VETS ARE SENDING IN PRINTS FOR BONUS

500 Haskell County Men Eligible for Cash Bonds

Applications are being mailed in daily for the bonus that the veterans of the late war have been trying to get paid for the past 17 years. The Harrison Bonus Act was passed through both houses of Congress in the January session, overriding the veto placed on the bill by President Roosevelt. The bonus payoff will be made with bonds which can be exchanged at any United States Post Office window for cash, or at any Federal Reserve Bank, or if the veteran wishes, can be placed away, not cashed and draw interest until the maturity in 1946. The bonds are referred to as "baby bonds" and are issued in $50.00 denominations. The application blanks were received in Haskell last Saturday (Continued On Page Eight)

YOUNG DEMOCRATS TO MEET HERE FEB. 14TH

To Elect Officers and Select State Delegates

The Haskell County Young Democrats Association have set their meeting to be held before the County Democratic Convention for Friday, February 14th. The local chairman, F. M. Robertson, stated the meeting would be held for the purpose of electing the officers for the current year, attend to the business of the organization before the County Convention and the primaries to be held soon, and to select the delegate from Haskell County to attend the State Convention of the Young Democrats which will be held in Abilene in June of this year. The Haskell meeting will be held in the District Court room at the Court House in Haskell.

MRS. LOUISE PARKS BURIED AT MUNDAY

Teacher in School at Cottonwood Died Jan. 31

Funeral rites for Mrs. Dimple Louise Sullivan Parks, 23, who died in a Breckenridge hospital Wednesday morning, January 29th, were held from the First Baptist Church in Munday, Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Albers officiating. Mrs. Parks was the daughter of Mrs. G. C. Sullivan of Greenville, Texas, former residents of Munday. She was also a grand-daughter of the late Mrs. Stanley Jones, pioneer of Haskell county who settled here with her husband in the 80's. Mrs. Parks graduated from the Greenville schools, attended Wesley College for one year and East Texas State Teachers College at Commerce one year. She was a teacher in the Cottonwood school at the time of her death. Survivors are her husband, Mr. G. C. Sullivan, and two sisters, Misses Dorothy and Emogene, of Greenville. Active pallbearers were Tom Honey and Chandler Hughes of Munday; Mourry Price, Wallace Boone and E. D. Earl of Weinert; and John Wallace of Greenville. Honorary pallbearers: I. N. Furr, John Mayfield, Frank Nickleson, Jake Holcomb, John McGuire.

The supreme courts upheld validity of bonds issued by the Brazos river conservation and reclamation district to aid in financing a $30,000,000 project. A dispatch from Austin, dated Wednesday, February 5, recites the State Supreme Court Decision that the bonds for the Brazos River Project have been declared valid. This decision vitally affects the people of this section, inasmuch as we have been promised the second dam on the Brazos, to be built near Jud, in Haskell County and will control flood waters and probably irrigation in Haskell, Knox and Baylor counties. The test suit was brought by directors in collaboration with the attorney general to settle a question raised by the federal government. A Works Progress Ad-

FOUNDATION IS BEING LAID FOR NEW SCHOOL

Work Resumed After Heavy Snow Delays Construction for Several Days Last Week

TRIBUTES HELD TODAY FOR M. E. PARK, 80, PIONEER RESIDENT

Died Wednesday Morning After Long Illness at His Home

Fast-dwindling ranks of West Texas pioneers were again thinned this week when M. E. (Uncle Mose) Park, 80, came to the end of a long and useful life early Wednesday morning at his farm home north of Haskell. Mr. Park had been in ill health for several years, and had been confined to his bed for several weeks. Funeral rites were held from the First Methodist Church, Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, with the pastor, Rev. R. N. Huckabee, conducting. Deceased united with the Methodist Church as a youth. Interment was in Willow Cemetery, with W. O. Holden of Jones, Cox & Co. in charge. Mr. Park came to this section in 1889 to engage in cattle and horse raising, and with a brother, settled on land east of Haskell now known as the Zelisko place. When the county's first stone courthouse was erected, the brothers set up one of the first lime kilns in this section, to furnish material used in construction of the county edifice. Several years later, Mr. Park also as-

The heavy snow that fell over Haskell last week delayed the construction of the new $50,000 North Ward School several days, but workmen resumed the job of excavating for the foundation last Monday. According to Mr. J. L. Hair, the incliment weather did not damage the materials on the job to any great extent. There were several carloads of lumber out in the open where the snow could get on it, but the office and tool house had been completed so that cement and other items that had weather affects were safely housed. There will be no further delay from the past snows as the short time called for in the contract must be respected and unless bad weather sets in again, there will be no delays of any sort and the Haskell school system will soon have the new addition to the buildings and be holding classes shortly thereafter. The plumbing and wiring contracts are separate from the building contract, however, the successful bidders for the jobs are prepared to keep abreast of the building and these two necessities will be completed at the same time as the new school.

January Marriage License receipts totaled only 19 as compared with the December total of 36. No explanation can be given unless the fact that the AAA has stopped issuing checks and the Haskell County swains have decided to wait until the Administration can be depended upon to give a bit of a start. One couple asked that their names not be published, however, the account of the marriage was in the Free Press so we can see no reason that it be withheld. Those obtaining permits during January were: Arthur Lee McAdda and Maxine Walsh; Clarence A. Rambo and Nina Mae Motes; I. S. Grindstaff Jr. and Lucille May; J. W. Frost and Iva Dell Frasure; A. D. McFadden and Marjorie Wright; Floyd Edward Cook and Nina Ethel Black; Jessie W. West and Dorothy Joe Posey; Marshall W. Freeman and Bessie Griggs; Charlie Dunn Campbell and Eudora DeHart; Richard Evans and Maydee McDuff; Marion Leo Wallace and Margaret Lucy Coley; Charlie Cristo Hughes and Mary Ione Messer; M. W. Anderson and Jean Brown; Zina Arnold Branton and Irdie Gaunt; Bobby Andrew Capers and Lula Mae Bell; Robert Lee Howeth and Mable Hanshaw.

FUNERAL SERVICE HELD MONDAY FOR MARGARET E. SMITH

Pneumonia Is Fatal to 18-Year-Old High School Student

Funeral services for Margaret Edell Smith, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Smith of this city, were held at the First Christian Church, Monday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. H. M. Gillmore, pastor. Miss Smith, a member of the Sophomore class of Haskell High School, died Saturday night in a Stamford hospital, where she had been undergoing treatment for the past ten days. The young lady contracted pneumonia a month ago, and ensuing complications caused her death. Born December 28, 1918, she had resided in Haskell all her life. Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Smith; two brothers, Finney Smith of Stamford, and Weldon Smith, Haskell; and three sisters, Mabel, Opal, and Ruby Ruth, Haskell. Pallbearers were Arthur Watson, John Robert Haynes, A. L. Haynes, Fred Gilliam, Eulis Hayes and Buster Smith. Floral offerings were handled by Mrs. Virginia Smith, Misses Cletus McClain, Orna Faye Watson, Jewel Dean Lewellen, Mattie Frank Mullins, and Modelle Brown. Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Kinney Funeral Home. In Hospital. Hovie Halev, young farmer of the Howard Community who has been ill with pneumonia for several days, was removed to the Stamford hospital Wednesday in a Kinney ambulance.

Cows To Be Tested For Tuberculosis

M. A. Malahan has informed County Judge Charles M. Conner that four veterinarians under the supervision of the State will be in Haskell County beginning Monday, February 10th, to test all cows for Tuberculosis. Those found carrying germs will be condemned and disposed of, with the State reimbursing the owner for the cost of the cow.

Is Candidate

J. H. (Johnnie) Banks has announced that he will be a candidate this year for the office of County Attorney. Mr. Banks will publish a formal statement in the next issue of the Haskell Free Press.

MARRIAGE PERMITS SHOW A DECREASE

Only 19 Couples Brave the Stormy Seas to Start Year

LAST WEEK COURT BRINGS INTEREST TO SEVERAL CASES

Pioneer days of Haskell County were recalled Thursday in the 39th District Court as Judge Dennis P. Ratliff pronounced sentence on two Paducah men, W. L. (Danger) Webb and Charlie Grey. These men entered a plea of guilty in each of three cases against them. The charge were Burglary, Theft of property over $50.00 and cutting fences. This was the first time in the history of the Court that men had been brought to trial and sentenced for the felony offense of cutting fences, although many gun battles were fought in Haskell and the surrounding territory over the activities of fence cutters in the early days when the fence was just coming into the open range, cutting off the broad grazing privileges of the cattle and sheep men of half a century ago. The defendants waived jury trial and threw themselves upon the mercy of the court. In view of the fact that there were three cases against each of the men, and also in view of the fact that Grey has a past criminal record, and there are cases pending against the men in other courts, Judge Ratliff gave the men the minimum sentence in each case, two years, and allowed the sentences to be served concurrently. The men were arrested in Plainview last Wednesday by patrolman C. L. Young of that city and were returned to Haskell by Sheriff Giles Kemp and Deputy Reiley Lewellen. When arrested, the men were trying to dispose of over 2,300 pounds of cowhides stolen from Grey Brothers in Stamford. Grey is now under a 5 year suspended sentence received in Waxahachie in 1932, on a charge of white slavery. This was the first offense for Webb. The Sheriff of Cottle County, A. A. Payne, the Sheriff Bud Barron, and the Paducah City Marshall, Bill Stinson were all here and testified in his case. (Continued On Page Eight)

MANY DELAYED PAYING POLL TAX 'TIL TOO LATE

Over 250 Exemptions for First Vote; Estimate 500 Over Sixty in Addition to Poll Tax Receipts

LOCAL MAN VICTIM UNAVOIDABLE MISHAP

J. B. Whitaker Pinned to Well Machinery by Truck

J. B. Whitaker, age 73, was critically injured in an accident on the Ivey place, three miles from Haskell Wednesday morning. Mr. Whitaker was engaged in drilling a water well and his son had backed a truck up to the well machinery, unaware that his father was between the truck and the structure. The flat bed of the truck caught Mr. Whitaker in the stomach, pinning him against the well digging machinery. The truck engine had been turned off. Mr. Whitaker's son had dismounted from the cab, and unaware of his father's predicament had walked to the back end of the truck. He had to return to the cab, start the motor and drive off before Mr. Whitaker could be extricated. Mr. Whitaker was rushed to Haskell (Continued On Page Eight)

Bad Weather Kept Year From Record

Haskell county will have approximately 5,000 voters in the races this year, according to Tax Assessor-Collector Mike B. Watson. Although exact figures are not available due to the fact that the exemptions for all voters over 60 years of age are not recorded as they have been in other years. There were about 250 exemptions issued to those 21 years old, 4120 poll tax paid and there will be several hundred exemptions to those over 60. The official day for the last payment of poll taxes that could be used in voting was last Friday. Saturday it was estimated that fully 500 people in Haskell County were turned down as they came to town to pay the taxes and had been delayed or had postponed the payment until too late to qualify. There are 34 men announcing for office either for the first term or re-election and there are candidates on voters.

