FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR

TEACHERS OF FOUR COUNTIES TO MEET HERE IN OCTOBER

More than 350 school teachers will assemble here on Thursday and Friday October 27th and 28th, in a 4 County Teachers Institute, representing Haskell, Throckmorton, Knox and Stonewall counties. Plans for the Institute were formulated at a meeting of the county superintendents from the different counties at a meeting held last Thursday in the office of Miss Minnie Ellis.

The institute for several years has been known as the Tri-County Institute, with teachers from Haskell, Knox and Stonewall. Last year Knox County held their own institute and Throckmorton county teachers joined the group instead of Knox county. This year all four counties will be here.

The program has not been completed, but it is being planned to secure some of the best instructors in the state to take part in the two days meet.

At the meeting held last Thursday, C. B. Bredlove, superintendent of the Haskell city schools was chosen director of the institute and the organization will be completed at an early date.

MUCH INTEREST REPORTED IN BAPTIST REVIVAL

With its season's revival well into the second week of services, officials of the First Baptist Church here report much interest and response to the messages brought by the Rev. S. D. Taylor, pastor of the First Baptist Church, San Saba. Burl King of Abilene has proved an able leader of the song services and has brought good messages in solo throughout the meeting.

The evangelist has brought exhortations to church members as well as to the lost and, as a result, there have been a number of re-dedications to service. There are thirty additions to the church to date, with seventeen for baptism and thirteen coming by letter. The church is confident that the final number of conversions and additions will far exceed these totals and that renewed interest will carry the organization far in its program.

Prayer meetings preceding each evening's service have meant much in the spirit of the revival. Excellent lessons have been brought to the four groups which meet at 7:15 o'clock, with the following leaders: A. C. Pierson, men's group; Mrs. B. M. Whiteker, women's group; Mrs. H. R. Whitley and Brother Taylor, young people; Burl King, Boosters' Band.

Night services are being held on the lawn just back of the church, where arrangements were made to seat 1200 persons. Practically every seat has been taken at each service until rain prevented both an open air service and a large attendance Tuesday night. Morning services are being held inside the church and, although the crowds are not large at these meetings, a good spirit is felt.

Rev. H. R. Whitley, pastor and members of the First Baptist Church urgently invite the people of Haskell to attend the series of services which will be held at 10 o'clock each morning and 8 o'clock each evening throughout the remainder of this week and express their appreciation of the cooperation shown by other churches in the city.

Mrs. Oswald Cois of Buie, Mrs. H. H. Hester of Fort Worth, and Miss Lois Earnest of this city visited their sister, Mrs. C. A. Murray of Canyon last week. Mrs. Hester is visiting in Anson this week, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Pittard.

Miss Hattie Paxton returned home this week from Austin, where she studied in Texas University this summer. She will leave Monday for Big Lake, Texas, where she will teach English in the high school.

Mrs. J. William Odbery of Platteview was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Odbery, last week.

OLD LAND MARK HERE BEING TORN DOWN THIS WEEK

The old Haskell Hotel, which was erected in 1885 as the county's first courthouse, is being torn down this week and the lumber in the building is being hauled to the north-west part of the county and will be used in farm buildings.

Regarding the old landmark, Mr. R. E. Sherrill furnishes us the following story:

"In 1885 when Haskell was a cozy little town of probably 250 or 300 people and the county had just been organized, the Commissioner's Court voted $15,000 in bonds to build a courthouse. They found they could not sell the bonds, for none of them had any connections with money for such investment. There was a young man here who had recently come from Austin and was engaged in the real estate business, and he told them he thought he could sell the bonds. So they agreed to give him the opportunity. He went to Austin and the officials readily took the bonds, he says, more to please him than anything else, for he had worked in the treasurer's office before he came to Haskell. While he was down there he concluded that was a good time to bring back with him his sweetheart who had been waiting for him. So they married and started back with the money. When they got to Albany they had to come over by a hack that brought the mail, and there had been some robbing of the mails, and Lomax, for that was who it was, gave most of the money to his new wife, and she hid it in her bustle. On the way out they were approached by two men riding at full speed towards them and he says his heart liked to jumped out of his mouth until the strangers approached and asked if they could get a drink of water. Well, they got home all right, and delivered the money and the court house was built. It was a square framed building and they thought they had a fine courthouse, for when compared with the buildings in this country at the time, it was a fine house. With four rooms below and a court room above, it accommodated the county for all purposes, except the clerk's records. A rock building was then put up to keep the records safe from fire.

