BAPTISTS OF COUNTY TO MEET HERE FRIDAY

All-Day Meeting of County Association Scheduled To Meet in First Baptist Church

An all-day meeting of the Haskell Baptist association has been scheduled to meet in this city Friday, October 27, with the First Baptist church as the place of the meet. The general subjects will be missions and benevolence. The morning program will have the following speakers: H. T. Dennis, Swenson; S. E. Stevenson, Munday; E. D. Dunlap, Sweetwater; J. S. Tiers, Aspermont.

A board meeting will be held at 1:15 p. m. with I. N. Alvis, as director. The Womens Missionary Society will hold a business meeting at this time also, with Mrs. C. O. Davis, of Rule, presiding. The program arranged for the afternoon will be as interesting, so leaders state, as the one scheduled for the morning. H. F. Gage, Munday; Mrs. D. Scott, Haskell; E. M. Collier, Abilene; and O. L. Dennis, Rochester, will be in charge of the program. Lunch will be served at the noon hour in the basement of the church.

Misses Catherine Norman and Mildred Townsend of Rule were in Haskell during the County Fair.

"COTTON MONEY IS HELPTO CUPID IN THIS COUNTY," SAID

Not only has cotton money provided more business for local stores, but it has helped Cupid, so Jason W. Smith, county clerk, states. Several couples have been provided with the means to purchase marriage licenses, and to set up housekeeping.

The increase in marriage licenses issued during the past month is not due, so Smith says, to the abolition of the Texas "gin marriage" law, but mostly because the youngsters, and in some cases the "oldsters," received cotton money. This county lost very few marriages to Oklahoma's "marrying parsons".

GRAND JURY CLOSED WORK OCTOBER 12

Makes Request That Sunday Closing Law be Enforced; Officers to Co-Operate

The members of the Grand Jury for the September term finished their work October 12, having examined 124 witnesses and returning 21 felony indictments.

In the report to Judge Clyde Grissom, and signed by R. B. Neal as foreman, the grand jurors stated that the Sunday closing law was not being observed, and a request was made that the county attorney and sheriff enforce said law to the best of their ability.

B. C. Chapman, county attorney, stated to a Free Press reporter Wednesday that the law as it now stands would be enforced, as the grand jury requested, which means that filling stations, and businesses of such order, may sell only gas and oil, and that most stores may sell wares up to 9 p. m. A recent ruling has placed the operation of picture shows squarely up to the cities interested. The state, as a whole, is no longer a party.

JUDGE MAUSEY SERVES IN PLACE OF GRISSOM

Hears the Ferguson Case Which Has Been On Docket For 7 Years; May Soon Be Settled

Judge A. S. Mauzey of Sweetwater and judge of the 32nd judicial district, served on the district court bench during the fore part of the week, hearing the case pertaining to the estate of the late Mrs. Kate F. Morton. Record testimony was introduced, which Judge Mauzey has not had time to peruse. Judge Mauzey served in the place of Judge Clyde Grissom, who disqualified himself owing to the fact that he had served as attorney in the case before being elected to office.

The case has been on the dockets for the past seven years, and according to Judge Mauzey, will probably be settled in a short time.

Judge Meeker of Stamford was in Haskell on business one day this week.

TEACHERS TO ATTEND MEET HERE OCT. 28

175 County Teachers Due Here Saturday to Form School Year Plans

STARTS AT 10:00 A. M.

High School Auditorium To Be Scene of Activities For the Meeting

Approximately 175 teachers will be in this city Saturday for the purpose of perfecting plans for the school year under the new program laid down by the legislature whereby a deputy superintendent is placed in charge of various districts. The meeting will be held at 10:00 a. m. in the high school auditorium.

This county is in District No. 3, with John Olson in charge, who may not be able to attend. In such event a substitute, Miss Myrtle Tanner, will preside.

The meeting Saturday, according to Miss Ellis county superintendent (will be the first under the new state program, and important matters affecting the welfare of each school in the county will be discussed. Owing to the fact that several schools closed on account of cotton picking, and others have not opened for the same reason, the meeting Saturday will also come as a timely event for those teachers whose schools will open next week, when it is expected that every school in the county will be open.

HIGHWAY 120 BIDS BEING CALLED FOR

Labor To Be Furnished By Haskell County Relief Administrator

Sealed bids for constructing 9.521 miles of grading on highway 120 between this city and Rule were called for last week by the State Highway Department, and are to be opened October 30.

The work contemplate will begin at the corner where the Haskell National Bank is located and continue on a route which will shorten the present road between the two cities. This work, a part of the federal relief, will be under the direction of Tom Donohoo, Haskell county relief administrator. Domestic materials and county labor will be used as far as possible.

The minimum wage of forty-five cents per hour will be paid on all skilled labor, and thirty-five cents to all unskilled. Based on a five-hour working day, the prevailing per diem wage for various workers is as follows: Power machine operator, $2.25; Truck drivers on trucks over one and one-half tons, $2.25; Mechanics, carpenters and blacksmiths, $2.25; Unskilled laborers, $1.75.

Overtime and legal holiday work will be paid for at the regular government rates.

INJURED GIN WORKER RECOVERING NICELY IN A STAMFORD HOSPITAL

L. E. Kirkpatrick, who was recently taken to a Stamford hospital by a Kinney ambulance when his right leg was injured in an accident at the Duncan Gin, is reported as recovering nicely. Ligaments and muscles were cut and torn to the bone when his leg caught in a line shaft.

Henry Townsend of Rule was a business visitor in Haskell Thursday last week.

SALE OF 32 BEER BELIEVED TO HAVE HELPED KEEP ORDER

Approximately 14 arrests were made by peace officers during the three day county fair, with gambling and drunkenness forming the major part of the causes, but according to officers better order was exhibited at the recent fair than any previous celebration.

The sale of 32 beer is believed to have caused many to refrain from drinking "home-brew" and other intoxicating beverages. One county officer stated that, in his belief, 32 beer helped at least 75 percent in the maintenance of law and order.

The sheriff's office maintained close watch over the entire fair grounds, but only a few of the officers detailed for duty saw actual service.

SEVEN INJURED IN WAGON-CAR CRASH

Three Families, in Wagon, Were Returning From Fair Saturday

As a result of an accident Saturday when a wagon, in which 12 members of three families were riding, was struck by a coupe, eight persons were injured. The accident occurred north of this city as the two families were returning to their homes from the county fair.

