THE last major hand job in the history of cars is now a thing of the past. The new Electric Polishing Method (Patent applied for) restores the original showroom finish and reveals the original beauty in considerably less time by scientific electrical methods.

Bring in your car and see the Electric Polishing Machine in use. See how the special cleaning agent completely and harmlessly removes the gray road film of dirt and oil vapor—that ground in film which even the best washing job hardly touches. See how the special waxing agent brilliantly brings out the original color, leaving a finish that protects it against weather and time.

The cost? No more than ordinary old hand methods for cleaning and waxing. Results—amazing! You will be surprised.

The amazing results will make you a lifelong friend of Electric Polishing.

GREAT SAVINGS in USED cars

We are right in the middle of a big moving job to our new location on the east side of the square in the J. F. Kennedy Building, and it is imperative that we cut down our stock of Used Cars at once. Now's your chance to profit on the purchase of a thoroughly reconditioned car that will give you service for a long time to come. Look them over—the price at which they will be sold is no indication of their value—some are good as new and priced lower than you'll expect. We've got the car you want at the price you can afford to pay.

We Must Get Rid of 'Em!

You will find a number of models and makes—Fords, Chevrolets, Dodge, and others—and you'll find that you can buy them at practically your own price, so now's your opportunity to get that car you've been wanting.

Each car has been thoroughly overhauled in our service department and all have good tires and have been repainted where necessary.

LIBERAL TERMS IF DESIRED

A Few Bargains Other Than Automobiles

We have several steel gravel beds—new—commonly used on the old model Ford truck that are obsolete on our new trucks. These are suitable for feed troughs, etc., and will last for years. Priced RIGHT.

We also have a number of Model T fenders for touring, coupes, sedans that we will sell at HALF PRICE.

Auction Sale of Cars

At 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon we will sell at auction Four model T touring cars—all with good tires and ready to run—not junk cars. Now we may lose on this deal, but each car offered will be sold to the highest bidder regardless of the amount of bid. We only hope they will bring what they cost us. Be here at 3 o'clock and buy a car at your own price.

Magazine Club.

Mrs. Hunt was director of the lesson on Yeats and Peabody at the Magazine Club which proved to be very interesting. Others taking part on the program were: Mrs. H. S. Post, Mrs. E. Gaston Foote who read "The Pot of Broth" and "Cathleen Ni Houlihan," Mrs. John Couch, Mrs. Virgil Reynolds and Mrs. H. M. Smith. Maxine Simmons rendered a violin solo and was accompanied on the piano by Sue Couch.

Mrs. Guy Mays was hostess for the club meeting, March 6th and Mrs. J. P. Payne directed the program on Wilde. Those taking part on the program were: Mrs. Virgil Reynolds, Mrs. J. L. Southern, Mrs. J. B. Post and Mrs. T. G. Cahill. Miss DeWitt's Ukulele girls gave several musical numbers. After the lesson Mrs. J. B. Post and Mrs. J. P. Payne served refreshments carrying out the St. Patrick's color scheme of green and white which was also carried out in the decorations.

The Magazine Club rooms were bright with bowls of Calendas Friday afternoon, when the president, Mrs. Murchison acted as the hostess. Mrs. H. M. Smith chairman of the committee on the revision of the by-laws and constitution of the club, read same and each article was voted on by the club members. Miss DeWitt's Junior Band furnished the music. These tots are precious in their little uniforms with blue coats and white trousers, all except the director, Dan Oates who wears a white coat with blue trousers. Mrs. S. R. Rike was to have conducted a review of the study of the Modern Drama, this being the last program on the subject, but owing to the lateness of the hour there was time for only three special parts, those were given by Mrs. J. U. Fields who spoke on the Distinctive Qualities of the Modern Drama; Mrs. P. T. Sanders on "The Value of Modern Drama's Criticism of Life;" and Mrs. R. C. Montgomery on "The Condition of the Theatre in Texas." The other talks will be given next Friday. This years course has been very interesting to those who have studied it. But owing to the scarcity of books only those on the programs have had access to them. However at every meeting some one has ordered material on their subject from the Extension Department of the University of Texas. The following were present: Mesdames E. G. Foote, R. J. Reynolds, Virgil Reynolds, H. S. Wilson, W. N. Huckabee, H. S. Post, C. L. Lewis, J. U. Fields, F. T. Sanders, J. L. Southern, O. E. Patterson, R. E. Sherrill, R. C. Montgomery, J. P. Payne, C. V. Payne, J. A. Couch, Mary Oates, Hill Oates, H. M. Smith, Clay Smith and W. H. Murchison.

