Well-Known Lecturers to Address More Than 400 Teachers Who Will Hold Two-Days Institute Here.

Plans completed for the Teachers Cooperative Institute meeting here Thursday and Friday of next week promises more inspirational and instructive messages to the attendants than have ever been presented on the annual program. Judd Mortimer Lewis, Texas bard and newspaper man, will offer a collection of poems and stories as a climax of the two-days program.

Lewis, whose reputation as a poet and paragrapher is national, is identified as the poet laureate of the Texas Press Association, of which he has been an outstanding member since 1902. Recognition of his work urged him a desk on the Houston Post-Dispatch, where he is now associate editor. His daily column in the newspaper has won him fame throughout the States as "a true spirit of sunshine and good cheer". Lewis is constantly in demand as a speaker on all occasions.

M., following the appearance of Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, chairman of the Third-District Parent-Teacher Association and Sec. R. T. Ellis of the State Teachers Association.

who are also planning to send large delegations of citizens to Haskell. In the exhibition building, entries Wednesday at noon indicated that this year's Fair might double any previous year's entries in many departments, and plans were made to care for all exhibits in the Textile Department in the Baldwin building uptown, next door to the post-office.

Sponsored by the American Legion, the Rodeo in the race track section will be one of the best ever staged in West Texas. The famous Red Lyon herd of wild Brahma steers and bucking horses guarantees real contests in every event, and not only local riders but contestants of state-wide reputation began arriving Wednesday with the expectation of contesting for the various purses offered. For an added attraction in connection with the rodeo a "Square Dance on Horses" featuring 10 couples on trained horses, will be offered at Friday night's rodeo performance.

Two rodeo performances daily—afternoon and night—will be given in the race track section, under the auspices of the Legion. Visitors to the fair-ground section, in addition to the larger and more varied list of entries in all departments, including livestock and poultry, are offered this year the largest array of shows and entertainment features ever brought to Haskell in Tidwell's Greater Shows on the midway, featuring seven new rides and twelve shows, providing entertainment for old and young alike. Tidwell this year is also offering a big free attraction on the midway—Billy Geyer, America's foremost aerialist in his sensational Cloud Swing, one of the most thrilling performances ever attempted.

For variety, the Legionnaires are also sponsoring a dance each night in the old Haskell Theatre building, on the east side of the square. In the Elks Club, the 1932 Fair Ball will also be given Thursday night.

The fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save either the furniture or the structure.

Shallow Grief

People grieve and bemoan themselves, but it is not half so bad with them as they say. There are moods in which we court suffering, in the hope that here at last we shall find reality, sharp peaks and edges of truth. But it turns out to be some painting and counterfeiting. The only thing grief has taught me is to know how shallow it is.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Partridge in the Scriptures
Jeremiah has a striking passage about the partridge, chapter 17:11: "As the partridge sitteth on eggs and hatcheth them not; so he that getteth riches and not by right shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool." His name is clear enough, although the exact interpretation of it is not so very evident.

Humility Good or Bad
Humility is good when it stimulates, it is bad when it paralyzes, the active powers of a man. It may do either. We have noble examples of humility as a stimulus; the sense of weakness making a man all the more ardent to use all the strength he has. But if conscious weakness causes a man to believe that it makes no difference whether he works or not, then his humility is his curse.—Phillips Brooks.

FORD DEALER, Abilene, Texas.

Dear Sir:

I today drove the new Ford V-8 in a series of gas mileage tests. These tests were made with the aid of a Smith mileage tester.

First Test:

Through city traffic stopping eight times for traffic lights we obtained 15 miles to the gallon of gasoline. This test was conducted on Pine, Chasnet and North Second streets in the city of Abilene, Texas.

Second Test:

Driving out Pine Street to the Anson Road, we held the car between 20 and 25 miles per hour and recorded 22 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

Third Test:

On the Anson Road, going north, I held the speedometer at exactly 20 miles per hour and the car made a fraction over 20 miles to the gallon. This test was made with the wind. Returning, we made the same test against the wind and made 19 and a fraction miles per gallon.

Fourth Test:

The concluding test was made at 20 to 21 miles per hour going north on the Anson Road and the car made 18 miles to the gallon. There were three passengers in the car averaging in weight 120 pounds each. The car was a V-8 Tudor Sedan.