According to C. C. Robinson, the driver of the wagon, those injured were:

- Mrs. B. C. Patton, cuts and bruises.
- B. C. Patton, broken neck.
- J. B. Patton, age 11, broken collarbone.
- Mrs. Otto Jones, Patton's daughter, broken hip.
- Month-old baby of Mrs. Jones, fractured skull.
- Mrs. C. C. Robinson, bruises about head and shoulders.
- Jim Robinson, fractured shoulder blade.
- Carlton Robinson, bruises on head and shoulders.
- Mr. Jones and another son, Clarence Henry, 18-months, Arthur Patton, (Continued on Page Eight)

INTOXICATED WOMAN FOUND ALONE ON ROAD

Found Lying on Highway Between Here and Stamford by Member of Sheriff's Force

Apparently in such an intoxicated condition that she was unable to inform anyone where she lived, a woman about 25, fairly well dressed, was brought in this city Wednesday afternoon by Olen Dotson, deputy sheriff, and detained until more information could be secured.

When found, the woman was lying beside the road, in a half-dazed state, and after questioning, informed Dotson that her name was Smith.

It is believed that the woman was left beside the road by other parties in an automobile, and left to shift for herself the best way she might. Officers intend to push the investigation.

This autumnal weather is conducive to thoughts of ducks, deer, and such, Haskell county sportsmen are probably already getting their guns out of the closet and preparing them for the hunting season. Some nimrods have already gone out after a few doves, but the important part of the season is still ahead. To save hunters the embarrassment of bringing home a duck or deer out of season, or of trapping them in an unlawful manner, ex-

Fifty-one cotton checks, totaling the sum of $11,488.00 was received by R. H. Maxwell, county agent, Monday for distribution. Others are expected soon, and the farmers designated will be informed as soon as possible after the arrival of the checks.

Maxwell also stated that committeemen and clerical checks have been prepared and are expected to arrive in a short time.

TO HOLD TURKEY MEETING OCT. 28

Will Organize a Turkey Pool for Thanksgiving Market; Last Year's Paid Well

A meeting of farmers of Haskell county interested in pooling turkeys has been called for Saturday afternoon October 28 at 2:30 in the District court room of the Haskell county courthouse. At that time turkeys to be sold on the Thanksgiving market are to be pooled. If the pool is shipped as live cars, loading will likely be done at several places over the county.

Turkey growers of Haskell county will remember that over $1,900 extra money was paid Haskell county farmers last year as a result of the organized turkey pool. However, it is also important to remember that most good can be accomplished when turkeys are pooled early and all preliminaries attended to beforehand.

The number of turkeys in the county and State as well, is much less than last year and all indications are that the prices will be much better. The general rise in prices and the shortage of turkeys have both helped to increase the price of produce.

CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC WILL BE HELD IN HASKELL NOV. 22-23

Dr. A. G. Anderson representative of the Educational Chiropractic Clinic, was in town Monday arranging for a chiropractic clinic to be held here Nov. 22-23.

Breaking all existing records for attendance since first organized in 1921, the ninth annual Haskell County Fair closed Saturday night with more than 17,000 people filing through the gates during the 3-day period.

At least 10,000 people attended the fair during the last day, and ticket sales brought in approximately $900. The legalized betting feature helped swell proceeds and will enable the fair association to make a substantial reduction in the fair indebtedness.

Gate receipts for the races, in which 70 horses from four states competed for purses totaling $1,700, aggregated $4,000 and general admissions and concessions brought in between $2,500 and $3,000.

Exhibits Show Well
The committee in charge of exhibits had their hands full in recapitulating the winners in the various exhibits, and extra care, even though causing more detail work, has been used in posting the winners of the different awards.

Myers community won first prize on its exhibit. Second went to the Ward community and Midway drew third.
In the individual agricultural exhibits, H. L. Bosse and Mrs. F. G. Bosse, of the Ward community, won first and second awards. Paul Zahn, of Haskell, was ranked third, George (Continued on Page Eight)

CROWD GETS THRILL WHEN NEGRO CHASED

Shoplifter Takes Advantage of Big Saturday Crowd In Hunt's Store and Grabs Dress

Roy Herrod, colored, will probably pay cash the next time he wishes merchandise, and not attempt indefinite "credit", if the lesson he received Saturday means anything, when he was hailed before D. T. Dotson, justice of the peace, charged with shoplifting from the Hunt Store.

According to store employees, Herrod ambled through the store, inspecting merchandise, and paused when he came to the ladies dress department. Owing to the large crowd of people in the store, he probably figured strict watch was not being kept. He thrust a dress underneath his jumper and scattered clothing and people aside in his attempt to escape. Herrod was stopped at the Panhandle Service Station, with Courtney Hunt and about twenty others in hot pursuit.

Herrod's wife offered to pay for the dress, providing her spouse was set free, but the offer was refused. Dotson fined the negro $1 and costs, which totaled exactly $14.

George McMillan Dies at Knox City Monday Evening

Pal's Class Gives Shower for Mesdames Akin and Sego.

The Pal's Class of the M. E. church met in the home of Mrs. T. R. Odell last Tuesday evening honoring Mesdames Sego and Akin. The program for the evening was a unique one. One interesting feature of the program was a mock trial of the new brides. Janie Lyle Martin acted in the capacity of presiding judge in the case No. 1026, Pal's Class vs. Sego & Akin. Velma Hambleton represented the State's Attorney, Mattie Letha Phippen as defendant's lawyer, Leta Ketron as Sheriff.

Many witnesses were called to the stand, as Mrs. Guy Mayes and Miss Anna Sprowles, who were "Eye Witnesses" against the defendants, Wilma Phippen and others in favor of the defendants were called.

The verdict of the jury came in "not guilty," which was read by the foreman, Elizabeth Gilbert. The foreman of the jury made the following statement:

Miss Singleton On Canyon Honor Roll

Among the 144 names that appear on the recently published Honor Roll for the 1932 Summer Session of the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon is the name of Opal Singleton of Haskell.

This means that Miss Singleton made a minimum of 17 grade points in her work, and that her grades placed her in the upper ten per cent of all the students enrolled in the college last summer.

Enrollment at the Canyon college is as large as it was this time last year, and it is expected that many new students will take advantage of the new split-semester plan, and enter school at the opening of the second half, November 20.

Good Luck Pals Observe Installation Program.

The Good Luck Pals of the Home Economics Department had a delightful time last Thursday (September 29) evening when an installation program was rendered for the new members. Dorothy Lewellen, president of the club, had charge of the very effective program with the help of the other officers: Vice-president, Lorene Wright; Secretary, Leta Burson; and Reporter, Mary Eleanor Diggs. Each new member was ushered in by the Spirit of Home Economics, represented by Ruth Josselyn, and a good word was said for each by some old member. Six girls carried different colored candles representing the colors of the rainbow and the traits of character a girl belonging to this club should have. They are: the blue light of character, the yellow light of wisdom, the red light of health, the lavender light of beauty, the green light of service, and the orange light of home.

