HASKELL COUNTY REMAINS IN 'DRY' COLUMN OF STATE

County Voters Cast A 2 to 1 Majority Against Measure; Old Age Pension Favored

Five Boxes "Wet"

County Returns
Returns from 21 out of 22 county precincts, Cobb not reporting up to Wednesday morning, show:
Old age pensions: For 1806, against 399.
Commitment of insane: For 1613, against 519.
Repeal of prohibition: For 647, against 1168.
Amendment submission: For 897, against 788.
Suspended sentences: For 717, against 669.
Fee abolition: For 749, against 711, against 961.

Falling in line with most of the state, voters of Haskell county placed their emphatic approval upon an old-age pension at the election Saturday when seven proposed constitutional amendments were voted upon, but, at the same time, remained in the so-called "dry" column by voting against the repeal of the statewide prohibition.

Five boxes out of 22—Jud, Cottonwood, Jim Hogg, Bunker Hill and Lagerton—voted wet, however, to keep in line with a majority of the state's voters.

Outside of the repeal amendment, Haskell county voters also followed their state voters in favoring the temporary commitment of the insane, the abolishment of the fee system and suspended sentences, and then cracked down upon the question of amendment submission at special sessions of the legislature under certain conditions and the providing of free text books for private schools.

The voting box of Jud went solid 43 to 0 for the old-age pension. Latest returns from the Texas Election Bureau showed that repeal held a majority of 55,349 votes, enough so that even a unanimous vote in the box unaccounted for could not overturn the result.

State Returns
Returns to the Texas Election Bureau from 239 out of 254 counties including fifty-two complete, show:
Old age pensions: For 306,173, against 91,967.
Commitment of insane: For 262,645, against 165,604.
Repeal of prohibition: For 259,818, against 203,869.
Amendment submission: For 185,299, against 197,652.
Suspended sentences: For 210,302, against 177,669.
Fee abolition: For 241,537, against 233,770.

Textbooks for private schools: For 202,799, against 232,539.
State prohibition was definitely dead Sunday, killed by an avalanche of wet votes after a sixteen-year reign.

HHS Indians Start Football Practice

With five lettermen available, practice for the 1935 football season was inaugurated here Monday by Coach Bill Richey.

Jack Kimbrough, back; John Kimbrough, back; Artie Pippen, end, but now being changed to a back; Ernest McMillan, guard; and G. A. Moser, center, were the lettermen "ready to go." Others will report later.

A number of hustling lads from the 1934 squad are bidding for a place on the regular team. First call found Weldon Smith, tackle; Eugene Rose, guard; Frank Kirkpatrick, guard; Lloyd McMillan, tackle; Robert Thompson, tackle; A. J. Pinkerton, end; Albert Barnett, back; Claude Jenkins, back; Duffer Crawford, center; Thomas Kaigler, end.

The new men reporting last Monday were the cynosure of all eyes, however, and several look promising. In fact, some of them are almost certain to carve out regular places in both line and backfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike B. Watson and their son Jack Wallace were in Alpine, Texas, last week where they visited another son, Hubert, who has been attending school at that place preparatory to the study of law.

The entire party visited in El Paso and Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico, before returning to Haskell Sunday morning.

Degree No. 601

DENTON, Texas. — Miss Ann Zachry received the 601st degree granted during the 1934-35 school session by North Texas State Teachers College, Denton. This is the second largest number of degrees granted by an institution of higher learning in Texas, and is believed to be the largest class graduated by a State Teachers College in the United States. Four hundred forty-two degrees were awarded at the close of the summer session, at which time Governor James V. Allred delivered the commencement address.

FIRST BALES OF COTTON IN COUNTY

Rochester, Rule and Haskell Gin Bales During Week; Premiums Are Given

The first bale of the 1935 cotton crop was brought to the city last Saturday by Herman Zahn, who lives about 10 miles north of Haskell. A premium was given by the Haskell merchants amounting to $57.00. The bale weighed only 411 pounds and was ginned free by the Duncan Gin Company.

Rule received her first bale of cotton on Tuesday of last week and a premium of $34.35 was given by the business men of Rule. The cotton was grown by A. O. Smith of Jud and the bale weighed 457 pounds.

Rochester's first bale came in Monday of last week, and weighed 512 pounds. It was raised by Johnnie Williams and he received a premium of $84.50 from the Rochester merchants and business men.

Hutto School to Erect New School Building Soon

A two room school building will be erected in the Hutto school district in the northwest part of the county in the near future. The contract for the new building is expected to be let Saturday and completed in time for the opening of the fall term. The building will be of concrete block construction and will replace the present building, which will be torn down. Bonds for the new building were voted some time ago.

New Drug Store Open Next Week

Cliff Berry, who is now installing the fixtures for his new drug store in the Tonkawa Hotel building, announces that the business will be open for the trade about the middle of next week.

A number of hustling lads from the 1934 squad are bidding for a place on the regular team. First call found Weldon Smith, tackle; Eugene Rose, guard; Frank Kirkpatrick, guard; Lloyd McMillan, tackle; Robert Thompson, tackle; A. J. Pinkerton, end; Albert Barnett, back; Claude Jenkins, back; Duffer Crawford, center; Thomas Kaigler, end.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike B. Watson and their son Jack Wallace were in Alpine, Texas, last week where they visited another son, Hubert, who has been attending school at that place preparatory to the study of law.

The entire party visited in El Paso and Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico, before returning to Haskell Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Powers and children returned the first of the week from a vacation in New Mexico and Colorado.

Hog Cholera Is Said To Exist In County—Warning Issued to Swine Breeders

Hog cholera, considered the most serious of swine disease, has started in Haskell county, according to B. W. Chesser, county agent.

The disease is extremely contagious and characterized by complete loss of appetite, extremely high temperature, constipation usually followed by diarrhea, chills, depression, burrowing in litter, ears and tail drooping, and often coughing. Red spots appear on the skin of the belly, inner side of the legs, and on the ears.

In advanced stages there is staggering gait and gummy discharge from the eyes, often gluing them shut. Death usually occurs in a few days and sometimes sooner, and so Chesser states, there is no known cure for hogs visibly sick with this disease. However, every precaution should be taken and the agent advises that for protection the hogs should be given the serum, and while this disease is suspected, or present, in the community steps should be taken to have the herd inoculated by a competent operator. Many producers keep their entire herds immune by vaccinating each new crop of pigs.