Very truly yours,
W. E. (BUCK) KELLEY,
Chief of Police, Abilene, Texas

SOCIETY CHURCHES

East-Guest.
Announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Elma Hunt to Dr. O. M. Guest was made to their many friends and relatives the first of this week. The marriage took place in Walters, Oklahoma, Sunday Oct. 9th, the Rev. G. C. Hutto of the Baptist Church reading the wedding vows. Mrs. Guest is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Ferguson of Rule and until recently had lived in Rule the most of her life, moving to Haskell a short time ago as a representative of an insurance company. Dr. Guest has been a resident of Haskell for a number of years and is one of Haskell's prominent dentists.

This couple have a host of friends who will wish them much happiness and success.

Fourth League.
Last Sunday's League program, conducted by Juanita Stone, was a splendid program on the subject, "The Best Seller Around the World."

After the program the president took charge and conducted a short business meeting, electing three new officers who were as follows: Vice President—Ethel Irby. Secretary—Marshall Gordon. Reporter—Beulah Cass. To all the Leaguers that have not been attending our League programs every Sunday we wish to extend to you a special invitation to attend every Sunday. Next Friday October 21, we have a Union Meeting at Avoca and we want to have a good representation—so come.

Initiation Program.
Tuesday afternoon at 6 o'clock the new members of the Good Luck Club were initiated into the club. The old members and visitors were seated in the room when the secretary, Era Cass, admitted the new members to the room, giving each a small white candle. The room was lighted by one large white candle on the president's desk. A knock was heard at the door, and the "Spirit of Home Economics," Virginia Williams, who was dressed in a long white robe and wearing a crown; was admitted by the secretary. "The Spirit of Home Economics" goes to the President's desk and takes the large white candle in her hands. She approaches the rainbow girls, who are sitting at the right of the president. The rainbow girls were: Jessie Moody, who was dressed in blue; Dorothy Sego, in yellow; Mildred Grisom, in red; Maxine Quattlebaum, in lavender; Marguerite Anderson, in green; and Dorothy Haren, in orange. They stand. The "Spirit of Home Economics" lights the blue candle, which stands for strength of character; the yellow candle of wisdom; the red candle, the color of health; the lavender candle, the light of beauty; the green candle, which is light of service, and the orange candle, the symbol of fire.

The new members repeated the creed after the president and the "Spirit of Home Economics" lighted their small candles, then she placed the large white candle on the president's desk so that she might see to guide them through the club year.

Several From This Section Attend Fort Worth Presbytery
Rev. C. A. Tucker and several people from Rule and Munday attended the fall meeting of Presbytery at Fort Worth last week. They report that it was one of the most inspiring meetings of the Church Court that they ever attended. Below are some of the high lights of the meeting which impressed them most.

A fervent spirit of evangelism pervaded the entire body and characterized all of its sessions. The greater part of one afternoon was spent in a conference on evangelism—much of the time being spent in prayer.

The Presbytery endorsed the action of the General Assembly in designating 1933 as a year for special efforts in evangelism. This campaign will be conducted on a plan similar to that used in the Synod of Texas' evangelistic campaign during the last two years.

The retiring Moderator, Mr. Emmit Brown, an elder from Cleburne, who is also the Superintendent of the Public Schools of that city, brought the opening message, in which he stressed the challenge and responsibility of a call to Christian service. Rev. L. O. Cunningham preached the Presbyterian sermon, after which the Lord's Supper was administered by Dr. T. S. Knox of Abilene and Dr. J. D. Leslie of Dallas.

Three young men were received under the care of Presbytery as candidates for the ministry. There are now fifteen young men under care of this Presbytery who are preparing for the ministry.

One young man, Mr. Frank Taylor, was ordained to the ministry of the Gospel. He has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Oakhurst Presbyterian Church of Fort Worth.

Rev. J. Stewart Pearce, of Cisco, was elected Moderator, after the opening sermon on Tuesday evening.

Rev. M. H. Applewhite of North Fort Worth, formerly of Spur, was elected Stated Clerk.

Rev. C. A. Tucker, the local pastor, was elected Temporary Clerk. Dr. J. D. Leslie was selected to preach the Presbyterian Sermon at the Spring Meeting of Presbytery. At that time he will have been in the ministry fifty years, most of his ministry has been in the Presbytery. For about ten years he has been the Stated Clerk of General

THE HASKELL COUNTY FAIR

One of the moving ambitions of Haskell has been to become a useful city. It has not been altogether absorbed in its own social or material welfare—its self aggrandizement. With business energies that are directed by an intelligent, alert and active citizenry, the community has prospered in wealth and commercial prestige, but throughout the course of its progress it has proudly cherished and enlarged the community service which its opportunities have entitled it to render to its territory.