T. E. L. Class Party.

The T. E. L. Class met in a social and business meeting in the home of their president Mrs. K. D. Simmons, Tuesday March 17th. Motifs of St. Patrick's day were carried out in the house decorations, also on the refreshment plate. Mrs. Whately favored us with the old Irish song "When You and I Were Young Maggie," accompanied by Mrs. Jno. Ellis. Several interesting contests were enjoyed. The following members and associate members were present: Mesdames R. W. Clanton, Jno. Stoker, R. J. Paxton, Leon Gilliam, B. M. Whiteker, R. J. Reynolds, Walter Rogers, W. Frazier, Mary Oates, J. M. Martin, Jno. A. Couch, W. L. Norton, S. P. Keunster, Jno. Ellis, Sam A. Roberts, H. R. Whately, I. N. Simmons, Arthur Edwards, R. E. DeBard, H. C. Cate, J. E. Fouts, C. H. P. Pool, J. E. Walling, K. D. Simmons. We were glad to have Mrs. B. Cox as our guest.

Midway H. D. Club

The Midway H. D. Club met March 17 with eighteen members and six visitors present. Miss Partlow was with us and gave an interesting discussion of the 4-H Pantry, which she illustrated with pictures.

Mrs. C. G. Burson was appointed garden demonstrator and Mrs. Ed Welsh 4-H Pantry demonstrator. Mrs. C. V. Oates was appointed poultry demonstrator.

After the club business was attended to the ladies put out flowers around the club building.

Missionary News, March 9th.

"Bear ye one another's burdens" has been the policy of the Missionary Society this year through an actual social service program. Mrs. E. M. Morgan is the capable superintendent of this work and every call that has come to her has met with prompt attention. She says that the women have never failed to respond generously and gladly when a worthy need was presented. We have carried on our work largely by co-operating with Mr. Breedlove in an effort to keep children in school and Sunday school. The report of the work since Jan. 1 shows that some eight or ten families have been assisted at a conservative estimate of $65. A box was packed at the conclusion of the following program: Leader—Mrs. Morgan. Song—Scatter Sunshine. Devotional—Mrs. Rike. Song—Help Somebody Today. Our Orphanage at Waco—Mrs. Guy Mays. Report for the last 3 months—Mrs. Gaston Foote. Solo: I Would Be True—Mrs. Mac Martin. Helping People to Help Themselves—Mr. Carlton Couch, Chairman of Employment Fund. Mr. Couch outlined a practical plan by which any man who would work, could work. He said that fewer transients had requested help this year than in former years and fewer cases of repeated requests for aid were noted.

At the conclusion of the program, one group remained to pack the box and 4 groups went in cars into various sections of town to determine further needs of the people.

This is an important work of the Missionary Society and too much praise cannot be given Mrs. Morgan who has her heart in the work and never stops until the needed articles are obtained. She wishes to thank each one who has assisted her.

Baptist W. M. S.

The Baptist W. M. S. observed the March week of prayer, March 2 to March 6 inclusive with 39 women attending. Splendid programs were rendered each afternoon and an offering was made to our Home Mission work.

March 9, a large number of women met at the church in Bible study. The pastor being out of town, the lesson was taught by Mrs. R. C. Couch and Mrs. Whately.

March 16, Twenty-nine women met in regular business and Royal Service program. Devotional was led by Mrs. R. P. Gienn, prayer by Mrs. H. C. Cate.

A special song was "Jesus Lover of My Soul" by Mrs. Vaughn Bailey. The topic for the Royal Service program was "Forgotten America."

The Jews—Mrs. Gilstrap. A story of the "Wandering Jew" by Mrs. Taylor.

"The Mountaineers" by Mrs. Hammer. "An Indian Princess" by Mrs. Diggs.

A Visit to a Mountain School by Mrs. Crawford. A business session followed.

Missionary News.

The years Missionary study includes four programs on Methodism and one of these proved most delightful and instructive as conducted by Mrs. Wallace Cox, Monday March 16. Subject: Methodism's "Mother Church" City Roads Chapel—London.

