Heaven Is Here In The Court House Now

Mrs. Myrtle Myers received a letter from one of the Clients of the Resettlement Administration office in Haskell this week. Mrs. Myers, who is head of the Home Planning for the Resettlement Commission, receives letters every day, but only one has exalted her to the Angel class.

The letter read "Dear Sister in Jesus, please send me the following . . ." and proceeded to name all that a well managed hotel will have in the culinary department in the way of equipment.

After getting all this off her chest, the client ended with " . . . and please hurry, for Christ's sake.

LOCAL OFFICERS CATCH PAIR ARE TAKEN BACK TO PRISON WEDNESDAY CONVICTS TUESDAY

An automobile wreck on the road near Weinert, led the officers of Haskell County and the Chief of Police of Munday to the conclusion that finally resulted in the capture of two escaped convicts last Tuesday morning.

The men, Dan Greeman and O. A. Potter were being taken back to Oklahoma by the Prison Transfer Agents, Alex Watson and were chained to the rumble seat of Watson's automobile. The men had managed to saw their shackles and when the car slowed down, just outside the city limits of Munday, they stepped out and made good their escape. It was over half an hour before Watson became aware of the absence of his two charges and he immediately spread the alarm to the officers in this vicinity.

Potter's wife was ostentatiously en route to Oklahoma to plead for her husband before the Governor when she met with an accident near Weinert, and instead of summoning help, she abandoned the car and disappeared. County Prisoners To Work on Roads

The Commissioner's Court at their meeting last Monday voted to resume the practice of working the County prisoners on the roads.

This practice was discontinued a few years ago but it has been considered feasible to again work these men rather than have them lay out a fine or a jail term at the rate of $3.00 per day and add an extra expense to the county with no beneficial returns.

The commissioners also purchased a new road maintainer from an Abilene Firm at a cost of slightly over $3,000.

CITY COUNCIL ACCEPTS OFFER OF W-T UTILITIES

20 RESIDENTIAL STREET LIGHTS AND 20% REDUCTION IN POWER RATES

No Strings Attached to Company Proposal

Haskell is to have a reduction in the rates of the West Texas Utilities Company and will have 25 additional Street lights within a very short time as the City Council voted to accept both proposals of the Utilities Company.

This was a voluntary action on the part of the West Texas Utilities Company.

H. C. King, local manager of the Utilities Company first presented the proposal of the reduction and the additional street lights to the council together with the petition signed by 121 business men of Haskell asking that the reduction in rate be accepted. After considerable discussion by the members of the council, Mr. King withdrew the petition and the council accepted the proposed reduction in rates.

Rates Reduced in Town

The reduction in rate will be an average of 18 percent to 20 percent on the business district and to the commercial users. According to the figures of the West Texas Utilities, some firms will receive as much as 30 percent reduction, while others will receive as little as 10 percent. It is all based on the amount of electricity consumed by the user.

The rate goes into effect with the next billing. The employees of the Utilities Company read the meters Thursday and the reduction will be on the current bill, according to the popular understanding.

This reduction will mean a savings of more than $250.00 annually to the Courthouse upkeep alone. The other users will effect a saving in proportion to this amount.

FEED AND SEED LOAN COLLECTIONS ARE LEADING

C. C. Gibson Has Best Record of Any In State

The Federal Emergency Feed and Seed Loan Association has released the figures for the year ending December 31, 1935 which shows the district under the supervision of C. C. Gibson to rate higher in the percentage of collections than any other districts in Division number six, which comprises the whole of West Texas.

Mr. Gibson, who is located in Haskell, has an average of 92.82 percent on his business district and has started collecting on past due accounts for the years of 1934 and 1935. Mr. Gibson's territory is composed of Baylor, Foard, Haskell, Knox, Stonehill, and Throckmorton Counties.

