Kempner was arrested by Dallas detective on advice from the local county officers after the second Haskell man had received a telephone call stating that he had drawn a lucky horse in a lottery sweepstakes to be run in Bombay, India, and in order for him to participate in the big money, it was necessary for him to wire $750 to J. D. French, Dallas, Texas, immediately. In the telephone call the local victims were assured that they had already won the sum of $8000.00 which would be sent to them at an early date. It is stated that forty or fifty such tickets had been sold to individuals here.

He said: "I'm grateful indeed, for the pleasure and honor of bringing the message of this hour to the large audience, and especially to and for this graduating class, these fine young people. Our own, Haskell's own, highly respectful, respected boys and girls. Today, now, you and each of you has arrived at the station, the goal, to which you have been coming for some days, months, years. Today, you are realizing the goal you have achieved. It has been by your own efforts, the efforts of your teachers, the trustees, the taxpayers, fathers and mothers. Yes, by the help of God; without His providential help you could not have come thus far."

Marking the closing of the 1932-33 program, Haskell High School graduated forty-nine young men and women Monday night when Commencement exercises were held at the First Christian Church. Hon. Clyde Grissom, district judge was the speaker of the occasion. He brought to the graduates an apt message on "Opportunities at Home," admonishing them not to overlook the wealth of excellent ones at hand. Judge Grissom cited many cases wherein the seeker after success left the materials of said objective behind him when he turned away from home. He urged a thorough study of immediate surroundings before going abroad to look for Life's awards. He also stressed the fact that there are no handicaps for the youth of today who is determined to accomplish something.

Honors Announced Supt. C. B. Breedlove presented the diplomas, announcing the honor graduates: Norma Gilstrap, first, and Lucille Akins, second. Four speech arts diplomas were awarded Betty Ann Hancock, Louise Warren, Clara Willong and Eloise Couch (Class of '32). Sue Couch played the processional for the last march, following it with Rachmaninoff's "Prelude." Rev. I. N. Alvis offered the invocation and Rev. C. A. Tucker the benediction. Thurman Is Speaker Mr. A. F. Thurman, preacher of the Church of Christ, addressed the class at the Baccalaureate service Sunday morning, bringing a message on the "Success and Prize of Life." "It is our business," Mr. Thurman said, "to do—not just to be. By deeds are characters made." He exhorted the young people to find out their abilities and to concentrate on them, for thus would they be felt. He also urged "use without covetousness of that which you have; forgetting that which you should not remember and remembering that which you should not forget; enduring to the end and being heartened by a vision of the goal or success to be attained."

The Harmony Club presented three choruses and a hymn. Rev. C. A. Tucker read the lesson from the Scriptures; Rev. A. W. Gordon gave the invocation and Superintendent Breedlove the benediction. Sue Couch played both processional and recessional music. The last event of the Commencement season was the farewell party for members of the class. They assembled in the basement of the First Christian Church where refreshments were served.

Farm Relief Machinery
Washington—The great experiment in farm relief is under way at last. Already, regulations and policies are being issued from the office of George N. Peek, administrator of the agricultural adjustment act, in quantity and complexity equalled only by those promulgated for enforcement of prohibition. They are the work of a dozen or more men who are designated as experts, and the consensus around Washington is that only experts are going to comprehend them fully.

President Roosevelt and every one else is hoping the law will rescue agriculture and construct a firm foundation for the entire economic structure of the country. To help attain success, the President called Mr. Peek away from his vast implement manufacturing business at Moline, Ill., to take charge. Mr. Peek is in sympathy with agriculture in every respect. He realizes, for example, that agriculture must prosper or his plants are going to be idle. He will sell no farm machinery. So the law will be administered at the top by a friend.

But as the machinery for administering the act is developed, it becomes painfully apparent that the danger lies not in what goes on here in Washington with respect to it. The fear is held by many supporters of the law that the small army needed to carry its provisions into effect will be the breeding spot for trouble. However intensive is the desire to get the best out of law, there is bound to be varied construction of its terms and the regulations promulgated under it. It is humanly impossible to have it otherwise, and there are plenty of precedents in the administration of other federal laws that have attempted to go too near the individual citizen. Then, probably, there will be mistakes in honest judgment and a little graft as well. It has happened in other laws dealing with individuals. This one presents brand new opportunities in that direction.

The Department of Agriculture is striving, however, to acquaint the country with facts as to what the law means, how it operates and what it proposes to do. It is seeking the co-operation of all. Without co-operation, success is likely to be limited. The department, therefore, is seeking to have the farmers understand the necessity for the statute in advance of appointment of the vast personnel that will be needed to reach into every county where agriculture predominates. If that can be accomplished, it is argued, the agents of the government will have something with which to work when they interview farmers concerning their willingness to join in reducing acreage. It is by reduction of acreage, of course, that the main profit for the farmer is expected. That is the way it is figured to force prices higher.