Add to Indoor Sports In Haskell

When you see a couple of women abandon the time honored art of embracing on meet and resort to hearty handshakes, or two men that meet, shake hands, inquire about the family of each, turn around and start the same routine all over again, or even men and women indulging in the same sport—don't be alarmed and call the Asylum—it is just a couple of candidates or candidates wives getting in shape for the open season on voters.

STATE REVIVAL MOVE GAINING IN SUPPORT

R. N. Huckabee of City Has Important Position

A striking feature of the Centennial Celebration in Texas during 1936 is the interdenominational revival effort all over the state. One of the slogans of the movement is "The Battle of 1936." The co-operating church, Methodist, Presbyterian U. S., Presbyterian U. S. A., Nazarene, Baptist, Episcopal and Christian are laying plans for a desperate and vigorous battle in the Centennial year as did the courageous Texans in 1836. The different churches are setting goals for an increase in membership of 10 per cent or more. The Baptist has a goal of 52,000 additions by baptism, and other denominations have special definite goals. This gigantic state wide revival (Continued On Page Eight)

TRIBUTES HELD FRIDAY FOR MRS. J. W. TIDWELL

Wife of Prominent Farmer Died Thursday Morning

The funeral services for Mrs. J. W. Tidwell, who died at the family home two and one-half miles northwest of town this morning at nine o'clock will be held from the First Methodist Church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. The deceased was the wife of J. W. Tidwell, prominent Haskell County farmer and landowner. She was born February 5th, 1871. She is survived by 11 children, eight boys and three girls. W. O. Holden of Jones, Cox & Company has charge of arrangements.

Barn Burns in Haskell County at Great Loss

Mr. I. D. McGregor, who lives in the Northwest portion of Haskell County, suffered the loss of his garage and barn last Tuesday night. The loss included a new tractor, three barrels of gasoline, a barrel of oil, and the meat from three hogs. The fire started when Mr. McGregor got too close to a barrel of gasoline with a lighted lantern. The loss was estimated at more than $2,000. Arthur Fuqua, Sheriff from Paducah, Texas, was transacting business in our city, Monday.

Main Obstacle Removed for Work to Start on Brazos River Dam Near Jud by Court's Approval of Bonds

The court granted the district a mandamus directing the attorney general to approve an issue of $3,000,000 bonds to be repaid from a 20-year diversion of state property taxes in 10 counties and revenue from operation of flood control, power and reclamation project. One of the underlying questions was power of the legislature to "appropriate" state tax proceeds for a longer period than two years. The test suit was brought by directors in collaboration with the attorney general to settle a question raised by the federal government. A Works Progress Ad-

Haskell County Home Demonstration Council Meets

The Haskell County Home Demonstration Council met at 2:30 o'clock p. m., Saturday, February 1, in the council room in the Court House. The meeting was to forward Home Demonstration work through county-wide co-operation of club leaders.

In the absence of the chairman vice-chairman, Mrs. Date Anderson presided at the meeting. Definite plans were made by the expansion committee under the direction of committee chairman, Mrs. C. V. Oates, to reach the unorganized communities. The goal was set at 85 percent of farm families. The map of Haskell County was worked out in a way to make each club responsible for a neighboring unorganized community.

February 6th Haskell County will be hostess to a meeting of 4-H Club sponsors, leaders and reporters. A number of near-by Counties will be represented. Miss Bessie Lee Sykes, District Demonstrator; Mrs. L. L. Johnson, Recreational leader and Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham who will be in charge of the reporters meeting will be there.

The council plans to sponsor a trip to Dallas, the Centennial center, along with the usual trip to College Station, for the annual Short Course in July.

A committee was appointed to represent the Council in sending a telegram to our Congress representative, Marvin Jones, in regard to the agricultural program for 1936. Mrs. J. P. West, Mrs. J. B. Smith, Mrs. W. E. Norton and Mrs. R. P. Barnard were the committeewomen.

Tuesday, February 4th, Midway Club is holding an all day meeting at the Midway Club house to demonstrate mattress making. A program on Historical points of interest in Texas, has been planned for the afternoon. Mrs. C. V. Oates extending an invitation to all to come for the day.

Despite unfavorable weather conditions 15 women attended the meeting, representing 8 clubs. Such interest indicates that the farm women of Haskell County are fully awake to their responsibility as progressive farm home makers.

Recent Bride Is Honored With Miscellaneous Shower

Mrs. Floyd Cook a recent bride, was the honoree at a miscellaneous shower last Friday night, January 31st, in the Phippen home with the Pals Sunday school class of the Methodist church serving as hostesses. The valentine motif was stressed throughout the entertaining rooms. Guests were received by Miss Matalathia Phippen, Mrs. R. A. Black, Mrs. T. R. Odell, Mrs. Floyd Cook, Mrs. W. R. Cook and Miss Janie Lyle Martin. Miss Eva Dell Squyres presided over the brides book which was handpainted by Mrs. T. R. Odell. After a series of game of "42", each guest drew their fortune. Mrs. Cook drawing a big box containing gifts which were unwrapped and admired. The three tiered bride cake with a miniature bride and groom was cut by the bride and served with coffee by the hostesses. Miss Alma Sprowls found the ring in her cake. Miss Janie Lyle Martin the thimble. Miss Eva Dell Squyres the dime. Miss Ola Bell Kennedy the good luck piece and Mrs. Andrew Schriver the button. During the social hour little Josephine Parish entertained the guests with two readings entitled, "Send My Love Ship Safe Home to Me" and "Proposal to Nina Lou."

Class members to register in the brides book were Mrs. T. R. Odell teacher of the class and Misses Lula Ketrin, Wynelle Helms, Janie Lyle Martin, Eva Dell Squyres, Buryle Montgomery, Alma Sprowls, Ethel Irby, Matalathia Phippen, Odell Williamson, Wilda Phippen, Ola Bell Kennedy, Mary Bischoffhausen, Eva Bell Phippen, Mesdames Carl Arbuckle, Fred Akin, Rogers Gilstrap, Roy Cook, R. A. Black, Forrest Squyres, Francis Dobbins, Andrew Schriver, Lynn Pace, and Miss Josephine Parish. Mrs. Robert Segro, Florence Cook and little Janice Pace sent gifts.

A joint meeting of the North Ward and High School Parent-Teacher Association will be held on the night of February 20, at the high school auditorium. A very interesting program which will be announced in next week's paper is being prepared.

Methodist Missionary Society

On Monday, February 3rd, the members of the W. M. S. met in the hospitable home of Mrs. Hugh Smith. This was the first of a series of Bible lessons being taught by Rev. Hucklebee. Despite the bitter cold, 17 women were present. The President, Mrs. Persons, held a short business session, after which Rev. Hucklebee took charge and taught the lesson, briefly reviewing the 1st 37th and 73rd Psalms, that being the book in the Bible chosen for this series of lessons. Mr. Hucklebee is a most interesting and able instructor and the ladies who desire to take this course are urged to be present for the next lesson, on next Monday at the home of Mrs. Guy Mays.

The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Hill Oates and Mrs. R. C. Montgomery, served a delicious refreshment plate of toasted pimento and cheese sandwiches, wafers and tea.

Tuesday was a very important day at the Methodist Church in Haskell, as at that time the church was host to the District Missionary Institute.

Some 75 visitors and local members assembled at 10 a. m. in the auditorium, and listened to a most interesting program. The outstanding addresses were those of Mr. Emmons of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. C. A. Bickley of Big Springs. At noon all were invited to the dining room and were served a delicious dinner of meatloaf with tomato sauce, candied yams, cabbage slaw, hot rolls, spice pudding with lemon sauce and coffee. Mrs. Persons as chairman of the committee on arrangements composed of Mesdames Gentry, Wilson, Hill Oates and Miss Janie Lyle Martin, wish to thank all who so generously and willingly assisted in this work. Also thanks are due to the serving committee, composed of Mesdames Bert Welsh, Clay Smith, Hill Oates, Robert Segro, and Misses Ola Belle Kennedy, Lula Ketrin and Eva Dell Squyres.

The table committee is to be commended on the appearance of the tables which were lovely, with their decorations of seasonal greenery. We failed to get the parcel of this committee, but heard several complimentary remarks and pass them on.

The visitors, one and all, voiced their appreciation of the hospitality shown them and expressed their desire to come again.

Mrs. Sam A. Roberts Hostess to T. E. L. Class Tuesday

Mrs. Sam A. Roberts was hostess of the T. E. L. of the Baptist Sunday School on Tuesday afternoon in a business and social meeting. The meeting was opened by singing "My Faith Looks Up To Thee," which was followed by prayer.

The president, Mrs. K. D. Simmons presided during the business session. Mesdames Cates, Paxton and Roberts, gave reports of their respective groups, mentioning attendance visits and cards sent. Mrs. Lane brought a splendid secretary's report, following which the weak points were made as to improvement on these points.

Mrs. Cates had charge of the social program. Mrs. I. N. Alvis brought the devotional reading the 96th Psalm. The thought "sing a new song" was stressed and a beautiful illustration was given of some great ruler, who thinking that he could make an exceptional instrument in the way of a harp, strung many wires between two turrets of his castle. Sunny days followed, the winds were calm, but he listened in vain for musical sounds.

Then one day a terrific storm arose, dark clouds and heavy winds, when lo, from the wires came the most glorious melodies the human ear had ever heard. So in our lives, adversity often brings out the good and true, and we can "sing a new song." Mrs. Aiken led in prayer.

Two numbers were given by our juniors: J. N. Holland, cornet and Maxine Perdue, violin, with Mrs. Perdue at the piano. Little Gala Marie Holland gave a reading.

Mesdames H. R. Jones and B. M. Whiteker sang "I Love Thee." An interesting feature was the artists contest in drawing, in which Mrs. Spencer Lane excelled, drawing a realistic equine.

Mrs. Roberts' group served refreshments of cherry pie, whipped cream, coffee or cocoa, with tiny U. S. flags as favors.

Members and visitors included: Mesdames K. D. Simmons, Hoval, C. Jones, H. R. Jones, J. H. Kinney, S. S. Grindstaff, O. E. Oates, Bob Ganaway, R. C. Couch, Jno. A. Couch, Aiken, Spencer, Lane, L. F. Taylor, J. N. Martin, Leon Gilliam, George Herren, Jno. Lambkin, Johnson, J. M. Diggs, R. J. Paxton, J. A. Bailey, H. C. Cates, B. M. Whiteker, Jno. Fouts, Mack Perdue, I. N. Alvis, Joe Maples, I. N. Simmons, the hostess and daughter, Audra Gavie, Maxine Perdue, J. W. and Gala Marie Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lewis and sons Bobbie and Gene, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Paxton.