Sanitary precautions are absolutely necessary when this disease is present, Chesser says. After an outbreak, disinfect premises thoroughly, and burn or bury the carcasses of dead animals.

Mr. Chesser urges that on purchasing hogs to keep them in a separate pen from your other hogs for two or three weeks, thus preventing them from spreading the disease if they happen to have it.

Local Church's 'Birthday Box' Is Target for Theft

Missing—slightly over $5.00 in pennies, nickels and quarters from the "Birthday Box" at the First Christian Church. Appropriators unknown.

Sometime recently, someone evidently felt the need of some money, so church officials believe, and used a hacksaw to saw off the lock of the pulpit and took the money.

The persons appropriating the money needed only a slight amount, it appears, because they took only about half of the money in the box.

HASKELL BRAVES VALLEY CHAMPIONS

Rampaging Tribe Scalps the Pied Pipers of Hamlin in Three Straight Games

Three straight—and the champions of the Wichita Valley League. Baseball fans of this section were treated to a baseball game Sunday afternoon—fourteen innings, which saw the Haskell Braves beat out the Hamlin Pied Pipers by a score of 5 to 4 behind the combined pitching of Tanny (Dipper) Jones and Galt (Lefty) Hambricht.

A solid three-base smash by Buford Cox, who had previously hit a double and caught Hamlin napping by beating out an infield hit, and one-base fly ball to right field by Roy Norman were the factors which ended the ball game for about 1400 tense fans. Two men were already out in the fourteenth, and two strikes were on the batman when Norman connected.

Jones pitched good ball for seven and one-third innings. He was in trouble in the seventh when Johnson erred on Rowland's grounder and when Hallums and Bradford singled to bring in two runs and set up the storm until Ensey hit for two bases in the eighth, but then gave way for the "Mighty" Hambricht.

And the said Hambricht found the situation to his liking a la Dizzy Dean. A man on second, one out and hard hitters coming up in the persons of A. Jones, Hollis and Rowland. However, not another man reached first until another by Johnson in the twelfth let Hallums have a life, and only one hit, a single by Ensey, was hit off the wrong handed pitcher's delivery.

Hambricht received credit for the win, which was his second in the series. He went into the Wednesday. (Continued on Page Eight)

Haskell Man Meets With Brothers At Dallas—Sees One First Time 40 Years

The beholding of a brother whom he had not seen in forty years, was the experience of A. D. Grace, Haskell, during the past weekend when he and three of his brothers held a reunion in Dallas.

Besides Mr. Grace, T. L. Grace of Alabama; R. L. Grace, Fort Towson, Okla., and N. H. Grace, Dallas, were present.

T. L. Grace is the brother whom the Haskell citizen had not seen since he left Alabama forty years ago, and the visit to Texas was practically the first time the eastern stater had ever been out of Alabama.

"I left Alabama when my brother was only seven years of age, and had only one picture of him since—and that was taken when he was a very young man," Mr. Grace said Wednesday just after he returned from Dallas.

"We had lots of fun revisiting old times and listening to my Alabama

FAIR CATALOGS TO BE OFF PRESS SOON

Many New Features Added to Premium List; Catalog to Have Gold Backing

The catalogue and premium list of the eleventh annual Central West Texas Fair is now being printed, and according to the Free Press staff they will be ready for distribution early next week.

In keeping with the spirit of the Golden Jubilee Celebration of Haskell county, the catalogue is being covered with a gold colored back. Readers will find many changes in this catalogue over the previous one, all of which the Fair Association feels is for the best. The premium list has been broadened to include more articles and the prizes also have been increased on a number of articles. With these changes there should be more and better exhibits this fall than have ever been exhibited here.

H. T. Sullivan, secretary of the fair association, says that a mailing list is now being prepared and that mailing will start just as soon as the catalogues are off the press. However, those who are anxious to get a copy without waiting for them to be mailed out may do so by calling at the fair office over the Farmers and Merchants State Bank.

All-Star Softball Team to Play 'M' On Monday Night

With the "M" System softball team conceded almost a certainty to win the pennant in the local softball league by the close of the season Friday night, plans are now being laid for the formation of an all-star aggregation to play the league winners next Monday night.

Both teams will place strong lineups on the field, and it is expected that one of the best games of the season will be played. Full strength of the "M" will be present for Manager Raul English to choose a strong starter, while the all-star management will choose players from all other clubs in the league.

Both banks will close Saturday, August 31, Labor Day, and the patrons of the two local institutions are requested to arrange their banking business accordingly.

Dr. A. J. Lewis, who is with the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, spent the week end here with home folks.

Clicking Crickets Fail to 'Click' With Haskell Residents

Haskell citizens were awakened Wednesday morning by the "clicking" of thousands of crickets which seem to fancy this city a place in which to live.

Crickets were everywhere, underfoot, in stores, on walls outside of store buildings and in any kind of crevice. Merchants, or rather their helpers, were kept busy throughout the day sweeping the insects out, but like taxes, they returned in greater degree.

No good reason was advanced by either old-timers, nor newcomers, for the plague, with the exception of one person whose theory had a pleasant ring for everyone—rain, and more rain.

METHODIST REVIVAL INTERESTS CROWDS

"Wanted a Man" is Subject of Friday Night Sermon By Rev. E. E. White

Large crowds continue to attend the series of revival meetings at the First Methodist Church. Services will be held through Sunday night at 8:45 o'clock in the mornings and 8:00 o'clock in the evenings.

The Rev. E. E. White, pastor of a Denton, Texas church, is in charge of the services, while Noel Bryant, Hereford, Texas, leads the singing.

"Wanted a Man" will be the subject for the evening service Friday, and it will be to the men that the Rev. Mr. White will speak, although women are expected to be present as usual.

A cordial invitation has been issued by members of the church to the public to attend the services.

PROTEST OF NEW DOVE HUNTING LAW URGED BY ALLRED

Sportsmen of West and North Texas have been requested by Governor James V. Allred to write letters to Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, at Washington, protesting the change of federal hunting laws in Texas with regards to dove hunting.

The new federal regulation limits dove hunting to one month and moves the opening of the hunting season up to October 1, whereby the opening date in the past has been September 1. The new federal regulation also prohibits shooting doves after 4 p. m.