Secretary Wallace and Mr. Peek and others connected with the job here in Washington have been holding conferences with representatives of producers, of processors (those who grind the wheat or spin the cotton, etc.) and other agencies. The processors are directly concerned, for they are going to be taxed in several ways to obtain funds for payment to the farmers who agree to reduce production. That is one way of creating what the bill calls price parity. The main purpose of these conferences has been to gain the facts concerning the amount produced, how and where it is sold, and basic information that will serve as a guide for laying the tax.

While the section of the farm relief act relating to mortgages and methods of refinancing them may not awaken the interest generally that the other part of the measure does, it seems to me that the provision enabling the Federal Land banks to issue $2,000,000,000 worth of new bonds holds forth much more promise. The federal government guarantees the interest on these bonds, and the proceeds of them will be used to make new mortgages or refinance existing mortgages on farm lands.

The Federal Land banks are authorized to buy outstanding mortgages from the present holders, or to exchange the new bonds for them, but the law specifies that this must be done on the "best possible terms." The plain meaning of this is that the land banks must seek to force a scaling down of the debt wherever possible. It is believed by many persons that holders of mortgages on which the interest has not been paid and on which perhaps installments are overdue, will be willing to reduce the amount of the debt in order to dispose of the mortgage. In other words, the holder of a $5,000 mortgage that is delinquent is considered as likely to accept something less than that amount if he gets what amounts to a government bond in its place. He knows the interest will be paid.

This section of the law likewise grants what amounts to a moratorium on interest payments by the owners of the mortgaged land during the next five years. It prescribes lower interest rates also, so that the debt will not be mounting so rapidly in the meantime. Of course, the interest eventually will have to be paid, but the thought is that now is the time when freedom from forced payment of the interest will be of most help.

Direct loans to the farmers by the land banks are allowed under the mortgage section of the law in cases where farmers live in communities having no farm loan association. The land banks will require such a borrower to agree to join a farm loan association if one is organized in his vicinity, but the law opens the way for him to obtain credit despite the absence of such an organization.

On top of these increased benefits available to the farmers, the law appropriated $200,000,000 of Reconstruction Finance corporation money to enable farmers to redeem or repurchase farms lost through foreclosure, or to reduce or refinance what is known as junior mortgages and obligations. These commitments may include such things as mortgages on live stock or farm machinery and other equipment. Congress sought to provide assistance by providing means of getting rid of the pressure occasioned by the local bank or other lender of money who naturally wants to be paid off. It was argued that no farmer would be successful in a full measure if he had threats hanging over him of losing his work stock or whatever he had mortgaged to provide working funds.

It is almost three months since the Roosevelt administration took over the government. Economic "baby-sitting" Policy have happened, some of them of an astounding character, in that time. In the broader perspective, one of the things that has attracted attention of those who look into the future is the deep-rooted economic policy that President Roosevelt has fostered.

In some respects, the President has been driving hard toward what may be described as economic nationalism. For example, there is the law which he described as placing the government in partnership with industry. In other respects, he has sought ends properly described as economic internationalism. The tariff truce and the program for lowering tariff barriers throughout the world constitute proof of this course. I have found it difficult to reconcile the two, yet it has been pointed out to me that the President will be free to follow either course after the forthcoming world economic conference is ended. If all nations stand hitched, there will be tariff reductions throughout the world; if they do not agree in that conference, Mr. Roosevelt can turn back to economic nationalism.

The price parity bill, which I have just analyzed, is essentially nationalistic, and if it proves successful there will be sufficient unto ourselves. In this connection, the gold embargo should be recalled. While our tariff rates have been high, holders of capital in this country loaned billions abroad.

President Roosevelt is not going to allow the American delegation to talk about the debts owed to the American government. That subject remains in his hands. It is safe to say he will be his own secretary of state to receive any communications the eleven foreign nations have to make respecting their inability to pay their semi-annual installments in June and later.

Just Hard Workers
In considering what the Roosevelt administration has done since March 4, many observers have reached the conclusion that the President did not need to select strong men for his cabinet. The makeup of that cabinet never has been looked upon by those inclined to analysis as being outstanding in any particular respect. He has chosen honest, hard-working individuals for the various posts, but it is no secret that announcement of appointment of some of them brought questions among some rather important persons in the President's own party as to the identity of those named. Indeed, in the case of one cabinet member, I heard two long-time Democratic senators remark that they never had heard of him before.

The point of all this is that Mr. Roosevelt has come to be the government insofar as one individual can possibly be. He has dominated congress far beyond anyone's expectation or hope and he controls his cabinet to the point that in some instances makes of them just obedient servants as far as policies are concerned. He conceives the ideas; they effectuate them. Consequently, there has been no loss to the country in the failure of the President to appoint outstanding individuals.