The project of the Haskell County Fair in the city's life was impelled by this ambition. Its development throughout the years into the comprehensive, educational institution which is now the city's pride, has resulted from the peoples' faith and loyalty to which it is dedicated.

Perhaps there is no single influence exerted for the development of this section that transcends in more power for good than the Haskell County Fair plays in agriculture, industry and art. It is becoming the great school of our people whither they may make their annual pilgrimages for learning or entertainment—where none may enter without profit to himself and good, even if indirectly to his community.

The Haskell Free Press from the beginning of the Fair's conception has been its sturdy advocate, and today it looks upon the satisfying results of the city's enterprise and measures the sweep of its usefulness, this newspaper shares with the community the high sense of pride in its possession of this institution—and unites with the hospitable spirit of Haskell in the cordial invitation to the people of this section, in whose interest and for whose benefit the Haskell County Fair is designed, to come, enjoy, observe and make the fullest of its offerings.

ACTION VS. INACTION

One of the things that is puzzling the Republican campaign managers is their inability to "raise the spectre" of past utterances in Mr. Roosevelt's case. Every delving into public addresses, official messages, and even private conversations but confirms their suspicion that the New York Governor has for a long time had positive convictions on economic and social questions, and that he hasn't changed them in the least for the sole purpose of catching votes. He stands today where he has always stood with respect to fundamental principles of government. What irritates his opponents is his ability to make these principles clear to the man in the street and show that rightly applied they will help solve present-day problems.

And it is in his willingness to make application of these principles that Governor Roosevelt discloses his outstanding fitness for the Presidency at this time. He believes that if your principles are worth anything they are worth a trial in the face of overwhelming crisis, when ordinary and obvious methods have failed.

In sharp contrast to Mr. Roosevelt's readiness to experiment, is the attitude of the Republican leaders. To them experiment smacks too much of progress. It runs directly contrary to the fundamental philosophy of the Republican party, which is that everything will turn out all right if nothing is done about it. Governor Roosevelt proposes to do something.

SHAREHOLDERS IN AMERICA

The Free Press cheerfully lends its support to the "Shareholders of America" campaign which has been adopted by the Democratic National Committee for raising funds by popular subscription. The plan is designed to bring about quick intensive action on the part of the national organization, and every voter who favors the election of Roosevelt and Garner should lend a hand.

The campaign is in keeping with Franklin D. Roosevelt's idea of permitting the people to participate. He said: "I am asking you to join a great cause—a cause that goes deeply into the things that make life worth living."

Each shareholder contributing $1.00 will receive a beautiful bronze medallion along with a "Certificate of Membership."

PIGS IN A POKE

There is an old-time warning to the effect that one should never buy "a pig in a poke." But a lot of French people have been doing something like that or worse, according to a press dispatch.

A concern called "French Porkery, Limited," put on a strong campaign for investors, with such slogans as "Buy less stocks; they are paper. Buy more pigs; they are meat." "When your pig grows up we sell him at the very highest prices. In the meantime we pay you from 10 to 15 per cent interest."

Thousands bought pigs they had never seen, and for a time received their interest. Later the sad news came to all investors alike: "Your pigs have died; we could not sell sick pigs."

Then the investors, not the pigs, began to squeal. Promoters of the scheme will be tried for swindling.

WHY IS IT?

FARMS

An investment of $1 in a garden brought $84 this year to Mrs. C. L. Hurt, Rosewood Home Demonstration Club woman in Upshur county. She has a 3-4 acre plot which is now growing a fall garden. In addition to fresh vegetables used and sold Mrs. Hurt canned 313 containers.

A great increase in deaths and decrease in egg production was reported from Bexar county poultry flocks during the extreme heat of the summer where owners did not have an abundance of green feed, the county agent says.

"My canned chicken brings me 75 cents per hen while the ordinary market price per hen is 20 cents," says Miss Nora Walters of the Blue Bonnet Demonstration Club in Haskell county. She says the grocery-men who handles her product is calling for more.

A net profit above feed cost of $4.32 per head on 680 beef calves fed in 12 feeding demonstrations in McCulloch county last year is reported by the county agent.

At a cost of $1.90 and with the help of her husband, Mrs. M. M. Goodman of Sebastian beautified her farm yard so much that she won first place in the yard contest for Willacy county home demonstration club members recently. Improvements included under-pinning the house, sodding lawn, making a hedge of seasia shrubs, developing foundation planting of coyote, and setting out acacia for shade.

