Mobile Mammogram Unit Returning to Silverton July 15

Transamerican Diagnostic Services will have a mobile breast cancer detection unit available to local women on Wednesday, July 15. The unit will be parked on the east side of the courthouse in Silverton.

Appointments may be made by calling Transamerican at 1-800-633-6452. For more information you may call Transamerican Diagnostic Services at (915) 561-8888.

Transamerican Diagnostic Services recently has been contracted by the Texas Department of Health to be an official provider for low-income women. Self-referred patients are accepted, and Transamerica is approved by Medicare as a provider to the Medicare Mammography Program.

Breast cancer cannot be prevented, but early detection can save many lives. Breast cancer will strike one in nine American women.

The American Cancer Society predicts that about 44,000 women will die of breast cancer this year. Experts estimate that if every woman had regular mammograms according to the guidelines established by the American Cancer Society, nearly a third of the women who die of breast cancer would survive.

The guidelines are:

1) Begin mammography by age 40

2) Age 40-49 mammogram every 1-2 years

3) Over age 50 annual mammogram

4) Monthly breast self-examination

5) Regular breast exams by a physician

Mammography is the best means for early detection of breast cancer.

Transamerican Diagnostic Services has been accredited by The American College of Radiology since 1989. The American College of Radiology program is voluntary and designed to insure women receive optimum quality mammographic examinations. The accreditation is done through evaluation of the facility's staff qualifications, (technologist, radiologist and physicist), equipment, quality control, quality assurance, image quality and breast dose.

Senior Citizens To Have Birthday Party

Silverton Senior Citizens will have their monthly birthday party Tuesday, July 7, beginning at 7:00 p.m.

Christene King will be the hostess, honoring those who have July birthdays.

Fourth of July Jamboree Promises to be Big Show!

Caprock Jamboree is held on the first Saturday night of each month at the showbarn in Silverton, and this month's show will be held on the Fourth of July. It promises to be another great show, and some of those scheduled to appear are Jonann and Rhonda, Country Six From Olton, Shanna, Dane Brown of Plainview, Country Sounds and Grammy and Pop.

The Buyer's Club will be operating the concession stand. Beginning at 6:00 p.m. they will be offering good things to eat. Plan to come early and have supper and visit until the musical show begins at 7:00 p.m.

The Jamboree crowd has grown from a small beginning to drawing a rather large crowd and parking has become a problem. Johnson's Gin has permitted their module lot south of the showbarn to be used for parking, but it is now being used to graze horses and those attending the Jamboree are asked to be careful not to drive through their electric fence.

Jamboree fans are encouraged to park inside the rodeo grounds and walk through the southeast corner gate to get to the showbarn. Local people are asked to begin parking there this month.

The Jamboree was begun to help Briscoe County attract people to this area to see the county and maybe leave a few tourist dollars. The Jamboree is succeeding in this endeavor. People are learning about Briscoe County, Silverton and Quitaque more than at any time in the past. Last week, a man who has lived in Tulia ten years said he had never seen the Caprock Country, so this indicates that the Jamboree's work is not finished.

Concession stand profits have been outstanding in recent months. The concession is booked through January 1994—18 months in advance!

The Jamboree now has all of its equipment paid for and is giving back to the county each month through an organization that needs money to promote and enhance the county. This is the third month this has been done.

Historical Marker to be Dedicated Here Sat., July 11

The dedication will be held in conjunction with the church centennial celebration, which will begin Saturday, July 11.

Briscoe County Judge Jimmy Burson will be master of ceremonies, and after the welcome the members of the Briscoe County Commissioners Court, Aaron Younger, Precinct 1; Jack Chandler, Precinct 2; L. B. Garvin, Precinct 3, and Fred Strange, Precinct 4, will be recognized.

The response will be given by Mrs. Murry (Johnnie) Morrison of Quitaque, chairman of the Briscoe County Historical Commission.

Gerald Riddell of Simonton, Texas, grandson of Elder W. S. Riddell, will read the inscription on the marker. The church was organized under the direction of Bro. Riddell, and he was its first pastor.

The singing of "God Bless America" will be led by Mrs. Shafe (Johnnie) Weaver, great-granddaughter of charter members, J. A. and Lucy Northcutt.

Holly Nance

Miss Nance is Briscoe Essay Contest Winner

Holly Nance, daughter of Wayne and Tina Nance, is one of the third-place winners in the Briscoe County essay contest conducted in the Valley and Silverton high school English departments last May.

Miss Nance enjoys basketball, cheerleading and being with her friends. She thinks Briscoe County is a great place to live in 1992, or anytime! Here's why she thinks so:

A Perfect Place to Live

Briscoe County is a great place to live in 1992. There are many excellent advantages and interesting aspects in Briscoe County. The low crime rate, friendly people, and beautiful landscape are a few of the great things of Briscoe County.