Sultor—Well, I can hardly sleep at night, thinking of you.

Mrs. John W. Jackson of Okaloosa, La., walked away with first honors in speaking at the American Farm Bureau Federation meeting in Chicago.

Sleep Control Is Here
Costs Only 25c
Don't wake up nights for bladder relief. Physic the bladder as you would the bowels. Drive out impurities and excessive acids which cause the irritation, resulting in disturbed sleep, leg pains, backache, burning and frequent desire. BUK-ETS, the bladder physic, made from buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc., works effectively and pleasantly on the bladder as castor oil on the bowels. Get a regular 25c box. After four days if not relieved of disturbed sleep, your druggist is authorized to return your 25c. You are bound to feel fine after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. Sold by Payne Drug Co.

Nagging Pains are Warning Signals
TEMPORARY pain relief remedies may save you much suffering at the moment, but putting a mask over a warning signal does not clear up the condition it was telling you to avoid.
When periodic pains, due to a weak, run-down condition, distress you, treatment for the cause of the trouble should be started without delay. Take Careful to build up against the nagging symptoms of ordinary womanly ailments. So many women praise CAROL it must be good to have the widespread use that it has today. Sold at drug stores. Try it!

WOMEN: watch your BOWELS

What should women do to keep their bowels moving freely? A doctor should know the answer. That is why pure Syrup Pepsin is so good for women. It just suits their delicate organism. It is the prescription of an old family doctor who has treated thousands of women patients, and who made a special study of bowel troubles.
It is fine for children, too. They love its taste. Let them have it every time their tongues are coated or their skin is sallow. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients.
When you've a sick headache, can't eat, are bilious or sluggish; and at the times when you are most apt to be constipated, take a little of this famous prescription (all drug stores keep it ready in big bottles), and you'll know why Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the favorite laxative of over a million women!

HASKELL—ROCHESTER—SUNDAY

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.
May 15, 1933

Time and again I am told—by my own organization and by others—that I penalize myself by quality.
Friendly critics protest our putting into the Ford V-8 what they call "twenty-year steel." They say such quality is not necessary; the public does not expect it; and that the public does not know the difference anyway.
But I know the difference.
I know that the car a man sees is not the car he drives—he drives the car which the engineer sees. The car which is seen, comprises beauty of design, color and attractive accessories,—all desirable, of course. The best evidence that we think so is that they are all found on the Ford V-8.
But these are not the car. The car proper, which is the basis of all the rest, is the type of engine and its reliability; the structure of chassis and body, ruggedly durable; the long thought and experiment given to safety factors; the steady development of comfort, convenience and economy. These make the car.
A car can be built that will last two or three years. But we have never built one. We want the basic material of our car to be as dependable the day it is discarded as the day it is bought. Ford cars built 15 years ago are still on the road. It costs more to build a durable car—but two items we do not skip are cost and conscience. A great many things could "get by"—the public would never know the difference. But we would know.
The new Ford V-8 is a car that I endorse without any hesitancy. I know what is in it. I trust our whole thirty years' reputation with it. It is even better than our previous V-8. It is larger, more rugged and mechanically a better job all round.
I readily say this in an advertisement because I know the car will back it up.

LIFE'S SUCCESS, PRIZE

—it must be done to succeed. Forget—Remember.

Someone did you a wrong—forget it. Some great losses you have sustained—forget same as soon as possible. Your blunders are not a few, doubtless. If you can use them to bridge with, well and good; otherwise, forget them entirely. Young people, don't live in the past. Reach forth to the things before. Greater things are ahead—have a vision. Press toward the mark. Your possibilities are great, make the best of your opportunity. Remember the scripture: "I count not myself to have apprehended, but this one thing I do, forgetting the things behind, and reaching forth unto those things before: I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling God in Christ." May you, each of you, live long upon the earth, to do good and to be good; to bless and to be blessed; to love and to be loved.

Now that you have been good to me, that you have honored me, to show my appreciation, to reciprocate, I at this juncture—now—say—Amen.

L. L. Van Loan of Monmouth, Ore., who recently celebrated his sixty-seventh birthday, has kept a diary every day for 30 years.

Customer—Have you a book called "Man, the Master of Women?"
Hard-boiled Salegirl—Fiction department the other side, sir.

Healthy—Don't you think that sea travel is broadening?
Seasick—I'll say! It's bringing out things I never knew I had in me.

"What is your cousin in jail for?"
"For doing his spring shopping early."
"How is that?"
"They caught him in a store before it opened."

Ben—You ask high wages for a man with no experience.
Applaud—But it is so much harder work when you don't know anything about it.