The Governor suggested hunters should request the Texas delegation in Congress to protest conflicts between Federal and State regulations to Secretary Wallace.

Secretary Wallace, in a reply to a letter from Governor Allred, stated it was unlikely that further changes could be made this year. Reasons for the requests for changes in regulations came due to the fact that the new federal regulation will practically eliminate dove hunting in West and North Texas as the birds migrate to South Texas early in the fall.

"Surely there ought to be some time for a man to hunt down here," the Governor said, urging hunters to join in protests.

Besides his parents he is survived by six brothers, Bryant, LeRoy, Garth, Frank, A. C. and Joe Garrett; five sisters, Mrs. Lenora Griffith, Mrs. Beatrice Curd, Mrs. Hattie Woolsey, Ida and Maxine Garrett, all of Weinert.

HASKELL TO VOTE ON SCHOOL BONDS FOR NEW WARD BUILDING

COUNTY TAX RATE LOWEST IN YEARS

Commissioners Do Not Include Road Bond Levy—Sufficient Funds on Hand

The county tax rate of Haskell county has been lowered sixty-two cents on a $100 valuation since 1931, according to records compiled by the Commissioners Court. The rate for 1931 was set at $1.55, while only $0.73 has been set for 1935. The sum of $0.93 was levied in 1934, with twenty cents of that sum for road bonds.

No county road bond tax was levied recently by the commissioners owing to the fact that the county had sufficient funds on hand to retire its portion of the county road bond indebtedness maturing for the year 1936, which amounts, so the commissioners say, to $20,421.98. The state's portion of the $25,425.00 road bond maturities for the year of 1936 amounts to $25,003.02.

A check of the county tax rates from 1930 to 1934 shows: 1930, $1.23; 1931, $1.55; 1932, $0.95; 1933, $1.15; 1934, $0.93.

The state rate for the year 1935 has been set at $0.62, the commissioners also say, which makes the total county and state rate exactly $1.35, the lowest in years.

The state has assumed approximately 57 per cent of the road bond indebtedness of Haskell county.

Gainesville Suspect Caught Here; Is A Paroled Prisoner

A paroled federal prisoner, O. T. Terrett, 45, of Wichita Falls, wanted in Gainesville, Texas, for an alleged participation in a robbery, was removed from a Wichita Valley freight train here Monday morning by local officers and held for East Texas officers who arrived Tuesday afternoon.

Officers claim that Terrett, father of the John Edd Terrett who was arrested here last week for robbery of five local business places, was paroled from Leavenworth last April. About two weeks ago the accused man was in Gainesville and is alleged to have participated in a robbery. When officers attempted to arrest him, along with his companions, he pulled a gun, started shooting and eventually made his escape, officers also say.

Word that Terrett was seen in Stamford was received by Sheriff Giles Kemp early Monday morning, and he, in company with Chief Deputy Mart Clifton and Chief of Police Al Cousins, planned a search of the freight train. Clifton and Cousins took one side and Kemp and Terrett took out of a box car, saw the deputy and police chief, and then went the other way—right into the arms of Kemp.

Proposed Structure Will Be Built With PWA Funds and Money From Bond Sale

Large Vote Urged

Whether Haskell shall issue bonds for the erection of a new North Ward school building, combined with a grant for $20,000 from the federal government, will be determined Saturday when tax-paying property owners exercise their franchise.

Bonds totalling $25,000 will be issued to go with the Public Works Administration aid, providing a majority of the voters so desire.

No intention to force the matter is harbored by the members of the school board, so they say, and their only intention for calling the election at this time is to give every voter an opportunity to express his opinion.

Plans call for the erection of a twelve-room structure, which will be built in the modern style—all rooms on the ground floor, and an additional space for a gymnasium-auditorium. It will be steam-heated and furnished with new furniture. Drawing of the proposed building may be seen at various business places downtown.

The present building, which is in need of repair, school board members say, and which will probably have to be replaced in a few years, will be razed and most of the material used in the construction of the new building.

By availing themselves of the government aid, taxpayers will save the sum which will be secured owing to the fact, it is pointed out, that some type of building will be necessary in the future.

Quarters are badly overcrowded at the present North Ward building, and some grade classes had to be transferred to the high school building during the past term, which worked hardship upon both teachers and pupils.

Officials are hopeful of a large vote, whether for or against the proposed bonds, owing to the fact that, if carried, the bonds can be sold much easier if a large vote is shown.

Voting will be done at the City Hall.

Retail Sales Show Small Decline For The "Dull" Season

AUSTIN, Texas.—Sales of Texas department and other retail stores during July declined less than the normal seasonal amount from the previous month and were substantially larger than during the similar month last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

"Reports from 80 representative Texas retail establishments show total sales 14.2 per cent greater than during July, 1934, the decline of 17.6 per cent from June comparing favorably with the average seasonal decline of 23.8 per cent," the Bureau's report said. "Aggregate sales during the first seven months were 4.5 per cent above those of the corresponding period last year."

"Cities with sales records better than the average for the State in comparison with a year ago are: Tyler, Temple, San Antonio, Dallas, Beaumont, and Austin. As between types of stores, women's specialty shops made the best sales gains. Next in order were men's clothing stores, large department stores, dry goods and apparel stores, and small department stores."

"Collections of outstanding accounts during the month also compared favorably with July last year, with an increase of 24 per cent in collections over the corresponding month last year. This fact is the more significant since credit sales in relation to net sales were 1.5 per cent greater than a year ago."

Trench Silos Now Being Planned In County by Farmers

Trench silos are being planned by B. T. Bridges, 5 miles southeast of Weinert and by Chester Jones, 4 miles west of Weinert. Mr. Jones will start digging his silo this week, and Mr. Bridges within the next week, according to B. W. Chesser, County Agent. This type of silo is very successful as well as economical.

"50 Years Ago In Haskell County"

Fifty years ago, a Haskell meat merchant advertised in the Haskell City Free Press that "he would have fresh steaks for sale on Saturday and Tuesdays." Eventful occasions for the pioneers, we can imagine.

The present day citizenship of Haskell county cannot realize the hardships endured by the county's pioneers—unless some lived here in those days. However, we can appreciate what they have done for us by striving to merit their approval—and keeping the faith they guarded zealously.

