TEXAS THEATRE HAS UNIQUE FREE SHOW

See the Picture, If You Like It, Buy Friend a Ticket

Mr. Server Leon, manager of the Texas Theatre announced a rather unique ticket buying scheme. The idea is that one is on the honor system, so to speak.

Mr. Leon invited the public to see the attraction "Wedding Night" at the Texas next Wednesday. Just walk in and sit down and have a good time. If your opinion of the turn that the show is not so good, just get up, walk out and all is well, however, if you think the show was worth the usual price of admission, stop at the box office and buy a ticket and give it to a friend.

This is something new in picture criticism. If the picture is worth seeing, the producers will soon know how the usual theatre goes takes it.

Mr. Leon invites everyone to the show next Wednesday. He really wants to get a cross section of the type of show that Haskell picture fans want to see.

MATERIAL FOR WATER TOWER IS MOVED IN

Clearing Site for Park and Swimming Pool; Material to Start Work Expected This Week

Money for Grants Now in Banks At Dallas for Use On Projects

Work on the new Haskell Water works for which bonds were voted and contracts let last year started on a definite program of work this week as the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Company, successful bidders on the new water tower for Haskell, started shipping equipment and material into Haskell, preparatory to beginning work on the erection of the new 100 foot tower that will add pressure to the present water supply as well as add several thousand gallons capacity to the present system.

J. M. Brown, head of the Haskell Re-Employment office, has not received a requisition for men to start the work as yet, however, this does not count for much in this particular project inasmuch as only skilled men will be used, men that have had several years experience in steel rigging work, and men from the relief rolls will not be given preference on this particular job.

FIRST CHECKS HERE FOR RESETTLEMENT

Seven Checks Are Only Part of Advance Payments Expected Daily

The initial advance on seven months' loan for food and other necessities in some cases and one of the group was for the purchase of cows and chickens, another was for the purchase of a mule and some tools, while another was for a payment on a tractor.

Mr. Skipworth stated that he had made 106 loans of an average of over $410.00 each. Some of these loans are for the specific purchase of some farm equipment that is needed, some are for the use of the farm family until the crop is raised and the farmer is on his feet again and is able to arrange credit at the grocers or is able to go on a cash basis as well as repay his loans.

These seven initial checks represent only a small portion of those that are expected, however they are the first to be received in Haskell County during the year.

County Farm Assns. to Meet Here Friday

D. R. Brown, head of the Haskell County Farm Association is calling a meeting of the members for 10 a. m. Friday at the Court House in Haskell. This meeting will be attended by farmers from Haskell, Stonewall, Knox, Baylor and Throckmorton Counties.

Mr. Gay, with the Department of Agriculture, has asked that this meeting be called and as he could not be reached Thursday for a statement, we are not able to explain the reason for the calling of the assembly.

Cards are being mailed to farmers in the five counties and an immense crowd is expected to attend.

Resettlement Committee Named for Debt Adjustments

Last Two Terms District Court Leaves Light Docket

With the jury dismissed two weeks ago, Judge Dennis P. Ratliff will clear one or two civil cases off the docket and possibly three or four divorce cases, before next Saturday, the final day of the present term.

This will leave but 14 criminal cases to be disposed of later, and in several of these cases the charge is contingent with other cases that have been tried, and in some instances, the defendant has not been arrested, being out on bond and the Grand Jury has returned the indictment since that time.

During the present term of court, there have been seven civil cases tried, other than the Ferguson case which Judge Allan D. Montgomery transferred to Taylor County. Up to Wednesday morning, there had been ten divorce cases heard and 30 criminal cases. A total of 47 for this term, as compared with the record breaking number of 97 cases for the past term of District Court.

Since Judge Dennis P. Ratliff was appointed to his present office, he has disposed of 144 cases in the local courts, not to mention the cases disposed of in the other counties under his jurisdiction.

This leaves the present District Court Docket cleaner than at any time in the past several years. Fewer cases have been adjudicated than at any other time.

The Magazine Club

"Once tangle the threads of two lives firmly together, and no matter how apparently remote and disparate their future course may become, it is quite likely that it will require the good offices of the blind lady with the shears to cut the final tangle" . . . from Don Louis' Reflections in Anthony Adverse, by Hervey Allen.

