FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR

INCREASING NUMBER ENTRIES COMING IN FOR HASKELL FAIR

Early entries for the Haskell County Fair indicate a large number of exhibitors will be on hand for the eighth annual Haskell County Fair. A large number of farm products, including poultry, live stock and past products that have not in the past been exhibited may be seen at the Fair this year. With the weather permitting the largest number of exhibits is expected to be entered that people of this county have ever seen at a Fair before. A live group of people have been selected to head the departments and an equally capable group of assistants have promised to cooperate. No new departments have been created but some of the old ones have been coordinated so as to make for more efficient work among those working for a better and bigger fair for Haskell county. Every department is expected to overflow the space allotted to it and everyone interested in good farm products may see the best that is produced in West Texas this year. The departments and heads are as follows: Director Agriculture—W. G. Pope Superintendent Community Exhibits—B. M. Whitaker Director Livestock—J. D. Hughes Supt. Beef Cattle—Bob Herren Supt. Dairy Cattle—Joe C. Williams Supt. Dual Purpose Cattle—R. H. Rife Supt. Swine—Paul Frierson Supt. Horses and Mules—Tom Pinkerton Director Poultry—Charlie Davis Supt. Farm Machinery—W. P. Whately, pastor of the First Baptist Church in this city, assisted by Rev. I. N. Duff of Weinert, Rev. W. H. Albertson, Munday, and Rev. Johnson of Goree. The Parks family moved to Haskell five years ago, and he served as missionary of the Baptist Association for three years, moving to Goree about two years ago when he accepted the pastorate of the Goree and Brushy churches. Mrs. Parks was 48 years of age and leaves a husband and four children, three boys and one girl. Funeral arrangements were in charge of W. O. Holden of Jones, Cox & Company. Interment was in the Goree Cemetery.

"Not to Spend Money But to Save Money the Aim"

"The idea of the wardrobe contest of Haskell County was finally made clear to me in the beginning that spending money was not the aim, but the making of the most of what one already had at the lowest possible expense and providing of adequate storage space," said Miss Stella Mae Coburn, wardrobe demonstrator of Midway, in a report of her wardrobe work done during the past year. This home demonstration club member cleaned, repaired her clothing, made dust proof bags for the winter clothing stored during the summer, built storage space and provided sufficient clothing for her needs for only $17.17. "If I get nothing else from entering the contest, I have learned how to be more accurate in fitting, I have a foundation pattern and a proper storage space," declares Miss Coburn. The portable clothes closet built by Miss Coburn will be on exhibit in the Woman's Home Demonstration Club Division of the Haskell County Fair.

The convention at Fort Worth will represent a membership of 20,000 teachers and will have on its program such nationally known men as Lorado Taft, sculptor; Dr. Harold Rugg of Columbus University, and William Trufant Foster, economist, of Newton, Mass.

Ed and Ira Hester, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hester have enrolled at Harding College, Ark.

Bill Ratliff, son of Judge and Mrs. L. D. Ratliff is now attending Lebanon Law School of the Cumberland University, at Lebanon, Tenn. James E. Ferguson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lee Ferguson is also attending the same school.

Ultimately, the only way to be able to read the naughty books will be to get a censor's job.

Lack of campaign funds will reduce the burden of the editor's pocket book.

FOOTBALL NEWS (BY A FAN)

Well, Haskell played its first game of the season last Friday at Seymour, and came out on the short end of the score of 7-6. There is no doubt about Coach working hard on Eastland trying to develop him into a goal kicker, and he has probably doubled the work this week as it would be hard to lose to Roby in the same manner. Haskell's team showed up pretty well at Seymour as each member was more than willing to do his part, but as the team is made up of young players as for as experience, they made lots of mistakes through nervousness. That game will be a great help to them, as each one should have gained a world of confidence, and they should beat Roby by at least two touchdowns. However, the football experts around town predict a defeat for the Indians.

I hope Coach Richey has worked the line over since the last game, as it was not clicking in Seymour. Clifton and Kimbrough starred in the line and they are probably the ones who saved the day for Haskell, but we can't afford to overlook Eastland's excellent kicking, as that was the prettiest work done by either team. That boy Eastland ran the Panthers ragged with kicks that sailed 40-50 and 60 yards. Roby is expected to win by two touchdowns (so these experts say), but I am expecting Haskell on the tail end of 19-0. Let's everyone go to this first home game of the season. It will help financially and the boys will work harder for a big crowd. With a good fast-stepping line and a backfield that will follow line and the Indians would be no set-up for any team in its class, and that is the kind of a team that will play Roby here Friday. Indians, if you win, Mr. Loan, owner of the Texas Theatre has a treat for you. (I think its a game to the theater!)