Each of the girls became a member of the club when they repeated the pledge. Following this refreshments of punch and cakes were served after which the new girls were assigned various tasks while the old members saw that they were completed.

The new members present were: Mary Frances Allen, Helen Mabel Baldwin, Ruth Barnett, Annie Barnett, Geraldine Conner, Mary Eleanor Diggs, Elsie Gholson, Beverly Gilbert, Addie Lee Hays, Velma Johnson, Ella Belle Lane, Lily Maude Martin, Floe Pace, Eva Belle Phippen, Auida Smallwood, Lavern Sweatman, Janice Tate, Lotta Maye Thompson, Mayre Lena Tubbs, Catherine Wair, Margaret Breedlove, Lorene Wright, Marjorie Wright, and Pearl Lee.

FARMS

College Station.—The farm poultry flock will continue to be in the Texas farm picture in the new order of things in spite of the fact that poultrymen have had a harder time making a profit the last two months than at any previous time during the depression," declares E. N. Holmgreen, poultry husbandman in the Extension Service at Texas A. and M. College.

"Records of hundreds of farm demonstration flocks managed in co-operation with county farm and home demonstration agents show that August and September were particularly bad months for profits because feed prices advanced out of all proportion to poultry prices. Interest in demonstrations is keeping up remarkably well, however, and recent requests by 100 agents for new poultry flock calendars for the new poultry year beginning November 1st indicates that the poultry industry is here to stay.

"The present outlook is not encouraging," according to Mr. Holmgreen. "Fowls in cold storage have increased 200 per cent above those of a year ago, and cold storage eggs have increased more than 50 percent. In spite of this there is every indication that the small farm flock which has brought in so much grocery money the last few years will not be sold off on most farms," he says.

"Few people realize that egg production per hen has doubled in Texas in the last 15 years," Mr. Holmgreen points out. "That means larger profits per hen at any price level. There may be small reductions in size of flocks but in the main it looks now as though most Texas farmers will keep their flocks on the strength of the timely help the flocks have previously given.

"Texas is a land of small flocks," says Mr. Holmgreen. There are only seven counties listed in the 1930 census as having an average of more than 100 hens per farm. Those counties are Kleberg, Faveite, Lavaca, Deaf Smith, Randall, Ochiltree and Lipscomb. Except for East Texas and part of the West ranch country the rest of the State averages between 30 and 100 hens per farm."

BENJAMIN.—I took the design for my hooked rug from the churn dash and am working on my color scheme now," reports Mrs. F. L. Bowley of the Munday Home Demonstration Club. To Miss Jewel Faulkner, home demonstration agent of Knox county. Her rug is simple in design yet promises to be quite interesting.

Mrs. Bowley, as well as other home demonstration club women in the county, is working toward standardization. To get these rugs standardized and on the market, the design and color scheme must be original and the finished rug must be approved by the home industries specialist of the A and M College Extension Service. These rugs when standardized are in great demand for sale. They can be made of old materials such as blankets, overalls, sheets, old coats or dresses. The silk materials are used mostly in making mats, which when standardized also bring a good price.

BRYAN.—From 7 inches to 7 feet is the growth Dorothy Marie Stramek, Brazos county 4-H club girl, has had from yard cuttings planted in January of this year, according to the report of Miss Blanche Brown, home demonstration agent of Brazos county. At least 100 of the 175 plants propagated from cuttings in a concrete tile sub-irrigated bed are waiting to further improve Dorothy's home grounds. This year she began a screen planting in which she used 47 plants, most of them native, to hide an unattractive view in the distance.

Dorothy's financial showing of a net profit of $35.40 for 1933 is a result of assisting in the family garden, in marketing the surplus vegetables to people working on the highway, and canning 70 containers of food alone, and assisting her mother in canning 28 others. She also includes in her assets the cash value of trips won to state educational events.

SAN ANGELO.—For planting good cotton seed on terraced land Joe Kapavik of Mereta Community, Tom Green county made an extra $5.80 per acre this year. In a demonstration with W. I. Marschall, county agent, the turn-out of ordinary gin run seed was compared with two other blocks of cotton planted to good staple seed. The gin run seed turned out 34 per cent while the good seed turned out 42.3 per cent and 45.6 per cent.

Mills county farmers are demanding more aid in terracing from the county agent since farm prices have begun to climb. Records of three farmers are cited to show the reason. One made 4 bushels more corn per acre on terraced land; a second picked 100 pounds more seed cotton per acre on terraced land; and a third found that terraced land produced 6 bushels more oats per acre than un-terraced fields.

Speaking of higher yields per acre, county agents are often criticized for their efficiency in boosting yields. The criticism seldom comes from the farmers who have made the high yields. Reason: high yields usually go with high profits.

A West Texas farm management study by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that the high profit farms in 1932 were farms with high yielding acres.

If production must be reduced the place to make the cut is in number of acres and not in yield per acre, as all the farm relief measures recognize.

Everything in many a Hidalgo county farm home was damaged by the hurricane except the 4-H pantry products, says the home demonstration agent. Full of products properly canned and well stored, these pantries became centers of food distribution to unfortunate neighbors after the storm.

It cost $2.00 to plant and brine 60 gallons of pickles, according to Mrs. T. A. Moseley who has the rank of "pickle demonstrator" among home demonstration club folks in Delta county. She packs pickles for profit.

"When Ladies Meet" Tells Matrimonial Story from Decidedly Novel Angle

An exceptionally strong cast was assembled by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Cosmopolitan for its film version of the Rachel Crothers stage success "When Ladies Meet" which starts Saturday 11 p. m. at the Texas Theatre this week. Ann Harding and Robert Montgomery are costarred and the other principal roles are filled by Myrna Loy, Alice Brady and Frank Morgan.

The distinguished Miss Harding, whose hits range from "Holiday" to the recent "Animal Kingdom," enacts the publisher's wife in Miss Crothers' biting drama of four people whose lives are brought to a climactic point at a seemingly peaceful country week-end party. Montgomery, last seen in "Hell Below" is the shrewd young newspaperman who creates a fictitious liaison between himself and the publisher's wife in order to attract the interest of the woman he really loves.

The following people of Rule were among those who attended the County Fair at Haskell this week: Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cannon, Mrs. O. L. McCall, Mr. and Mrs. E. Morgan and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Malone, Miss Maggie Cole, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Louella Kelley.

Employers Urged to Observe Agreement By NRA Chairman

NRA merchants and employers are yielding part of their rights in an effort towards national recovery, and they are entitled to what help you can give in trade or otherwise, and all consumers are requested to help in that way, according to R. E. Sherrill, Chairman.

"Merchants and employers are requested to be very careful to observe the rules as to minimum wages, maximum hours of work, minimum of six work days per week, and such other rules as apply to your line," Sherrill states.

