:

1. The chemicals soften the light to the eye, completely doing away with that tiresome sensation that is usually experienced in using glasses after one or two hours' use.
2. The chemicals make the glasses hard; they retain their polish. Hence you will not have to "rough" them as bright and clear as first.
3. The chemicals keep the glasses cool, and the result is that the optic nerves are always cool, doing away with any feverish sensation to the eye.
4. With these glasses you can read, write or sew all night, the light having no effect on the eye, with no distressing or tiresome sensation, which usually impairs the eye.

Beware of Counterfeits.
