Poultry Dressing Demonstration for the Josselot Club

A poultry dressing demonstration being held and preparation for the same and can be by Mrs. W. C. Carter and E. B. Callaway, and Miss Johnnie Reed, H. agent, was given to twenty-one club members and visitors Sunday Sept. 16th in the home of Mrs. E. B. Callaway.

Striking, proper bleeding and plucking for boned chickens were the subjects emphasized by Mrs. Callaway and Mrs. Norton. For methods of plucking and the effect of proper plucking upon the quality of the skin refer to Bulletin C-95, Extension Service, A & M College, State Station, Texas.

"Do not seal the cans unless the steam is boiling hot," Miss Reed said. "Light and dark meat should be packed in separate cans and labeled if the product is to be sold." Fat and skin should not be used with the chicken, according to Miss Reed, as they age quickly and may cause the product to spoil. She stressed the importance of using unlined cans. Boned ground chicken and chicken tails were canned by the agent. Club members present were Messrs. C. W. Bledsoe, Allen Adams, L. Tolliver, Tommie Parks, C. A. Norton, W. C. Norton, Fred E. B. Callaway, Lynn Tolliver, Frank Spencer, Holt Eastland, John Gilliam, S. G. Perrin, Jesse C. Githorn and Johnnie Reed, H. agent. Visitors were Messdames Mrs. Smith, Midway club; Jim Sanford, J. C. Lewellen and C. A. Adams of Roberts and I. S. Grindall of near Haskell.

Dead Elephant Blocks Traffic
CEYLON—Motor horns honked, saw cookies yelled, and the Singapore traffic cop tore his hair. Traffic was halted beyond any hope of immediate resumption, and it wasn't the fault of a woman.

A careless mahout had permitted the elephant to drop dead in the middle of the busy street.

Mrs. A. W. Cox was called to the home of her father, Mr. W. R. Mead, Oklahoma last Friday. She returned Sunday and reported her father better.

EXCESS COTTON DEADLINE MONDAY

Excess Acreage Must Be Destroyed If Producer To Receive Next Check

To be eligible to receive second payment of Cotton Acreage Reduction Checks it will be necessary that each producer destroy the excess acreage, if his official notice shows excess acreage, by Monday, Sept. 24th, as community committee will start checking final Compliance Certificates at that time. Your cooperation is asked to speed up this final work that Haskell county might be ready to send in the final papers next week.

Official ruling is that excess acreage must be taken out of production and that the cotton produced on such acreage can not be sold, exchanged, or otherwise bring cash return to the producer. It can be fed or used for feed by the producer on the farm, for this land has been rented to the government and is subject to their regulations.

Buying of Cattle Stopped for Audit

AUSTIN, Tex.—The federal government's cattle buying program in Texas was halted last week in order to permit AAA officials at Washington to make an audit of all operations, according to C. Z. Crain, head of the commodities distribution department of the Texas Relief Commission. It did not say when the program will be resumed.

Crain hastened to assure ranchmen that all cattle bought by AAA representatives will be received by the Federal Surplus Relief Corporation, even though they may not reach government pens for several days. He estimated that perhaps 20,000 head will be so received. These will not be shipped out of state but will be processed for canning in Texas plants. With approximately 2,000,000 pounds of boned meat on storage at Fort Worth and San Antonio, it was believed the 19 government plants in Texas can be kept busy until buying is resumed. There are some 8,000 persons employed at these plants and, with cattle distributed in the fresh meat program, the state itself is able to consume some 3250 head per day.

Crain estimated that between 800,000 and 1,000,000 head of cattle have been bought and that the government has expended approximately $25,000,000 in the program in Texas.

BEER RETAINED IN JUSTICE PRECINCT

Voters Register Approval of Such Sale Saturday; Four Communities Cast Vote

In a special election held Saturday in Justice Precinct 4, the sale of 3.2 per cent beer was upheld by a majority of the voters. A total of 202 votes were cast in the four voting boxes of Sperton, McConnell, Joe Bailey and Bunker Hill for beer, while 182 votes were counted for the repeal of such sales.

The election was held at the instigation of the "drys" who presented a petition calling for a vote to the Commissioners' Court.

The sale of beer was voted in during the latter part of September 1933, by a vote of 79 to 46, with Segerton casting the largest total in favor of sale, 62 to 22. Bunker Hill joined the ranks of those favoring beer with eleven votes for and only one against, but both McConnell and Joe Bailey signified their wishes in the matter by casting negative votes. ## COUNTY TAX RATE LOWERED 22 CENTS

Rate Is Based on $8,000,000 Valuation of 1933; School Levies Are Unchanged

The Haskell county tax rate will be 22 cents less than last year according to the levy made by the Commissioner's Court this week for the year 1934.

The general levy was reduced from 80 cents to 73 cents on the $100,000 valuation and the tax for the county road bond was reduced from 35 cents to 20 cents, making a total for all county purposes of 93, compared with the rate of $1.15 for last year.

The items included in the reduction in the general rate was a cut of 3 cents in the Jury fund, one cent reduction in the Jail interest and sinking fund and the Court-house equipment warrants fund was omitted altogether. This item carried a 3 cent levy last year.

The rate is based on the same valuation as last year, which was approximately $8,000,000.

