

Ford Shows Faith in Future by World Wide Construction Program

Top—The Ford plant at Edgewater, N. J., oppo site New York City. Center—The new plant at Long Beach, Cal. Bottom—A model of the plant being built at Dagenham, England.

THE Ford Motor Company's faith in the future of business, and especially in the future of the automobile, is evidenced by the fact that it is spending more than $60,000,000 for new plants and improvements in the United States and in foreign branches and associated companies.

The company has nine new plants under way throughout the world, while plans are being formulated for several others not yet announced. Wherever possible the new plants are being erected on sites accessible to both rail and water transportation so that, with each form of transportation supplementing the other, substantial savings will be effected.

Five of the new plants are in the United States, as follows:

Long Beach, California—This plant, recently completed to serve Southern California, has a capacity of 400 cars a day. Operating at capacity it employs 2,500 men.

Edgewater, New Jersey—The Edgewater plant, one of the company's largest assembly branches, has just been completed to serve New York City and surrounding territory. It has a capacity of 600 cars a day and employs 6,000 men.

Richmond, California—Work was started recently on a plant at Richmond, to be completed next year. It will have a capacity of 400 cars a day and will employ 2,400 men. It will supply cars to the San Francisco area.

Buffalo, New York—This plant will have a capacity of 400 cars a day and will employ 2,500 men.

Seattle, Washington—A site has been acquired and plans for a plant are being drawn.

A new manufacturing plant being erected at Dagenham, England, eighteen miles from London, to supplant the present works at Manchester, will be completed next year. It will be the largest automobile factory in the world outside the United States. Its capacity will be 200,000 cars a year.

An assembly and manufacturing plant is being built at Cologne, an assembly plant at Antwerp, and a service plant at Stockholm. Two branches—one at Perth, Australia, and one at Port Elizabeth, South Africa—were completed.

In addition the Ford Motor Company is spending several million dollars to increase the power capacity of the Rouge plant at Dearborn, Mich., and several million more in miscellaneous improvements.

It Costs Less To Have Paved Roads Than To Go Without Them

- It costs you, as the owner of a passenger automobile, about 2 1/2¢ more per mile to operate your car on dirt roads than on good pavement. The difference in cost in driving 10,000 miles is thus about $250 in favor of the paved road.
- If you use trucks to take your produce from farm to market or from store to customer, it costs you, on the average, about 2¢ more per ton-mile to operate a truck on unpaved roads than on paved roads and streets. (The figures in these paragraphs are from Bulletin 69, Iowa State College Engineering Experiment Station.)
- If your business necessitates your traveling by automobile, you use up more time and more energy on a dirt road than on a good pavement—and time is money.
- A number of Texas counties have realized the savings effected by good pavements and have already adopted large paving programs. Join the movement for paved roads in your county.

No More "Beef and Beer", As Athletic Records Fall

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Lawson Robertson is without question one of the greatest trainers known to the American track. He not only has coached many famous runners and weight men, but he also was a notable athlete himself, competing in the Olympics at St. Louis in 1904 at Athens in 1906, and at London in 1908. He was trainer and coach of the American Olympic teams in 1912, '20, '24, and '28. In view of the new records constantly being established, we have asked Mr. Robertson to explain the improvement in speed and stamina of the present day athlete. Surely no one is better qualified to speak authoritatively.

—EDITOR.

By Lawson Robertson

(Famous coach of the University of Pennsylvania, and trainer of American Olympic teams)

The balanced diet now is so common in the training of the American athlete, that I doubt if many of the present day track enthusiasts ever stop to consider how comparatively new this present system really is. We take it more or less for granted that runners, jumpers and weight men naturally balance their meat and other protein foods with certain cereals and fibrous or leafy vegetables to provide the bulk so necessary for proper elimination. Whole rice, which is nearly ideal because of its smoothness and volume of bulk—spinach, lettuce, carrots and beets—all are found regularly on college training tables these days. But let's see how this differs from the way things were done only a few brief years ago.

Beef and beer—believe it or not—were the mainstays of many an athlete whose hair now is just beginning to show signs of grey. The poisons from such a diet were worked off with plenty of physics and innumerable sweats. Today, of course, we know that this is neither a normal nor a healthy way of providing necessary bodily elimination. We now promote intestinal hygiene as nature planned that we should—through eating bulky foods such as rice (the cereal form of which has been found to be most palatable and efficacious), and quantities of the coarser vegetables. With the indigestible matter furnished by such foods, sweats and physics are unnecessary for carrying off the residue and the poisons.

