Local woman jailed for June 23 burglary

A Clarendon woman remains in jail this week following her arrest for burglarizing a local business.

Jennifer Nichole Steele, age 38, was being held on a $5,000 bond for breaking into the Clarendon Outpost and stealing money.

Donley County Sheriff Butch Blackburn said his office was called about 5:45 a.m. on June 23 after the business' drive thru window was discovered broken out. Deputy Oddie Smith investigated and determined Steele was responsible. He arrested her later that same day.

Blackburn said Steele is also wanted out of Colorado for burglary in that state as well.

The sheriff's office also recently responded to a vehicle theft at Clarendon ISD.

Blackburn said a pickup truck was reported stolen from the school bus barn on June 20. The sheriff department's investigation identified 17-year-old Levi Hazelwood as the lone suspect in that case, and a warrant has been issued for his arrest.

The Parker Heights Police Department, near Killeen, recovered the pickup on June 26. Blackburn said Hazelwood has family in that area.

Pee wee football sign-ups to be held

Clarendon Pee Wee Football will hold sign-ups for 3rd, 4th, 5th, and 6th grades for the 2018 season on Tuesday, July 10, and Thursday, July 12, from 6:00p.m. - 8:00 p.m., at the practice field, just north of the bus barn.

The cost will be $80 per child. Please bring a copy of your child's birth certificate.

Booths available for July 23 festivities

The NewsChannel Ten Summer Celebration will be in Clarendon on the evening of Monday, July 23, and booths and activities are available for organizations interested in hosting those.

Court gives Carroll 14-year sentence

The District Court heard five pleas when it met in Clarendon on Monday, July 2, at the Donley County Courthouse.

District Attorney Luke Inman, along with Assistant District Attorney Harley Caudle, prosecuted the cases for the State of Texas, with the Honorable Judge Stuart Messer presiding.

Thomas Lee Wayne Carroll was convicted and sentenced to 14 years in the Institutional Division of the TDCJ for the second degree felony offense of assault on a public servant, enhanced.

Carroll, 31 from Clarendon, was arrested by Donley County Deputy Randy Stubblefield on April 10, 2017. Carroll originally was placed on felony probation when he pleaded guilty on October 10, 2017.

The State filed its motion to adjudicate on April 2, 2018, alleging three violations of community supervision. Pursuant to the plea agreement, Carroll is also required to pay a $6,000 fine to Donley County and $398 in court costs.

Britany Marie Maxey pleaded guilty and was placed on deferred adjudication community supervision for eight years for the first degree felony offense of possession of a controlled substance in penalty group 2, THC.

Maxey, 24 from Tuscon, Ariz., was arrested in Carson County by DPS Trooper Robert Bowden on June 2, 2018. Maxey pleaded guilty to an information filed by the State on June 29, 2018.

Pursuant to the plea agreement, Maxey is also required to pay a fine of $8,000 to Carson County, $336 in court costs, $180

Train smashes truck

A semi-truck carrying an oversized load for Moved By Love, LLC, was moved by a Burlington Northern Santa Fe freight train Saturday afternoon, June 30.

The Department of Public Safety said the truck driver, Cedric Lynn Hornbuckle of Houston, was southbound on FM 1260 following another oversized load, carrying coils of large pipe, when the first truck came to US 287. The first truck stopped at the highway; and although the railroad signals began flashing, the drivers thought they could both get onto the highway. The first truck could not move quick enough, and the crossing arms came down on the second truck. Hornbuckle escaped, and no injuries occurred.

The railroad crossing remained closed for repairs until Tuesday. Hornbuckle was issued a citation for disregarding a railroad crossing.

Law enforcement personnel respond to a train v. truck incident Saturday afternoon.

Rural college board taps CC president

Clarendon College President Dr. Robert Riza has been appointed to the Commission on Small and Rural Colleges at the American Association of Community Colleges (AACC).

Riza

"Obviously it is an honor to be chosen to serve on this commission," Riza said. "I look forward to working with my colleagues from around the country."

CC serves Donley, Gray, Childress, Armstrong, Briscoe, Hall, Collingsworth, and Wheeler counties in the eastern Texas Panhandle, and has dual credit partnerships with Miami ISD in Roberts County and Panhandle, White Deer, and Groom ISDs in Carson County. The college, which has four campuses (Clarendon, Pampa, Childress and Amarillo) has more than a $44.5 million impact on the region.

While CC is a small community college, its size is an advantage in terms of student success.

"Being one of the smallest schools in Texas isn't an issue, we don't use our size as an excuse but as motivation to achieve great things," Riza said.

Walter G. Bumphus, Ph.D., president and CEO of the AACC, wrote in a letter to Dr. Riza, "We are sure that your insights and leadership will significantly contribute to the Board's decision-making process and its ability to serve the interests of all AACC member institutions."

This appointment is a three-year term, and Riza will serve through June 2021.

City raises cost of water to Greenbelt

The City of Clarendon voted to renew its contract with Greenbelt Water Authority for the sale of groundwater during the regular city council meeting June 29.

Aldermen voted to increase the price the city charges Greenbelt for raw water from 53 cents per thousand gallons to 58 cents.

The council then voted in a separate motion to approve a new three-year contract with the water authority for that rate.

In other city business, Mayor Sandy Skelton read a proclamation recognizing the JA Ranch for its contribution of $25,000 to the city's water recreation project.

The council met in closed session for 25 minutes for the annual evaluation of City Secretary Machiel Covey. Following the closed session, aldermen voted to give Covey a four percent salary increase and raise her car allowance from $40 per month to $80.

In his report, City Administrator David Dockery gave an update on code compliance work, said the city is accepting bank depository bids, and said a pre-construction meeting will be held soon on the USDA water infrastructure project.

Aldermen also spent some time working on the fiscal year 2019 budget.

Mayor Skelton announced the Texas Municipal League's next Region 2 meeting will be hosted by Tulia and held in Amarillo on July 19. The council also received a thank you note from the Bread of Life for its donation to the food pantry.

President's 'Travel Ban' a 'Muslim Ban'

By Ilya Somin, Cato Institute

There are none so blind as they who choose not to see. That saying captures the grave error the Supreme Court made in Tuesday's travel ban decision.

They did so even though, during the 2016 campaign, Trump repeatedly called for a "Muslim ban" forbidding Muslims from entering the United States.

The overwhelming majority of the people barred by the "proclamation" are Muslim, and there is little if any evidence indicating that their exclusion protects national security.

In any other circumstance, such clear and overwhelming evidence of discriminatory motive, combined with the absence of legitimate justifications, would be a violation of the First Amendment, which bans government policies that discriminate on the basis of religion.

Just three weeks ago, in the Masterpiece Cake-shop case, the court invalidated a judgment against a baker who had violated state anti-discrimination laws by refusing to provide a cake for a same-sex wedding.

The evidence of bigoted motivation in the travel ban case is far stronger. Chief Justice Roberts' opinion cites Trump's statements, and assumes that they are relevant evidence.