In Briscoe County, there is very rarely any crime. People can walk down the street or be in their homes and feel safe. No one has to worry about some of the things people in large cities worry about.

Each of the two small towns in Briscoe County is basically a large family. Everyone knows everyone. If someone new moves into one of the towns, there are always people waiting to greet them and make them feel welcomed. If anyone in the county has a special need, there are always many people willing to do anything to help and support them. Friends are always ready to give a helping hand. No one ever has to go through a rough or trying time alone; someone is always there to help.

Not only are the people of the county great, but also the physical features of the county are beautiful. It is filled with rolling plains that seem to stretch on forever, and the great caprock that drops to the deep canyons and hills. In summer, both are covered with magnificent evergreens that spot the green carpet of the plains and the rust walls of the canyons like spots on Dalmation dogs. In fall, the green slowly fades to warm tones of reds, oranges and yellows. The trees lose their summer clothing and become bare and exposed to the cooling climate. Slowly all bright colors vanish and cool soothing colors appear. In the winter, the warm tones that disappear are often replaced by a white blanket that covers the county. Much of the winter is filled with sparkling white snowflakes, slippery wet ice, sledding and ice skating. But then, once again the color of Briscoe County alters. The snow melts, waters the earth, and soon splotches of color are springing up everywhere. Beautiful flowers of every color and trees—ever so green—come to life until the next fall. Briscoe County is a very beautiful place all year!

Briscoe County is filled with great people and beautiful land; however, these are only a few great things about Briscoe County. It is a perfect place to live in 1992—or anytime!

Nine 4-H'ers Take Part In District Fashion Show

Nine Briscoe County 4-H'ers were exploring some of the different aspects of 4-H as they participated in the District 4-H Fashion Show. For the second year, the show was held at the South Plains Mall in Lubbock.

In the Junior I division, Brooke Garvin won a blue ribbon in the Sports category, Julie Weaver received a red ribbon in the Casual category and Taylor Griffin won a blue ribbon for her entry in the Dressy category.

The fashion show signals the end of this year's exploration through the 4-H Clothing project. In the clothing project, youth develop their decision-making skills, learn basic clothing construction techniques, develop poise, learn how to model and speak in front of people. It gives many youth a chance to do things that they would normally not be able to do.

Educational programs sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Silverton High School graduate Jeffrey Grimland recently has been named by South Plains College officials as a 1992 recipient of the Smallwood Scholarship through the SPC Scholars Program.

Grimland is among a group of 43 students who have been selected to receive the college's most prestigious scholarship award.

"We are pleased to be able to recognize these outstanding students who have prepared themselves well for college during the course of their high school careers," said Dr. Marvin L. Baker, SPC president. "They represent the upper five percent of college-bound students and promise to provide exemplary leadership in academic and technical endeavors at South Plains College."

Grimland is the son of Terry and Sally Grimland and graduated as salutatorian from Silverton High School. As a high school student, Grimland was named to Who's Who among American High School Students, was on the honor roll and was class favorite.

Grimland was a member of Future Homemakers of America. Future

Students named to the Scholars Program are awarded a $2,000 scholarship that is distributed in amounts of $500 per semester for the recipient's two years of study at SPC.

The Smallwood Scholarship program was established in 1979 by the late John L. and Vergie Bell Smallwood. The Smallwoods were long-time residents of Levelland who pursued interests in banking, ranching and farming. Although the Smallwoods had no children of their own, they were known to provide tuition assistance for local students to attend college. Their desire to assist young people attain a college education continues today through the Smallwood Scholarship program at SPC.

More than 200 graduating seniors completed the application process to be considered for the SPC Scholars Program. Applications are reviewed by the SPC Scholars Committee which recommends the recipients to the president of the college.

1993 Wheat Program Provisions Announced

Secretary of Agriculture Edward Madigan has announced a zero percent acreage reduction program for the 1993 wheat crop; therefore, in order to obtain price support loan and deficiency payments with respect to the 1993 wheat crop, producers on farms which have a wheat crop acreage base will not be required to devote any acreage on the farm to approved conservation use.

This level was chosen from the statutory range of 0 to 15 percent "to ensure sufficient supplies of U. S. wheat for domestic and export needs," Madigan said.

Other provisions for the 1993 wheat program are: established target price is $4.00 per bushel, unchanged from 1992; national loan rate is $2.45 bushel, and a paid land diversion will not be implemented.

Officials at Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) say an effort to maintain funding for the Market Promotion Program is now in full swing.

