10,000 Attended
Standing on the steps of Texas' granite capitol Governor Allred made a ringing address, pledging cooperation with the national program and use of all his power to stamp out crime in Texas. An estimated throng of 10,000 persons witnessed the ceremonies, made more brilliant by the presence of high dignitaries, five former governors and officers and several battalions of the Texas national guard.

Denounces Crime
Under applause swept the assemblage as Allred denounced conditions in Texas, saying, "I had no place in the 'clean Texas'."

They fail to do so I want you to back me up in the performance of my duty. I pledge the good and decent citizenship of that once these law violators find prison doors they will redden only when entitled based on merit, and merit.

Deplores that thousands in relief rolls in Texas, Allred said, "I have nothing to fear, ready were facing a new cycle of crime. By public works, old age pensions, soil erosion and other means, he proposed to work closely with the federal government in easing economic distress."

Ferguson's Greeting
Miriam A. Ferguson, volunteering after her second term, had no part in the program other than to witness the ceremony. As she came on the platform the official procession, she and her husband, former Governor E. Ferguson, were warmly greeted by Allred, although they had long political antagonists.

Immediately after the ceremonies, Mrs. Ferguson went to their home in a suburb, while Mr. Allred, in his family and relatives, en route to the inauguration because of a cold, was 33 when inaugurated.

U. S. HOLDS LEAD AS COTTON NATION

This Country Can Profitably Produce Cotton to Sell At Lowest of Prices

WASHINGTON. — Because the United States can profitably produce cotton to sell at a lower price than can most other countries, the land-planning committee of the National Resources Board, in its report Friday, concluded that the prospects for a sustained world demand for American cotton appear more favorable than for most of our other agricultural exports.

While the committee sees no likelihood that this country can continue to export the same quantities of wheat in the next ten years as before the depression, the United States was seen, nevertheless, as remaining one of the major wheat-producing countries. Of particular significance to the West Texas wheat grower was the observation in the report that there are two main regions in the United States, "which appear capable of producing wheat for export as cheaply as any other part of the world, namely, the Pacific Northwest and the hard winter wheat region (Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas)."

"For the purposes of land policy," concludes the committee report, "it seems reasonable to assume that exports from these two regions together would average at least 75,000,000 bushels in the next few years with a possibility of an export of around 125,000,000 bushels on the average in about ten years."

The committee's confidence in this Nation's continued domination of the world cotton market is based on the assumption that the Government's policy with respect to production will not be such as to cause the world price of American cotton to be disproportionately high as compared to foreign growers.

"A reasonable basis for plans for the future will be," said the committee report, "that during the next five years exports of raw cotton and the cotton equivalent of yarn and cloth will average around 8,500,000 (Continued on Page Five)

Church of Christ Retains Thurman

At a recent meeting of the directors of the Haskell Church of Christ, A. P. Thurman was unanimously chosen to remain as their minister for 1935. The directors reported that the whole church membership was one hundred per cent in their request to retain Minister Thurman.

Thurman has been minister for the church of Christ here for the past two years. During this time, the church has been greatly strengthened and made rapid development. About fifty-seven have been added as members to the congregation during this time. Sunday School rooms and a baptistry have been added to the building. The grounds of the church building have been greatly beautified.

But the main thing to be noticed is the whole-hearted support and cooperation that has existed and still exists between Minister Thurman and the membership of the church, one member said.

Representatives of NRA in Haskell For One Day Only

Featured mostly by "rumors" action in an NRA way occurred in Haskell Wednesday when two men, E. S. Powers and M. D. Duberry, of Dallas, claiming to be field adjusters from the state NRA office, walked into various stores here and "explained" that code violations had been indulged in.

The "rumors," which grew wilder and wilder, alleged that several Haskell merchants had had to pay their "help" considerable back pay—in one case as high as $600.

When questioned, neither Powers nor Duberry, would say definitely how much any merchant had paid, but did smile when told of the large amounts being broadcast. They admitted, however, that a few violations had occurred.

None of the persons telling of the amounts being paid explained where the merchants got the $400, $500 or $600 which were alleged to have been forked over.

Accidents Will Happen In Spite of Fact Many Believe They Can't

Accidents will happen. Some of the mishaps of 1934 were the kind that "just couldn't occur."

But they did, and here are a few oddities collected from the records of the National Society Council:

Nine year old Henri Guyot was sucked up by a wheat binder in France. He came out unharmed in a shed of grain.

An automobile hit a baby carriage in Jersey City. Phillip Romano, 3 months old, and a pair of pillows flew through the air with the greatest of ease. The infant landed on the pillows, nobody hurt.