"You say that's your mother-in-law? I didn't know you were married."
"I'm not. Mother just passed her bar exams."

"Bobbie, you seem very fond of the druggist's little boy. Why is it?"
"He can get all the pills he wants for our air-guns."

The Open Road

SUPPOSE you came suddenly upon two roads. One straight, well-trodden . . . the other thin and twisting off into undergrowth. If you didn't want to arrive at any place in particular, you might choose the latter. But not otherwise.

Before you, as buyer, run two roads. One is the road of knowledge of an advertised product. Thousands use it. There's no mystery about it, no doubting, nothing hidden. It leads the way definitely to a fountain pen, a floor wax, a tooth-paste that will give you satisfaction. When you use an advertisement, you use an open road.

When you don't use advertisements, you go the doubtful road. You have only hazy knowledge of the product ahead. No trademark or name to depend upon guides you. The result may or may not be worth the effort. You don't know.

Read the advertisements. Anything widely advertised—breakfast food, hammer, hair tonic—has proved itself good by advertising.

Advertisements put you on the open road to satisfaction

Tire prices may never be so Low again!

GOODYEAR certainly makes it worth while for you to put money in tires now. Your dollars never bought tires to equal the quality, the safety, the mileage which Goodyear is today building in every tire wearing the Goodyear name—

And because Goodyear now concentrates on two main lines of tires—a real saving in costs is passed on to you.

Look at the present prices of the world's most popular tire, the Goodyear All-Weather — and the prices of the thrifty Goodyear Pathfinder — and you'll certainly agree, it's smart to buy Goodyears NOW—while prices are still down close to bottom, and your money buys more than it may ever buy again.

THE REPEAL AMENDMENT

Approval or rejection of the constitutional amendment repealing the Eighteenth Amendment will occupy the attention of the nation for a considerable time to come, as only three or four states have definitely acted on the proposal as this is written, and seven years is the time limit for a final decision.

As recently as a year ago the idea that repeal could be accomplished even within seven years would have been given slight credence. Now the chances for such repeal seem at least about even.

Perhaps the final outcome will hinge largely upon the observable effects of legalizing 3.2 beer by Congress. If this legislation had resulted, or should yet result, in a widespread orgy of drunkenness or disorder, it would inevitably work against repeal. Some ardent dries predicted that this would happen, and have based their hopes of defeating repeal largely upon that theory. So far, no important developments in this direction have occurred, in spite of the fact that in some states, as in Pennsylvania, beer was legalized before state laws regulating its sale were enacted.

Repealists have struck their blow at the Eighteenth Amendment at an opportune time. The depression caused a demand for change in almost everything. The idea that excise taxes on alcoholic beverages would relieve the financial plight of national, state and local governments has been attractive, many believing that good beverages taxed would be more desirable than vile beverages untaxed and controlled by organized criminals.

The average good citizen, who is neither a fanatical dry nor a fanatical wet, wants to see that system in effect which will best promote temperance, good order and prosperity. When the opportunity comes he will vote his honest convictions on the subject.

CONTROLLED INFLATION

There seems to be some apprehension about the supposed evil effects of the controlled inflation proposed by the Roosevelt administration.

Critics of the plan are pointing out how certain creditor groups are going to be adversely affected by the devaluation of the dollar.

That may be, but why not shed a few tears for the great debtor groups that are being swamped in the depths by the swollen value of the dollar?

Why ignore the injustice of requiring persons and corporations who borrowed in Coolidge dollars to pay out in Hoover dollars estimated in terms of present values at $1.33?

Are the owners of the dollars being cheated when they are getting the same number of cents back that they loaned?

The whole purpose of the Roosevelt plan is to bring commodity prices up to something like an honest level with the dollar, or in other words, to make the dollar worth, not 50 cents as critics contend as they weep for the "honest creditor," but $1 instead of $1.33.

The American people have endured all they should be asked to endure in the way of Mellon-Mills deflation. They can stand no more destruction of wages, incomes and savings in order to maintain a dishonest dollar. They are rightly demanding some kind of inflation and they are going to have it. Those who are arguing against the Roosevelt kind would do well to consider the alternative as proposed by some of the radicals in Congress.

NOT A DICTATOR, BUT A LEADER

In answer to the charge of the Hearst newspapers that Congress has delegated unwarranted powers to the President which may lead to a dictatorship, the Birmingham (Alabama) Age-Herald says:

"A dictatorship rests upon the idea of force, and cannot be separated from it. Once separated from force, it ceases to be an actual dictatorship. The concentration of authority in the President, on the other hand, is a grant of power by a duly authorized agency of the people—Congress—and in a perfectly regular way. It is no less proper, and should be no less acceptable, in a grave emergency of another sort, such as the present crisis, to give the President authority comparable to wartime powers.

