Rates Increase

New postage rates are scheduled to take effect on April 3 and will include all areas of first, second and third class mail. With the first class postage raising from 22 cents to 25 cents and post cards raising from 14 cents to 15 cents, the new rates will be the highest to date

Having to cope with a mandatory budget cutback ordered by Congress under the Graham-Rudman federal budget deficit bill and an increase in business through the postal system are the main reasons given for the raises in postal rates.

Along with the increase in first class rates, second class mailing costs are expected to rise 18% and there is also a hefty raise scheduled for third class mail. The 18% raise in second class mail will seriously affect The Knox County News and newspapers throughout the country since our mail subscribers receive their papers by second class mail. While some newspapers may raise their subscription rates to cover the increased cost of mailing, The Knox County News has no plans to raise subscription prices at this time

Until new 25 cent stamps are printed and distributed nationally, the use of a new transitional "E" stamp is recommended. For those who have a large supply of 22 cent stamps on hand, the postal system has 3 cent stamps for sale that can be added to letters to make up the difference in the increased cost. For those with a supply of 14 cent postcards, a 1 cent stamp will be offered to make up the difference. Both the 3 and 1 cent stamps will be available in sheets or rolls for consumers.

Stamps are available at any local post office or can be ordered by calling 1-800-782-6724 and having them charged to your Master Card or Visa credit cards and delivered to you by mail. Stamps are also available by mail with payment made by check, the order form for that service is available at the local post office.

For further information on the price increase scheduled for April 3, readers may call the local post office for assistance.

Reunion '88 Plans Underway

Plans are really taking shape for Reunion '88, the 50th anniversary for the Class of 1938 and the Classes of 1936, 1937, 1939, 1940 and all others who would be interested in joining these classmates for a good time on Saturday, June 4.

Ex-student Arnold Davis has been in touch with the committee, and he has generously offered to provide one of Lubbock's top bands for entertainment on Saturday night.

Marion Perdue reports that response to the first letter sent out to former classmates has been very good. However, there are still some addresses that are needed and if any of our readers can furnish addresses for the following, it would be most appreciated. Addresses are needed for Edward Coker, Reba Lightfoot, Pershing Busbee, Ruth Alice Moore, Gladys McMahan, Doyle Walker, Dorothy Ruby Darden, Hamilton Coates, Glenn Huntsman, Francis Montandon, Annie Mae Rice, and Geneva Mills.

Another newsletter will be in the mails as soon as a commitment is received from the band.

Citizens Honored At Banquet

A good crowd was on hand Thursday evening to see Bruce Campbell Jr. and Dr. Newton D. Neufeld receive community awards.

Campbell was recipient of the 1988 E. Hob Smith Most Appreciated Citizen's Award. The annual award was renamed this year to perpetuate Smith's memory as he was a lifetime director of the Chamber, as well as one of the best liked and most respected men in the community.

Campbell, a local, state, and national leader, is a graduate of Texas A&M, a World War II veteran, farmerrancher, and retired president and chairman of the board of the Citizens State Bank of Knox City. He currently is serving as chairman of the board of the Brazos River Authority, a board of which he has been a member for eighteen years.

In the spirit of promoting local enterprises, he has quietly encouraged individuals to try bold ventures, ventures that are out of the normal for our community and area. He backs the ventures with his personal resources and is described to be like a private Small Business Administration, without all the red tape. Chamber director W.R. (Bill) Baker, who made the presentation, said, "Our business climate is better because of his efforts.

"When you think about community services projects like the Plant Materials Center Field Day, a Lions Club project, or a "Save the Swimming Pool" fish fry, he is always in the forefront of the volunteers. I have recently learned that he has assisted some individuals with their utility bills as he is a good and generous neighbor. "The Chamber is indebted to Bruce Jr. for many reasons, one being he has provided the chamber a rent free office with no utilities for several years, thus relieving the chamber's budget," Baker concluded as he announced the Baker continued with the "Second Mile Award" presented to a much surprised Dr. Neufeld.

Baker explained that the Knox County Hospital re-opened last September after being closed for eleven months. At the time it re-opened, there were two doctors on staff. About one month after reopening, the board learned that one of the doctors was planning to leave, leaving only one doctor to staff the hospital. The one remaining pledged to cooperate and to assist the hospital

"The Second Mile is what we want to share with you," Baker told the banquet guests. "A hospital is required to have its emergency room staffed by a doctor 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The doctor is required to maintain close contact with the hospital while on call. In fact, the doctor must be able to be at the hospital within twenty minutes, which makes it very demanding of the doctor on call. Our remaining staff doctor agreed to be on call without compensation from the hospital. He did ask to be relieved every other weekend. To provide this relief the hospital would need to engage a relief doctor at a cost of about $2,000 for a sixty hour period. Our staff doctor was relieved one full weekend n November. Then when asked about his next relief, he deferred his time off. The doctor pulled a sixty day stretch without relief and that was followed by a short weekend relief. He recently requested a five hour relief period so he could visit his ninety year old father who had surgery in Wichita Falls. Five hours-that's all.