Demonstrator

MRS. LILLIAN MCKINNEY Demonstrator for the Ball Brothers Company, who will conduct a demonstration at the McNeill & Smith Hardware store Feb. 10th and 11th.

CANNING DEMONSTRATION WILL BE GIVEN FEB. 10-11

Mrs. Lillian McKinney, well known home economist of the Ball Brothers Company, will be in Haskell on February 10th and 11th at which time she will give a free demonstration of meat, fruit and vegetable preserving at McNeill & Smith Hardware Co. Mrs. McKinney has won many prizes for her canning skill. She received two prizes at the Century of Progress, has won three international prizes and a number of local, county and state prizes in Texas and Oklahoma. She has been with Ball Brothers for two years.

Mrs. McKinney is not only prepared technically for her place, but she has also a charming personality which claims her audience's attention and admiration. Having had much practical and home experience, she is able to explain all the correct and economical methods of canning foods in glass containers so that her listeners understand every process. The women who attend her schools enjoy each session and go away better prepared to put up home products for the delight, health, and prosperity of their families.

The Ball Brothers Company, manufacturers of quality glass jars for nearly half a century, is sending Mrs. McKinney and scores of other qualified demonstrators all over the country to show housewives the United States Government-approved methods of steam pressure, hot water bath, open kettle and open canning. See and hear Mrs. McKinney and ask her any canning questions you would like to have answered.

Mrs. Bruce Clift Is Honored on Birthday

A number of neighbors of Mrs. Bruce Clift surprised her last Thursday night, January 30th with a birthday party in honor of her 60th birthday in her home. Games were played, and music furnished by Mr. B. T. Clift, D. R. Turpin and Miss Mozell Turpin which was enjoyed. Birthday cake and fruit was served to the honoree, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. McNeill, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rogers, Mrs. Jess Josselot, Miss Mozell Turpin, D. R. Turpin, Mr. Clift. Each guest remembered the honoree with a gift.

Mrs. W. L. Norton Entertains With Quilting Party

The home of Mrs. W. L. Norton was the scene of a very happy occasion last Wednesday when a number of her friends were invited in to an old fashioned quilting. The guests began arriving and the quilting started about 9 o'clock.

About 12:30 a delicious dinner consisting of chicken, dressing, gravy, veal loaf, five varieties of vegetables, fruit salad, pie cake and coffee was served.

All but one or two dishes were out of Mrs. Norton's pantry which she canned the past summer. Sweet fellowship and happy conversation were engaged in through the day by the following guests:

Mesdames H. S. Post, C. D. Griston, Mary Oates, T. E. Wright, R. P. Glenn, B. M. Whiteker, Sam Roberts, R. J. Paxton, C. H. P. Pool, H. R. Jones, W. H. Williams, I. N. Alvis, H. R. Whatley, Adams.

Helen Bagby Circle

The Helen Bagby Circle met with Mrs. Taylor with 12 women present.

Opening Song, "Have Thine Own Way" Prayer—Mrs. Reynolds. Devotional—Mrs. Taylor, reading the 13th Chapter. The Royal Service program was rendered by Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Gilstrap, Mrs. Couch and Mrs. K. D. Simmons giving interesting parts in the program.

Woman's Auxiliary Meets At Presbyterian Church

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church met Monday February 3rd, in the church. The group was called to order by the president. The secretary read the minutes. Mrs. Sherill was appointed to direct the study of the book, "Faith of Our Fathers," by Rev. D. Clay Lilly, D. D. The book is to be studied during February.

The Bible lesson included, "The Holy Spirit's Work in the Believer" and "The Spirit Filled Life." These two lessons concluded a series of studies on the Holy Spirit. Each member present was given an opportunity to express how this study has benefited her. We feel that much good has been done and that Mrs. Sherill deserves much credit for the interest she has created in this subject.

The meeting closed with prayers for the indwelling Holy Spirit in each life.

The Harmony Club

The Harmony Club met January 22, 1936, with Mrs. Kenneth Thornton, president in charge of business.

Mrs. Arthur Foster directed a very interesting program on the "Jazz and American Music—Miss Eunice Hucklebee. The Near Esthetic, Effect of War, Machine and Radio—Mrs. Kenneth Thornton. Wheel Solo, Grofé—Miss Nadine Wheeler.

Mrs. Bert Welsh Hostess to Supper Club

Mrs. Bert Welsh was hostess to members of the Supper club Friday night at her home for a dinner party. A two course dinner consisting of tamales loaf, beans, vegetable salad, peach pickles, crackers, pickled onion, coffee and parfee was served after which a series of games of contract were played. Theron Cahill captured high score prize and Mrs. Roy Killingsworth second high in the games. Those playing were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bagwell, Mr. and Mrs. Theron Cahill, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Killingsworth, Mrs. C. V. Payne, Mrs. R. L. Lemmon, Mrs. Jno. P. Payne and Miss Nettie McCollum.

North Circle Meets Monday Afternoon

The North Circle met with Mrs. Sam A. Roberts on Monday afternoon, for a Royal Service program, under the direction of Mrs. George Herren. Mrs. I. N. Simmons gave a splendid devotional, which was followed by a prayer.

Mrs. Whiteker discussed the cooperation of the Baptist denomination, as evidenced in their work together. The cooperative program was stressed and the seven worthy causes which it fosters. Some encouraging statistics were given.

Mrs. R. C. Couch discussed the importance of the 100,000 club, and the good which has already been accomplished through this channel.

Mrs. Bob Foote was chosen as our circle leader during the business session. Mrs. Herren dismissed us with prayer. Nine women were present.

Weinert W. M. S. Met February 3rd.

In one of the most inspirational meetings of the year, the Weinert W. M. S. met Monday, February 3rd, with nineteen members present.

With Mrs. Baldwin as leader, the following program was rendered: Hymn No. 160. Scripture (Genesis 13:14-18)—Mrs. Culwell. "Tried and Proven"—Mrs. Marr. Prayer—Mrs. Culwell. "Kinship"—Mrs. Baldwin. Story—"The Shepherd Who Turned Back"—Mrs. Smith.

We will meet February 10th at 2:30, with Mrs. Baldwin, and all members are urged to attend. Mrs. Haynes will be our leader.

News From Sewing Room At Rochester

January 28th the Sewing Room turned the finished garments to the Commodity Agent to be distributed to the needy of Haskell County.

There have been 57 garments delivered and we have 75 on hand at present in the room. There have been garments for men, women and children made. Also sheets, pillow slips and quilt tops. Those donating thread this week are Mrs. H. F. Wood and Mrs. Lusk and Faye Crawford. A short period each morning is given to simple lessons in sewing. The fundamental principal of from basting stitches to the more complicated seams by machine. Later they will be taught pattern drafting and construction of clothes.

Miss Margaret Richey of Abilene, spent the week-end here with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. J. Richey.

Contract Bridge Club

Mrs. Clay Smith was hostess to members of the Contract Bridge Club with one extra table Tuesday afternoon, at her home. After the usual games, Mrs. H. K. Henry was presented with high score prize. Mrs. Smith served a delicious salad plate with coffee to Mesdames Roy A. Sanders, W. G. Fory, Barton Welsh, Virgil Reynolds, Raymond Leggett, B. C. Chapman, Bert Welsh, T. G. Cahill, Hill Oates, H. K. Henry and Miss Louise Mullino.

Half Moon Home Demonstration Club

The Half Moon Home Demonstration Club met February 5, 1936 in the home of Mrs. Glen Merchant.

Josselot Home Demonstration Club

The Josselot Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Gene Lancaster on January 28, 1936.

After a short business meeting the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Gene Lancaster, program director for the day, and a very interesting program was rendered on the "History of our Community."

As Grandpa Josselot, who is 90 years of age, and who came to this county in the early days of Haskell County, has two daughters, Mrs. J. L. Toliver and Mrs. C. A. Thomas, who are members of our club they brought many interesting facts and related many incidents that happened when our old settlers were really "pioneering."

During the social hour the ladies presented Mrs. John Thomas with a lovely basket of gifts for her kitchen, as she is moving to another community.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Fred Monke, February 11th.

Those present were Mesdames C. A. Lewellen, John Thomas, W. C. Norton, Jesse Josselot, J. L. Toliver, Paul Josselot, C. A. Thomas, W. E. Taylor, J. B. Edwards, Fred Monke, J. A. Thomas, G. C. Ammons, Misses Mae Cathron, Maurine Norton and the hostess, Mrs. Gene Lancaster.

Midway Home Demonstration Club

An all day meeting by the Midway Home Demonstration Club Tuesday, Feb. 19, at the clubhouse for a making demonstration, was given by Jesse B. Smith and Mrs. Jenkins.

The morning was spent in mattress making. At noon was served buffet style lunch. The cotton and the fifty pound mattress were finished by Mrs. Jenkins, cooperated. The mattress completed was one of the one could be justly proud of.

After a short business meeting the following program of Forts in Texas was given. Nineteen Chimneys, Phantom Hill—Mrs. P. son.

Old Fort Davis—Mrs. Frierson.

Other Forts—Mrs. C. son.

Those attending the demonstration were: Mesdames White and Wiley Bean, Curtis Gibson and H. New Cook; D. A. Vance Dickson, Phil West, O. B. Burson, E. O. Wilson, C. B. res, C. V. Oates, C. G. H. B. Jenkins, J. B. S. Dickey, Paul Frierson, Blanche and Willie Burson, Mrs. C. B. Ramey, Home Economics girls.

J. E. Walling for County Treasurer

J. E. Walling, Sr., authorizes the Free Press to make his announcement this week as candidate for the office of County Treasurer of Haskell County...

Mr. Walling is no stranger in the office to which he aspires, having formerly held the position with credit to himself and honor to the county...

Mr. Walling is physically handicapped in making a thorough canvass of the county during the coming campaign...

To my friends and citizens of Haskell County: I take this opportunity of announcing as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer of this County...

I am not a stranger to most of you. I have resided in Haskell County for the past twenty-seven years. I have served you as County Treasurer in past years and feel that I am qualified to fill the office...

To you that do not know me may I ask that you please investigate my record as an official in the past...

I wish to add that since I have lost both legs I can not drive a car. For this reason it will be impossible for me to see each of you personally...

If I am elected I will serve you in the best way possible. Respectfully, J. E. Walling Sr.

R. H. (Bill) Rife Enters Race For Commissioner No. 4

R. H. (Bill) Rife of Sagerton, was in the city yesterday and authorized the Free Press to make the announcement that he would be a candidate for the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 4...