This approach comes close to gutting the Bill of Rights as a constraint on presidential power over immigration. Almost any discriminatory exclusion can be justified on the theory that the people barred pose some sort of threat, especially if the courts refuse to consider the quality of the evidence that supposedly justifies such claims.

Nothing in the Constitution justifies such near total exclusion of immigration policy from the constraints of the First Amendment. Like most of the rest of the Bill of Rights, the amendment is phrased as a general constraint on government power, not one limited to particular types of policies, or protecting only a specific group of people, such as citizens of the United States.

It is true that immigration and national security policy involve issues on which the executive has greater expertise than the courts. But the same can be said of many other policies covered by the Bill of Rights, including those involving internal violence and terrorism.

Roberts endorses the government's claim that the travel ban is based on a "worldwide review process." But that supposedly thorough review produced a cursory report only 17 pages long, and the resulting proclamation does not even consistently apply the report's supposed "information-sharing" criteria for determining which nations should be subject to a travel ban and which should not.

The majority also emphasizes that the travel ban does not cover all the Muslims in the world. But that does not change the fact that those countries it does cover were barred because the vast majority are Muslim.

In one of the few bright spots in Tuesday's decision, the court overrules Korematsu v. United States, the notorious 1944 ruling in which the court used deference to the executive to uphold the cruel policy of internment thousands of Japanese-Americans who posed no real security threat during World War II.

Brother, can you spare a Bible?

She's persuasive without being pushy, soliciting Bibles with resolve like the late Clara Peller. You'll recall how Clara continually questioned, "Where's the beef?" in Wendy's long-ago hamburger commercials.

The comparison to Peller ends with "resolve," however. Dallas' Jo Witte - staring 90 in the face - isn't seeking fame or fortune.

A while back, she read about the SoupMobile Church in South Dallas. She was moved by the pastor's prayers for 10,000 Bibles - the number needed to provide one for every homeless person in Dallas.

Jo is neither hungry nor homeless, but she took the appeal personally. She committed to collecting 1,000 Bibles, and is well on the way....

"Most all Christians have extra Bibles," she commented. "When they learn of specific projects like this, they're eager to help out."

She requested help from Bill Hinds, one of my fellow church members Jo knew during their childhood years in Weatherford. He, in turn, alerted his life group (Sunday school class) members about the project.

The sprightly lady told of other churches she has called on. They, too, are participating in this "Good Book" project for Dallas' homeless folks. "So many prayers have been answered along the way," Jo said....

She gives little thought to time spent and expenses incurred as she drives around the Metroplex, telling her

"Bible story." Clearly, she'd rather "wear out than rust out."

One man, hearing about the project, said, "My late brother left a big box of Bibles. Now I know what to do with them..."

David Timothy, pastor of the Soup-Mobile Church, says it is an outgrowth of the SoupMobile food project begun in 2003 to "feed the homeless."

SoupMobile Church began Sunday services three years ago. Located at 2423 South Good Latimer, it overflows regularly. Several dozen worshippers sit in folding chairs outdoors to hear Pastor Timothy's sermon.

No offerings are taken, and volunteers give $2 to each attendee, a financial "jump start" for the new week. It is common for the total figure to reach $500....

Timothy said that for years, he felt something to be missing. "We were feeding their stomachs without feeding their souls."

the idle american by don newbury

The Good Book tells us that the poor will be with us always, and is replete with lessons that we all are made in God's image.

There are destitute folks in all communities. Maybe Jo Witte "clones" will rise up - determined to join the quest for Bibles to provide spiritual food....

That's also the prayer of the spunky woman, widowed seven years ago. Upon mounting this project, she has a new lease on life. It has become a source of excitement, and she awakens each morning with eager anticipation.

How many Bibles could you round up? If you'd like to know what got Jo Witte started, peruse the Dallas Morning News' archives of February 10, 2018. Look for a big picture of the SoupMobile Church, on the front page of Section B, and the headline: "Pastor finds it's better to give."

During His earthly ministry, Jesus repeatedly admonished: "He who has ears to hear, let him hear." His words still ring true....

The story of 'Blanche The Movie'

Some years ago a man in a pickup was traveling on a ranch road south of Alpine. The man's dog riding in the bed of the pickup saw a chicken and decided to jump out and chase it.

The man behind the movie is Sam Pfister of Georgetown. He and his friend Steve Davis started talking about chickens and Sam recalled an incident that occurred in Fort Stockton during the 1950's.

They often made bets with each other, sometimes involving ridiculous things. One ignited the community's interest. "It was between two fellows on whose chicken could fly the furthest," says Sam, who used to live in Fort Stockton. "They enlisted a pilot who had an air service. Ranchers hired him to do predator control by shooting coyotes from his old Piper Cub. They made a deal with him to take the chickens to one thousand feet and throw them out of the plane.

"A whole lot of people got involved and a lot of money was on the line. Unbeknownst to the owners of the chickens, the pilot had bet on one of the chickens. So as he was taking the chickens up he put the one he was betting against behind the pilot's seat and plucked a few feathers." Legend says the pilot had roast chicken that night. There were shouts of foul play.

Sam and Steve wrote a screenplay stories of texas by tumbleweed smith

about the bet. "It took a month to write, but much longer to convince people we were going to make a movie." This is a movie made by amateurs, the first film most of the participants had ever done.

The only people paid were the videographer and editor. Sam's brother Ed is a personal injury lawyer in Los Angeles and in the movie he has filed a suit at the courthouse in Fort Davis on behalf of the lady whose chicken was chased by the dog in the pickup.

The movie trailer is on Twitter, Facebook and Instagram and includes interviews with the actors. Twelve days after the trailer was available for viewing 200,000 people all over the world looked at it. Sam is trying to get the movie in other theaters.

Blanche The Movie was shot in two weeks around Alpine and Marfa by people with the West Texas can-do why-not attitude. "It's a heartwarming and uplifting movie, rated PG, and is really about old friendships and caring about others," says Sam.

Be aware of door-to-door sales scams

Hi, gang! Please remember that Sheriff Blackburn warns us that "If it's happening in Amarillo, it is happening in Donley County." All solicitors are required to obtain a permit from the City of Clarendon, prior to doing any type of door to door sales in Clarendon. If someone comes to your door without one, or refuses to provide proof, call the Sheriff's Office at 806-874-3533. And even if they do have one, but you don't feel comfortable or want more reassurance that it is valid, please call the City of Clarendon at 806-874-3438.

When a door-to-door salesperson comes to your door, my advice to you is DO NOT answer your door and watch to make sure they leave your property. If they don't leave or start to the back of your house, call the Sheriff's Office at 911 and advise them what is happening. They will send an officer to check. Door-to-door magazines scams are the worst and home repair scams are second. Remember these scammers will try any trick to get your money, and I feel you can't be too careful especially us older folks. This week door-to-door Home Security Sales. Bob

"Be Wary of Door-to-Door Home Security Sales" by Kathy Stokes, AARP.

The summer months unleash door-to-door sales agents across the country. We've received reports of a scam run by con artists claiming to be from home security companies. While many home security companies conduct legitimate business using door-to-door sales agents, be wary of anyone using high-pressure tactics or creating a false sense of urgency – common traits of a scam!

