Cases which had been scheduled for trial during the week of next Monday, May 1, were continued on Tuesday, May 2, for the next week. The case of the State vs. Bruce, charged with forgery of the State vs. Bonnie charged by indictment with to stop and render aid to a fugitive, was continued until the next term.

Legged Chicken First Break of Spring

First "freak" chicken of the year, a Rhode Island Red, perfectly normal in respect—but with only unusual curiosity was shown by Mrs. E. W. Mc this city recently when looking over a brood of newly-hatched chicks, she sent to the Free Press for a lady and floundered in a small pastern. The little creature was so anxious to let onlookers know it was not a handicapped and would be a little later on. McCree's small son is of raising the curiosity.

SINGERS ORGANIZE ANNUAL CONVENTION AT MEETING HERE

Judge L. D. Ratliff Will Be President of the County Group

Attracting the largest attendance of any similar gathering held here in years, the county-wide singing convention held at the First Christian Church last Sunday will become an annual affair, following action of the assemblage in voting to form a permanent organization, to be known as the Haskell County Singing Convention.

Judge L. D. Ratliff of Haskell was elected president of the body, with Ed F. Fouts named as secretary-treasurer. As tentatively outlined, an annual convention will be held in Haskell during the latter part of April each year.

An old-fashioned barbecue dinner was served to an estimated crowd of twelve hundred people Sunday at noon on the church lawn.

The convention proper opened at 10 o'clock with M. Shaw of Abilene presiding. The program was arranged by J. R. Lee of Haskell, and consisted of quartet numbers, trios, duets and solos, interspersed with piano selections. Taking part on the program were outstanding singers and musicians from throughout this section.

MAY 7TH IS FINAL DAY FOR SIGNING UP WORK SHEETS

Are Necessary In Order For Producers to Receive Benefits

The final date for signing Work Sheets on the 1936 Soil Conservation Program has been set for May 7th, according to County Agent B. W. Chesser.

Work Sheets must be signed by producers in order to participate in the benefits under the Soil Conservation program of the government during this crop year, it is pointed out, and although a farmer is undecided now as to whether he will work under the program and later decides to do so, his compliance at a later date will not make him eligible for the program benefits.

For that reason, all producers are urged to submit a Work Sheet on or before the final date, as none may be accepted after May 1st.

Distribution of Trades Day Money Will Be Under Way in Haskell Soon

With approximately 25,000 pieces of "Haskell Currency" already printed and ready for delivery, distribution of the trade money will probably be started by Haskell merchants next week.

A canvass of the business firms of the town will be started Friday, and the certificates will be delivered from the C. of C. office just as soon as a list of the firms cooperating is compiled.

The "currency" will be given in the amount of purchases made at Haskell stores, and although having no monetary value, the certificates will be redeemed during the monthly Trades Day auctions, first of which will be held on Wednesday, June 3rd.

A reproduction of the 16 buck certificate appears herewith.

The "currency" has been printed in denominations of ones, fives and tens.

Plan for the auction sale as outlined by the Trade Extension committee of the local organization, will provide for the sale at auction of many items of merchandise to the highest bidder, payment to be made in "Haskell Currency."

Merchandise to be sold will be of every conceivable kind, including groceries, dry goods, clothing, hardware, furniture, tires, tubes, etc., and will be purchased by the committee from merchants participating.

In addition to the Auction Sale on Trades Day, many other attractions are planned, which will include baseball and softball games, public speaking, band concerts, picture shows, and other events.

Tell Alluring Story of Fishing In Old Mexico Lake

Glowing accounts of how the fish are biting at the famous Don Martin lake in Old Mexico were furnished this week by a party of Haskell men who spent two days there last week, bringing back ample proof in the form of over one hundred nice bass and catfish.

Composing the fishing party, which left Thursday and returned Sunday, were George (Chick) Henshaw, L. F. Taylor, J. D. Montgomery, and Andy Norris of Haskell, and Bill Carothers of Rochester.

SEEK WPA AID IN EARLY COMPLETION OF HIGHWAY 120

Delegation Visits District Office of Agency In Wichita Falls

A group of representatives from the Haskell Chamber of Commerce were in Wichita Falls Tuesday, to confer with Chas. L. Martin, district WPA head, regarding cooperation of that agency in connection with the completion of Highway 120 east and west through the county.

Last week representatives from Haskell and several adjoining counties on the east appeared before the State Highway Commission in Austin on the same mission, where they were given assurance that all possible consideration would be given the Haskell project. This was reiterated by Mr. Martin Tuesday, who told the Haskell delegation that WPA support would be given to construction of the highway in every measure possible.

In the group appearing before Mr. Martin were O. E. Patterson, T. C. Cahill, Chas. M. Conner and Ralph Duncan, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Band Concert Will Be Given Monday Night

The Haskell Municipal Band will give an outdoor concert next Monday night May 4th, Director Joe Meacham announced this week.

The concert will be held on the north side of the square, in front of Perkins-Timberlake store, and will begin promptly at 7:45 o'clock Monday night.

Director Meacham is elated over the progress being made by the band and extends an invitation to the public in general to attend the next concert.

