FOUR IMPORTANT WORDS

(By Chaplain Worcester)

Whatever thy hand findeth to do; do it with thy might." Ecclesiastes 9:10.

These words, written nearly two thousand years ago, sound as the last conclusion of a modern efficiency expert. The great truth they express is the secret of successful living, and is of universal application.

No matter what we may choose as our life work we will never get far unless and until we learn to respect the task at hand and give it our best endeavor. Most of us are disposed to treat lightly the work we are engaged in at present, and dream of the future and some great work we expect to do then. We must remember that the task for today is a part of that task for tomorrow and that the work we expect to do later on the stones we are carelessly shaping today will surely support the heavy load of the temple when it is built.

Our lives are really accumulations of all the work and endeavor of the past. Every day we live is woven into our being along with all the days of our lives, and what we are now doing is the sum of all that we have ever done. If we hope for a better tomorrow, it will be necessary for us to live differently, to work better than we have ever before. Therefore, never neglect or slight your present work under the impression that it is not important. No matter how humble the task, the more you do it becomes a part of your life and will surely magnify in your work tomorrow.

Every one has a chance to improve himself and better his condition, but doing so depends on what we do it. Let us, then, dream our dreams, but let us dream of things that will improve us, and let us do them. Let us wake up each morning and calmly resolve to do just what we are to do today, and then let us do it completely before us.

YOUTH IS INJURED WHEN HIT BY CAR TUESDAY MORNING

Lamont Smith, about 22 years old, sustained a fracture of the left ankle, and minor injuries and bruises when he was struck by an automobile driven by Crockett English Tuesday morning about 6:30 o'clock.

The accident occurred on the northwest corner of the square, Smith having started across the street to the courthouse. English was driving around from the north side of the square making his morning delivery of milk.

According to witnesses of the accident, Smith was struck by the fender of the machine and knocked to the pavement, and it is thought that one wheel of the car passed over his left leg, breaking it near the ankle.

The injured youth was taken to his home immediately and a physician summoned, it being that he might have sustained internal injuries. He is reported resting nicely at present, but will doubtless be confined to his bed for several weeks.

GOLF CLUB MAKING ARRANGEMENTS FOR TRI-COUNTY MEET

The local golf grounds are undergoing many changes this week. New greens are being made and the faraways are receiving the attention of the workmen. At a recent meeting of the Club it was decided to appoint three members for each green, and it will be this committee's duty to see that the grounds are placed in the best condition possible.

The work is being done at this time, in preparation for the Tri-County tournament, composed of Baylor, Knox and Haskell Counties, which will be held sometime in July. The exact date of the meet will be set later.

When the work is finished the members believe that they will have one of the sportiest 9 hole courses in this section of the state.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL BEGINS MONDAY JUNE 15

One of the finest summer-time enterprises is the Vacation Bible School which will be held June 15-25 at the Methodist Church. This is an all-denomination project and all children are invited to attend.

School is out! And many mothers are wishing for useful occupation and recreation for their children. Here is the answer—send them to the Vacation Bible School from 9 a. m. to 11:30 a. m., June 15-25, for games, handwork, intensive Bible study, dramatization and the inculcation of christian ideals and habits.

The children love it. They love to "make things," to learn new songs and games, to memorize choice passages of scripture and to hear again the wonderful story of Jesus.

Competent teachers for all age-groups from Beginners through Intermediate S. S. will supervise your children's work and play.

Mrs. Gaston Foote will direct the activities of the school. Mrs. Foote has had experience in this work, and also specialized in it in Columbia University.

On the teaching staff are Mrs. C. B. Breedlove, Mrs. Guy Mays, Mrs. A. Shriver, Misses Kathryn Rike, Vivian Bernard, Naomi Poteet, Mattie Letha Pippin, Mamie Jones, Ruby Cox, Marise Eaton, Edith Foote and others who will be announced later. Do not miss this valuable opportunity. Send or bring your children to the Methodist Church Monday morning at 9 a. m. Tell your neighbors children.

To defray the expenses of such an enterprise, each child is asked to bring a registration fee of 10c. This is a nominal sum and goes for supplies and materials used.

