Haskell Hotel Manager's Dad Some Fisherman

Here's a story about a fish—and what a fish, with L. F. Roberts, 83, father of S. D. Roberts, manager of the Tonkawa Hotel here, as the fisherman. The story appeared in the Stephenville Empire-Tribune, is reprinted in toto below:

L. F. Roberts, known in Stephenville as "Uncle Leonard", qualified himself to become a member of the expert's club in fishing circles when he landed a forty-two pound yellow cat at the Stephenville club lake.

When asked about his tactics, Uncle Leonard slowly remarked that he "just placed a little bait on a little hook and casually pitched it into the water, and of course, as I always do, I expectorated another little bit on the bait, but it was quite simple."

After the catch of Mr. Roberts, the probabilities are that fishing stock in the club lake will take a jump, as heretofore most of the anglers in that vicinity had contented themselves with bass and crappie.

It is believed that this is the largest fish caught in the Stephenville area in several years.

WIFE OF HASKELL DOCTOR SUCCEUMS

Mrs. Temple W. Williams
Buried At Wichita Falls
Tuesday Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. Temple W. Williams, 26, wife of Dr. Williams of this city, were held Tuesday afternoon at Wichita Falls from the First Christian church, with Dr. H. T. Wood pastor, officiating. Burial was made in the Rosemont cemetery. Mrs. Williams passed away late Sunday afternoon in an Abilene hospital.

Mrs. Williams, formerly Miss Dorothy Coleman of Wichita Falls, was stricken at her home here late Saturday night. The body was brought here in a Kinney ambulance Sunday night, from where it was forwarded to Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Coleman of 3000 Tenth street, Wichita Falls, was a graduate of the Wichita Falls high school and the Gulf Park college for women at Gulfport, Miss. She was married to Dr. Temple W. Williams of Wichita Falls in 1931. Dr. Williams came to Wichita Falls from the Parkland hospital of Dallas in 1929 and was associated with the Wichita Falls clinic hospital.

Dr. Williams was also associated with the Wichita Falls State hospital and later practiced in Seminole, Okla., but returned to the State Hospital staff at Wichita Falls prior to moving to Haskell a year ago.

Mrs. Williams was taken to Abilene Saturday night after being stricken with a severe headache. Her parents were at their 66 ranch near Scotland when notified of their daughter's illness. Mrs. Coleman immediately drove to this city to care for Temple W. Williams, Jr., 4½-month-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Williams, while his mother was in the hospital.

Members of the family regarded the operation as minor and the unexpected death came as a distinct shock. Friends of Mrs. Williams talked with her Friday and found her feeling fine and in good spirits. Mrs. Williams, a recognized sportswoman and talented equestrienne, represented Haskell at the annual cowboy rodeo and reunion in Stamford last July 4. A fall from her horse injured her prior to that time, but the accident caused no ill effects it was thought.

An operation for abdominal trouble was intended, but her condition was too weak. Relatives were notified that her condition was serious at 6 o'clock. Mrs. Williams died at 6:45 p. m. Attending physicians said the patient was too weak to undergo the operation.

Survivors are the husband, son and parents; three brothers, W. M. Jr., Joe and Ted Coleman, all of Wichita Falls; two sisters, Mrs. L. E. McConnell and Mrs. D. O. McNeely, both of Wichita Falls.

Wheat Loans Extended

Time limit for wheat loans have been extended to October 15th, according to Reynolds Wilson of the county agent's office. Those who wish to secure a government loan for the planting of wheat, barley or rye may still do so until Oct. 15.

BEER PLACED ON TRIAL AT SPECIAL ELECTION SATURDAY

Voters of Justice Precinct No. 4 Will Decide Fate of 3.2 Beverage

STAMFORD AROUSED

Most of Beer Dispensaries Located Near City Limit of Neighboring Place

"The Eyes of Haskell County" will literally be upon the voters of Justice Precinct 4 Saturday Sept. 15, when, in a special election, they will decide whether the sales of "legal beer" may continue unhampered.

Only residents of that particular justice precinct will be allowed to vote whether thirsty residents of Haskell and other communities can still imbibe the 3.2 beverage, contrary to what many voters of Commissioner's Precinct 4 have thought.

Pressure in the form of publicity and the spoken word is already being broadcast by parties not listed as voters and the battle lines are expected to be drawn more sharply as the time for the election approaches.

While legal beer is not sold within six miles of Haskell, Stamford has not been so unfortunate, or fortunate according to the way you may look at it. Justice precinct 4 in Haskell county goes to the city limits of the neighboring city and most of the beer establishments are located on the main highways, which has caused many residents of Stamford to help dry voters in Haskell county wage the battle for the prohibition of 3.2 beer sales.

County Teachers To Hold Meeting

For the purpose of organizing the inter-scholastic association, and the appointment of committees for the various school activities, a meeting has been scheduled at Haskell in early October to which all teachers and school-board members have been invited.

No date has been set. Miss Minnie Ellis, county superintendent explained Wednesday, on account of the fact that several out of county speakers will be brought here, and the arrangements must be outlined so that no other dates to which those speakers may have will conflict with the Haskell meeting.

Tentative plans call for the second assistant-state superintendent and the deputy state-supervisor of this district to be present.

The Centennial Board, made the announcement Sunday in Austin after giving lengthy consideration to bids of Houston, San Antonio and Dallas. Along with the major exposition, other celebrations will be held over the state at points of historical interest, such as Brenham, Houston, Galveston, San Antonio, Goliad, Gonzales, Huntsville and other cities. SUM OF $5,477 TO HASKELL TUITION

At Request of Miss Minnie Ellis, State Allows An Added Amount Here

The sum of $5,477 will be received by Haskell county during the coming school term as tuition for rural pupils on high school education, through the efforts of Miss Minnie Ellis, county superintendent, instead of the $3,388 which the state department had first intimated would be this county's allotment.

Haskell county first asked for $1,131 but the state department ruled that of this amount $746 would have to be returned.

Feeling that Haskell county needed the sum first asked for, and more, Miss Ellis left Wednesday morning for Austin, where on Thursday she went over every phase of the county's needs with department heads, the results of which this county was granted an additional amount. Many items which appeared as unnecessary were explained in detail by Miss Ellis, and state officials readily agreed that Haskell county was entitled to more money for tuition purposes as pointed out by the county superintendent.

First prize in each class was $7.50 and second prize was $5.00. Grand prize consisted of $5.00 in nursery stock. C. D. Grissom was named winner of the grand prize and the first prize for home owners, with yards exceeding seventy feet, while F. L. Daugherty was designated second place winner in the same classification.

Other prize winners were: Paul Keunstler, first, and Clyde Grissom, second, in the class for home owners with yards less than seventy feet. Geo. V. Wimbish, first, and J. D. Montgomery, second, for those not owning homes.

Judging for the last inspection was done by Mrs. E. Q. Warner, Mrs. S. M. Clounts and Mrs. A. B. Reese, all of Knox City.

The contest was inaugurated during the spring by members of the Magazine Club, and most of the prize money was donated by the Service Club, a business men's club, Conner Nursery and Floral Co., of Haskell, were donors of the grand prize.

Mrs. Mabel Blackwell of the Rose community was carried to the Stamford Sanitarium Sunday in a Kinney ambulance. Mrs. Blackwell will remain for several days treatment.

Bobbie Odell was in Abilene Sunday and was accompanied home by Mrs. Odell and young son.

CATTLE BUYING HERE STOPPED WEDNESDAY

Early Planting of Garden Urged

Early garden planting by Mrs. B. M. Bunkley of the Rockdale home demonstration club, not only enabled her to reap full benefit from a small amount of moisture, but also provided as much canned foods as in former years.