BRAVES EVEN SCORE WITH 6-5 WIN AT MUNDAY SUNDAY

Overcome 4-Run Lead in 7th To Win in Ten-Inning Struggle

To even their standing with Munday in the second game of the Wichita Valley League season, the Haskell Braves defeated the Mogsuls on the Munday rounds last Sunday afternoon, 6 to 5 in ten innings.

Playing a consistently good game although handicapped under a four-run lead held by Munday until the seventh, the Braves staged a four-run rally in that inning to tie the score, until the tenth when another run won the game. Haskell's lone tally until the seventh was made in the fourth, when "Doc" Patterson, left-fielder picked out one of Robinson's choice offerings and parked the ball.

The Line-Ups

Haskell line-up, in their batting order: Beatty, rf; Hodges, cf; Norman, 2b; Patterson, lf; Adkins, 1b; Chapman, 3b; Johnson, ss; H. Cox, c; Pitman, p. B. Cox substituted for H. Cox in 7th; Cook for Chapman in 7th.

Munday: Couch, 2b; Kuhler, lf; McGlothlin, 3b; Kuhler, L. ss; Wilde, 1b; Ratcliff, cf; Coffman, rf; Moore, c; Robinson, p. Scott substituted for Ratcliff in 5th and Rayburn for Coffman in 6th.

Haskell goes to Hamlin for next Sunday's game.

S.S.' ATTENDANCE SHOWS GOOD GAIN IN RECENT WEEKS

Pastor's Efforts Result In Almost Doubling Number of Church-Goers

Since the time when the Haskell's pastor's association appointed a committee to promote Sunday school and church attendance, there has been very marked increase in attendance and interest. New classes have been formed.

One prominent Haskell citizen said recently, "I have never known of as much interest in Sunday School as we have now."

On March 29th there were 480 in two of the larger schools. Last Sunday there were approximately 800 in the same two schools.

Fred Bishop was returned to his home here the first of the week from the Stamford Hospital in an ambulance from the Kinney Funeral Home.

FINAL BEAUTY REVUE WILL BE HELD FRIDAY

YOUNG DEMOS OF HASKELL DENOUNCE KIRBY AND VANCE

Declared "Traitors to the Party" in Resolution Adopted Tuesday

Meeting Tuesday afternoon in called session, the Haskell Young Democrats Club named French M. Robertson and Jim Ferguson as delegates to attend the West Texas Convention at Pampa, Texas this week-end, and declared every member of the club a delegate to the district convention to be held in Abilene next week.

A resolution vehemently denouncing John H. Kirby and Vance Muse of Houston as traitors to the Democratic Party was unanimously adopted by the Haskell club in Tuesday's meetings.

Full text of the resolution introduced and adopted is given below:

"WHEREAS, it has come to our ears that certain so called leaders in the Democratic Party to-wit: John H. Kirby of Houston, Texas, and one Vance Muse, also of Houston, Texas, has become traitors to the cause of Democracy, and have brought shame and ridicule upon the Party by aligning themselves with those who are against the Democratic Party and our President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and have unblushingly admitted that they were responsible for the circulation of pictures showing the wife of our president in company with negroes;

"THEREFORE, be it RESOLVED by the Young Men's Democratic Club of Haskell County, Texas, that we condemn and disapprove of the actions and conduct of the said John H. Kirby and Vance Muse, and denounce them for their treacherous betrayal of the party which has generously given (Continued on Page Eight)

Out-of-Town Judges to Pick Haskell Representative to Fort Worth

Final selection of Haskell's representative to the Frontier Centennial in Fort Worth will be made Friday night at the Texas Theatre. Eleven young women, representing the towns of O'Brien, Rochester, Rule and Haskell will vie for first place honors. This group was selected through two previous elimination contests in the first of which sixty young women took part.

Out of town judges will make the selection Friday night, and the young lady chosen as Haskell's representative will receive a week's trip to the Frontier Centennial with all expenses paid. There she will compete with representatives from other Texas towns for a part in the Frontier Follies to be staged under the direction of Billy Rose who will select thirty-six of the most typical Texas beauties for his stage production of the "Follies." From the thirty-six Follies beauties, Clark Gable, movie star, will bestow upon one the title of "Miss Texas Sweetheart" and she will be given a six months movie contract.

Second and third place winners in Friday night's revue will be given appropriately engraved loving cups by sponsors of the contest, the Haskell Free Press, Texas Theatre and Haskell Chamber of (Continued On Page Eight)

TRIAL OF CONVICTS FOR OLD ROBBERY LIKELY NEXT WEEK

Sheriff Returns Two From State Penitentiary At Huntsville

Indicted by a District Court Grand Jury last week, charged with robbery, J. D. Hope and Elmer Aaron, convicts in the State Penitentiary at Huntsville, were returned to Haskell last Friday morning by Sheriff Giles Kemp and Deputy Ollie Kitley of Rule.

Disposition of the charges against the pair appears problematical, according to several court officials, but their cases will likely be called for trial during next week.

Indictment of the two convicts came about after they had reportedly confessed to the robbery in January of last year of a filling station on the southeast corner of the square. As a result of officer's investigations of the robbery at that time, Roscoe Conklin former Denton resident, charged with the robbery and received a nine-year sentence in the penitentiary. Jo Willoughby, proprietor of the filling station, who was left bound by persons committing the robbery, identified Conklin as his assailant during trial of the Denton man.