One county, Throckmorton, had a collection average of 99.99 percent and since the figures were released, according to Mr. Gibson, the average is 100 percent as he has collected the amount still due from that particular county. This is, so far as could be ascertained, the first county in the entire State of Texas to have a perfect collection record.

HASKELL MAN CELEBRATES 80TH BIRTHDAY SUNDAY

M. A. Clifton Has Been Here Over 46 Years

Mr. M. A. Clifton has spent over 46 years in Haskell County and on January 12th he celebrated his 80th birthday with some of the members of the family present.

Those who helped him celebrate the occasion at his home in the East part of town were George Clifton and wife, Von Clifton and family from Knox City; Mrs. George V. Wimbish, John Clifton and family, Rod Clifton and wife and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Gibson, all of Haskell.

Mr. Clifton is now actively engaged in the retail coal business and has found that his declining years have given him a more level outlook on life, a tendency to anticipate the future and build from his mistakes in the past. His health is excellent, but in his own words, would have been better if he had had as much sense about living when he was young as he now has.

Mr. Clifton was born in Hardin County, Texas on the 12th of January, 1856 and moved to Limestone County in 1869. He was a cowpuncher at the age of 14 and thought that a fine career for a young man. It was a good business in his early days, but the ever changing life of modern times makes it all seem rather vague as to why he could not see the future and shape his destiny as he is now able to do. Mr. Clifton was in this country when there were

POPULAR SENTIMENT TO BE SENT TO CONGRESS

CONTINUATION OF COTTON CONTROL MEASURES TO BE DISCUSSED SATURDAY

Every Farm Interest To Be Represented

A mass meeting of the farm producers of Haskell County has been called for Saturday afternoon at 2:30 by D. R. Brown, President of the Haskell County Farm Association.

This meeting is to get the voice of the majority of the farmers of the county so that the sentiments may be transmitted to the Senate now in session in Washington.

Since the United States Supreme Court has ruled that the AAA is unconstitutional, the President of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt has asked that Congress draft emergency measures so that the farm program and the cotton program could be paid and continued as at first outlined.

This meeting is to have the people in a mass meeting to express what the farmers of Haskell County desire in their own work.

All farmers, tenants, share croppers, landlords, salary workers and any other that have anything at all to do with the raising of the Haskell County Cotton crop are urged to be present so that a representative voice will be heard and the sentiments of the majority of the people can be given to the legislators now convened in Washington.

There are 2,619 producer units in Haskell County, according to the County Agent's record, and all these have from two to three men and women represented as a part of the farm program, in some manner.

The cotton control is a subject that has created quite a bit of interest since the supreme court's decision the past week.

According to Mr. Brown, too much stress on the importance of this meeting can never be given as the future of the entire county depends on this session of Congress.

The Cotton Control affects every person living in the county, either directly or indirectly, and everyone should be in Haskell next Saturday at 2:30 to attend the meeting.

If the crowd justifies the move, the meeting will be held in the open air, on the courthouse lawn, otherwise, the District Court room will house the meeting.

C. OF C. TO HOLD LARGE REORGANIZATION MEET

The Haskell Junior Chamber of Commerce voted to change their name and organization to the Haskell Chamber of Commerce at the meeting last Monday night.

The purpose of the meeting is to have every business firm in Haskell represented by at least one person and if possible, to have all members of all firms at the meeting, when the Chamber of Commerce will be organized and officers will be elected.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has expanded in their work and organization since their first systematization that it has become necessary to have a full time paid secretary to handle the work and the many inquiries coming in every day regarding Haskell and its enterprises and resources.

The Lions Club have endeavored to handle this work in the past, but in spite of the concerted efforts of the Lions members the work has grown to such an extent that business men of Haskell have had to take time from their businesses to attend to the many duties that will be shouldered by the secretary.