MUCH INTEREST BEING AROUSED IN BEAUTY CONTEST

More interest is being shown each day in the beauty contest to be staged at the Texas Theatre two nights next week—Wednesday and Friday night—with Haskell's annual Fall and Winter Style Show to be staged Thursday night. Approximately 50 Haskell girls have agreed to be entered in the contest, it is announced. The winning girl will be awarded a silver loving cup emblematic of the honor. Judges will be selected out of the city and will be persons, who are not acquainted with entrants in the contest. All entrants in the contest will be presented on the stage Wednesday night and out of the number, five will be selected to be entered in the finals Friday night. Out of the five young ladies who will be named for the finals one will be chosen as "Haskell's Most Beautiful Girl." The management of the Texas Theatre announces that an entire change of picture program will be made each of the three nights of the stage attraction. This is being done, it was explained, for the convenience of patrons who are interested in the beauty contest and style show, that they may see a different picture program each night. Names of girls who have agreed to be entered in the beauty contest will be announced. Haskell residents will be interested to read the list. Further announcement will be made in that connection.

4-H CLUB GIRLS GO TO THE DALLAS FAIR

Haskell County 4-H Clubs will be represented at the annual Dallas Fair Encampment for 4-H Club girls by Pearl Lee, Post 4-H Club member and Frances Warden, Lake Creek, who have won recognition in food preservation work and bed room improvement respectively. The family pantry was not only filled with 600 containers of food but Pearl Lee helped six neighbor families with their canning problems and making of a year's food supply budget. Frances Warden, bed room demonstrator, improved her bed room with an expenditure of $9.67 by papering the walls, painting woodwork, staining floor, making of two pieces of furniture and adding pictures besides arranging the entire room for improved appearance.

These girls, accompanied by Miss Partlow, home demonstration agent, will leave for Dallas October 17th.

NEW COURT BILL WOULD AFFECT 39TH DISTRICT

Elimination of 23 of the 129 district courts in Texas are among the provisions of a new judicial bill just completed at Austin by a joint committee of both houses, designed for presentation to the January session of the legislature. The local court would be affected should the new bill become law. The 39th district would lose Throckmorton and Kent counties and Jones and Fisher counties would be added to the district, making the 39th district composed of Haskell, Jones, Fisher and Stonewall counties. Throckmorton county would be added to the 50th District Court, composed of Young, Archer, Throckmorton, Baylor and Knox counties. Kent county would be changed to the 105th district, which would be composed under the new arrangement of Floyd, Motley, Crosby, Dickens, King and Kent counties.

J. T. Therwanger was a visitor in Haskell Monday. He has a fine crop and is a good farmer.

2545 BALES COTTON GINNED HERE TO DATE

There has been 2545 bales of cotton ginned in Haskell this season, according to the report from the seven gins at noon today. This is several hundred bales short of last season on the same date, due to the fact that the heavy rains have retarded the gathering of the crop this year. Most of the cotton that is being brought in is still damp and the giners are forced to handle the cotton on a slower schedule than usual, in order to properly do the work.

The giners are elated over the present weather conditions, as the cold north wind has cleared the skies of all indications of rain and they are hoping we will have several weeks of fair weather.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Therwanger of near Weinert spent the week end with their daughter and family in Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Odell, returning home Sunday.

Walking is said to be a healthful exercise. Provided, of course you can find a safe place to walk.

STAMFORD MAN IS NAMED MEMBER NEW CREDIT BODY

J. R. Pratt, Jr., Stamford banker, has been chosen as Secretary-Treasurer of the Agricultural Credit Corporation in the Fort Worth district, and left Wednesday to assume his new duties. Mr. Pratt's office will be on the ninth floor of the Fair building in Fort Worth. Mr. Pratt has resigned as vice-president and cashier of the Stamford State Bank in order to accept the federal post, a permanent job. With his wife and little son, he will take up his residence in Fort Worth immediately. Mr. Pratt was appointed last week to the new position. A. E. Thomas, general manager, said several other officers will be named including an assistant manager and assistant treasurer. Hundreds of letters have been received at the Fort Worth office about loan applications, but only four were in proper shape to be acted upon by the loan committee.