Some weeks ago when it was learned that a Haskell County mother and father were willing to give away their beautiful baby girl, for reasons best known to themselves, the committee on the Baby Show division of the carnival asked if this could be done at the conclusion of the show Saturday and was assured that it would be agreeable to both parents. This will be done about five o'clock Saturday at the exhibit hall at Fair Park. THINGS TO REMEMBER

Remember that figs do not grow on thistles. Prosperity does not result from hate and ill will. Discord produces only unprofitable conditions.

Remember that the energy which is spent in trying to compel an unwilling debtor to pay, if turned into creative channels, would produce values many times the amount of the debt in question.

Remember that love is a constructive force. Hate is destructive. Thoughts of love draw prosperity. Hate drives prosperity away.

Remember that scolding a child will not create a noble character in him.

If you want friends, be friendly; speak well of all people; forgive; be sincere; in other words be just what you would wish your dear friend to be. You will then be an ideal friend to everybody. You will draw many friends to you. Remember that you cannot sustain food with gall, neither can you sweeten life with underbribery.

Remember that one cannot dip into the supply of pure air in the world by smothering all you need of it. No man will ever be happy until he has learned to breathe the air of life. Remember that the only air that can be smothered is that which is smothered in your own heart. Let your heart be free, because pure again.

Office Drama Brings Novel Picture Plot

If the home is America's greatest institution, then the profession of private secretary is one of its main supports.

This important cog in the American industrial scheme has come into its dramatic own at last with Radio Picture's "Behind Office Doors," showing at the Texas Theatre, Monday and Tuesday.

Featuring Mary Astor in a leading role, the picture deals romantically with a girl who is indispensable to her employer, who loves him and is almost overlooked in the confusion of business affairs.

As an advisory staff on the picture, Mr. Brown secured three stenographers and private secretaries, who saw to it that the proper office atmosphere was reproduced.

HEALTH NEWS

Baylor, Throckmorton, Foard, Knox and Haskell Counties.

Never in history has there been such wide-spread interest in health work. The demand for biological products has far exceeded the expectations of the state department of health, hence, many requisitions have had to be cut down. However we hope after the first of July we will have an ample supply.

I have spent the month of May getting publicity and helping to organize the health committees, in some of the counties they are ready for some real work. I am proud to mention the fact, one of the counties is so thoroughly interested and so well informed, they have gone so far as to hold educational meetings in the rural districts on Sunday afternoons. I venture to say this credit is due the doctors. This same the doctors gave their time to make county had a county-wide meeting, talks on health problems and especially stressed the importance of immunization against these various diseases. At this time all of the sub-committees were elected and the county health officer was appointed to do this work in the rural districts and the doctors in town would work in relays and give their services free. This is what I consider "Good Fruits" from a well organized health committee.

I suggest that each chairman should acquaint herself with the different phases of the program the nurse is carrying on and also with the literature that the nurse and the state health department are distributing. It is suggested that the chairman have at least one copy of each of these pamphlets on hand and "Order Forms" that she may give to any one in her district desiring to secure any of them.

In order to be able to assist in putting on a constructive health program in each district, it is suggested that each chairman make a study of the district she has in charge, before outlining any specific program, after this study has been made she will have a fairly accurate understanding of the outstanding need in her district. She will also know what particular phase of the health program the community is ready for.

Marjorie White Crowds Other Stars For Top Honors

When Marjorie White, featured in "The New Movietone Follies" coming next week to the Texas Theatre, scored a sensational hit in her first picture, "Sunny Side Up," many were the skeptical critics who regarded her merely as a "flash in the pan."

"She did it once, but can she do it again?" was their attitude. For Movietone executives, who have Miss White under long-term contract, thought so. To convince the critics they put her in the hardest spot ever occupied by any young actress. She was given the leading feminine role in "Happy Days," spectacular musical production which presented virtually every star on the Fox lot. To survive such competition was a severe test. But Marjorie not only survived, but outshone everyone else in the picture for her individual excellence.

League News.
The League program last Sunday night was certainly interesting and if you weren't there you missed a lot. The girls that went to Assembly gave a report of what they did and liked best. The vesper service, for next Sunday is just as interesting and it is to be held out in the open.