The progress of the town and the many resources of the surrounding territory have been remarkable in the past few months (Continued On Page Eight)

News of Farmers

(BY W. M. FREE)

It is not an expert to see morale of the farmers of county is above par. The are brighter, and they utilize it. The weather for week or more has been which gave the boys time where they were making and to get everything and ready to hit the ball 1936 crop. E. W. Kreger—
Just before the holidays E. W. Kreger said that he would wait until Leap Year to renew for his Free Press and he kept his word. While in town Saturday he handed us the renewal price and he is now paid up for another year. He lives out in the Curry Chapel community and for his daily exercise he has been following a walking buster with two good teams hooked to it. He said on coming in at noon and night that he had a splendid appetite and red beans were as good as a lot of this high powered eat'n. Mr. Kreger makes his bread by the sweat of his face and in doing that he knows that he is not robbing his neighbor. There is no remorse conscience when life is thus spent. He is interested in church work and supports it with his energy and means. He is a good farmer, a loyal American citizen and a friend to man.

Otto Nussbaum—
Again Otto Nussbaum of Vontress is paid up for a year to the official organ of Haskell County known as the Free Press. He has been reading the paper for many years and says that he can not get along without it. Otto is a good old boy who farms for a livelihood and he makes a success and never complains. He always has a smile and a word of cheer for his friends and by the way he has no enemies. We have been in his home and we are going again for we have always found a welcome and we appreciate it. Otto says that he has made a good crop and has it all gathered and he is now about ready to start out for the 1936 bumper. Let's all join in and help Otto make it a unanimous effort

R. L. Medford—
One of the good men we know who never frets and hurries is called Lee Medford in the Howard Community, where he has lived so long that he does not care to move any place else. He came from Comanche County many years ago and bought his farm where he now lives and on this farm he reared his family and most of them have married and gone out into the world to make their way. He does most of his farming with a tractor, but keeps some teams on the farm just the same. He has always planned his farm program over a period of years and his real aim is to make his farm support the family and its extra demands. This has been accomplished without worry. Mr. Medford says that conditions with him is better this year than in several past years. The principal thing he appreciated is the excellent feed crop his farm has produced. He has always made the effort to grow plenty of feed and this year every desire has been reached in feed production. Just give the farmer plenty of feed and you have solved his problem in most cases.

J. L. Seets—
While meandering around the other day we dropped into a grocery store and meat market and here we found our old friends J. L. Seets having a big pile of pure old hog meat ground into sausage to stuff in sacks and store away to make the living for the family more substantial and enjoyable. Jesse says that he has killed three hogs this fall. He lives in the east part of town but he cultivates a crop and keeps right on farming. He expected to keep on living and he knew he would need meat and lard for the family. It was dry and feed was scarce and high but he managed to keep a few hogs and now he is well paid for his trouble in some good home killed meat and as is often repeated, he knows what he is eating.

Just a Little Spin—
We made a quick trip to the Brushy Community early in the week and we noticed that the farmers are planning to get right down to real ground preparation and sowing spring oats and barley. There is but very little cotton in the fields any where along the way. It seems to us that the crops were gathered last fall post haste for the weather to be so unfavorable to cotton picking. When people are determined, it is hard to keep them from success. Next week we will begin in dead earnest and try to make this column interesting and useful. We will thank you heartily for every cooperation and help. Let's make this a year of progress and happiness.

Girls Win Trophy In Tournament

The girls' basketball team started off with a bang this season. They entered a tournament at O'Brien last week-end, played their first game of the season and won two games out of three. They first drew Sunset, destined to be the strongest team of the tournament and were defeated 37-24, but that didn't discourage them much because at 3:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon they defeated Rule 20-21, and at 7:00 o'clock they played Knox City and beat them 12-15. They won the consolation trophy of which they were indeed proud. Ruby Stodghill was high point goal tresser, with Martha Head and Helen Bland ranking second and third, respectively. Maggie Lee Piland was mentioned at the tournament as an outstanding guard. We are proud of our team and hope they keep up their good work and hope they have a good ranking in the county meet this spring.