Killing mesquite trees by spraying up two feet on the trunks with kerosene oil is resulting in a 50% kill in two weeks, a 75% kill in one month, and indications of a complete kill eventually in some pasture work on the 6666 Ranch in King county. The county agent reports, however, that the smaller growth seems to be unaffected by the spray.

Taylor—Letting her hens balance their own rations by feeding them grain, mash and milk, cafeteria style, saves work and expense and has resulted in as many if not more eggs as by other means, according to Miss Tillie Wuthrich, poultry demonstrator for the Blue Bonnet Home Demonstration Club of Taylor. Each month from 200 to 400 pounds of mash and approximately 750 pounds of grain, together with some 180 gallons of skim milk are fed to the flock which averages 145 hens. The birds balance their meals by drinking skim milk, which is placed in a container near the feed hoppers in the poultry house, and by eating mash and grain from the feed hoppers. Green feed is generally close at hand in the runs.

From January 1st to September 1st this flock of Barred Rock hens brought in an income of $172.24. The expense during that time was $87.75. The hens averaged 119 eggs each for the period.

Benjamin—The club pigs raised by Elmo Cure of Munday have had their fate sealed, for Elmo has secured an order from a local grocer for 1,000 pounds of sugar cured pork per week. If profits prove sufficient, he will purchase more hogs to finish and market them on thru the early fall, according to W. E. Jones, county agent of Knox county.

Wharton—At a cost of $6.02 for seed P. H. Longwood, manager of a 700-acre farm near Pierce, planted 13 acres of sudan grass in March. Throughout June 42 head of mules and cows grazed the field continuously. The grass was allowed to rest during July, but early August rains improved the growth so much that good grazing is assured for the remainder of the fall. "This demonstration," says County Agent J. O.

Graham, "shows the benefit of providing rest for pastures during excessive dry spells. No rain fell in that vicinity from May 25 to Aug. 13."

Gainesville—Land which had previously been planted to sweet clover produced 21 bushels more of oats to the acre than other land on the farm of Oscar Aldridge, Cooke county farmer. This land, reports County Agent L. L. Johnson, produced 62 bushels of oats to the acre whereas in the same field where no clover was grown only 41 bushels to the acre was harvested.

After matrimony—Al that I am, I owe to you.
After alimony—All that I have, I owe to you.

One-Sided Race
Two colored boys were having an argument about ghosts. One of them claimed to have seen a ghost as he passed the cemetery the night before.
"What was disere ghos' doin' when you las' seen him?" asked the doubting one.
"Jes' fallin' behin' mistah; fallin' behin' rapid."

A fat man, wiping the perspiration from his brow, presented two tickets at the theatre entrance with the explanation that he intended to occupy both seats to avoid being crowded.

"I'd like to see yuh," said the heartless usher. "They're on opposite sides of the aisle."

The Spread of Power Is the Spread of Industry

What does it mean when electric power is distributed widely over the countryside to small towns and farms? Such is the task that has been accomplished by the building of far-flung power lines in the past twenty years. What is its effect?

It means that industry can operate as efficiently in small communities as in the large cities. It means a better distribution of industrial activity, with an improvement of working conditions and a reduction in manufacturing costs.

Industry is following the power line to the small community... and here in West Texas, the "Land of Opportunity," the West Texas Utilities Company is leading industries to the 125 progressive cities and towns dependably served from its 2,500-mile transmission line network.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprising low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

"My ambition has been to succeed in redeeming Texas from its wilderness state by means of the plow alone, in spreading over it North American population, enterprise and intelligence."—(Letter from Stephen F. Austin to William H. Wharton, April 24, 1829.)

"The Province of Texas will be the richest State in our Union without exception." This prophecy was made by the author of the American Declaration of Independence (Thomas Jefferson) before Americans had begun to colonize Texas. It was found in a letter dated May 14th, 1820, which Jefferson had written to President Monroe.

The year Jefferson wrote that letter to Monroe, Stephen F. Austin began the colonization of Texas. "My object is to build up for the present as well as for future generations," wrote Austin. "I think I derived more satisfaction from the view of flourishing farms springing up in this wilderness than military or political achievements do from the retrospect of their victorious campaigns."

Texas was founded by builders. Under Austin's leadership they laid the foundations in the wilderness, and under the leadership of Sam Houston they won their independence, in order that they might build in freedom.