Roll tax is 25 cents for the county and $1.50 for the state, or a total of $1.75.

The school district levies fixed in the various districts are generally unchanged from last year.

The 73 cent General Levy is divided into the following funds:

General Fund	25
Road and bridge	15
Jury	05
Courthouse Interest and Sinking fund	12
Jail Interest and Sinking fund	01
Courthouse and Jail maintenance	15
Total	73
County Road Bond	20
Total	93

In Road and Bridge No. 4, a special tax of 15 cents was voted several years ago, making a total rate of $1.08 in Precinct No. 4.

The state rate has been set at 77 cents, the same as last year, making a total rate for the county and state, including road bonds, of $1.70 in Precinct No. 4, compared with a total rate last year of $1.92.

Total of 119 New Charters Granted In Month August

AUSTIN, Texas.—The number of new charters granted to firms to operate in Texas during August totaled 119, a rise of 13.4 per cent from July, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. This number was, however, a decline of 3 per cent from August of last year, while total capitalization of $2,200,000 in August represented an increase of 10.2 per cent over a month ago, but a drop of 15.6 per cent from last year.

Corporations with capitalization of $5,000 or less, of which there were 56, showed an increase of 40 per cent over July and 2 per cent below last year while the four with capitalization of $100,000 or more was the same number as in July but 20 per cent below August a year ago.

Oil, real estate building, and out-of-state permits showed an increase in comparison both with July and with August last year.

OVER 1300 BALES COTTON IS GINNED

Number Far Exceeds Record of 1933; Dry Weather Blamed For Raise

More than 1300 bales of cotton have been ginned in the town of Haskell from the 1934 crop according to an unofficial report made by the seven gins yesterday afternoon.

The report was gathered early in the afternoon and the exact number that had been ginned was 1285 with a number of bales standing on the gin yards.

This number far exceeds last year as the official ginner's report as of September 16th, gave the entire county 1372. The increase is accounted for this year by the extreme hot, dry weather which has caused much of the cotton to open prematurely.

The general opinion of cotton men is that the entire county will harvest not more than 12,000 bales this year, compared with approximately 60,000 bales last year.

Move Made To Halt Stolen CWA Checks In State

AUSTIN, Texas.—State Relief Director Adam R. Johnson today moved to protect the public against spurious CWA checks, which, he said he had been informed by government operatives, had been stolen from some of the county relief offices in Texas.

Johnson instructed county administrators to destroy all remaining blank CWA checks in the presence of witnesses after making a complete record of the serial numbers of these checks, which he said will be forwarded to him at once.

Civil works administration projects were halted March 29 and final checks to clients were made out April 1. Scattered claims for material and equipment have been made since that time, but these all have been paid from Washington.

"Merchants and the public generally should not cash checks represented as having been received in payment for work done on CWA projects," Johnson said.

Most middle-aged women are progressive, always looking for the latest wrinkle—in the mirror.

Methodist Missionary Society.

On Monday Sept. 17 the Methodist Missionary Society met for a continued study of "Eastern Women Today and Tomorrow."

With Mrs. O. E. Patterson at the piano, "My Faith Looks Up To Thee" was sung.

Mrs. Mack Martin gave the devotional, and for the Scripture lesson read the 13th chapter of Matthew. Comments on the 33rd verse were interesting.

The devotional was followed with a prayer by Mrs. Breedlove. Mrs. Patterson was teacher for the afternoon and her handling of the lesson showed a thorough understanding of her subject. The third chapter told of the early Mission Schools for women, the first being established in 1900. This was an entirely new venture in the Orient and for years was viewed with doubt and suspicion. Despite the rapid progress made, there still remains 57,000,000 children of school age, who can neither read or write.

In the Orient, no longer is there the question of education for women, but "How can schools be established fast enough to meet the demand?"

The fourth chapter told of the economic conditions affecting the women and girls of the Far East. Among the nations of the world, Japan has forged to the front—commercially—but only by exploiting the labor of women and children has this been possible. Conditions of the woman factory worker are better in China than in either India or Japan. Space will not permit of a complete report of this interesting lesson, but the ladies who are absent are missing a treat. The society was dismissed with a prayer by Mrs. Sowell. We meet again on next Monday afternoon at 3 p. m., and a good attendance is urged.

Helen Bagby Circle.

"Pioneering Baptist in Europe" was the topic studied by the members of the Baptist W. M. S. of the Central Circle at their Royal Service program given Monday afternoon in the hospitable home of Mrs. Alfred Pierson. Singing "Sweet Hour of Prayer" opened the meeting, with Mrs. Pierson at the piano. Mrs. Taylor gave the opening prayer and conducted a short business session in which two chairmen were appointed to complete our list for the coming year. Mrs. Cates was appointed personal service chairman and Mrs. Glenn stewardship chairman.

Mrs. Paxton gave the devotional concerning the strangers, after which she offered prayer. Mrs. Whately was leader of the Royal Service lesson and members presenting topics were Mesdames Reynolds, Cates, Simmons, Lamkin, Ellis and Whately, and a number of prayers were given by Mesdames Whately, Cates, Reynolds, and Glenn. Mrs. Taylor requested special prayer for her daughter May Belle, who departed last week to enter the young people's training school at Louisville, Ky.