Haskell Boy Letters at H-SU

Ralph Bernard, Haskell boy, has been recommended for a freshman football numeral at Hardin-Simmons University for the 1935 season. Freshman Coach made the recommendation which was approved by Head Coach Frank Kimbrough and the athletic council. Athletic awards at Hardin-Simmons are dependent upon the passing of all class work by players and are not made until reports for the fall semester are made. Bernard earned his letter playing at a guard position.

A bundle of happiness was left in the Jesse Smith home January 17, 1932. The baby was a brown-eyed boy, whose name is Charles.

This Week's Warwhoop "Chief"

The staff of the Warwhoop has the honor of presenting one of the outstanding Baptist Ministers of Texas as the Chief for this week. Rev. H. R. Whatley came to Haskell on February 1, 1927 and has been instrumental in the expansion of the church and the increase in church interests, not only in his own denomination, but in the city as a whole.

Bro. Whatley, in addition to having as his hobby the fine art of wolf hunting, is an accomplished fisherman and whenever possible is to be found enjoying these two great out of doors sports.

Our Chief never misses an engagement of the Haskell Indians and is always a loyal rooter for the team. His interests are not only for the boys and girls on the teams but for the betterment of the school as a whole and can always be depended on to give his time and service to any project that will work for the good of our school and our students.

We are proud to have Bro. Whatley for our Warwhoop Chief.

Boys to Enter Cage Tournament at ACC

Basketball season started off with a bang and there are hopes for a good team of boys. The boys go to A. C. C. Saturday to enter a tournament in which they are involved. They have not played a game this year, but the practice has been good. We hope they win the tournament at A. C. C. Saturday.

What Is a Name?

That thoughtful and worried expression that Miss Riley has been wearing lately is due to the fact that the new car has no name. "They have no individuality until they are named," she sighed. Her old car answered to the name of Ann and for her new car to be up to the minute it must have a name. Can anyone suggest a nice, lady-like name—a companionable, usable sort of name—for Ann's successor? A free ride as a prize is offered to the student who can think of the best name, and Miss Riley will be quite grateful for whatever suggestions you wish to submit.

Haskell Girl Honored At Baylor University

Miss Beatrice Wheeler, Haskell, was named for two significant honors at Mary Hardin Baylor last week by virtue of her high scholastic average of the fall term. Her name appeared on the Dean's Honor Roll and again on the Student Honor Roll. Both honors came as a result of high scholarship for Beatrice earned a total ten out of a possible fifteen grade points last term. Student Government Honor Roll membership also indicates that she is in complete accord with Student Government. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Wheeler.

Tennis Practice Gets Under Way

The weather is very favorable and the boys have started tennis practice in a big way. There are several boys out and more are expected.

C. T. Fields, R. C. Couch, Jr., and Thomas Lee Donohoo are hoping (and working) to "go places" in the county meet this year.

The tennis meet will be held about the middle of March, and eliminations are no more than a month off. That means that during the next few weeks all must get down to regular practice.

Terracing 3,000 Acres In Haskell County

According to B. W. Chesser there is approximately 3,000 acres being terraced in Haskell County at present. Terracing demonstrations have been held by the agent at the R. H. Smith farm near Rule, and at the S. N. Reed farm near O'Brien.

These demonstrations were well attended by farmers who are interested in this work. Mr. Reed is terracing his entire farm. Many farmers are rebuilding their terraces as they are realizing the value of maintaining them.

One way to judge a woman's character is to listen to what she says after hanging up the phone.