How It Works: It may be a scam if an agent comes to your door offering a great promotion on a home alarm system, but you have to act now to get the deal. Or, if you have a home alarm company sign in your yard, the person may say he is a technician from that company and he's there to install system upgrades. Yet another twist is that the person will say he is from a company that bought out your current home alarm company, and he has to install new equipment.

What You Should Know: Home security scams are hard to spot because scammers work hard to make the deal look legitimate. The scam artist may claim you'll get a big insurance discount by purchasing an alarm system, but that isn't always the case. A legitimate alarm company would never send a technician to upgrade equipment without first making an appointment with you.

What You Should Do: Realize that not all salespeople are legitimate

by bob watson

and approach a door-to-door deal with caution. Rather than accepting offers at your door, get references from friends and neighbors when looking to buy a home security system and then reach out to the company yourself. When you are approached by a door-to-door sales agent, research the company by entering its name into an online search engine, to see if any complaints come up. If you do decide to accept a door-to-door offer, read the fine print.

The written contract should include everything you agreed to orally. And triple check the contract length to make sure it suits your situation and needs. If you do sign up for a home alarm system or an upgrade, and then regret it, you have a three day "cooling off" period during which you can cancel your purchase, thanks to a rule by the Federal Trade Commission. It applies if you sign the contract at home or a location that is not the seller's permanent place of business.

When it comes to fraud, vigilance is our number one weapon. You have the power to protect yourself and your loved ones from scams. Please share this alert with friends and family.

Amarillo Police advises area residents not to answer your door to someone you don't know, especially after dark or if you are home alone.

Stay safe out there.

Celebrating our Declaration of Independence

This week we celebrate our Declaration of Independence from British rule that happened in 1776, more than 240 years ago. At the time, Britain was the most powerful country in the world with colonies scattered everywhere. They were using America as a dumping ground for prisoners and undesirables thus establishing classes of independent, strong-willed individuals who were willing to fight for the right to survive.

The American Revolution started many years earlier with the erosion of rights of the colonies to self-govern. King George III seemed determined to make American citizens dominated by the British as the citizens were in Britain. Taxes were collected without representation in the legislation, tariffs were imposed, British troops were quartered in homes and inns without recourse, and finally," the shot heard around the world," the first armed conflict between the British and American militia at Lexington and Concord, Mass.

This revolution was something the colonists went into with deep soul-searching but by the early part of 1776 the situation was becoming intolerable with colonial legislatures sending delegates to Philadelphia to the Continental Congress to work out details for action.

On June 11, 1776 the 2nd Continental Congress appointed a committee to draft a formal declaration of independence from Britain. Those committee members were Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Roger Livingston, and Roger Sherman The committee elected Thomas Jefferson to write the first draft which he completed in one day.

After some revising and tweaking, the document was presented to congress on June 28. On July 2, 1776, twelve of the 13 colonies voted in favor of the Declaration with New York abstaining until July 14 when their legislation could convene. On July 4, 1776, Congress formally endorsed the Declaration, and we were at war.

We now celebrate those very brave men and women every July in Clarendon with a parade, barbecue, turtle races, rodeo and dancing on the slab with some fireworks thrown in there.

Take time to remember those early brave folks; and if you have ancestries that fought in the Revolutionary War, tell their story to your children, and don't let their stories die.

Boy Scouts practice skills learned at camp

Continuing from last week's article about Boy Scout camp at Camp MK Brown: On Wednesday after breakfast, we went to Polaroid and we worked on our Totin' Chip and our Firem'n Chit. A Totin' Chip allows us to carry pocket knives and hatchets, and our Firem'n Chit allows us to make a fire and teaches us fire safety. We did the same thing as normal, and went to first aid and swimming merit badge.

Instead of kayaking, a few of us just went back to camp for free time so we could take showers and we could play badminton before dinner that night.

That night we each got to make our own individual fires. After that, we used our fires to make one huge fire in the middle. Before we went to bed, we made s'mores and played Uno.

Thursday was the same as Wednesday.

But on Friday, our final day, we had the campwide games. And so Darius did trivia then ran down the cub reporter

by benjamin estlack

and tagged Steven at leather working. Then Jacob R. ran the leather finger guard to Nathan, who did marksmanship, and then he went and tagged Phineas, who paddled across the lake to get a kit full of first aid handed them to Daniel and Tanis, who ran the first aid to me, Jacob M., and Blake. We had to treat a broken wrist and a gashed palm then transport the patient to the dining hall where we performed CPR to Koltyn.

We sadly didn't win overall, but we did do best in Marksmanship and First Aid.

I had a lot of fun at camp, and I hope to go to winter camp this year.

House fails to pass immigration bills

WASHINGTON - US Congressman Mac Thornberry (R-Clarendon) released the following statement after the House failed to pass both H.R. 4760, the "Securing America's Future Act of 2018," and H.R. 6136, the "Border Security and Immigration Reform Act:"

"I am disappointed that the House was not able to pass either of the immigration bills. Among other immigration provisions, both bills supported border wall infrastructure, addressed DACA recipients, and provided additional border security personnel. These bills were a much needed step in the right direction.

"There are moments that we cannot get everything we want, but we have to move forward and do what is best for the country, without letting politics stand in the way."

Congressman Thornberry voted in support of both immigrations bills.

Both bills would: Improve border security by including full funding of a border wall and increasing technology and law enforcement officials on the border.

Reform our legal immigration system by eliminating the lottery visa program and replacing it with a merit-based system. Family visas would be focused on uniting the nuclear family.

Allow DACA recipients to apply for a renewable status (3 years under H.R. 4760 and 6-years under H.R. 6136) to pursue existing pathways to green cards and further legal immigration processes.

Eligibility Requirements: entry into the U.S. prior to June, 15, 2007; 16 years of age at the time of entry; under 31 years of age on June 15, 2012; enrolled in an educational institute in the U.S. or has acquired a high school diploma/GED; and no serious criminal convictions.

Ensure families detained when attempting to enter the country illegally are able to stay together.

Comptroller issues guidance on high court's tax ruling

(AUSTIN) — Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar last week issued initial guidance on the implications of the recent U.S. Supreme Court decision in Wayfair v. South Dakota, commonly referred to as Wayfair.

"As is often the case with Supreme Court decisions, the principles can be applied broadly on a nationwide basis, including here in Texas," Hegar said. "But it's up to my office to implement those principles in the way that best serves the state of Texas, our citizens and the businesses operating here. We're going to make sure we do this carefully, deliberately and with ample input from the public, the Legislature and the business community."

Under its existing legal authority, the Comptroller's office has started reviewing rules that may need updating. Hegar stressed, however, that this would not include any retroactive application of the new law to remote sellers that have no physical presence in Texas.

"We're looking forward to working with those affected businesses to ensure this is a smooth transition and a successful partnership," Hegar said.

Early 2019 is the target effective date for rule amendments; however, that could change pending issues that arise during the rulemaking process. Agency staff intends to meet regularly to solicit input from interested parties, including retailers, remote sellers, trade associations and the Comptroller's Taxpayer and Business Advisory Group. The agency also will consult with local taxing entities on potential impacts to local collections and allocations.