William McPadden, Chicago, started up a flight of iron stairs. A step broke. He was hanged, his head caught in the superstructure.

A dog fell from a tenth-story window in New Jersey, landing on Albert Barrett. The man's skull was fractured.

A Dayton, Ohio woman was blinded by smoke from her cook stove. She ran into the street. A car killed her.

Los Angeles youth decided to end it all with gas. He lit a cigarette and was blown out of the house.

The WOMAN'S Page

Methodist Missionary Society.

On Monday, January 14 the Woman's Missionary Society met in the annual "Pledge Day" service. The president, Mrs. O. E. Patterson, conducted a short business session, after which the leader, Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, took charge. With Mrs. Montgomery at the piano, an appropriate song was sung. Mrs. Patterson explained the Woman's Work, which is supported by our pledges.

Mrs. Hollis Atkinson next led a responsive reading in which the Mary Alexander Circle and the older Circle took part alternately. Mrs. Irby read a very interesting leaflet, entitled "Prayer and Partnership." This was followed by a sentence prayer led by Mrs. Sowell and concluded by Mrs. Irby. Mrs. K. Thornton read a very interesting and inspiring letter from the president of the Missionary Council. By the playing softly of the song "Have Thine Own Way Lord" and the lighting of the candles, the signing of the pledges was made a very beautiful and impressive ceremony. The program was concluded by the reciting in unison of the pledge.

We meet on next Monday at the usual hour and at that time Mrs. Wilson, by request of Mrs. H. M. Smith, who can not be present, will have charge of the program. The subject will be "Famous Women of Biblical and Modern Times." In addition to the regular programs, each lady present will be asked to name the woman, who in her opinion, is outstanding in our day, and tell something of her work. The president urges all to be present.

Mrs. Bryant Cobb Honored.

On last Tuesday afternoon at 3 p. m., thirty-seven people gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Crawford to offer a miscellaneous shower to the former Miss Ruby Kennedy, who is the recent bride of Mr. Bryant Cobb.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. Otta Johnson, who presided over the lovely bride's book. Mrs. W. D. Davis ushered them to the dining room, which was made lovely with red and green candles with silver decorations.

The refreshment plate carried tuna fish salad, lettuce with black coffee. Favors were miniature lighted candles.

Good wishes and advice from each guest was given the bride. A love song "Until" by Johnston was sung by Paul Crawford, and a reading, "Peter Sorghum, Esquire's Proposal," by the hostess constituted the program.

The bride then unwrapped about 75 gifts that were very useful. The couple will make their home in Munday, Texas.

We were hospitably received by the broadcasting staff of KGKO, and also by Mrs. Grover C. Johnson, radio chairman of 14th district, who very cordially invited us to give another program as soon as there was an opening.

We enjoyed every moment of the work and we think we have been amply repaid by the interest that has been shown by our local organization and also by our school.

North Ward P. T. A. Met January 10th.

The North Ward P. T. A. met in their monthly meeting January 10. The following program was given with Mrs. Kenneth Thornton as director.

Mrs. Brooks took for the devotional thoughts, "Spiritual Resources," and as in the previous meetings, proved to be one of the most interesting features of the program.

"Making the Most of Resources" was the subject discussed by Mr. Dennis Ratliff in a very informative way.

Due to the illness of Mrs. Henry, the musical numbers assigned to the fourth grade were omitted.

Mrs. Conner presided during the business meeting, asking Mr. Breedlove to lead in prayer for the seriously ill pupils of the school and members of the association.

Plans for the district P. T. A. convention to meet here in April are going forward, so may each member put forth every effort to make this the very best convention from every standpoint.

The district president, Mrs. Murphy of Iowa Park, will meet with us in our February meeting, so plan now to be present that we may cooperate in every way with the district officers.

Midway H. D. Club Meets.

The Midway H. D. Club met on Tuesday, January 15 at the clubhouse with fourteen members and Miss Peggy Taylor, home demonstration agent and Miss Cooper, the district agent, present.

After a business meeting, Miss Taylor passed out budget cards, and made a talk on garden and budget planning. Then she gave a demonstration on cooking scalloped cabbage in fourteen minutes.

Miss Cooper made a short but interesting talk on budget planning. She urged the ladies to plant at least two new vegetables in their gardens each year.

Those present were: Mesdames R. L. Dickey, H. Abbott, J. M. Reeves, C. A. Oimstead, Bill Lees, Virgil Bailey, H. Harris, V. X. Norman, Sam Scott, Dede Anderson, Paul Frierson, Misses Peggy Taylor, Cooper, Reba Anderson, Blanche and Willie Belle Frierson.