According to officers, Hope and Aaron discuss the robbery freely, and profess a willingness to enter pleas of guilty to the indictment. (Continued On Page Eight)

LOSS OF BUILDING SLIGHT HINDRANCE TO O'BRIEN SCHOOL

Current School Term Will Not Be Handicapped By Recent Fire

The O'Brien school, one of the most progressive high schools in the county, which recently suffered a serious loss when their High School building was destroyed by fire, is making excellent progress with work of the current term despite the handicap, according to Supt. E. C. Westerman.

Work of the term will be completed "without a hitch", school officials state. O'Brien churches and lodge buildings are being utilized for classes.

Total enrollment in the O'Brien school for the current year is 220 pupils, 57 in high school, according to Supt. Westerman. In published reports at the time the O'Brien school building burned, it was erroneously stated that about 120 students were enrolled. Enrollment of fifty-seven in the (Continued On Page Eight)

Pigs' Attempt to Escape Pen Barred By Free Press Ad

The result-getting ability of Free Press Want Ads, those unassuming "lost and found" items which appear weekly, have been demonstrated many times in the past to their users.

A. C. Boggs of the Boggs & Johnson Mattress Factory came into the office Thursday shortly before the weekly edition went to press, and inserted a small ad concerning a "lost pig."

Printed Thursday evening, the advertisement was read Friday by a subscriber—and shortly after noon of that day (a lapse of less than 24 hours) Mr. Boggs was notified that his pig had been "pened" by a resident of West Haskell and was awaiting his claiming.

Consult Mr. Boggs about the worth of Free Press advertising.

News of HASKELL COUNTY Farmers

(BY W. M. FREE)

M. H. Harris of Sayles, says when he came here 30 years ago that this was a fine country to live in, with plenty of good grass and other things in accordance to the well doing of the farmers of that day.

Gordon Larned of Rose, had to enlarge the cellar when he moved to the farm he is now living on before Mrs. Larned could get all of her canned goods in it.

V. F. Shaw of Center Point says that the tractor is a fine method of farming. He has a lot of his ground sown to small grain and it is needing rain very badly. His hens are paying the bills with egg production. The old hen always helps when you need it.

T. D. Strickland of Sayles, says that the best crop he has made on his farm was in 1932 when almost every acre of ground made a bale of cotton. He also made lots of feed the same year.

H. F. Newbrough of O'Brien Route 1, has a new brooder house and has 200 baby chicks growing nicely. He has some good mules for farming.

P. A. Melton of O'Brien, Route 1, one of our leading young farmers is doing nicely. Mrs. Melton has a beautiful yard, nicely arranged and has many beautiful flowers growing. They have 100 white leghorn baby chicks and a nice flock of laying hens. They are making the farm pay.

Lee Cornelius— There is no rush about Lee Cornelius farm projects. He just takes his good easy time and gets the job done with a speedy tractor. He uses his surplus feed for livestock and poultry and balances the budget.

Tom Brite— Whenever we need a little story we call on our old friend Tom Brite and he is always ready with the goods. We stopped by his home late the other evening and he told us that he was getting along fine. He had all his ground put up and ready to plant in row crops but was waiting on a shower. He expects to plant some June corn later. He has ten or twelve good

Haskell Plant Manufacturing Gin Equipment Serves Wide Territory

One of the largest and best equipped plants of its kind in West Texas, the Sheet Metal Works of Jones & Son, is pictured above. In connection they also operate a filling station, plumbing shop and blacksmith shop. Specializing in the manufacture of heavy sheet iron gin equipment, a recent installation of this nature made in a West Texas gin is also shown.

Although Haskell residents are familiar with this city's various business firms and establishments and in a general way have some idea regarding the volume of business firms and establishments, and in a general way have some idea regarding the volume of business accorded local industries, we will venture the assertion that very few are aware that here in Haskell is located one of the largest and best equipped sheet metal works manufacturing gin equipment to be found west of Fort Worth.

Jones & Son, whose large plant is located just off the southwest corner of the square, for a number of years have specialized in manufacturing and installing gin equipment, such as condenser transitions, lint flues, air lines, round bale valves, etc. Equipment of this nature, necessary in all gin plants can not be made as regular "stock" equipment. C. Jones, senior member of the firm explained, these installations being governed by the size of the plant building, arrangement of machinery, etc.

The Haskell firm, since first entering this phase of manufacturing, has built and installed equipment in gin plants in several hundreds towns and cities in this section, and the type of equipment manufactured locally has been praised by the largest manufacturers of gin machinery in the South.

Roughly outlined, the territory served by the Haskell firm extends south as far as Abilene, west to the New Mexico line, and into the Northwest Panhandle, with installations also made last year at Sayre and Erick, Okla.

Heaviest demand for gin equipment comes during the early summer months, Mr. Jones states, but this year the firm has already received several inquiries concerning equipment and repairs from several West Texas towns. In addition to their sheet metal works, Jones & Son also operate a filling station, plumbing shop and a blacksmith shop in Haskell.