Eleven members were dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Lamkin. A delicious refreshment plate was served by our hostess and little daughter, Cora Louise. We graciously accepted an invitation then to visit the North Circle and motor to the residence of Mrs. D. Scott and enjoyed a lively program given in honor of Miss Ida Crawford and mother, who will soon move from us to their new home in Lubbock, and we certainly did enjoy the hospitality of this great number of christian workers, the North Circle and T. E. L. class. We earnestly plead for the Baptist ladies of the church to join one of our three Circles and enjoy our great work and hospitality all together. Let's make this an age of christian progress by being powerful in prayer and by consecrated living.

North Ward-High School Parent-Teacher Meeting

The North Ward and High School Parent-Teacher Association met in its first meeting of the 1934-35 session at 8 o'clock Thursday evening of last week.

Josset H. D. Club To Meet Sept. 25th

Josset Home Demonstration club members are to meet Tuesday Sept. 25th in the home of Mrs. Frank Spencer to discuss plans for the Haskell County Fair.

H. K. Henry and A. D. McClintock left Wednesday morning with entries for the Graham fair.

Midway H. D. Club.

The demonstration on killing and canning chickens, given on by Mrs. Ed Welsh and Jesse Smith was one of the most helpful demonstrations we have had in our club work. One point forcibly brought out was the difference in the appearance of meat when a chicken was properly bled and when it was not. Welsh showed how to separate the white meat in one part, the dark meat in the other. This is an advantage when it is to be canned. Part of the chicken was canned large pieces after being bled, and was ground and canned to be used as sandwiches and Miss Reed, who was given help made chicken mailes. Now, you who have eaten chicken tamales, just making some and see how they are.

You ladies who have been eating your chicken and losing it are not getting a good profit should have been present and seen this demonstration from start to finish.

Lunch was served at noon. We were delighted to have with us visitors, Mrs. J. A. Landess, Mrs. T. Penn and Mrs. J. W. Brown of the Howard community, Mrs. Adams of the Josset Club, and welcome Mrs. Gilley Muikey and Mrs. Floyd Lusk as new members. The kitchen in our club is equipped with running water and a new high powered Perfecto range is to be installed in the future.

Walk for Health, Says Dame Fashion

(By A "Young Modern")
DENTON, Texas.—Shall we go and walk? Of course not if you don't want to, but have you ever decided just why it is that you don't particularly care for that exercise that brings the "roses to your cheeks"?
Maybe it's your shoes.
Fashion says walk for your health, walk for your figure, walk for fun, but walk in comfort, and the State College for Women coeds readily agree. Several years ago it was with some reluctance that college girls "walked in comfort" for the existing pattern in "comfort shoes" weren't the thing to be seen in on the campus. But now the new low-heeled, so attractive and easy on the feet are the smartest being worn to wear with tweeds and fall dress fabrics.
Designed in light colored elk effect, trimmed with dark brown perforated designs or a pebbly looking grain calf which gives two effects, the ever-popular oxford and ghillie ties will help you get on to your stride.
For more formal dress the latest shoes are designed in alligator and reptile skins cut to a high lace or either pump or oxford styles. Let them be conservative but attractive and most of all harmonize with your new fall ensemble.

With an eye to "glamour for the evening" college students select a frivolous sandal in silver or gold for their dancing dress. Dark sandals in black, brown or navy blue also make their appearance in early fall styles to blend with the formal evening gown.
Choose your shoes to harmonize with your costume—it's most essential in perfect grooming.

Maharajah Worth Weight In Gold

BOMBAY.—An old Rajput custom will be revived by the Maharajah of Gondal when he celebrates the approaching 51st anniversary of his accession to the throne.
He will be weighed against a quantity of gold, which afterwards will be distributed to charities. It is expected that $75,000 will be given away in this fashion.
The Maharajah, H. H. Shri Bhagwat Singhji, is a Rajput of ancient lineage, and rules over a population of more than 200,000. He always has pursued an enlightened policy in his rule, and Gondal is one of the few Indian states where female education is compulsory.

A CHALLENGE

Inventor H. P. Williams, 567 E. Moran, Stamford, Texas, and partner, J. D. Maberry, McCaulley, Texas:

After 8 years close work and experience with the WILLIAMS ALL-PURPOSE PLOW, we are firmly convinced it is the most practical and economical tractor plow on the market.

For the benefit of the 100 enthusiastic owners in the territory, and the hundreds of those considering tractor purchases, and who want the best and most economical equipment possible, we have arranged a public demonstration for the WILLIAMS ALL-PURPOSE PLOW mounted on Farmall Tractors. With due respect to competitive tractors and without comment on their equipment we hereby challenge and invite the following tractor dealers or manufacturers to be present and demonstrate their best equipment in farmers' presence, in competition with the WILLIAMS ALL-PURPOSE PLOW.

Tractors invited: John Deere, Case, Oliver, Hart Parr, Allis Chalmers, Massey Harris and International, including the International #12.

Work to be done consists of bedding, re-bedding, planting and cultivating work, and any other work the competitors want.

This challenge is issued in all fairness to the above competitors that interested farmers may decide on best equipment and will be held Tuesday, Oct. 2, 1934, on John Whaley's farm, west of Tuxedo on Stamford-Hamlin highway.