"Rather than a dictatorship, it would better be called a leadership empowered to lead and that is no mere play on words. The difference between the two is the same as the difference between exercising authority by force and exercising it under a grant."

In his recent radio address to the nation, President Roosevelt said:

"A prompt program applied as quickly as possible seemed to me not only justified, but imperative to our National security. The Congress, and when I say Congress, I mean the members of both political parties, fully understood this and gave me generous and intelligent support. The members of Congress realized that the methods of normal times had to be replaced in the emergency by measures which were suited to the serious and pressing requirements of the moment. There was no actual surrender of power. Congress still retained its constitutional authority and no one has the slightest desire to change the balance of these powers.

"The function of Congress is to decide what has to be done and to select the appropriate agency to carry out its will. This policy it has strictly adhered to. The only thing that has been happening has been to designate the President as the agency to carry out certain of the purposes of the Congress. This was constitutional and in keeping with the past American traditions."

This does not leave much for the Hearst newspapers to stand on.

Killing Ducks Out of Season

From The Newcastle Register—We have many laws on our statute books; some good, some bad and some indifferent, but most of us try to be law-abiding citizens and uphold the laws of the land, but sometimes, unintentionally, we become parties criminals to an infraction wholly unavoidable on our part. Such was the case one night last week when Mr. and Mrs. Walter Youngman were returning from a visit to their daughter, Mrs. Bill Jones, at Olney. They were meeting a car going at a high rate of speed in the opposite direction, when all of a sudden, a big green-headed mallard came in violent contact with the radiator of the passing car and was hurled lifeless into Walter's face, together with both glasses of his front windshield. An expensive duck dinner at any rate, together with light cuts on his hand from flying glass.

LOW-COST Hot Water ... at the Turn of a Faucet ...

When you turn your "hot water" faucet you want ... and NEED ... an adequate supply of piping hot water. That, however, is only the primary requisite. If you can get this constant supply of hot water inexpensively, automatically and with perfect safety at all times, isn't that a perfect combination?

The modern ELECTRIC water heater gives you a surplus of hot water, and for good measure adds safety, cleanliness, health, dependability, quiet, comfort and convenience. Contrast these advantages with the flame noise, fumes, soot, smoke and odors of old-fashioned methods.

Ask a trained representative to show you the beautiful new electric water heaters now on display. They are equipped with emergency cutoffs for both temperature and pressure ... they offer all the well-known advantages of modern automatic electric water heating ... they operate on the new "constant hot water service" plan that means LOW COST to you ... and prices and terms are especially attractive!

Do you know that your increased use of electricity Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule ... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