New Legislature Convenes For Vital Session

Photographed above is the famous capitol building at Austin, second only to the National Capitol in size. Here the new Texas Legislature convenes early this month to face problems considered greater in severity and importance than ever before. Action is anticipated promptly to halt natural gas waste in the Panhandle. This wastage has grown so rapidly, that reports to the Railroad Commission request that such dry it now equals the daily domestic and commercial gas consumption of the entire United States. Taxation, liquor laws, relief, oil control and other vital subjects demand early solution.

JAPANESE SHAFT IS ON SITE OF THE ALAMO
SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—A granite shaft erected here 20 years ago by the Japan Geographical Society, commemorating a remarkable similarity between a famous Japanese battle and the historic Alamo, is the object of universal comment by tourists who visit this city.
The marker is erected on the site of the famous battle where, nearly a century ago, Santa Anna's troops fought the loyal defenders finally to capture the Alamo.

The shaft itself a piece of one of the huge granite stones which once formed a part of the great Nogashino castle, which was located on the plains half way between the modern cities of Nagoya and Shizuoka, the tea center of Japan. What the Alamo is to Texas, the great castle is to Japan.

Let's Talk About Clothes
By a "Young Modern"

DENTON, Texas. — One of the most important questions that arises in a discussion of frocks is "How can I fix the sleeves?" After all, the sleeve can "make" your dress so you'll surely want this feature to be in with the latest mode.
Two or three years ago sleeves consisted of frills, ruffles and puffs that have a broad shoulder look and were considered essential to any costume. Now, let us look at the situation. The smartest selections are interesting in slenderizing and tapering lines that do away with all the former fussiness, and if there is any fullness at all it is shaped in below the elbows and then tapered off into a graceful fitting line at the wrist.
For the young girl, mamelines at Texas State College for Women (CIA) say that the most popular trends in sleeves are those cut in with the waist. They give an ideal shoulder line to the dress and add that collegiate swank so desired by young moderns.
Vieing for popularity with these sleeves are those with deep armholes — the square and dolman sleeves that add a glamorous note to your evening ensemble as well as a smart touch to the street dress. They give a dress a casual easy line that is particularly right for tailored and evening things. Square arm holes are one version of the deep sleeve and are used in frock concentrating on line.
Dolman sleeves have the deepest armholes making the top of the frock bulky which tends to slenderize the hips and give a graceful line to the most formal of evening ensembles. The plain tight fitting sleeve has disappeared in smart fashion circles and in its place a graceful creation in tapering lines has been substituted.

DENTON, Texas. — Winter fashions center on details! It's not the long swooping lines, broad expansive spaces and plain features that young moderns are striving to get in their dresses. The little details are attracting their attention, and they are depending on them for the appeal of their entire costume.
When you think of details, one of the first things that enters your mind is the neckline of your dress. You wonder if a collar or scarf or just what would be best and add that note of smartness.
Bibs, for a pleasing neckline, are staunchly advocated by the smart set of Texas State College for Women (CIA). In gay plaids, solids and checks they are usually detachable, which makes for an often change adding somewhat to the charm of the costume.
Collars—from the simple ones to the intricate designs of our fashion experts—add to any neckline. High collars prove ever-popular and are a constant delight to the wearers, and the little fence collar now being shown as the latest trend, is delightfully young and Russian.
The ruffle necklines, either large and voluminous or small and circular, find an outlet in the young girl. In their pleasing frills they add a flattering line to the contour of the face and make for softness. Scarf necklines, so popular with the shirt waist frocks, worn under a club collar, bring a sporty touch. Late fashioners decree that the point of the scarf be tucked inside. Round necks with no addition of collar, scarf or trimming are for the young and beautiful and accentuate a note of freshness in the individual.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson Hayes are happily rejoicing over the arrival of their nine and one-half pound son, born Dec. 6, 1934. He will answer to the name of Kenneth Watson.

Volume 1 By Haskell High School Students No. 11

THE SENIOR PLAY

Everywhere, and since times remote, high schools have observed certain customs which have become traditional. These vary, of course, in different schools, and depend upon the season and the locality, and upon public opinion. But there is one event, besides baccalaureate and graduation exercises, which occurs annually in high schools in every corner of our nation, and which is truly traditional. That is the presentation of the Senior Play. The Senior Play we call it, thereby making it an institution, and classifying it among the outstanding events of the school year. And so it is.

Why is it traditional and national—an event in the life of the Senior student? Because it represents the best dramatic ability of the class, and their best effort to display their art in entertaining—because it presents the class to the public. But not only is it a sincere presentation of their best dramatic art, it is also their effort to meet the economic needs of the class. For, aside from the glamour and thrill of donning the cap and gown, there is a certain bare, unadorned reality that must be faced. Expenses must be paid. A class can scarcely graduate gratifyingly without diplomas, flowers, decorations, printed programs, and a distinguished speaker—all of which combined cost an amazing amount of money. Not that the proceeds of the senior play ever defray all these expenses, but it is always the hope of the class that they can cover as much as possible in this manner, for they must dig in personal pockets for the rest.