This item is appearing in the Anson, Hamlin, Stamford, Haskell and Munday newspapers and the date of demonstration set in order to give all competitors ample time to be prepared to do their best.

Don't forget the time and location as we promise some interesting disclosures about tractor implements.

Seeing is believing, so you farmers come and see where to spend your money.

Pioneers Recall 'Wild' Texan Who Branded Indian

Fort Worth.—History sometimes neglects a minor detail here and there, with the result that events often are chronicled without the names of those who played the principal roles.

Many such events, however, retain their interest even without the name of the chief actors. Such is the case of a Panhandle cowboy who rode range on the banks of the South Canadian.

This cowboy, so old-timers tell it, was branding cattle back in the 70's. His branding iron was still hot as he threw a leg over the saddle and prepared to start out for another calf. As he did so he froze in his seat. There, behind a tree, stood a Comanche Indian, his rifle to his shoulder. The cowboy waited, wondering just where the bullet would strike him.

The Indian pulled the trigger and the bullet whizzed by the cowboy's ear. And then happened the strange thing of the Panhandle.

With his momentary advantage the cowboy put the spurs to his horse, raised his lariat and roped the Comanche. Then he dragged the Indian back to the still glowing fire and reheated the branding iron.

The cowboy applied the iron to the Indian's hip, despite his yells of protest, then he brought out his knife and cropped the Indian's ears with the same mark used on his herd.

"After this don't ever let anyone tell you're a maverick, you're carrying one of the best brands in the Panhandle," the cowboy told the Indian. "And if I ever catch you down this way again I'll come up to the Territory (Oklahoma Territory) and put the iron on the whole tribe."

Radio Alarm Will Frighten Burglars

LONDON.—A woman has just paid $250 for a radiophone—to play one record only.

When it is played, a dog's bark is heard, followed by a man's cry of "Who's there?"

The purchaser is a widow living with an elderly maid in a district which has had an epidemic of burglaries.

With her new radiophone loud-speakers will be installed in every room, the radiophone will be connected with an "invisible light" alarm across each window, and any would-be thief will get the shock of his life if he tries to enter.

To Members of Haskell-Knox County Burial Association

I take this method of thanking each member who helped make possible the assistance rendered me through our membership. My membership was taken solely for the purpose of helping others at their time of bereavement, never once feeling that my home would be first from which an adult would be taken.

The assistance this Association gives cannot be fully appreciated until it is needed. In my case the assistance was very promptly delivered.

Sincerely,
T. W. Williams M. D.

Miss Pauline Frierson left Tuesday for Canyon where she will enter N. T. S. T. College.

Texas Sheriffs Urge New Legislation

Sheriff W. T. Sarrells and Mrs. Sarrells were in attendance last week at the 56th annual meeting of the Texas Sheriffs' Association in San Angelo.

Mr. Sarrells stated that the meeting was attended by officers from all over the state, and much consideration was given during the business sessions to desired legislation which would aid peace officers in their work. Mr. Sarrells served on the resolutions committee which outlined the following measures for the consideration of the state's lawmakers and the convention went on record urging passage of these measures:

A bill making valid all claims filed or paid on Justice of the Peace warrants during the arbitration period from 1927 to 1933.

A bill calling for adequate appropriation by the State Legislature for the apprehension of criminals.

A bill making the signing of a waiver by a criminal apprehended in another state binding.

A bill providing for the payment of fees in serving witnesses in felony cases regardless of how many times aid witness or witnesses might have been subpoenaed.

The abolition of all obsolete laws. A bill authorizing the County Commissioners' Court in each and every county to purchase machine guns, tear gas, and other paraphernalia.

A bill requiring all litigants to make a cash deposit covering sheriff's costs in serving civil process.

A bill amending the present law which makes sheriffs wait until the final disposition of cases before collecting their fees from the Comptroller, which will allow them to collect all fees earned up to the end of the term of court then in session provided indictments have been returned.

A bill to provide for the payment of fees earned in serving criminal subpoenas in County Court cases whether a conviction is obtained or not. Such fees to be paid by the county at the end of each term of County Court.

A bill providing for the payment of fees and expenses in extraditing felons from other states.

A bill making fees in the attachment of witnesses identical with a warrant.

A bill making sheriffs' terms of office four years instead of two.

A bill allowing sheriffs to continue to collect fees earned and due them after going out of office until all such fees are paid them.

Others serving on the resolutions committee, in addition to Sheriff Sarrells, were: Chris Fox, El Paso; R. N. Barnett, Canyon; J. D. Burton, Edinburg; Love Kimbrough, Brady; Ross Smiley, Clarksville; F. Biagge, Galveston; Milan Wright, Reeder; Webb, Odessa; D. P. Gray; Bob Daniels; Art Goalsby; H. T. FARMER GETS YIELD OF 1-3 BALE TO ACRE

One-third of a bale of cotton to the acre is being harvested on the farm of Lewel Day of Haskell county despite the drought, while his neighbors are harvesting only one-fourth of a bale per acre or even less, according to R. H. Maxwell, farm demonstration agent. Mr. Day attributes this large yield to the fact that moisture in the ground was conserved by terracing done last spring.