The Magazine club met at the First Methodist Church Friday for the review of the book "Anthony Adverse" by Hervey Allen. The review was given by the Rev. Alex B. Hansen, rector of the Episcopal Church of Colorado City, Texas.

Mrs. Hunt the president opened the meeting by asking all to join in singing "Faith of our Fathers." She then gave the scripture lesson, reading a part of the 2nd chapter of James, stressing what he said about faith. Prayer by Bro. Gilmore. Our beloved member, Mrs. Baldwin, was not with us in the flesh, but her spirit seemed to hover over the Society she loved so well. Miss Dulin Fields, who has been our secretary for 17 years, was greatly missed, and all present expressed the wish that her health would so improve that she could soon be with us again.

Each member was asked to bring some ingredient for a "Bible Cake" at the next meeting. This request created much interest and all are eagerly looking forward to that occasion. Mrs. Gilmore directed the program and gave as the devotional the 16th verse of the 4th Chapter of Heb., closing with a short prayer.

Song, "We've a Story to Tell." Mrs. Dennis Ratliff gave a splendid paper on, "Beyond The Rio Grande Lies Mexico." Song "I Love to Tell The Story." Bro. Gilmore's subject was what we as a people have done in Mexico. His talk was very interesting, historical, instructive and inspirational.

After the benediction, the hostess assisted by Mrs. Grissom served individual cherry pies and tea to the large attendance gathered there. While we were enjoying this treat, Mrs. McNeil told us how happy she was to have the W. M. ### Methodist Women's Missionary Society

On Monday, February 10th, the Women's Missionary Society met in the home of Mrs. Guy Mays and continued the study of the book of Psalms. Rev. Huckabee, being absent, had requested Mrs. Matt Graham to direct the lesson. This she did, most gracefully and efficiently. The Book of Psalms being a collection of songs of praise, all joined in singing the Doxology, beginning "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow." The singing was followed with a prayer offered by Mrs. Irby.

The Director gave a brief, but most comprehensive review of last week's lesson. A delightful spirit of informality prevailed, and the many ideas brought out by the Director made the lesson very interesting. The First chapter of Psalms was read in unison, and was analyzed by the Director, as was also Chapters 16, 9, & 8. The lesson was ended by the very thorough analysis of Chapter 15.

The hostess at this time urged the ladies to remain for a social hour at which time, assisted by Mesdames Cahill, Thornton and Shriver, a most delectable refreshment plate of sandwiches, olives, coconut macaroons, and tea was passed.

Plans were discussed for the benefit party (84) which the Missionary Society is sponsoring on Thursday night at the parsonage.

Sixteen women were present for the lesson and all expressed their enjoyment of the gracious hospitality of the hostess.

We meet next Monday in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Thornton for a continuation of this Bible Study.

Baptist W. M. S.

The Baptist W. M. S. met at the church at 10 o'clock Monday morning to quilt a Friendship quilt for our dear Missionary girl, Mary Belle Taylor. The quilt will be sent for a valentine gift. It was designed with a red heart in each corner of a white block with the name embroidered through the center. The busy quilters were asked to go to the pastor's home at 12:30 where a bountiful lunch was served, each lady bringing a dish.

Immediately after lunch quilting was resumed until 2:30 p. m. when the ladies assembled to hear our Pastor teach the bible lesson on the wonderful book of Isaiah. The lesson was the 46th Chapter which shows the futility of idol worship compared with the worship of our true God. We felt this study very appropriate for this occasion as we were working for one who would soon go to the foreign field to teach people to give up idol worship and win them to the true religion. This day was also the birthday of one of our circle leaders, Mrs. Taylor. She was given a lovely gift, a beautiful water pitcher and refresh dish, by some of her circle members.

Thirty-three women gathered for this happy occasion. It was our pleasure to have a visitor from Oklahoma, Mrs. Green, mother of Mrs. Hoyal.

About The Senior Play

What is the Senior play about? Well, there's an inn and a distracted inn-keeper and three lively guests; a college lad and his sweetheart; two enterprising newspaper reporters (feminine); a rather positive banker; a young man who aspires to be a movie actor and practices impersonations now and then; an English lord and his valet; a little gold-digger that the valet has accumulated; and a movie magnate.