Mrs. Patterson played a medley of hymns composed by Charles and John Wesley and Mrs. Gaston Foote gave some high-lights on that amazing author of 6,000 hymns, Charles Wesley. Mrs. C. L. Lewis delighted us with a description of the Wesley's home life and their devout mother who spent an hour each day talking and praying with her children and training them in their religious life. Mrs. B. Cox touched our heartstrings with her beautifully chosen devotional "Peace. I leave with you, My Peace I give unto you. Be still and know that I am God."

Mrs. Fields showed pictures of City Roads Chapel and spoke of her Sunday of Worship in this old Methodist Sanctuary.

Other Studies, equally interesting will round out the years work.

Plant Qualla COTTON SEED

Why?

FIRST—Because it has the Staple.
SECOND—Because it has the lint turn-out at the Gin.
THIRD—Because it is adapted to this Country, and this section of the territory.
FOURTH—Because you can pick 1200 to 1300 pounds of lint, and get a 500 pound to 525 pound bale at the gin.
FIFTH—Because staple cotton will find a ready market where short cotton will drag and be hard to sell.

We have several tons bought from men last fall who raised Qualla Cotton from pedigreed seed and is second year seed here.

Be convinced by asking the men who grew Qualla Cotton last season, and get their opinion, verify the above five points. Our price is $1.00 per bushel at warehouse. See us before buying your needs.

In the Land of Opportunity

Pioneers in the dependable and widespread distribution of electric service, the West Texas Utilities Company has, in a comparatively short span of years, built here in central West Texas one of the major electric light and power systems of the Southwest.

Motivated by a sincere faith in the brilliant future of this rich West Texas empire, nearly fifty millions of dollars—a sum larger than the total gross revenue for the eight-year period—have been brought in from the outside and invested here in generating stations, transmission lines and other physical properties necessary to the production and distribution of electric and other utility services. Virtually all of this new money has been provided through the financing agencies of the Middle West Utilities System.

The earnest resolve to conduct itself in such manner as to merit the friendship and confidence of the people it serves, plus a constant effort to deliver more service at ever-decreasing rates have been ideals toward which this company has pointed since its inception.

Operating under a Texas charter, with its officers and employes seasoned West Texans—"Being on the job"—a loyal band of 1,300 men and women strives always to render that type of utility service which has made transmission line service the accepted standard throughout the entire.

As a corporate entity, the West Texas Utilities Company was organized on January 1, 1922, for the purpose of producing and distributing electric and other utility services. Like many other West Texas institutions with but modest beginnings, its growth and development has paralleled that of the West Texas territory as a whole.

Today the company is rendering service to 20,000 customers—enjoying the advantages of dependable, efficient and inexpensive electric power to 120 cities and towns, and to hundreds of rural communities, farms and ranches. Its ever-oldest motto for electricity per kilowatt-hour consumed is, today, more than fifty per cent. LOWER than the next average rate charged throughout the territory by the organization of the West Texas Utilities Company.

1891—Forty Years Ago Today

The following description of Haskell was given in the Free Press of 40 years ago today:

The town of Haskell is the county site of and is situated one and one-half miles south of the center of Haskell county on a beautiful table land and is six year old. It has a population of 942 and has as good well water as can be found anywhere, which is secured at a depth of 18 to 22 feet. Also has two never failing springs of pure water in the edge of town. Haskell has five drygoods and grocery stores that sell goods at prices as low as can be had in railroad towns with 50 cents per hundred pounds for freight added, and drygoods and groceries as cheap as can be bought any where, two millinery establishments, one gin and mill, also has two drug stores, two hardware, one furniture, one notion, one hotel, two restaurants, three blacksmith shops, two cabinet and wood shops, one lumber yard, two national banks, one barber shop, one silver smith shop, one saddlery shop, one boot and shoe shop, two meat markets, two livery stables, three doctors, thirteen lawyers and land agents, two first class newspapers and job offices, and two saloons, all doing a good business.

The town of Haskell with her natural advantages, of location, climate, good water and fertility of soil, is destined in the near future, to be the queen city of northwest Texas, and railroad connection for Haskell is all that is needed to accomplish these.

WHEELER AND WOOLSEY BACK IN RIB-TICKLER 'HOOK, LINE AND SINKER'

Of course it's funny—this Radio Pictures' "Hook, Line and Sinker," which will open Wednesday at the Texas Theatre!