such Charter shall provide for altering the jurisdiction or procedure of any Court. The duties of District Attorney and—County Attorney may be confined to representing the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and to enforcement of the State's Penal Code, and the compensation of said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees. c. Save as hereinabove and hereinafter otherwise provided, such Charters, within the limits expressed therein, may invest the governing body to be established for any county electing to operate hereunder with the power to create, consolidate or abolish any office or department, whether created by other provisions of the Constitution or by statute, define the duties thereof, fix the compensation for service therein, make the same elective or appointive and prescribe the time, qualifications and conditions for tenure in any such office; save, that no such Charter other than as hereinbefore authorized, shall provide to regulate the status, service, duties or compensation of members of the Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attorneys, or any office whatever by the law of the State required to be filled by an election embracing more than one county. Excepting herefrom nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms whereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution, at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in effect (save as to those offices which must continue to be elective, as herein elsewhere specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of service by deputies under such officers, may be subject to termination by the administrative body of the county, under an adopted Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof. d. Any county electing to operate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied, assessed and collected hereunder shall not exceed the limit or total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by this Constitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon property, both real, personal and mixed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon. e. In addition to the powers herein provided, and in addition to powers included in County Home Rule Charters, any county may, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of said county, amend its Charter to include other powers, functions, duties and rights which now or hereafter may be provided by this Constitution and the statutes of the State for counties. (4). Any county operating hereunder shall have the power to borrow money for all purposes lawful under its Charter, to include the refunding of a lawful debt, in a manner conforming to the General Laws of the State, and may issue therefor its obligations. Such obligations, other than those to refund a lawful debt, shall not be valid unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by those resident qualified voters of the area affected by the taxes required to retire such obligations, who may vote thereon. In case of county obligations, maturing after a period of five (5) years, the same shall be issued to mature serially, fixing the first maturity of principal at a time not to exceed two (2) years next after the date of the issuance of such obligations. Such obligations may pledge the full faith and credit of the county; but in no event shall the aggregate obligations so issued, in principal amount outstanding at any one time, exceed the then existing Constitutional limits for such obligations and such indebtedness and its supporting tax shall constitute a first and superior lien upon the property taxable in such county. No obligation issued hereunder shall be valid unless prior to the time of the issuance thereof there be levied a tax sufficient to retire the same as it matures, which tax shall not exceed the then existing Constitutional limits. (5). Such Charter may authorize the governing body of a county operating hereunder to prescribe the schedule of fees to be charged by the officers of the county for specified service, to be in lieu of the schedule for such fees prescribed by the General Laws of the State; and, to appropriate such fees to such funds as the Charter may prescribe; provided, however, no fee for a specified service shall exceed in amount the fee fixed by General Law for that same service. Such charters as to all judicial officers, other than District Judges, may prescribe the qualifications for service, provided the standards therefor be not lower than those fixed by the General Laws of the State. (6). Subject to the express limitations upon the exercise of the powers by this subdivision to be authorized, such Charters may provide (or omit to provide) that the governmental and—proprietary functions of any city, town, district or other defined political subdivision (which is a governmental agency and embraced within the boundaries of the county) be transferred, either as to some or all of the functions thereof, and yielded to the control of the administrative body of the county. No such transfer or yielding of functions may be effected, unless the proposal is submitted to a vote of the people, and, unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature, such a proposal shall be submitted as a separate issue, and the vote within and without any such city, town, district, or other defined governmental entity, shall be separately cast and counted, and unless two-thirds of the qualified votes cast within the yielding defined governmental entity, and a majority of the qualified votes cast in the remainder of the county, favor the proposed merger, it shall not be effected. In case of the mergers hereby authorized, without express Charter provision therefor, in so far as may be required to make effective the object of the proposed merger, the county shall succeed to all the appropriate lawful powers, duties, rights, procedures, restrictions and limitations which prior to the merger were imposed in, or imposed upon, the yielding governmental agency. Particularly, it is provided that the power to create funded indebtedness and to levy taxes in support thereof may be exercised only by such procedures, and within such limits, as now are or hereafter may be, provided by law to control such appropriate other governmental agencies were they to be independently administered. Such mergers may be effected under proposed contracts between the county and any such yielding governmental agency, to be approved at an election as hereinbefore provided for. In order to increase governmental efficiency and effect economy the county may contract with the principal city of the county to perform one or more of its functions, provided such contracts shall not be valid for more than two (2) years. b. In cases of the partial or complete merger of the government of a city operating under a Home Rule Charter, with the government of a county operating hereunder, those city Charter provisions affected thereby shall cease to control. c. When any embraced incorporated city or town elects to merge its governmental functions with those of the county under the provisions hereof, such Charter may provide for defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, provided, however, that in defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, such boundaries may be extended only to include those areas contiguous to such cities as are urban in character; and as to such cities or towns and for the benefit thereof the county, in addition to the primary city and county tax herein authorized and any other lawful district tax, may levy and collect taxes upon the property taxable within such city or town as defined or redefined, within the limits authorized by Sections 4 and 5 of Article XI of this Constitution, (or any Amendment thereof) for incorporated cities according to the population, provided that no tax greater than that existing at the time of such merger or for any added purpose shall be imposed upon any such city or town unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by the resident qualified voters of such city or town. d. Areas urban in character though not incorporated, under appropriate Charter provision may be defined, as such by the governing body of the county, provided, however, that no portion of the county shall be defined as an urban area unless it has sufficient population to entitle it to incorporate under the then existing laws of the State; and no such urban area, when created, shall be vested with any taxing or bonding power which it would not possess if it were operating as a separate incorporated unit under the then existing Constitutional and Statutory provisions of this State; and provided further that the governing body of the county for the government of such areas shall have and exercise all powers and authority granted by law to the governing bodies of similar areas when separately incorporated as a city or town, and such areas shall be subject to additional taxation within the same Constitutional limits as control taxation for a city or a town of like population. Likewise such Charter may provide for the governing board of the county subject to existing Constitutional and statutory provisions to define, create and administer districts, and have and exercise the powers and authority granted by the Constitution and laws relative to the same. (7). No provision of this Constitution inconsistent with the provisions of this Section 3, of Article IX, shall be held to control the provisions of a Charter adopted hereunder, and conforming herewith. Charters adopted hereunder shall make appropriate provision for the abandonment, revocation, and amendment thereof, subject only to the requirements that there must be a favorable majority of the vote cast upon such a proposal, by the qualified resident electors of the county; and, no Charter may forbid amendments thereof for a time greater than two (2) years. The provisions hereof shall be self-executing, subject only to the duty of the Legislature to pass all laws (consistent herewith) which may be necessary to carry out the intent and purpose hereof. Further, the Legislature shall prescribe a procedure for submitting to decision, by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon, proposed alternate and elective Charter provisions." Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following: "For the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more sufficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein." "Against the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more sufficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

Each voter shall scratch out one of the above listed clauses on such ballot, leaving unscratched that particular clause which expresses his vote on the proposed Amendment to which it relates. Section 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election in conformity herewith to determine whether or not the proposed Constitutional Amendment set forth herein shall be adopted, and the Governor shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. W. W. HEATH, Secretary of State. (A Correct Copy)

Names... you should know

You like to know names that everybody knows—name of the man who tied lightning to a kite; name of the man who watched a tea-kettle and went out and made an engine. Just knowing such names gives you pleasure.