"His efforts can be counted as direct financial contributions to our hospital.

"Our doctor is a caring doctor, loved by his patients and is old-fashioned enough to still make house calls when the need arises!

As Baker announced the award, he concluded, "Thank you, Doctor Neufeld for not signing off on the Knox County Hospital, and for going the "second mile" for all of us."

Chamber director Judy Perdue presented the speaker, David Green, pastor of Foursquare Church in Haskell, who is also employed by the Knox County Hospital. Green had some very humorous remarks for the banquet guests as well as spiritual. He advised the group to think positive in asking the Lord to "bless Knox City". Green is a native of Belfast, Ireland and spoke of the turbulence there.

Chamber president Cathye Williams reviewed the past year's projects and laughingly told guests that she supposed the reason the chamber had asked her to stay on for another year as president was "to keep on doing it until I get it right!"

Directors include W.R. Baker, Joe Clonts, Lane Davis, Dick Evatt, Judy Perdue, Don Railsback, Romain Stubbs, and Cathye Williams. Birdie Helton is retiring director.

Judy Perdue will serve as vice president and Doris Crownover is secretary-manager.

The meal was catered by the Knox City Homemaking Department.

Easter Service Sunday

The Community Easter Service will be held Sunday, April 3, at 7:00 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Knox City.

United Methodist minister, Bill Perkins, will bring the sermon and Leon Ward, Church of God in Christ minister, will give the benediction.

Incumbents Jonathan Godsey and Larry Staggs filed as did two other former mayors Ken Crownover and Buddy Angle. Three council members will be elected from the field of six men.

Three candidates are seeking two seats in the school trustee election. Incumbent Donnie Roberts, Dale Turner, and Rob Harrison have filed.

The Knox County Hospital District's filing deadline is April 12, and incumbents Jerry Williams and Vernal Zeissel have filed for re-election for the two expiring terms.

Absentee voting begins April 18 at 9:00 a.m. and will continue by personal appearance until May 3 at 5:00 p.m. Ballots by mail may be received until the day of the election, Saturday, May

Streams In Desert Places

By Ozelle Stephens

Jesus said unto Martha, "I am the reseurrection, and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and he whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." This is the gospel which was preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

About five thousand believed when they heard the Word. Peter and John were asked by what power, or what name, have you done this? Peter, being filled with the Holy Ghost, answered by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazaheth whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead

The secret of God's working power is in the anointing of the Holy Spirit. Peter had believed and obeyed the Lord's Word. He had tarried for the out-pouring of the Holy Spirit. His words were anointed with power of God. At this Easter time may our hearts be filled with this great and precious

ACNE MEDICATIONS STAIN

HOME TEXTILES Common acne medications will do more than clear up blemishes; they'll also remove color from clothes and other textiles. Acne preparations containing benzoyl peroxide will remove color from fabrics, bedspreads, towels, sweaters or carpets says Dr. Ann Beard, a clothing and textiles specialist. "It causes spots and discoloration on all textiles in time, with color change accelerated by moisture and heat," says the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist. Spot removal and dry cleaning will not remove discoloration from benzoyl peroxide on clothing, although some fabrics can be dyed a darker color to cover it up, Beard explains. "Teenagers should know that acne treatments have the potential for permanently spotting their clothes, so they can try to avoid contact between the medication and the fabrics,"

COMPARING CALORIES FROM FAT IN MILK

If you're looking for ways to cut down on fat, consider these figures before you buy another carton of Milk. Whole milk contains only about 3.5% fat by weight, but that fat supplies 50% of its calories. In low-fat milk with 2% fat, fat contributes 30 percent of the calories. In low-fat milk with 1 percent fat -- often labeled "99% fat-free" -- fat supplies 18 percent of the calories. But in skim milk, fat accounts for only 2 percent of the calories.

TRASH BAGS NOT FOR USE WITH FOOD

When working with food, it's wise to use only containers, cooking utensils and dishes designed for use with food.

For example, now that they come in so many sizes, plastic trash bags may seem to be convenient containers for any number of foods--quarts of popcorn for a party, a disposable container for marinating meat, or handy wrapping for picnic foods. Before you put food into a plastic trash bag, however, check the package label. Very often there will be a statement indicating whether the bag is approved for use with food. If there is no statement, assume that the product is not approved for food use.