"This little courthouse of which they were so proud served for religious purposes also. I have heard in this house some of the best preaching I have heard in Haskell at any time. It also served for a dance when the young people wanted to have a dance, unless there was a new house just built and no one yet in it. In this courthouse some very interesting court cases were tried, but we can not go into that here now.

"After serving the county for about five years the commissioners thought they needed a better building, and began talking of building a new court house. So in the year 1891 the court asked for bids for a house not to exceed $60,000 and Lamour and Watson got the contract for a new stone building to be erected at a cost of $43,500 for the building alone, and then the furnishings and clock on top of it made the total cost about $55,000. It was an elegant building for the money.

"But the old court house had to be disposed of, and it was moved to a lot northeast of the square and used for a hotel by Mrs. Meadors for some time, and then by others. After a while it was bought by Bill Patterson and he began moving it to a lot southeast of the square which is now occupied by a filling station. But before he could get it to the place an ordinance was passed making the fire limit such as to take in this lot, so that a wood building could not be put there, and he had then to find a new location. He bought the lot where it has been standing for some time, and enlarged and remodeled it and converted it into a regular hotel. For several years it has been used for this purpose, till now it is going the way of all its kind. It is a simple, which held its head high in the air for many years and years ago when taken down. And now

JUDGE ARMSTRONG OF FORT WORTH WILL SPEAK HERE

Judge Geo. W. Armstrong of Fort Worth, Independent candidate for Governor, will speak at the courthouse in Haskell at 11 a. m. Friday Sept. 9th.

Judge Armstrong is a logical and forceful speaker. He has written several books upon the operations of the Federal Reserve System and the money question. He was invited to Washington to make an argument as a monetary expert in support of the Patman bill. He will point out a way by which the State can establish its own currency and credit system, and thereby restore values and prosperity.

Judge Geo. W. Armstrong of Ft. Worth, candidate for Governor on the Independent ticket.

HASKELL RECEIVES FIRST BALE COTTON OF SEASON FRIDAY

PERKINS-TIMBERLAKE STORE WILL OPEN SEPT. 17TH

F. P. Timberlake, vice-president of Perkins-Timberlake Company, F. M. Tittle, merchandise manager, and Raymond Taylor of the Wichita Falls store were in Haskell Monday conferring with workmen who are busy engaged in refitting windows and interiors of the new store on the north side of the square, and getting the building ready for merchandise which will begin to arrive next week.

Fixtures are being checked and improvements added that will make this one of the best stores in their entire group, it was stated.

According to a statement made by the officials Monday, it is planned to open the Haskell store on September 17th. However, we are assured that due publicity will be given this event in the columns of this paper.

Heart Drama Is Latest Work of Famed Novelist

It is an axiom among motion picture producers that a Fannie Hurst story is sure box-office material.

Certainly, it is true that her books attain a circulation into the hundreds of thousands and that the films made from these achieve a high order of artistic merit. Miss Hurst rarely writes directly for the screen, contenting herself with her own particular medium—the novel. However, she considered a recent story idea of hers so well adapted for the screen that she wrote it specially for that purpose.

This story is RKO-Radio Pictures "Symphony of Six Million," showing at the Texas Theatre Wednesday and Thursday Sept. 7 and 8, with Ricardo Cortez and Irene Dunn co-feature.

Mrs. B. W. Bigham and granddaughters, Anita and Frances Collier, spent the first of the week in Wichita Falls.

Little Miss Billie Lou Hallmark of Wichita Falls is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Collier.