The seniors of 1935 expect to present their play within the next three or four weeks, and the public is urged to support it loyally—with their attendance and with a sympathetic attitude toward amateur efforts.

FRESHMAN CLASS WINS CONTEST

The past three or four days have been rather exciting for the students of high school. We have had a contest of selling basket ball tickets, and of course every class has tried to sell the most. The freshmen never gave up, although they felt that the sophomores were going to beat them. Friday afternoon Mr. Wimbish announced the winner, and to our great surprise we won. We, the freshmen, want the sophomores to

BOYS TEAM DEBATES IN ASSEMBLY

The Haskell High School heard its first debate of the year Wednesday in assembly when the boys' team debated. The Interscholastic League debate question for this year is "Resolved, That the Government Should Own and Operate All Electric Light and Power Utilities."

Lyndell Anderson and Covell Adkins debated the affirmative side of the question, while Crockett English and Winston Watson took the negative side. Maydell Barnett was chairman of the debate.

Considering the fact that this was their first debate the boys did exceptionally well and put plenty of force into their speeches.

The first affirmative speaker was Covell. He analyzed the question and explained the meaning of light and power utilities. Winston was the first negative speaker and he proceeded to ask the affirmative a list of questions. Next was Lyndell, the second affirmative, and Crockett, the second negative. It seemed that the debate was a personal clash between Covell and Crockett, who continued to argue, even after the debate was over.

H. R. Whatley, A. P. Thurman, and Chas. Conner acted as judges. Their decision was rendered in favor of the negative, due to the fact that those debating this side of the question showed outstanding reputation; however, the judges complimented the argument presented by the affirmative speakers.

We are really proud of our debate team this year and are depending on them to win the district. We are also proud of the debate coach, Mrs. Wimbish. She has been coaching both the boys and girls teams for the past few years and has always had good results from them.

DEBATES NEXT MONDAY

With the County League Meet of March in mind, the debaters and extemporaneous speakers of the Public Speaking Class have been hard at work.

Woodrow Dishong and Tom Clifton, who are our boy students for extemporaneous speaking, were scheduled to speak before the Lions Club at noon of Tuesday, January 15.

Then on Monday, January 21, our debaters will give to the public two debates at the Baptist Church at six-thirty o'clock. The question will be:

"Resolved: That the Government Should Own and Operate All Electric Light and Power Utilities."

The boy debaters are Crockett English and Winston Watson, affirmative, against Covell Adkins and Lyndell Anderson, negative. The girls affirmative team is composed of Mary Ben Chapman and Alberta Orr, who will debate against Maydell Barnett, Ava Grindstaff and Janice Tate, negative team.

Everyone should make an effort to attend these debates. Remember that your coming will encourage our debaters.

JUNIOR MEETING

The Juniors had a meeting last Wednesday to try to get enough tickets circulated to win the ticket selling contest in basketball. We won low score, but even though we did not succeed, we are not lagging; we are just saving our energy so we can put forth every effort in our Senior year.

IT HAPPENED IN HOME EC.

Wednesday morning when Helen Mable Baldwin came into the Home Ec. laboratory to see if Mrs. Young could relieve her from coughing. Mrs. Young gave her some sugar and salt and put her to bed. Anita Jo Simmons decided to see if it would work again, but to her amazement Mrs. Young put her to working buttonholes, instead.

We weren't a bit surprised to hear that Wilma Whatley had lost her glasses, one morning last week. Answering our anxious questions about them, she told us of the time she had lost them before and found them under the bed. At noon, the same day, she came back wearing them. When we had asked her where she found them, the calm reply was, "Aw, I found them under the bed; guess I'll find them on the ceiling somewhere next time." Well, Wilma, a good excuse is better than none.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Our basketball girls met the Rule team on our local court last Friday night in a real contest of skill. The girls played two divisions for the first time during the first half and were very successful at their first attempt. Mr. Neil of Tonk Creek served as the referee during the battle. They really played a wonderful game and as a result won another victory for Haskell at a score of 22 to 11.

The girls who began the game were:

- Rose Cousins, center.
 - Christine Tucker, center.
 - Maggie Lee Pland, guard.
 - Violet Harrell, forward.
 - Edith Moody, guard.
 - Anne Ruth Bates, forward.
 - Helen Bland, forward.
- These girls were aided by Maurine Moser, Louise Zahn, Naomi Barnett and Paye Strickland.