And who are these all these characters? I guess you'll have to "Guess Again."

Tribute to Lincoln

On the twelfth day of February of each year we celebrate the birthday of one of our greatest statesmen, Abraham Lincoln was born in 1809 in Kentucky, Kentucky and died in 1865. Generally known as "Honest Abe," he would walk miles to repay a few cents. He was always ambitious and although all of his schooling combined would not exceed one year, he became the sixteenth president of the United States. It is well fitting that we celebrate the birth of so noble a man, since he helped preserve our union and make it what it is today.

Rogue's Gallery

Little dark-haired, starry-eyed Margaret is peeping through the open door of daddy's room to see if he's still busy. Yes, he is; but school is dismissed now and maybe she'll have time to listen. So she rumpers to his side. Seeing her he pauses in his work, and she promptly climbs up. Then with the extended fingers of a small hand held up for dramatic effect, she tells him all about the five little kitties in the new birthday picture-book.

J. C. Scott is still light-haired enough for us to fancy him quite golden-haired as a baby. Just old enough to walk, we see him clad in a little boy-dress of yellow gingham which lights up the yellow of his hair—putting down each foot experimentally, to try out those first little hooves with stiff soles.

Here's a picture of little Perry Mason with his toy soldiers. As he marches back and forth before them, imagine how his little bare feet (though noiseless in the sand) are placed with firm and positive tread. And fancy the quality of discipline exercised over his tiny troops!

Our Debate Teams

This year's debate season holds forth promise of real success and glory for our school although no credits will be received and no privilege will be enjoyed other than missing class and getting to go on the trips. The number coming out for debate this year is the largest since debating was first started here. There are six boys and four girls working out at the present time. Three of the boys, Tom Clifton, George Fouts and Frank Baldwin, are seniors; while Duffer Crawford represents the Juniors. As a surprise we have two freshmen in the persons of Joe Maples and Jim Bob Webb, who with their additional experience should be excellent in the next year or so. The girls are classified as three juniors and one senior; Mattie Pistole is the senior and the juniors are Catherine Wair, Margaret Breedlove and Helen Mable Baldwin.

In assembly last Wednesday Duffer and Frank debated Mattie and Catherine. This was an unusual debate between the boys and girls and incidentally the boys won. The subject this year is one of importance and nationwide significance: Resolved, That the Federal Government should control the Production of Cotton in the U. S. A.

Miss Riley is the debate coach and she anticipated taking all four teams to Seymour last Friday to debate. But Seymour was not ready so they did not get to go. However, they will be making other trips and they have already received an invitation to attend a tournament at Wichita Falls some time in March.

CANDIDATES AND BOX SUPPER

The Lillian Peck Home Economics club girls are having an old-fashioned box supper at the high school auditorium February 21, at 7:30. The public is cordially invited to attend. The most popular girl will be nominated by the public and the one with the most money votes will be prented with a cake.

Marie Rhoads was back in school this week, after an illness of three weeks.

Miss Camp spent the week-end visiting friends at Ballinger.

This Week's Warwhoop "Chief"

This week the Warwhoop staff is presenting as the Warwhoop Chief, Mr. John A. Willoughby.

Mr. Willoughby was born in Seymour, Baylor County and finished the grade school in that city. He graduated from North Dallas High School in Dallas and attended S. M. U. for one year.

He returned to Seymour and studied law with Judge Dixon, his grandfather.

After completing his studies, Mr. Willoughby was admitted to the Bar on October 25, 1934. He accepted the appointment of Court Reporter for the 39th District Court in July, 1934. Judge Clyde Grissom making the appointment.

Mr. Willoughby has continued in this capacity to the present time.

Our Chief is a member of the Lions Club, the Haskell Chamber of Commerce and is secretary of the Haskell County Bar Association. He is also an active member of the Haskell Young Democrats Club.

We take particular pride in presenting as this week's Warwhoop

JOHN A. WILLOUGHBY

Chief one of the most loyal and active supporters of the Haskell High School, Mr. John A. Willoughby.