To Voters of Haskell School District--

SIX REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE FOR THE SCHOOL BONDS SATURDAY, AUGUST 31:

1. The present building is overflowing. One class is already crowded into the basement of the high school, and other classes must be divided because of excessive size.
2. The present building is insanitary and unsafe. It can stand only a few years at most.
3. Practically all of the present furniture is worn out until it is scarcely usable. Most of it has been in use for about 30 years.
4. Haskell children are entitled to a respectable, safe, sanitary and hygienic place in which to attend school.
5. Haskell people are worthy of a building which will add more to the civic appearance of the town than the antiquated building now in use.
6. Just now the Federal government proposes to pay 45 per cent of the total cost. This is the LAST month to take advantage of the offer, and to reject this offer Saturday will mean no more government aid.

HENRY-LESSON RADCLIFFE

THE GREAT APOSTLE

International Sunday School Lesson for September 1, 1935

Golden Text: "In all things I give you an example, that so laboring ye ought to help the weak." Acts 20:35.

(Lesson Text: Acts 20:33-35; Philippians 4:13.)

In the City of Tarsus, famous for its wealth, industry and learning, there was born about the same time as Jesus a Jewish boy who was named Saul. He was a Pharisee and brought up in the traditional Jewish fashion, tempered somewhat by the cosmopolitan atmosphere of his native city. His father was a Roman citizen, which status passed on to his son, standing him in good service in later years. The boy Saul was trained at Jerusalem in the meaning and interpretation of the Old Testament, having the great Gamaliel for one of his teachers.

In early years the Christian faith encountered the opposition and persecution of the Jews. When Stephen was stoned, becoming the first martyr of the Christian faith, the young man Saul was a witness, if not an instigator, of the lawless act. At any rate, he soon became a powerful opponent of Christianity, excelling others in his zeal to exterminate what was deemed a blasphemous heresy. He started to Damascus, to "reach the Christians there, but on his way came face to face with Jesus and was converted. From that time on Saul completely reversed his attitude and put as much energy into spreading the new faith as formerly he had in trying to obliterate it.

After three years retirement and meditation in Arabia, Paul returned to Palestine. Within a few years he was brought to Antioch by Barnabas and shortly thereafter began his great missionary activity, which did more to bring Christianity to the western world than the labors of any other man. Three great missionary tours consumed his years and left as their fruit well established Christian churches throughout Asia Minor, Greece, and other regions. The Book of Acts contains brief account of these epoch-making journeys, giving us short outlines of some of the great sermons preached by this enthusiastic missionary.

When Paul first appeared on the scene Christianity had not yet been definitely separated from Judaism. At that time there was, as Dr. Wilbur M. Smith points out, "no Church law, no Church program, and no formula for the conduct of Christian believers. The deeper consequences of accepting Christ as they related to personal life, domestic life, business pursuits, national patriotism, and the great problems of society of the days of Paul, had not yet been stated. The Christian Church awaited some powerful genius to arise in its midst, who, by the leading of the Holy Spirit, would guide the Church out of its confinements into a glorious vision of its possibilities and powers. This man appeared in Saul of Tarsus, and how he came to be the greatest single Christian that has ever appeared on earth, is one of the most fascinating stories ever recorded."

As an author Paul wrote much of the New Testament, thirteen epistles constituting the major part. First and second Thessalonians probably came first from Corinth, then the two letters to the Corinthians. Galatians followed and the Romans considered it his greatest epistle. While in prison at Rome he wrote the remaining seven. In these writings Paul laid down the principle theological tenets of the Christian Church.

"Paul is the only man in the New Testament, except Jesus, whom we would immediately enroll among the great," says Charles E. Jefferson. "By the mass of his personal life, he won a place above all others. What the second century did, the twentieth century is doing likewise. It is giving the supreme place to Paul. More books have been written about Paul within the last fifty years than about all the other apostles combined. The ages have produced a great company of thinkers and bearers, of saints and martyrs, but none of them has been able to write his name above the name of Paul."

"Of all the men of the first century, incomparably great was the Apostle Paul," says Sir William M. Ramsay. "No other man exercised anything like so much power as he did in moulding the future of the Empire. Among the imperial ministers of the period there appeared none that had any claim to the name of statesman except Seneca; and Seneca fell as far short of Paul in practical influence and intellectual insight as he did in moral character. Had it not been for Paul—if one may guess at what might have been—no man would now remember Roman and Greek civilization. Barbarian proved too powerful for the Graeco-Roman civilization unaided by the new religious bond, and every generation through which that civilization was preserved or interest in it maintained, either is now or has been, in some essential part of its course, Christian."

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Norman of Lamasa were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. Roberts and family last Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kimbrough and daughter spent the week end here with their mother, Mrs. W. A. Kimbrough and family.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

H. M. Gillmore, Minister

Sunday, Sept. 1.
Bible School—9:45 a. m.
Preaching and Lord's Supper—11 a. m.
Baptismal Service—12:00.
Young People's Meetings — 7:15 p. m.

Vacation time is over, and summer is almost gone. Now is the time to make a good resolution to attend all services of the church. Start in next Sunday. Be on time for the Bible School. Brother Gillmore will preach Sunday morning. Subject: "The Romance of Faith." Hear him! Immediately following the Lord's Supper, a baptismal service. No evening service, but the young people meet in two groups at 7:15. Their programs are interesting and they are training for places of leadership in future years. Encourage them.

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST

A. F. Thurman, Minister

We have preaching every Lord's day, both morning and evening. The sermons have in mind this: Honor God, exalt the Christ, build up the church, encourage and save souls. Sermons, such as the Lord would have one preach, never hurt, except for good. One should be greatly helped by being hurt by the word of the Lord. Some by being CUT TO THE HEART were brought to the remission of their sins. Others were cut to the heart, but were not saved. They killed the preacher. See Acts the seventh chapter. The word saves, but not all. Those who hear and obey. "Trust and obey for there is NO other way."

Say, don't forget to remember the date, the place, the time. All regular services are to be had on time. Come. Glad, ever glad, always glad to have you with us. Come on!

Sagerton

We are having a real summer here. A good general rain is needed.

The Baptist meeting will continue through this week until Sunday. There is much good being done in this meeting. These good people are striving and planning to reorganize and build their church.

Rev. W. Kirk is a good preacher and good crowds are attending these services.