The Comptroller's office also expects the Texas Legislature to play an important role in addressing key issues when they return in January 2019.

"We have started reaching out to state leaders and legislators and will ensure they're kept fully briefed on our progress," Hegar said.

The agency anticipates that the state and local governments will see tax collections increase, but the amount depends on the implementation and resolution of several significant issues raised by the Supreme Court's ruling.

Gains from the ruling are likely to be lower than previous estimates of taxes uncollected by remote sellers. In the past year, for example, some remote sellers have volunteered to collect in anticipation of the Wayfair decision or for other reasons. Wayfair, the named plaintiff in this case, already collects Texas sales and use taxes. Also, in order to avoid imposing an undue burden on interstate commerce, the state will likely relieve some out-of-state sellers from collection responsibilities. More specific estimates will be available as the implementation and legislative process continues.

GREENBELT CELEBRATES GRAND OPENING

The stage is set and the blue waters of Lake Greenbelt — Texas' newest outdoor sports and resort lake — will become the mecca this weekend for a Grand Opening celebration in the heart of the colorful rolling plains of the eastern Panhandle.

The five-day event got underway Wednesday, May 29, 1968, with the official opening of lake fishing, and climaxes Sunday when some 25,000 outdoor fans from a 100-mile radius are expected for National Outboard Association boat races and formal dedication of the lake.

Located four miles north of Clarendon above Highway 70 on the Red River, Lake Greenbelt is owned and operated by the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority which serves member towns of Clarendon, Memphis, Childress, Quanah, Crowell and Hedley. The lake, well over half full, is expected to be one of the prime resort attractions in the Panhandle for all types of outdoor sports, boating, fishing, water skiing, skin diving as well as picnicking and even hunting in season.

Festivities get underway in earnest Thursday morning at 6 o' clock with the kick-off of the three-day fishing contest. Prizes and awards will be presented after the final weighing Saturday at 2 p.m.

Saturday night the celebration will turn into a Greenbelt Beauty Pageant with contestants from five Greenbelt towns vying at the Clarendon Junior College auditorium gymnasium. An exhibit of art from the Greenbelt area will also be shown during the pageant.

Dedication of the lake has been scheduled for Sunday, June 2, 1968 at 1 p.m. Judge Otho Dent of Austin, a member of the Texas Water Rights Commission and one of the state officials who worked with the Greenbelt project since its inception, will be the principal speaker. The Rev. Carl Nunn, minister of the First Methodist Church in Clarendon, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Greenbelt Lake was the center of attention in the Texas Panhandle when it opened with a five-day celebration in 1968.

Welcome and introduction of guests will be by Dr. S. H. Townsend of Childress, chairman of the Greenbelt Authority. The National Outboard Association boat races will get underway shortly before 2 p.m. at the close of the brief dedication ceremonies. Mike McCully, Clarendon postmaster, heads a special Greenbelt Celebration committee which is sponsoring the five-day affair in cooperation with other Greenbelt towns. The celebration is being underwritten by the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce.

The lake, already more than half of its total 60,000 acre feet capacity, is now ready to handle in excess of 25,000 people for the weekend.

Information booths, designated camping areas, boat ramps, concession stands, plus many other public facilities have been arranged for the weekend. The lake, with more than 25 miles of shoreline, will offer plenty of room for celebration weekend visitors.

"Even with big crowds, the lake will certainly not be crowded," McCully pointed out. "And for the boat races, we'll have room to spare, because fans can watch from both sides of the lake and from the dam, a real vantage point for this thrilling regatta," he added.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife

Department has already authorized an expenditure of $30,000 for improvements and facilities and more is expected to come later.

A special invitation has been issued to lake visitors to tour the new Greenbelt Lake resort, Sherwood Shores IX. The lakeside resort, located on the north side of Greenbelt adjacent to the new Clarendon Country Club, was opened last September and hundreds of lots have already been sold with home construction underway. George DeArmond, developer of Sherwood Shores, said plans call for several swimming pools, parks, and paved streets, water and utilities over the some 700-acre estates.

The estates may be entered from Highway 70 just north of the dam and will be open for inspection all weekend. More than $1,000 in "door" prizes will be awarded visitors during the grand opening Sunday. Concession stands around the lake will be operated by civic clubs and organizations in the Greenbelt area.

Members of the celebration committee include McCully, chairman; Dr. Keith Hudson, fishing contest; J. E. Kidd, boat beauty pageant; Mrs. Sandra Mooring, Beryl Clinton, Tommie Saye, Bob Bell, J. G. McAnear, Richard Tunnell, Dr. George Smith, H. M. Breedlove, Mrs. Beth Walker and Tex Selvdge.

COLLEGE MOVES TO NEW CAMPUS

Ground-Breaking Is Historical Event

A good crowd was on hand Sunday afternoon for the official Ground-Breaking ceremonies of the new College construction and the number present would have been multiplied had the weather been more cooperative.

Seated on the platform were architect representatives, college regents, State Representative J. M. "Red" Simpson, State Representative W. S. "Bill" Heatly, Mayor R. L. Gilkey and College President K. D. Vaughan, who served as master of ceremonies.

Following the program, Rep. Heatly led the platform group in the ground-breaking and this group was later joined by local citizens in turning a spade of soil. Rep. Heatly was the guest speaker for the occasion, having been quite instrumental on the state level in making this building program possible.

"I have a lot of people ask me what kind of a job our Junior Colleges do in teaching our young people college level work, the Junior Colleges themselves maintain that in many respects they do a better job of teaching Freshmen and Sophomores than the Senior institutions. They base this claim on the fact that their faculties are teaching those oriented rather than primarily interested in research. They also point out that much lower level teaching in the Senior institutions is done by Graduate Fellows rather than the faculty itself," Heatly stated.

He pointed out further "that since 1942, the Legislature has recognized that Junior college education is not strictly a local responsibility. The Legislature made an appropriation of $50 per full-time student for the students in Junior Colleges at that time.

"Since then the Legislature has seen fit to finance more of the cost of education of our students in the Junior Colleges. As recently as 1949, the cost of the State per student was less than $100. Just this last May, in the appropriations bill, which we enacted, the State of Texas will pay the Junior Colleges $475 for the first 450

More than 600 people toured the new facilities during the formal dedication of the modern Clarendon College campus in April 1969 following its opening in September 1968.

students enrolled and $450 for all above 450 students enrolled. In the case of Clarendon Junior College this amounts to almost $100,000 for the current school year. I might add that these regular State Aid appropriations in support of General Academic programs and Public Junior Colleges are in addition to State and Federal funds for Vocational/Technical education administered by the Texas Education Agency.

"At this time, I would like to emphasize just how fast education and particularly Higher Education in Texas has been growing in recent years. In 1965 we had 29,000 full-time students in our Junior Colleges; today we have 57,000. In 1965 we appropriated from the State Treasury slightly over $8 million to the Junior Colleges. Last year we appropriated nearly $24 million. So you can see that the State in just three years has tripled the amount of money used to finance Junior College education in the State of Texas," Heatly added.