Juniors Enjoy Fireside Supper

At last the Junior class has awakened! One result of this awakening was a fire-side supper given at the home of Mrs. Wimbish last Friday night. And was it a feast! We had ham sandwiches, tomatoes, potato chips, bananas, soda-pop and cookies.

After eating we played a number of games in which many of our members were embarrassed—and we don't mean financially. You would have been amazed to have seen Mr. Wimbish and Woodrow imitate the Siamese Twins, or Mrs. Wimbish imitate her mother washing—? Juniors who were there will know.

Just ask any Junior. Who says he was there, and see if he doesn't tell you.

It was a side-splitting affair! Members enjoying this occasion were: Albert Barnett, Anne Barnett, James Roy Akins, Beverly Gilbert, Geraldine Conner, Audra Lee Guinn, Duffer Crawford, Woodrow Perrin, J. J. Williamson, W. B. Harrison, Frank Kirkpatrick, Margaret Breedlove, Jack Harris, Catherine Wair, Phae Riley, Addie Lee Hayes, Ruth Woodson, Lottie Mae Thompson, Winnie Darnell, Mr. Wimbish and our sponsor, Mrs. Wimbish.

Ten Years Hence

Dallas, Texas, February 7, 1946.

Dearest Martelle:

I can't tell you just how much I enjoyed my visit in your home with you, your husband and two adorable children. It seemed just like old times when you and Marvin and I used to be together. By the way, I stopped in to see Marvin on the way home and she has just finished her latest masterpiece. She said she was leaving St. Louis in a week or so for Los Angeles. She feels like she has a great talent for painting pictures of the coast. I hope she makes good.

Anita Jo came to see me the other day. She has just been elected as English teacher in one of the biggest schools here. She is hoping to get her M. A. degree next summer. She sends you her best regards.

I am always having trouble with my car but it seemed to bring me good luck the other day because I had a flat in front of Henry Stanton's home. I was really surprised to find that he is a farmer, but he has made a grand success of it. I ate dinner with him and his wife, and it was delicious. The main items on the menu were fried chicken and home grown peas. I never realized before just how much better they tasted out in the country. Just as I was leaving Lloyd McMillin drove by. He recognized me and stopped. He was selling insurance and was going to a neighboring house to write a policy.

I read in the paper yesterday that Frances Fouts had taken out to herself a husband. Some New Englander, I didn't recognize the name. I am glad she is doing so well, because she deserves it, I think.

I got a letter from mother the other day; she said Ruby Sue Persons had just recently secured a position in a large law office in Abilene. She is really thrilled because it is her first job in the kind of work she loves.

I must go cook dinner because my children are acting as if they are hungry. It hasn't been long since they ate breakfast, they get up so late.

Love, Marjorie.

P. S.: Bob McNulty (he lives next door to me) returned from Detroit this morning in a new Pontiac. He is thinking about putting in an agency for them here.

Love Again, Marg.

"It Occurs to Me"

It's funny how some people can see only one side to a thing. Some week we'll have something in the "Pisen Arrow" or the "Campus Flashlight" like this:

"Just between us, did you know that Jimmie so-and-so got left holding the sack last Friday night, Jane, this needs an explanation."

Johnny will see that in the Warwhoop and he'll just laugh and laugh and "razz" Jimmie 'til it's not even funny; and about a week later something like this will appear:

"We've been told that Johnny so-and-so got stood up last Friday night. Mary, that demands a reason!" Well, well Johnny, the expression has changed a bit. Just what is the matter now? Can't you take it? Isn't that just as funny as the one last week? Jimmie seems to enjoy it.

You really should consider it a compliment when some joke is pulled on you. We thought that you were a good sport and a fun-lover or we never would have made you the goat. Really what you see in the fun columns isn't supposed to be taken seriously; it's all in fun, anyway. Somebody has to be the goat or get butted. So if it happens to you this time, consider it a compliment, because we only hit the ones that take an active part in the social side of our school life. You'll laugh next time whether it hits you or somebody else—won't you?