"By planting early I proved to my own satisfaction that it pays in dollars and cents to do so," Mrs. Bunkley stated to a group of other interested Rockdale club members Monday.

"I cannot just as much food as I had ever done before, even only one-fourth acre of ground was cultivated, which shows that practically anyone in Haskell county can realize benefits even though a dry season is experienced."

Estimated in terms of dollars and cents, $91.60 has been the result of this cultivated 1-4 acre plot in a garden. The equivalent to the garden acreage in cotton would be approximately $6.50. According to the season's community production only 50 pounds of cotton could have been produced at 13c per pound. The following foods have been canned: 303 quarts vegetables, $60.60; 43 quarts meat, $17.20; 48 quarts fruit, $13.80.

Swiss Chard, according to Mrs. Bunkley has stood in her garden during the entire hot, dry summer and has produced all the fresh greens the family could use and 61 cans of greens has been canned.

In addition to the canned vegetables Mrs. Bunkley has had all the family could use fresh and has divided with her neighbors. Sufficient has been given two families to can 50 quarts.

Mrs. Bunkley attributes the unusual success of this garden to the fact that the garden was planted early before the hot, dry weather came on and the garden was cared for at all times.

Final Instruction In Life-Saving To Be Given Sunday

CATTLE RUSTLERS GO MODERN, USE TRUCKS

Pocatello, Idaho.—Cattle rustling may have lost its glamor of the early days, but not commercially, it still is a thriving business. Howeder, Max D. Cohn, president of the cattlemen's association, reported improvement in the situation in southeastern Idaho this season. Modern "rustlers" use motor trucks

Local Agents Told To Buy No More Cattle—Total of $25,000 Received

All purchases of cattle from stockmen were automatically stopped Wednesday morning when a telegram requesting such action was received by the local agents, and although many cattle raisers applied yesterday, no assurance could be given when the order would be rescinded.

"You can see for yourself that the telegram stipulates that we buy no more cattle until further notice," Michael Watson pointed out to everyone inquiring Wednesday.

"We cannot tell when buying will start again, nor under what conditions, but as soon as the word comes to buy again, we'll do our best for everyone."

Approximately $25,000 has been paid to Haskell county stockmen since government cattle buying was begun, and figures show that almost 2,500 cattle have been handled, with at least 1,700 head considered fair.

NUMBER OF RURAL SCHOOLS OPENING

Midway, Hutto, New Mid and Mitchell Scheduled To Open Sept. 17

Preparations are now being made by various school boards throughout the county for the opening of most rural schools in the near future, according to Miss Minnie Ellis, county superintendent. The schools of Lone Star and Cliff have been opened for several weeks and those of New Mid, Mitchell, Hutto and Midway will open Monday, Sept. 17.

Although the drought conditions may eventually effect the school system of the county, hopes are being held that the coming terms of the various schools may duplicate those of 1933-34 when every school in the county finished in good shape financially for the first time in many years.

Prominent Rancher Named At Special Meeting of Fair Committee Here

PLANS FOR FAIR

Haskell Celebration Will Be Held October 15-20; Tidwell Shows Booked

Dimmitt Hughes, prominent Haskell county ranchman, was named as president of the Central West Texas Fair Association, which will be held here (October 15-20), to succeed Leo Southern, who has since moved from Haskell, at a meeting of the fair committee here Thursday.

Other committee heads selected at the meeting Thursday were: Roy Sanders, parade; H. K. Henry, exhibits; and Clay Smith, catalog.

Other committees are as follows: R. H. Maxwell, director of agricultural exhibits; Calvin Erickson, individual farm exhibits; Miss Johanne Reed, home demonstration exhibits; Mrs. Clay Smith, culinary exhibits; Mrs. Nina Young, textile exhibits; Mrs. W. P. Trice, floral exhibits; Rev. W. P. Hardegree, art exhibits; Mrs. Bert Welsh, curio exhibits.

Dimmitt Hughes, director of livestock; Bill Woodson, dairy cattle; Earl Atchison, dual-purpose cattle; Eugene Frierson, hogs; Jess Josselet, sheep; Rev. H. R. Whately, poultry; Rice Alvis, horses and mules.

Committee heads for community exhibits and for beef cattle will be chosen in a few days.

Tentative plans for the holding of the fair were also made, and although the condition of this section, which has suffered from drought, will be taken into consideration and economy stressed in every particular, the fair committee decided definitely that the celebration as a whole would be made to equal, and in some cases exceed, the Haskell County Fair of 1933.

There will be no general farm exhibit this year, but all plans will call for individual and community exhibits, with a score card calling for from fifteen to twenty exhibits, which will be filled out for the different products.

The premium list will be ready in a few days. No definite plans were made for horse racing during the fair, as bids have been made the local race committee for the rights from well-known race track people, who are desirous of securing control of the Haskell track.

The T. J. Tidwell Carnival company will again appear here during the fair.

The carnival equipment has only recently been completely repainted and refitted with all new canvas and presents a very attractive appearance, so Tidwell has informed the local fair committee. The popular carnival owner has striven to modernize the carnival company for the general public with plenty of lights, music and dancing; and a good amusement for all who enter the show grounds. The Tidwell "Midway" is said to be the greatest spectacle of its kind to ever be offered by a carnival company.

Grandson of Local Citizen Is Burned By Scalding Water

Scalded from neck to waist, Gene Watson Curry, baby son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Curry of Abilene, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Mike B. Watson of Haskell, is in a serious condition as the result of burns sustained Friday morning when he tipped over a bucket of boiling water from an electric stove in the Curry Printing office at Abilene.

The fourteen-months old baby was also burned about the face and on his right hand, but not severely. The accident occurred as the baby drug the stove cord against the bucket containing the half-gallon of water.

Mr. Curry, seeing the child's accident, rushed to catch the bucket as it tilted over, but was unable to reach him in time to avert the injury.

Carried to Abilene Hospital

Mrs. John Hamilton of the Foster community was carried to an Abilene hospital in a Kinney ambulance Thursday evening, where doctors expect that her condition will require an operation.

Returns From Hospital

Mrs. Oran Howard of Weibert, who has been confined in the Stamford Sanitarium for several days, was returned to her home Wednesday in a Kinney ambulance, much improved in health.

There is an open path to education by the process of purposeful reading. The problem of education is ancient and everlasting. The methods of instruction undergo change year by year. Yet through all the ages, from the time of the first printing, the essential power of the written word to uplift the mind of man has been patent. There is no wealth of learning which one may not approach through the printed page.

Christian Endeavor Members Enjoy Treasure Hunt

The Christian Endeavor of the First Presbyterian Church ventured forth on a treasure hunt Wednesday evening September 12. Just at the time darkness began the act of mantling old mother earth, a large group with food supplies, flashlights, and other weapons, took a daring chance in exploring regions of abundance. To the surprise of several, it was a more difficult task than they thought. After a long treading hunt, most of the members were able to encounter many valuable things. But as most of the troopers had no intentions of keeping house any ways soon, their collections were of very little value to them. However, each one enjoyed the adventure much, as it proved to be something different. When the search ended everybody seemed to be exhausted with thirst and hunger. So what more could the party of adventurers enjoy, than a good old picnic lunch and lemonade. Each expressed his sentiments as having a good time and bade farewell for home.

Mrs. W. B. Riley and son R. T. Mrs. Ray Hayes and children after spending the summer here, have returned to Miami, Arizona.

Methodist Missionary Society.

On Monday Sept. 10th the Methodist women met for the first lesson in our Mission Study. A good and enthusiastic crowd was present.