Jesse Jones, junior member of the firm, has charge of the tin shop and plumbing business. Recalling their first venture into the business, the elder partner vividly remembers that he and his son purchased the old Haskell Tin Shop from D. R. Poer in October of 1923—and after the first day's operation under the new ownership the entire plant and equipment was destroyed by fire.

Greatly discouraged, and with only slender resources remaining, they managed to erect a building on the site of the burned structure and reopen their tin shop on a small scale. By dint of hard work and good management, they have today built their business into one of the most substantial enterprises in Haskell.

and butter to customers. Some of them they have had for more than ten years. They have some fine well bred hogs which are making excellent production and they are marketing the eggs at special prices. Fresh eggs and butter are always in good demand. He uses a tractor for farming. He row terraces all his farm with some terraces put up on other sections. There is no high pressure used in any of the farming methods of Mr. Glass. He just goes along in a quiet way to success.

R. L. Leclair— Everything is going nicely on the Leclair farm. We notice that much attention is given to poultry raising. They have 96 fine red hens on the yard and a large bunch of baby chicks in the brooder house. He sells butter and cream and raises plenty of hogs for meat and lard. And by the way, he has one of the best cellars in the country. In this cellar is all kinds of canned vegetables, fruits and meats successfully canned and stored. Mr. Leclair owns his farm where he has lived for a number of years. He has a new tractor and is farming terraced ground. He was the first man to terrace in that section.

Clyde Gordon— We found that Clyde Gordon had the tractor fever one day not long ago when we passed by his home and it developed into a real case and now he is whooping things up with a brand new tractor, but he says it does not see any too good and he has to watch it all the time he is plowing.

H. C. Griffith— We note some improvements being made by H. C. Griffith on farm he bought in the Rose Community. He has put in new windows braced up the corners, put on some new paper inside and made other improvements. We are glad to have this good family near the city.

C. C. Rose— One day last week we ate a good dinner at the home of C. C. Rose in the Rose community. Clifford is a good farmer, owns his place, and keeps everything in tip top condition on this farm. Some of the children were just getting over the "Flu" but were able to be up. He uses teams for farming and has one of the tallest mules we ever saw. He has a good bunch of stock cattle and says that he gets all the milk and butter he needs and gets a better price for his fat cattle and calves when he sells them. He always raises hogs, wet or dry.

C. N. Scoggins— We noticed that C. N. Scoggins is using row terracing in farming. He is also using teams for his motor power and he is almost through breaking ground and ready to plant his row crops. One thing we wish to mention that this family is making six good cows and they sell cream. They also have a fine bunch of chickens and they are selling a nice bunch of eggs each week. They are in business to win and they are on the right road to success.

Ollie Gilliland— To our surprise we found Ollie Gilliland living in the Flat Top Community. He and his wife were both reared in the Howard community and we have known these kids most of their life. Ollie will farm quite a number of acres of ground with a tractor and he was up with his work.

A. B. Corzine— There is no exception to the rule with A. B. Corzine for he is using a tractor for farming. He has lived in the Center Point community for a number of years and he is still a happy and contented farmer.

L. H. Royall— We are glad to report that L. H. Royall is moving his family to the Guant Community where he expects to engage in farming. He has lived in Shackelford county for many years, but has now decided to cast his lot with the Haskell County people who welcome this family to a home in their midst. He brings a tractor with him and will soon be preparing his ground.

L. M. Hamilton— Progress must be made says our old time friend L. M. Hamilton of the Guant community. He is using a tractor but keeps a pair of good mules around for an aid. He says that he would like to see a good rain. He is hauling water and any fellow hauling water wants to see it rain.

J. R. Tidwell— It was in Johnson County when we were both younger than we are now when we first met J. R. Tidwell. He is an un-to-date tractor farmer and is interested in his work and is making the farm provide a bountiful support for the family. He has some cows, hogs and chickens and he knows that no farmers can get along very well without them.

H. F. Harwell Jr.— On the farm of H. F. Harwell Jr. 35 dozen eggs are sold every week and they also sell quite a lot of cream which means that this young farmer is very successful and he stays out of debt. He has nothing charged to his account, but his produce pays all bills and leaves a cash balance each week. Mrs. Harwell has 98 little chicks that are just doing fine and there is a great joy in watching them grow and mature.

J. W. Stone— We are glad to report that J. W. Stone who has lived near Rule for many years has moved to the W. D. Norman place on the Rayner Road. He is one of the true and tried citizens who has lived long on the earth. He is one of our old time singers and he and Mrs. Stone like to sing from the book known as the Old Sacred Harp. They have a singing from this book at the primitive Baptist Church in Rule every fourth Sunday afternoon and Bro. Stone gave us an invitation to attend.

D. C. Dunlap— Farming is a pleasure for D. C. Dunlap of the Guant Community. He has had many years experience in farming. He is looking to the cow, the sow and the hen to help him with his problems. He has ordered 200 Rhode Island Red Chicks from a hatchery which will replenish his stock of layers for next year. He uses a tractor for farming and he says that he can be the job done in a hurry.

W. D. Davis— It had been some time since we had been in the home of W. D. Davis living on the Rayner Road out of Haskell. Prospects for farming looked very bright for Mr. Davis on the farm. He was using a walking buster and was doing a good job. He makes the farm furnish the living, by keeping cows, hogs and chickens. They sell cream and eggs.