"Complaints should be written out, dated and signed and delivered to some member of the Compliance Board. Blanks for such complaints can be had from the Board members when needed.

"Under no circumstances will the names of complainants be revealed except with the permission of the complainant himself.

"An investigation is now going on to see how well the rules are being complied with. The President has announced a penalty of not more than $500 fine nor more than six months imprisonment for violations. Remember the rules, and if you find you have through ignorance or oversight not been observing them, correct your mistakes at once. A summary of the rules is found in the daily papers of Oct. 24th.

"The local board's duty is to assist the community to comply with all the requirements, not to enforce them nor to assess penalties, nor execute."

Over $2,000,000 Is Amount Paid On Crop Loans, Stated

DALLAS.—More than $2,000,000 already has been collected by the Southwest crop loan office of the Department of Agriculture here, with $1,500,000 more collateralized by cotton sold, it was learned Saturday from Owen W. Sherrill, regional manager.

In the past week crop loan collections topped $800,000 from farmers whose obligations mature Oct. 31 in addition, there is about $200,000 on which the office staff is checking, and which will be added to the $2,000,000 total by Monday, Sherrill reported.

This is on 1933 loans, while the Southwest regional office here has credited an additional $1,545,498 on collateralized cotton, largely on 1932 loan balances. Most of the cotton was sold from 8 to 12 cents a pound, representing borrowers, Sherrill said.

The office here, which is headquarters for Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, handled 71,496 loans this year, the total running well over $6,000,000. Sherrill says repayments have been prompt.

Mr. Julian Perrin, Mrs. Irene Bullard, Labry and Helen Ballard, and Helen Mabel Baldwin, attended the Dallas Fair Friday and Saturday, enjoying the hospitality of Misses Mabel and Fannie Jack Baldwin while in Dallas. The party returned by way of Denton spending Saturday night and Sunday with Joan Paul and Henrietta Perrin, Mary Helen Chitwood, Juanita Stone, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Chapman.

F. D. Used It, And "Chiseler" Is No Longer of Slang

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Because President Roosevelt used it in an address last night, the word "chiseler" applied to one who cheats, is no longer slang, Frank H. Vizetelly, lexicographer, declared today.

Several times in the course of two paragraphs, the president spoke of "chiselers," meaning those who shirked in the government's recovery drive.

"President Roosevelt's use of the word automatically elevates it from the status of slang to colloquialism," said Vizetelly. "It is to be expected that consequently 'chiseler' will find its way into good English."

"When a man of such station as the president of the United States employs a slang phrase he clothes it with dignity."

FOR SALE—60 acres land five miles north of Rule. All in cultivation. $25 per acre. F. A. Irvin.

NO VOLUNTARY EAGLE SURRENDER

After Signing Agreement Member Pledged to Co-Operate Faithfully

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 24—There is no such thing as the "Voluntary Surrender" of the Blue Eagle, Administrator Johnson has announced, according to Sherwood H. Avery, district manager of the United States Department of Commerce, and executive-secretary of the District Recovery Board of North Texas and the state of Oklahoma.

There have been a number of stories in scattered sections telling of a few people who obtained the Blue Eagle by signing the President's Reemployment Agreement and who voluntarily surrendered the Blue Eagle. There is no such thing as a voluntary surrender of the Blue Eagle. In event of a member failing to comply with the obligations he assumed when he signed the N. R. A. may deprive him of the use of the insignia.

When a member accepted the President's Agreement, he pledged himself until December 31, 1933, to do everything in his power to cooperate with the President in his recovery program. Compliance Boards will deal with such cases," Administrator Johnson continued.

Compliance Boards are empowered to relieve individual merchants or other employers of full compliance with the agreement where such compliance would work unavoidable and serious hardships. In cases where cheating under the agreement by competitors is the cause of inability to fully comply, the Compliance Boards are obligated to investigate and report to Washington, the only authority for separating a member of the N. R. A. from the Blue Eagle.

Haskell Embalmer In Attendance At San Angelo Meet

According to J. H. Kinney, of this city and secretary of the San Angelo district of the Embalmers of Texas, the next meeting of the organization will be held in Big Spring, in January. Kinney recently attended the meeting in San Angelo.

Kinney states that a closer co-operation among embalmers was dealing with the NRA was stressed.

The Big Spring session also will be a joint meeting of the district organizations of both the embalmers association and the funeral directors association.

2,000 Animal Heads Examined for Rabies By Health Officers

Austin, Texas—Oct. 25—The State Hygienic Laboratory of the State Department of Health received over two thousand animal heads during the past year for examination to determine whether or not the animal had rabies. Luckily, only about one-fourth of the heads received were positive for rabies. Three hundred and twenty-seven persons were given treatment at the State Laboratory; others were treated in their home towns.

Rabies is transmitted to man thru a bite or having a cut exposed to the saliva of a rabid animal. Bites thru clothing are not as dangerous as bites on exposed surfaces, because the saliva is wiped off as the tooth passes thru the cloth.

If a person is bitten the offending animal should be penned, if possible, for a period of ten days. If the animal is normal at the end of that time, the case can be dismissed. If it is necessary to kill the animal, this must be done in such a manner that the brain is not destroyed. If it is, an examination to determine whether or not the animal had rabies will be impossible. If the head is sent to the Pastuer Institute, care should be used in properly icing it to prevent decomposition.

Rabies is commonly supposed to be a disease of warm weather, but the warmth of weather has no influence on the disease. On the contrary, rabies is more prevalent during the winter months because exposure to the cold lowers the resistance of the animal. It is true that more dogs are killed during the summer months, but the percentage of rabies is low.

Screen Tells Story of Missing Persons for the First Time

The mysterious, and to a large extent, secret workings of that division of the police department in which are recorded the cases of kidnapped men and women and those who strangely vanish, are brought to light for the first time in pictures with the First National production entitled the "Bureau of Missing Persons," which opens at the Texas Theatre on Tuesday, with Bette Davis, Pat O'Brien, Lewis Stone and Glenda Farrell heading the large cast.

In every large city there are thousands of missing persons reported yearly. A fair proportion of these persons are found, but many disappear completely. Every class and age is represented among the missing, as related in the picture.

BUT EVE Got Tired Of Wearing GREEN!

The First Lady of the Garden, of course, had a wide choice of fernery to convert into finery. But all of it was green . . . and that grew monotonous. So next we hear of her wearing furs! For women, it seems, just must have change. Everybody knows that a red hat will cure the blues!

Most important of all, new clothes for Mother seem to have a cheering effect on the entire family. A successful little dress is worth a song before breakfast or a Grand Surprise Dessert at dinner-time. So Wise Men (otherwise referred to as good providers and model husbands) are falling in with feminine plans to buy some new clothes this winter . . . and here's why we say to act now, and save!