The meeting was opened by singing "I Love To Tell The Story." Mrs. Sowell brought the devotional, using as her scripture the 37th Psalm. In her comments was brought out the interesting information that the 5th verse "Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him; and He shall bring it to pass" was the favorite scripture of David Livingston, the great explorer and missionary.

The Scripture reading was followed with a prayer.

Mrs. Wallace Cox, who is superintendent of Mission Study, read as a prelude to the 1st chapter of the book "Eastern Women Today and Tomorrow," the first verse of that great Missionary Hymn beginning "In Christ there is no East or West; In Him no South or North, but one great fellowship of love, throughout the whole wide earth."

The first chapter dealt with the "Romance of the Social Change" as taught by Mrs. Cox this chapter was very interesting, telling as it did, of the many changes for the best, that has come into the lives of the women and girls of the far East.

Mrs. Hugh Smith taught the 2nd chapter. This chapter was also handled in a very able manner, and we learned of the problems of the "New Freedom."

The Director and the President urge the ladies to be present, for these lessons as the book promises to be one of the most interesting that has ever been studied by this Society. The program being ended, we were dismissed with a prayer by Mrs. Ethel Irby. We meet as usual on next Monday afternoon at 3 P. M.

Baptist Girls Entertain Girls of Other Churches.

On Monday evening of last week the young ladies of the First Baptist Church entertained those of the other denominations in the basement of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. A. J. Brooks, who was director of the social, first gave a brief speech on "Youth." Miss Ann Taylor in a unique manner introduced the other numbers on the program. Readings were given by Miss Katherine Rike and Miss Doris Cassie. Miss Inez Meeker gave piano selections. A meek violin duet was given by Miss Wilda Phippen and Miss Lily Faye Stoker. Following the program the entire group sang songs and played games.

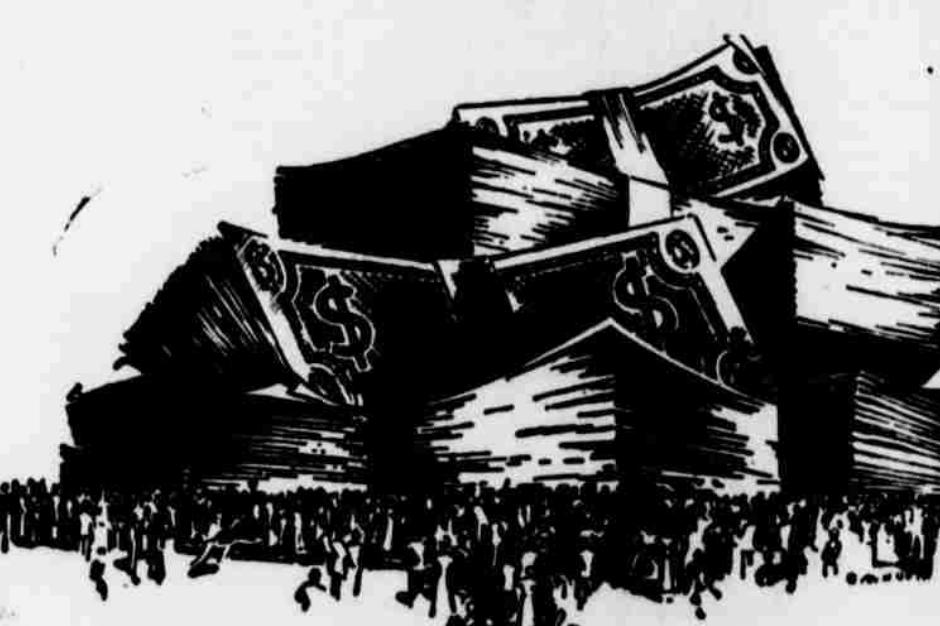

It was decided that the social should be made a monthly affair.

175 MILLION DOLLARS Paid to Texas People

THE LEGAL RESERVE life insurance companies of Texas have paid to Texas people $175,000,000.00 in cash . . . as death claims, surrender values, endowments and annuities. The amount so paid out increases each year. Such payments in 1933 amounted to $20,000,000.00.

These Texas companies make it easy and convenient for the people of Texas to practice thrift and thereby provide for their own future needs. That the people of Texas appreciate this service is evidenced by the fact that 1,200,000 are policyholders, owning insurance in the amount of $1,150,000,000.00.

Texas legal reserve life insurance companies have assets of $184,000,000.00 so invested as to safeguard the interests of policyholders as well as to contribute largely to the progress of Texas.

When you buy life insurance in a Texas legal reserve company you become a participant in the program to make Texas a better state in which to live and make a living.

Simple Menus May Be Used to Serve Intimate Friends

DENTON, Texas.—Over the tea-party sociability is a most delightful theme for bringing a group of people together. A group of four to a dozen intimate friends can be invited most informally. Serving a simple menu does not involve the use of costly materials nor the execution of time-consuming processes. Simplicity and merriment do not depend on these.

Menus For Informal Teas

1. Olive nut sandwiches, sponge cake, tea sugar, lemons, mints. 2. Cheese sandwiches, nut bread sandwiches, bonbons, tea or coffee. The dining room table is attractively arranged with a simple floral center. The tea service is on a tray at one end of the table. Plates and cups are placed near the tea service. Bonbons, sugar and lemons are placed next. The sandwiches may be at the opposite side the tea service. The opposite side the sponge cake, mints, and lastly the napkins are placed, thus making a well-balanced arrangement.

The service should be such as is least difficult for the hostess. An intimate friend of the hostess or a hostess herself is seated to pour the tea. Each guest goes to the table, receives a plate with a cup of tea on it. She then takes a bonbon, helps herself to everything of the table, takes a napkin, and then forms a congenial group to visit. The partaking of refreshments is then through the guests may discuss the dishes by placing them on the table, or the hostess and a guest may take them from the table.

Olive Nut Sandwiches

One-half cup mayonnaise, 1-2 cup chopped nuts, 1-2 cup chopped raisins, 2 tablespoons pimento, additional seasonings to taste. Use bread of close texture and which is twenty-four hours old. Slice thinly. Cut the sandwiches and cut into desired shape and size. Pack into covered container to remain until ready for serving.

Sponge Drops

Two egg yolks, 3 whites, 1-3 cup powdered sugar, 1-3 cup flour, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon vanilla. Beat the egg yolks very stiff, add one part of the sugar. Beat the whites very stiff and the remainder of the sugar. Pour the two mixtures together and add the vanilla but do not beat. Fold in the flour and salt thoroughly. Drop from teaspoon into round masses. Bake in a moderate oven six to eight minutes. Insert the pan immediately upon taking from the oven. Stick two together with a paste of powdered sugar and liquid spread on the flat sides. The the more elaborate tea for the larger group more elaborate menus are used.

Date Bars

One-half cup sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 egg, 1-4 cup milk, 3-4 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup chopped dates, 1-2 cup milk. Mix as a cake batter. Spread one third inch thick in a tin. Bake in a moderate oven. Cut into strips 1x3 inches while hot and roll immediately in powdered sugar.

Nut Bread

One cup sugar, 2 cups graham flour, 2 cups white flour, 1 cup nuts, 1-2 cup sour cream, 2 cups sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon salt. Mix the dry ingredients thoroughly, add the liquids to egg and combine the mixtures. Bake in a moderate oven. This should be made the day before serving.

Biscuits "Easy" To Make—If You Follow "On Thru"

DENTON, Texas.—The ability of a person as a cook is very often judged by the biscuits she makes. Hence it is important for every cook to learn to make good biscuits. As a matter of fact they are really quite easy to make. If the recipe is followed carefully and measurements are made accurately, only a little experience is required to produce excellent ones. The most common mistake in making biscuits is probably the method and degree of mixing. While ingredients must be mixed thoroughly to get a smooth texture, over kneading will cause a loss of some of the lightness.