J. F. Harris— For many years J. F. Harris has lived in Haskell County. He moved from the Ferris ranch to the C. B. Long farm west of town where he will farm this year. He is one of our oldest citizens but he is active and strong. Glad they have moved down here with us.

Ollie H. Harrell— It's a fact says Ollie Harrell that I always made a profit on poultry and I am getting back in the business. He has 200 pullets about one month old and has had fine luck with them. He also has a week's house and will use it for his layers this season. He uses a tractor and also has a feed mill to grind his feed for his poultry and livestock. He says that the mill will soon pay for its self in feeding ground feed to livestock and poultry.

Weds Abilene Man

Miss Mary Frances Collier of this city, who became the bride of Paul Comolli of Abilene in a ceremony Sunday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Collier.

Miss Mary Frances Collier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Collier of this city, and Paul W. Comolli of Abilene, son of Mrs. Paul W. Comolli of Del Rio, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents Sunday morning at 7 o'clock. Relatives and a few close friends of the couple were present, with A. F. Thurman, minister of the Haskell Church of Christ reading the impressive ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Comolli left immediately after the wedding for Carlsbad, N. M. They will return to Abilene and make their home at 2040 South Third street.

Romance of the couple began while they were students in Abilene Christian College. Mrs. Comolli was a student there last year, after having attended North Texas State Teachers College at Denton during the 1935 term. She graduated from Haskell High School with the class of 1933.

Thirty-eight years ago tomorrow, Friday, May 1, 1898, Admiral Dewey's victory at Manila Bay brought freedom to the Philippine Islands and added them to the domain of the United States.

Although billions have been spent in improving the condition of the Filipinos and guaranteeing their freedom, they have consistently clamored for more "freedom" and shortly generous Uncle Sam will turn the government back to the natives, and let them assume their own protection.

That's the way with some people concerning insurance. When needed, the companies we represent will play the role of "Uncle Sam" and give you ample protection.

FOR CHILD HEALTH

Friday of this week has been set aside by the President for the observance of Child Health Day, and extensive efforts will be made to encourage the consideration of the health problems of American youth.

This important field of study has been somewhat neglected for many years, receiving special attention only in the presence of specific diseases. It is high time that an intelligent people, residing in a civilized nation, devote themselves seriously to the task of promoting child health.

Of course, it will be comparatively easy to make speech and pass resolutions but if the children are to receive any particular benefits, some positive action must be taken. There is little use in debating what agency shall be given the task. The field is wide open and the opportunity large enough to provide ample activity for the Federal Government, the State governments, and local units as well.

BECAUSE THE BIRDS SANG

For twelve days an eight year old girl was lost in the forest around New Melbourne, N. F. When rescued little Lucy Harris was too weak to walk, but from her cot in the hospital she smiled at those around her and said, "I wasn't lonely or afraid because the birds sang."

How fortunate the grown-ups of Haskell, lost in the mazes of modern life, if they can smile at those around them and say, as they lay down for a long sleep, "I wasn't lonely or afraid because the birds sang."

THE END OF WAR

During the World War the thought that it would usher in a new era of peace strengthened the hearts and increased the determination of the men engaged in that great strife.

This ideal has not been reached. The League of Nations and the World Court, visions inspired by a conception of man's brotherhood, have both failed to accomplish expectations up to this time.

At the outbreak of the World War there were roughly about 4,500,000 men in the regular armies of Europe with a little more than three times that number of trained reserves. Now these countries have over 5,000,000 regular soldiers and over seven times as many more in reserve. The World War has not eliminated militarism.

In many other ways the pursuit of war has made progress since 1914. The airplane, the automobile, the radio, and other scientific inventions, including military gases, have all been applied for use by the armies of the next war—the people of the world know another war is coming but they have no way of gauging its death dealing potentialities or its horrors.

It would seem that the collective wisdom of mankind, irrespective of any feeling of humane regard for others, would realize the folly and waste of war. The old hatreds and animosities and the new ambitions and greed place impassable obstacles in the way of reason and love.

VALUABLE ADVICE FREE

Whenever the editor has little or nothing on his chest for discussion in his columns he can always fill up a portion of his space by giving some advice to his readers.

Being somewhat in that situation, we "rise to remark" that one-fourth of 1935 has passed, and that those of us who made up our minds, when the new year was beginning, that this would be an epochal year in our affairs, had better stop long enough to review the situation and see just where we have come.

Every man, woman and child in Haskell County ought to have a goal in mind. No matter what it is that interests you, or what you are interested in, if you intend to stay with it, get set for something definite. You can't make much progress as long as you drift upon "glittering generalities."

The average family is interested in financial betterment. Most of them have high hopes of the mythical "future." They like to dream of what will happen but they seldom get down to brass tacks and take steps that lead to it.

WANTED: CLEAN CAMPAIGNS

Few American citizens desire dirty politics. The average voter wishes clean, clear cut campaigns, without personalities and abusive argument.

This applies not only to the national campaign but to state and local races as well. The candidate who descends to cheap abuse does not deserve your vote because his temperament is entirely unfit to represent the community he is supposed to serve. He will reward friends and punish foes which is not the ideal office-holder for a government which is supposed to operate for the benefit of the people.