NIGHT FOOTBALL--

Continued from First Page. Concerned and practically every thing is in readiness for the game Friday night which will inaugurate night football in Haskell. Six huge clusters of high-powered bulbs will throw their beams over the playing field with such brilliance that every play will be easily seen by grandstand spectators. From any position in the grandstand, the play will be in plain view as the field has been moved immediately in front of the structure.

Book Sales To Stop

Sales of the coupon books will be halted just before the game according to Geo. V. Wimlish, of the local athletic committee, and he urges everyone to buy immediately, if they wish to effect a saving on the price of the six football games to be played here this season.

Many Aspirants
A wealth of material has been given Richey this season from which to select a fighting squad. New men have made their appearance on the practice field and have been hustling to win a place. The competition is considered "tough" by all the players.

OATHS FOR TEACHERS

Teachers in both public and private schools in the state of New York are required to take an oath of allegiance, in compliance with a law recently enacted and signed by Governor Lehman, and bills containing similar provisions are sponsored in several other states.

It might seem to some rather superfluous to ask a teacher to take an oath of allegiance to the government and Constitution, but the fact that many of them have objected to taking the oath indicates that the requirement may not be such a bad idea after all. A teacher, who unquestionably wields a marked influence in shaping the after life of the school child, is in a better position than any other except the parents to train a child to be patriotic and loyal to the country and no district would think of retaining a teacher who sows seeds of disloyalty in the minds of children. It might be assumed that teachers, who earn their livelihood through government, would be the last suspected of unloyalty, but it is said that no less than 800 of New York's teachers have protested against being compelled to swear allegiance to the government and the Constitution.

It may be that these teachers merely object to having their loyalty and patriotism questioned, but since every official must take an oath of allegiance and as there are few positions in which loyalty to the nation is more essential than that of a teacher, it is difficult to see why there should be any objection to the oath unless the teacher be a Communist or other enemy of the Constitution. A loyal teacher could have no valid reason for not declaring his or her loyalty, and refusal to make such a declaration might be taken as rather conclusive evidence that the teacher in question was unfit to teach future American citizens.

THE STORE AND THE TOWN

A store, be it large or small, is only as good as its trade. With a high class patronage composed of people who are interested in the store for the store's sake, that store will grow and develop and prosper. So the progressive merchant, having the welfare of his store at heart, endeavors to gain the confidence, the respect and the interest of his trade.

There was a time when the tradesman sat within his dingy shop and heckled and bargained across the counter with his customers. He drove keen bargains. Progress, however, has decreed that this type of merchant join the departed brotherhood of the itinerant peddler, the dinosaur and the three-toed horse.

A progressive community demands progressive stores. The shops and business establishments which a community supports bespeak the prosperity of that community. Their interests are identical. They work in harmony.

So the progressive merchant must have the interests of his community at heart. He is advertising his town. His town will not admit laxity in this service. He must serve his patrons with the best. He finds his business far more than retailing goods at a profit. He must inculcate into his business the progressiveness of the community; he must reflect the substantiality of his trade; he must inspire confidence in his business by service accomplished and value given.

GETTING THE BUSINESS

Make free use of printer's ink. Talk to the world about your business—the line of goods you carry; their style, peculiarities and adaptabilities. In purchasing, do so with care, remembering that goods well bought are half sold. Make careful selections, buy cheap, and make the selling price reasonable. Tell the people what you will do, and do as you advertise, every time. Send out your messages every week. The people look for it and are disappointed if they see it not; and it is often the case after your long silence, the constant appeals of others have caught the eye and drawn thitherward many a good customer you once had, who is now a patron of him who neglected not to tell where to go to get what he wanted, at reasonable rates. This is as it will be, and as it should be, in this busy age. People take and read the paper for a purpose, and one is to find out where they can get what they want without spending a day hunting all over town for it. The merchant who apprises them of this fact, in a judicious way, will be the one that catches the trade, builds up a lucrative business, and makes his calling a success.

Just A Football Game

This coming Friday night, the Haskell Indians, local high school football team, will tangle with the Munday school team for the first game of the season.

To some people, it may appear "only a football game," but it really is more than that, or should be. Patriotism, courage, clean sport and the ability to "take it" should be displayed.

The Haskell team begins another season. The mistakes which may have been made in the past, are now apparently forgotten, as every loyal football fan eagerly awaits the sound of the whistle. High hopes are being held by everyone that Haskell may enjoy a successful season—and to a large number, success means the winning of games, which is probably proper, but Haskell can win games, all of them, and then not be successful, if dirty, unfair advantage is taken of visiting players or if the fans of Haskell fail to support the team as it should be supported, win, lose or draw. We believe the players will play as they should play.

The fans of Haskell want a winning team, but we believe every potential player also hopes for the same thing. We believe that the players will be battling every inch of the way to win in every game and we hope every football fan in Haskell battles just as hard for the team.

Naturally, there will be some betting. There always is, but for the good of the game, that fact should not be allowed to influence anyone to act in any manner he would not have acted if he had no money to bet.

Every Haskell citizen, man or woman, boy or girl, who is able, should attend the game, whether they know very much about football or not. Very few fans do, but anyone will get their money's worth when a beautiful pass is made, a touchdown scored or when the line presents a solid wall of strength to keep opponents from scoring.