Rev. W. H. Carter, Methodist pastor here, is on the sick list. He is unable to come to church.

The Sagerton high school will open the term of 1935-36 Monday Sept. 2. Supt. T. K. Price, with the faculty, will be in charge.

Misses Ruth and Irene Smauley of Longworth spent last week here with Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Price.

Richard and Roy Dedmon and sister Miss Pearl, from San Antonio, are spending their vacation here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dedmon and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lambert and Mr. G. C. Crowder left last week for their vacation. They will visit in Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco and Houston with relatives and friends.

The many friends here extend to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Martin and relatives their heartfelt sympathy in the sad death of Mrs. John Martin. Those from here who attended the funeral services for Mrs. Martin at Anson Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Hess, Mrs. W. P. Caudle, Mrs. H. D. Crabtree, Mrs. G. A. Lambert, Miss Vivian Crabtree and Miss Lois Lambert.

Rev. D. C. McMillan closed a successful revival at Center Point last week. There was great interest taken in the meeting. Large crowds attended each service, with 22 conversions during the meeting. Many homes were blessed, and the community in general has set a higher plan of living.

W. P. Caudle is improving nicely. It is to be hoped he will soon be around again.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Martin are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Peak Flowers and family at White Face this week.

First Texas Papers Interesting Contrast In Comparison with Today's

Texas newspapers of pioneer days are reminders of how far the state which has acknowledged six flags, had advanced in the century it will commemorate one year hence.

Although the first Texas newspaper, edited by Horation Bigelow, member of the Supreme Council of the Republic of Texas, was published at Nacogdoches, August 14, 1819, the first successful Texas newspaper, the Texas Gazette, was published in 1830.

A copy of this newspaper, now contained in the famous Garcia collection at the University of Texas, shows the progress in the transmission of news by comparing the dating of a dispatch, Oct. 18, 1829, with its publication, March 20, 1830.

Another odd feature of this newspaper is that it was called the "Republican," notwithstanding the fact that Texas was yet under Spanish rule.

Early Texas editors appear to have experienced difficulty in collecting payments from their subscribers, but methods for keeping their lists from getting too far in arrears were applied.

The Telegraph and the Texas Register, published at San Felipe de Austin Oct. 10, 1835, by Baker and Bonders, carried the following announcement: "$5.00 per annum if not paid in advance, $6.00 at the expiration of six months and $7.00 if not paid until the end of the year."

A copy of the Northern Standard, issued at Clarksville, Aug. 27, 1842, indicates that early editors were annoyed continuously by persons who wanted to air their personal grievances through the press.

In connection with a list of advertising rates, the Standard says: "Personal alterations when advisable, are charged double usual rates."

Directly under the masthead of this paper, which carried a detailed account of the unfortunate Texas-Santa Fe Expedition by George Kendall, is the slogan: "Long shall our banner brave the breeze, the Standard of the Free."

Among Texas' oldest newspapers published today is the Gonzales Inquirer (daily and weekly) established in June, 1853.

Balanced Meals for Family Is A Goal of Demonstrator

Feeding the family balanced meals all the year around is the goal of Mrs. Floyd Hutchens, farm food supply demonstrator of the New Mid Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Hutchens plans her garden so that she has some fresh vegetables most all of the year round, besides a well filled pantry of canned fruits and vegetables.

500-Foot Wall Lost

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—A 500-foot sea wall just completed at Lake Milton disappeared before the eyes of puzzled workmen who noticed the lake "boiling." Divers were unable to locate any of the rocks which evidently disappeared in quicksand or through a crack in the lake.

Wife Burns Up $17,000 In Cash—Not In Haskell

ALGOOD, Tenn. — Oral Bilbrey's wife made his bed.

She made it out of nice clean straw—and it cost Bilbrey just $17,000.

The farmer was away from home when his wife decided to fill her mattresses or "ticks" with new straw. She had to empty the old straw, so she built a bonfire and piled it high.

Then Bilbrey came home and his wife remembered. Her husband was thrifty. He had accumulated his wealth in currency, stocks, notes and the like and hidden these away in a mattress.

By Caponizing Chickens, Weight Gains Are Shown

Caponizing causes chickens to make rapid gains in weight, states Mrs. W. J. Kendricks, cooper in the Rose Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Kendricks has 18 chickens that have been caponized. Eight of these were caponized five weeks ago and they now weigh 4 pounds. These chickens were six weeks old and they were kept up without food for 36 hours before being caponized.

Mrs. Kendricks is so well pleased with them that she is caponizing all of them as they are old enough.

Funeral Services Held Friday for Lightning Victim

The funeral services for Olen Bouldin, who was instantly killed by a bolt of lightning near his home in the Rockdale community last Thursday evening, were held here at the First Baptist church Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Joe Grimes, pastor of the Avoca Baptist church, assisted by Rev. Hurley Andress and Rev. H. R. Whitley, pastor of the local church.

The bolt of lightning which killed Mr. Bouldin instantly, stunned his wife and 7-year-old son, Olen, Jr. Mr. Bouldin was born in this section on August 7, 1888, and had lived in this area practically all his life with the exception of two years during the World War. He served 18 months overseas.

Survivors beside Mrs. Bouldin and Olen, Jr. are five sons, Dillie, Joe, J. A., Nathan and Merrell, Dean, A., Virginia, six brothers, S. H. Bouldin of Abilene, J. M. Bouldin of Quanah, Bob Bouldin of Maryneal, Ira Bouldin of Miami, Ariz., George and C. W. Bouldin of Leuders; and four sisters, Mrs. Jessie King of Hamlin, Mrs. Annie Tabors of Leuders, Mrs. Lora Johnson of Haskell and Mrs. Mattie Edmondson of Santa Fe, N. M.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. Bouldin, 1215 N. G. Street, at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of Kinney Funeral Home.

Surplus Milk May Be Made Into American Cheese Forms

By making American cheese the extra milk is saved and the family is fed a more adequate diet, says Mrs. M. E. Wadzeck, cooper in the Bunker Hill Home Demonstration Club. The cheese are made in the following way:

Use morning milk of best quality; heat slowly to 86 degrees; add one-half color tablet and 1-2 rennet tablet dissolved in water, for each five gallons of milk. Allow milk to stand undisturbed until firm curd has formed. Cut into 1-2 inch cubes. After cutting, allow curd to stand 10 minutes to firm and expel some of the whey before heating. Heat slowly until 100 degrees has been reached. Stir constantly while heating. Hold curd in whey at 22 near 100 degrees as possible, until the curd becomes quite firm and rubbery, which generally requires 35 to 40 minutes. Drain off whey and stir to prevent matting. Salt and allow salt to thoroughly dissolve, then put into press. At least 50 pounds of pressure should be applied for eight to ten hours; then let dry in a cool, clean dry place. When cheese is dry on outside dip in hot paraffin to prevent further drying. Place in a cool place to ripen for four to six weeks.