Mrs. T. J. Arbuckle spent the first part of this week in Wichita Falls.

the body itself is taken down to the ground. So the old building has lived its life, usefully for about forty-seven years, and is to be torn to pieces and live again in a new form. Along with it goes the memory of many a hard fought battle, many a struggle for life and liberty, and many a sad recollection of liberty gone forever. The old buildings that have associated with them so many memories of days long gone past are themselves slowly passing away. Soon there will be none of them left. Their work is done, their days of usefulness gone. So we bid it goodbye, with the hope that it will find a suitable new location and start life anew.

HEAVY RAINS OVER HASKELL COUNTY

Rain which began falling Tuesday night and continued almost continually since, ranging from a slow drizzle to a heavy downpour, totalling more than five inches, has covered all of Haskell county and West Texas this week. The moisture will be beneficial to the cotton crop and will put a thorough season in the ground for the preparation of the land for small grain.

The rain will slow up cotton picking for several days, which had just begun, but will be welcomed by most of the farmers, as some sections of the county had begun to need the moisture to insure the maturing of the crop.

COTTON PICKERS SOON TO BE HERE

As in the spring time thoughts of the young folks turn to love, so at this time of year in a cotton country the minds of the farmers are now concerned with how they are going to get this big cotton crop gathered.

Judging from conversations heard on the streets, the cotton growers plan using all the home labor available. They are not wishing to send any money out of the county which can be kept at home. But one thing seems certain—that there is going to be more cotton made in this county this year than the home boys can gather. After all the people in the county who want to work have been given jobs, the cotton raisers will of necessity have to import some pickers.

Henry Atkeison returned from Gladewater Thursday, where he has been supervising a grocery store for the past month.

JUDGE W. H. MURCHISON DIES IN BASTROP, TEXAS

The funeral services of Walter H. Murchison, 62, widely known attorney here for the past 25 years, were held at Bastrop, Texas, Monday afternoon, where he had gone a few days prior to his death to visit his family, who were spending the summer there.

His body was found in the Colorado River, which runs through the town of Bastrop, Sunday morning shortly after he had left his family to go down town. Judge Murchison had been in ill health for more than a year and despondency over his physical condition is believed to be the cause of his act. He is said to have left a note to the family.

Mr. Murchison was known throughout Texas as an outstanding criminal lawyer. He was a gifted orator and a close student of criminal law. He was educated in the Southwestern University for the ministry, but abandoned the pulpit for the bar.

Besides his wife, survivors are three sons, Walter H. Murchison, Jr.

attorney of Haskell; Thomas and Grady Murchison, and one daughter, Mary Sue Murchison.

Several friends from this city attended the funeral. Among them were County Attorney French M. Robertson, Ben Charlie Chapman, Tom Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. John Oates.

A number of leading attorneys and judges of this section paid tribute to Judge Murchison in statements issued in the Abilene Reporter-News Tuesday.

"I considered Judge Walter Murchison one of the outstanding lawyers of West Texas," said Judge W. R. Chapman of 104th district court, Monday. "He was a close student, very thorough, a man of his word, and his passing is a distinct loss to the bar in this section."

Judge M. S. Long, 42nd district court, said: "I admired Judge Murchison's attainments and am shocked and distressed to learn of his untimely death. He was one of the strongest men before a jury I ever heard."

Laying in Food for the Winter

Canning according to a definite budget is the way to provide well for a term family, Mrs. August Hamilton, who lives near Ruby in Haskell county, has found. She is a member of the Household Home demonstration club in her community. In the picture Mrs. Hamilton stores her preserves in the steam boiler with the aid of her daughter.

MRS. FERGUSON LEADS STERLING IN CLOSE RACE FOR GOVERNOR

NEW THEIS STORE HERE WILL OPEN ABOUT SEPT. 15TH

The new Theis dry goods store will open about September 15th, if the work on remodeling the Alexander building can be completed and the stock of merchandise arrive from the market, according to Mr. Anton Theis, who was in the city the first of the week.

Mr. Theis left Tuesday for market and expects to return to Haskell some time next week. While here he secured a lease on the Roberts residence, formerly occupied by C. B. Braedlove, on Clark street, and will move his family here immediately.