Materials used in the production of trash bags do not have to be tested for eating safety if the product is not considered to be generally used with food. The chemical process for manufac-

SLEEP DISORDERS IN YOUNG CHILDREN

Sleep disorders occur in about 30 percent of children between the ages of one and three. Difficulty with sleeping usually stems from the young child's body being unable to make a smooth transition from one sleep state to another. Youngsters need twice as much sleep and extra REM (light sleep) time as do adults. During the typical sleep cycle, there is a "roller coaster alternation" between deep and light sleep. If the child's rapidly growing central nervous system can not handle these transitions, he or she may actually experience frightening sensations of falling or jolting.

Cemetery Survey Meeting Set April 24 In Benjamin

By Clara Brown

A survey of all Knox County cemeteries and burial places will begin April 24 with a county wide public meeting at Benjamin, according to Moulton Wiggins of Munday, chairman of the project being sponsored by the Knox County Historical Commission.

All cemetery boards and associations and any others who work with Knox County cemeteries are especially urged to attend. If anyone knows of a small cemetery or a long grave that might be over looked they are asked to bring information about the location to the April 24 meeting or to tell persons later who are working on community surveys.

"We want to include all of them," Wiggins told persons attending a survey planning meeting at Benjamin, Thursday, March 24, "All the cemeteries and burial places." Wiggins is chairman of the Knox County cemetery and burial places survey.

Communities or cemetery volunteers have been contacted for Benjamin, Gilliland, Gillespie, Goree, Hefner (Friendship), Knox City, Munday, Rhineland, the Mexican cemetery near Rhineland, Truscott, and Vera. Two planning meetings have been held and representatives from each of the above cemeteries have attended at least one of the meetings.

The survey will basically be an information gathering project, not a publishing project, according to the Knox County Historical Commission. However, the information gathered will be useful to any who might wish to write in the future about Knox County or a Knox County community.

The Texas Historical Commission considers cemetery surveys one of the foundation efforts in preserving local history. Surveys help prevent the loss of graves and small cemeteries according to Cindy Sherrill-Leo of the Texas Historical Commission, who was in Knox County recently.

One typed, loose leaf notebook copy of each report will be kept within a community or with a cemetery board and one copy will go to the Knox County Historical Commission for preservation in the archives of the Knox County Museum, according to the objectives set for the survey.

A community may wish to make additional copies, but that decision will be up to each community or cemetery group.

As Knox County begins its 102nd year, it is becoming the frequent focus of persons wishing to know more about their family histories. Both Knox County funeral homes are interested in the survey as they often receive inqueries about persons known or believed to be buried in Knox County.

The County Clerk's office has also reported an increasing number of letters asking for information about Knox County residents of the past. The cemetery survey should help provide some answers and provide information in a more readily accessible form than at present.

The objectives of the cemetery survey and methods for reaching those objectives will be explained to all interested persons at the April 24 meeting at 3 p.m. in the Assembly Room at the Courthouse in Benjamin.

Preceeding the meeting an explanation and demonstration on making tombstone robbings will be given by Mrs. Ila Mae Bullion, an avid genealogist and president of the Lubbock chapter of Colonial Dames of the Seventeenth Century.

Time will be allowed following the cemetery project presentation for questions and discussion from the audience.

Worksheets will be provided and those who wish will have an opportunity to survey a "table top cemetery" prepared by Kristi Kimmell, Truscott postmaster.

The worksheets cover some of the questions most frequently asked by those trying to discover family information and should make it easier for workers to complete the survey.

It is estimated that the survey will take well over a year to complete. No time goal has been set yet.

Basic final objectives of this historical preservation project are a map showing all Knox County cemeteries and burial places and alphabetized lists of persons buried in each Knox County cemetery. This information will be in a loose-leaf notebook volume, with one volume per cemetery and will include other related information gathered in the survey.

The format for each "volume" of this series of records will open with the county map to all cemeteries. Other sections will include the overall map of a local cemetery, section maps to this cemetery with information about burials, a history of the cemetery, a description of local funeral customs of both present and past, condensed biographical information on persons known to be buried in the cemetery (taken from tombstones and other records if available) and an alphabetized list of known burials which will serve as an index.

After the first survey is completed it is hoped that each cemetery will make an annual addition of information. This would be added in an annual section at the back of the loose leaf volume, not interspersed in the original survey. A copy of this would also be added to that volume in the museum archives.

The survey will begin with cemeteries in current use but an attempt will be made to include every cemetery and grave in the county.

Many people with their knowledge at all parts of the county and many skills will be needed to complete the survey. Some will be needed to do interviews for the cemetery history and customs sections, others will help by organizing typing or photocopying and much work will need to be done by actually visiting cemeteries for information.

The April 24 meeting is open to anyone who has an interest in the survey goals. This includes present county residents and those who do not now live in Knox County, but who have roots in Knox County.