TAX COLLECTOR TO MAIL STATEMENTS DELINQUENT TAXES

On account of the legislature passing the law to relieve the taxpayer of the penalty and interest on delinquent taxes if paid before December 31st, Ed F. Fouts, Tax Collector of Haskell County will mail out statements next week to every delinquent tax payer, who owns property in Haskell county. The statement will show the exact amount of taxes now due. Mr. Fouts states that he is doing this for the convenience of the people, as he believes that the majority will take advantage of this opportunity to save from 16 to 30 per cent and with a statement of the amount now due in their possession they will be able to make their plans accordingly. If taxes are not paid before Dec. 31st, according to the relief act passed by the Legislature, the interest and penalty will have to be added to the amount collected.

BAND PLANS BUSY WINTER PRACTICE

With the prospects of having the best band Haskell has ever known, members of the former municipal band met at the City Hall Tuesday night and laid plans for a busy winter of rehearsal. Tuesday and Thursday nights were chosen for rehearsals. The band this year will be under the direction of Floyd Taylor. Mr. Taylor has ordered new music and states that the band will soon be ready to give its first concert of the winter. Concerts will be given about every two weeks this winter, probably in the High School Auditorium. All concerts will be free to the public. Much instrumentation was added to the band Tuesday night when the four Lusk brothers joined. These boys are known as being four of the best musicians in the county, and will help the band considerably. Mr. Taylor is making plans to furnish the Haskell County Fair this year with the best band it has ever known, and with the forty musicians he has charge of, it looks as if he will be able to do this.

CHAUFFEUR LICENSE LAW IS REPEALED

The recent called session of the Legislature repealed the chauffeur's license law, which has been a source of nuisance during the past few months. Especially will this piece of legislation be received with gratification by farmers who drive trucks in hauling their products to market.

LIFE IS SERVICE

(By D. R. Brown)

Life is always worth the living. No matter what our state. If we only live for service. Then we patiently can wait.

As the days are swiftly passing. As the moments fly. Time is going on forever. So are you and I.

And we know it's not the passing. But the many things we do. That will count along life's pathway. In this world as we go through.

And we cannot stop a moment. Nether can we e'er return. To undo some act of passion. That within our bosom burned.

Neither can we lend assistance. To the ones we've left behind; Tho' we have caused many heart-aches. By our being so unkind.

And we know that the old adage Is as true as it can be:

SOCIETY

Seniors Select Rings.

The Seniors had a very thrilling day Monday for they selected their class rings. The class, by secret ballot, elected a committee of five to select two rings. There were two rings in each of four bids that came from different companies. After careful consideration, perhaps an hour or more, the committee chose two rings, one from the Crowell Jewelry Store of Haskell and the other from the Balfour Company. Again all the members were called together to select one ring from the two. After a detailed description of each, the rings were passed among the class, letting each person examine the two together. The class chose the ring from the Balfour Company. It is a beautiful ring with an Indian head mounted on black onyx, the word Haskell written below and the date 19 written on one shank and 33 on the other. These rings come in the military finish or the solid gold with hollow or closed back. Each member is permitted to make his own choice. Our finger measurements and initials were taken and the order will be mailed this week. The Seniors are anxiously awaiting the arrival of their rings.

Harmony Club.

The Haskell Harmony Club opened its year's program with the annual President's Day luncheon, served Wednesday noon at the Library. Place cards, which were miniature programs done in the club colors of red and white, marked twenty places at a long table. Red and yellow lanterns formed a centerpiece and table decorations: white cosmos, dahlias and Queen's wreath were displayed in baskets and vases about the club rooms.

Mrs. O. E. Paterson was the first to appear on the program, giving two piano numbers. Mrs. G. G. Herren superintended the roll call, while the members responded with ideals for the Club's work this year.

Mrs. A. W. Gordon gave a toast to the officers of the preceding year and Mrs. R. L. Harrison toasted the officers for the new year. As a toast to all ex-members of the organization, the entire group sang "Auld Lang Syne," with Mrs. Paterson as accompanist.