F. F. A.'s IN CAGE TOURNAY

Members of the Agriculture classes went to Abilene last Saturday for a basketball tournament, and an officers meeting. In the tournament, Haskell played Bradshaw, with a score of 17-39 in favor of Bradshaw. Haskell won fifth place in the district. Boys playing on the club team were Edwin Bledsoe, W. H. Starr, Wodorow Roberts, Wallace Stark, Wilfred Bischofhausen, Lee Stodghill, Alvie Mapes.

Other club boys making the trip were Virgil Meadors, Earl Wiseman, Roy Wiseman, Robert Barnett, Lynn Pace, James Roy Akins, Jack Harris, Brantley Massey, Mr. H. T. Sullivan.

CAN YOU ANSWER THESE?

What boy comes into the study hall most mornings with a match in the northeast corner of his mouth? Does Dugan go to Rule with any amount of regularity, and if so, why? Who cooperates with J. D. in preparing his English assignment? What senior girl never picks up her feet when she walks? (Wears black boots.) Is there any truth in the rumor that a high school boy was seen at the O'Brien game with lipstick on his face? (His face, mind you!) What all does Miss Vick put in her black notebook? How would it seem to spend a Monday morning visiting in another school? What boy blows a fog horn as he goes under full steam down the crowded hall? Do any of Mr. Mason's pupils have any difficulty in hearing what he says? Did anybody resolve not to be tardy so often in 1935? Could you find any tall girls in the freshman class? What senior boy has 'beat' what senior boys' time with what freshman girl? Can any one, and if any one can,

will anyone pass 'mid term' exams?

WOOOPS

The philosophy of John E. Fouts: If the Lord loves all the girls, why can't I love a dozen?

John K.—The moon shines bright; may I see you home tonight?

Anita Joe—The stars are shining too; I don't care if you do.

The gloom of Robert Wheatley accounted for—Mr. Richey's assignment in physics: "Finish up lightning today and tomorrow we will go to town."

Blondie's interest in Stamford is not as great as usual according to the last report, and her one and only love is now a gentleman in the form of Hugh Shelby.

Say! George Stoneman surely ought to be in the seventh grade from all that I can hear about him and Mickey Lee Tidwell.

Freshman—Irresponsible. Sophomore—Irresponsible. Junior—Irresponsible. Senior—Irresponsible.

Since Anne Barnett has her new permanent, she goes by the name of "Fuzzy" for John Darnell.

PERSONALS

Odell Barton, one of the members of the Freshman class, has been very ill. He was taken to the Stamford hospital last week, where he was given several blood transfusions. The last report was that he was somewhat better. All the students, and especially the freshmen, hope that he will soon recover and be back with us again.

Fannie Mae Pullin, a former member of the Freshman class, is now attending school in Milford, Texas. John Darnell, Ernest McMillan, and Kathryn Kinney were absent from school a part of last week.

Mary Lou Smith, a former member of Saperton school, is now a student of Haskell High School, and a member of the Junior class.

The Juniors regret very much the loss of one of our members, and basketball players Grace Rose, who has returned to her home in the Rose community.

Lea Jenkins was absent from school last week because of the illness and death of one of his triplet sisters. The students extend sympathy to Leo and his family.

Luther League Meeting.

The meeting was held in the home of Miss Erna Puschel. The meeting opened with a song. Prayer by Lena Moeller. Scripture, Henry Rueffer. Song, "God Will Take Care of You", by August, Minna and Selma Steinfath. Poem, Lily Drusedow. Talk, "God's Grand Old Blessing," Anna Steinfath. Song, "Leave It There", by Edna, Lydia and Walter Moeller. Reading, "Hitherto Has the Lord Helped Us," August Steinfath. "Advantages of Joining the Federation," Rev. A. H. Muehlbrad. Song, "What a Friend We Have In Jesus," by Lilly, Alvin, and Lorene Drusedow.

Roll call. Reading of minutes, by secretary. Treasurer's report. Old and New Business. Collection of Dues. Hymn. We closed by repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison.

After the meeting the social hour was held, and a number of games were played.

Refreshments of weiners, bread, pickles, cakes, coffee and punch was served to the following members and visitors: Misses Lena and Edna Moeller, Anna and Minnie Steinfath, Erna and Adele Puschel, Bertha and Louise Rueffer, Amanda and Mathilde Moeller, Selma and Lena Steinfath, Leona Puschel, Lydia Moeller, Lilly, Lorene and Henrietta Drusedow, Messrs.  QUALITY ECONOMY

Follow The Straight Line

"A straight line is the shortest distance between two points." That holds for any two points—your pocketbook and your list of wants, for example. Follow the straight line, and you'll save yourself time, trouble and money.