Yet there are names that thousands of people know that can give you much more pleasure in a much more personal way. Names that stand for the best things to eat, to wear, to sleep on. Names, that if connected with the salad dressing, hat, fountain pen you select—or any other desirable thing—mean it is most desirable. Names written large in ADVERTISEMENTS.

Advertisements tell why those are wise names for you to know. Why such names greet you in the best grocery, department and hardware stores. Why those names are in the buying vocabulary of thousands . . . are believed in by thousands . . . justify belief!

Read the advertisements. Don't ask vaguely in a store for 'cold cream,' 'a skillet,' 'a vacuum cleaner.' Ask for So-and-So's Cold Cream, So-and-So's Skillet, So-and-So's Vacuum Cleaner. Use the names, you have learned through advertisements, that stand for the product that means most to you and most to everybody.

Dr. Donald A. FARMS

By W. H. Darrow, Extension Service Editor.

With 56 permanent pasture demonstrations under way, of which the county agent says 32 are in tip-top shape, Red River county is turning definitely toward improved pastures as the basis of farming. F. M. Watkins of Bogata got $91.06 worth of grazing from an 18-acre improved pasture in the first four months of the year.

Claude McCann of Victoria county told farmers on a tour of county agent demonstrations recently that 506 tons of feed has been put in two trench silos at a cost of 82 cents per ton, including the digging of the silos. He said it was the cheapest feed he ever put up and was a big factor in making a profit on 500 steers which he fed.

More than $300 worth of hooked rugs were made and sold in one year by Mrs. S. H. Gwyn, Midland county home demonstration club woman.

Of 33 community meat cutting, curing and canning teams trained by county farm and home demonstration agents in Falls county last fall, 15 report showing 936 people how to handle meat on the farm the A. and M. Way in 149 demonstrations.

Placing poison baits on 8,000 acres of Tarrant county pasture land where wolves and dogs were killing large numbers of lambs entirely relieved the situation according to the county agent who was aided in the work by the U. S. Biological Survey.

Needing a barn to house her milk goats, Mrs. J. H. Robins, 4-H party demonstrator of Amelia Home Demonstration Club in Jefferson county, traded chickens for the lumber required. A rooster, 12 hens, and 150 baby chicks bought 1,000 feet of dressed lumber.

Crowell—By using a self-feeder for feeding wheat and milo maize, and balancing this with skim milk, and part of the time with a mixed protein supplement, F. E. Diggs of Board county has produced 90 hogs weighing 275 pounds each at 7 1/2 months of age. They were all butchered and cured on his farm the A. and M. Way as shown by Fred Rennels, county agent.

Georgetown—Sanitary pit toilets constructed by plans furnished by the State Department of Health under direction of Dor W. Brown, county agent, are said by Williamson county farmers to be giving them more for their $2 than any thing they have found since the depression. Where the old house is used the cost has not exceeded $12 and only $2 where the flue is made from an old boiler. The house is thoroughly cleaned, made by proof.

and set over a new cement pit and floor. The building of the new type toilets on farms is being pushed by county farm and home demonstration agents through home demonstration clubs. Demonstration of the construction in four towns has resulted in 98 residents signing up to make them.

Colorado — Terraces in Mitchell county have increased crop yields an average of 30.3 per cent, kept sand from blowing to a large extent, saved much replanting, and have filled up many ditches and washes, according to reports of 65 farmers to W. S. Foster, county agent. All but two testified to increased crops from terraces and contours; 33 reported less blowing of sand; 46 were saved replanting; and 57 said terraces were filling up ditches and gullies. Land values were increased $105 per acre, 24 said. Of the 30 men who had used both level and sloping terraces, 22 preferred level terraces.

Seymour—"Last spring I sold $15 worth of tomato and pepper plants from my hot-bed, and this does not include what I gave away and set out in my own garden," states Mrs. Joe Cox of the Red Springs Home Demonstration Club in Baylor county. "My hot-bed is 12 feet long and 2 1/2 feet wide, and I am sure no other 30 square feet on the farm produced $15 worth of crops last year. My tomato plants for this year are coming up now. I never expect to be without a hot-bed again." Baylor county has 106 home demonstration club women who agree to that and have hotbeds in use in connection with their gardens, according to Miss Marie Strange, home demonstration agent.