Money is needed to pay for the lights now being installed, and a large crowd Friday night will do much to alleviate the indebtedness. Only a small sum will be asked for such sport, so tell your friends to meet you at the game, unless you want to pay their way. Anyway, let's all go to that game!

We've failed so far, but eventually, some soda jerk will break a glass when he slams it down so emphatically on the marble—we hope. Some of these days we intend to ask Virgil Reynolds how come he is called "Barge," "Slick" and one or two other nicknames. Don't tell us women haven't rights. One of the fair sex preempted our place at the counter in a local cafe the other day with only "I'm sorry, but someone else got my place." Thanks for the apology, anyway, and maybe we'll both have better luck next time. Have you seen the new telephone table in the Pioneer Mutual Life Insurance Co.'s office?

How To Drive So You Will Arrive

Ab Jenkins, the man who holds more American Automobile Association records for distance, speed and endurance driving than any other driver—and has never had an accident—gives six practical suggestions for safe driving in the current Rotarian Magazine. They are:

1. Keep both hands on the wheel.
2. Keep the best tires on the front wheels.
3. Always test your brakes. "During the first 100 yards of driving I always test my brakes by pushing the pedal. The brakes may have frozen, they may be greasy or need adjustment."
4. Be extremely careful at twilight.
5. Don't use brakes in a skid.
6. Don't use brakes to throw out your clutch and maneuver the steering wheel so that the front wheels are in alignment with the rear ones. In other words, go in the skid. Braking is ineffective. Your concern is to equalize traction on all your wheels. In time, as soon as you feel the skid weakening, let in the clutch, "gun" the motor, and renege forward progress.
7. Study the road.
8. Always reduce speed when passing from one type of road to another. Your sight wheel should be approximately one and one-half feet from the outer edge of the highway. Running off the road is common. Thirty-one per cent of accidents are due to sleeping, while 34 per cent are caused by cats going off the road.

ANCIENT TRUCK HAD BUGGY WHIP HOLDER

CLINTON—A holder for a buggy whip, to be used in case a horse or mule had to come to the rescue, was one of the indispensable accessories for 1903 model cars, if a truck manufactured then is to be taken as an indication.

A two-cylinder, chain drive International Harvester company truck, made in 1903, is owned by Doane R. Farr, manager of a Clinton transfer company. He bought the unique machine because his father, who pioneered in the trucking business in Clinton, owned one of the same make.

The machine stands high off the ground with the wheels measuring three feet in diameter, compared to the present size of 18 or 20 inches. The motor is under the seat. The buggy-whip holder was placed at the front of the car, where the dashboard is on modern machines.

A tank of fuel was carried on the right side of the car for carbide lights. The gasoline tank was under the radiator. At top speed the truck could go 10 miles an hour.

Of Course You Want Your Boy to Win

If any one told you that you were making it needlessly hard for your boy or your little daughter to get on in school you wouldn't believe it could be true.

But are you giving your child, or your children, the good light they need for their home studying?

In many of the schools light is still poor, so it is especially important to provide good light where children's home work is done.

See that the lamps they use are of sufficient wattage to give plenty of light and that there can be no glare in their eyes, either direct or reflected.

Poor light makes concentration difficult, brings on fatigue and drowsiness quickly, is damaging to young eyes, and is often responsible for faulty posture, which is a danger to be guarded against.

Let our home lighting consultant tell you how to light your home for your children's benefit and for your own comfort. This is a free service. You have only to write or 'phone us to obtain it. Take advantage of this service before school begins. It will pay dividends in higher grades.

The Haskell Pastors' Association Views the Fair

As president of the Haskell Pastors' Association I am writing this article, having been asked by that body to do so, but being given the authority to write and present it as I have seen fit.

In the first place, we as ministers want to compliment the promoters of the Fair for the optimistic outlook which they have in the planning for the Fair this fall.

We therefore would like to express ourselves as to what we consider the purpose of such Fairs. Certainly it is to display the agricultural products, live stock, poultry, hand work, and other accomplishments.

NEW DEAL SUMMARY OF 16-MONTH TIME PICTURES PROGRESS

Report by Richberg Shows 4,120,000 Returned To Work—Profits Rise

WASHINGTON. — Donald R. Richberg recently presented President Roosevelt with a chart of employment and business gains under the new deal showing that the first 16 months had put 4,120,000 persons back to work and boosted business profits.

The campaign year summary of NRA and PWA benefits declared the unemployment battle was far from won but reported that:

1. NRA shorter hour codes provided 2,320,000 jobs.

2. New jobs from March 1933 to the creation of NRA aggregated 1,800,000.

3. PWA projects are providing employment for 625,000 persons, but these were neither definitely allocated to nor excluded from the foregoing 4,120,000.

4. Manufacturing payrolls increased from $90,000,000 in June, 1933 to $123,000,000 in June 1934.

5. Business failures—principally small businesses—decreased 40 per cent February to March 1934 compared with a like period in 1929.

6. Corporate profits rise from a deficit figure of 6.9 in the first quarter of 1933 to a profit figure of 33.2 in the second quarter of 1934.