While the House of Representatives has been getting ready to consider legislation that authorizes funding for the program, cotton industry officials have been contacting key Congressmen to solidify support for the program. Consideration of the legislation could begin before Congress' July 4 break.

Opponents of the program portray the MPP as a "waste" of taxpayer money and at the least would greatly limit funding for the program, others wanting the program completely abolished.

PCG officials are currently working with the National Cotton Council (NCC) and other industry groups to drum up support for the program which has helped increase export sales of U. S. cotton by an average of $437 million each year since the MPP began.

PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson says, "The current effort to do away with the Market Promotion Program threatens to reduce vital export markets that serve cotton producers Beltwide."

Opponents of the MPP say the $200 million designated for the program in 1992 would be better spent in other areas. Increases in cotton exports and the expansion of overseas markets for U. S. cotton effectively refute these claims.

Since the program started in 1985 cotton export sales have averaged $437 million per year more than they were before 1985. Cotton exports topped the seven-million bale mark in 1991 and are expected to stay near the same level in 1992.

Cotton producers on the High Plains of Texas could be severely affected if funding for the program is significantly lowered or totally removed. A significant portion of the High Plains crop is sold in export markets each year.

"Elimination of the Market Promotion Program will have many unfavorable effects," notes Johnson. "Two of the most serious will be the loss

Panhandle Community Services Promotes Robbie Hill to Manager

Panhandle Community Services would like to announce the promotion of Robbie Hill to regional manager. She first became involved with Panhandle Community Services as a volunteer helping with Adult Basic Education classes in 1974. One of the graduates was her husband, along with over 300 other persons.

In 1975, Mrs. Hill was hired as of vital export markets and the negative effect a reduced export market will have on the balance of trade between the U. S. and other countries."

In 1986, U. S. cotton producers exported 5.3 million bales of cotton. By 1991 exports had climbed to more than seven million bales with the help of the aggressive overseas promotion program conducted by Cotton Council International under the MPP. Beltwide the marketing of over seven million bales overseas in 1991 provided more than $2 billion in annual sales to U. S. cotton producers.

"The MPP is an important vehicle for increasing the global marketshare of U. S. and High Plains cotton," adds Johnson. "PCG, the NCC and other industry segments will continue to fight for the continuation of this highly-effective program."

Mrs. Hill was born and reared in Clarendon. She married Ross Hill after graduating from high school and has a daughter, son and five grandchildren

Fireworks Safety Is Everyone's Job

The Texas Commission on Fire Protection warns Texans that Mother Nature may not be as much help in preventing Fourth of July fires this year as she was in 1991. Executive Director Mike Hines said that wet weather in the summer of 1991 was one variable in the reduction of fireworks-related fires during the Fourth of July holiday.

"Wet weather during fireworks season certainly helps fire fighters," Hines said. "But every Texan should be responsible for preventing fires and injuries caused by fireworks by using them as safely as possible or choosing another way to celebrate."

Since June 1992 was a very wet month, the incidence of fireworks-related fires this year should be low. Those setting off fireworks should remember not to do this in such a way that any of the fire lands on a rooftop or wooden structure, such as a patio deck.

In addition to the fires caused by fireworks, Texas Fire Incident Reporting System (TEXFIRS) data for 1991 shows five reported injuries caused by fireworks. Property loss in 1991 from fires amounted to $487,453 as compared to $652,438 in 1990.

State Fire Marshal Ernest Emerson said the safest option is to leave fireworks to the professional technician. "If you choose to use fireworks, use appropriate safety measures," Emerson said. "Teach your children fireworks safety by letting them see that you are concerned about the damage fireworks can cause."

Using fireworks safely can reduce the number of injuries caused by fireworks. The Texas Commission on Fire Protection offers these recommendations for using fireworks safely:

Purchase fireworks only from a vendor that displays a State Fire Marshal's Office retail fireworks permit.

Remember that many cities and communities regulate the possession and use of fireworks.

Never let children use fireworks. Always designate a responsible, sober adult to ignite the fireworks.

Use fireworks outdoors only, in a clear area away from houses and flammable materials, such as grass, trees, gasoline cans or wooden decks. Be sure that the fireworks, especially aerial fireworks, will not contact or land on potentially dangerous objects, such as power lines or automobiles.

Keep a bucket of water nearby while setting off fireworks. Use the water to douse any malfunctioning fireworks or accidental fires and to immerse minor burns. Also use this bucket of water for disposing of used sparklers.

Keep everyone, especially children under 15 years old, a safe distance away from the area where the fireworks are ignited.

Read and follow the directions exactly.

Never touch a firework after it has been lit. If the firework malfunctions, do not try to relight it or pick it up. Carefully douse all used fireworks with water.