South Ward Home Makers.
Hot weather doesn't phase that South Ward "bunch!" They met last Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John Crawford showing just as much pep and vim as if the earth was a "universe of sky and snow."
During the business meeting, the various committees reported; with the Vacant Lot Committee holding first place in discussion. This committee reported only Leon Highnote, Edwin Parsons and H. J. Hambleton as entrants. (If other boys in this school zone want to enter, call Mrs. John Crawford.)

Enjoy Picnic.
The Intermediate S. S. of the M. E. Church enjoyed a very delightful picnic Tuesday afternoon at Scott's crossing. This picnic was promised to us if we would work to help build up our Department, and also to make the best grade during the month of May. We won second and tied with the Juniors. After making a good grade, it was decided that we deserved a picnic. We all met at the church at two o'clock and had it not been for our parents, and friends who made it possible for us to go, we certainly would have missed a good time. We spent the afternoon "swimming" and roaming around on the banks of the creek. We certainly did enjoy the supper, even if we did have to eat in a hurry, and start back home on account of the rain. There were about thirty members of the Intermediate Department with all our teachers, Mr. D. H. Persons, Mrs. G. E. Davis and Mrs. Frank Williams, and the following parents and friends: Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Breedlove and family, Mrs. W. M. Cass, Mrs. W. C. Phippen and Misses Myrtle Kennedy and Mattie Letha Phippen.

The entire Department wishes to thank those who furnished cars so we could go, and also for everything that you did for us to make our picnic more enjoyable for us.

4 K Klub.
Miss Eunice Huckabee entertained members of the 4 K Klub last Friday afternoon from 3:30 to 6:00 o'clock in her home. Gladiolias, jarkspur and rose buds made the entertaining rooms very attractive. After the usual games of bridge the hostess served refreshments to the following:
Mesdames Roy Killingsworth, Jno. V. Davis, Oscar Oates, Lola W. Bledsoe, Richard Sherrill from Pittsburg, Marvin Post of Amarillo, Miss Nettie McCollum and the hostess.

Teacher—Why is English called the mother tongue?
Billie—Cause father never gets a chance to use it.
Rule One
A very modern employer has ordered the following notice to be posted in his business premises:
"Any workman desiring to attend the funeral of a near relative must notify his foreman before 10 a. m. on the day of the game."

Smith—Were any of your boyish ambitions ever realized?
Jones—Yes when my mother used to cut my hair I often wished I might be baldheaded.
Visiting Minister—Ah, my dear unfortunate friend, this world is full of trials.
Convict—It ain't the trials that worry me; it's the verdicts.

The wife of a famous English Bishop—whom we shall call John Smith—was recently very ill, and required a serious operation. As she recovered from the anaesthetic, she was heard to murmur:
"Am I in Heaven? Am I in Heaven? No there's John."
"Why, Billie!" exclaimed his mother, "how often have I told you to play only with good little boys? Good little boys don't fight."
"Well," said Billie through tears, "I thought he was a good little boy 'til I hit him."
Her—You used to say that you were unworthy of me.
Him—Well, what if I did?
Her—Nothing. Only you seem to be spending your married life trying to prove it.

CAP PULLER PULLS THE BEST ONE IN THE BOX

"CAP" PULLER presides at the bottle bar. No matter where you go in town or country, you'll find him handy, smiling, Johnny-on-the-Spot, to serve you when you're dry and hot. You say the word. He pulls the cap like a flash... and instantly you're happier than you were... new energy in your veins.

So often does "Cap" get the Dr. Pepper call, he'll often reach for it before you speak. Not mind-reading... just force of habit. If he guesses wrong, he takes no loss. You'll see him drink it himself. Take it from an old-timer... an experienced guy who's tried 'em all. He'll tell you right off: "Dr. Pepper's the pick of the pack."

Many economists declare that increases in income are nearly always preceded by improved standards of living, the latter furnishing a powerful incentive to earn more money. On this basis Texas 4-H club girls are doing their bit to better farming by their wide-spread work on improving homes and premises. More than 100 Dallas county girls for instance, have put new curtains in bedrooms, added new shades, cleaned and varnished or painted the woodwork, provided reading and writing centers in their homes, and hung new pictures—to give only a partial list.

She traded 12 hens and a cock for an old building out of which she added a kitchen and sleeping porch to her home, and says she is going to continue until the entire house is made over. The lady is Mrs. Mary Brinke of the Moffet Home Demonstration Club in Angelina county. The improved living room contest started her off, and in it she won first place in her county among those who spent more than $50 in improvement.