Donley County Leader, December 7, 1967

Hundreds Attend Dedication at CC

Approximately 500 visitors were present in the Hamed Sisters Fine Arts Building for the Clarendon College dedication program Sunday afternoon. Over 600 toured the campus and visited the six completely new buildings where College students served as hosts.

Rev. Carl Nunn, pastor of the First United Methodist Church opened the program with the invocation. Dr. Robert Clinton, Assistant Commissioner for the Junior College Division of the Coordinating Board of Texas Colleges and Universities, was the guest speaker for the dedication and was introduced by Kenneth D. Vaughan, President of Clarendon College.

Guests were introduced by Frank Phelan, Jr., Chairman of the Board of Regents. Seated on the stage in addition to the above were members of the Board of Regents; R. E. Drennan, vice president; Bill Todd, Secretary; George Schollenbarger; Ross Springer; Billie Christal; Delbert Robertson; Chauncey Hommel; Dean Beryl D. Clinton; Jack Morris, representing R. A. Underwood Bonding Co. of Dallas; Dr. Floyd Golden and Mickey Alexander, representing Rittenberry-Alexander Architects of Amarillo; Dr. Grover Murray, President of Texas Tech at Lubbock; and Bill Dillard, President of Frank Phillips College; Borger.

Among other dignitaries present were Dr. A. B. Martin, Amarillo College; Dr. Emmett Smith, Vice President of West Texas State University, Canyon; R. E. Darnell, Dean of Frank Phillips; Dr. Weldon E. Day, former Dean of Clarendon College, Texas Tech, Lubbock; Oliver J. Abel, former Dean of Clarendon College, Frank Phillips of Borger.

The College Choir, under the direction of Steve Carter, rendered two numbers and Miss Adell Barnhill sang a solo from the college musical production "Lil Abner" which will be presented April 24-25 in the Fine Arts Building.

It is with pride that residents of the area can look upon this entirely new structure and the promise of progress that it holds for us.

The Declaration of Independence
 IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America,

When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.—We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.—That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed,—That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.—Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.—He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.—He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.—He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.—He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.—He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.—He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.—He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.—He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary powers.—He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.—He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harrass our people, and eat out their substance.—He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our legislatures.—He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power.—He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:—For Quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:—For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:—For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:—For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:—For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury:—For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences—For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:—For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments:—For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.—He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.—He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.—He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.—He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.—He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions. In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people. Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.—We, therefore, the Representatives of the united States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be Free and Independent States; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do.— And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.

Greenbelt Development Work Began In 1950

A lot of water has flowed down the Salt Fork of the Red River in the 18 years and 3 months from the first Water Compact among Donley, Armstrong and Collingsworth counties to dedication of the Greenbelt Reservoir Dam.

Actually, groundwork on preserving Texas' water rights in general and the Panhandle's water rights in particular of the Salt Fork was given impetus when several Donley County residents heard that Oklahoma wanted first call on the river's water rights. Oklahoma already had water rights of the North Fork of the Red River.

Laying the groundwork for the initial meeting of the Water Compact, which eventually evolved into the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority, were the late C. B. (Cap) Morris and J. R. Porter, Ray J. Noblitt, W. Carroll Knorpp and W. S. Whaley.

A partial timetable of events showing the progress made follows:

March 4, 1950

Water compact formed with Donley, Armstrong and Collingsworth counties participating.

April 25, 1950

Second meeting of the Water Compact held, with the organization electing Joe Jones, mayor Clarendon, president, and Mike McCully, secretary. The name Water Compact was changed to "Donley County Upper Red River Development Association."

May 10, 1950

A tri-county meeting was held and the group formed the "Upper Basins of Salt Fork, Elm Creek and Buck Creek of Red River Association." Ray J. Noblitt was chairman and W. S. Whaley, secretary. Clifford Johnson of Hedley was added as a director.

August 30, 1950

Armstrong County dropped out of the association, and directors of Donley, Collingsworth and Hall counties voted to file application for prior rights with the State Board of Water Engineers on the Salt Fork of the Red River only. The application cost $250. The Clarendon Chamber of Commerce, merchants and individuals paid the annual fee and increased their efforts to convince the State Board of Water Engineers that the claim to water rights should be extended until some action was taken by the Texas Legislature. The efforts were successful in warding off the pressure Oklahoma put on the politicians to make a swap deal so that state could get the Red River rights.

A. H. Woolverton was paid $1,500, money paid by Clarendon merchants and individuals, to determine the feasibility of building a dam on the Salt Fork of the Red River. The name of the association, in the meantime, was changed to "Upper Basin of the Salt Fork of Red River Water Association," with C. B. Morris, president, and Rayburn Smith, secretary. Smith resigned and Clifford Johnson took his place.

In 1953, R.A. Underwood Sr. of Fort Worth, the association's financial advisor, suggested the name be changed to "Green Belt Municipal and Industrial Water Association," as the term "Salt Fork" was undesirable in describing the good water of the river. Representatives and state senators were contacted to work in behalf of the association. Cooperating were Rep. Elbert Reeves of Matador, Rep. Grainger McIlhany of Wheeler, Rep. Jack Hightower of Vernon, Sen. George Moffitt of Chilocco and Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress.

April 14, 1954

A bill was introduced before the 53rd Legislature, and Gov. Allen Shivers signed the Act creating the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority, made up of Clarendon, Hedley, Memphis, Childress, Quanah, Wellington and Paducah.

May 8, 1956

Confirmation elections were held and Clarendon, Hedley, Childress, Memphis, Quanah, Paducah and Wellington approved the Authority. An election authorizing the city councils of each city to enter into a water contract with the Green Belt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority was held in all towns but Wellington, who withdrew from the Authority. Paducah turned down the issue a week later.

October 14, 1956

Crowell voted to join the authority and approved the water contract. Following the confirmation elections, Morris resigned as president, and Dr. S. H. Townsend, appointed Childress representative in 1955, was chosen for the post. Other officers were Sam Breedlove of Quanah, vice president, and Clifford Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

Other board members were W. Carroll Knorpp of Clarendon, Wendell Harrison of Memphis, Kenneth Tooley of Paducah and George Shadid of Wellington. Breedlove resigned in 1957 and Knorpp was elected vice president. Roland Walden was named the new director from Quanah. In 1959 Johnson was replaced by Kenneth Tooley of Paducah as secretary - treasurer. When Tooley moved out of the water district, William J. Lowe, a Clarendon attorney, took his place. Clifford Johnson became mayor of Hedley and Ross Springer was named a director. Springer was followed by A. W. Anderson.

Johnson resigned as mayor in 1962 and became Hedley's director again. Howard Stanley succeeded Roland Walden as Quanah director and Merle Kincaid was named director from Crowell.

Sept. 28, 1963

Five cities in the authority voted as follows on water purchase contracts: Hedley 188 For, 0 Against; Childress 1,379 For, 13 Against; Clarendon 570 For, 27 Against; Quanah 680 For, 27 Against.

Crowell voters went to the polls on Oct. 15, 1963, and voted 186 for and 127 against.