Intelligent voters, however, discriminate between personal abuse and legitimate criticism of official misconduct. Any candidate has the right, (and duty), to speak out plainly in regard to the shortcomings of his opponents. Only by a clear cut statement of abuses and misdeeds can correction be administered.

SNAP SHOTS

See where a bandit died and left a fortune behind him. He was just leaving a bank when a cop shot him.

We read of a candidate that was declared insane and sent to an asylum. He probably wasn't a lot crazier than a lot of other candidates, at that.

We read of a woman having her speech restored when a bee stung her. And you may have one goes as to what she said.

Begins to look as though the nations of Europe are not so anxious for peace unless it is at their price.

Those French are the funniest people. When you speak of Notre Dame they think you are referring to a cathedral.

The fellow who sows wild oats seldom has cause to complain about his crop failing.

CURRENT COMMENT

THE RELIEF PROBLEM

(The Pittsburg Press)

Through the looking-glass of politics in a campaign year our ordinary citizen gazes, like Alice, into a crazy world. Little things appear big and big things little. Partisan Mad Hatters and Mock Turtles talk endless nonsense. One is told the sea is boiling hot and pigs have wings.

So sensible folks will discount the more intemperate of the charges being leveled at the bloody but unbowed head of Harry Hopkins, overworked and under-appreciated man of all (made) work.

We believe that time will accord Harry Hopkins a verdict of which any American would be proud. He faced a gargantuan task. He had to move quickly, spent billions freely and cut all corners. That he has met the cry for bread and jobs for millions unaided by precedent or policy, without a hint of major graft is something of a record.

Nothing is not that from here and there comes charges of favoritism and politics, it is that there has not been more. Particularly in a campaign year.

However, the American people as a whole are not happy about this relief picture. They know it is the great national headache. They want jobs for the jobless, not doles for the starving, and they know the Federal Government must supply money and leadership now and for some time to come. But they also know there is a vast amount of wasted effort and money and that great savings in wealth and human values could be effected through a more orderly program.

The creation of a National Relief Policy Board has been urged as a way to evolve such a program, to tie the relief into their Federal security services; to plan co-ordination of local, state and Federal efforts; to get more in social enrichment and human rehabilitation from the billions we are now spending.

The care of millions of jobless and the gradual liquidation of the relief program is too big a job for one man. It would be too big for a superman. The best brains of the Republic are needed to solve it.

Sunday School LESSON RADCLIFFE

GREAT PRINCIPLES
International Sunday School Lesson for May 3, 1935.

GOLDEN TEXT: "Be ye kind to one another, tender-hearted, forgiving each other, even as God is in Christ forgiving you." Eph. 4:32.

(Lesson Text: Luke 17:1-19).

The seventeenth chapter of Luke includes the teachings of Jesus on several different subjects, the probability being that they were words spoken by him at different times, perhaps, under different circumstances. The first two verses concern the heavy responsibility of those who cause others to sin. Verse 3-4 admonish mankind to be forgiving to every brother. Then come a comparison from nature to illustrate the power of faith, followed by a lesson in humility contained in a parable. Emphasis on gratitude is revealed in the story of the ten lepers and the closing of the chapter contains a statement of conditions which will take place before the second coming.

Jesus was interested in the development of life to the fullest extent for each individual—a development recognizing the primary importance of spiritual and eternal values. He fully understood that very often these higher qualities were contrasted unfavorably by the world with material things of lesser worth. Jesus knew that one who sought to live by the principles of his kingdom would necessarily encounter temptations and obstacles as he pursued his way through a material world. While one who fell a victim to such delusions and traps would be harmed, Jesus spoke the greater condemnation which would be visited upon that one who caused him to stumble. Apparently greater punishment awaits those who deliberately entice striving men and women from the path of rectitude than those weakners who succumb to the wiles and allurements craftily placed in their way.

An unforgiving spirit may be a cause for stumbling to others and to that extent there seems to be the possibility of a thought connection between the first four verses. Jesus warned his disciples that an unforgiving spirit was necessary for his kingdom, insisting that if one was done wrong he must forgive the evil-doer. Some emphasize the words, "if he repent" as the condition precedent for the Christian requirement of forgiveness for wrong but while this particular text may allow such an interpretation it would be so much out of harmony with the example and teaching of Jesus that it should be rejected. As a matter of fact, on the cross Jesus prayed for the forgiveness of those who were executing him, that they knew not what they were doing. Failure to realize wrong-doing negatives the fact of repentance.

The apostles asked Jesus to increase their faith. The supplication indicates that the apostles realized the insufficiency of their faith and recognized in Jesus a power to increase it. Jesus answered that faith "as a grain of mustard seed" would perform the impossible.

The parable in verses seven to ten concern the attitude of the servant. When he has performed the duties laid upon him by his master, he should not expect any unusual reward as a matter of right because he has only performed his duty. So, the lesson is, when the follower of Jesus has performed his task, he has no right to self-complacency and pride for doing what he should have done. The reward that comes to him will be a matter of generosity from his Creator. This parable was directed particularly to the pretentious followers of Judaism, who paraded and boasted of their righteousness. In this day we can also see examples of pride of religion in many.