To keep from losing faith in the word of a friend who told of big gains made by feeding hogs with a self feeder, S. F. Willard of Gonzales county tried the demonstration system himself and marketed 29 bushels of corn at $1.15 per bushel through hogs that sold for six cents per pound.

Wheeler county farmers are going in for alfalfa with the county agent reporting 41 plots ranging in size from four to 75 acres prepared this spring for seeding next fall.

Wheat pasture made possible butterfat produced for 12 1/2 cents per pound feed cost in April in dairy demonstration herds in Lubbock county. Most demonstrators are planting sudan for summer grazing with a few preparing to plant soy beans for hay.

Rules of Flag Usage and Points On Courtesy

In helping to observe Flag Day, June 14th, the following is given to acquaint the public with flag usage.

The United States flag flies officially night and day continuously over only three buildings in America—over the east and west fronts of the National Capitol, over the House of Representatives office building and over the senate office building. The two flags flying over the Capitol are replaced every six weeks. The flag flies over the White House from sunrise to sunset, but only when the president is present in Washington.

Flags should not be permitted to fly on civilian property before sunrise or after sunset, Mr. Davis said. The one exception to this is at the

A PSALM OF COTTON

Cotton thou art my shepherd and I am in want; Thou hast caused me to feed in a dry pasture; thou hast destroyed my credit; thou hast led me into the paths of poverty, liens, lawsuits and near nakedness.

Thou hast destroyed my soul, and my happiness; Thou hast caused me to go to a banker with my hat under my arm and mortgage the muscle and produce of my farm;

Thou hast caused me to live in a rented house in full view of the moon, while stars come twinkling through the cracks;

Thou preparest a naked back and ignorance, superstition, poverty, and presence of my friends; Thou anointest my head with ignorance, superstition, poverty and unpaid accounts—how can I trust thee?

Thou hast kept my children out of school, church and society, thereby robbing them of that which is good and noble, elevating and refining;

Thou hast caused me to go to the barn and bring out the old fertilizer sacks and ask my wife to make me a shirt;

Now, behold, as I stand amidst my friends in my shirt with these inscriptions in full view: "Eighteen per cent acid phosphate" on the breast, and "12-4-4" on the tail.—Exchange.

THE LYING SEASON

Several Haskell fishermen have been sojourning on the creeks and lakes during the past week, keeping the mosquitos and red bugs from getting hungry. They came home with wonderful stories of the big catch. But this apostle refused to vouch for the truth and veracity of such stories as we did not see the fish. However at this season of the year man should not be criticized for lying, because this is the fishing season. Man has always been forgiven for this pastime. The habit is as old as Kiowa Peak. They probably inherited the practice. Simon Peter the first fisherman we read about was a liar. However we will give him this much credit—he quit lying after a time—but very few modern fishermen have followed in his footsteps. At least we have not had the pleasure of meeting one. A few years ago, when a party returned from a fishing trip we would listen in on the broadcast about the big one that got away and immediately go forth and purchase more fishing tackle and coax one of Simon Peter's descendants to take us along. You see we believed the stories that were told to us. But if there were any big ones at home on the days we tried to tempt their appetites, they were hungry and refused to eat. Simon Peter has our sympathy. It is said he could tussle like a trooper when he was provoked. We must have inherited this habit when we go fishing. However the modern fisherman does not get discouraged, if they refuse to bite this time, he goes back again and if we do not go along, he comes home with another wonderful story to tell to all who will listen.

TOO EASY SUCCESS

Ralph Barton, famous cartoonist, bored with success, disgusted with life at the age of 39 committed suicide and left behind a cynical adieu to the world that had heaped honors and wealth upon him. For some who engage in the pursuit of art, life is hard, and recognition comes, if it comes at all, after a lifetime of heart-breaking struggle. Nothing of this struggle marked the career of the young man who found life unendurable at the height of a notable career. Early in life his work won recognition, wealth poured in upon him, and editors vied with each other in bidding for his work. As in his art he was too successful in love. Four times he was married and divorced. When he tired of one woman there was always another to take his jaded appetite for love. Twice married to one woman and twice divorced, he died bemoaning the fact that he had failed to appreciate her. Life was alike cruel and kind to him. It gave him an easy success, but the ability to gratify every desire brought self-satisfaction and a morbid fear of insanity bred by fits of melancholy. It heaped riches upon him only to prove there was nothing to buy that was worthwhile. It gave him the love of many women but the constancy of none. The struggle that legends mark there was denied him; the overcoming of difficulties that molds character was not his. At 39 he drained the cup of life dry and found only dregs. Success came too easily to this talented young man and made of his life a thing without lasting satisfactions and brought him to a tragic end.

THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

Several constitutional amendments will be voted upon by the people of Texas in the general election in 1932. Nine of the amendments to be submitted at that time are:

- To repeal part of the university fund amendment adopted last year which gave the right to invest the permanent fund in the university's own obligations. This might be termed a corrective amendment.
- To permit retired officers of the army, navy and marine corps to hold public office.
- To permit Gulf coast counties and cities to vote seawall bonds by two-thirds of those actually voting instead of by two-thirds of number of qualified voters. This is another corrective amendment.
- To exempt homesteads, up to $3,000, from state ad valorem taxation.
- To empower legislature to establish 10-year limitation on delinquent tax collections.
- To combine the office of county tax assessor with that of county tax collector.
- To change the method by which property sold for taxes may be redeemed.
- To limit participation in bond elections to those who have rendered property for taxation.
- To authorize the legislature to make appropriation for Texas centennial celebration.

Only one of these promises to provoke much of a contest. That is the amendment to combine the office of tax collector and assessor. There will be some opposition to the centennial amendment. All of the amendments should be adopted.

FACING THE PRESENT

The Free Press does not aspire to become a chronicle of pessimism, but neither does it wish to be considered a chirper of senseless chatter about how good times are just around the corner. Truth to tell, many eminent observers of things economic say so, and they are backed up by gentlemen of political learning, and they may be right, but all we can advise, at this time, is for every citizen to look carefully to his or her future. There is no reason why the United States should be in the midst of a great economic depression. We have in this country ample gold, and considerable surplus of commodities. The men who produced the wealth of the past have not departed. The "makings" of good times are in our midst. In the present era the wise man does not become despondent, because he knows that things could be much worse, but he does not become foolish and kid himself about the facts. Everyone of us should strive to do as much work as we can and keep out of additional debt while we try to pay what we owe.

WASTE IN ADVERTISING

This is an age of advertising. Business could not get along without it. Yet many merchants waste a large share of the money they think they are spending for advertising, and wonder why they do not get better results. Women do most of the buying for the home. Now, did you ever see a woman go looking over the billboards, or reading the movie screen advertisements in order to make up her mind what or where to buy? Does she get her shopping information from the theatre program or a telephone directory? Not on your life. Outside of the store itself, the best and almost the only way to attract a prospective customer's attention to what you have to sell is through the newspaper that goes into the home. The store that advertises adequately and persistently in its local newspapers has no need to waste money on the other inferior mediums mentioned.

C. B. Denman, member of the Federal Farm Board, says that a year ago a dollar would buy only 2 1-10 pounds of sirloin steak, while now it will buy 3 pounds, and that the consuming public should know of these attractive prices.

Now if Mr. Denman will tell the 6,000,000 of unemployed, the impoverished farmer and the business man facing a deficit how to get the dollar, a rapid reduction of the meat surplus ought to follow.

Adolph S. Ochs, owner of the New York Times, was once asked what great ambition possessed him when he entered the newspaper business half a century ago. His answer was: "To be able to pay my board."

Mothers are seldom referred to in a flippant manner, but a Toronto lady disregards custom and tradition by displaying this sign: "Pie the mother used to make, 6 cents; pie like mother tried to make, 12c."

An astrologer and weather prophet says that the stars tell him that the books of a defunct bank are o. k. The depositors will feel easier when the examiners tell them the same thing.

A Hollywood movie queen says that she has never used a single cuss word in her life. Some people find them more expressive when used in twos and threes.

A good town is one that has good roads leading to it, not through it. The farmer is one person who is not bothered with unemployment at present.

Why take life too seriously? You'll never get out of it alive.

Mrs. Talkalot—Let's see, whom were we discussing?
Mrs. Jabberly—I forgot. Who went out last?