S. J. Redwine Honored On 73rd Birthday

On Monday, February 10th the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Redwine was the scene of a happy celebration honoring the former on his 73rd birthday. All morning cars were arriving bringing relatives and friends to wish this highly esteemed old pioneer many happy returns of the day. At the noon hour a delicious dinner was served. The birthday cake was a work of art, representing as it did Noah's Ark with the animals (animal crackers) marching in two by two and the whole surrounded by tiny candles. Another lovely tiered angel food cake with Birthday Greetings was a gift from an old friend and neighbor, Mrs. Craddock, of Knox City.

"Uncle Jack," as Mr. Redwine is familiarly called, came to Haskell County in 1885 living on Knox prairie in a half dugout until he could haul lumber from Stamford to build a home. He and his good wife knew many of the hardships common to the pioneers. Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Clifton were their only neighbors and a valued friendship beginning then has lasted on down through the years. In 1921 Mr. Redwine moved his family to Haskell. His home has ever been the "House by the side of the Road," offering friendliness and hospitality to all.

Those honoring him on his birthday with their presence and with gifts were children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Redwine, Frankie Dean and Novalene, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Turnbow, Dorothy Lee, Juanita, J. G. Charlie and Imogene, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Kelso, Edgar and Eunice Maurine, all of O'Brien; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Beason and Leo of Knox City, Mr. and Mrs. Odie Bland, Lenneth and Thomas and Charlie Redwine and Miss Eunice Redwine all of Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Campbell of Weintert. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Craddock, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Waldrup and Margaret Anne of Knox City; Mrs. Hugh Johnson, M. B. Watson and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Burt of this city. A token of remembrance from Misses Francis Walling, Louise Turner and Elyse Bradley was much appreciated.

The little things are most important in this profession. The perfection of our service has resulted from the vigilant attention to little details, which if overlooked, would result in confusion and loss of harmony and beauty.

MODERNIZATION

A few years ago, teaching agriculture in High Schools was unknown. Today there are few modern High Schools that do not have a first class agriculture department. In a few years this teaching will revolutionize farming and stock raising.

Just so, not many years ago farming was done with crude and inefficient farming tools. Now the most modern machinery is used with more ease and economy. Our line of Farmall Tractors and McCormick-Deering Implements, and International Motor Trucks are the latest modern design and will enable the farmer to save both time and money.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
February 16th. All services at the usual hours. Morning sermon subject, "The Ministry of Deacons", evening, "Jesus The Teacher". Special music at each service. Hear these sermons, the special songs and the "whistling boy". Do not forget the goals for 1936. Men are especially invited to hear the morning sermon. If you were to ask some wayfarer about the church, or were to judge it from the attitude of many men, what would you find? You would find the Church largely a place for women and children. Most men are perfectly willing to let someone else carry the responsibility of the Church of Jesus Christ. God needs Christian men; men who will live Christianity in their every day lives.

News of Farmers

C. V. Baker—
Last year C. V. Baker who lives in the Rose Community made from his cotton crop 28 bales of good long staple cotton. Aside from this he made lots of good feed. He keeps cows and sells cream and has plenty of laying hens for egg production. Cotton is his principal money crop but he is not a one crop farmer. He uses teams in farm work and was following a walking buster in putting up his land. This kind of exercise makes red beans good, cooked any way.

J. P. Davis—
One day last week we called at the home of J. P. Davis of the Rose Chapel Community. He has just moved to his new place and was getting his arrangements made to begin farming.
He lived last year on the Kemp Farm near the city where he was engaged in farming. He is a good worker and is making plans which will bring success. He has cows and some good chickens, which are the things on the side which count big in farming and making it successful.

G. S. Medford—
Terraced ground pays a big dividend says G. S. Medford who has for the past ten years been experimenting with terracing.
The advantages are many says Mr. Medford. The biggest thing it stops soil erosion and another the moisture from the rain is properly distributed and it can be cultivated earlier than in ground where the lower spots retain the moisture longer, and last, but not least it makes a better yield in crop production. That makes the farmer more money for his investment. Mr. Medford has lived in the county many years and is one of our substantial farmers and a good citizen.

A few days ago while in the city of Weirnet we had a talk with S. L. Coggins who is now in his 70th year and is still progressive and happy. He has lived in Weirnet 23 years has taught many schools in this and other sections of the state and has been active as an educator in the years he has lived here. In his early life he carried mail routes both Star and Rural. He says that the winters were cold and the summers were hot but Uncle Sam's business had to go on regardless of weather conditions. He is the present Justice-of-the-Peace at Weirnet and enjoys his duties, and the associations of his many friends.