Biscuits and their variations may be used in the following menus:

Breakfast: Stewed figs, cream of wheat, top milk, poached egg, cinnamon rolls, honey, coffee.

Luncheon: Scalloped potatoes with cheese, graham bread, stewed apricots, cocoa.

Dinner: Swiss steak with gravy, baked potatoes, mashed turnips, baking powder biscuits, cranberry jelly, bread custard pudding.

Breakfast: Grapefruit, shredded wheat, biscuit, top milk, scrambled eggs, bacon, soda biscuits, blackberry jam, coffee.

Luncheon: Baked beans, Parker House rolls, plum preserves, fruit salad, milk.

Dinner: Tomato soup, saltines, roast veal, gravy, boiled potatoes, creamed peas, lettuce salad, clover leaf rolls, peach tapioca.

Baking Powder Biscuits
2 cups white flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 tablespoons fat, 3/4 to one cup milk, 1 teaspoon salt. Sift dry ingredients, rub in fat with finger tips or cut in two with knives. Add liquid and mix to a soft dough. Place on softly floured board. Knead. Roll into shape and cut with a biscuit cutter. Bake 15 minutes in a hot oven. (450 F.)

Soda Biscuits
Use one-half teaspoon soda instead of the baking powder and sour milk instead of sweet.

Cinnamon Rolls
Roll biscuit dough to one-fourth inch thickness; spread with melted butter and then a layer of cinnamon and sugar mixture. Raisins may be added if desired. Roll the dough as a jelly roll and cut off one-half inch slices. Place these cut surfaces down on a baking pan; sprinkle some of the cinnamon and sugar mixture top of each roll; allow to stand 10 minutes, and bake in a hot oven (450 F.) for 12 minutes.

Parker House Rolls
Roll biscuit dough to one-fourth inch thickness; brush with melted butter, cut with large biscuit cutter and fold each round over, pressing the edges together. Place close together in pan, brush tops with melted butter, allow to stand in warm place 15 minutes, and bake in hot oven (450 F.) for 15 minutes.

Clover Leaf Rolls
Roll bits of dough between the hands to form small balls. Place three of these in each section of muffin tins and brush with butter. Allow to stand one-half hour, and bake in hot oven (450 F.) for 12 minutes.

First Aids Given For Housekeeping

When grinding dry bread, cake or crackers for crumbs, fasten a clean paper bag over the mouth of the grinder with a rubber band, and none of the crumbs will be lost.

Hold a piece of waxed paper over a knife when cutting cheese if you want to cut very thin slices without breaking them.

When measuring molasses for baking, first rub the measuring cup with shortening, then the molasses will run out smoothly and insure even measuring.

If the recipe calls for a serving of whipped cream and there is no cream but there are bananas and eggs in the kitchen try this substitute. Whip the whites of two eggs until almost stiff then add two tablespoons of mashed banana, and continue whipping until the mixture is smooth; a heavy delicious topping for any dessert.

Try cooking the peas without hulling them; the hulls break open and loose while boiling, rise to the top and can be skimmed off. The peas have better color and flavor this way.

Some drink their way to health, others to death.

Dengue Fever Is Here, Says Brown

AUSTIN, Texas.—This is the season for dengue fever, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. Several cases of this disease have been reported to date, and no doubt will continue to increase until the first frost. In the past fifty years Texas has experienced three epidemics of dengue fever. The last occurring in 1922.

Dengue is characterized by sudden onset, headache and pain in the back and limbs, especially the joints. The fever is of short duration but convalescence is slow. While causing great discomfort the disease is seldom fatal. However, the loss of time involved is a great economic loss. One attack is generally followed by immunity for a few years.

Dengue fever is caused by the bite of the same mosquito that transmits yellow fever. Those that have not studied mosquitoes are unable to distinguish the different species. Even though a mosquito is incapable of causing diseases such as dengue or malaria, they are very much of a nuisance.

To prevent dengue fever and other diseases transmitted by mosquitoes, the places where they propagate should be eliminated. All standing water should be drained or oiled, rain barrels screened, old cans or anything that will hold water should be destroyed. Houses should be screened with sixteen mesh screen. Community wide mosquito campaigns will greatly aid in reducing this disease and add much to the comfort of the citizens.

Donley Prize Contest To Be Held In October

Elimination contests are to be held at Lubbock in October to determine the music students who shall represent the Nineteenth District in the Dealey Prize Contest finals to be conducted when the Texas Music Teachers' Association meets in annual session November 30-December 1 in Lubbock, according to Miss Carrie Bier, of Plainview who is in charge of elimination contests in this district.

Miss Bier will be assisted by Guy Woods of the Wayland College Music Department. Miss Bier states that she will soon have definite information as to the date in October when the preliminary contest will be held in Lubbock to determine the two winners to represent each classification in behalf of the South Plains Music Teachers Association.

In order to make the competition available to every eligible young musician the state has been divided into twenty-one districts corresponding to the newly reapportioned congressional districts.

Counties in District 19 are: Bailey, Lamb, Floyd, Hale, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Andrews, Martin, Howard and Mitchell.

The contest numbers are as follows:
Piano—"In the Night" (Schuman) and one other number of the grade of difficulty of a Chopin or Liszt Etude or a movement from a standard sonata.
Violin—"Zigeuneweisen" (Sarasate) and a number of the contestant's choice.

Voice, female—"O De Mio Voce Ardor" (Gluck). Published by G. Schirmer. Also one number of the contestant's choice.

Voice, male—"Where'er You Walk" from "Semele" (Handel). Published by G. Schirmer. Also one number of the contestant's choice.

Alfalfa Crop Success

DECATUR.—Alfalfa can be grown in this section of Texas as proven by the 10-acre field of third year alfalfa belonging to Clarence Admire of Chico in Wise county. In 1933, the second year for the alfalfa, 65 to 75 hogs, two to four work animals, and three to four milk cows were kept on the alfalfa throughout the twelve months. In addition to the grazing, Mr. Admire harvested 1,050 bales of good quality hay.

He is now preparing a 20-acre field for fall seeding to alfalfa. His experience this year with it as the larger part of the feed for work stock has been very satisfactory, showing the stock in better condition on this ration than at any time in the past. His plan also calls for sufficient alfalfa to be grown to supply most of the feed of the dairy cows milked on the farm.

Love Note Ordered Bread

Waterbury, Conn.—Nick DeCarolis, charging his wife carried on a love affair with a baker, produced a note in court to substantiate his accusation. The note, written in Italian, turned out to be an order for a loaf of bread.

Very Much Improved After Taking Cardui

"I have suffered a great deal from cramping," writes Mrs. W. A. Sewell, Sr., of Waco, Texas. "I would chill and have to go to bed for about three days at a time. I would have a dull, tired, sleepy feeling. A friend told me to try Cardui, thinking it would help me—and it did. I am very much improved and do not spend the time in bed. I certainly can recommend Cardui to other sufferers."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Texans Wedded For Sixty-Nine Years

Golden wedding celebrations are rather rare, but Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Keys of Lario, (Haskell county) Texas, have honored that venerable mark by 19 years. They celebrated their 69th wedding anniversary recently and are proud that they hold the state record for length of wedded life. Mr. Keys is 88; Mrs. Keys 84. (Texas News Photos.)

Peach Twig Still Used In Locating Water Well Sites

WEATHERFORD, Okla.—Use of the forked peach twig as a water locating instrument has regained its popularity in this drought-ridden section of Oklahoma.

For more than two years the rainfall has been below normal and as a result many wells have gone dry. In locating new wells, a surprising number of old settlers are using the peach twigs.