Where's everyone going? Is there a wedding tonight?
"Ha! Ha! So they fooled you, too! That guy is only going hunting with that shotgun."

Grace—Oh, Jack, have you spoken to papa yet?
Jack—No, dear, I'm limping because I slipped on a banana skin.

Tom—After all, fools make life amusing. When all the fools are dead I don't want to be alive.
Dodo—Never fear, you won't.

Uncle Mose Came Through
A party of New Yorkers were hunting in the "piney woods" of Georgia and had an attendant an old negro with a fondness for big words. One of the hunters, knowing the old negro's bent, remarked to him:

"Uncle Mose, the indentations in terra firma in this locality render traveling in a vehicular conveyance without springs decidedly objectionable anatomically. Don't you think so?"

Uncle Mose scratched his left ear for a moment and replied with a slow shake of his woolly head: "Mistah Gauge, the uxuberance of yo' words am beyon' mah juryisdiction."

"Is your husband a good provider, Dinah?"
"Yessum, he's a good providah; all right, but I se allus skeered dat nigh-bah's gwine ter get caught at it."

Mrs. Huff—Did you see the Johnson twins?
Mr. Huff—Yeah.
Mrs. Huff—Don't you think the boy is the picture of his father?
Mr. Huff—I sure do—and the girl is the talkie of her mother.

Judge—You are charged with being drunk. What have you to say for yourself?
Brown—I was never drunk, your honor, and I never intend to be; it makes me feel so bad the next morning.

"I don't mind washing the dishes for you," wailed the henpecked husband. "I don't object to sweeping, dusting, or mopping the floors, but I ain't gonna run no ribbons through my nightgown just to fool the baby."

Chief Mona—I just shot a dog.
John—Was he mad?
Mona—Well, he wasn't very pleased.

Teacher—Jimmy, define and give an example of heredity.
Jimmy—It means that—that—that if your grand father did not have no children your father wouldn't have none either—and neither would you.

Kind Words

A very tired traveling man got into a Southern town at a late evening hour when the one hotel the town afforded had finished serving supper. The apologetic colored waiter explained with much confusion that "dey wasn't hadly nothin' left" so after having tried ordering steak, then lamb stew, and other dishes that had been on the menu, the weary patron said: "Oh well, give me a couple of eggs and a few kind words."

Presently the waiter returned, and placing the eggs in front of the man, said: "Heahs pah't of yo' order, Boss," and then bending near him he added, and his heahs de rest of it—Don't eat 'em."

The March of Progress

WEST TEXAS' phenomenal progress during the past decade has been equalled only by the steady expansion of its West Texas Utilities Company, for while West Texas has been carving industrial history, this company—to aid and foster that growth—has kept its far-flung facilities always in advance of immediate needs. Today, a 2,500 mile network of Transmission lines—energized from three large, strategically-located main generating stations and strengthened by 19 auxiliary or stand-by plants—has replaced the precarious and costly part-time "lighting" plant of yesterday. This new-day Transmission Line System insures a supply of flexible, elastic electric power sufficient to meet any conceivable development. —And since the organization of the West Texas Utilities Company, the consumer has benefited by total average rate REDUCTIONS amounting to OVER SIXTY PER CENT—an impossible accomplishment in the days of isolated plants! Thus, Electric Power, aptly termed the "Life-Blood of Industry," has been a large factor in bringing prosperity to small cities. As this company looks back over its brief but colorful history, it feels a justifiable pride in the knowledge that its progressive policies and the pioneering investment of many millions of dollars—to provide this ample service—have been large contributors to West Texas' nationally-acclaimed "March of Progress."

Insect Damage In County Agent Jobson.
 Western Enterprise, Anson.
 There has been no insect pest damage so far in Jones county this year, according to County Agent C. Jobson, other than to gardens and flowers in places, and even to these in a small degree. Field crops are so far escaped entirely here, a great deal of damage is resulting from insect infestation in counties to the south, and the next movement is gradually northward.

Destroys Over 200 Acres Wheat.
 Ford County News.
 About two hundred acres of wheat on the farms of A. Weatherall and Mrs. Sloan in the Ford City community were wiped out by fire yesterday afternoon. The flames started on the Sloan farm, where Sloan had started cutting his wheat. He was working under his binder when he noticed the flames about which caught presumably from a cigarette.