The sweatshop, and the flashy little $2.88 silk dress, have passed out of the picture together. There was no standard of value for the sweatshop worker. She toiled like a coolie for any wage she could get . . . sometimes was tricked into working without pay!

Now, the NRA codes in the dress industry, as you know, have raised wages, shortened hours, eliminated child labor, and improved working conditions all around.

This is a good thing for everyone concerned. For the truth is that the price of women's clothing had fallen so low that no one could make a decent living out of it. Wages went down and down . . . workmen were laid off . . . human hands and heads, and their products, too, seemed to have lost almost all their real value.

That is what the NRA codes are for . . . to restore value to the common things of life . . . to make everyone and everything worth something again.

And it's working! Wages are up. Woolens have advanced 49 per cent. Silk and rayon dress goods 35 per cent. The price of women's garments is bound to go up.

So good buys, right now, are ripe for picking, and prices won't even be lower, they say, at January sales. In fact, they will probably never again be so low as they are today! NOW is the time to buy!

Suits—coats—hats—furs. What can be had, for how very little, you will discover in the advertisements in this newspaper. Every store announcement is packed with news. Go right through this paper NOW. List what you'd like to have. Then act quickly to take advantage of present favorable prices!

LOCAL MERCHANTS' OPPORTUNITY

Merchants and other business men of Haskell are face to face with an opportunity of a lifetime, and we believe that they realize it. The President's commodity price raising campaign has gone far beyond what he expected, and has become a matter of grave concern. It has brought the profiteers out in the open and they are gouging the people to the limit. Shoppers returning from a nearby city report that prices are almost double what they were a few months ago.

We believe that the business firms of Haskell are possessed of good judgment and a desire to be fair with their customers. They must of a necessity make a reasonable profit on the goods they sell—they are entitled to that, but there is no excuse or justification for the skyrocket raise in commodity prices which has taken place in the cities during the past few weeks.

We believe that Haskell merchants will refrain from such profiteering, and add only the increase in wholesale cost to their own retail prices, they will find their selling cost, below the cities. They will thereby win the respect and gratitude of our own people in this section, and that gratitude will keep trade at home that might otherwise go to some city.

BETTER FARM HOMES

Recently an editorial writer pointed out that farm people move to the cities and towns in order to enjoy "comforts of life denied the rural citizen." While this is true to a certain extent, there are few of the comforts of life which might not be enjoyed by the rural population.

Many modern appliances for the home are available for the farm as well as the city, and in most cases at no greater cost, for it must be remembered that city folks do not have the running water, labor-saving devices, telephones and the like without paying for them.

Compared with conditions which existed in the past, farm life today is on a much higher plane so far as conveniences and comforts are concerned. With the continued development of labor-saving machinery and devices for the elimination of household drudgery, improvement is bound to be even more rapid in the future.

A NEW CREDIT SCHEME

In an effort to find a compromise between direct inflation on the one hand, and a national currency not debased either by fiat money or by lessened gold content on the other, proposals are being submitted to the President designed to arrive at a happy medium between these two extremes by issuing greenbacks to the amount of the frozen assets of closed banks, the government to take over this paper as security for the increased currency.

Such a scheme, it is claimed by its supporters, would accomplish the same results as a modest dose of direct inflation, without incurring the risk usually associated with starting government printing presses going for the release of unprotected currency. There are, for example, within the United States some 1910 banks which have either not been able to meet the requirements for reopening following the bank holiday last March, or, if open, are operating under restriction. The frozen assets held by these institutions are estimated at $2,000,000,000 and are held by approximately 6,000,000 depositors. To release, with this bank paper as collateral, new currency to the amount would accomplish two ends. First, it would increase the buying power of those whose deposits are now tied up in these unfluid investments, and second, it would ease the debt burden of those who borrowed these sums in that their liabilities could be liquidated on a long term basis.

WHEN IS REPEAL EFFECTIVE?

With repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment virtually certain through ratification of the Twenty-first Amendment by the required number of states, the question is being asked as to when repeal will be legally effective. Does repeal go into effect the moment formal action is taken by the thirty-sixth state, or is it necessary to await formal proclamation by the Secretary of State?

The Constitution is explicit in stating that "amendments shall be valid to all intents and purposes when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress."

While a formal proclamation is customarily issued by the Secretary of State it is, in fact, unnecessary and there is a decision of the Supreme Court to that effect, and curiously enough, this decision has to do with the Eighteenth Amendment itself. "Its ratification, of which we take judicial notice," the court said, "was consummated January 16, 1919. That the Secretary of State did not proclaim its ratification until January 29, 1919, is not material, for the date of its consummation and not that on which it is proclaimed, controls."

This means that on the day when the thirty-sixth state, in a convention of delegates elected and assembled for that purpose, shall have formally ratified the Twenty-first Amendment, the Eighteenth Amendment will cease to be a part of the Constitution, and repeal will have been effected.

As to control measures after repeal, the Twenty-first Amendment itself places the responsibility on the states themselves. Each state has the privilege of remaining dry or passing the necessary legislation to control the sale and distribution within its own borders, and the Federal government will cooperate with the several states in enforcing their own laws.

Sketches of Haskell personalities, of state and national personalities, sketches of news items affecting the lives of all and sundry. Just sketches—about everything in general.

A bit of good-natured "kidding" has come our way since it was made known that we were from Oklahoma the home of Chas. (Pretty Boy) Floyd and the Hon. Wm. H. Murray, but we can stand it. In fact this writer was born in Wise county, Texas, and merely strayed into Oklahoma.

One good thing about having such deep ditches at street intersections in Haskell is that it certainly prevents anyone from driving fast on side streets.

Whew! And was there a crowd in this city Saturday! There were so many people in the stores that a lot of the clerks became lost and started making purchases in keeping with General Johnson's admonition to "Buy Now."

Although we didn't place any bets on the boss races, nor drink any 3.2 (having sampled it in Oklahoma and quickly found that "cokes" tasted better than such a heavy (?) alcoholic beverage) we enjoyed the part of the Fair we witnessed. Even the carnival was good—as carnivals go.

The exhibits were wonderful. Seeing so much of the farm product canned, we immediately became hungry and also wished, for the moment, that we could move to a farm and raise such edibles, but second thoughts reminded us that farming is darn hard work and the pay just "ain't." Anyway, those farm women having exhibits certainly do know their canning.

INK SPOTS — How come Sam Roberts rates an olive in the cokes he buys at the Payne Drug? We don't get one unless we are with him. . . . Tubbs, of the Haskell Laundry, didn't give us time to wisecrack about a Tubb in a laundry. He mentioned it himself. . . . We did find a Payne in a drug store, though. . . . The town with the roughest streets in the U. S. A. is Sulphur, Okla. . . . Wish one of those men that handles a street grader would go for a little sight-seeing tour in the northwest part of town and grade a few streets as he travels along. . . . Someone could make a good income if they would erect a modern apartment house in Haskell. . . . The boss will soon leave on his hunting trip. Wonder if the "biggest one" will get away.