Sarah Ann's Cooking Class

Boiled Okra, Georgia Style
Cut off the stem ends from one pound of okra. Wash in cold water. Put into 2 cups of boiling water and boil 20 minutes. Salt to taste just before the okra is finished. If the vegetable is desired very green, add a pinch of baking soda. This will serve 6 people. Be sure that the okra is young, and the pods small. Older pods are likely to be tough.

Okra and Green Corn
Make succotash according to the usual recipe, substituting okra for lima beans. Cut 1-2 pound okra in cross sections. Cut about 1-4 inch thick. To 1-2 pound of okra use six ears of corn. Place the two vegetables on the fire at the same time. Cool until tender in water. Add butter, salt and pepper to season. Serve piping hot.

Okra and Tomatoes
Stew 1 pint of canned or fresh tomatoes, with 1-2 pound okra, cut lengthwise. Use no water. Boil 20 minutes. Season with 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 lump of butter. Salt and pepper. This is a very piquant dish.

100 LAWS GIVEN STATE IN ONE DAY BY LEGISLATORS

SAN ANTONIO—A day to be well remembered in Texas — by those who contend "there ought to be a law"—came when more than 100 new statutes became effective simultaneously.

In August, 90 days after adjournment of four months' session of the Legislature, 104 laws—about a fourth of the bills passed during the entire session—went into effect on the same day.

Although many of the new laws are more or less local in application, a number hold even more than state-wide significance. One restores German language textbooks to the list which the State Textbook Commission may adopt for use in high schools. (Such texts were expunged during the World War.) The law also authorizes textbooks for teaching the native language of the Czechs.

At the same time a measure to safeguard patriotism in the schools requires that teachers shall swear allegiance to constitutions of Texas and the United States.

"Jim Crow Law" Extended
A new act extends the so-called southern "Jim Crow" law to motorbuses, by requiring that separate compartments for whites and blacks shall be provided on buses.

Described as a "hard times" bill, one extends the items of family property exempt from forced sale for debt. Included in exempt items is one dog. Among new regulatory measures is a bill providing stricter control of political advertising, and another virtually outlawing travel bureaus.

Dust storms are recalled in the act which authorizes county-wide wind erosion conservation districts. A law transfers headquarters of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles from Austin, state capital, to Huntsville, site of the Texas penitentiary, to facilitate study of convicts' behavior and records.

In another act three years are added to the maximum age of persons given free tuition in public schools.

Department of Public Safety
Among measures directed against crime is one broadening venue for murder trials. It permits trials in the county where a slain person's body was found, where the fatal injury was done, or where the victim succumbed.

Perhaps the most important new act in the direction of law enforcement is the one which creates a new state department of public safety and combines the historic Texas rangers and state highway patrol into a co-ordinated constabulary system. With the rangers and highway patrolmen retaining separate identities as two of three divisions in the new department, a third will be a headquarters division with bureaus of intelligence, communications and records. Albert Sidney Johnson of Dallas has been elected chairman of the safety commission. The other two members are Ernest Goens, of Tyler and George W. Cottingham, editor of the Houston Chronicle.

Then, there is the law which penalizes the running of livestock on state highways whose rights-of-way are fenced.

Sediment in Cream

By Prof. K. M. Renner
Texas Technological College

While the amount of sediment in cream cannot always be used as a measure of quality, it does serve as a good indicator for the care that was used in producing and handling the cream on the farm. The sediment disk presents indisputable evidence, not only to the cream buyer, but also to the producer, of the relative cleanliness of the cream. While a clean sediment disk may not mean that the cream is first grade, it does show that the producer is using care in keeping his cows and utensils clean.

Frequent stirring of the cream during cooling, stirring the cream thoroughly each time a new batch is added, and again just before delivery will assist materially in remedying this defect. While it is not as serious as the other types of sediment it does prevent an accurate butter fat test from being made because a representative sample cannot be taken.

YOUR HEALTH

By John W. Brown, M. D.
State Health Officer

AUSTIN, Texas.—In these times no one can be blamed for economizing. In fact, thrift is commendable. The reckless spending of the speculative era is no longer possible for most of us. Nevertheless, there are limits even to one's thrift. Commodities must be purchased and money must be circulated if business is to improve. Consequently, the present tendency to hold the purse strings less tightly is a hopeful economic sign. Unfortunately, however, an entirely unwarranted caution is being exercised by many where expenditures involve medical services, stated Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

Even in the days when money was plentiful, there were numerous persons who were disinclined to incur doctors' bills. No one can deny that such an attitude is false economy, Dr. Brown pointed out.

While it is true that the medical and surgical sciences never have been so highly developed as they are today, they only will be of minimum value to those who, because of an illogical sense of value, refuse to seek medical advice promptly and thus substitute their own ideas of treatment for a self-diagnosed condition. Splendid, comprehensive and efficient as public health services may be in the mass control of disease, there yet remains the individual obligation to supplement or complement these activities by the adoption of sane living principles, and a full realization of the value of prompt medical attention when one becomes ill.

Tried and True--

Before a man can qualify to be a private in an army, he must be able to pass some rigid tests. Many men are not accepted. They cannot qualify. Before those who are taken on trial can be promoted, they must have proven their merits. In examining recruits for aviation and other specialized forms of service, most thorough and exacting tests are required. Some of those who have tried have proven true. These principles apply to advertising. Tests are made. Some have tried mimeographed circulars and found them fallen by the wayside. Others have tried folders. These go to the wastebasket. Others have proven that the newspaper—an invited guest in the home—is given most reader consideration. STILL OTHERS have tried and found true a specialized combination of direct mail and newspaper advertising. May we help you work out a campaign of action to help you gain your own particular objectives?