County Is Made Defendant In Two Suits Filed.
 From the Monday Times.
 Tom Adams et. al. have filed suit in the District court at Benjamin against Knox county for the sum of $4,183.96. The style of the suit is Tom Adams et. al. vs. W. C. Glenn et. al. The suit is the outgrowth of the opening of the highway between Benjamin and the King county line, which has been the center of much controversy over there for some time. In fact, a fence has been built across the highway at one point and the traveling public is forced to detour around the old road, it is said.

Work Upon Denver Line Begin In June.
 Wellington Leader.
 A statement to newspapers yesterday, General John A. Harbo, vice president of the Fort Worth & Denver Railway, declared plans for the construction of Denver's new line from Childress through Wellington to Pampa were being worked out rapidly, and said that in all probability the company would begin actual construction work upon a large scale by the latter part of June.

General Hulen said that the matter of securing right-of-way was being worked out in many sections along the proposed route, and that it was probable construction would be started just as soon as right-of-way for the road could be secured. He further said that unless unforeseen difficulties arise, the road would be pushed rapidly to completion.

Head Crew Making Headquarters at Rochester.
 From the Rochester Reporter.
 The Reporter is gratified this week to announce that arrangements have been made whereby Mr. S. J. Allen and his crew of workers on Highway 51 will make Rochester their headquarters during the work of grading and graveling the road. Work will be pushed both ways from here, toward Rule on the south, and the Knox County line on the north. We understand that the work on building the culverts and bridges, which began last week, is about finished and work began this week on the grading. It is hoped that this work will be finished and the grading settled sufficiently to begin the surfacing of the road sometime in the fall.

Rochester is very glad to have Mr. Allen and his co-workers locate with us and trust that they will find their stay in our midst a pleasant one.

Woman's Club House Completed.
 From the Gore Advocate.
 The workmen are about to complete their work on the new home of the Gore Women's Study Club, which is located one block west of the First National Bank.

The home will be used by the club as their regular meeting place and as a library.

While the new home is not as fine as we would like to see here, it will be good and is in a fine location. As the club can fix things up about the building they will be able to make this one of the most beautiful places in the town and we want to congratulate them for what they have already done and the plans that they are making for the future.

Cafe Moves

From Baylor County Banner.
 Mrs. L. E. Henson, proprietor of the Midget Cafe, has moved to the corner Britain building, northwest of the courthouse, and has opened up a new place, which is known as the Seymour Coffee Shop. Under the sign on the south side is the invitation, "Park Here." The building received a thorough overhauling before its occupancy, and is now a very attractive place. New plumbing, wiring, etc., was put in, together with a new hardwood floor. New paint and calcimine makes the building like new.

Coffee and cakes were served free to visitors on the opening day, Saturday, and a large number came. These were all interested in how nicely everything is fixed up. Besides the free customers, the Coffee Shop had a good patronage Saturday, which has been continued since that time.

J. W. Land Dead From Gun Accident.

From the Knox County Herald.
 Mr. John Land of the Sunset community died Thursday morning in the Knox County Hospital from a wound which he received when a 22 target accidentally discharged.

Mr. Land went to take the gun from the back seat of a car when it discharged, striking him above the last bone in his neck. He was rushed immediately to the Hospital.

An Appropriate Grace

The little son of a minister had been very naughty and as punishment he was not allowed to eat with the rest of the family and a small table was set aside for him. On being given his food at this table for the first time, the little chap said very solemnly: "Lord, I thank thee, Thou hast spread a table before me in the presence of mine enemies."

THE BATTLE OF LIFE

The battle of life is too much for me; I've traveled a very rough road; But soon the brown leaves will scatter and fall, And weary, so weary, I'll lay down my load.

So often I've wondered why some take their ease, While others must plod all the way— A load on their back No other will share; With never a moment for play.

Soon the tired hands will fold on the breast; Soon the rough road will be smooth— Joy take the place of sorrow and care, When vain are the words meant to soothe.

—Written by Louisa J. Martin, of Blacksville, at the age of 77 years.

We've heard of the height of this and the height of that, but the height of politeness, we insist, is the following sign:

"Kindly keep your hands off this wire; it carries 20,000 volts. Thank you."