FARMERS WARNED TO LIGHT WAGONS

Farm wagons operated on any designated State highway at night without regulation lights will subject their owners or operators to arrest, warned officers this week. It was stated that all such wagons should be equipped with reflectors on the rear and a lantern in front.

"The law governing operation of farm wagons on the highways at night is going to be enforced," a highway patrolman stated. "Since it will soon be time for farmers to begin hauling cotton to gin, I would suggest that they give attention to this matter now."

A number of Haskell people were disappointed Wednesday afternoon, when the partial eclipse of the sun was obscured by the heavy rain which was falling at the time. The eclipse began in this section about 1:30, reaching the greatest point about 2:30 and was scheduled to disappear around 3 o'clock.

According to newspaper reports it was cloudy in the New England states where the eclipse was total with the exception of a few points in isolated places.

ATKEISON'S PLAN TO OPEN STORE IN ROCHESTER

W. H. Atkeison and sons, who own and operate the "M" System stores here and at Munday, will open a new grocery at Rochester at an early date. They secured a lease on the Kay building, formerly occupied by Baker-Campbell Company, and expect to open a real up-to-date store in that thriving little city.

"The Wet Parade" Strong Offering at Texas Theatre

The chaos, fervid excitement and intense drama of modern times provides a sensational background for "The Wet Parade," opening Sept. 5 and 6 at the Texas Theatre as one of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's most important releases.

The picture covers three national periods, the pre-war era, the war years during which the prohibition enactment was passed and the modern period in which flagrant disregard of the law has given rise to innumerable dramatic conflicts and has resulted in such typically modern phenomena as racketeers, crime waves, political corruption, kidnapping rings, speakeasies and graft in hundreds of forms.

Mrs. Lillian Williams and son of Houston are here visiting her mother, Mrs. Sarah English.

The hottest political campaign in the history of the state, or during the past thirty years at least, came to a close last Saturday, when approximately 950,000 Texas voters marched to the polls and cast their vote for their respective candidates. The unofficial returns from the state give Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson a lead of about 2,000 votes over her opponent, Ross A. Sterling in the Governor's race.

Ernest O. Thompson defeated Gregory W. Hatcher for Railroad Commissioner, 4 year term.

C. V. Terrell defeated Lee Satterwhite for Railroad Commissioner, 6 year term. Terrell was running for re-election.

William Pierson was re-elected Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, defeating J. E. Hickman of Eastland.

Geo. B. Terrell defeated Pink L. Parrish for Congressman-at-Large Place No. 1.

Sterling P. Strong defeated Joe Burkett for Congressman-at-Large, Place No. 3.

Wilbourne B. Collier defeated Oliver Cunningham for re-election as State Senator.

H. F. Grindstaff of Aspermont defeated French M. Robertson of Haskell for District Attorney of the 39th Judicial District.

In the Sheriff's race W. T. Sarrels was re-elected, defeating Al Cousins by 222 votes.

G. F. Mullino defeated H. M. Cooner for Commissioner of Precinct No. 1, by 241 votes.

T. M. (Tom) Mapes, according to the unofficial count, has defeated H. Weinert by two votes for Commissioner of Precinct 2, Mapes receiving 389 votes, and Weinert receiving 387.

P. G. (Buck) Kendrick defeated Clyde Gordon for Commissioner of Precinct No. 3 by 94 votes.

B. G. Swinson was elected Public Weigher of Precinct No. 5 (Rochester) over J. H. Cooper.

Ben Bagwell's Store Building Remodeled

The front and interior of the Ben Bagwell store on the north side of the square is being remodeled this week. The entrance is being moved to the center of the building and new show windows placed on each side of the entrance. The interior of the building is being re-finished and the partition in the rear moved back several feet, giving more room for the display of merchandise.

The new arrangement will give better light as well as make it more convenient to wait on the trade. Mr. Bagwell states that he is very optimistic over all prospects and is having these changes made in the store now in order to be ready for the rush.