O. L. Kreger—
For the past 20 years we have known Oscar Kreger. He has lived on the same farm near Pleasant Valley school and through all these years of good times and depression he has made the farm support his farm budget.
Oscar has been conservative, he has paid cash for everything he needed to buy and has never incurred any debts to be paid later. He lives within his means but always has plenty, never denying himself of anything he needed but paid for what he got. The Free Press has been going to him more than 20 years.

Melvin Turnbow—
It is to be regretted that Melvin Turnbow was not able to find a place where he could farm this year but he like many others is not despondent. He moved to a place near Ballew where he is comfortably situated and has his business arranged to make good until he gets back on the farm. We stopped at the home, met the folks and enjoyed our short stay in the home. These young folks are well and happy and expect to make life worth living until the depression is past. That's the spirit.

MORE PARKS FOR HASKELL COUNTY

The State Highway Department has, in cooperation with the National Youth Aid, been busy building small parks along the highway of Texas.

These parks, one of which is nearing completion highway South of Haskell will be our gesture of welcome to the people from all over the world who will visit Texas during the forthcoming Centennial celebrations. The little parks cover from a few square feet to five and ten acres. They are composed of gravel driveways, barbecue pits, stone and concrete tables and benches and a low stone fence. The N.Y.A. and the Highway Department will keep these little parks always in readiness for the people who wish to use them. There will be a supply of wood for the barbecue pit cut and stacked where the Centennial visitors can have access to the supply at all times.

Haskell has only one park, as outlined above, but the State Highway Department and Centennial officials will gladly build several other parks, all at no expense to Haskell County people, other than the cost of the land. If the land is available, it should be offered to the Highway Department so that work can be commenced as soon as possible. We need and can secure a park along the Highway to Munday, as well as a park along the Rule Highway.

If there is an excess in the right of way along this route, or if some public spirited citizen has a small tract that is not under cultivation, why not give it to the Highway Department so that people from other states will know the true hospitality and welcome of Haskell County. They will return time and again, the donation will be a good investment.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

The people of the United States paused this week to observe the birthday of Abraham Lincoln.

Throughout the nation, including the Southern states, there is a general recognition of the character of this simple man who led his nation through its most destructive crisis. Students of history fully appreciate that his assassination produced an era that reflected no credit upon his successors. The conviction is general that if Abraham Lincoln had lived to serve out his second term as President, the United States would have been completely reunited many years earlier than proved to be the fact.

Of course, not every politician who pays lip service to the memory of the War President cares for the principles he deemed important. Individuals, who want to know Lincoln, are advised to read a good history of his life rather than to heed some of the encomiums heaped upon him by present day orators.

"HORSE" AND "BUGGY" JUSTICE

Many criticisms have been leveled from time to time at the obsolescence of our criminal law, but the best we have seen comes from a member of the legal profession. Here is the indictment of Thomas E. Dewey, special prosecutor of rackets in New York City:

"I have heard with surprising frequency from bench, bar, legislators and even prosecutors, an expressed devotion to outworn theories and technical obstructions of the criminal law. They all still blindly worship at shrines long since devoid of meaning or usefulness. The unsatisfactory condition of the criminal law is a logical result of this philosophy. So, also, in the larger cities, are the incredible frequency of suspended and inadequate sentences for convicted criminals, and the acceptance of pleas to misdemeanors from habitual felons charged with serious crimes."

It is encouraging to see a leader in the profession turning the spotlight on the legal debris that has clogged for so long the channels of justice.

HAPPY DAYS ARE NEAR AGAIN

As statisticians finish compiling their first-of-the-year figures, it becomes more and more apparent that only some unexpected development can prevent this nation from reaching a real measure of prosperity this year. A bulletin from the National Industrial Conference Board, for instance, shows that the tide of business activity rose substantially throughout December. The bulletin points out:

"Building activity and steel output advanced in December, although their usual seasonal movement from November is downward. Production of bituminous coal rose by more than the usual seasonal amount. Electric power output reached an all-time peak in mid-December. Automobile production in the United States and Canada was about 3 per cent lower in December than in November, chiefly as a result of the Christmas shutdowns. The physical volume of department store sales was 9.7 per cent greater than in December, 1934, and 59 per cent greater than in November."