In the president's address, Mrs. B. M. Whiteker stressed the Club's wish for the best year's work of its history through an every-member cooperation; showing, with a number of illustrations, how the glorious accomplishments are the result of small, but zealous beginnings.

Mrs. D. Scot, chairman of the yearbook committee, gave a short outline of the year's program, which deals with a History of Music. Mrs. Vaughn Bailey, chairman, Mrs. R. L. Harrison and Mrs. T. C. Cahill, members of the entertainment committee for 1932-33, were hostesses at Wednesday's affair and attended to the service of an excellent two-course luncheon. Members who were guests are: Mesdames G. G. Herren, R. J. Reynolds, O. E. Patterson, D. Scott, J. A. Shriver, J. T. Ellis, Carl Arbuckle, Carl Power, G. H. Morrison, J. M. Martin, B. M. Whiteker, D. - What the Teacher Expects of the Parent—Miss Julia Williams.
- What the Parent Expects of the Teacher (round table discussion by members.)
- The Home and the School—Mrs. Jerry McClaran.

Wednesday was the final day of the membership drive. All the rooms in the school worked hard, and as a result there is a membership of ninety-four. A magazine was offered to the room securing the highest percentage of memberships. There was only a fraction of one per cent difference in the fifth and

A World's Record

MORE than three thousand births without a single loss of either mother or child! That is the official Platt County record of Dr. W. B. Caldwell, in fifty years' family practice in Illinois.

No wonder mothers have such entire confidence in giving little ones Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin!

If you have a baby, you have constant need of this wonderful preparation of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh herbs. A child who gets this gentle stimulant for the stomach, liver and bowels is always healthier. It keeps children's delicate systems from clogging. It will overcome the most stubborn condition of constipation. It builds them up, and is nothing like the strong cathartics that sap their strength and energy.

A coated tongue or bad breath is the signal for a spoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Children take it readily, for it is really delicious in flavor. Taste it! Take Syrup Pepsin yourself, when sluggish or bilious, or you are troubled with sick headaches and no appetite. Take some for several days when run-down, and see how it picks you up.

It is a prescription preparation which every drug store has ready in big bottles, just ask anywhere for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

High School Dramatic Club Gives First Chapel Program

A High School Dramatic Club was organized early in September, sponsored by the expression teacher, Mrs. C. M. Kaigler, with the following seniors elected to office:
President—Clara Wilfong.
Vice President—Eloise Couch.
Sect'y-Treas.—Jaunita Stone.
Reporter—Louise Warren.

It is the intention of the Club to present at least one good one-act play each month before the student body and to give several plays in the evening for the patrons and also to sponsor a number of social activities—the first one will be a Halloween party. On last Wednesday the club gave "The Old Family Album" which was received by the student body and guests with gales of laughter. Other numbers on the program were readings by juniors, little tots from four to seven years old—and three orchestra numbers by "The Floyd Taylor Orchestra" and three numbers from the Morrison Studio: Piano, Louise Kaigler; Song, Cecil Reeves and Jack Bradley; Chorus by Janice, Rossifen and Bessie Bell Morrison, Eloise Koonce, Barbara Jordan and Colum.

Those giving readings were: Margaret Breedlove, Eloise Koonce, Norma Dean Berryhill, Davy Sue Ratliff, Don Rogers, J. W. Holland and Hugh Mack Perdue.

Students having a part in the Album were: Helen Higgins; Eula Mae Davis, Eloise Couch, Ruth Joisset, Louise Warren, Clara Wilfong, Geraldine Hunt, Margaret Richey, Josephine Parish, Betty Ann Hancock, Elizabeth Stewart, Jaunita Stone and Billy Burt, Cecil Reeves, George William Pouts, and Garvin Foote, Anna Bel Burt. The program was directed by the president, Josephine Parish, Betty Ann Han-clara Wilfong.

MANUFACTURED CHARGES

The attempt of the Hoover campaign leaders to depict Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt as a radical, and, in some instances, as a demagogue, apparently is not succeeding any better than the efforts of the Hoover administration to successfully run the country for the last three years.

Those leaders who so eagerly grab a phrase, like the "forgotten man" in a recent speech by the Democratic candidate for President, or who quote an isolated sentence from his utterances concerning the control of public utilities in the interest of fairness to the public, ignored the fact that Governor Roosevelt has a record of public service that is open to the inspection of everybody. It began in the State Senate of New York many years ago; it was continued at Washington in the administration of the Navy Department as Assistant Secretary during the White House incumbency of Woodrow Wilson, including the period of the World War. It was resumed in later years as the Chief Executive of the Empire State, which has a population of one-tenth of the entire nation.