Use the advertising columns of this newspaper as guide posts. In them, you find late news of what's to be had in the markets of the world. No need for you to meander about from store to store, comparing, pricing, judging, guessing values. The advertisements tell you the names of merchants and manufacturers you can trust. There you read what's new, what's favored, what's offered confidently for your inspection. The advertisements in this paper take you into more stores than you could visit in a week.

There's no high-pressure selling, no rush, no uncertainty to this review of markets. Form the good habit of shopping by the straight-line method—you'll buy with assurance, with economy and with satisfaction.

HORRIFYING AUTO DEATH LIST

Automobile accident figures for 1934, just made public, are indeed horrifying, but the strange thing about it is that the American public seemingly just refuses to be horrified by this staggering death toll. Considering that automobiles last year killed almost as many Americans as did German guns during the World War, the figures ought to impress us with the fact that our motor traffic situation constitutes one of our most pressing problems, but apparently we ignore the warning for year after year passes and we do absolutely nothing to correct the situation. Probably the reason the American people as a whole are not genuinely appalled by the awful death toll caused by the automobile is because it does not come close home. It is someone else who gets killed, someone else who gets injured, and because it has never happened to us we overlook the possibility that we may be next. So we accept these traffic fatality figures with the most amazing complacency and calmly go about setting a new record for automobile deaths.

Suppose we start adding up the figures and computing the percentages to see what we get. To begin with, slightly more than a million people were killed or injured in automobile accidents in 1934. There are approximately 25,000,000 automobiles in the United States. That means that the chances are about one in 25 that you will be killed or injured in an automobile accident this year. If some kind of epidemic were sweeping the country, causing a million persons to be ill and 36,000 to die in 12 months, and knowing that you had one chance in 25 of catching the disease, you would be really alarmed. You'd probably be taking all kinds of nostrums and preventatives, and demanding that the health authorities take the most drastic measures to get the disease under control. We wouldn't be the least bit complacent about that kind of situation, so why should we accept the automobile death toll as just a matter of course?

Fortunately the traffic problem can be solved if a sincere effort is made to do it, for while the death rate in the country at large increased 16 per cent last year, there were some states that actually reduced their fatality rate. It is worthy of notice that most of these states have strict financial responsibility laws and likewise, in the main, they are states with adequate highway patrol forces and rigid license laws. By attacking the problem vigorously along these lines it is possible to reduce the automobile death rate and there is no excuse for not taking such action. The situation has become a challenge and there should be no further delay in inaugurating a drastic, far-reaching program to correct conditions now existing.

PAY YOUR POLL TAX

With the deadline for the payment of State and county taxes drawing near, the citizens of Haskell county are reminded that poll tax receipts may come in handy several times during the coming year, though 1935 is considered an "off year" in political circles. In Haskell, the voters will be called upon to elect aldermen and school board members in April. A vote on the repeal of the Dean law, Texas' prohibition law is slated for sometime in the early fall. Besides the above questions there will probably be an election on several constitutional amendments before the close of the year. The man or woman who possesses a poll tax receipt this year may find it a good investment. Be a good citizen and purchase your poll tax before January 31st.

A Good Bargain for Grocer Jones!

SOME of the 15 out-of-town checks deposited by Grocer Jones yesterday, will travel a week before the money they represent will be back in our hands. These 15 checks may in that time entail a total of 180 clerical operations, with stationery, postage, etc., costing this and other banks 60 cents or more, handling expense alone.

Grocer Jones appreciates this fact, and he, therefore, maintains a balance in his account large enough to reimburse the bank for the cost of this service. It is a "good bargain" for Mr. Jones and for the bank—neither has lost, while both have gained through worthwhile banking service.

Taxes—Taxes—Taxes

(From Franklin Flashes)
Tax the Farmer—tax his dad,
Tax whate'er he ever had;
If he's broke it's just too bad.
Go ahead and tax the man,
Tax his god and hired hand,
Tax his cow, tax her milk,
Tax his bed, tax his quilt,
Tax his pig, tax his pen,
Tax his flocks, tax his hen,
Tax his corn, tax his wheat,
Tax his wagon, tax the squeak,
Tax his wife, tax his boy,
Tax whatever gives him joy,
Tax his baby, tax his crib,
Tax his all—who gives a fib?
Get his goat—tax his ass,
Tax his horses out at grass,
Tax his fiddle, tax the bow,
Tax what he intends to sow.
Remember the Forgotten Man
In your so-called taxing plan.
He has income, so they say,
Most of which he ought to pay.
Tax the man that's on the dole,
Get him in a deeper hole.
Tax the manufacturer, too,
He is more than getting through.
Tax the man who works for him,
Fore his pay check gets too thin.
Tax his buildings, tax his chattels,
Tax his Ford and all its rattles;
Tax his stock, tax his cash,
Tax him double if he's rash,
Tax his light, tax his power,
Tax his payroll by the hour.
If he's making more than rent,
Add another five per cent.
Tax whate'er he has to sell,
If he hollers—tax his yell.