BABY DIES

Kenneth Wayne, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Hoyal of the Vontress community, died Monday afternoon at 1:30, and the remains were laid to rest in the Roberts cemetery Tuesday afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. C. Jones. Funeral arrangements were in charge of J. H. Kinney of the Kinney Funeral Home.

Mrs. J. H. Kinney and daughters Sue and Kathryn, visited relatives in Gorman the first of the week, returning home Tuesday.

Mrs. J. H. Kinney had as her guest this week her father, J. T. Purdy of Gorman, and her sister, Dr. Daisy I. Purdy of Kingville.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Donohoe and son Thomas Lee, returned Tuesday from Muskogee, Okla., where Mr. Donohoe has been in the hospital. They toured the Ozarks and several places of interest while away with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clark.

Miss Joseph Paxton left Monday for Lubbock, where she will be with her mother, Mrs. Lillian Williams, and her sister, Miss Lillian Williams, who will be with her mother, Mrs. Sarah English.

Side Quit Hurting, Got Stronger, Well; CARDUI Helped Her

Mrs. R. L. West, of Huntsville, Ala., writes: "I was weak and run-down. I had a pain in my side, and I kept losing weight. I grew nervous over my condition—this was unusual for me, for I am very cheerful when I am well and don't easily get nervous. I knew I ought to take something. My aunt told me I ought to try Cardui, which I did. I began to feel better. I kept it up until I had taken three or four bottles. My side quit hurting and I was soon feeling strong and well." Cardui is sold at drug stores here.

Tables were arranged on the lawn where several games of contract bridge were enjoyed, after which a lovely refreshment plate was passed to the following: Misses Nettie McCollum, Madeline Hunt, Mesdames Lola Welsh Bledsoe, Hill Oates, C. V. Payne, Wallace Cox, John V. Davis, and the hostess.

Walton-Richey.
The marriage of Mrs. Opal Walton and Mr. W. L. (Bill) Richey has been announced. The secret marriage took place at Lamesa, Texas, July 2nd, with the pastor of the First Baptist Church reading the wedding vows. Mrs. Richey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Martin of this city and is well known here, being very popular in church and social activities. She has been a member of the Sayles school faculty for the past two years and was re-elected for the coming year.

Mr. Richey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Richey of near Haskell. He has been a member of the faculty of the Haskell High School for the past three years. He has served as football coach also during that time.
After a short visit to San Angelo and other places, Mr. and Mrs. Richey will be at home at the Alexander apartments. They have a host of friends who join us in wishing them much happiness.

J. O. L. Y. Bridge Club Entertained.

Last Thursday night Misses Frances Walling and Lilly Faye Stoker entertained the J. O. L. Y. Bridge Club with a slumber party. During the earlier part of the evening we went to the show and then came home and ate ice cold watermelon. At twelve, ice cream was served which some few of the guests were kind enough to help make.

Kate, Anna Maude, and Lillian had pledged themselves to keep the rest of the party awake all night, and knowing that the best way to do this would be to start singing, they started. But the others thinking that anything would be better than this torture, joined in to make it less grating on their nerves. But Anna Maude, thinking that we were singing a "lullaby" went to sleep and several of the others knowing what we were trying to sing, got disgusted and also went to sleep.

After singing until 3 o'clock, Kate, Wilda, Elizabeth and Lillian, finding that they were the only ones awake, joined in singing "Good-Night, Sweetheart," and then went to sleep (to everybody's sweet dreams). The next morning a lovely breakfast was served to the following: Misses Anita Collier, Lillian Kaigler, Elizabeth Gilbert, Annabelle Burt, Mattie Muriel Walling, Morris Sue Gilbert, Margaret Waldrop, Anna Maude Taylor, Wilda Pippin, Kate Darnell and the hostesses, Lilly Faye Stoker and Frances Walling.

Weinert P. T. A. Entertains.

On Monday evening August 22nd, a reception was given at the Baptist church by the Weinert Parent Teachers Association, in honor of the faculty members. The school board, and many of the patronage were present.