We worked sorta late Wednesday night getting the paper out, and most of us were having a hard time keeping our eyes open, except Lon Pate. He closed his eyes and kept right on working. He's worked in this shop over 17 years and knows where everything is from broken gauge pins to a stray nut that was cast five years ago. . . . We wonder where genial Jim Farley got his information regarding famous Texans he mentioned in his talk over the radio? Although a Texan by birth, we were surprised to hear that so many had been in public life. No wonder Farley put Roosevelt over if he knows that many people in every state.

"Buy Now" says General Johnson. If the person having all those old coins on exhibit at the Fair will donate them to us, we'll certainly "Do Our Part."

In case you don't know it, we'll mention that the Free Press has a bargain subscription offer in effect, and if the injunction "Buy Now" ever meant anything, it does in such a case, because everything that the newspaper man buys is going higher a la same everything else. At the price asked, you receive a county paper for less than 2 cents per week for the next year. Be wise—shoot in a check TODAY!

National Topics Interpreted by William Bruckart

Washington.—Almost no one can talk about Russia, her relations with other nations, or her form of government without taking sides, yet we are hearing so much about Russia these days that the situation can hardly go unnoticed.

Recognition of Russia

Whether it is right or wrong to recognize the Soviet government and establish diplomatic negotiations is rather likely to continue a long time as a controversial question, but there are numerous facts available that are important to know. It is from that angle that I propose to examine the question.

Obviously, economic questions enter into international relationships whatever the problem may be that forms the focal point at the moment. And economic questions are to the fore in the present Russian equation. Outstanding proponents of Russian recognition, and a great many others who merely think they are outstanding, are urging that the United States has suffered immense loss of trade by the long delayed recognition. They argue also that our position of delay has allowed other powerful industrial nations to get there ahead of us, to gain a foothold from which it will be difficult to jar them loose. Because of recognition being withheld so long, they contend, other early birds got the important worm.

And another thing about which recognition exponents proclaim their feelings is that our government has been inconsistent in its foreign policy and has insulted the people of a great nation by withholding diplomatic relations from them. They point to that which is true, that the United States has recognized de facto, or revolution-made, governments throughout the Central and South American nations with the very minimum of delay. Why, they have asked, has our government accorded recognition to governments in South America where the individuals at their heads have been little, if anything, more than brigands (racketeers, we call them in our own cities)?

Much of the propaganda favoring recognition has had its origin among individuals and groups with very definite and discoverable axes to grind. Being acquainted with a good deal of the Soviet program to bring about recognition of their government by the United States, I took occasion to look up the trade records. The figures in black and white ought to be convincing to anyone. They fail to show that any nation which has established diplomatic relations with the Soviet under the dictator, Stalin, has profited from that recognition.

As to Trade Results

In the case of our own nation, our commerce with the Soviet was virtually on a level with any of the nations whose diplomatic representatives were accredited to the Soviet. Our trade has gone up or has gone just about the same as has the volume of those nations that have recognized the Russian experimental regime. This seemed to me to establish that recognition had nothing whatever to do with the question. Further, it seemed to prove that the other nations had gained no advantage, no foothold, which our own exporters had not had. To me, the figures definitely confirmed the statement made by the former secretary of state, Bainbridge Colby, that recognition had no bearing whatever on trade results.

There are some social and humanitarian objections to recognition, however, that strike me as being worthwhile in view of the history of our nation and the freedom of religious worship which was guaranteed by being written into the Constitution. President Roosevelt got very close to the key in his speech in New York on October 5 when he suggested that no nation denying its citizens the right of religious worship could subsist long. He intimated a belief that eventually such a government would find itself alienated from other peoples, and if that be true, then Mr. Roosevelt predicted the ultimate outcome of the system of which Stalin is now the overlord. So it seems to me that instead of insulting the Soviet by denying, or rather, withholding, recognition, we insult our own people when we take a position that makes equals of those who destroy all evidence and rights of religious worship.

Now as to reasons for the lack of development of Russian trade; the best authorities tell me that Russia can export only a given volume of the several commodities figuring in international trade. She cannot increase that because she has had insufficient equipment with which to produce, except by a very slow process. The natural question to follow, of course, why not sell her that equipment? To this the reply is simple: who will pay? Russia has not the money and she cannot get the money from outside her domain because she has no credit.

I had the pleasure of witnessing quite an unusual ceremony in the treasury the other day, and it was so interesting that I feel it should be described in these columns. The treasury had decided to exercise its optional right to redeem a portion of the gigantic Liberty loan. It wanted to "call for maturity" approximately one-third of the issue which has a total outstanding in excess of $6,288,000,000. To accomplish that purpose, there were certain requirements of law to be met, and one of them was a determination of which of the bonds would be called by a method of chance.

The great issue, sold during the strife and strain of World War days and on the basis of patriotic appeal, was not due to mature until twenty years after its issue, which made it mature in October, 1938. But when the government sold the bonds, it reserved the right to call them for redemption five years before maturity if it so desired. Money market conditions made it seem likely that bonds bearing a cheaper rate of interest than the 4 1/2 per cent carried by the fourth Liberty bonds could be sold. If they could, the government, which means the taxpayers, could save money on interest. Hence, the determination to call a part of the issue and, hence, the ceremony.

Knowing of the program, I went in advance to the lobby of the undersecretary's office. A tall, wooden pedestal stood in the middle of the room. Atop it was a glass bowl. At the appointed time, an attaché of the treasurer's office deposited ten envelopes in the bowl. Each was neatly rolled and held by a rubber band. Each envelope carried a formal order directing the retirement of certain portions of the issue and stating that interest on these bonds would cease as of April 15, 1934, the future date being necessary because the bonds themselves stated that a notice of six months had to be given in case of redemption in advance of actual maturity.

Presently the tall, dignified Dean Acheson, undersecretary of the treasury, entered the room. There was much taking of pictures, stills and movies. Mr. Acheson then reached into the bowl and drew therefrom an envelope. It was opened by Frank Birgefeld, the treasurer's chief clerk. Mr. Acheson read its contents aloud. It said that fourth Liberty bonds whose numbers ended in the digits "9," "0" or "1" or whose letter designations were either "J," "K" or "A" were called for redemption. That meant that anybody holding any of those bonds either would have to turn them over to the government or lose interest on them after next April.

The new issue will bear only 3 per cent interest, so that the calling will be almost $10,000,000 a year because the bonds carried but $1,875,000,000.