As Jesus proceeded towards Jerusalem he met ten lepers who hailed him with the request for relief from their malady. Jesus instructed them to go to the priest upon those who had suffered with leprosy so that if cured they would no longer be subject to the ban against contact with others. The ten lepers set out and as they proceeded, an act of faith on their part, they realized that they had been healed. Only one, a Samaritan, Luke alone informs us, returned to Jesus to thank him. The others, too eager to re-enter their own lives, either were too careless to give thanks to their benefactor or put it off in the expectation of doing so on some other day. Commenting upon the Samaritan whose gratitude caused him to express himself immediately,

History

The Gypsy Rambler Club was organized in 1928 by twelve girls from Haskell High School. The girls submitted their own by-laws to Mr. Dodson, superintendent and principal at the time. They had been in the club for several years and they approved them and they existed as an organization until 1935. The girls also submitted their own by-laws to Mr. Bass for a new club. Two of the girls were in the club. Mr. Bass suggested the two be combined into the Gypsy Rambler Club.

The girls are taken from the club; the white representing the white and the blue representing the blue. The shirt consists of blue and white shirt and red bands.

The constitution states that there be only twenty-five members in the club and that only Juniors and Seniors be members. However, the club was later passed to the Sophomores and the girls who might be interested in this organization were invited to join.

The club has a membership of twenty-five members. The Juniors and Seniors are the members of the club. Mr. Bass suggested the two be combined into the Gypsy Rambler Club.

These changes were made to bring the club up to date. The girls are taken from the club; the white representing the white and the blue representing the blue. The shirt consists of blue and white shirt and red bands.

After we have reached this place, we went in swimming. The water was cold but it was lots of fun just swimming. Those who didn't go in the water took a long hike to Mable, met and some, like Helen, met with misfortune. After the swim, hikes and games came the eat. How we did go for the sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, bananas, cookies and soda pop. C. T. had to drink seven bottles to prove to Mrs. Wimbish that those four cases were not too much after all.

To entertain us during the supper hour Catherine and T. J. staged a banana race. Catherine was the winner by eating eight bananas to T. J.'s six, although she had to run two races before eating the last one.

We came home full and tired but happy. We were very glad to have Mesdames Watson, Diggs, Gholson and Tubbs as our guests and to have our sponsor, Mrs. Wimbish to go with us. Our greatest wish at this time is that all of us and more will be able to go again next year on our all day Senior picnic.

Junior Picnic

With Friday came the eventful afternoon that the Junior class has been looking forward to the whole school term. We left about one o'clock in two cars and the school bus for our annual picnic at Lueders Park.

As soon as we reached this place, we went in swimming. Br-r-r the water was cold but it was lots of fun just swimming. Those who didn't go in the water took a long hike to Mable, met and some, like Helen, met with misfortune. After the swim, hikes and games came the eat. How we did go for the sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, bananas, cookies and soda pop. C. T. had to drink seven bottles to prove to Mrs. Wimbish that those four cases were not too much after all.

Seniors Attend Senior Meet

Last Saturday the Senior class was well represented by forty members of the class at the Senior Meet given at Hardin-Simmons. The program began at 10:30 o'clock and included of Hardin-Simmons queen, a pantomime, and numbers by the Hardin-Simmons Choral Club and the Cowboy Band. Lunch was served by the Abilene Missionary Society, to about three thousand seniors. During the afternoon all laboratories, dormitories, etc. were open to visitors. Saturday night a football game was played at the Hardin-Simmons stadium by their own teams.

The seniors had a most enjoyable time and wish to express their thanks to the local Missionary Society for providing ways for the class to go to Abilene.

Uses New Method For Storing Meat During the Summer

Carrying the cured meat supply through the summer months without its becoming covered with mold and eaten by insects will be done this summer by Mrs. S. G. Perrin, cooper in the Josselet Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Perrin bought a barrel from the bakery that shortening comes in for $1.50. The pieces of meat were placed in the barrel and refined cotton seed oil added until the meat was covered. This meat will keep indefinitely without becoming stale. Raw cotton seed oil may be refined at home for this purpose. This oil may be used several years by refining it each year.

Boys Make Good Showing In Regional Meet

Haskell High School was represented Saturday April 25, at the regional track and field meet which was held at Abilene. Haskell had Phippen entered in the 100 yard dash and mile relay; McMillin entered in the 880 yard run and mile relay; Barnett entered the 220 yard low hurdles and mile relay. Reeves entry was in the mile relay.

Phippen was eliminated in the first heat in which he ran third, but his competitor, J. D. Tidwell formerly a Haskell High School student, was too fast for him. Tidwell's time was equal the state record, 9.7 seconds.

McMillin who will be Haskell's only entry in the State Meet at Austin which will be held next Saturday, with a sprint of about 100 yards from the finish line placed second in the 880 yard run. McMillin is just a Sophomore in school and he has ambition to win the State Meet in the 880 yard run.

Barnett, owing to a bad start failed to qualify for the low hurdles. Haskell's "four horsemen" won fourth place in the mile relay which was one of the most interesting races in the meet.