Mr. Rife has been a citizen of the Sagerton Community for the past 13 years. He has been engaged in farming and devotes considerable of his time to buying and selling cattle...

He is well qualified to fill the position to which he aspires and asks that the voters of the precinct give his candidacy their serious consideration.

Supt. C. B. Breedlove has been out of town all week on business.

Walter Murchison Enters Race For County Attorney

The Free Press is authorized this week to make the announcement of Walter Murchison as a candidate for the office of County Attorney of Haskell County...

Mr. Murchison is well qualified to fill the position to which he aspires. He has been a citizen of Haskell all his life and is well known throughout the County...

The amount involved was approximately $78,000.00. We, as the court, also made a very special effort to collect all delinquent payments on the Haskell County School Land situated in Hockley County...

I desire at this time to formally announce to you my candidacy for the office of County Attorney. I feel that I understand the duties of this office which I seek of you and believe that the training and practice that I have had has been such as to qualify me to hold it in an able and efficient manner...

I was born and reared in the town of Haskell, receiving my grammar and high school education in its schools. Following this I attended the University of Texas as for four years and Cumberland University for one year endeavoring to fit myself for the practice of law...

Since that time I have been actively engaged in the practice of law, this practice having now extended over a period of almost seven years and has, I believe, been of such nature by reason of the variety and extent of it as to fit me from the standpoint of experience to fill with credit to myself and to the people of Haskell County the office of County Attorney...

As for my road work in the precinct—you be the judge. Will say in conclusion that if you good people see fit to honor me again with this office, I assure you that I will give you the very best that is in me...

I earnestly solicit your vote and influence and thank you in advance for any consideration shown me. I am your obedient servant. P. G. (Buck) Kendrick.

H. F. Grindstaff and J. W. Martin of this city were visitors in Stamford Friday of last week.

M. H. Hancock In Race for Job As City Secretary

M. H. (Marvin) Hancock entered the race yesterday as a candidate for the office of City Secretary and authorizes the Free Press to make his announcement...

Mr. Hancock has been a citizen of Haskell for more than a quarter of a century. He was formerly

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT NO. 3: Greetings. I wish to again offer myself for the office of Commissioner from Precinct 3, which has been in my charge...

Mike B. Watson Seeks Re-Election

In our announcement column this week will be found the name of M. B. (Mike) Watson as a candidate for re-election to the office of Tax Assessor-Collector...

It is unnecessary for the Free Press to give Mike an introduction to the voters of Haskell County, because "Mike" knows everybody and everybody knows "Mike"...

Mr. Watson states that he has no formal announcement to make regarding his candidacy other than he sincerely appreciates the honors conferred upon him by the voters in the past and promises, if reelected he will do his very best to give them the same courteous service in the future...

Mike may not have an opponent in the coming primary, but we assure you that he will be electioneering with you just the same if it might be called "electioneering" because he never forgets a name or face, and always has a friendly word for everyone...

Anyways, Mike is a candidate and will sincerely appreciate your support and influence.

Candidacy of Joe A. Jones for County Judge Announced

Joe A. Jones, authorized the Free Press to make his announcement this week as a candidate for the office of County Judge of Haskell County...

Joe A. Jones formerly held the office for four years and made the county an efficient office. He voluntarily retired at the close of his second term. He asks that the voters give his candidacy their serious consideration...

First: If elected, I would discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability. Second: That I would not be a continuous office seeker. I feel that I can say in all truth and sincerity that I fulfilled those promises, both in letter and spirit, in that I endeavored to

The Free Press is authorized this week to make the announcement of Walter Murchison as a candidate for the office of County Attorney of Haskell County...

Mr. Murchison is well qualified to fill the position to which he aspires. He has been a citizen of Haskell all his life and is well known throughout the County...

The amount involved was approximately $78,000.00. We, as the court, also made a very special effort to collect all delinquent payments on the Haskell County School Land situated in Hockley County...

I desire at this time to formally announce to you my candidacy for the office of County Attorney. I feel that I understand the duties of this office which I seek of you and believe that the training and practice that I have had has been such as to qualify me to hold it in an able and efficient manner...

I was born and reared in the town of Haskell, receiving my grammar and high school education in its schools. Following this I attended the University of Texas as for four years and Cumberland University for one year endeavoring to fit myself for the practice of law...

Since that time I have been actively engaged in the practice of law, this practice having now extended over a period of almost seven years and has, I believe, been of such nature by reason of the variety and extent of it as to fit me from the standpoint of experience to fill with credit to myself and to the people of Haskell County the office of County Attorney...

As for my road work in the precinct—you be the judge. Will say in conclusion that if you good people see fit to honor me again with this office, I assure you that I will give you the very best that is in me...

I earnestly solicit your vote and influence and thank you in advance for any consideration shown me. I am your obedient servant. P. G. (Buck) Kendrick.

H. F. Grindstaff and J. W. Martin of this city were visitors in Stamford Friday of last week.

M. H. Hancock In Race for Job As City Secretary

Mike B. Watson Seeks Re-Election

In our announcement column this week will be found the name of M. B. (Mike) Watson as a candidate for re-election to the office of Tax Assessor-Collector...

It is unnecessary for the Free Press to give Mike an introduction to the voters of Haskell County, because "Mike" knows everybody and everybody knows "Mike"...

Mr. Watson states that he has no formal announcement to make regarding his candidacy other than he sincerely appreciates the honors conferred upon him by the voters in the past and promises, if reelected he will do his very best to give them the same courteous service in the future...

Mike may not have an opponent in the coming primary, but we assure you that he will be electioneering with you just the same if it might be called "electioneering" because he never forgets a name or face, and always has a friendly word for everyone...

Doctor Davis' Son Has 11th Transfusion

Gilmer Davis, 13 year old son of State Representative Dr. J. C. Davis of Rule, underwent his eleventh blood transfusion at the Stamford Hospital last Wednesday.

The boy is suffering from a bone infection and very little hope was held for his recovery two weeks ago, when the third outbreak was discovered, necessitating another operation for the purpose of scraping the bone.

Mrs. Frank Curry was brought home from the Sanitarium in Abilene where she underwent major surgery several days ago.

Sciences Taught In H. H. S.

(Talk delivered by Tom Clifton to the High School P. T. A.)
 Man's knowledge of himself and his surroundings has been classified into three different kinds of science. The first of these is physical science which is knowledge about the forces and elements of nature. It includes such subjects as physics and chemistry. Natural science is knowledge about living things. It includes biology, botany and zoology. Social Science is knowledge about the relation of men with one another. It includes history, civics, ethics and economics.

In high school we are offered four science courses for each year. First in General Science, the Freshman course which as its name signifies, is a general introduction to science. Next is Biology, the Sophomore course. It is a study of plants and animals. Next are Physics and Chemistry, each of which is taught alternately, one one year and the other the next. Physics is a continuation of General Science but is much more complex and handles more work than General Science. Chemistry is a study of the earth and all of the elements which make it up. Mr. Wimbish teaches the Chemistry and Biology classes and Mr. Richey the Physics and General Science classes.

Today it is a common belief that science and religion conflict. It is true that some of the theories of science may conflict with religion but a truth of science has never conflicted. A truth is something that can be definitely proved while a theory is nothing more than a scientist's guess about some happening. A great scientist has said that the deeper in science a person works, and the more he learns about science, the more positive he becomes that there is a Supreme Being who controls everything about us, even from the most minute atoms and elements to the great globe itself.

Drivers—Reckless And Otherwise

We read a wisecrack in a paper the other day to the effect that "a reckless driver is seldom wreckless long." And that, fellow English III's, is a "pun"—a play on words, so to speak. In fact, it might have stepped right out of Shakespeare, if he had been acquainted with our modern mode of transportation, and that dizzy age.

But aside from the "catch" in that wise remark, let us consider the solid truth of it; the impending fate of the driver who drives too fast for safety, when he isn't going anywhere anyway. Some of the students who drive cars are regular Joe Penners—with no more reason for speed than simple Joe had. But the penalty for reckless driving is usually a real one, and much more disastrous than Joe's disappointment because he didn't "get a ticket" from the motor cop. The penalty may be a broken body, or ruined property, or the remorse of causing pain or death to someone else.

Probably every driver thinks, "Those things will not happen to me; I always keep the situation in hand." But each driver of a car should remember that he is only fifty percent of the situation; some other driver, who may be drunk, or imprudent by nature, may complicate the situation at any moment. In a case like that it may be the innocent who suffer.

Let us try to refrain from being reckless, in order to continue "wreckless."

This Week's Warwhoop "Chief"

We feel proud to list J. M. Crawford as one of our most respected and progressive citizens. Mr. Crawford, including his wife and family have always been loyal supporters of our schools, and every progressive school movement. Others might fall but the Crawford family have ever been an inspiration by their faithful attendance at all programs sponsored by school organizations.

When J. M. Crawford became a member of our local Board of Education a few years ago, our finances were in rather a bad condition. Teachers were compelled to accept script and were having to discount it at a sacrifice in order to get cash. Through Mr. Crawford's efforts and generosity, the salaries were put back on a cash basis. He is ever courteous, kind, and efficient and concerned with the best interests of our schools, our churches, our community and the unfortunate that are among us.

One can scarcely associate Mr. Crawford with school and community interests without including his gracious wife and companion, who though small in stature, is a dynamo of energy and interests, and who has thrice been President of the South Ward Par-

MRS. WIMBISH

Mrs. Wimbish, a native of Haskell and a former student of Haskell High, has been a student in Baylor College, the University of Texas, and the University of Colorado. Before she began teaching here, she taught in New Mexico, at Texline and in Bell County. Mrs. Wimbish is now teaching her eighth year including three summer terms.

Mrs. Wimbish's subjects vary. She has taught mathematics, history, economics, English and the major course government.

Since Mrs. Wimbish considers variety the spice of life in addition to her variety of subjects, she has coached debate, extemporaneous speech, and the girls' basketball team. She has also sponsored the choral club, pep squad and at various times the Senior, Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes.

She organized and for the past eight years sponsored, the well-known Gypsy Rambler's Club and through her influence Gypsy Rambler Clubs have been organized in various parts of the state. It was also through her leadership that the Warwhoop was initiated.

Senior Boy Receives Serious Injury

Eugene Rose, a senior of H. H. S. and a letter football man was seriously injured last Wednesday afternoon. He and Ernest McMillin were having a friendly tussle in the snow and Gene accidentally fell, breaking several vertebrae in his neck. After an X-ray was taken it was found that the injury was not quite so serious as it was first thought. He is in the Stamford hospital and expresses a hope to be back in school in two or three weeks.

Eugene is a very popular student in H. H. S. and this unfortunate accident was quite a shock to the student body.