Germany Irritates

Secretary Hull, of the State Department, apparently has had a somewhat unenviable task. He is a rather German, rather Hitler, and his suits on American citizens by Hitler's storm troopers, and has asked pointedly what is being done about ending such indignities. He will be told, of course, that efforts are being made to punish the offenders, but I think it no longer a secret that the Washington government is not at all satisfied with the way Hitler and cohorts are treating citizens of other nations. Indeed, I believe can see signs that the Washington administration is growing "cold" on Hitler, himself.

The incident may or may not produce anything. It is possible to the secretary of state may take the step, as bold as it is rare, of issuing a proclamation that the United States cannot guarantee the sale of American citizens in Germany. The best judgment I can obtain that this stage will not be reached in the controversy. Because, make such a declaration is a question between nations as bitter as plying the short and ugly word an individual. On the other hand, attention must be called to latent dangers in the situation. One must consider as well that Hitler is playing a far-flung game.

To Washington observers, early advice in response to Hitler's order to check up on punishment storm troopers who have assaulted Americans have meant nothing that the Nazi chieftain was doing the issue.

Is obedience conditional or unconditional? Is obedience man's or God's part? Who does the obeying? Whom does he obey? Why? For what? What does obedience include? Would the following get it? "Therefore whosoever heareth THESE SAY-INGS of mine, and DOETH THEM, I will liken him unto a wise man, who built his house upon a rock", Matt. 7:24. "Trust and obey for there is no other way", is pointing in the right direction, no doubt.

Come! Glad to note the increase in interest and attendance—COME! Christianity is good for your health. How is your health? COME!

Warnings Ignored, Blue Eagle's Long Talons Clamp Down

The nether portion of the Blue Eagle is symbolic of the penalties provided for in the National Recovery Act, as demonstrated in the case of Theodore G. Rahutis, restaurant man of Gary, Ind., first to be deprived of the NRA insignia.
H. S. Norton, chairman of the Gary Compliance Board, reported that every one of Rahutis' 40 employees sustained in affidavit form repeated charges that he was violating both the maximum-hour and minimum-wage provisions of the President's Agreement had signed. One employee was required to work 21 hours in 2 days at 14 cents an hour.

On August 31 he was notified by the local board that "there must be some misunderstanding on your part of the agreement as modified for the restaurant business." He failed to respond to an invitation to a conference and, according to the board complaints kept pouring in from his employees. In his absence, another notice was handed to Mrs. Rahutis and a third and final formal warning was served on him personally, which read in part: "We hope you welcome this opportunity to make a voluntary statement. If complaints are unfounded, they should be disposed of, so there is no doubt as to your right to the Blue Eagle." All notices were ignored.

National Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson's telegram to Rahutis said in part: "Even if complaints are not true, your refusal to come forward with some explanation when respectfully asked to do so by your local board indicates you are unwilling to cooperate with the President in his recovery program. Therefore, you will immediately cease displaying the Blue Eagle and surrender any NRA insignia in your possession to the postmaster of Gary. You will refrain from using the Blue Eagle in advertising or otherwise."

Following the first disciplinary action, telegrams were sent to Miss B. Wilmer, proprietor of the Crystal Beauty Shop, and Maurice Rapaport, manager of the Shop-town market, both of New Rochelle, N. Y., ordering them to surrender their insignia to the postmaster instantly and to make no further display in any manner of the Blue Eagle.

Affidavits filed with the compliance board of New Rochelle stated that the owner of the beauty shop had increased prices to her customers 50 percent, attributing the increase to the NRA, but had actually increased her overhead by only $2 per week, bringing the wages of her two girl employees to $9 per week. The board reported various charges against Rapaport. One affidavit charged him with compelling an employee to work 12 to 13 hours daily during the week and 16 to 17 hours on Fridays and Saturdays for $16 a week. The board had been unable to secure any cooperation from either Miss Wilmer or Rapaport and their findings in both cases were acted upon very promptly by the National Recovery Administration.

BEER TAX MONEY PILES UP TOTAL

Sum of $170,000 Already Collected From Sale
of Stamps Alone

AUSTIN—Beer tax money is rolling in to the State coffers. The comptroller's department revealed Saturday that for the first two weeks of operation of the 32 beer law $170,000 was collected from sale of stamps alone, as of Oct. 1. Dealers' licenses, however, amount to much more than this sum, but the department has not completed its compilation, so exact figures cannot be given at this time. But Harris County alone paid the State $20,000 in dealers' permits.

If the number of licenses issued signify how wet a county is, then Harris is Texas' wettest county, for about 1,000 licenses have been issued to dealers there, while Dallas is second, Bexar third and Tarrant fourth.

The department is not yet able to figure out how much money sale of 32 beer will bring in annually, for the $170,000 for the first two weeks was for stamps to cover a large supply, perhaps sufficient to last several months, department officials said. But with the license funds piling up, apparently the State will realize $1,000,000. More than 140 counties are represented in dealers' licenses. This tax fund is divided between the public school fund and the general revenue.

Additional and new tax money is accruing from boxing and horse racing, but it is too early to announce definite figures.

These levies were enacted by the regular session of the Forty-third Legislature, the first Legislature in many years that decided industry should be spared new increases in taxes, while new sources alone should be tapped. This policy was adopted in order to give industry and business a chance to come back. As it is, nearly 40 different sets of taxes are collected annually by the State alone, outside of revenues collected by political subdivisions and the national government. The long list of taxes imposed by the State include oil production, gasoline, cement, sulphur production, property, utilities, natural gas, shows and circuses, cigars, beer, peddlers, insurance, bowling alleys, slot machines, Pullman cars, franchises, charter fishing, automobile registration, water rights, horse racing, boxing, barbers, textbook publishers, pipe lines, telephone companies, telegraph companies, express companies, collecting agencies, liquor permits. Drug stores are allowed to obtain liquor permits, the whiskey to be sold for medicinal purposes.

From all these sources the State expects to collect about $115,000,000 a year, state expenditures equalling or surpassing this amount.

During the last four or five years, in and out of the Legislature, there has been an outcry, swelling in volume, against creation of new bonds, bureaus and commissions, in order to reduce government costs, but every session of the Legislature witnesses one or more new units established.

In the last five years the Texas Legislature has created these new units of State government: State Auditor, Child Welfare Department, cigarette division of the Treasury Department, State Barber Board, gasoline refund division of the Comptroller's Department, reimbursement division of the Highway Department, State Racing Commission, State Tax Commission, State Relief Commission, the last named having by far the largest number of employees of any unit established in the last decade. This makes a total of nine units or departments created in a five-year period. There was a tenth, but since boxing supervision was included in the duties of the State Labor Commissioner, it is not included as a separate unit.