All in all, the picture is encouraging. It seems to point toward continued improvement in 1936.

A BILL THAT HITS CRIME

Almost hidden in the mass of new bills before Congress is a measure providing that, in federal courts, a newspaper man shall not be required, under penalty of contempt, to reveal a news source. Laws granting this vital privilege to the press are already on the statute books of New Jersey, Maryland and Alabama. They were placed there because if it is to collect and disseminate information, the press must be guarded as to its sources. Reveal the sources of much important information carried nowadays by the press and the supply would be cut off. In exposing crime and corruption, the newspaper must retain the right to protect its confidential informants. Whether or not Congress passes this bill, individual states could lend no greater hand to good government than to secure this fundamental right for the newspapers. In its crusading, the press today holds a unique position, and its need here is far above partisanship.

FEBRUARY'S FIVE SATURDAYS

Citizens accustomed to being paid off on Saturdays will take note that February contains five of these delightful days. Of course, this is made possible by the fact that February has 29 days this year but five Saturdays in February will not occur again until 1964.

HENRY-LESSON RADCLIFFE

SIN AND DOUBT

International Sunday School Lesson for February 16, 1936

Golden Text: "I believe: help thou mine unbelief." Mark 9:24.

(Lesson Text: Luke 7:19-28)

Our lesson is based upon a chapter from Luke's gospel which emphasizes faith, not only for the cure of physical ills but for a spiritual regeneration as well. The first two incidents in this chapter relate miraculous cures in the physical realm.

We are told, first, about the unbelieving centurion, a man who did not feel himself worthy enough to come to Jesus, but who had faith enough to believe that a word spoken by him who could heal No wonder that Jesus praised his trust. We should ask ourselves who do we approach with our like he did and do we ask with our own petitions. Do we feel unworthy like he did and do we ask with a sense of undeservingness or do we approach God and seek his favor as if we were entitled to our petition in our own right?

Second, we are given the account of a case where Jesus raised a man from the dead. As he was entering the City of Nain he met a funeral procession coming out of the City. His heart was touched by the sorrow, for the dead was a widow's only son. To relieve this distress and to restore joy in this human soul Jesus exercised his marvelous gift and brought the young man back to life. Those who witnessed the incident were awe-stricken and realized that a great prophet was in their midst.

"Christianity does not indeed now miraculously heal deafness, blindness, leprosy, and the like," says James Stalker, "but, as Jesus promised, it does greater things than there. It is making men and women new creatures; it is making the brutal wife-beater a tender husband, the drunkard a sober man, the harlot pure, the thief honest. It is changing the dead of society into good citizens and members of churches. The church which saves most souls should and does most to sweeten and purify domestic and political life is the church which is doing most to counterwork skepticism."

Soon after these things John the Baptist sent messengers to inquire if Jesus was the Messiah as John had testified. It is interesting to notice the answer that Jesus returned. After reciting his aid to the blind, lame, deaf and lepers, the fact that he changed death into life, Jesus added the fact that "to the poor the gospel is preached." Isn't it significant that this last named evidence should be given such emphasis? Do you think the poor and needy are being neglected by Christians today?

"Doubts are only dangerous when they are not allowed expression and strike inward," says Marcus Dods. "In a region of fog, such as this life is, there is good reason of fog, such as this life is, there is good reason for going slow and for taking soundings without intermission. Doubts are dangerous when men who are tormented by them think themselves exceptional, and that God frowns upon them for not believing what they find it impossible to believe. God is reasonable. Here Jesus shows in what spirit he meets honest, serious-minded doubt. He knows that beneath that question of John's which so shocked the bystanders, there lay a heart more capable of loyalty to him than was to be found in any of those who gave their easy assent to claims they scarcely understood."

Simon, a Pharisee, invited Jesus to dine with him and Jesus promptly accepted the invitation. Whether the Pharisee was actuated by a sincere desire to know Jesus more intimately or merely invited him as a matter of social prestige in view of his reputation as a prophet, we do not know, although the thought which he had later indicates that he may have been sincere. Two similar motives may actuate men and women today to profess Christianity and very often it is difficult to distinguish between them.