All's A Muddle

When I get to thinking of things in a general manner, I feel sorry for everybody—farmers, laborers, bankers, merchants, insurance salesmen, barbers, housewives, working girls, school teachers, newspaper folk—just everybody.

Bankers are censured for not lending money liberally, but not by those persons for whom they are keeping it. Farmers are willing to work hard—do work hard for so little, and wage battles, do without things, to such an extent that would terrify many other types of people. Merchants are supposed to have "good things" until you investigate and then you wonder why in the heck they try to keep going—especially those merchants doing a credit business, because a lot of people can do a lot of promising to get merchandise on the credit and then do a lot of forgetting when it comes time to pay. Salaried people bravely trying to keep things going on reduced incomes after prices on practically everything has skyrocketed.

It doesn't matter what profession we are in; what line of business we follow—we are all in it together; perhaps thinking the "other fellow's lot" is easier. Such is not the case, because everything is in a muddle and all of us are the muddlers.

PETTICOATS RULE IN GEORGIA TOWN

OAK PARK, Ga.—Pettycoat rule has come to this town of 500, for the mayor and all the council members are women.

The town doesn't seem so surprised as did the outside world. In fact, it was a group of men who suggested that the women be candidates, after Mayor M. H. Strange, the retiring official, declined to be a candidate for re-election after he had met with little success in obtaining reforms which he thought would improve the town.

Mrs. Solomon S. Youmans, wife of the town's only physician, is the new mayor.

A majority of the women are in favor of the female regime, which they hope will be to produce a better town. But there were some who apparently dissenters, for the night before the election, the town jail was soaked with gasoline and burned.

Bargain Beaver Skins

NOTICE TO BANKING CORPORATIONS

Notice is hereby given to all banking corporations in Haskell county, Texas, that the Commissioners' Court of said county will on the second Monday in February, A. -CURRENT COMMENT-

DON'T TAKE HUEY SERIOUSLY (Wheeling Register)

In accordance with his previously announced plan of procedure, Huey Long stood up in the senate chamber and discussed for two hours his suggestion that he (Huey) could run this country very much better than President Roosevelt is running it; and that arrangements should be made to turn over to him as much authority as possible right now; and turn it all over to him in 1936. There was a big crowd in the galleries. But the crowd did not take Huey seriously. They laughed a good deal and applauded very little.

The above caption: "Don't Take Huey Seriously" is intended to apply only to the Louisiana senator's plans for taking over the government of the United States and converting the United States into a Utopian fairyland—not to what he has done in Louisiana. The people down there are taking him seriously. And rightly so. He has put a lot of drastically radical measures into effect down there and the people are getting together and are discussing various methods of undoing the harm that has already been done and removing the danger of greater harm in the future. Things look so bad down there that even methods of violence are being discussed. All that of course merely proves that Senator Long's ideals are as bad, or even worse, than we realized when he actually succeeded in having laws enacted to carry out those ideals. That is just additional proof that the United States does not want Huey as its absolute ruler. And it also furnishes further proof—if further proof were needed, which is isn't—that Huey is not going to be seated upon a throne and handed a crown and scepter and told to rule the United States just as he pleases.

Having a member of the Senate condemn the Roosevelt administration for being too conservative and having such condemnation expressed in such violent language as Huey used sounds strange even today. But if anybody had predicted anything of this kind a year or so ago, such predictor would have been set down as absolutely crazy. At that time most of the complainers were telling us that the Roosevelt administration was far too radical. One obvious conclusion to be drawn from that is that the present administration must be following a pretty safe, sane and middle-of-the-road course. Unless that were the case, one could hardly imagine that the administration would be abused one year for being too radical, and abused the next year for being too conservative; when, as a matter of fact its general policies had remained practically unchanged.

In his speech, Senator Huey Long said that the country under Roosevelt is going "straight to Hell." Maybe so. But as far as the Register is concerned, a "Franklin Roosevelt Hell" is far preferable to an "Huey Long Heaven."

Upon the failure of the Banking Corporation that may be selected as such depository to give the required bond the amount of such certified check shall go to the county as liquidated damages.