THE SILLY SEASON

Yes, friends, the silly season is with us in full glory; and it's not the heat, it's the asininity. One hundred and eighty people volunteer to let Dr. Ralph Willard freeze them into the same sort of experimental cold storage death he tried on a rhesus monkey. Lindbergh for President. One-mill coins with a hole in them. Tax proposals with even bigger holes in them. Dutch Schultz acquitted by a jury which draws a scathing rebuke from a New York judge. Cleveland woman kills neighbor who, she said, was bewitching her with fireballs that had to be nailed to the wall. College girl runs away to become sideshow barker at Coney Island. Whispering campaigns. Jacob Coxey, of Coxey's Army, for President. Ohio man hangs bird cages with cats in them in cherry trees to scare away birds which eat his cherries. Congressmen and mysterious cigar boxes. Viennese woman commits suicide because her pet canary flew away. Oklahoma City brothers build their own coffins, upholster them luxuriously, exhibit them proudly. Is it hot enough for you?

FORCING THE FARM ISSUE

The question of processing taxes and the AAA farm program is fast approaching a showdown. As 600 suits by processors pile up against the special taxes, collection has already dropped to half what it was at the peak. Soon the collection will fall far below the benefits promised to be paid to farmers for crop production. Then there are only two alternatives: cutting out the benefits or paying them from the treasury. Up to now processing taxes and benefits have practically balanced. That is, consumers, and to some extent processors, have paid the farmer's benefits. But adding a half-billion dollars to the already overburdened national budget is something else again. The situation must remain in confusion until the U. S. Supreme Court decides next winter on constitutionality of the AAA. Then, as Secretary Wallace has so often pointed out, "America must choose."

NEW ERA IN GAMBLING

This depression has more peculiar angles than you can shake a stick at, and one of the most peculiar seems to be provided by the new craze for gambling. Thus we learn that race-track betting in such a representative state as Massachusetts recently attained an all-time high, with 90,000 patrons of three Bay State tracks wagering the amazing total of $956,343 in a single day. This summer, an unofficial tabulation shows that New England bettors have put up approximately $30,000,000 at various New England tracks. This flood of money to the race tracks is a hard thing to understand. The depression is not over—not by many millions in relief expenditures. Yet someone, somewhere, is more able to bet on the dogs and horses than ever before. What's the answer, anyhow?

GONE ARE THE FRIENDS

Albert B. Fall, ill and broke, faces eviction from that famous ranch of his in New Mexico. Something like 14 years ago Fall was secretary of the interior, and had the disposal of incomprehensibly valuable oil rights. When financial distress overtook him his kindly old friend, E. L. Doheny, came to bat with a loan of $100,000. Mr. Doheny was an oil man. Today Mr. Fall is a private citizen, without any influence whatever in the matter of federal oil rights. Once more he is in sore financial straits. Mr. Doheny, still his good friend, acquired the Fall ranch through foreclosure proceedings and sold it to an outside party. The letter ordering the Falls off the place, according to Mr. Fall, was signed by Mrs. Doheny. The picture seems to have changed profoundly since the early '20s. One thing remains unchanged. Mr. Doheny is still an oil man.

AIRLINES FLY ON

There is a grim irony in the fact that Will Rogers, who tried so hard to persuade his fellow countrymen that air travel has grown completely safe, should himself have died in an airplane accident. And yet Rogers himself would have been the first one to point out that the crash which killed him and Wiley Post did not in the least disprove his own argument. Rogers was not traveling in a commercial air liner over a regularly charted route at the time. He was away up at the very tip of Alaska, in the heart of what is probably about the most dangerous flying country there is on earth. He was riding in a plane which could get only a restricted license, and traveling in a fog which would have grounded any transport plane. During his lifetime Rogers is believed to have traveled around 150,000 miles on commercial air liners—and he was never once hurt. There is the testimonial that he himself would have chosen in regard to aerial safety.

WOLF! WOLF! WOLF!

(The Jayton Chronicle)

The stand pat republicans and disappointed office seeking peanut headed democrat (so called) politicians, have set up the howl of wolf, wolf, wolf in an effort to discredit Roosevelt. It's been published ten thousand times ten thousand that the president "is slipping" and we ask how? when? where? is he slipping? He puts the screws to the money changers and they squawk. Roosevelt is slipping. He turns a deaf ear to the money grabbing states and they squawk. Roosevelt is slipping. He makes it possible for the farmer to farm with a chance to break even, and the lot that had rather see the farmer go half naked rather than clothed and half fed rather than supplied with plenty, start squawking that Roosevelt is slipping. He makes it possible for the helpless and hungry to eat and sleep and those that delight in human misery—squawk—Roosevelt is slipping. We know that the human race as a whole is an ungrateful conglomeration of mis-fits, at the same time, we venture to predict that when the showdown comes at the next election a lot of these selfsame squawkers will be puzzled to understand just how they could have made so much racket when they numbered so few. When they can offer something better than President Roosevelt has offered to relieve the poverty and misery of the nation, 'twill then be time for them to cry—wolf, wolf, Roosevelt is slipping.

Demand GOOD LIGHTING

NOT THIS WAY

Inadequate and improper lighting conditions cause near-sightedness and eyestrain in children.

BUT THIS WAY

The STUDY LAMP provides light of the right quality and quantity for reading or studying.

More than half the boys and girls who fail in their studies have defective vision!

That puts it squarely up to parents to provide proper lighting conditions for study and reading. For poor lighting is the chief cause of eye strain and near-sightedness, in children.

If your child holds his book abnormally close to his eyes when reading, or if he squints, or complains of headaches . . . beware!

To make sure that your child will have proper lighting when the duties of the new school year arrive, let one of our representatives make a free survey of your home. The sightmeter will tell you the results. Your local office will be glad to tell you when our lighting representative is available.

"THE LAST ADVERTISEMENT WAS PRINTED YESTERDAY"

What would the World be like if it were true?

The last advertisement was printed yesterday. You have cut it out and put it away to show your grandchildren. With it, a way of living as you knew it, has passed forever.

Tonight you will want to see a movie. You pull up to one—saw it last week. At another—but no, you don't like Sq-and-So's acting. Let's go home. It's too much gas and time to waste on a show. Next month half the theaters will close. Poor attendance.