Assembly Program

At the assembly hour last week the student body enjoyed a period of singing, conducted by Mrs. Wimbish. They sang, "Texas, Our Texas" and "The Eyes of Texas." The students body also learned "Old Faithful" and plan to learn "Home On The Range." For another number Mrs. Wimbish divided the student body into three divisions and they sang "Sweetly Sing the Donkey" which was rather comical and also different.

For our next assembly program we are to have a debate, the first of the year which will be between the boys and girls.

Death Claims Former Student

Edell Smith, a former student of Haskell schools, died Saturday night after an illness of about one month.

Edell was a member of the Freshman class of 1933-34. She is remembered by her many friends for the three years that she so efficiently represented Haskell on the base ball team.

She is a sister of Opal and Weldon Smith who are now attending Haskell High School. Weldon was a member of the football team of 1935.

The teachers and student body of the high school extend their sympathy to the family.

Senior Girl Enters D. A. R. Contest

By student vote the name of Gayle Roberts was submitted as our high school representative in a contest for a trip to Washington, D. C., which is given by the D. A. R.'s annually. Names from local high schools are submitted to the Deputy State Superintendent and one name is drawn by lot from each district. Those drawn from each district are sent to the state superintendent, and again one is drawn by lot. It is in this manner that one girl from each state is selected to make this trip.

Students in voting are asked to base their selection on such qualities as leadership, scholarship, cooperative spirit, patriotism and dependability.

Girls ranking second and third in student voting were Anabel Stanton and Gladys Fouts.

Nice Snow? What's Nice About It!!

If anyone should ask Gayle Roberts or Mrs. Perry Mason how they liked that nice snow, this would probably be their answer! It seems that Gayle and Mrs. Mason sincerely believed in "Don't give up the ship" and applied that to the sled they were on Thursday afternoon. The sled found an unusually "slippy" place and they held on for dear life when the sled stopped, much trouble was had in deciding whose leg was where and how to get them out of the puzzling question. Mrs. Mason came out with a bruised face and a black eye and Gayle, with a "limp."

Incidentally the boy driving the car was rather afraid to deliver the lady friend to Mr. Mason. And Mr. Mason said he was really glad there were witnesses to the fall so people wouldn't think he caused the black eye!

We also heard that several of our dignified teachers went sleigh riding and stayed out until the late hour of 11 o'clock! What about that, Miss Vick, and you too, Miss Camp?

Choral Club Revived

Last Tuesday Mrs. Wimbish called a meeting of all the girls who had ever attended Choral Club practice. A large group of girls responded and regained the enthusiasm that they had when the club was first organized. We are going to keep this interest and show you that we still have a choral club. We plan to make several out-of-town trips in the spring.

We are very glad to receive the report that Frankie Dorris Bledsoe is home from the hospital and will be back in school Monday.

A large group of girls responded and regained the enthusiasm that they had when the club was first organized. We are going to keep this interest and show you that we still have a choral club. We plan to make several out-of-town trips in the spring.

We are very glad to receive the report that Frankie Dorris Bledsoe is home from the hospital and will be back in school Monday.

Basket Ball Games Are Postponed

The basket ball games that were to have been played Thursday night between Haskell and Stamford and Haskell and Rochester, both boys, were postponed because of unfavorable weather. They probably will be played some day this week.

Leap Year

When Caesar reformed the Roman Calendar, he added a day every fourth year in order to make the average solar year. The year was called bisulite. In English speaking countries this year is called Leap Year.

Leap Year is really a "break" for courageous girls with bashful admirers. If the girls have the nerve they can "pop the question" to their admirers and a gentleman should never let a lady down. If he should say "no" then he is no gentleman and the girl should be glad she found it out.

There can be no doubt in our minds as to the chivalry of our principal, Mr. Wimbish, as he is in leap year. We wonder who the courageous one was—are you listening, Mrs. Wimbish?

"Guess Again"

No doubt you were expecting to see in this issue of the Warwhoop the cast of characters for the senior's play. But no. You'll have to "Guess Again" this time. But maybe we'll tell you next week—that is, if we can fully determine which four boys of our class can make the best English lords, real or fake. The fact is, all the senior boys are so "lordly" that we may have to "Guess Again," too, in order to select the best ones.

TO OUR READERS

We are truly sorry when we happen to make an error in our Warwhoop, or when names are omitted from items where they rightfully belong.

We would appreciate it very much if you would inform members of the staff of any error made. We would also appreciate it if you could give us any article or help us in any way in publishing our school paper.

CORRECTION

We regret that Olive Sloane's name was omitted from the honor roll list of those students who made an average of 90 or above on the first half year's work. Olive made an average of 91.

Campus Flashlight

This writer has decided to write the things that he was told not to write.

It seems to me that four persons in high school are having a bit of trouble. The first two have gone on a strike and the other two are sitting by and doing nothing about it. (I think the last two ought to strike).

Of all the girls in high school we wonder why all the boys want to pick on Anita Jo and Frances Fouts. (Personality or vitality).

At the present time there are eight boys fighting over three girls and if you don't believe it, just notice the weapons carried by the boys of H. H. S. (Look at W. F. and W. W.)

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Edwards and baby from Lindsey, California are here visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Edwards formerly lived here, but move to California several years ago. He is now manager of a chain grocery store.

Morning subject, "The Ministry of Elders"

This sermon is primarily for the men of the congregation. What are the qualifications of an elder and what are his duties? Hear this important message. Evening subject, "Jesus The Leader." This is the second of a series of messages about the Christ. They are excellent, so say those that have heard them. You will think so too.

Husbands bring your wives to the services, and wives bring your husbands. Would it be a great imaginative feat to hear a husband say to his wife on Sunday morning, "We've got to go and help our preacher preach this morning."

F. M. Robertson Enters Race For District Attorney

F. M. Robertson, local attorney who entered the race for District Attorney of the 39th Judicial District last week has been a resident of the District most of his life.

He began the practice of law here after completing his education at the University of Oklahoma and has been active in community and civic affairs of this section. He is at the present time Vice-President of the Chisholm Trail Council of the Boy Scouts of America, is an active member of the Lion's Club and chairman of the entertainment committee.

Now serving as U. S. Commissioner under appointment of Judge Jas. C. Wilson, and served two years as chairman of the Conciliation Committee. He is an earnest, conscientious worker at any job he undertakes and will make the district a good official if the voters see fit to elect him.

Mr. Robertson has issued the following statement regarding his candidacy:

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE 39TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT: After due consideration I now submit my candidacy to the people of this district for the office of District Attorney.

I am not unmindful of the importance of this position to our people, neither am I unaware of its real responsibilities.

The office of District Attorney places upon its holder the obligation to maintain among the laws; it requires and demands of the District Attorney that he preserve peace and order among our citizens insofar as major crimes are concerned. You show me a capable, experienced District Attorney and I will show you a district with a wholesome respect for the law. Such is the real responsibility of a District Attorney.

It is proper, I think, to say something of myself and what I have to offer in the way of training and experience.

I made the race for this office in 1932, as many of you will remember. And, at this time, I wish to sincerely thank my many friends for their kindnesses and support in that campaign.

Since making that campaign I finished my four years as County Attorney of Haskell County, and have during the intervening years continued in the practice of law in Haskell.

I am proud of the fact that I was born in Stonewall County near Aspermont, and that I lived and received most of my public schooling at Weinert in Haskell County. After finishing public school I entered Baylor University in 1919, where I studied for about three years. I then went to the University of Texas in 1922.

After I finished my law study there I returned to Haskell County and entered the practice of my profession. The people of Haskell County were good enough to elect me County Attorney two times.

I feel that my many years of schooling and active practice of law both as a public official and as a private practitioner properly equips me to fill the important office to which I aspire.

I think that I am qualified to fill the office, I know that I will give it, if elected, my undivided attention to the extent of my capabilities. I know that I will enforce all laws fairly and impartially to all alike, and that I will live up to the oath of office.

Give me your fair consideration and after doing so should you see fit to support me, and I should be elected, my every effort as your District Attorney will be to express my gratitude and appreciation by efficient services.

Respectfully submitted, F. M. Robertson.

Jason W. Smith Asks Re-Election as County Clerk

In our announcement column this week will be found the name of Jason W. Smith who is a candidate for re-election to the office of County Clerk of Haskell County.

Mr. Smith has conducted the affairs of the county clerk's office during the past in a very efficient manner. He has always been courteous, and accommodating to those who had business with the office.

In making his announcement

Mr. Smith issued the statement to maintain among the laws; it requires and demands of the District Attorney that he preserve peace and order among our citizens insofar as major crimes are concerned. SAFETY ON THE ROAD

A conference was recently held in Washington by the Red Cross Society and other organizations concerned about the terrible loss of life upon our highways.

One of the speakers was Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, who asked some very interesting questions in the course of his discussion, as follows:

"Among other things the interested public desires to know, as reflected in my correspondence, are these: 'Why is it necessary to manufacture cars with speeds of from eighty to 100 miles an hour?'

"Why, with all the engineering skill that the industry possesses, has no greater progress been made in taking the dangerous glare out of headlights?'

"What definite steps does the industry plan to take to help eliminate old and unsafe cars from the road?'

"What is it going to do on its own initiative—and not through outside groups—to bring about uniform traffic legislation and law enforcement?'

ONCE UPON A TIME

Once upon a time there was a man, who lived in a town, and spent all his money away from home. He was sure that he could take care of himself, and that his town didn't mean anything to him.

After a few years, his business wasn't as keen as he had hoped it would be, his friends didn't seem to think he was quite as important as he thought he was and trade seemed to flow by his doors.

He began to watch his competitor, who he found was an intelligent advertiser, a contributor to the public purse, a man anxious to give some of his time and thought to community projects, and a habit of the fact that it pays to keep money at home, where it can keep floating around between the stores and businesses there.

And, after noting all these factors, he continued to wonder why some of his old customers went to the newcomer, and why almost everybody had the idea that he was a tightwad and his competitor a public-spirited leader of community life.

COMMENDABLE

When an individual discovers something of value the usual reaction is, "what can I get for it?" Dr. L. Roy L. Hartman, who discovered that a solution of thymol, ethyl alcohol and sulphuric ether would kill much of the pain connected with dentistry, strove with his formula and, with an effort to commercialize it, gave the information to the world.

We don't know whether the Hartman solution will end all pain associated with dental work, or only that it will in the dentine as distinguished from the nerve. It makes little difference insofar as his unselfish motive is concerned. He is entitled to the gratitude of millions who may be spared the pangs of toothache and the suffering that often accompanies dentistry.

ABOUT SUCCESS

There seems to be spreading throughout the land an idea that men and women achieve success through the operation of government rather than by patient persistence in honest endeavor. This mistaken view is facilitated by the fact that some government legislation has created private fortunes and probably also by the experiences of the past few years, during which many Americans have looked to their government for the necessities of life.