District Judge Dennis P. Ratliff Is Candidate For Unexpired Term

Dennis P. Ratliff, appointed District Judge of the 39th Judicial District last May to succeed Judge Clyde Grissom, this week announces his candidacy for the two year unexpired term of office. A resident of Haskell county for the past fourteen years, Mr. Ratliff has been engaged in civil and criminal law practice, associated with his father in the firm of Ratliff & Ratliff. Elected in 1930 as State Representative for this District, Mr. Ratliff was returned for his second term in 1932, retiring after serving four years in this capacity. The following statement regarding his candidacy is presented by Mr. Ratliff: "I take this method of announcing that I shall be a candidate for Judge of the 39th Judicial District, composed of Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, and Throckmorton counties. "By way of explanation of my candidacy, I desire to state that on May 27th, 1933, Judge Clyde Grissom was appointed by the Governor of this State, to be Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland, and I was appointed to succeed him. Under the law, my appointment is only effective until the next election, and I am, therefore, a candidate for the balance of Judge Grissom's unexpired term of two (2) years. "In asking to be elected as your District Judge for this period of two (2) years, I do so fully conscious of the fact that the office is a high and important one in our judicial system. As to my qualifications to fill it, I desire to say that I am thirty-six years of age and was admitted to the bar in July, 1920, and at the time of my appointment had had almost fifteen (15) years actual experience in the practice of civil and criminal law, both trial and appellate, fourteen (14) years of that time being in Haskell County. I have served seven (7) months as Judge of this District, and with further experience on the bench, I feel that I shall be better qualified to discharge the duties of this office. "I earnestly solicit your support and influence, and, if elected, will discharge my duties fairly and impartially and to the best of my ability. Respectfully submitted, Dennis P. Ratliff, Haskell, Texas."

OUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

In the years gone by Haskell had a Chamber of Commerce, loosely organized, composed of the business men in Haskell who wanted to get more things for our town. This body of men did not hold together on various enterprises and could not get the cooperation of the men who had not been meeting with the guiding hands.

Last year, the younger men of Haskell organized the Haskell Junior Chamber of Commerce. These men have all the pep and all the energy to bring any undertaking to a successful conclusion. They are not afraid to take chances on the final success of any undertaking, if they are once sold on the idea of making an attempt and they have been more than moderately successful in the past few months that have elapsed since their organization.

Now it is proposed that these men abandon their Junior Chamber of Commerce and organize the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

A mass meeting of all the merchants, all the professional men and representatives of every firm in Haskell has been called for 7:30 Monday night in the District Court Room in the Haskell County Courthouse. A Chamber of Commerce is essential to the welfare of Haskell and Haskell County. There will be experienced Chamber of Commerce executives present to outline the many tasks that confront any city and they will also aid in the organization of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce along the right lines. They will see that Haskell has a Civic body that will be second to none in the entire state. We are in the happy position of being able to profit by the mistakes of the other places in Texas.

Be there, if you are a merchant, if you have any kind of business in Haskell or in Haskell County, be there, take a part and express your opinion. The Chamber of Commerce, unless they have the full voice of every one in Haskell could, unknowingly, start some movement, sponsor some cause that will be detrimental to some man. They do not do anything that is detrimental but there has been times when one man or perhaps two have suffered by their action, and all because that man or that group of men have not told the Chamber of Commerce their side of the situation.

Be at the Court House, Monday, January 20th at 7:30 P. M. It is your meeting.

DEATH TO THE AAA

The summary execution of the Agricultural Adjustment Act by the majority opinion of the United States Supreme Court is not remarkable when one considers the antecedent lives of the justices, and the effect of their decision cannot be estimated until it is seen whether new legislation, within the Constitution, can bring about what the AAA aimed at.

The Free Press is not inclined to blame a court for the opinion of its judges, regardless of what that may be. Every American knows that the government is divided into three divisions and that it is given to the Supreme Court to pass judgment upon every statute. If the judgments rendered do not conform to popular opinion the remedy lies in amending the Constitution or awaiting the inevitable alteration of the judicial personnel.

The chief concern of this newspaper is in the effect that the sweeping judicial pronouncement will have upon the welfare of the farmers of the United States. We have asserted time and again that American agriculture has been mistreated in this country since 1921 until the recent past. The fact that our farmers have been bled white for years is well established. The enactment of the AAA was an effort to readjust an economic situation that was unjust and intolerable. Whether it was the best effort is an academic question but whether the decision of the Supreme Court has rendered impossible further effort is the vital issue now.