7. Approximately 95 per cent of all industrial workers are covered by NRA codes providing higher wages and shorter working hours.

8. Ninety-nine out of every 100 counties has at least one PWA project.

9. Living costs have gone up slightly faster than the individual workers pay.

10. Industry was employing 40,180,000 persons in June of this year. The report dealt with industrial unemployment relief through private enterprise (NRA), and public works. It was prepared by Richberg as secretary of the executive council.

Wants PWA Extended
Buried in the report was an announcement that PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes has recommended ed legislation to continue PWA at least until 1937. That is two years beyond the date set by Mr. Roosevelt for the country to begin living within its income.

Ickes has $35,000,000 left of his $3,700,000,000 appropriation. Today's report is the first of seven for presentation to Mr. Roosevelt by mid-September as the congressional campaign enters its final stage.

The reports, providing new deal candidates with ammunition, will present: Agricultural relief; relief of destitution; relief of financial pressure; advance in public services; administrations services; and promotion of foreign trade.

The employment statistics of various agencies are not correlated and the aggregate of new jobs listed is well above 5,300,000.

Richberg said the figures were impressive evidence of continued unemployment. Unofficial estimates place the jobless at 7,000,000 to 10,000,000.

Labor's share in the national income was reported up from 38.3 in June 1933 to 62.5 in June 1934. Richberg said June living costs had increased 9.6 per cent while the weekly wage increased only 8.5 per cent.

Purchasing Power Same
"Therefore," he concluded, "the average manufacturing worker's purchasing power remained practically unchanged; although by shortening hours he shared his work with new employees, without an individual loss in real wages."

The work week in all industry had been reduced in June by six hours to an average of 37 hours. Average wages increased 26 per cent to 55.2 cents per hour. Richberg claimed the wage increase was directly due to NRA codes.

American Federation of Labor membership was estimated to have increased by 2,000,000. The number of trade associations of employers more than doubled.

Richberg's report was based on material from various federal agencies.

"The exact contribution of NRA to this industrial recovery," he said, "cannot be established statistically. But the coincidence of business improvement with the NRA codification and the obvious direct effects demonstrate the dominant influence of NRA in this industrial advance."

Farm Woman Sells $55.40 Worth of Products

CORPUS CHRISTI. — Although the home demonstration club market was not open during July and August, Mrs. R. A. Woodward of Nueces county has made $55.40 since the first of June by selling to regular customers obtained through the market, according to Miss Dosca Hale, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Woodward sold 23 cakes, 64 dozen eggs, and 45 fryers. She adds that she and her husband are making more through the market this year than they are through their cotton crop.

Daytime Fashions Are Slim, Wearable and Graceful This Fall

If one were asked to sum up the new dress fashions in a few words, they would probably be: "Slim... wearable... versatile." The soft, natural shoulder line prevails, and the silhouette has become slimmer and slimmer with pleats, panels and slits that allow freedom of motion without breaking its slender, becoming lines; the mode is decidedly wearable one for it is lacking in extreme effects or styles that are difficult for the average woman to wear; and the styles are undoubtedly versatile, since they cover such a wide range of types for every conceivable daytime and evening occasion. It is a mode that relies upon beauty of cut, fabric and detail for interest rather than upon startling or bizarre fashions... and it is a mode that allows everybody to find dresses and costumes well suited to her individuality.

Among the costumes that will be seen at all well-dressed gatherings this season are tunic frocks, coat dresses, two-piece types and jacket costumes. Every fabric is represented from lustrous velvets and satins to sturdy tweeds that are perfect for sport, school and business wear... and clever fabric combinations are the rule rather than the exception.

The Tunic Is Back
The statement that the tunic is back again is music in the ears of the many fashionables who have always loved the slenderizing effect of this fashion. With the silhouette becoming slimmer and slimmer, it was almost inevitable that the tunic should return, since it effectively breaks the line of the pencil silhouette. This year's tunics are delightfully youthful in spirit and are shown just as often in misses' styles as in women's.

If your fancy runs to things of Russian inspiration, choose a frock with a tunic belted or nipped in at the waistline and flaring out smartly like a Cossack's coat. If you want to keep that slim-as-a-reed look unbroken, choose a style with a straight, slender tunic worn above a straight skirt. The tunic may be slashed at the sides in accordance with the mode for slitting and slashing that seems to have seized so many of the leading Parisian couturiers.

Sometimes merely the suggestion of a tunic is used for new frocks. It may appear just at the back of a dress or merely crossing in front. Jackets in this tunic length are frequently employed in ensembles... and sometimes the tunic of a dress is buttoned down the front and made of a fabric that contrasts with the skirt, thus giving the effect of a separate jacket.

Jacket Frocks Continue In Favor
The woman who "just lives in a jacket dress" whenever the styles permit her to do so, is also in luck this season. Jacket frocks were never smarter... and their dual personalities make it possible for them to be worn over a long period of time. The frock alone often appears beneath winter coats, while the frock with its jacket is a good costume for in-between weather. Many of them have collarless jackets that fasten at the neckline with a single button and flare smartly in back. Others have fitted jackets fastening with buttons or link at the waistline in front. Belted jackets and boxy types are also smart. All these types may be of wool or crepe to match street and sport costumes, while afternoon modes of satin, trebbark crepe, Canton or velvet often add contrasting jackets of novelty fabrics and weaves, such as metallic cloth or cellophane mixtures.