The Rev. J. M. Friesen, who settled near Weatherford shortly after the opening and who now owns five quarter-section farms, believes fully in the efficacy of the forked limb. All of the wells on his places were located by its use.

The twig, shaped like a "nigger-shooter" is carried along by a walking man gripping its forks. Whenever the carrier passes over an underground channel of water the tip of the stick dips downward of its own volition, according to Rev. Friesen.

If the water is far down the pull is feeble, if close to the surface it is strong. Users of the twig assert that if the water is very close to the surface, the stick may be wrenched from its carrier's hands and slammed to the ground.

Rev. Friesen also says he has used successfully a drinking glass and lead attached to a piece of string to avoid underground rock layers. The lead is suspended in the glass and whenever rock appears beneath the soil the lead will start swinging. At each swing it will tap the side of the glass. The number of taps will record the number of feet down to the rock, Friesen says.

Once the minister used the glass and lead to help his brother-in-law locate a good place for a cistern. Over one spot the lead tapped 15 times and the site was chosen. Rock was struck, however, at four feet. The lead was proved right, when it was discovered that the rock was only a large lump and the lead had been held a few inches beyond the digging spot, where the rock was 15 feet down.

BLACK CAT FOUND IN BOX WITH MAIL

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. — Postmen aren't surprised when they find cigarette stubs, unstamped letters, and pennies in corner mail boxes, but a black cat—that's different.

Louis Meyers and William Angliss opened a bulky box to find a tabby cat contentedly purring atop a mass of packages. Having no forwarding address she was turned loose and appeared reluctant to leave such comfortable quarters.

Caught Big Trout

LOGAN, Utah. — Web Hunter thought he'd tied onto the original Jonah whale recently while angling near here. The fish battled for two minutes. When landed it turned out to be a rainbow trout, weighing 6 1/2 pounds. It measured 25 inches from snout to tail and was 15 inches in circumference.

Tiny Radio Set Can Receive Broadcasts

Boston, Mass.—Kufus P. Tamm listens in on the radio with a receiving set that's only 16 1/2 inches square.

He and Francis Whittmore, friend, made a bet as to who could produce the tiniest set. Whittmore's more measured 1.32nd of an inch square.

Both men did their work with magnifying glasses.

She Ought To Know

Bill was pugnacious but he did live long. A few days after funeral his widow was hanging sively over her front gate. A neighbor came along.

"Well, poor Bill," she began, "he's hittin' the harp with the harp."

"Not he," said the widow, "likely he'll be hittin' the harp with the harp."

Millions of Visitors Will Leave Millions of Dollars in Texas

Texas will show their State! Visitors will show their interest, admiration, respect for its history and confidence in its future. Some will become citizens, others will leave with a heart full of love for Texas, and admiration for its citizenship.

Statistics show that the influx of visitors alone warrant the statement that the project will show a profit. It is expected that 20,000,000 outside visitors will be attracted to Texas. A conservative estimate of their expenditures is $640,000,000. Probably $25,000,000 in gasoline tax will be collected. Thus the State will receive a very large margin of profit on whatever investment is made in the Centennial.

Interest yourself in this coming celebration. From a patriotic standpoint your interest is challenged, and from the standpoint of personal interest you are now called upon to do your part.

Let's Talk About Clothes For You

By a "Young Modern"

DENTON, Texas.—Did you ever watch an artist chipping away at a cake of soap? Smoothing off the rough edges, chopping away here, rounding out there, and all of a sudden an exquisite little statue shows up. Well, that's exactly what happens when you go to select your hats!

A tilt over the right eye lends a certain note of sophistication to your entire being while one of those "off the face" hats that provide so popular this summer seem to accentuate the girlishness and bursting enthusiasm of your individual personality. Variety is the spice of personalities and every hat you try on expresses a different one.

Students at Texas State College for Women (CIA) believe that the "truly smart" always start off with a new hat that reflects the fashion mode. It doesn't seem to matter if one has to build her wardrobe from last season's clothes, because the hat must be new and up to date. And although advance news on fashions, as on anything else is apt to be upset any minute, there are certain hat trends for which to watch.

Crowns of street and sport felts deeper in the back, but still shallow at the front seem to vie for first place with the wider brimmed hats turned up at one eye. The classic small felt with a pointed or boxy crown is an addition to the fall mode. Then the berets! Whether stiff, formal or crushed like a pancake on the side of the head, these "little reflectors of personality" will captivate you as will the new clips, feathers, bands and bows used so discreetly as trimming.

Let's give the hats as well as ourselves a break! Don't go "sophisticated" in hats when your entire ensemble reflects girlish enthusiasm. Use discretion!

No Loss of Cotton Markets Visioned In AAA Cotton Plan

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 12.—The South is not about to lose its cotton markets to foreign countries because of the Bankhead Act and the cotton adjustment program, according to reliable facts gathered by the United States Department of Agriculture. Material furnished by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration clearly shows that foreign countries have increased cotton production to the limit for years. A careful study of each of America's cotton growing competitors indicates that the possibility of further increases are very unlikely in the near future.

If American cotton prices were to go to very high levels and remain there for 15 or 20 years foreign cotton production would increase, it is believed. As matters now stand, America has a large available surplus of cotton to more than satisfy all foreign markets. American cotton exports for the two years 1931-32 and 1932-33 exceeded all exports for the last 13 years except for one year. The exports for the cotton year recently ended are expected to be nearly as high as those of the years just preceding. It has been said that every time we reduce acreage foreign countries increase their cotton acreage" one authority says. "Figures do not bear this out. The whole cotton world seems to move more or less together in increasing or decreasing acreage. It is said that last year we plowed up 10 million acres of cotton and foreign countries promptly increased their cotton 4 million acres. The foreign increase was planted before the American plow-up. Cotton planting dates are about the same all over the world. America increased plantings 4 million acres in 1933 and so did the rest of the world."

Foreign cotton production steadily increased from 1890 to 1933. Some people are alarmed about this because they think this increase will continue indefinitely. As a matter of fact, foreign countries have nearly reached their limit of profitable cotton production. It will take very high prices over a long period of years to bring forth much more competition. The Agricultural Adjustment cotton program merely aims at preventing towering surpluses that bring poverty to the South. It plans always to have plenty of cotton to sell at home and abroad. A reasonable American price is too low to encourage unlimited foreign production. It should always be kept in mind that the Agricultural Adjustment Administration cotton program does not aim at permanent reduction. It does propose to help farmers to cooperate to adjust the supply of cotton to effective demand. For the first time in history the Southern farmer and business man has the opportunity to work out a long-time plan that will avoid most of the tail spins in cotton price which have periodically depressed the South for 30 years. The plan has not surrendered to foreign markets and is not likely to do so. In succeeding articles facts about cotton growing conditions in India, Egypt, Russia, China and Brazil will be presented. The first four countries furnish nearly 85 per cent of our foreign competition, and Brazil is the one country which might give real competition in the future. When these are studied there will be less alarm about the foreign situation.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD JUST HAP- PENED TO BE ON HAND

It was a happy coincidence that launched Shirley Temple on the road to success as a motion picture star. This is the way it happened: Jay Gorney, composer of the music for "Stand Up and Cheer!" saw her perform in a preview of one of the Baby Burlesk comedies at a suburban Los Angeles theatre one night while the studio was frantically searching for a talented youngster of Shirley's type. Coming out of the theatre, he saw the little girl and her mother in the lobby and suggested to them that they visit Fox Film. Shirley went to Movietone City—and was such a sensation that Winfield Sheehan signed her to a contract.