It is a significant fact that none of the Hoover strategists in their desperation to find some flaw in the qualifications of Mr. Roosevelt for the highest executive office in the nation has ever cited any act in that long record to sustain their charge of radicalism or demagoguery. If any proof of their assertions were contained therein, they would have found and presented it long ago.

The record of most recent events also offers abundant evidence of the falsity of the accusations brought by the Hoover managers to misrepresent the Democratic nominee for President. A part of this most recent record is the timely publication of a book written by Mr. Roosevelt, entitled, "Government, Not Politics," which contains his views and philosophy of government specifically relating to many present-day national problems and issues, such as taxation, public relief, public utilities, the tariff, public corruption, the Hoover record, financial methods of 1927-28, farm relief, and others.

In a review of this book by Arthur Krock, the Washington correspondent of the New York Times, and an experienced political analyst, he delivers a solar plexus blow to the manufactured charges of the Hoover campaign leaders. He says:

"It has often been asserted by critics of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, that he 'lacks a program.' There is no lack of program here. He has been termed a demagogue and radical. There is no demagoguery in these writings. As for radicalism, except for the equalization fee, there is none here which will not have a strong appeal for some of the most conservative groups of the population. The householder, the farmer, the laborer, the artisan, the business man who is not in the 'captain-of-industry' class, women, social workers and tariff reformers will find much to commend and little to criticize."

Mr. Krock asserts that Mr. Roosevelt's prescript is much more that of a Wilson than a Bryan.

In other words, Governor Roosevelt's utterances show him to be an exponent of sane liberalism that makes for enlightened progress, with the safeguards that protect the interests of capital and business to the extent that they are consonant with the interests of the people and with human rights.

TOWN BEAUTY AN ASSET

In spite of the apparent commercialism of the age in which we live, it is evident to any observer that the American people are developing a greater appreciation of the beautiful. This is not confined to the wealthier classes, but extends to the great masses in the towns and villages, and in the rural districts.

New towns and new sections of the older ones are being laid out with wider streets, with provision for larger lawns, more trees, shrubbery and flowers, and a more attractive setting generally.

New houses show better architecture and greater harmony with their surroundings, while unsightly yard fences have largely disappeared. The net result of all these modern developments is beauty. And aside from the satisfaction which it affords the eye, it pays in dollars and cents.

Beautiful cities, towns and villages attract people. They attract permanent residents, they attract tourists, and they attract trade. It is natural that a person selecting a trading center will choose a town that is beautiful and clean in preference to one that is unsightly and dirty, if other conditions are anywhere near equal.

Therefore, it behooves the authorities of any community, as well as each individual citizen, to make the most of their opportunities for improving the appearance of the place in which they live. Beauty and cleanliness are a town's best assets.—The Culver Citizen, Culver, Indiana.

NEWS FROM OVER WEST TEXAS

Knox County Crop Should Total 45,000 Bales, if Saved.

Since the farmers started picking their cotton some report that their former estimates of their crops were too large while some tell us that they estimated their crops too low. The Advocate has gathered some estimates from farmers and others who have been over the county as to the production for the entire county and find the estimates run from around forty thousand to sixty thousand bales.

Knox County produced a little more than thirty thousand bales in 1931 and in 1926 more than forty-eight thousand bales were produced in the county. The 1926 crop was the biggest ever grown in the county.

Munday Council Approves City Budget and Sets $1.50 Tax Rate

A meeting of the city council was held on Tuesday afternoon, that being the date announced for a hearing on the city budget, and at this meeting the budget was approved and a tax levy of $1.50 on the one hundred dollar valuations was set by the council. No protests were heard on the budget as prepared as every item allowed therein was reduced to the lowest figure possible in line with the policy of rigid economy being followed by the city council, and every effort will be made to confine the individual accounts within the budget.

Young Fisherman Gets 15-inch Bass on Highway.

Angus Smith, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Smith, living two miles south of Rotan, went out on the highway fishing a few days ago and caught three good-sized catfish and a bass 15 inches long.

This may mean that the highway is in bad condition, or it may mean that fish are very plentiful in this county, or that young Angus is an exceptionally good fisherman, and it probably means all three, and further that we have had "some" rain in this section recently.