Only a few years ago, too, I remember that milk was banned entirely from the training table. It really is hard to imagine such a thing, isn't it? But then even the best training was sort of a hit or miss affair. We didn't realize then, as we do now, that a man really runs on his stomach. I remember a conversation I had with Pat MacDonald some 10 or 11 years ago, when he was at his peak and was heaving the hammer and putting the shot farther than any other mortal. Pat was 44 years old then. As a kid in County Clare, Ireland, he had lived on buttermilk and potatoes. At the time he was breaking weight records right and left he was 6 feet five inches, and weighed 320 pounds. Did he eat what he liked? He did. "Pat," I said to him the day the N.A.A.U. meet opened in Philadelphia, "I suppose you are in good shape for this meet." "Sure," said Pat, "I had a shave and a hair-cut last night." Pat's records have since fallen before younger and more wisely conditioned men. It has been my theory for a long time that any person's diet—athlete or dub—should be regulated so that the intake just equals the output. Balancing our meat with plenty of fruit and cereal or vegetable cellulose—bulk, in other words—will do it, and at the same time help keep the weight normal for those whose lives are sedentary. Don't misunderstand me, however. I don't advocate putting a lot of taboos on certain foods. As a matter of fact, I let my men eat pretty much what they like, so long as they keep a proper balance of roughage in their diet.

When we consider the almost complete revolution in the dietary habits of our present day athletes, it is not hard to understand why competitors go right on breaking records. The men of today aren't the super-beings that some authorities would have us believe. They simply are keeping their running, jumping and throwing machinery in better shape through "sane stoking," and they maintain their bodies in fairly good condition the year round, all of which naturally makes the trainer's task much simpler.

Everything considered, it's my belief that a sane, balanced diet is mainly responsible for sweeping into the discard those records of the "beef and beer" days. After all, most athletes are made—not born. They win with their stomachs, and not in spite of them!

American Business Men Lured by Music To Vacations

Men of Affairs Growing Continental in Travel Tastes, French Line Officer Finds

New York City—American men are beginning to play, beginning to let business take only a part of their time. This is the belief of Henri Quede, commissaire of the S.S. France who takes many pleasure-seeking Americans abroad each year.

American life is largely responsible for the new power of men to relax. Music has a 'dolce far niente' effect on any nation. Constantly singing and dancing to happy, joyous music with tune and lyric telling of Araby, Zanzibar, Hawaii, Suez and what not, one really develops a yen to start on the magic carpet.

"ON TEXAS FARMS" BY W. H. DARROW, EXTENSION SERVICE EDITOR

Somebody has figured out that it took 25 acres of cotton this year to make enough money to buy pork enough to supply the average farm family for a year. Sounds exaggerated but it stands the test of reasonableness. Ten-cent cotton on quarter-acre acres won't stand for many comparisons.

Farm women are not slow about showering kicks on Old Man Cotton while he is down this fall, either. A home demonstration club woman, Mrs. Rhea Hanby of Dallas county, told a radio audience the other day that "it would take 10 bales of my 4-H pantry shelf. Those pantry shelves hold food worth $100.55 in a grocery store. It took 30 acres of my husband's field to make the 10 bales of cotton that full-stocked pantry is worth."

Such items as this are seized with elation by the crusaders against a large cotton acreage. Some go so far as to regret that cotton grows in the South at all. Yet F. O. Maston, master farmer of Collingsworth county, is not a slave—far from it—and he raised more than 200 acres of cotton this year. Perhaps the explanation is that he made more than a bale to the acre, and in a dry year.

But high or low, lean years or fat, cotton always needs the support of a full pantry its wondrous to perform. Down in Southwest Texas a few thousand home demonstration club women have canned 1,003,848 containers of home-grown fruit, vegetables, meat and the like. With an average of close to 200 cans per home these folks can look winter in the face—and the banker, too. The home demonstration agents reporting are from Anderson, Shelby, Angelina, Rusk, Nacogdoches, Houston, Polk, Cherokee, Jasper, Jefferson, Liberty, San Augustine, Walker and Orange counties.

The time that young men used to spend burning the midnight oil is now being squandered on another flame. Pennsylvania's loss of two members of the next Congress isn't going to help the unemployment situation any in the state.

"Baron I started taking Black-Draught, three years ago, my health was very bad," writes Mrs. C. C. Cannon, 915 Cassard St., Beaumont, Texas. "I suffered constantly from constipation. I had headaches when I got up in the morning, and I felt dull and sluggish. I hardly ate a meal that my food agreed with me. Frequently I would have gas on my stomach, and felt awful. "I read about Black-Draught, and I thought it might help me. After I had taken it a little while, I felt much better. It relieves constipation. I keep it on hand so when I need a laxative I will have it. In the three years I have been taking it, I have never found anything as good for constipation."