She subsequently appeared with Janet Gaynor in "Change of Heart" and with Adolphe Menjou in "Little Miss Marker." And now she is playing the title role in "Baby, Take a Bow," coming to the Texas Theatre next week.

Trained Hogs Obey Owner's Commands

HOLDENVILLE. — Two ordinary red Berkshire pigs that started out in life as nothing more than potential pork chops are doing something of themselves in Holdenville.

They are so far advanced that the old familiar similes "as hungry as a pig" and "as dirty as a pig" are not even applicable to them. D. E. Ashmore, Holdenville oil worker, their owner, has trained them so they can do numerous tricks as do show dogs. As a reward for their obedience they are treated to a cold shower.

Even though they're as hungry as the proverbial pig, they stand patiently in the background while Ashmore empties feed in their trough. With his permission they start eating, not daintily but at least less gluttonously.

Originally, Ashmore purchased the pigs for fattening so he could give them to the Red Cross or some needy family. Accidentally, he discovered they could be taught. The local man had trained horses and other animals before. He spent an hour a day teaching the pigs to do his bidding.

The pigs' pen is divided into several sections. Ashmore orders them to go from one "room" to another lie down and arise. They obey. In one of the sections, Ashmore has rigged up a shower.

All of the training was effected without force and with only the cold shower and occasional choice morsels of food for rewards.

School Bonds

(Continued from First Page) stances, the refunding of outstanding road bonds was undertaken as an economy policy, bonds of lower interest rates being substituted for those of higher rates. In other cases, refunding was resorted to as an emergency measure to forestall threatened default or to refinance already defaulted issues. The report of the Board of County and District Road Indebtedness on State participation and percentage of eligibility of counties and road districts' bonded indebtedness shows that on May 31, 1934, 70 Texas counties were in default on either principal or interest or both on one or more of their issues of road bonds. These default items, which aggregated $2,653,868.61, ran as low as $6.10 in interest to as high as $100,000 in principal. The fact that the State has increased the payment on its portion of the principal due on the road bonds eligible for State participation from 30 per cent to 50 per cent for the calendar year 1935, will help to wipe out some of these defaults, it is thought.

"On the basis of percentage, Texas' record is good, considering defaults throughout the country brought on by the depression. The return of confidence in Texas municipalities that are meeting their debt requirements is seen in recent market transactions that clearly evidence the recovery of the municipal bond market in this State. Bonds that could find no buyer at 5 1/2 and 6 per cent interest yields last year now find a willing market at yields of 4 to 4 1/2 per cent.

"Tax collections, both current and delinquent during the fiscal year have been encouraging. Delinquent tax payments especially have far exceeded those of previous years. This increase of tax income is attributed in part to legislation remitting penalties and interest on past due taxes if paid within a certain period, in part to the HOLC loans made available to home owners, to the aid given farmers thru cotton acreage retirement rentals and in great measure, to an increased disposition on the part of the taxpayers to meet their obligations promptly.

"The subdivisions of Texas are entering the new fiscal year in much better financial condition than for several years past. Administrative officials are endeavoring to make possible reduced tax bills through economical operations and reduced valuations and tax rates. The increased current tax collections and the unexpectedly large collections of past due taxes have not, as might be supposed, resulted in excessive tax collection estimates for the ensuing year. Nor have the governing bodies increased appropriations on the strength of the new optimistic outlook. Tentative budgets of cities and counties for the new year reflect retrenchments in almost all departments.

Why All Texans Should Celebrate Texas Centennial

(By Eliza H. Bishop, Crockett, Texas)

Remember the Alamo; for twelve days and nights Crockett, Bowie, and Travis held Santa Anna at bay. They were overwhelmed; however, but went down fighting. Their loyalty and bravery aroused the people, and Texas won her independence.

Texas is the largest state in the union, and the only state ever to be a nation. Her domain measures a quarter of a million square miles, and in that vast land nearly every part of the United States is represented. There are the plains for the Western United States; the Rio Grande Valley for Florida and California; the Panhandle for the Central United States; and East Texas Texas for the Southeastern United States.

Texas is known for her petroleum, lignite, sulphur, potash, and carbon black. Her helium gas keeps our dirigible and other large machines of the air aloft. Her cotton covers acres of ground, more than any other state. Turkeys march to market in droves, pecan orchards line highways and cover large districts and yield a half-million dollar crop. Onions are planted by the billions, and wheat is harvested by the bushels.

The Rio Grande rolls merrily past Texas dividing the two Americas. Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Amarillo, Waco, and other cities boast of skyscrapers. Austin proudly proclaims America's most impressive capitol and a state university. Texas also has the largest military encampment — Fort Sam Houston, the biggest cavalry post — Fort Bliss, and two large air schools where men daily win their wings — Brooks and Kelley Fields.

Our great state also boasts of loyal sons and daughters. Texas gave to the cause of the Civil War one of its ablest generals—Albert Sydney Johnston. She has the honor of having a great short story writer tell of her glory—O'Henry. Today she can boast of one of her brood being the vice president of the United States—John Nance Garner. Texas has had the honor of living under six flags. So why should we not think, talk, write Texas Centennial in 1936 for the glorious Texas that is?

Mrs. Gadder—I should have loved to go to Florida last winter and I would have gone except for one thing.

Mrs. Wigwag—Your husband didn't want you to, I suppose?

Mrs. Gadder—That's just the trouble. He was so anxious for me to go that I was suspicious.

The preacher's small son was being quizzed by an elderly visitor one day.

"Does your father ever preach the same sermon twice?" he was asked.

"Sure, he does," the small boy replied, "but he hollers in different places."

Customer (after the clerk had pulled down all but one of the blankets on the shelves)—I don't really want anything today. I was only looking for a friend.

Clerk—Well, madam, if you think your friend is hiding in that last blanket I'll gladly take it down.

HOOVER AND THE NEW DEAL

If you have not already read Herbert Hoover's analysis of the New Deal in the Saturday Evening Post you ought to get a copy and read it for it is a very enlightening piece of literature—enlightening because it proves conclusively what the voters suspected in 1932 when they rejected Hoover and the Republican party, that the man has no conception whatever of the enormity of the economic situation through which the nation has been passing or of ways to go about correcting it.

If Mr. Roosevelt chooses to answer Mr. Hoover's veiled criticism he might do so by simply asking: "What did you do about the depression?" As everyone knows, Mr. Hoover did absolutely nothing, and the man who is in a position to do something and does not do it is most certainly not competent to criticize anyone who does—even though some of his methods may not have been as successful as was hoped. At least President Roosevelt has had the courage to DO SOMETHING about the depression and we rather think the people greatly prefer to pin their faith to one who is willing to try, even though he may make some mistakes, rather than trust their welfare to one who is afraid to do anything because of fear that it will be the wrong thing.

Mr. Hoover cannot understand President Roosevelt's policies which recognize the need of help for the weak and distressed for Mr. Hoover is a product of the rugged individualism of the era of the survival of the fittest. He battled his way from the bottom to the top as a mining engineer and acquired a fortune, although some of his mining stock promotions were questionable, and because he needed no help in winning life's battle he doesn't see why anyone else should need a lift here and there along the way. Mr. Hoover professes fear that the liberties of the American people are being taken from them, yet he stood by and allowed over ten million people to lose their liberty to earn living. He declares that a man "must be free to earn, to spend, to save, honestly to accumulate property that may give protection in old age and to loved ones." No one will question that assertion, but we might ask what good a man's liberty to earn and save is going to do him if he hasn't a job? Doesn't it sound just a bit ridiculous for Mr. Hoover to prate about such liberties when he did nothing to see that men got jobs so they could earn, or make banks safe so that they could save safely? There isn't much point to having the liberty to save up for your old age or to give security to your loved ones if others have the liberty to mismanage the money you entrusted to their keeping and you find your savings swept away by that mismanagement after years of toil in providing a competency for yourself and family. If that is what Mr. Hoover calls liberty, then most of us will be quite willing to give it up for something more secure.