Never experiment with fireworks. Don't take fireworks apart or mix anything with the contents. Never make fireworks at home. Don't set off fireworks in metal, glass or other types of containers.

After you have finished lighting fireworks, cool the remains with water. Then collect all used fireworks materials and put them in a metal container. Cover with water again to reduce the chance of an accidental fire.

Jeanne Graham of Lovington displays the Sisters Oven Steak/Bean Stew which received first place honors at the New Mexico State Beef Cook-Off in Roswell recently. She will represent New Mexico at the National Beef Cook-Off in Sacramento, California in September. She will be accompanied to the National contest by her sister, Mary Davis of Silverton.

Down Home Cookin' Wins Beef Cook-Off

Jeanne Graham of Lovington recently won the New Mexico State Beef Cook-Off in Roswell. Her Sisters Oven Steak/Bean Stew was judged the best of seven final entries, giving her the $500 cash prize and a paid trip to the National Beef Cook-Off in Sacramento, California September 17-19.

Jeanne's "down home" entry went up against several elaborate dishes that were elegantly decorated. "When I saw theirs, I thought, gosh, I could have at least gotten a nicer dish," she said after the contest.

But the judges, who were sequestered, went for taste, ease of preparation, and appeal, which were weighted over appearance. "It was the most objective judging you could imagine," said Jeanne. "We never saw them, and they never saw us. Nobody got a chance to sell her entry."

The contest, sponsored jointly by the New Mexico CowBelles and the New Mexico Beef Council, drew more than 200 entries.

At the first level of judging, recipes were sent to National Livestock & Meat Board Test Kitchen in Chicago. After professional tasters and testers finished their work, only the finalists remained. These were called in for the state cook-off.

Jeanne initially had some worries about her recipe. The big one was that the pinto beans took a long time to cook, and she was in danger of crossing the time limit. But she learned it was okay for her recipe to include pre-cooked beans or the use of canned beans.

One worry she never entertained was about the simplicity of the recipe. "Someone asked me if I was a gourmet cook, and I said no, I'm a simple cook," she said, "and that's the truth."

This straightforwardness has stood her in good stead for the 35 years she spent being a cook for five sons. And although leading a busy life as news editor of The Lovington Daily Leader, Jeanne still enjoys cooking at home. Family gatherings such as Thanksgiving and Christmas are centered around the family dining table—with Mom's "simple cooking" sending mouth watering aromas through the house.

As a small town (Silverton) Texas girl, Jeanne learned her fundamental cooking skills early and well from her own mother (Zelda Dudley). Another family tie is that of her sister, Mary Davis of Silverton, who furnished the basic idea for the winning recipe. Although Jeanne refined it considerably, she still gives Mary credit for the idea, and plans to take her along to the National cook-off.

Chaves County CowBells and Patti Townsend, state cook-off chairman, were great hosts for the state contest. The finalists were treated royally, transported in a stretch limo from their motel to Robert O. Anderson's Spring River Ranch headquarters southeast of town for an evening of barbecue and entertainment the day before the contest.

"I so much enjoyed meeting the other cooks," says Jeanne. "We all had a wonderful time."

The contest was held in the former First Interstate Bank Building, where seven ranges were temporarily installed. The cooks lined up and submitted their entries, spaced 30 minutes apart. Jeanne's was last.

The winner had some help with her star ingredient. "I called Susan Moreno at Bob's and told her I needed a round steak weighing at least two pounds, after all the fat and bone had been trimmed off," says Jeanne. "She did a beautiful job. The steak weighed two pounds, three ounces, and didn't have a speck of fat on it.

The steak was put in a portable icebox and transported to Roswell, where it stayed cool in the motel awaiting the contest time. "When I got it out on the table, several people came by and remarked what a beautiful piece of meat that was," says Jeanne.

(This story was written by Jeanne's husband, W. H. (Hop) Graham, who has enjoyed "Mom's simple cooking" even longer than their sons. He bought her lunch the day before this story was published, on their 40th wedding anniversary.)

The fastest recorded pitcher is Lynn Nolan Ryan who, on August 20, 1974, was measured to pitch at 100.9 mph in Anaheim Stadium, California.

THEIR LEGACY WAS THE FREEDOM OF OUR GREAT COUNTRY

Let's celebrate, but not forget
We owe them a tremendous debt:
Those men who risked their all and signed
That piece of paper which defined
The reasons for their great demand
For independence of our land.
This document for all to see
Forever lives in history;
And yet, the freedom that we gained
Must be eternally maintained,
With our alertness as the cost,
So what they gave us won't be lost.
The lessons of our faith portray
The gratitude we should convey;
To thank them for their legacy:
Our precious land of liberty.