The guests were cordially welcomed by a "peppy" and inspiring address from the president, Mrs. C. P. Baker. The entertainment, consisting of a newspaper minstrel, music, jokes, contests, and an impressive pantomime of the song, Ben Bolt, was delightful. Last but not least, delicious refreshments of sandwiches and tea were served.

The spirit of optimism was present, and by the cooperation that has begun, and the teamwork which we expect to continue, we hope to make this a profitable school year.

Shower Honoring Bride.

On Saturday afternoon August 27 Mrs. Stratton gave a miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. Lawrence Mapes.

Their friends gathered at 3:30 to enjoy a social chat, and after enjoying a few lively games, Mrs. Mapes was presented with a basket overflowing with beautiful and useful gifts. The gifts were unwrapped and after they were admired by all present, iced tea and sandwiches were served to Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. Beard, Mrs. Gues, Mrs. Mapes, Mrs. Dee Holcombe, Jake Holcombe, Mrs. John Mayfield, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Toner, and the honoree, Mrs.

Mapes.
Mrs. Mapes before her marriage was Miss Mildred Tanner.

Former Haskell Resident Injured in Automobile Wreck

From the Baylor County Banner, Seymour: W. B. Murphy, manager of the Texas Theatre, had no more than recovered from a recent auto accident before he went down again. This time the scene of the latest mishap was laid in Breckenridge, when Mr. Murphy was driving along the streets of that place. He started to turn around, when another car hit him, bringing on injuries that came near being fatal. A little more and a skull injury would have ended his life. His chest was partly caved in, with a few broken ribs and minor damages.

The sister of the injured man, Mrs. J. H. Dycus of Illinois, has returned from Breckenridge and reports her brother getting along very well, although with some difficulty in healing of the skull injury.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 24th SENATORIAL DISTRICT:

The returns indicate that you have chosen me, by a substantial majority, to represent you in the State Senate—an honor, yes, but (more than that) a great responsibility, especially in such a time as this.

It is my earnest hope that my endeavors will have a share in bringing about a simplification of government at greatly reduced cost to the people, and a return of prosperity through a realization of Thomas Jefferson's ideal, "Equal rights to all, special privileges to none."

I greatly appreciate the expression of confidence reposed in me. My constant purpose shall be to be the representative of every part of the district and of every person in it, and to achieve that which will bring the greatest good to the greatest number. I invite your advice, your suggestions and your counsel.

Thanking you for your support, I am,
Sincerely yours,

THE SILENT SALESMAN

By CLAYTON KANE

In good times the average merchant uses advertising freely, but when sales slacken he uses less of it.

In other words, when he needs it less he uses more and when he needs it more he uses less.

In both good times and bad, I have made this advertising observation—the merchant who ignores it, this Silent Salesman that "speaks" through space with print, is business-blind and groping.

He overlooks the advertising media so easily available in his community, and so essential to stimulate sales and speed up business—and how often his blindness is his own undoing.

Here is Miss Katherine Wilson of Brownsville, Texas, exhibiting her badge of membership in the newly organized Tarpon Club. The badge is made from the scale of a six-foot tarpon Katherine landed in the waters of the Gulf to make her eligible for membership. What tarpon wouldn't want to be landed by this fair fisherman, we ask!

HUMAN BUSINESS FRAILTY

The shop owner or merchant who finds fault with the way the other fellow is doing business, quite frequently is the man who himself is constantly doing things opposite to rules that are best for the community. Most every line of business today is confronted with some problem or another pertaining to competition. It is really good that the business world revolves on principles of this sort. Without them we would all become stale; there would be no pep or enthusiasm and we would be a lazy and indolent lot.

A community where merchants refuse to trade with one another is a weak spot. Yet there are places like this. The money left at home would be utilized by home folks over and over again. Once it is transferred from the locality to a larger center, it is lost to the pool; perhaps never to return. A sad thought and it reads almost like an obituary. It is slow death to a community. Merchants in larger centers will have little need for spending money in the small town and they don't propose to do so. They are however, baiting small town citizenry constantly and thereby sapping the strength from smaller communities. Why be weak and fall for it?