While Jesus was dining, a woman who was a sinner, came to him, weeping with remorse, washing his feet in humility, and anointing his head in worship. Others present would have recoiled from her presence, but not Jesus. He could distinguish between the past and the present and could differentiate between the human soul and deeds which had been done.

The attitude of Jesus to sinners was always one of friendly sympathy. We know of no particular in which the modern Christian differs so far from Jesus than in the attitude to those who have erred and been misguided. Jesus knew the why's and the degree of responsibility which attached to society as a whole. He attracted those whose lives were imperfect instead of repelling them and provided the love and inspiration for them to initiate new lives. How else can the world ever be made more righteous.

Jesus understood the surprise of those around him and he told the story of the creditor and his two debtors. The one forgiven called Simon's attention to his failure to do his duty as a guest. The Pharisee had lacked courtesy in providing no water for guest's feet; he had welcomed him with no kiss, and the absence of love had been shown in his reception. Jesus compared this to the attitude of the sinning woman. While Simon had welcomed Jesus to his house he had not taken him into his heart.

When Jesus told the woman that her sins were forgiven his hearers questioned who could forgive sin. Back of the woman's repentance was her faith in the love and power of Jesus. To a certain extent every man and woman has the power to forgive sins committed by others. We show whether we realize this or not in our attitude to those who have committed wrong. Few of us realize the effect of human kindness and sympathy to restoring a broken life. Jean Valjean became a changed man largely because Bishop Bienvenu forgave him for stealing the candlesticks.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping, my pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, sluggish and 'do-less.' My mother decided to get me Cardui. I began to mend. That first, sluggish feeling was gone and the pain disappeared. I can't praise Cardui highly enough. I know I can't. . . . If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician."

50th Edition

(Continued From Page One) the petition containing 185 names was presented. It seems that when Mr. Jones came through Haskell he was treated to a few drinks at the bar of the Road to Ruin, asked to sign the petition stating that he was a resident and voter of Haskell and usually Mr. Jones from Nevada or any other place had signed. Mr. Jones was riding a horse named Jack, and on the petition will appear the name of Jack Jones. Now in spite of camera tricks and all the art of training that goes on in Hollywood, none of the famous horses ridden by Tom Mix and the others have ever been able to write and vote. That is something that happened in Haskell County. No doubt Hollywood will send a few scouts into our country to try to get hold of some of these marvelous horses.

Some of the old timers can recall some of the men that are signers of the petition. Some who thought they knew them all when they were living in Haskell cannot recall ever knowing some of the people.

However, it reads like a fairy story, combined with a George Barr McCutcheon "Graustark" novel, laid in a Zane Grey setting with a "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" for the leading character.

The Anniversary edition is shipping up fast. It is a joy to get to work with the material that is coming into the Free Press office every week.

Houston Seeks Plow 100 Years Old For Part In Ceremony

A state-wide search for a 100-year-old plow, needed for impressive ground-breaking ceremonies for the million-dollar San Jacinto battle shaft, was instituted today by the San Jacinto Centennial Association.

John C. Townes, president of the association, issued the call today, appealing to all Texas to join in the search. The century-old plow would be the central feature of the ceremonies which will attract nationwide attention.

Anyone in Texas owning or having information of such a plow should communicate with the San Jacinto Centennial Association in Houston immediately.

The gigantic battle shaft to be erected on the site of Sam Houston's decisive thrust for Texas liberty will be one of the world's most imposing structures. Taller than the Washington monument, and more beautifully architecturally, the Texas shaft will become renowned overnight.

Miss Bessie Lee Sikes, Regional Director of the Home Demonstration Agents, was in Haskell Thursday, conferring with Miss Peggy Taylor, local Home Demonstrator.

Lincoln was the man that saved the union. He is known for his humane treatment of people, both black and white, enemies and friends, during the Civil War. One of the greatest arguments that has ever taken place.

We celebrated the birthday of this famous man Wednesday.

Why Argue with irresponsible insurance? We have always represented the reliable companies, there is no argument to this, just facts...