President Roosevelt may make mistakes, but it will be because he has tried to DO THINGS, and it must take a lot of gall for Mr. Hoover, who DID NOTHING, to cast himself in the role of a New Deal critic.

REGIMENTED LAUGHTER

Many American radio studios are extending the custom of inviting guests to attend the broadcasts, particularly when well-known comedians are providing the entertainment. Frequently more than 1000 people are in the audience. To the radio listener the guests become part of the show and as far as their role is concerned nothing is left to chance.

The genial announcer bids the audience welcome, tells them all to have a jolly good time, and to laugh and applaud as much as they wish. And more than that, he promises to let them know exactly when to do so.

When the star comedian gets under way and says something that the announcer thinks the audience should consider funny, an attendant holds up a placard on which is printed in large black letters "Laughter." And a spontaneous roar of delight goes out over the air. Even if some do not see anything particularly side-splitting in the comedian's "gag", their duty as guests compels them to laugh.

As the entertainment progresses and the announcer thinks it is time the visitors displayed a different kind of appreciation, his assistant holds up a card marked "Applause" and in thousands of homes tuning in on the show the comedian's popularity is registered.

So by a series of friendly "cues" and "promptings" it is hoped not only to help "put the show over" but also to make the sale of Itsey Bit Bitskits (or whatever product is being advertised) a trifle easier. Rugged individualism apparently is out for good in those radio studios where applause and laughter are regimented.—Christian Science Monitor.

READING FUN IN STORE FOR BOYS

Here's important news for the boys of America. The American Boy—Youth's Companion, the nation's quality magazine for boys, has been reduced from $2.00 a year to $1.00. The three-year rate, formerly $3.50, has been reduced to $2.00.

"For a long time we have been seeking a way to reduce the cost of The American Boy to readers," states Griffith Ogden Ellis, editor. "Recently we have effected savings that make the cut possible, and we think boys will agree that the new price is big news on the reading front. We hope boys will help us to spread the good news by telling their friends."

Along with the cut in cost, the magazine that will continue to set the pace in fiction, articles, and departments. The favorite characters of millions of boys will parade through The American Boy in new stories. Douglas Renfrew of the Royal Canadian Mounted, Hide-rack, the red and gold collie, Bone-head Jim Tierney, the detective, will give the reader many exciting hours in the months to come. William Heyliger, whose true-to-life, gripping vocational stories have won him wide acclaim from parents and librarians, as well as the hearty approval of boys, is working on new stories. Staff writers are interviewing famous coaches and athletes and world-renowned explorers, to bring boys the color and fun of sports and travel.

In short, The American Boy, under its new price, will continue to give boys a magazine that measures up to the best standards set by adult magazines. Send your subscription to The American Boy, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan. Enclose your name and address and the proper amount of money, and The American Boy will soon be headed your way, loaded with reading thrills.

Homemade Fireworks

Hearin' Things!

In the wee sma hours of the night, at the time when the chiming of a church toll out (if there were any chiming), and only star-light is present to alleviate the surrounding blackness, you are trying to woo restful sleep, but in vain. Time after time, you begin the counting of imaginary sheep, but each time the apparent vision of such animals is obscured by thoughts of other matters.

Suddenly you are brought out of the near-coma you had at last drifted into by a soul-searing screech, that seems to typify the cries of souls in torment. Against your will you listen! Blood-curdling sounds again come through the still night air and no doubt remains that all the fiends of the infernal regions are loose with their raucous laughter at the misery being suffered.

Mingled with the shrieks of the demented demons, you hear the clank of chains, which are perhaps on the persons of those unfortunates who wandered from the path of rectitude, and ever and anon also comes another noise which has the thud-like sound of blows being struck by a hammer in the hands of a snoring, slaving behemoth, begotten of all that is evil.

Pinching yourself, you try to assure yourself that you are awake, and even though only a tiny touch is necessary to convince you that you are not in the arms of Morpheus, those everlasting, nerve-deadening cries of the tormented wait through the starlit night and you feel that monsters of iniquity are, siren-like, attempting in every conceivable way to bring you also into their grasp, from which you would never escape.

On and on ring out the jeers of the hosts of the Devil. Again and again you toss this way and turn that way trying to escape, and then when you have almost inertly decided to let come what may, you hear the drip, drip, drip of water—and the unreasoning mists of forgetfulness pass from your mind and you at last realize you have been listening to the antics of a West Texas windmill.

Maybe one reason why our ship of wealth has never come in is because we have never lived near any large body of water.

How history repeats itself. Herr Hitler is now speaking of God in connection with Germany. Seems like only yesterday that another German ruler spoke of "Me und Gott!"

Not very many people in Haskell county are Texas Centennial-minded at present. Most everyone is still trying to estimate how much taxation this county will raise in the event that it rains about five inches.

RANDOMLY SPEAKING—When told that a local girl had a blind date, one Haskell man, in a sympathetic manner, asked if the poor fellow was blind in both eyes! . . . These youngsters may think they are "modern", but that young man who pulled the gag of "sickness" on a local gal the other day simply borrowed a plea which papa and mama used in the so-called good old days, and although he was seen at work by the said lassie, no hard feelings were engendered because she was wise, because it had been pulled umpteen times and more.

S. D. Roberts, of the Tonkwa Hotel handed us a copy of a North Carolina paper the other day which had a right pert display of a matter the CWA was vitally interested in, and although he requested that we reprint it, even though the word "copyright" was on it, we cannot oblige for good and sufficient reasons he is very familiar with. . . . If any reader of male persuasion is interested, he may come into this office and we'll show him the paper Roberts handed us. . . . The local athletic gymnasium (otherwise known as the volley ball ground) seems to increase membership daily, but we're not interested in volley ball and therefore will not become a member of the "club". . . . You would be surprised at the number of people who want something "funny" printed about someone else in the paper. . . . One of Haskell's young matrons was gleefully relating how many quail she had eaten recently until she happened to think about something of importance and then quickly changed the name of the bird to "dove". . . . Hubert Watson is an embryo attorney, but from the tall tales he can tell to outdo the other fellow when the Ananias Club meets, indicates he is well-fitted for the fiction trade. . . . 2-year old Eddie Duke Goetze, is the type of fellow that makes car-salesmen happy! He purchases a new "car" every Saturday night and his favorite color seems to be orchid. His "cars" seem to have numerous flats though, because Eddie is eternally taking the tires off and putting them back on. Yeah, he took his shoes off Sunday and his dad can't find 'em. . . . Home Owner Loan Plan Explained

- 1—What is the Housing Administration program?
Government aid to modernize and repair homes, stimulate building trades and heavy industries—to loosen private capital.
- 2—How will it operate?
By modernizing 16,000,000 homes and buildings now in need of repair, will give work, ad steel, lumber, hardware, cement, copper, brick, machinery and other industries. Later, through mortgages will enable private capital to make insured loans for new construction and refinancing existing mortgages.
- 3—Who is eligible for loans?
Any property owner, individual, partnership, or corporation with a regular income from salary, commissions, business or other assured source. Loans will be made largely on "character" basis without co-makers or endorsers.
- 4—How much can be borrowed?
From $100 to $2,000, depending on the income.
- 5—Where can the money be borrowed?
From any National, State, or Industrial Bank, Trust or Finance Companies approved by the Housing Administration.
- 6—What kind of property is eligible for loans?
One and two-family residences, apartment buildings, stores, office buildings, factories, warehouses and farm buildings.
- 7—What Security is Necessary?
Income for the signers of note must be five times the annual payments. Mortgages, if any, must be in good order and no past due liens. Assurance must be given that money will be used only for improvement. Good community reputation is necessary.
- 8—Is a Mortgage Necessary?
No, only the promissory note. Insurance by the government provided in the Housing Bill makes them unnecessary.
- 9—What signatures are necessary?
Only that of the property owner, and wife or husband if married, except in special cases.
- 10—How long can be taken to repay?
From one to three years. (Three to five year notes may be made with special arrangements.)
- 11—How are payments to be made?
Regular monthly (or seasonal) payments. Prepayments, and more than required payments can be made.
- 12—Where?
At the place of business with whom the loan has been made, not at any government office.
- 13—Who governs loans?
The local institution. The loans are primarily local with private capital. The government acts as a agent to protect the banks against loss.
- 14—What does this credit cost?
Interest and (or) discount may not be more than $5 per year per $100.
- 15—Can present mortgages be re-financed?