The readers of the Haskell Free Press especially young men and women, should not be misled in this respect. They should realize that worthwhile success is achieved almost exclusively through personal endeavor. After all is said and done, the vast majority of business successes owe their growth to one or more rare individuals who give it to the enterprise a contribution that includes not only physical effort but superior intelligence and the wisdom that arises from the intangible thing that we call character.

THERE ARE OTHER THINGS IN LIFE

The average citizen of Haskell County is no doubt interested in the political events that occur in the United States, which is quite proper considering that the theory of our government involves an understanding of the issues by every voter.

There is a tendency, however, for the individual to become intensely interested in the outcome of political campaigns, involving issues that seem transcendent, and to drift into a state of mind which magnifies the importance of the outcome.

While it is right and proper for every American to pass judgement upon every national administration, there is no occasion for them to divide into bitterly hostile groups or to permit politics to entirely overshadow the other values in life.

CURRENT COMMENT

THE TOWNSEND FOOLISHNESS

(The Jayton Chronicle)

There is no one under the shining sun who has more feeling for the aged than the editor of the Chronicle. We are right on the verge of old age ourselves, but that has nothing to do with it. It is a dirty disgrace to lead these old folks to believe there ever was a need or even a possible chance for them to receive a pension of $200 per month, with which to go on a spending spree that would wreck their lives and doom the nation to ever lasting disintegration.

The peculiar thing to us about the entire mess of propaganda, is that many editors and publishers have fallen for this thin ray of moonshine, and are lending their aid, by encouraging this modern madness.

Only last week one of our nearby exchanges devoted a great job of his newspaper space to the publication of a mess of this absurd moon ray, and another liberal amount of his (valuable?) space to an article discrediting the acts of the present democratic administration, and the editor-publisher claims to be a Democrat. For shame.

Within the next six months the needy in Texas who are 65 or older will be placed on a state and national pension of $30 per month. That is very right and proper—it is the best law ever put on the statute books of the state and nation. The amount is sufficient for the average need of those in Texas who can qualify. It is reasonable in every way and it is just. It will not tax folks to death and it will not throw these old folks open to all the gunfire and underworld crooks in existence. It will assure these old folks a serene, safe and sane old age subsistence and that is all they can honestly ask.

The Townsend money grafters should be told where to head in before they cause a lot of our beloved old folks to go nutty hoping for the impossible.

Sunday School

HENRY-LESSON RADCLIFFE

RIGHTOUSNESS NEEDED

International Sunday School Lesson for February 9, 1946 Golden Text: "Why call me, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" Luke 6:46. (Lesson Text: Luke 6:39-49)

Jesus and his followers came under the condemnation of the Jewish religious leaders because of the Sabbath and a different opinion as to its observance. Originally constituted as a day of rest and worship, the Jews had loaded down with hundreds of rules and interpretations as to conduct, which every devout Jew was supposed to keep.

In many particulars obedience to these rules was hypocritical, as the following illustrations show. One was not permitted to journey more than two thousand cubits from his home on the Sabbath, but this was disregarded by the fiction of establishing a home on the preceding day at various spots by depositing there food for two days and this was considered home for the purposes of measurement.

Again, if a man's house caught fire he was not supposed to labor by carrying the good out on the Sabbath but was allowed, of course, to take the clothes he was wearing out with him. By construction, he could go back in his house and dress again and bring out additional clothes. There were many others just as absurd and foolish.

Jesus refused to abide by these abnormal and irksome regulations. The ecclesiastical authorities condemned him because he and his disciples passed through the fields on the Sabbath. To the literal-minded Jew this involved reaping and threshing.

When the man with the withered hand was healed by Jesus on the Sabbath it was done by word and Jesus made no physical exertion on his own part. The strict rules concerning the Sabbath prohibited labor even to heal the sick. Jesus adopted a liberal viewpoint and believed that the Sabbath should be a blessing and not a curse to man.

Our lesson text gives us a quotation from what is known as the Sermon on the Plain, very similar in sentiment to the Sermon on the Mount, recorded by Matthew. While these may have been different sermons it is justifiable that they represent two reports of the same address. However it is probable that Jesus very often repeated his remarks in the course of his teaching, all of which was done by word of mouth.

Luke gives us twenty-nine verses as against one hundred and eleven by Matthew, but scattered elsewhere throughout Luke's gospel are thirty-four verses, also very similar to those given by Matthew. Luke's account begins with four beatitudes concerning the poor, hungry, sad and hated, and follows with four woes to the rich, the satisfied, glad and popular.

In his teaching Jesus always held up the highest possible ideals for mankind. No love can be greater than love for one's enemies. No deed of kindness can exceed that done for one who hates. To understand fully the revolutionary character of this teaching it must be remembered that the Old Testament emphasizing that the Old Testament emphasized hating one's enemies although there are one or two selections otherwise. In framing his doctrine Jesus was stating an ideal, and not promulgating a regulation to be literally observed. Loving one's enemies does not mean tolerating an injustice nor does the rule of generosity require the abandonment of all wisdom and judgement in giving.

Verse thirty-one is the familiar "Golden Rule" of Christianity, "Confucius, the Chinese spiritual leader, framed a negative doctrine as follows, "do not to others what you would not wish done to yourself." If the world would carefully consider and act upon the Golden Rule, most of its problems would disappear. Putting ourselves in the place of the other man would make us more tolerant, and more sympathetic. If one could only realize the position of other men with whom he came in contact and visualize himself in their places, he would be certain to be more considerate and generous.

Our Golden Text is the question asked by Jesus, "Why call ye me, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" This question applies the searching test to a man's profession of Christianity. The imagination can hardly conceive of the blessed improvement in world and personal affairs if everyone who called upon Jesus did as he set the example and followed the doctrines of his teachings into the reality of everyday life. Yet the expectation of Jesus that those who professed to follow him would abide by his rules of conduct is reasonable and logical. Why should any church member wish to profess a faith which is unreal and to bring himself or herself into the classification of "hypocrites" for whom the gospel showed Jesus has the bitterest and most severe condemnation?

Jesus advised his followers to be as merciful as the Heavenly Father. Passing censorious judgement upon others he discouraged, although love and reason sometimes require us to condemn the acts of others. In all things he advised extreme honesty and straight-forwardness, urging the giving of good measure, piled up rather than scraped down flat.

Luke's account of this sermon closes with four parables, those of the Blind Guides, the Beam and the Mote, the Tree and its Fruit, and the Two Foundations. Matthew closed his account of this sermon with the last named parable, also.

20 YEARS AGO TO-DAY

District Clerk E. W. Lowe, his son U. B., and nephew J. F. Lowe killed a wild turkey at the mouth of Paint Creek this week. Pancho Villa is dealing misery to Carranza and the United States.

Chas. A. Culbertson has announced that he will again be a candidate for the office of United States Senator. There are only about 15 others seeking the same job.

We had to reprimand our printer again this week. When we returned to our office we saw a man leaving that had some money in his hand. (Throckmorton News) The poor fellow was shocked.

The school attendance for January was considerably less than December. Mr. Johnson of Anson, a cotton buyer, is prospecting in Haskell this week.

F. E. Gaston is spending a few days in Dallas. Supt. T. C. Williams is spending a few days in Weinert on School Business.

C. M. Hunt and wife left for the Saint Louis and Chicago markets last Tuesday. W. A. Whitley and H. W. Logan sold two carsloads of automobiles in the Rotan Country.

The Free Press has added to its staff, Mr. Lewis Lenoir. Fred Parish has started working as front man and also drink mixer at the Corner Drug Store.

The Drive to the Right signs are soon to be placed on the corners of the main streets, also at the intersection of the streets, in the center. "The Drive to the Right" signs will be placed on iron posts so all can see.

The "Drive to the Right" ordinance will be strictly enforced.

J. H. (Cyclone) Davis, Populist from the 4th District was defeated by D. B. Culbertson, Democrat. The Cuban Rebels are having difficulty in their war. The sowing of oats and spring wheat is under way now. In a published letter, ex-president Harrison emphatically declines the nomination for President. Messrs. Walter and Jim Johnson have made a trip to Floydada. The new business firm of Dodson, Keister and Hazelwood announced last week, ran but two days. Mr. Dodson bought the interests of the other two and is running the business alone. Dr. Gilbert reports the arrival of a fine ten pound boy at J. W. Tyson's. George Messer has resigned the cleaver and the saw at the market to Cecil Koonce and has gone to farming. Mr. C. J. Hanson brought a strange substance to town last week, saying that he was plowing it up in great quantities in his field. No one seems to know what this substance is, but it strongly resembles soap. We are authorized by the students to invite Judge P. D. Sanders to the Paint Creek School to see how nicely they are progressing. Several New Mexico ranchers are in Haskell prospecting for the purchase of land. It is a good sign that we will soon have a railroad. The Honor Roll of the month contains the names of the following Haskell School Children: Miss Myrtle Meadows, Master Raymond Alexander, Master Alvin Couch, Master Jim Lindsey, Master George Simmons, Respy Submitted, Mrs. Newt Miholland, Teacher.

MILLION BOY SCOUTS TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

More than one million Boy Scouts and Scouters throughout America will celebrate the 26th Anniversary of Scouting in America, February 7-13th, and on February 8th, Anniversary Day, will congregate and listen to the broadcast of the Boy Scout program. At 8:15 all will stand and repeat the Scout Oath. This will probably be a part of the broadcast program led by the President of the United States and James E. West, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America, who has just celebrated his twenty-fifth Anniversary in Scouting.

Boy Scout Troops of the Chisholm Trail Council will hold special celebration including services on Boy Scout Sunday, February 9th. The theme of Boy Scout Week, 1936, "Carrying On The Traditions of Scouting", has struck a popular note. From all over the country comes echoes of enthusiasm and plans for local celebrations.

The Chisholm Trail Council offers the following plans: February 7th—Troop Celebration Day.

February 8th—The Actual Anniversary Day—National Broadcast—Repeat Scout Oath at 8:15 p. m.

February 9th—Boy Scout Sunday.

February 10th—School Celebration Day.

February 12th—Citizenship Day.

Haskell County History

As Revealed by the Files of the Free Press 20, 30 and 40 years ago.

20 YEARS AGO TO-DAY District Clerk E. W. Lowe, his son U. B., and nephew J. F. Lowe killed a wild turkey at the mouth of Paint Creek this week. Pancho Villa is dealing misery to Carranza and the United States.

Chas. A. Culbertson has announced that he will again be a candidate for the office of United States Senator. There are only about 15 others seeking the same job.

We had to reprimand our printer again this week. When we returned to our office we saw a man leaving that had some money in his hand. (Throckmorton News) The poor fellow was shocked.