Mental Health Crisis Hotline Serving Area

Sarah Meinzer, Director of the Headstream Memorial Outreach Center, has announced the beginning of a 24 hour Mental Health Crisis Hotline service that will link the residents of this area to mental health professionals. In addition to reaching persons in Haskell, Knox and Stonewall Counties, the service will be available to citizens in need of crisis counseling throughout a combined twenty county area served by the Wichita Falls State Hospital Community Programs. The Headstream Memorial Outreach Center is one of thirteen rural based Outreach Centers providing services through Community Programs.

The service is designed to provide emergency mental health services 24 hours a day, seven days a week, to all citizens in the area. Persons in need may access the services by calling 1/800/621-8504, a toll-free line. If the call is during normal working hours, the caller will be immediately referred to the local Outreach Center. After hours, caller will be connected through Wichita Falls State Hospital with mental health professionals located in Wichita Falls who will provide telephone crisis counseling and referral services, if necessary. Backup mental health face-to-face services are available for emergencies deemed potentially life threatening by the phone professional. These services are available at Wichita Falls State Hospital only and involve a Crisis Intervention Team. Psychiatric consultation services serve as back-up throughout the process.

While Crisis Hotline services have been in existence for a number of years, they have typically been available only in the more metropolitan areas of the state. The development of a Mental Health Crisis Hotline service is an important step in the development of a comprehensive rural mental health care system. Local Outreach staff have likewise indicated their belief that the new service will benefit existing Outreach clients as well as persons who experience crises that are a part of everyday life.

If a serious emotional crisis arises, contact the Headstream Memorial Outreach Center at 817/864-3472 during the day or contact the Crisis Hotline at 1/800/621-8504 after hours or anytime the Outreach Center cannot be

LOOK OUT FOR LABEL CLAIMS Information found on food labels and what you think they say may be totally different.

For example, watch out for products that promise to give you energy. "Energy" means calories, not get-upand-go. Beware of ads that call a food "nutritious". It may have some nutrients--most foods do--but still be high in fat, salt or sugar. "Nutritious" may not mean "healthful"

Scrutinize ads that list calories or nutrients "per serving". Is their serving size the same as you normally consume? Look out for claims about cholesterol that don't mention saturated fat.

Straight Talk

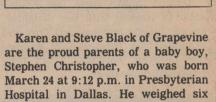

By Dave Thompson

Neighbors Helping Neighbors

One of the best reasons for living in a small town is the support and help that is given by friends and neighbors whenever a tragedy or hard times affects someone in the community. I have seen that happen time after time in Knox City, and it is happening once again even as I sit here writing this column.

In the last edition of The Knox County News, Lane Davis, owner of Davis Oil Patch Cafe indicated that he was donating all of the proceeds from Friday sales of coffee to a fund that has been set up to help Cleo and Ivan Rowan as they face staggering medical bills in the wake of Cleo's Proud parents of John (Austen) Kraemer are Scott and Tricia Kraemer of Odessa. The baby was born February 22 and weighed in at five pounds, thirteen ounces, and measured 19½ inches in length.

Festival Is Slated June 18

illness and prolonged hospital stay at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene. The day long event by Davis Oil Patch Cafe raised a total of $112.25 from the sale of coffee and some added donations. A related story in this edition of the News concerns a challenge by Davis to other business owners in Knox City to pitch in and help raise badly needed funds for the medical expenses of Cleo Rowan.

While Davis is to be commended for his efforts, his challenge should not end just with business owners. It would be great to see a community wide effort rallying behind Cleo during this very difficult time for herself and her family. Medical insurance will only go so far and we all know that a prolonged hospital stay for a serious illness can add up to a staggering bill that can easily ruin the financial health of any family. Cleo has been in the hospital for quite awhile so it is easy to imagine the amount of bills facing the family.

I became acquainted with the Rowan family when I was asked to take the wedding photographs for Wayne and Judy Rowan last fall. After being around the Rowan family for just a short time, it was clear to me why Cleo and Ivan are so well liked and respected in the area. They and others just like them are the foundation and the backbone of small towns all across this country. They have been involved in the community and its success for many, many years. Cleo and Ivan have always been among the first to lend a helping hand whenever it was needed and could always be counted on to reach out to friends in need.

That same spirit of reaching out to friends in need now falls on the rest of us as Cleo goes through hard times of her own. A combined effort by our entire community could do so much to help this wonderful family. A special fund for helping Cleo has been established at the Citizens State Bank in Knox City, and it could use your help. Once again, here's that old phrase that I use so often in this column whenever I talk about life in a small community: IT'S UP TO YOU!

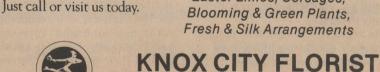

So, come on Knox City, let's all work together on this and take Lane's idea all the way to the bank as we work together to help out a very special family.