Haskell County History

50 Years Ago Today

The bungalow cottage being erected by O. E. Patterson is fast nearing completion. When finished, Mr. Patterson will have one of the handiest and most comfortable homes in the city.

Hon. Bruce W. Bryant left Monday night for Austin, where he will be up his duties as representative, in the legislature convenes. On last Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Bledsoe, their sweet and accomplished daughter, Miss Theima, was married to Mr. Allen D. Adams, one of Haskell's fine young men. George Bevers performed the ceremony that made them man and wife. Clothes Budget of $1000 Held 'Ample' For 'Best Dressed'

NEW YORK.—Any American woman needs a clothes budget of only $1000 a year to win the title of "best dressed," Ernst Dryden, designer for French and American dressmakers, asserted here, adding, "taste, not cash, is the deciding factor in good dressing." He scoffed at estimates that fashion leaders had to spend as much as $50,000 annually on their wardrobes. Here is his budget for dressing well on $1000:

Three suits, $200, three evening dresses $115; a black silk afternoon dress $35; two wool dresses $35; two silk daytime dresses $35; four wash dresses $24; ix hats $30; ten pairs shoes $75; six pairs gloves $16; three coats $200; two blouses $15; two sweaters $6; two skirts $15; one raincoat $9; four handbags $12; three belts and three scarfs $15; one bath suit and accessories $15; forty-eight pairs of hose $48, and underwear and handkerchiefs $100.

Bang! And Six Fall EASTLAND, Tenn.—Six ducks with one shot is the claim of Ernest Halkias. Halkias said he got five of the ducks outright, but had to chase down the sixth. The alleged massacre occurred on a large lake.

Style Shoppe HASKELL

Geo. D. Barber, manager of the Mineral Wells Chamber of Commerce was in the city Tuesday and met with a representative group of business men from Haskell, Rule, and Rochester for the purpose of creating interest in the Brazos river development project.

Those who attended the meeting from Haskell were N. I. McCollum, M. B. Watson, Jno. A. Couch, Troy V. Post, F. L. Daugherty, Sam A. Roberts, Courtney Hunt and H. C. King. Rule: T. P. Hornbeck, J. C. Davis, Jr., Jim McCoy, E. B. Harris, S. M. Davis, W. H. McCandless, and O. Cole. Rochester: John Mansell, J. L. Teal, D. R. Brown, A. M. Reeves, Bob Speck and J. S. Walton.

A County Board was organized at the meeting and the following were elected: Courtney Hunt, chairman, Haskell; T. P. Hornbeck and S. M. Davis, Rule; J. L. Teal and D. R. Brown, Rochester; T. C. Cahill and Jno. A. Couch, Haskell; S. N. Reed, O'Brien; D. M. Guinn, Sagerton; and Dr. James F. Cadenhead, Weiner. An idea of the magnitude of the proposed $30,000,000 development of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District may be gained from the map of the watershed drained by the Brazos River and its tributaries. It is a huge area extending from Palmer, Bailey and Cochran counties on the line of New Mexico in the northwest part of the state to Fort Bend county on the Gulf of Mexico.

One of the largest projects shown on the map is No. 2 dam on the Haskell-Stonewall county line. This dam when completed, according to engineers estimates will be sixty-one line near the southeast corner of Haskell county and will be 115 feet high and will submerge approximately 12,900 acres.

In addition to the 12 major dams as indicated on the map there will be a score or more of smaller projects on the upper Brazos and tributaries.

The Brazos River project is the first plan ever drawn up in this country for development of water resources on a watershed basis.

It is credited by many with being the pattern for the present Tennessee Valley Authority.

It will be presented to Congress in a bill calling for a $30,000,000 loan which will pay for the construction of 12 major dams, numerous smaller dams, other control and reclamation work, and surveys of underground and other water resources in the upper reaches of the watershed.

It is the only measure of its kind in which a state has made any tangible offer of cooperation. The last legislature voted for a diversion of taxes in 10 overflow counties of the lower Brazos for 20 years, to provide funds for amortizing the loan—and as a gesture of the state's good faith.

The Brazos project is the work of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District, using the technical services of the state board

S. Soil Erosion Service in Washington. This is not, however, a part of the bill now pending before Congress.

Uses Stored waters will be under control of the district and may be used for any beneficial purpose that may be decreed by directors of the district, to be for the best public interest.

- (1) Between 1,000,000 and 3,000,000 acres will be protected from harmful overflow. (2) Irrigation will be made available to 500,000 acres. (3) Between 250,000,000 and 300,000,000 kilowatt hours of electrical energy may be generated annually.

purposes and for all other purposes permitted by the state constitution. (4) To construct suitable works for the prevention of soil erosion and depletion. The project, if granted, will take from five to 10 years to complete.