The Two-Piece Theme
Two-piece styles are always invaluable parts of a wardrobe and allow for interesting combinations of fabric and color in many cases. Some of the new styles are actually of the two-piece type, some merely suggest that effect. Many one-piece styles have a buttoned jacket effect in front only, while the backs are straight and slim. Others have and ensembles that lead a double life. The ever-popular one-piece dress of crepe for afternoon wear is seen, sometimes in all-black or brown, sometimes with a touch of white, frequently with a neckline enlivened by a fabric of contrasting color or texture. Smooth crepes, trebbark crepes, Cantons and belted crepes are all popular. Velvet is a fabric that appears in daytime, dinner and evening styles.

Woolen frocks are seen in monotonous, checks or stunning plaids. The woolen mode includes thin, lightweight crepes such as those smart wool alpaca. Tweeds are evident, of course, in all sorts of stunning mixtures. Hairy and crepey wools with angora and feather mixtures are favored for general wear. More formal lightweight wools, styled like silk dresses and trimmed with satin, crepe or tulle, are suitable for the occasions on which one often wears a dress of silk crepe.

The New Colors
As for colors—don't, of course, forget black, which is important for daytime and evening wear, in practically every fabric. Browns are important, both in woollens and dressy crepes. Lovely wine shades and greens are often seen, for they harmonize so perfectly with many of the new coats. Some blues and navys are also seen... likewise some distinguished new shades such as deep plum and eggplant and woollens in tones such as watermelon or orange rust. The use of two-piece styles and tunic frocks allows for many effective combinations of all these colors and striking mixtures are seen in the plaids and checks chosen for woollen dresses.

Scarlet Fever Still Menaces

AUSTIN, Texas.—"Scarlet fever still continues to be a menace to children," said Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, in discussing diseases common to children. "Many cases are slight, but they may infect others who may become seriously ill. It is treacherous and undesirable, and the only good thing about it is that if one can avoid it until grown, the chances of never getting it are excellent."

"Scarlet fever is spread by the transfer of the infection in the discharges of nose and throat, ears, or abscesses of persons ill with the disease and those who are carriers of the infection. The handling of articles soiled by the patient may cause the disease."

"Children under ten years of age are usually susceptible to scarlet fever. Children becoming suddenly ill with fever, sore throat, vomiting and showing a fine red rash, should have medical attention and be immediately quarantined to prevent the spread of this disease. The appearance of scarlet fever in the home should be immediately followed by a rigid quarantine for at least three weeks. The public should be warned against exposing young children to those exhibiting acute catarrhal symptoms of any kind. Take no chances—be on the safe side.

"The use of potent scarlet fever antitoxin is of value in shortening the course of the disease. The antitoxin should be administered within three days of the onset. Scarlet fever antitoxin lessens the complications, such as heart and kidney diseases, discharging ears and infected sinuses that often occur after scarlet fever. Scarlet fever can be prevented by first giving the Dick test to all children and the administration of scarlet fever toxin to all children that are susceptible."

a surplice jacket treatment that is extremely becoming to the larger women. For youthful figures there is the pleum silhouette that simulates a two-piece effect.

The dresses which are actually of the two-piece type are shown both in woollens and the new crepes. They frequently reveal striking color contrasts, as when a black or brown skirt is worn with a red or green top or when two contrasting fabrics are employed.

Coat Dresses Favored
Coat dresses are always valuable adjuncts to the wardrobe because they are so easy to slip on and off and because they are adjustable to every figure. It's good news to learn that they are widely represented among the new dress fashions in crepes, woollens and smart fabric combinations. Usually they have wrap-around skirts and oblique or surplice bodice closings, with the collar or revers made of contrasting fabrics such as cre ribbon, tulle and the like.

Classic Shirtwaist Styles
Certain fashions, which are known as "classics" are the wisest of all clothes investments, especially for those on limited budgets. These "classics" are usually well-made, styles of good materials, cut on such smartly simple lines that they look well season after season. This year's classics are the shirtwaist dresses which are as universally becoming as they are practical. They are developed in many fabrics, from satin and metallic crepes to fine woollens. Big buttons of metal, pearl or composition accent the tailored closing of the waist.

Necklines Are Notable
With the silhouette so slim and simple, it is but natural that interest in many cases should center upon necklines... and in consequence necklines are unusually interesting and varied. Rippled and draped and ruffled treatments abound... there are convertible cowls, side-draped effects and scarf treatments... developed in contrasting fabrics such as cre satin, metallized silks, cellophane fabrics or flat furs. Many necklines are high, but those who prefer lower necklines find plenty, usually cut square and filled in with a scarf whose ends are tucked under the bodice. Dresses of the coat type have revers and pointed collars of fabrics that contrast in color or texture; frequently these smartly simple styles are untrimmed except for bows of scarfs made of flat furs used like cloth. The diversity of necklines and fabrics provides styles that are becoming to the not-so-young as well as for the very young, welcome news to those who found last year's necklines rather trying.

Smart Fabric Ideas
Satin plays a prominent part in the mode, both in one-piece styles