Columbus — Sixty-nine healthy poults hatched from 72 eggs set is the record made by Mrs. S. P. Tiggett of Ramsey, Colorado county, with a bunch of sick turkey hens with which she began a demonstration this year in cooperation with W. H. Young, county agent. The hens were de-loused, wormed and placed on a 40 per cent buttermilk diet for 15 days. A patch of oats was planted for green feed and hens were fed a laying mash with grain at night and all the skim milk they would drink. The eggs were set under chicken hens, and no eggs were held longer than 10 days before setting. Aside from demonstration flocks, the average per cent of hatch for the county was about 60 per cent, Mr. Young says.

Longview—Because Oogie Hiatt of Forrest Hill community was successful in creep feeding three Hereford calves last year, about 300 grade calves will be fed by this method in Gregg county this year, states R. F. McSwain, county agent. Three other prominent cattlemen of the county have built self-feeders and placed them in creep pens in their pastures. In addition to grain and cottonseed meal kept in self-feeders in these creeps where the calves but not their mothers can enter during the nursing period, these men are using a mineral mixture.

Dallas — Sweet clover sowed on eight acres more than two years ago has provided grazing for 30 head of milk cows and two cuttings of hay in addition each year for M. B. Shugart, dairy farmer of Liberty Grove community, Dallas county. As reported by A. B. Jolley, county agent, the patch was plowed up last fall and sown to oats and barley which gave good grazing for several winter months. There is now an excellent stand of sweet clover again which Mr. Shugart figures will last another two years.

Yields of 4-H club boys growing grain sorghum crops from certified seed have been 35 per cent larger than average yields in Gray county for two years.

The Optimist

His horse dropped dead and his mule went lame. And he lost three cows in a poker game; Then a cyclone came along on a summer day, And carried the house where he lived away. Then an earthquake pervaded all the wood, And swallowed the ground where his house had stood. Did he grieve when his old friends failed to call? Did he swear when the earthquake buried all? Did he weep or sigh? Did he moan or cry? Did he blaspheme as the hurricane went sweeping by? Oh, no. Not he. He just climbed the hill Where standing room was left him still, And taking his hat from his old bald head, And with poise sublime, he gently said, "The last six months have been hard, you bet. But I have not had the small pox yet."

A Scot who had worn the same hat for fifteen years decided with heavy heart to buy a new one. Going into the only hat shop in his neighborhood, he said: "Well, here I am again."

A full blooded Pima Indian in Arizona recently needed some cash so he approached the banker at Casa Grande about a loan. "How much money do you need?" asked the banker. "Me want $200," replied the Indian. "For how long?" "Maybe two weeks; maybe two months." "And what security have you?" "Me got two hundred horses." This seemed sufficient, so the loan was made. Shortly afterward the Indian came into the bank with $2,200 cash, paid his loan, with interest, and started to depart. "Wait just a minute," cried the banker. "Why not let us take care of that money for you?" Recalling various bank failures of recent date, the Indian paused, looked the banker straight in the eyes and solemnly asked, "You got any horses?"

"What stand did you take when your mother-in-law told you you couldn't live at her house any longer?" "We took the wash-stand. That was the only thing that was ours."

ASSEMBLY OF GOD SERVICES

Christ was preached and men were led into the Church. Those same oracles which were manifest among the early disciples were placed in the Church. Heb. 2:3-4 to stay until Jesus, which is perfect is come. A powerless church is Christless church. Wednesday evening: Midweek service. You will meet a warm welcome here.

C. H. Eckles, Pastor.

Saturday evening: Sermon Topic: "Christian Qualifications," or "The Christian Religion at its High Peak of Privilege".

Sunday Morning: Sunday School, 10:00. Morning Service, 11:00.

Sermon Topic: "Fanaticism or Formality." Which of these unreasonable extremes yields the greater influence for evil upon the world? We sincerely believe that they are equally destructive.

Sunday Evening: Sermon Topic: "Supernatural vs. Natural Religion." Since the dawn of creation, the revelation of God's plan or will has been accompanied with a manifestation of supernatural power. The Christian Church was ushered in with power over all of Satan's power. Wherever the early disciples went to preach the word, God confirmed the word with signs following. The sick were healed, devils cast out, great revivals were held as at Samaria, Ephesus, Corinth, Antioch and other great centers. A message of the Lord Christ was preached and men were led into the Church. Those same oracles which were manifest among the early disciples were placed in the Church. Heb. 2:3-4 to stay until Jesus, which is perfect is come. A powerless church is Christless church. Wednesday evening: Midweek service. You will meet a warm welcome here.

Our prayer for each of you is that you may be spared such a loss as ours just as long as it is consistent with the Master's will, but if it should come to you may thank loving hearts to sympathize with and hands to minister to you the same splendid way. Manley Branch and Family.