Throckmorton Buys New Fire Hose.

The City of Throckmorton has received a shipment of three hundred feet of hose to be used by the Throckmorton Fire Department. The hose was used for the first time in the hook-up contests, a feature of the West Texas Fireman's Association Tuesday.

Through the ingenuity of the members of the City Council, the hose was ordered direct from the W. S. Darley Company of Chicago at the price of 53 cents per foot, which was a saving of at least $150 for the City of Throckmorton. According to Graydon Eubank, Secretary of the Council, this same hose would have cost at least $110 or $115 per foot if it had been purchased from a salesman or some retail house.

The fireboys have highly commended the Councilmen for their careful purchase and are well pleased with the quality of the hose.

Texas Is About to Have a Birthday

Let's Invite the Nation to Our Birthday Party

The birth of Texas as an independent commonwealth was an epoch-making event in American history. The struggle of the Texas colonists for freedom was a heroic one and all Texans are proud of the deeds of their forefathers. But it was also the most glorious page in the history of the expansion of the United States to the Pacific and as much a part of American traditions as Concord and Lexington.

All Americans everywhere should revere the memory of the men who contributed so much to the growth of our common country. And we should invite them to join us in holding a fitting celebration of the one hundredth birthday of Texas.

Texas are asked to authorize such a celebration by voting for the Texas Centennial Constitutional Amendment on November 8. The States of the Union and the countries of the world will be asked to participate. The Texas Centennial can be the greatest event of recent Texas history. A worthy sequel after one hundred years to the illustrious deeds of our Texas forebears.

Girls Surpass Boys in Growth During Childhood
"Boys and girls are different," maintains Ruth Sawtell Wallis, writing in Hygeia Magazine. It may be surprising to note that between two and eight years of age it is the girl, not the boy, who has the more grown-up build.

Even in roundness of the head and maturity of form the girl surpasses the boy, but he has advantages in other respects. The breadth of boys' bones is always greater, and the heads, faces and jaws are somewhat larger from birth.

Sun's Darkening Noted in Historical Records

These are among the most famous eclipses of history: The first one recorded, 2137 B. C., in China. It cost two Chinese astronomers their heads for getting drunk.

763 B. C. mentioned in the Old Testament. Interpreted by Joshua as the "sign" promised by Jehovah to show that Jerusalem would be saved from besieging Assyrians.

1780 A. D. at Penobscot, Maine, during the American revolution. Despite the war the American government fitted out a scientific expedition.

1842 A. D. in Italy. An eclipse of such extraordinary beauty that vast crowds of spectators broke into cheers. Bally's beads were named at this eclipse.

Beware the "Porky"

Perhaps the best description of the porky's appearance, says a woodman, is that of an Adirondack guide who called him "a hummy critter with an ingrown face." The only "hummy critter" than a full-grown porky is a half-grown one, which may be properly described by likening it to the top of an old-fashioned ice cream freezer—a bristle-covered eight inches of existence that seems to have neither head nor tail.

The quills of the porcupine are set lightly in the skin. When imbedded in a foe, they pull free at the base and remain in the flesh of the victim. Countless tiny barbs at their tips cause them to work deeper and deeper, causing dreadful torture, until they finally reach a vital spot, when death puts an end to the victim's suffering.

Beer in History

The scanty records of ancient Babylon, going back to 5000-6000 B. C., show that beer made from barley, and from barley and spelt, was extensively drunk there, even by laborers and by women in the harem. It was used in medicine in Babylon and Egypt, and had spices and bittering substances added to it. In Abyssinia and Nubia, Herodotus and Strabo both wrote that the people lived on millet and barley, "whereof they also made a beverage." Tacitus said the beer was the usual drink of the Germans and Pliny mentions the use of it in Gaul and Spain. He also writes, "They employ the foam which thickens upon the surface as a leaven"—probably the first reference to beer yeast for baking purposes.

Pendulum Inventor

There is a variety of names quoted for the inventor of the pendulum clock, but the general consensus is that the honors for it go to Christian Huygens, born in 1629 in Holland.

Huygens made his first pendulum clock in 1657, and it wasn't so long afterwards, in 1665, that Louis XIV invited him to Paris to establish a Royal Academy of Sciences.