Memphis, still a member city, does not own the municipal distribution system, and did not vote for or against purchasing water from the Authority. Memphis does have a director, but he has no voting power. The city's water system is owned by the Donley County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1. The Control has contracted for a supply of water from the Greenbelt Authority.

March 29, 1966

Contracts for the dam, filtration plant and pipeline were let. Construction price was $3,685,635.96, broken down into $1,795,514.06 for the dam; $624,941, filtration plant, and $1,230,180.90, pipeline.

April 30, 1966

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held. Cap Morris was to be honored as one of the first promoters of the Authority, however; he died suddenly at home the previous day.

Greenbelt Dam 110 Feet From Bed Of River

It took 3,600,409 cubic yards of dirt to build the Greenbelt Reservoir dam to a height of 110 feet and length of 5,350 feet, according to James Kuhn, general manager of the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority.

"The dam at its widest point is 680 feet and it's 24 feet wide at the top," he added.

There is nothing inside the dam itself, but there is a 7-foot square conduit more than 600 feet long at the bottom of the dam for the spillway. The conduit runs under the highway east of the dam and opens into the river.

"Running alongside the conduit is a 36-inch service outlet which extends from the dam to the pumping station, then reduces to a 27-inch concrete pipe from the pumping station to the filter plant. The entire pipe length from dam to plant is about 10,000 feet," Kuhn said.

When full, the reservoir will be 87 feet deep at the dam, and the Greenbelt Lake will extend 4 1/2-5 miles from the dam.

"The river bed goes up 25 feet to the mile from the dam, and that will give you some idea of how deep the water will be generally," Kuhn said. "That's a pretty steep slope, so the lake will get shallow pretty quick."

In comparison, the slope of the Canadian River at Lake Meredith is about 5-feet per mile.

Negro Residents Hold Bar-B Que July Fourth

The Negro residents of Clarendon enjoyed a bountiful barbecue here July 4th as a result of their united efforts and determination.

These residents set up an organization with Johnnie Bates as president, Clifford Alexander as vice president, Bobby Ruth Louis as secretary, and Lena H. Bates as treasurer. Through donations they prepared and served food to around 500.

From what we can learn, everybody had a wonderful time and enjoyed the delicious food, according to Johnnie.

It is gratifying to know that people put forth the effort and work to have such a great time together on this occasion.

Celebrating America

"And the star-spangled banner forever shall wave O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!"
-Francis Scott Key

As we celebrate Independence Day, we are once again reminded that freedom is not free. Just as America fought for independence in 1776, American troops continue to defend freedom around the world today. July Fourth is a day to honor the men and women who have sacrificed so much to protect our liberty. It's a day to proudly celebrate our great country and the ideals it represents.

Happy Birthday, America - let freedom ring forever!

Wellington Has Had Enough of Pool Halls.

We told in Saturday's Chronicle of the burning of the pool tables at Wellington by incensed citizens, and now it is rumored that some scape grace is talking of putting in another. We hardly think the people there will allow it. They certainly should not. They have formed a law and order league. It adopted the following resolutions:

"That we hold any man, attempting in any way to establish a pool ball, bowling alley, skating rink, dive, joint, or the like, an undemocratic person, one who desires to override the wishes of an overwhelming majority of lawabiding citizens. Now, that we have publicly demonstrated our attitude, we consider any one attempting to thwart the will of the people an outlaw to society and morally unfit to be recognized as a citizen of Wellington.

"We most respectfully ask all property owners not to sell or rent their property for any kind of these degrading establishments. If the property owners will help us in this way, there will be no trouble. Even if they intend to let up in our undertaking. We are in this game to stay. The sheriff of Collingsworth county is in this fight with us. He assures us that he will use all the powers of his office to help us. We propose agitating this matter. Public opinion is with us. We use this as a fair warning to all who contemplate coming here with any of these objectionable establishments."

ARMISTICE IS SIGNED

ARMISTICE TERMS MORE DRASTIC THAN GIVEN TURKEY OR AUSTRIA

(Special By The Associated Press) NEWS, Clarendon, Texas:

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 11, 1918—Armistice signed at midnight. All fighting stopped at 5 o'clock Fort Worth time. Ex-Kaiser and all his flock of Pet Generals now in Holland.

HARROLD HOUGH, Circulation Manager, Star Telegram.

While the terms will not become public until President Wilson gives them out in an address to the Congress this morning at 11 o'clock the forecast is that the terms are more severe than those given to Turkey or Austria. They include the taking over of the entire German fleet, the disarming of the German army, the occupation of the border fortresses in Germany, the policing of the German empire, the return of all American, French and English prisoners immediately, while the Allies will not release a single German, and many other provisions which will render Germany helpless and altogether unable to again commence the struggle.

THE WAR IS OVER—all but making Germany sign on the dotted line.

Demobilization will be effected within two years after the signing of the treaty of peace, which will take place in the early spring.

The above telegram announcing the signing of the armistice between the Allies, the United States, and the German people is, as one citizen remarked this morning, "the greatest news since that announcing the birth of Jesus Christ."

That statement is not an exaggeration since it actually means the redemption of some sixty million souls and the liberating of the entire world from the thrall and menace of militarism.

The passing of the Hohenzollern dynasty means more to the human race than did the discovery of America, great as that was. It means that the last stronghold of one-man power, the last blazing example of imperialistic power thinly veiled by the world-old heresy of the divine right of kings has passed is a blood blurred paroxysm of four years duration. This paroxysm though it marked the passing of that awful thing that has caused the world its greatest terror, is also the horrible birth-pangs of the mightiest advance that has come to civilization since the Babe of Bethlehem.

The peoples of all the world will be emancipated by the peace table at which sits America and the Allies. Wrongs that have menaced the peace of the world will be righted and equitable plans will be projected that shall guarantee unto the lowliest peoples of the earth equality and comity with all nations. No pride will be supported that refuses to give the hands of helpfulness to a neighboring nation. No people, however weak, will be doomed to hear their pleas for justice and protection ignored by the mighty nations of the earth.

America has been the mightiest factor in bringing these conditions about. Without her national conscience, her patriotism, her noble, self-sacrificing peoples, her unconquerable soldiery the earth would yet be plunged into a bottomless abyss of despair and ruin from which civilization—Christian civilization—might have been unable to extricate itself. But in the immortal words of General Pershing as he stood before the tomb of Lafayette, "Lafayette, we are here," we stand on the high prominence we have attained by our duty to ourselves and our neighbors and exclaim to the whole world from pole to pole and from the farthest East to the remotest West, "Suffering humanity, everywhere, America is your friend. Your wrongs shall

The signing of the Armistice ending The Great War was celebrated with a grand affair in downtown Clarendon and was marked with singing, dancing, speeches, and even burying the Kaiser in effigy.

War's End Brings Big Celebration

The most gigantic celebration in the history of Donley County was held here Monday afternoon and lasting until midnight. The news was received here early Monday morning over a railroad wire from Fort Worth, but our people were cautious at receiving such momentous news and refused to accept it generally until The Clarendon News had the report of the signing of the armistice between Germany and the Allies, confirmed by the Star Telegram at Fort Worth. About 9:45 the whistles of the city with the wild-cat fire siren broke the news to the surrounding community and from that moment the lid was off and a general jollification ensued.