Yes. The administration expects to be ready on this phase by Oct. 1st at latest.
16—Will labor benefit?
Direct and indirect benefit to 5,000,000 wage earners is expected to be felt soon, not only in actual repair and construction, but in allied industries. The act has been hopefully called "Big Bertha of Recovery."
17—Will capital benefit?
Is expected to thaw the now frozen mortgage and real estate capital, thru government insurance against loss.

Call Born With 5 Legs
Huntington, Ind.—A calf, with 5 legs, born on the farm of Lewis W. Thomas, Union Township, is rivaling the AAA corn-hog reduction program and the war on chinch bugs for the attention of Huntington county farmers. The fifth leg is attached to the calf's body, between the two hind legs. It does not reach the ground.

Your Power Company A Service Institution

West Texas' phenomenal progress during the past decade has been equalled only by the steady expansion of its West Texas Utilities Company, for while West Texas has been carving industrial history, this company—to aid and foster that growth—has kept its facilities modern and in advance of immediate needs.

Today 2,600 miles of cardinal Transmission Lines—energized from three large, strategically located main generating stations and strengthened by many auxiliary or stand-by plants—has replaced the precarious and costly part-time "lighting" plant of yesterday. This new-day Transmission System insures an immediate supply of power sufficient to meet any development.

The program of this Company has been, and will continue to be, the rendering of increased use of service by constantly decreasing rates. Since the organization of the West Texas Utilities, the consumers have benefited by total rate REDUCTIONS amounting to MORE THAN SIXTY PER CENT—an unheard-of accomplishment in the days of isolated plants.

Electricity renders one of the most valuable services to the household. Yet it is sold at the lowest price of any item of the household budget. It represents approximately only one per cent of the workman's total expenditures. Electricity is cheap! You should use much more of it.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

Civil War Soldier Wrote History On His Commission

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—A short history of the struggles of a corporal, who saw service on the border between Missouri and Kansas during the Civil War, was uncovered here recently.

H. N. Compton, Company A, 13th Missouri Volunteer Cavalry, wrote on the back of his commission, the hardships of the 1863 campaign. The brief was addressed to his children. It read:

"When you see the burned place in this commission, it will tell you that I, N. H. Compton, was 200 miles out upon the plains without food and tobacco, and about 50 miles from the nearest tree. The snow was 12 inches deep. We found one little lead cottonwood and the fire that we built was too small to warm the bodies of the 200 or more soldiers.

"We had to take turns. When I got near the fire to thawout I almost hugged the fire. That tells the sad story of these burned papers. They were in the inside pocket of my overcoat. We had to march this 200 miles on foot, and with one cracker a day for rations, as our horses were too weak and to cold to ride them. This was in February, 1863.

"We did not have a square government meal since leaving Missouri. We did not put our boots off once in the 300 miles. Old veteran soldiers cried with cold and hunger. We were making for Fort Fletcher, Kan., about 70 miles west of Fort Riley, Kan. Some of our horses and men came close to death and we ate them. Almost all of these old soldiers have answered the last roll call. Peace be to their rest.

Signel H. N. Compton writes this and that his children may see what he has suffered while defending the cause of the great and good government of the United States.

AN EARNEST APPEAL TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT NO. 4, HASKELL COUNTY

Inasmuch as the Commissioners of Haskell County has granted the petition of a group of citizens of Precinct No. 4 for an election, which has been set for next Saturday, Sept. 15th, we desire to address this earnest appeal to our neighbors to go to the polls tomorrow and banish these objectionable beer dispensaries from our midst. We who have studied this unfortunate situation are convinced that the removal of the beer-and-liquor peddlers into the borders of Stamford has brought more known and admitted misery and crime and danger to our people than any other scourge that has ever swept across this country.

Among other disastrous results, the operation of these dens of iniquity has been the increase in crime. For example: Arrests for drunkenness have increased 500% within the last twelve months, according to official records of the Stamford police court. There have also been more arrests of lewd and drunken women during the operation of these saloons than were recorded over a period of twenty-five years prior to their opening along the borders of the city of Stamford. We state, as a matter of candid belief, that the four tragic deaths which have occurred here during this reign of moral terror are directly traceable to the influence of these flagrant indecent places.

It is still a matter of chagrin and humiliation to us that every funeral procession must pass by these largely patronized dives, and that our dead must be laid to rest within the very shadow of these houses of illrepute.

In the name of good citizenship and common decency we humbly urge our thinking neighbors to help us build a community here where none will fear to come, nor be ashamed to live. The only way we have of protecting our young girls and splendid boys from the vice attend to every patronage of these places is for you to vote Saturday, and vote to drive these breeding pens of crime vice and immorality from our midst.

Respectfully submitted—Rev. Sam Morris, Pastor First Baptist Church; Rev. R. H. Henson, Pastor St. John's Methodist Church; Rev. George S. Slover, P. E. Stamford District; Rev. John W. Wright, Pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church; Rev. W. M. Caldwell, Pastor Stamford Circuit; Rev. Robert O. Beeman, Pastor First Christian Church; Rev. H. S. Henson, Baptist Preacher.

Republicans Seek To End Democrats' Power Over House

CHICAGO, July 10.—National Republican leaders, following their eighth anniversary celebration at Jackson, Mich., settled down to the business of preparing for an intensive congressional campaign which they hope will send enough Republicans to Washington to break the Democratic two-thirds rule in the House and give them a working majority to help pave the way for a Presidential victory in 1936.

That the success of the Congressional campaign is of vital importance to the immediate future of the Republican party was stated by its national leaders as they viewed their possibilities of blocking further Democratic recovery and reform measures during the latter half of the present Presidential term.

They hope to win favor with the people by demanding that a majority of the President's appointments of administrative power and that the Government be made more representative. If they win enough seats to do this they will consider their chances for 1936 are immeasurably better.

FARMERS HARVEST RUSSIAN THISTLES

Great Bend, Kans.—A new and strange kind of harvest is under way in some parts of Kansas as a result of the drought. It is the Russian thistle harvest.

Cover for Bed Springs

HOUSTON—In order to protect her mattress from the dirt that blows up under a bed and deteriorates both ticking and cotton, Mrs. E. P. Buis, bedroom demonstrator for the Aldine Home Demonstration Club of Harris county, has made a spring cover of heavy cotton flannel which entirely encases the springs. There is a sheet of flannel which is cut up and a cover is made of the bottom with a binding to go up over the sides and top. This type of spring cover allows the springs to give without ripping the cover and takes none and washable yards of material for a double bed. Not only does the spring cover protect the mattress and prevent the springs from getting dirty but the bed itself presents a more attractive appearance.