Credit for the pendulum clock in England seems to go to Abnerus Fromanteel, also Dutch, and a personal friend of Huygens. He lived in England and introduced the pendulum clock sometime after 1658.

Rattler's Fangs

Instead of being fixed tightly to the jaw-bone, the fangs of a rattlesnake are fastened at the base of a movable bone in the upper jaw. Sometimes when the rattler makes a strike and its victim does not succumb at once, the latter may wrench out these loosely attached fangs in an attempt to escape. It is not long, however, before the rattler, thus incapacitated, will be equipped with a new set of weapons, for it is provided with clusters of undeveloped fangs on either side of its mouth and a pair of these soon grow out to effective size.

Footprints Can Betray Criminals to Experts

Criminals have learned to guard against the finger-print experts; now they must be careful that their footprints do not betray them. The impression of a foot can tell the detective much.

He can identify a foot and its covering, and can recognize the man by any peculiarity in gait. He can tell whether the criminal was standing upright, walking, running or walking backward.

Many extraordinary things have been discovered during investigations into this new method of tracking down criminals. It is, for instance, more usual to take longer strides with the left leg than the right, though it is generally believed that the muscles of the right leg are stronger, and that therefore the bigger stride is taken with the right leg.

Fugitives nearly always turn to the right when trying to run away, and in open spaces they run in circles. But this rule of turning to the right holds good even when they are making their escape along crowded streets and aren't run! If a man walking normally looks back he always pivots on the foot opposite the side he turns his head.

If a man of average height walks with short steps, he is a countryman, used to meeting obstructions in a path. It is only the townsman used to smooth roads who strides out.

Unpatented Method of Avoiding Paying Debts

Lewis Carroll, in the Golden Book Magazine, solves the problem of not paying your bills.

"How much is it this year, my man?" asked the professor.

"Well, it's been a-doubling so many years, you see," the tailor replied, "and I think I'd like the money now. It's two thousand pounds, it is."

"Oh, that's nothing," the professor carelessly remarked. "But wouldn't you like to wait just another year and make it four thousand? Just think how rich you'd be! Why, you might be a king, if you liked!"

"I don't know as I'd care about being a king," the man said thoughtfully. "But it dew sound a powerful sight of money! Well, I think I'll wait."

"Of course you will," said the professor. "There's good sense in you, I see. Good day to you, my man!"

"Will you ever have to pay him the four thousand pounds?" Sylvie asked, as the door closed on the departing creditor.

"Never, my child!" The professor replied emphatically. "He'll go on doubling it till he dies. You see, it's always worth while waiting another year to get twice as much money!"

Diver Hard to Shoot

The diver, commonly called the loon, is one of the most difficult birds to shoot. It is an uncommonly fine diver, as its name indicates, and is an excellent flyer as well. There is the one bit of sport to be had in hunting a loon on a lake and that is the uncertainty of just what the bird will do. It may rise off the water and seek less dangerous waters, or it may dive beneath the surface and come up about several hundred yards away. The direction, too, is an uncertainty, for a bird gives no indication as he goes under the water which way he will swim. The loon is a solitary bird, usually never more than one pair inhabiting a small body of water. The female usually lays but two or three eggs during the breeding season, and for that reason the divers are not very numerous.

Juvenile Etiquette

Bill, aged eight, and his sister, Elizabeth, age five, had gone up to bed after bidding mother's guests "good night." Almost immediately sounds of dissension penetrated to the room below and mother sallied forth to calm the storm and learn its cause. "Well, Bill called me a 'greenie' for kissing Miss Barnes good night," the small sister explained excitedly, "and he said girls never kissed girls, they just kissed boys. And I said 'Greenie yourself, Bill,' she ended triumphantly, 'girls don't kiss boys—they just let the boys kiss them.'"

Ripening Lemons

The Department of Agriculture says that lemons are never harvested after they are ripe. They are picked as soon as they have attained a certain size and they are usually as green as the leaves on the trees. They are then laid on trays, one layer thick, and the trays so arranged that there is no pressure upon the lemons. The lemons are stored in a dark place at a temperature about 60 degrees with plenty of moisture in the air. This ripens them very quickly.

Fans Difficult

Hard jobs never come to the person who is always looking for easy tasks—and neither do the returns which usually go with hard jobs. Never let yourself get into the habit of evading difficulties. When times of least resistance, otherwise you'll lose your incentive to try, and this is fatal.—Oriz.