What can be done about it? United action on the part of merchants will help. Patronize the other business man when he sells something out of your line. If you sell groceries don't look for a cheap wholesaler to sell you a suit of clothes at cost, etc. Pay your neighbor his reasonable profit. He could perhaps buy groceries at wholesale if he tried. The same is true in the printing field. The small town merchant who spends money to have printing done away from home is not fair to that community. He is spending this money with an outside firm that brings little or nothing to the town in question. Surely it is doing nothing to build the town up.—Independent, Jordan, Minnesota.

HOW TO HELP BUSINESS

Dr. J. Russell Doubman, professor of merchandising in the Wharton Business School at the University of Pennsylvania, told the annual convention of the Retail Merchants' Association, meeting at Philadelphia, that one sure way of improving business is newspaper advertising.

He referred to a study made recently by the University of Toledo, which include the opinions of consumers regarding advertising. It was found that 60 per cent of the men and 70 per cent of the women read the newspaper advertising regularly, as part of the day's news.

Lately there has been a feeling that the way to help business was to boost stock values. That helps, in the present state of public psychology, but advertising is more constructive.

THE SILVER LINING

Every cloud has a silver lining, according to the old proverb, and there is considerable evidence that the cloud of depression which has hung over us during the past three years is no exception.

One of the evidences is that the national health has been better and the death rate lower during these years. The first quarter of 1932 showed the lowest death rate ever recorded among the industrial policy holders of America's largest life insurance company. Especially noticeable has been the fewer deaths from influenza, pneumonia, and diabetes, diseases which often result from too much eating and drinking. As Dr. Bundeson, Chicago commissioner of health says, "fewer people are digging their graves with their teeth."

But nobody is starving, although many have been able to obtain only a limited amount of plain food. Health Commissioner Wynne, of New York, declares that there is much loose talk going on about possible starvation, malnutrition and consequent impairment of health in that city. For the first four months of this year the death rate in the nation's metropolis was only 11.91 as against 13.19 for the same period last year, while the infant mortality was even more markedly less, dropping from 69 to the thousand in 1931 to 56 to the thousand this year.

In the opinion of many, the depression has had a moral and spiritual value, also. There has been developed a greater disposition toward kindness and helpfulness. Never before has there been such a degree of solicitude for the unfortunate. There is less arrogance and snobbishness; less false pride.

The depression has taught all of us some salutary lessons, and we shall emerge from it more thoughtful, more considerate and more charitable than we were before.

REVISED PSALM

Hoover is my shepherd; I am in want.

He asketh me to lie down on park benches;

He restoreth my doubt in the Republican party;

He leadeth me in the paths of destruction for his party's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of destruction—I fear no evil, for thou art with me, the politicians and the profiteers they frighten me.

Thou prepareth a reduction in my salary, before me and in the presence of mine enemy.

Surely unemployment and poverty will follow me all the days of the Republican administration and I will dwell in a mortgaged house forever.

How Old?

He doesn't look a day over fifty. And feels like forty.

At the age of 42. That's the happy state of health and pep a man enjoys when he gives his vital organs a little stimulant!

When your system is stagnant and you feel sluggish, headachy, half-alive—don't waste money on "tonics" or "regulators" or similar patent medicines. Stimulate the liver and bowels. Use a famous physician's prescription every drug store keeps. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup.

This appetizing syrup is made from fresh laxative herbs, active salts, and pure peppermint. One dose will clear up almost any case of indigestion, biliousness, constipation.

But if you want to keep in fine shape, feel fit the year 'round, take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's syrup every few days. You'll eat better, sleep better and feel better. You will never need another laxative.

Give the children a little of this delicious syrup two or three times a week. A gentle, natural stimulant that makes them eat and keeps the bowels from clogging. And saves them from so many sick spells and colds.

Have a sound stomach, active liver and strong bowel muscles that expel every bit of waste and poison every day! Just keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup peppermint on hand; take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. See if you don't feel new vigor in every step.