One hundred years of freedom will be completed in 1936. A century of building has made the Texas of today. But Jefferson's prediction has not yet been fulfilled. We have inherited this great undertaking from our forefathers. Let us rededicate ourselves to the task of carrying it forward by observing the Centennial of Texas Independence in a manner worthy of our traditions.

SPORTS

Haskell Indians played one of those games against Munday! One of those games where no one is playing but the opposing team. Every fan from Haskell was disappointed with the showing they made because Haskell has the better team when they want to play. The Indian line couldn't have done worse had they been on the bench. They didn't seem to know that they were supposed to hold the other linemen out—nor did they know that they were supposed to tackle the Mogul backfield men.

Over-confidence sometimes loses as many games as it wins and that was the thing that cost Haskell a victory last week. The boys were so sure of winning that they were swept off their feet after the first and only touchdown was made—from there on out they seemed bewildered and had no interest in what was going on.

Munday plays here next week! Everyone is expecting Haskell to win here. I have a good idea that Coach Richey will try to get the boys out a little earlier in the afternoons and see that they are in better shape for that game.

Haskell should win from Munday and will this next week just to show the fans that they really have a football team after all. This week they are over-matched with Spur so there is no telling what the score will be.

They've Never Tasted a Tonic!

THESE are not patent medicine children. Their appetite needs no coaxing. Their tongues are never coated, cheeks never pale. And their bowels move just like clockwork, because they have never been given a habit-forming laxative.

You can have children like this—and be as healthy yourself—if you follow the advice of a famous family physician. Stimulate the vital organs. The strongest of them need help at times. If they don't get it, they grow sluggish. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin is a mild, safe stimulant.

When a youngster doesn't do well at school, it may be the liver that's lazy. Often the bowels hold enough poisonous waste to dull the senses! A spoonful of delicious syrup pepsin once or twice a week will avoid all this. It contains fresh laxative herbs, active enzymes, and pure pepsin, and does a world of good to any system—young or old. You can always get this fine prescriptional preparation at any drug store. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and protect your family from those bilious days, frequent sick spells and colds. Keep a bottle in the medicine chest instead of cathartics that so often bring on chronic constipation. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin can always be employed to give clogged bowels a thorough cleansing, with none of that painful griping, or burning feeling afterward. It isn't expensive.

LOCAL MERCHANTS REPORT BUSINESS IS ON UPGRADE

If anyone doubts that business is not on the upgrade and the fall of the year has not arrived—should have been in Haskell last Saturday when the town was filled with eager shoppers and the stores were unable to wait on the customers after adding all the available extra sales force they could secure.

Perkins-Timberlake Co. were forced to close their doors several times during the afternoon, when the throng inside of the store became so congested the clerks were unable to wait on the trade.

Other merchants stated that while they did not close, they could have given better service if they had done so.

All the stores report a better business during the past thirty days than they have had for five years.

Nine Amendments to be Voted Upon On November 8th

Nine constitutional amendments will come before the voters of Texas for attention at the general election, November 8.

The amendments briefly provide for the following:

- (1) To allow the legislature to release delinquent taxes which have been due for ten years.
- (2) To exempt from state taxation $3,000 of the assessed taxable value of all resident homesteads.
- (3) To authorize the legislature to make an appropriation for the proposed Texas Centennial celebration in 1936.
- (4) To lessen the vote required to vote bonds for seawalls, breakwaters and sanitation in counties bordering on the Gulf of Mexico.
- (5) Now two thirds of all the property owners must vote for such improvements. If the constitution is changed as proposed only two thirds of those who participate in the election must vote for bonds.
- (6) To require that those voting in elections to fix an indebtedness on a political subdivision must have rendered property for taxation.
- (7) To combine the offices of tax assessor and tax collector.
- (8) To save court costs in sale of property for delinquent taxes and to provide more liberal opportunity for redemption. Now double the sale price must be paid to redeem the property. If the proposed constitutional change is made recovery can be made inside a year for 25 per cent and a dollar recording fee or the second year for 50 per cent and a dollar recording fee.
- (9) To return the constitutional provisions as they formerly were regarding the use of the permanent fund of the University of Texas. A recent amendment permitted the regents to pledge the income to raise a building fund.
- (10) To extend voting and office holding privileges to men in military service as reserves.

TIRES

There's a big difference between buying a cheap tire and buying a tire cheap. That's where the difference means real money to you. Only Goodyear... building millions more tires each year... has the buying power, volume, production and the experience to turn out such a tire as Goodyear Tires at such a low price.