Farmers of the United States should not fail to impress upon every political candidate their demand for full economic parity, for an income in proportion to that of other classes, for the right to use the powers of government to protect them as well as industry and to give them the advantages that flow to industry through production and price control.

We are not demanding any particular plan or program. Any one scheme that works, putting dollars in farm purses, will suit us. The national welfare requires that farm purchasing power be sustained at a ratio higher than that yet attained. Farmers, who vote right, can have much to do with restoring to themselves all that they have been denied for many years.

OPTIMISM FOR 1936

Nationwide signs indicate that recovery is well on the way and "we now have a broader and firmer foundation than in preceding years on which to build in 1936," says Secretary of Commerce Roper.

Among the favorable signs listed by the Secretary were the following:

- A ten percent increase in factory employment
A twenty-five percent increase in factory pay-rolls
Maintenance of the 1934 level of factory wages
A twenty-five per cent increase in production of durable goods
A twenty per cent increase in sales of general merchandise in rural areas
An increase of forty percent in dollar expenditures for new passenger automobiles
A five percent increase in urban sales of general merchandise
A continued growth in the dollar value of American foreign trade
American exports highest since 1931
A decline in railroad deficits
A rising tendency in security market
Further improvement in agriculture.

WATCH THE "COMMON COLD"

Most citizens of Haskell County look upon the common head cold as an inconsequential but not a costly or dangerous ailment.

Dr. Lloyd Arnold, of the College of Medicine of Illinois, says that these afflictions will cost the American people $100,000,000 between now and Easter and cause eighty thousand more deaths than for any other six months of the year. He estimates that two million wage earners will be sick from colds, or sinus infections, sore throat, influenza and pneumonia that follow or begin as head colds. They will lose on the average eight days from work.

Reading of this estimate should cause the average person to be more careful and, by avoiding exposure, prevent colds. They should also emphasize the danger that lurks in the common cold, neglected by the patient.

CURRENT COMMENT

IT IS TEXAS THAT CELEBRATES (Semi Weekly Farm News)

It is heartening to the lovers of Texas that, in so many parts of the state, East and West, North and South, preparations are being made for fitting local celebrations in honor of the happenings of 1836, a hundred years ago.

Dallas, of course will have its great exhibition, portraying the resources, industries and the manifold greatness of the State. In San Antonio, Fort Worth and Houston, and in many other centers of interest, East and South, fitting celebrations of historical events will take place. The Valley also will be resplendent with the fruits and vegetables of its wonderful soil and West Texas will proudly display its flourishing cities, and its fertile soil and great plains, so rich in the promise of future years.

Texas, great in area though it is, unites all its parts under a common flag, the Lone Star. The interests of the varied regions of the State may widely differ and in part be even antagonistic, but in this Centennial year Texas is one and indivisible, united in a common pride for the empire State of the Great Southwest.

Now that 1936 is really here, a year so noteworthy in the history of Texas, the six million citizens of the State should minimize their differences, maximize their agreements and join with hearty enthusiasm for a great celebration that will do honor to Texas and Texans in the years to come.

Sunday School by HENRY-LESSON RADCLIFFE

JESUS PREPARES

International Sunday School Lesson for January 19, 1935.

GOLDEN TEXT: "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve." Luke 4:8.

(Lesson Text: Luke 3:21, 22; 4:1-13).

We have no details of the life of Jesus from the age of twelve to about the age of thirty, when he begins his public ministry. About this time Jesus journeyed from Nazareth to the Jordan, where his cousin, John the Baptist was preaching, and baptizing.

It is interesting to speculate as to how completely Jesus then realized his divine mission. His mother may have related the unusual events attending his birth and he may have fully known his divinity. At any rate, after the testimony of John concerning his destiny and the witness of the spirit Jesus certainly fully comprehended his nature and task.