Tomorrow you will want some groceries. You will go to the nearest grocery store and buy some. Rib roast, perhaps, and lima beans. You won't hear until tomorrow night at the bridge table that the store just next door was having a "special" on rib roast and lima beans. Pretty soon your husband will wonder why the food bills are so high. The last advertisement was printed yesterday.

Next month is Aunt Jane's birthday. Well, if you think I'm going to spend half a day tramping from store to store looking for a gift that I used to find by turning a page—can't afford gifts anyway. We're spending money like water and living like poor folks....

Old car's wearing out. Can't afford a new one . . . Chevies and V-8's are both $1600 . . . demand's fallen off . . . they've had to up prices to meet plant expenses. Most of the others have closed down . . . don't know how the government will feed all the new unemployed.

Fellow in Milwaukee is inventing an air conditioner to sell for $50. No one will hear of it. You will never see it. What is air conditioning anyway? The last advertisement was printed yesterday.

Advertising has brought us many things. Finer cars, better homes, silly fads and wonderful inventions that have made life easier—and longer. Advertising is no unmixed blessing. But it has helped give America a standard of living unmatched in any other place and time. That standard of living should persist as long as people have wants to fill and money to spend and eyes to read with.

It will persist only so long as the presses keep rolling.

Secretary Wallace Explains Present Meat Situation

WASHINGTON. — Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace has issued the following statement:

American consumers deserve more accurate information about causes of present pork prices than that contained in Saturday's Associated Press dispatch from Chicago. That dispatch, while correctly attributing first responsibility for present pork prices to the 1934 drought, defined the second cause as follows: "The Agricultural Adjustment Act, which provided for the destruction of 6,000,000 piggy sows or grown sows which would have been on the market this year. In addition uncounted prospective litters were destroyed."

This analysis is attributed by the Associated Press to Chicago "meat authorities." I am curious to know if these unnamed sources are packers who are suing in court for recovery of processing taxes already paid or sequestered in court on the theory that the packers pay these taxes, while at the same time spreading anonymous propaganda through the press to persuade consumers that the tax is borne by the consumers.

The interpretation of the effects of the 1933 sow slaughter on present pork prices, as contained in the Chicago dispatch, is a complete misstatement of the facts.

To start with, the statement that "6,000,000 piggy sows or grown sows" were killed is just about 3000 per cent wrong. The total number of sows purchased by the government was not 6,000,000, but was, by actual count, 222,149, or about one-thirtieth of the number cited in the dispatch.

In the second place, the statement that these sows were "destroyed" is an error. In slaughtering of the sows the edible meat was saved, and 100 million pounds of cured pork was distributed to families on relief rolls, as a result of the emergency buying operation.

Third, the part of the dispatch stating these sows "would have been on the market this year" is an absurdity. Farmers would not have held these sows until this year under any imaginable set of circumstances. The only kind of sows held for such lengths of time are blooded animals with records of high productivity, while farmers were in fact improving the blood lines of their herds by selling off their culls in 1933.

The rest of the statement that "In addition, uncounted prospective litters were destroyed" makes the distortion just about complete.

So with more misinformation than I believe I have ever seen packed into two sentences, the public is given the inference — which the meat packers fighting the farmers' programs seem agreeable to have spread — that the government's 1933 pig purchase operation in some way contributed to increasing the present retail prices of pork. Consumers should be warned that a nationwide effort is being made by packers and other processors to undermine the farmers' programs by spreading malicious and untrue propaganda of all kinds about the effects and purpose of the Adjustment programs upon the consumers of the country.

The facts are that consumers now would be paying somewhat more for pork, if there had been no pig purchase program in 1933. A few simple little facts, if widely understood by consumers, will show them why this is true.

These facts are: First, that the government buying of both 222,149 sows, and 6,188,717 little pigs, was completed before October 1, 1933 — nearly two years ago.

Second, that the sows purchased were due to farrow, or produce litters, in the fall of 1933.

Third, that the average age at which pigs are marketed is nine months. This means that if there had been no government buying, all of the 6,000,000 little pigs bought by the government would have been marketed in the winter of 1933-34 and the spring of 1934; the 222,149 sows would have been sold off about the same time, most of them in February and March of 1934, and the pigs from their litters, born in the fall of 1933, would have gone to market not later than the fall of 1934.

Fourth, (and this is a vital fact for everybody to remember) that the supply of pork is limited by the supply of feed. With a given supply of feed, farmers can market just so many pounds of pork, and no more. They may vary the number of pigs, but the total weight, whatever the number, is absolutely limited by the feed supply.

Fifth, that in 1934, when the little pigs and the sows and their litters would have been marketed if there had been no government buying program, the markets were already glutted by supplies forced on the market by lack of feed caused by the drought. That unprecedented drought reduced the 1934 corn crop by nearly a billion bushels and confronted farmers with the alternative of cutting down their hog herds or letting large numbers starve to death.

Sixth, that hog products are not usually held in storage for more than six months after slaughter.

When these facts are pieced together they spell out a story completely different from that which consumers are being asked almost every day to believe.

day game, which Haskell won 2 to 0, with the bases loaded and kept the Pied Pipers at bay, saving the lead for Pitcher Tommy Hall.

The outfield trio of Patterson, Bradley and McGlothlin "covered" itself with glory throughout the battle, getting thirteen putouts. Seven went to McGlothlin in right field where the sun beamed merrily down. Haskell fans, so they say, are perfectly willing for "Mack" to move to Haskell from Monday anytime.

Haskell's double-play combination of Johnson and Norman showed up well again as in the previous series games, and several good stops were made by "Little-bit" Murphy at third.

Lefty Courtney, whom Hamlin will bet on anytime, hurled a steady game, although nicked for ten hits. They were badly scattered, however, and did damage in only two innings — the first and fourteenth. The Hamlin lefthander had many of the Braves biting at his "dipsy-doo" curve and struck out thirteen men, which looms up in comparison to the five strikeouts by Jones and Hambright combined until one figure the averages which show that there are at least seven 300 hitters in the regular Hamlin lineup, while Haskell only hit about 235 as a team during the season and most of the Braves have had trouble hitting a curve all season.

Courtney chalked up eight assists during the afternoon.

Hamlin's outstanding players during the series were Bradford and Ensey, the former leading all hitters while the latter played a fine defensive game and hit well.

By winning the third game, thereby ending the series, the Haskell players upset "dope" being broadcast by many of the unknowing to the effect that they would not try to win Sunday's game.