The school attendance for January was considerably less than December. Mr. Johnson of Anson, a cotton buyer, is prospecting in Haskell this week.

F. E. Gaston is spending a few days in Dallas. Supt. T. C. Williams is spending a few days in Weinert on School Business.

C. M. Hunt and wife left for the Saint Louis and Chicago markets last Tuesday. W. A. Whitley and H. W. Logan sold two carsloads of automobiles in the Rotan Country.

The Free Press has added to its staff, Mr. Lewis Lenoir. Fred Parish has started working as front man and also drink mixer at the Corner Drug Store.

The Drive to the Right signs are soon to be placed on the corners of the main streets, also at the intersection of the streets, in the center. "The Drive to the Right" signs will be placed on iron posts so all can see.

The "Drive to the Right" ordinance will be strictly enforced.

30 YEARS AGO TO-DAY A lot of imported Negro Cotton pickers got into a gambling row near Marcy the other day and Sheriff Collins has three of them in jail, charged with gambling, robbery and carrying pistols.

The Texas, New Mexico and Pacific Railroad is built as far as McKinney and will cross this county somewhere between Munday and Stamford, probably at Haskell.

Dallas is making big plans to entertain the Texas Cattle Raisers Association convention there March 19, 20 and 21st. Over six thousand dollars has been raised for entertainment, badges, illumination, music and other items.

Ask the Railroad people who brings the most prospectors to this country and they will tell you T. C. Cahill, traveling agent for the Haskell Real Estate Company.

Mr. Ernest Sutherland went to Dallas this week and purchased an up-to-date outfit for his barber shop.

The Commissioners Court will meet in regular session on Monday, the 12th Inst.

Our old friend, A. B. Carrouthers, was in this week-end and told us he had opened up a real estate office in Rule and placed an order with us for some stationery.

Mr. M. E. Park announced this week for the office of Sheriff, making him the first candidate in the field for a county office. Friends from Cliff and Pinkerton were in town this week and stated that they were still picking cotton. They both stated that the cotton acreage would be reduced at least 50 percent but they were afraid to do so unless every one made the same agreement.

On Thursday evening of last week the ladies of the Presbyterian Aid Society entertained the ladies of the other aid societies in the other churches.

J. H. (Cyclone) Davis, Populist from the 4th District was defeated by D. B. Culbertson, Democrat. The Cuban Rebels are having difficulty in their war. The sowing of oats and spring wheat is under way now. In a published letter, ex-president Harrison emphatically declines the nomination for President. Messrs. Walter and Jim Johnson have made a trip to Floydada. The new business firm of Dodson, Keister and Hazelwood announced last week, ran but two days. Mr. Dodson bought the interests of the other two and is running the business alone. Dr. Gilbert reports the arrival of a fine ten pound boy at J. W. Tyson's. George Messer has resigned the cleaver and the saw at the market to Cecil Koonce and has gone to farming. Mr. C. J. Hanson brought a strange substance to town last week, saying that he was plowing it up in great quantities in his field. No one seems to know what this substance is, but it strongly resembles soap. It is suggested that window displays be planned for each community, that good publicity be given in each newspaper and that an Anniversary Banquet be held for scouts and parents, featuring scout activities. Anniversary Banquets are a tradition in the Chisholm Trail Council and each year practically one thousand Chisholm Trail Council scouts enjoy this medium of bringing together the scouts and parents for an evening of Scout education, fun, fellowship and good eats. All Scouts know thoroughly the 13th Scout Law, "A Scout is Always Hungry." This year, for the first time in the Chisholm Trail Council will witness the introduction of Cubs, the young boys of the ages, 9-10-11. Cubbing is the Younger Boy Program sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America. January 1936, more than one million scouts registered in the United States of America. CATTLE BRANDS TO BE CENTENNIAL EXHIBIT A display of 500 cattle brands for the Texas Centennial will be in charge of Gus L. Ford, head of the history department at Texas Technological college, who has been granted a leave of absence during the spring semester in order to obtain unpublished materials for the exhibit. Ford was named history supervisor of the cattle brand exhibit last July by the Centennial commission. The display will consist of plaques with lettered brand designs in burnt color against a contrasting background, several branded cowhides, maps and charts showing the development of the cattle industry in Texas from colonial days to the present, and portraits of cattle barons famous during the last 100 years. A protective rail for the exhibit will be made of branding irons. The survey to be made by Ford in the next few months will include research in libraries in order to obtain unpublished material dealing with cattle brands, their origin, ownership, and extent of use, and examination of several private collections of cattle brands in various parts of the state, particularly San Antonio, San Antonio, El Paso, Abilene, Haskell and Plainville plans to send 500 letters to sons throughout the state asking them to nominate brands for display. "Successful preparation of a display necessarily will depend on the assistance of numerous individuals throughout the state who are familiar with cattle industry and with brands," Ford said. He added many have written him offering assistance.

"It is understood, my lady." "You will wait without fail, on the right-hand side of the road."

"Without fail, my lady." With many minglings we left her and hastened the way we had come. This time, however, we left the postern ajar.

We had found her bedroom lighted and left it so—an open wardrobe declared the rape of the frock; and now we only waited to set wide

SHERIFF'S SALE THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF HASKELL: NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That by virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Haskell County, Texas, on the 8th day of January, 1936, by Roy Ratliff, Clerk of said District Court of Haskell County, for that my darling was safe had made me another man. My nerves were steady, my brain was clear, I felt like a giant refreshed, and I saw at once that my lady must be at Witchcraft.

One minute later I was behind the cottage and was running as fast as I could for the Witchcraft path.

"I was more than halfway to the cross roads when Sabre touched my hand. With a leaping heart, I at once took hold of his collar and ran by his side. Thirty yards on he stopped.

"Nell," I said quietly. "Nell." There was a rustle behind me. As I turned round, her arms were about my neck.

"I heard shots," she breathed. "You're not hurt?" "Not a scratch, my queen."

"Thank God, thank God." She clung to me desperately. "Oh, John, I can't spare you again. Ever since you left, I've been half out of my mind. You see... without you I'm beggared... you're all I've got."

Her tears were wet on my lips, as I strained her against my heart. "Come along, my lady. We'll talk when we're out of the wood."

Less than 10 minutes later I lifted the Rolls from a thicket and on to the road.

"Freda appeared," said Helena, "at a quarter to eight. It seems that she missed her train in a final, frantic endeavor to do as we said. We told her to deliver the letter to Geoffrey or Barley alone. Ten times she took that letter to your cousin's Salzburg address; 10 times she was asked to leave it, and 10 times the poor girl refused. When she had missed her train, she determined to try once more, and this time they managed to bluff her into giving it up. Well, the moment I heard her story, I knew that the damage was done, so Sabre and I made for Witchcraft as fast as ever we could. I confess I was rather worried. And even when Pharaoh arrived—as he did, about half past nine—I couldn't be sure that he'd missed you, for he might have dealt with you and come on for me. I watched him take the path. When they'd gone I made sure of the Rolls and came back to watch—and pray. The darkness was very trying, for the path, as you know, was in shadow and I had to watch for you both. And then, far away in the forest, I heard two shots..."

When I told her what I had learned, which, except that my cousin was safe, was little enough—"We must make for Yorick," she said. "Pharaoh's stranded, and that will give me a chance—with my brother. I mean, if Valentine's bored enough, I may be able to get him to go away. If I offer him the Carliotta, he may see the point of a month at Juan-les-Pins. Besides, if we want your cousin, Yorick is where he will be. He's certain to be watching the castle—it's all he can do. He probably visits Plumage, as you did today. But he knows that when we return, it will be to Yorick itself."

"Very good," said I. "I take it we drive to the door." "Oh, yes. It's safe enough now."

"You think you'll get Valentine off by an early train?" "He keeps late hours. If I let him have the Carliotta, I might get him off tonight. He's a creature of impulse, you know. Paint the toy bright enough, and he'll want it at once."

"Why not go to Pommers?" I said. "And use your original plan? We've only to find my cousin, and that should be easy enough. Let Pharaoh go back to Yorick. And then one night we'll cross the moat by the foot-bridge and do him in."

"I'm afraid to wait, my darling. If Pharaoh gets his foot in again, I think he'll play the card in his sleeve. And the card that he's got in his sleeve is putting my brother wise." She drew in her breath.

"Once Valentine knows of the gold, it's no good killing Pharaoh, for three weeks later another will reign in his stead. My brother will talk right and left. So you see, for that reason alone, Valentine must be gone before Pharaoh comes back."

The miles streamed by in silence, and I think it was just past midnight when I switched the Rolls off the road and into the entrance-drive.

As our headlights illuminated the gateway, I saw that the curtains were gone and the gates were shut, but a wicket in one of the leaves was open wide, and a servant was standing beside it, shading his eyes.

He had, of course, seen our lights from the porter's lodge and had opened for 'Captain Fanning,' as no doubt he had done before. As I brought the Rolls up to the wicket, I saw him start. Then he opened the door for his mistress and bowed to the ground.

"Come, John," said Helena quietly. She turned to the man. "Shut the wicket, Hubert, and wait in the lodge. The car will stay there."

In a flash she was in the courtyard, with Sabre and me behind. The doors were open, and Helena sped up the staircase which led to the principal rooms.

Helena's car was fast to the library door. After a moment she passed to the dining room. There for a moment she listened. Then her hand went out to the handle and softly opened the door.

A girl was standing on the table, regarding herself in the huge Italian mirror that hung on the wall. Her dress did not become her—it was so much finer than she. The scene was too coarse to be comic. Some girl from the streets of Lass was trying on Helena's clothes.

Champagne was on the table and on the floor. The Count was lying flat on his back. His condition was most apparent. To say he was drunk conveys nothing.

The girl had seen us in the mirror. Her hands clapped fast to her cheeks, she was staring at Helena's reflection with starting eyes. To confirm the mirror's report, she shot us one glance of horror; then she crumpled and sank to the table, dragging the dress about her and shrinking as though from some vision which was but waiting to give her the judgment that she deserved.

Helena went to her quickly and touched her arm. "Don't be afraid," she said quietly. "If you do as I tell you, I'll see that you come to no harm."

She turned to me, to speak English. "Can you get him on to the terrace and bring him round?" "I'll try," said I. "But I haven't a lot of hope."

With that, I picked up the Count and carried him out. But the fellow was too far gone. He would come to his senses in time, but nothing that I could do would hale them back.

"No good?" said Helena quietly. "Hopeless," said I. "He's all in. He may come round by midday, but he won't be fit to talk for 24 hours."

As the words left my mouth, the castle clock told us the time. A quarter past twelve.