Barnett started, but his competition was too great and when Phippen started Haskell was in sixth place, but when Reeves started Haskell placed third, and when McMillin started Haskell was fourth and finished likewise.

"Texas Under Six Flags" was presented by Margaret Breedlove, Winnie Darnell, Robert Barnett, Lorene Thomas, John Guest, and Gladys Fouts. Anabel Stanton entertained us with several piano selections suitable to the occasion. The High School Quartet sang several songs, namely "Marquita", "Rancho Grande" and "I'm Coming Back to Texas". The "Declaration of Texas Independence" was given by Helen Ballard. Mattie Pistole gave the Origin of the Rose Window. ## News of Haskell County Boys In C. C. C. Camp

The health of the camp is good at this writing. A celebration was enjoyed by the boys of the camp Friday night. Trucks were furnished to go after our friends. Refreshments were served to everyone at 9 o'clock by the boys of the camp. A large number of the young people from the New Mexico State College attended. Mostly girls attended from the college. The music was furnished by the leading orchestra of Las Cruces. The dancing part of the program was held on the tennis court. The court being waxed and polished for the occasion. The wire backgrounds of the court were decorated with crepe paper and on the north end of the court Br-39-N was formed in large letters giving a very striking effect. The tennis court is located between the main office and the recreation hall. Flood lights were located on the office and recreation hall. Every one reported a grand time and requested an early return of the affair. The technical men and the Lieutenants and the men from the reclamation service attended. We were glad to have them.

The work on the different projects is progressing nicely. The gang at Picacho Arroyo Dam is doing nice work. The dam is going right on up. To date there has not been any more men quit because the rocks were harder than their heads.

We have four caterpillars in the field at the present time. Two are pulling graders and the remaining two are equipped with bulldozers. The graders are putting roads on the canal banks at this time.

The new men have not arrived at camp yet. The boys that remain are enjoying the camp fine because there are not many of us.

Foster Home Demonstration Club

Mrs. Hershel Allen was hostess to the Foster Home Demonstration Club at her home on Thursday, April 23. Miss Taylor, county agent, gave a very instructive demonstration on sheets and bed spreads.

We learned that in buying sheets, a material of firm weave, free from starch or other filler, and at least 140 threads per inch will give the most satisfactory wear. Percale sheets, although lovely and of a firm weave, are more expensive and do not give as much service as a sheet woven of heavier threads. Every sheet should be 108 inches long and wide enough to tuck in well at the sides.

Miss Taylor also demonstrated her candle wick bedspread, and many of the members will add a candle wick spread to complete their goal. During the business session, Mrs. Server presided and appointed a committee composed of Mesdames Sego, Hamilton, and Miss Server to have charge of a 5 minute recreation program in all future meetings. A sick committee, Mesdames Clark, Gates, Roberson, was also appointed. The secretary, Mrs. Robinson, reported that $50.13 was received from the sale of refreshments at the ball tourney.

Our next meeting will be May 7th with Mrs. Geo. Best. Refreshments of cake and iced punch was served to 15 members, 5 visitors and Miss Taylor.

They moved their herd of registered Hereford cattle, headed by Sunset Ru-

SARAH ANN'S COOKING CLASS

Eggs are one of our finest foods for growing bodies and one of our best dietary protections for adult health. It is quite important that children enjoy them as they run a close second to milk. Because of their high protein content, eggs must be considered as a substitute for meat. When fresh and properly prepared they make a very excellent substitute.

Eggs in Nest
Place a thin slice of tomato in buttered individual ramkins. Make a hollow in center of nest and add unbroken egg yolk. Bake in a slow oven.

Bacon and Eggs
Broil 6 slices of bacon in a skillet, turning frequently, until evenly browned. Set skillet off the heat. Remove bacon and drain on a paper napkin, place in a circle on a hot platter. Break each of 6 eggs into a saucer and slip each one carefully into the hot, but not smoking fat. Cover closely and allow to stand 4 minutes. Remove lid and drop into the bacon fat 1 teaspoon of cold water. Cover quickly and the steam will cause a white film to form at once over the top of the eggs. With a pancake turner remove the firm but tender eggs from the skillet to the center of the hot platter. Serve at once.

Egg-Olive Sandwich
Chop 6 hard boiled eggs. Add 1 cup chopped stuffed olives. Mix with 1-3 cup of mayonnaise. Then spread thickly between slices of buttered bread.

Egg Benedictine
Split and toast muffins. Saute circular pieces of cold boiled ham. Place ham on the toasted muffin halves. Place a poached egg on top of each. Cover with hollandaise sauce.

Tomatoes Filled With
Select round, medium sized tomatoes. Peel, then cut out the core. Season inside with salt and pepper, turn upside down. Hard boil the same amount of eggs, chill and chop fine. Add 1/2 cup of mayonnaise, 1/2 cup of diced chicken or turkey, 1/2 cup of diced celery, 1/2 cup of diced onion, 1/2 cup of diced tomato, 1/2 cup of diced carrot, 1/2 cup of diced mushroom, 1/2 cup of diced green pepper, 1/2 cup of diced cucumber, 1/2 cup of diced radish, 1/2 cup of diced cauliflower, 1/2 cup of diced broccoli, 1/2 cup of diced cauliflower, 1/2 cup of diced broccoli.