Even then, in his human relationship, he faced mighty problems and it was necessary for him to decide these alone. His story of the temptation is the story he alone could relate, telling the conflict which attended the decision of these vexing questions. Knowing his divinity, comprehending his task, how was he to convince the people and attain permanent success?

The first temptation suggested that he use the miraculous power entrusted to him for the purpose of his ministry to obtain a purely personal and selfish end. Hungry, his physical need could be answered without regard to human limitations if he disregarded the trust which accompanied these powers.

Jesus remembered and was fortified by a passage from Deuteronomy (8:3) that man should not live by bread alone. There are higher laws than human appetite and desire. Churches and men today may be charitable and generous but life is more important spiritually and materially. The temptation to minister by fulfilling material wants, disregarding the more eternal spiritual needs comes constantly and repeatedly.

The second temptation was to select a method personally more pleasing and glorifying. The suggestion came for Jesus to establish his kingdom in an earthly way, by sounding a call to lead which would mean power and popularity and perhaps, triumph, and this was justified by the contention that with such authority acquired his mission could be forcibly accomplished.

The allurements were to use evil or material methods to achieve a good or spiritual result—churches and reformers very often face the problem of similar compromises with right to retain the support of political, wealthy or interested groups which offer to help the general progress if certain objections are met.

The kingdoms of intelligence, power, beauty and all others may be sought either by means, material or spiritual, and they can be used likewise, but inevitably their use will be determined and influenced by the methods of acquisition. Wealth, for example, may be obtained through industry, and service or by cruel exaction and fraudulent methods, and in most cases its final use will be in keeping with the methods employed to obtain it.

The third temptation was to use God wrongly to accomplish his task. Jesus contemplated the establishment of his divinity by some divine sensationalism like 14 miles Northeast of Haskell. The men were hiding in a message hicket within a few hundred yards of the school. The culprits showed no sign of resistance at the capture and the officers brought them to Haskell to await the arrival of the Oklahoma authorities Wednesday to take them back to prison. Geesman had served but 55 days of a three year sentence for assault with intent to murder, and escaped from the Oklahoma Penitentiary at McAlistier. He had been working as a logger in a lumber camp in South Bend, Washington for two years. Potter had been travelling under the assumed name of Stevens and had married last month in Shreveport, Louisiana under that name. He was on a leave of absence from Granite on a leave of absence from his five year sentence for highway robbery. He had been in El Paso working as a magazine salesman for two months when the officers arrested him for violation of the terms of his parole. When arrested, Potter was scheduled to address the El Paso Parent-Teachers Association on the subject of "Child Training". Potter claimed that his bride of two months was ignorant of his past record and the fact that he was a convict. Watson had been to Washington for Geesman and had stopped in El Paso to pick up Potter on the return trip.

C. Of C. Meet (Continued From Page One) and there is every reason to believe that with an experienced man at the head of the Chamber of Commerce, the work will progress to even greater heights. All things being equal, it was decided last Monday night, that the proper man for the place as Secretary be given to some local man. However, this was voted on before the mass meeting called for next Monday was voted and it is the purpose of having the older business men join the Chamber of Commerce, and help in the election of officers. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, however, did appoint a committee to accept the applications of all those who would like to take the job as Secretary and have advertised in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce magazine for such applications. It is hoped that this committee will be able to eliminate several of the weaker applicants and be able to present the most desirable of the applicants to the vote of the entire membership of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce. As an inducement to the applicants, the Jaycees voted to assist the man selected in organizing and maintaining a Retail Merchants Association for Haskell. This will fulfill a much needed want of the merchants here and will also help the Chamber of Commerce to pay the salary of the Secretary. Should the man selected want to engage in some other activity other than a Credit Company, the Chamber of Commerce will assist in that too. It is not a necessary duty to organize a Retail Merchants Association, but that is a business that is needed in Haskell and one that will fit in perfectly with the duties as a Secretary.