It goes without saying, with such a battery of professional funmakers contributing to the story's hilarious success!

In the starring roles are Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, who can point to four positive "hits" since they entered the talkie field—Rio Rita; The Cuckoos; Half Shot at Sunrise; and Dixiana.

In the leading feminine role is Dorothy Lee, who combines charm, rare beauty with a hoydenish comedy flair.

Jobyna Howland with a comedy history of more than twenty years, inspires bursts of laughter whenever she appears on the screen. She is six-foot-three in her French heels.

Sheriff Bailey Bingham and Dr. McLarey of Aspermont, were visitors in our city Wednesday afternoon.

T. E. Sollock of Rule was transacting business in Haskell Wednesday.

Miss Ola Bell Kennedy of this city visited with her sister, Miss Dessie Kennedy in Munday last Sunday and Monday.

McCormick Reaper Centennial Celebration--A N D--Entertainment

Haskell, Texas, Friday March 27th--All Day!

This is the year that marks the centennial of the reaper, that famous machine invented by Cyrus Hall McCormick in 1831. As a fitting means of commemorating this unusual event, Jones Cox & Co., McCormick-Deering dealers, have arranged a full day's program for Friday March 27th at the Farmall Display Building. This entertainment is for the enjoyment of every farmer in this community.

PROGRAM

9:30 A. M.—Display of McCormick Reaper, New Six Speed special, Farmall Motor Cross-Section, and New McCormick-Deering Milker. All farmers will register until noon.

1:00 P. M.—Talk on Reaper at the Texas Theatre.

1:30 P. M.—"Romance of the Reaper" A sound picture, for farmers, showing the development of the reaper.

At the conclusion of the show, a truck will be given away.

We cordially invite all farmers of this section to spend the entire day Friday, March 27th as our guests. A full day's entertainment has been planned—a morning meeting, and afternoon program.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF TEXAS

Signs of the things to be done in some of the meetings which will be held in the State during the next three or four months. One of the most important of these this year will be that of the Texas Press Association to be held at San Angelo on June 11, 12, and 13. It has been denominated the "Build Texas Inspirational Convention," and its program will be devoted to a discussion by outstanding leaders in different lines of endeavor of the task of recovery and development which Texas is undertaking. Among the speakers will be Governor Sterling, who sounded the "Build Texas" keynote in his inaugural address, Clarence Ousley, Anton G. Carter, J. L. Lancaster, John W. Carpenter, Jesse H. Jones, R. L. Marquis, Tom H. Etheridge, L. B. Denning, and Walter D. Cline. Governor Sterling will speak on "Texas Highways and Other Governmental Activities," Mr. Ousley's subject will be "Texas Agricultural Problems and Possibilities," Mr. Carter will present "Texas Newspapers and What They Mean in the Development of the State," Mr. Lancaster's theme will be "Texas Railways, the Backbone of Texas Civilization," Mr. Carpenter will speak on "Industrial Texas," Mr. Jones will discuss "Texas Financial Background," Dr. Marquis will tell of "Texas Educational Advantages," Mr. Etheridge will speak on "Texas Youth and Recreational Possibilities," Mr. Denning's subject will be "Texas Gas Development," and that of Mr. Cline will be "Texas Oil Development." Such a program presented by such men to audiences which will be composed of several hundred Texas citizens cannot fail to have a far-reaching effect. The general program chairman of the year is Lester Martin of the Corsicana Sun who undoubtedly is one of the State's most valuable citizens, so far as the matter of furthering progress is concerned. It will be recalled that he was chairman of the committee which organized and put over the All-Texas Special Fund Will Run in 1927, one of the most successful projects of its kind ever entered on to promote the development of any State. That year organized in a meeting of a newspaper organization also the Texas State Press League, and it was put over with the cooperation of the Texas Press Association and a number of civic bodies. The program when Mr. Martin was arranged for the San Angelo meeting bears a striking resemblance to that which was arranged for the tour. Indeed, two of the speakers were on the tour's program. It differs from that of the tour in that it is addressed to the editors of Texas newspapers and in Texas, and the speakers are active leaders in Texas progress, whereas the other program was addressed to the leaders of the principal cities of the North and East, and speakers were technical experts in different lines, capable of presenting accurate information about Texas. The San Angelo meeting ought to have far-reaching influence in thickening the general forward movement in the State. —The Texas Weekly.