Haskell Fair—

William Fouts, Haskell, fourth and Robert Barnett, Haskell, captured fifth.

Prizes totaling in the neighborhood of $1,100 went to the winners in the various exhibits—agricultural, art, textile, home demonstration, curios, poultry and livestock, including dairy and stock cattle, sheep and hogs. Each department drew praise from judges and many people frankly stated that the exhibits at the recent fair excelled any previously exhibited.

Plenty of Entertainment
From the time the ninth annual Haskell County Fair opened Thursday with the street parade, something of an interesting nature was being held forth to visitors. Horse racing, exhibits, livestock judging, carnival and a dance provided varied entertainment.

A crowd which lined sidewalks around the entire courthouse seemed to enjoy the Thursday morning

"I have used Theford's Black-Draught for constipation for a long time," writes Mrs. Frank Champlin of Wynne, Ark. "If I get up in the morning feeling dull and sluggish, a dose of Black-Draught taken three times a day will cause the feeling to pass away, and in a day or two I feel like a new person. After many years of use we would not exchange Black-Draught for any medicine."

parade, which had the usual band, calypso, floats, clowns and horse riders.

Pavement Helps Attendance

Visitors were present for hundreds of miles for the races, many coming from Oklahoma. The pavement to Wichita Falls allowed many citizens of that city, and of cities between Haskell and Wichita Falls, to motor and arrive in plenty of time for the main events each day.

While pre-fair plans indicated that the fair of 1933 would probably surpass any previous year's attempt, no one realized that the fair would draw as many people as it did, nor that the receipts would be as large as the records show.

Horse Races Please

Haskell's 5/8 mile race track was the center of interest for young and old alike during the three days when an unusual amount of close races were run. Upsets, so far as betting odds were concerned, were few, but good odds were paid on various horses who knocked "dope" askew and thrust their noses under the wire as victors.

Red Banner romped home a winner in the fourth race Thursday, paying $16.20 with $4.50 to place and $2.40 to show. On Friday, betting action was brisk on two races, the first and fourth. Fair Lawn paid $25.20 straight and $10.10 to place, in the opener, and SunMedier paid $18.90 straight and $3.50 to place in the fourth. One big upset was registered on the last day, when Germon Shot darted in second, in fifth race Don Bonita drew down $12.30 straight, $6.30 to place and $3.60 to show. Germon Shot whipped in and paid $25.90 to place and $13.20 to show.

Football—

day's game may be gleaned from the fact that a pep rally has been scheduled for Friday morning at 11:15, at the high school building. The public has been invited to attend and take part.

The game Friday will be in the nature of a "come-back" attempt for the Indians. Although beaten 12 to 0 by Snyder last week, many who witnessed the game believe that with a little luck, the game should have ended with goose-eggs for both teams. Rotan bested Snyder 7 to 2, but only made 2 yards from the line of scrimmage on running plays, while Haskell chalked up 90 yards.

A blow has been struck at Haskell's football chances in the loss of John Kimbrough, who will be out for the remainder of the season, as a result of an injury sustained in the Merkel game. Kimbrough was one of the star players and had built up a reputation as a punter and backfield man.

Outside of the above, however, every man on the team is in good physical condition and determined to fight every inch of the way against Rotan. Special training for the players has been stressed this week by Coach Bill Richey, and his charges have not complained over the work, but have called for more.

The game with Rotan is expected to draw one of the largest crowds of the season and if Haskell turns out en masse, the more rabid football fans predict a victory for the Indians, pointing out that the players will probably become inspired and literally play "over their heads."

Anyway, whether Haskell wins or loses, football fans may count on seeing, so the players declare, a real game and worth every penny of the small admission which will be charged.

The players want you to be present at Friday's game.

Car Crash—

ton and C. C. Robinson, suffered minor bruises.

Jim McKeon, 38, of Weinert, is the owner of the car which struck the wagon. He stated to officers investigating that his car, driven in the same direction, struck the wagon on the left rear side, as he attempted to pass.

Robinson stated, however, that the car was seen approaching and the comment made that "he'll hit us" by members of the party, because the car was weaving from one side of the pavement to the other, and that the car driven by McKeon struck his wagon in the center, throwing the wagon passengers out.

Robinson intimated that suit would be filed, in which he would charge "drunkenness and reckless driving" on the part of McKeon.

McKeon denies that he was intoxicated.

McKeon reported the accident himself to officers, and the injured were brought into this city by passersby.

The Pattons were later taken to a Stamford hospital in a Kinney ambulance.

Mexican Bullfight Will Be Featured On Two-Day
Celebration

SEYMOUR, Texas—A cowboy rodeo, sponsored by the local fire department, will be held here Oct. 27-28. The rodeo will be under the direction of Ed Davis of Montana and Junior Colwell of Seymour, Steers, Irons, and calves are being brought here from Fort Worth, from the same stock used in the Dallas fair rodeo. This will be strictly a contest show, with three winners in each event.

One of the features of the show will be a Mexican bullfight, including everything except the actual killing of the bull. The bullfighters will be Sam Stewart, one of the two Americans who have participated in bullfights in Mexico, and Junior Colwell. These two put on the same show at the Dallas fair, American bulls, instead of the slow and blind-charging Spanish variety, will be used.

Both Davis and Colwell are well known among rodeo men all over the United States. They have appeared in the Madison Square garden rodeo in New York, and were selected among the 100 best rodeo stars in the United States to participate in the world's fair rodeo at Chicago.

Replies Essential for NRA Census, So State Official Says

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 24—Replies to the National Recovery census now in progress, are expected from every business establishment including those in which there are no paid employees, according to Sheriff Wood H. Avery, district manager of the United States Department of Commerce, who is also executive secretary of the District Recovery Board of North Texas and the state of Oklahoma.

Returns are essential, the Sheriff stressed, from all employers and other businesses in which the owner does all the work. Cases have been reported where owners have mistakenly believed that because they have no employees that they need make no return.

Cotton From J. B. Little

Charged with the theft of 600 pounds of cotton, W. C. Collum and Lee McCracken were each fined $1 and costs in court this week. The total fines amounted to over $21.

It was alleged that the cotton was stolen from J. B. Little, who lives about 16 miles north of this city, in the Cliff community. Little stated that part of the cotton was already sacked and that the remainder was stolen from the wagon.

Suspicion was aroused when the men drove into town in a car, with so much sacked cotton. C. A. Warner, night watchman, notified Sheriff W. T. Sarrells at 4 a. m., and the men were arrested and placed in jail.

Mrs. William Bruestedt and Mrs. Hugh McLendon of Waco are here this week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McGregor and family. Mrs. Bruestedt and Mrs. McLendon are here on a business trip as well as a pleasure trip as they have extensive farming property in Haskell county.