SOCIETY and Club

Pre-Holiday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Hunt entertained a number of their friends with a Thanksgiving party Wednesday evening in their home, where Eighty-Four was the diversion. The living and dining suites were made more attractive by the use of orchid chrysanthemums and red chrysanthemums respectively.

The Thanksgiving motif was carried out in tallies and other accessories, and a delicious refreshment plate consisting of plum pudding topped with whipped cream, coffee, and almond nuts was served to the following:

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Couch, Mr. and Mrs. John Couch, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Daugherty, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Pace, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wair, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Fields, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Grissom of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lewis, Judge and Mrs. Joe A. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. "The One For Another Class"

Say if you want a good Sunday School and a good teacher join "The One For Another Class." We have the best teacher you could find anywhere, Miss Myrtle Kennedy. Our Sunday School class believes in helping the church and anyone who is in need. To make each an every-one enjoy their work we mix fun with our work. The contest we started last month ended Sunday Nov. 22.

November 29 our teacher gave us a party. Talk about a good time we had it. We played games of all kinds and were enjoyed by everyone. Hot chocolate and sandwiches were served to the following: Aurline Cousins, Clara Pauline Wilfong, Ruth Morgan, Dorothy Foote, Juanita Stone, Eva Belle Pippin.

Margert Richey, Evadell Squires, Jerene Kinnison, Allegra Kinnison, Francis English, Pauline Deisman, Elizabeth Stewart, Beulah Cass, and Mary Louise Garrison of Denton, Fred Sanders, Jr., Joseph Gose, T. C. Stewart, Leo Roberts, Hubert Watson, our sponsor, Miss Ola Bell Kennedy, Mrs. W. C. Phippen, Mrs. A. Dunn, Miss Myrtle Kennedy.

The Berean Class, "The Class of Southern Hospitality."

We didn't have such a good crowd at Sunday School last Sunday. We are not getting any where if we don't come. The more you stay out the more you won't stay out. You will get to where you lose all interest in coming and just quit. That isn't going to get you any where. Why not come back and take interest and help us and yourself.

Doc Ammons brought us a very good lesson although he was not prepared to teach it. We all must be back next Sunday and bring some one with us and be sure and read your lesson text if nothing else. Be on time, we didn't have any program last Sunday on that account. Nine thirty is the beginning of our opening exercises.

In last week's Free Press the fictitious names of the members of the wedding party, composed of pupils in the C. M. Kaigler expression class and the George H. The auditorium of the First Christian church was filled to capacity and many stood in the rear and at the sides to witness the ceremony, conducted entirely by these little tots. They were:

Farm Home of J. L. Grace Burns Last Thursday

The farm home occupied by J. L. Grace and family about two miles south of town was totally destroyed by fire of undetermined origin last Thursday about noon. The family was away from the house at the time of the fire, which had gained such headway before it was noticed that it was impossible to save any of the household goods. A truck from the local fire department was called to the scene, but was unable to be of any assistance.

The house was a modern five-room stucco building, built only a few years ago, and was the property of G. R. Lloyd, who states that a small amount of insurance was carried on the building.

TO THE TAX PAYER OF HASKELL INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT

As the time for payment of School taxes draws near, we are made to realize that our school money will be very short.

If our schools are to run the full term this year, we must pay our taxes, and we appeal to all who are interested, and who believe our schools should run the full term, to pay and pay now.

Let us make a sacrifice for our schools and our school children and take care of this obligation now while we have the money.

Modern Music Supplants Big Business As Career

Son of Steel Magnate Becomes Famous Orchestra Leader

New York City.—"Music is as much a Big Business as steel." This is the opinion of Don Bigelow, blue stocking orchestra leader of Manhattan.

"Music is as practical as any so-called big business," Bigelow declares. "My father has an office at his steel plant ready for me, but I like music better and I'm making more money than any steel plant could pay a man who had been on the job only one year."

"A few years ago, musicians were a kind of family curse. To have one around the home was about like having a cancer old maid aunt. One didn't talk about it. But now all that is changed. The musician is respectable and respected for he must know his business onions, especially if he is an orchestra leader. He has to make contracts involving millions and must certainly know what it is all about before he assumes a modern orchestra pay roll.

"Yet commerce has not taken the artistry out of music. The modern dance band player must know his instrument perfectly. He must read well and be a thorough musician.

"However, the general run of music has improved because high-salaried men want good stuff to play. Each piece must have some outstanding feature. It must not be just another number. Just now college songs are in vogue and believe me, they must be good. 'Betsy Co-ed' is illustrating of the new type of college fox-trot that goes for any college. It has college 'it' and when a song makes the connection this one has, then it must have also real music merit."