FORTUNES MADE FROM PESSIMISTS

Herbert W. Casson, a noted economist, in a recent article said: "The way to create a fortune is to buy from pessimists. Pay your money and take the risk." "Rich started his career by buying coke ovens at the dump of 1873. Carnegie made $200,000,000 by buying steel plants in dumps." "Hundreds of fortunes have been made by buying from pessimists. Ye Gods! What a chance there is at this moment!" "In five years from now most American business men will belong to the 'twain-and-half club.'" "That it will be too late to buy a dollar for three cents." "The opportunities will be gone." "When a horse balks, the balk is in his head, not in his legs. He moves on when he thinks he will." "And when an American business man is depressed, the slump is in his head. There is nothing to prevent him from making money if he thinks he will." "When you take the will, nothing can be done, but when a man casts his mind out of his mind the world becomes his oyster." "To lose a bit of money is nothing, but to lose hope, to lose courage and ambition—that is what makes men cripples." "This depression has gone on long enough. Get out of it or it will get out of you."

OWEN YOUNG FOR PRESIDENT

The Owen D. Young Club of Texas, the object of which is to present to the Government of this State the name of Mr. Young as a candidate for President, has been organized and has established its headquarters at Austin. It announced that one of its objects is to interest young Democrats including themselves in attending their precinct and county conventions and in taking an active part in their party in Texas. The movement was originated by energetic men, apparently because of the fact Mr. Young placed his getting the most value on Intensive Campaigns increased to 30 per cent. A letter sent out by the club declares that Mr. Young "has the nation-wide gratitude of a service man" for this.

SIXTY-SIX YEARS

Confederate veterans were summoned to meet here recently to consider plans for disbanding the local post. Only two men answered the call, the commander and one member. Time has thinned the ranks so that even the formality of disbanding the post must be transacted without much of an attendance.

It doesn't take a very old person to recall the days when the Confederate veterans post was an important organization in any Texas town. It will not be long until no more representatives of the Lost Cause are among us. The two men who met here recently were both boys of only 14 and 16 when they heeded the call of the Confederacy and went to war.

It has been nearly 66 years since Lee issued his famous proclamation, starting with the familiar, "After four years of arduous service, marked by unsurpassed courage and fortitude—Sixty-four years can do a lot to wipe out old hatreds, old animosities, old memories. They can bring a new world that can scarcely understand the old, a world with new ideas, new morals, new habits and a new way of looking at life.

We are the gainers if those 66 years have killed all of the unreasonable hatreds of the Civil War. For that war, like all wars, engendered many meaningless prejudices. We are the losers though, if we have allowed those 66 years to tear from our memories all respect for the glory of those ragged men who followed Lee and Jackson and for the boyish courage that prompted lids in their tents to go down to Armageddon.

Long before another 66 years have passed that war will be only a memory item on the pages of history. Before the last of these survivors have started the long march to the Valhalla where are Lee and Jackson and Longstreet and Pickett and Jeb Stuart let those of us who have memories of the Confederate struggle do what we can to see that the spirit of those men who followed Lee and Jackson and for the boyish courage that prompted lids in their tents to go down to Armageddon.

Why take life too seriously? You'll never get out of it alive.

An exchange tells this one: An ant was gazing longingly at the carcass of a dead horse, and a footlegger's car passed and a jug of liquor bounced off the car and broke. The ant took one drink of the stuff then grabbed the dead horse by the tail and shouted: "Come on big boy, we're going home."

A reporter asked a woman if she could give him a news item. She thought and thought and finally admitted regretfully that she didn't know a "single solitary thing." "But you excited to think, anyway," the woman added, "because my brother broke his arm when his house burned down this morning and I am on my way to see him."

"Did you ever stop to think—that nothing worries a hen? She just keeps on digging worms and laying eggs, regardless of conditions. If the ground is hard she scratches harder. If it's dry she digs deeper. If she strikes a rock, she works around it. But always she digs up worms and turns them into hard-shelled profits as well as tender brothers. Did you ever see a pessimistic hen? Did you ever know of one starving to death waiting for worms to dig themselves to the surface? Did you ever hear one cackle because times were hard? Not on your life! She saves her breath for digging and her cackle for eggs."—Exchange.