About noon The News issued a special edition of four pages giving the salient points of the armistice terms and announced the closing of all stores for the afternoon. Shortly after noon the citizenship began gathering at the intersection of Kearney and Second streets, trucks were put in place for the speakers and singers, a piano was mounted on one of the trucks and in a short time the big gathering began singing patriotic songs led by Director Shure of Clarendon College. The young ladies of the college were present, carrying flags of every allied nation together with a mammoth "Old Glory," and joined their voices with that of the public school children in the singing.

About two-thirty, a thousand men and five hundred women did a "snake dance" from one end of the business district to the other following the Stars and Stripes and after this demonstration, Judge J. H. O'Neal made a short talk on the wonderful merits of the occasion and introduced Messers W. T. be righted."

By Christmas, 1921 the boys from Clarendon and Donley County may be expected home. On this Christmas shall Clarendon celebrate their return and their valor in the most remarkable public demonstration ever thought of in this end of the world?

The News says "yes"—and no expense or trouble—will be spared.

The Clarendon News, November 11, 1918

Hayter, Tom F. Connally, W. H. Patrick, and Dr. G. S. Slover, all of who made stirring patriotic addresses. During Dr. Slover's speech, a funeral procession arrived bearing the last remains of one Mr. W. Hohenzollern, whose casket was followed by mourners in sackcloth and sashes. This sight produced great wails of applause.

After the great gathering had voiced their love and appreciation of "Old Glory" in fifteen healthy whoops led by S. M. Braswell, he also announced the public funeral of the head of the Hohenzollern house to be held on the same spot at 8 p.m.

This super-sad event was so heartrending that after a scant supper the people again gathered at the flag pole, where such a sorrow reigned that it could be voiced in no other manner than in the firing of anvils which rocked the earth, and the promiscuous shooting of fire-crackers, which brought tears to the eyes of many as the lads were so blinded by grief that they were unable to see just where they threw the vindictive crackers, many of which actually exploded in the proximity of the grief-gripped countenances of the mourners, male and female.

By the light of the great bon-fire the footsteps of the pall bearers were shown the path which led them to the impromptu stand erected for the orator whose sad duty it was to deliver the enthusiastic address over the low-lying body of the departed, who was low-lying in death as he was in life. W. T. Hayter, as master of ceremonies introduced Hon. T. F. Connally who in pitiful tones of joy pronounced the passing of imperialistic power with the demise of the fallen chief of sinners. Then in tones of retribution, the speaker pointed to the sorrowing bon-fire and called upon the pall bearers to "do their duty." With measured tread and faltering mein, the pall-bearers did do their duty and flung the corpse full upon the flickering flames which in a measure betokened the summer resort where Mister Hohenzollern will spend his vacation from earthly toil.

A paroxysm of sorrow seized those round about the funeral pyre and no other method of expression could be thought of except the aboriginal dance around the cremation, a la red man.

Full well into the wee small hours of night, the carnival of joy proceeded and no one having witnessed the doings of the day would have believed that there existed under the canopy of heaven a citizenship more patriotic or more thankful for the pleasing providence of peace than those of Clarendon and Donley County.

GERMANY REQUESTS EARLY CONFERENCE

London, Nov. 12 — Germany has requested the President of the United States, according to a German wireless from Berlin, to arrange immediately for the opening of peace negotiations, there being a pressing danger of famine.

The message was sent by Foreign Secretary Solf to Secretary of State Lansing. It said:

"The armistice being concluded, the German government requests the President of the United States to arrange for the opening of peace negotiations.

"For the purpose of their acceleration the German government proposes first of all to take into view the conclusion of a preliminary peace and asks for a communication as to what place and at what time the negotiations might begin.

Allies Demand All Submarines

Washington, Nov. 12 — Many sweeping changes in eighteen of the thirty-five armistice terms accepted by Germany were made public tonight by the state department.

One, for instance, is the demand of the Allies and the United States for all submarines, instead of the 160 mentioned in the original terms.

Others are modifications of the original terms; for instance, the number of motor lorries demanded by the Allies is fixed at 5,000 instead of 10,000.

The changes, it is presumed, were made at the meeting of the German emissaries with Marshal Foch.

DONLEY COUNTY WOUNDED IN NO DANGER NOW

In a recent letter from Capt. E. A. Simpson, who is now confined in a base hospital in France, says that he will be up in about sixty days, and that he will gather up all of those who are left.

He says that his company was cut off and did without food and water for three days and nights during the battle, because the roads were such condition that these necessities could not be moved up to them. He says God never made a finer bunch of men than Company H and that he is not permitted to say how many or how few are left. He says in the hospital with him are Ira Hanson, Herman Percival, Harry Warren, Byron Blevins, and Alva Simmons, they are all wounded but not serious. This letter contains many items which would probably be of interest but at this time will not be printed.

Besides those mentioned in last week's paper of having been wounded, we learn that Manly Ozier, Ernest Nelson, Ira Hanson, and Joe Chambers have been wounded, but not seriously. This makes a total of about twenty boys who went away with the Clarendon company who have been wounded, but none of them seriously.

DRAFT CALLS CANCELLED

The local board of Donley County has received official advices cancelling all calls ordering men from this county to the training camps and other important information. In order that there may be no misunderstanding The News is printing below the text of the message as furnished by Local Board Secretary R. H. Beville.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 12th. 1918.
Local Board, Clarendon, Texas.

The following message received today from General Crowder:

"Number Thirty-Two Fifty. Wire all local board and district board the following message in full including paragraph one, two, three and four. The secretary of war has today issued the following order to the provost marshal general: 'You will at once instruct state headquarters and local and district boards immediately to discontinue all work connected with the classification of men who on September 12th, 1918, had attained their thirty-seventh birthday. You will further instruct said board to continue to complete as expeditiously as possible classifications of all registrants who on September 12th, 1918, had attained their 19th birthday and had not attained their thirty-seventh birthday. You will finally, at the earliest appropriate moment direct all local and district boards to issue questionnaires to all registrants who on September 12th, 1918, had attained their 18th birthday and not attained 19th birthday, and proceed with and complete as early as possible the classification of such registrants.'

"Paragraph 2: Further orders will be issued later covering this matter of sending out questionnaires to classifying 18-year-old registrants."

"Paragraph 3. In entering, pursuant to the foregoing instruments come upon what seems, in view of the mighty events of the day, to be the final work of this character to be done by the selective service system, extend members of that system congratulations upon their truly great achievements of the past year and a half, achievements that have taxed to the utmost the time, the ability and endurance of all those engaged in the work, and that have furnished the army to which in a large measure must be given the credit for saving to the world both civilization and government by the people. To you, members of that system, must come a sense of duty well done. The country and the world know that it owes to you a debt of thanks and gratitude, and cannot be measured by words but only the affection, the respect, and the esteem, now yours, of those among whom you live and from whom you have taken that which was beyond price."

"In undertaking the completion of your work under the orders given. I bespeak of you the same interest and tireless energy which had characterized your work in the past."