When Housewives Made Own Stocks of Candles

The candle making process was invented by one Le Broge of Paris, and for its molds tin and pewter were employed. There were molds running from singles to two dozen, the tin molds coming in one, two, four, six, eight, twelve and twenty-four accommodations, with the four, sixes and twelves the most common.

It is quite likely that when the house mistress of Colonial days had decided on her candle-making day she collected the molds of her neighbors along with her own to assure turning out a batch that would last her some length of time. At first she did all her own work, taking care to keep the candle wicking straight and tight as it hung in the mold.

Later, perhaps because other tasks took her time or because Mrs. Goodnight Thomas across the way had her candles made by an itinerant candlemaker, and because, too, she was hungry for the bits of gossip and news the itinerants carried as part of their stock in trade with their candle molds, she hired the interesting Button Liveright from Boston when he came around in the fall to make her winter supply of candles.

Noisemakers That Are Fragile Most Popular

Noisemakers for the children (and some grownups) are a desideratum on such occasions as Halloween, election day and New Year's eve. But in the selection of such contrivances experience has taught that one must be careful in at least one respect.

Let the conversation of a customer and the purveyor of noise illustrate:

"I want something that will make the most noise at the least cost," states the party of the first part.

"We have horns, whistles, rattles and, even better, this very remarkable cowbell that is guaranteed to last for several years," states the party of the second part.

"Give me the most fragile horn you have and throw away those bell things. They last a great deal longer than is necessary. I want something that will serve its purpose tonight and rest on the rubbish heap tomorrow so we can have peace in the household."—New York Sun.

Killed His Luck

One time I saw a temperamental movie director order his crew of workmen to kill a stray dog who had been hanging around making friends. Never shall I forget the bewilderment that came into the dog's eyes as his luncheon pails suddenly turned on him with sticks and bludgeons. Incidentally the director who ordered that dog killed never made another successful picture and steadily and sickeningly dropped to oblivion. I know another man who had a fighting bulldog that he forced to fight for gamblers after one of her forelegs had been chewed off. That brute lost his own leg and finally wound up in state's prison. Sounds like a little Rollo story, but it's true.—Harry Carr in the Los Angeles Times.

Instinctive Energy

"Libido" is defined by Freud as the energy of those instincts which have to do with all that may be comprised under the word "love." Jung enlarged the concept so that for him it describes the energy resident in all instincts. It is claimed that the energy of intellectual processes is measured by intellectual tests in terms of clearness and speed; but the measurement of the creative energy of a wish is more difficult, because the wish, which may be considered to be the inner feeling of need, together with motor sets appropriate to its appeasement, may fall to find expression in measurable overt conduct on account of opposing repressive (unconscious) and suppressive (conscious) forces.—Washington Star.

City of Fine Churches

The city of Namur, in Belgium, which received so much publicity during the World war, is a city of fine churches. The St. Aubin cathedral is an eighteenth century building in Renaissance style, and among its treasures has the golden crown of the emperors of Constantinople. The St. Loup church was built in 1021 and its 12 doric columns make it unique for magnificent architecture in that country. The church of St. Jean Baptiste is the oldest and goes back to the twelfth century. The visitor should also see the seventeenth century St. Joseph and St. Jacques, and Notre Dame of the Eighteenth century.

Indian Mountain Workshops

According to Dr. Walter Hough, head curator of anthropology of the Smithsonian Institution, a cult of mountain-peak worship flourished among the ancient Pueblo Indians in northeastern Arizona. Doctor Hough has made extensive archaeological studies in those regions and found many evidences of this strange creed in their decorative designs on their pottery. What is more, the Indian gods in the region were shadowed by four great mountain peaks, one approximately at each of the four points of the compass.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

In spite of the bad roads, good crowds were present at both the morning and the evening services of the Church of Christ last Sunday.

Brother Carter preached at both services. Two people responded to the Gospel invitation of the morning service. The public is especially invited to be present next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The subject for discussion will be "Scriptural Baptism." The following facts will be emphasized: First, that Baptism is essential to Salvation; Second, that immersion is the only Scriptural form of Baptism; Third, that there is no Bible example where water alone was ever sprinkled upon anybody for any purpose. We are not announcing this subject in any spirit of controversy, but that the plain truths of the Bible may be set forth on this subject.