(S) "TOWNES CROWDER"

In doing the work of the local board for Donley County, the chief clerk and the members of the board have been many times so overworked with the many duties that they have had to call upon volunteer helpers, which the department officials suggested, and this volunteer help has been of great service, patriotically assisting the board with much needed assistance.

The following have assisted the chief clerk with additional work since the September 12th registration: Joe Goldston, Fenn Bourland, Tom Goldston, Holman Kennedy and Charlie Speed. In the rush of the next few weeks in winding up the affairs of the board work, the chief clerk will need some other voluntary assistance, and the work is of such character that it may be done by either men or women, whose patriotic tender of service will be appreciated.

Historic Corner Being Improved

Opera House Served Many Years Before Advent of Picture Show

Though it still retains the name of "opera house," troupes have long since ceased to perform before the footlights.

The building is owned by James Trent at the corner of Second and Sully streets, and is said to have been constructed in 1901.

While several improvements are to be made in the appearance of the building, inside and out, the most noticeable will be new windows and an outside stucco finish.

The Trent ice plant and Castleberry grocery and market occupy the ground floor. The second floor has been used for dances and other public entertainment for a long number of years.

Howardwick Dedicates City Hall Building

Dedication ceremonies for Howardwick's new City Hall building on July 4 climaxed more than five years of continued effort on part of the residents of Howardwick to build their own town complete with municipal buildings, city government, a law enforcement agency, fire protection, businesses, churches and recreational facilities.

Springing up as a result of the new Greenbelt lake and the purchase of lakeside property from the privately owned Sherwood Shores Development Corp., the town began life with an assortment of permanently parked trailer houses and a few resort type cabins. Progress seemed to be the order of the day when on April 18, 1970 a tornado struck, destroying all but a few of the trailer houses and two of the permanent structures. Not long deterred by the frightening experience and with the continued sale of property and influx of newcomers, George Howard, recognized founder of the town, and others incorporated the town of Howardwick and received their charter in 1971.

B.B. Winkels, who had weathered the storm, was named first mayor of Howardwick and was instrumental in getting the town off to a good start. A city council was appointed and Lon Harmon became City Marshall.

Presently there are 841 permanent residents in the town of Howardwick with an additional seven to eight hundred part time residents. Although there are still many mobile homes, over 100 lovely vacation type houses have been built complete with landscaped yards. There are 38 miles of paved streets in the town and citizens boast of an attractive church (First Baptist), café and canteen. Marine, night club, grocery, and the new city hall building. They also have access to an airport and hope to make it municipal in the future. The town contains a total of some 800 acres of land. And no property taxes!

The new city hall building is the first municipal building to be constructed. It covers some 1500 square feet of space and contains a carpeted office, large meeting room, kitchen and rest rooms and is paneled throughout. Best of all, it is completely paid for.

G.L. Doty is currently serving as mayor, having been elected by the people. Aldermen are Ralph Bengé, Neal Mann, Sue McIvers, Will Corgill, and George Howard. Margaret Wells is city secretary, Jimmy Dunn is City Judge and Lon Harman's position has been changed from City Marshall to Chief of Police.

The town's safety from fire is assisted by the two fire trucks owned by the City. One, a 1930 Seagraves 600, was donated by Mrs. Ann Boling and although in the antique category, is still in excellent running condition (but they do plan to paint it).

A Lions Club was chartered four years ago with 28 members. It now has 45 and is recognized as one of the top clubs in the state. A Friendship Club gives residents opportunity to get together for "42" and other forms of entertainment and annual fish fries are open to the entire community. There is also an active Bicentennial committee who did themselves proud in hosting the city hall dedication services. Future plans call for the organization of a sportsman's club.

Howardwick may never be an industrialized metro area — Heaven forbid this happening. The good fishing, attractive houses, smooth streets, and relaxed atmosphere places it in a time and place unique in this hustlebustle world — a place where one can relax and enjoy the companionship of good neighbors with entertainment for the asking, and — in a word — the good life.

They had an opportunity to visit with many of their supporters during the short time they were here, even though they were traveling on a very tight schedule.

Old Settlers Gather At Mulkey Theatre

A large crowd was on hand Saturday afternoon when the Old Settlers and Fiddlers gathered for the annual reunion and contests at Mulkey Theatre at 2 p.m.

Tunny Kent, who has done such a fine job of taking care of the Old Settlers for a number of years, was on hand to meet and greet everybody as they arrived. A registration table was set up in the Lobby of the theatre for the convenience of all.

The two groups, Old Settlers and Fiddlers, met at the same time in the same place and thanks to Gary Barnhill, theatre owner, there was comfortable seating, a nice cool building, cold drinks and popcorn, and a good program to enjoy while visiting for some expert fiddlers were present to keep entertainment rolling.

As Master of Ceremonies for the Old Settlers reunion, Kent called for a count for recognition. Geo Russell of Columbus, Ohio and son of Fred Russell of Clarendon, took the honors for having traveled the greatest distance to be present. Mrs. C. T. Bates of Clarendon received the box of candy as having the largest family. Homer Taylor of Clarendon was recognized as the oldest Old Timer living in Donley County, and Adam Risley was named the Oldest Old Timer present.

In addition to the above named, special tribute was paid the Andis Bros. Ralph and Ben of Amarillo. The Andis families lived in Clarendon for many years and have been present for the celebration here each year. This year, Ralph was unable to be present for reasons of health.

Also recognized for his faithful coverage of our celebration was Royce Bodiford of KGNC-Radio-TV, Farm and Ranch Editor, of Amarillo.

After these recognitions were made the program was turned over to the Fiddlers and several others who helped present a program reminiscent of the "Good Ole Days."

St. Mary's Church, Restoration Fund Tops $1500

The fund to restore historic St. Mary's church in Clarendon and make of it a shrine to Our Lady of the Panhandle went over the $1,500 mark this week.

A big boost came from J. W. Schwaller of Amarillo, who sent in a check for $100. Four other contributions came in to raise the total to $1,510. Mary F. Schlofman of Dalhart donated $10, the sisters of St. Joseph's hospital, Wellington, gave $10, S. P. Clark of Midland sent in $5, and J. N. Berres of Groom mailed a check for $5.

The project to restore St. Mary's church and dedicate it to Our Lady of the Panhandle is being directed by Father Richard Vaughan of Price College, Amarillo. Slowly but surely the fund has grown to sizeable proportions.

A plan to convert the oldest parish church in the Panhandle in Clarendon into a shrine is being put into operation. The shrine will be dedicated to Our Blessed Mother and will honor the early pioneers who brought the Catholic faith to the plains.

It will take more than $2,000 to make the old church a fitting place for a shrine.

Warning Is Issued

Upon complaints that chicken thieves were at work in Clarendon, Sheriff Guy Pierce said yesterday that anyone is within his own right to protect his property "and the best way to do it, in cases of this kind, is with a gun."

One complainant said he shot over the heads of marauders last week but the next time he would shoot "to hit."

Chicken stealing in Texas is a felony with a sentence of not less than two years if convicted, the sheriff pointed out.