"We must get him away," said Helena. "Now, at once. There's a train that leaves Lass for Innsbruck at one o'clock. We can't put him aboard at Lass—he's too well known, but I guess the train stops at Gola—that's ten miles on. The girl will have to go with him and see that he comes to no harm."

Although I could see that it was drastic, I had then no idea how monstrous was the action which she proposed. Her brother was her liege lord; when he succeeded her father, she was the first of his vassals to go on her knees, to put her hands between his, to swear to honor his person and ever maintain his freedom and all his rights. And this was no matter of form. For her better or worse, for more than five hundred years the body of the Count had been sacred in the eyes of his house.

Times might change, but not Yorick. Its motto held. On that handsome July night Helena snapped the tradition and broke her oath. Not a servant would have dared help her.

After perhaps five minutes our plans were laid. Whilst Helena spoke with Mona, the girl from Lass, I scrawled a note to Pharaoh and boldly signed it "V. Y."

Dear Fanning: Sorry, but I'm fed up. I've had enough of Yorick and I'm going tonight. I don't know where, but I'll probably get a train. See you again some day. . . .

As I laid down my pencil—"That'll do very well," said Helena. "He never writes, so nobody knows his hand. Leave it there on the blotting-pad. And now we must go."

A moment later our strange procession took shape. Helena led the way and I brought up the rear, with the Count on my back, while Mona minced between us, bearing her shoes in her hand.

Six paces away from the gates, I laid my burden down. "Is your back all right?" breathed Helena.

"Yes, thank you, my sweet." At once she turned to Mona, who was drooping beside the wall.

"If you cross that bridge, the porter will see you, and you will be chased and caught. In a few minutes' time, however, the porter will leave his lodge. You'll know when he's gone, because then the wicket will open. Cross the bridge. Then run down the drive until you come to the woods. Wait there at the edge of the meadow, and the car will be down in five minutes to pick you up."

"It is understood, my lady." "You will wait without fail, on the right-hand side of the road."

"Without fail, my lady." With many minglings we left her and hastened the way we had come. This time, however, we left the postern ajar.

We had found her bedroom lighted and left it so—an open wardrobe declared the rape of the frock; and now we only waited to set wide open the doors of the principal rooms. Then we went down to the courtyard—up to the last of the jumps.

As the porter stepped out of his lodge—"Why didn't you tell me," said Helena, "that his lordship was gone?"

The fellow looked scared. "I—I didn't know, my lady. I—I thought his lordship was here."

"He went this evening. He says so. He's left a note." The porter put a hand to his head. "No one has gone out, my lady, since half-past nine. And at half-past nine, my lady, I know that his lordship was here."

There was a startled silence. Then—"Fetch the night-watchman," said Helena.

The man ran into the courtyard and disappeared. In a flash the wicket was open and I was outside.

As I heaved him into the car, I saw a bedraggled figure hurrying on to the bridge. I laid the Count flat on the floor-boards and put his coat over his face. Then I took my seat at the wheel and started to turn the car round. . . .

Helena was speaking. "Touse the other watchman and the warden as well. The castle is to be searched. Unless he left by a postern, his lordship must still be here. Tell the warden that I have news for his lordship which will not wait, that I've gone to Lass to catch him in case he has gone."

"Your ladyship will be returning?" "Within the hour."

I had the car well in the shadows and Helena's door was open before she left the wicket to take her seat.

As I whipped over the drawbridge, I heard her sigh with relief. "And now for Mona," she said. The time was now half-past twelve.

As we left the meadows, I set a foot on the brake and switched out my lights. For a moment we sat in silence. Then—"Mona," I cried, "where are you?"

A figure rose out of the night. "She's hopped it, sir," said Barley. "Cut through the woods. But I'm thankful to see you, sir. And that's the truth."

It was twenty minutes later, on the skirts of Annabel village, that Barley stood by the Rolls and told us his tale.

We dared not return to the castle before ten minutes past one, for Lass was 12 miles from Yorick. We had, therefore, ten minutes to spare—much against our will, for that Pharaoh was racing for Yorick we had not a shadow of doubt. Still, to be uneasy was foolish; that day I had done the journey as Pharaoh was doing it now. If Pharaoh had the luck of the devil, we might expect to see him at half-past one.

So, as we had time to spare, Barley stood by the Rolls and told us his tale.

"A wire came on Monday, sir, a little later than usual, about ten o'clock. 'Return at once,' it said and it bore your name. Well, we left as sharp as we could—for Villach, of course; but when we got out at Villach, there ain't no car to meet us, let alone no Rolls. 'That's queer,' says Mr. Bohun. 'I don't understand it,' he says. 'If Mr. Spencer could wire, he could send a car. It may be all right, but we'd better go careful, Barley, from this time on.' Well, we 'ired a car at Villach, and stopped four miles from the farm. Then we enters the woods on foot. It was just about half-past four when we sights the house. Everything looks as usual—sleepy an' peaceful, you know, sir, an' no one about. But Mr. Bohun's uneasy. 'Mustn't rush in,' he says. 'You stay an' watch out,' he says, 'while I go round to the back. He hadn't hardly spoken before Rush comes out on the apron, as bold as brass."

"I give you my word, sir, that shook us. We made sure they'd got you all right. But of course we couldn't do nothing until it was dark. Then we crept in and 'ad a close-up." He drew in his breath. "Those two—Rush and Bugle—they're simple, that's what they are. They're like a turn on the 'alls."

You could walk right in between them, before they'd know you were there. For 'alf an hour that evening we listened to what they said, and of course we very soon knew that Pharaoh'd got his foot in the castle and you was away.

"Well, we had to have quarters somewhere, so Mr. Bohun comes here. 'The last place they'll look, he says, 'and the best I know.' Then we starts in watchin' the castle and visitin' Plumage at night. And that was all we could do, for to look for you was hopeless—we didn't know where to begin. But we knew where Pharaoh was, and we made up our minds to get him, for once he was out of the way, all roads were clear."

Barley closed his eyes and pushed back his hat. (To Be Continued Next Week)

Vontress

The snow last week was enjoyed by every one, but warm weather would also be enjoyed now.

ADLERIKA OATES DRUG STORE

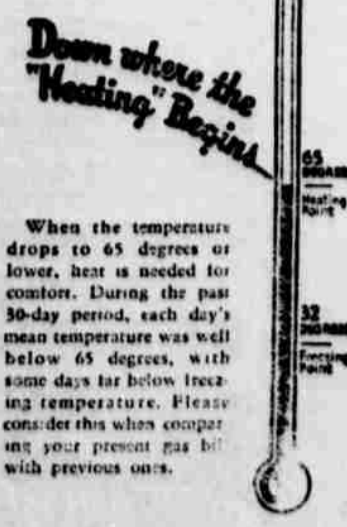

There's a month of steady cold plus a Blizzard on your present Gas Bill!

Gas service statements being received now include the season's worst blizzard. In addition to this period of unusually severe weather there was not a single day from the middle of December to the middle of January when heat was not required. This is one reason statements covering this period are higher.

Another reason is the Christmas Holiday season. During this season extra gas was required for entertaining, extra cooking and for the comfort of house guests.

During this continued spell of steady cold weather your gas company has been alert to its responsibility of having sufficient gas at all times for every need. From the many hundreds of wells in the many fields where the supply originates, on along thousands of miles of pipe-line system are employes with years of experience in giving service and seeing that the gas supply to every home is adequate at all times.

So when you receive your statement this month, consider what you receive for the amount you pay for househeating, cooking and hot water service. Compare the healthful comfort, convenience, service and leisure hours you have bought with the price of anything else you purchase. You'll find that your gas service is the least expensive of anything you buy—and the greatest value.

Down where the "Heating" Begins

When the temperature drops to 65 degrees or lower, heat is needed for comfort. During the past 30-day period, each day's mean temperature was well below 65 degrees, with some days far below freezing temperature. Please consider this when comparing your present gas bill with previous ones.

(Continued From Page One) candidates entering the field every two or three days. None of the candidates for the various state offices have announced as yet, however there is a strong indication that these men will soon be around the county, shaking hands and making promises, some of them which they fully intend to keep.

There are a few "dark horses" without which no political race is worth the running. This unknown factor is always the cause of the most worry, sometimes with good reason for the politicians.

The open season on candidates is in full swing. Hardly a day passes that all the candidates are not asked to contribute for something. The rackets are many and varied, however, only the uninitiated and the gullible are the victims, old heads are shy of the usual and it takes a scheme so bizzarre that it is new to extract the hard earned money from the experienced campaigners.

It has been estimated that if all the schemes for extracting money from the candidates without giving any return on the investment, were placed in one big pile and lighted on a still day where the smoke would be most visible it would be a good thing.

However, by the same token, if all the schemes of the office seekers that are used to cinch votes were laid end to end, there would be thousands of volunteers to bury them.

The political race comes but once every four years. To be sure, the County races are always interesting, but the forthcoming National and State races added to the local situation will make the coming July primaries resemble the Italian Ethiopian situation.

Increased Business Reported By Perkins-Timberlake Co. A positive return to better times is evidenced by the report of Perkins-Timberlake Co. regarding their business in 1935 and January of 1936.

In an interview with Guy Collins manager of the local Perkins-Timberlake Co. store it was learned that the year 1935 was one of the best years since the boom days, and according to Mr. Collins the month of January 1936, showed an increase of 26 per cent over the same period last year. He is very optimistic over the business outlook in this area and predicts a steady gain throughout the whole year.

Six buyers are now in New York and other Eastern markets, making Spring purchases for the local store as well as for other stores in the Perkins-Timberlake group. This early buying by specialized merchandise experts assures our patrons not only the newest style trends, but the best values that spot cash and experience can cause to be assembled.

Roy Ratliff Absent From Office Account of Illness District Clerk Roy Ratliff had to relinquish the duties of his office to his deputy, Alberta Orr, after calling the jury list in Court Monday morning. A light touch of the Flu was the cause, and Mr. Ratliff came to his office despite physicians orders on Monday.

M. E. Park

In 1906 he was elected as Haskell County sheriff and re-elected for a second term two years later, gaining a reputation throughout this section as a peace officer. Retiring, he moved to his farm property north of town, on Lake Creek.

Moses Everett Park was born in Starville, Smith county, Texas May 22, 1855. He was married to Catherine Felicia McClain at Moody, Texas, Oct. 3, 1878, and to this union were born four children, Mrs. C. M. Kaigler and Mrs. T. A. Pinkerton of Haskell, J. C. Park of Kansas City and Everett T. Park, who died in infancy. After the death of his first wife, Mr. Park was married to Lula Thompson on Nov. 17, 1910, in Haskell. No children were born to this union. Mrs. Louise Merchant, who has been like a daughter to Mr. Park, has with her little daughter Cecilia Jane, made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Park for a number of years.

Deceased has one brother, F. W. Park, Brownwood, Texas, and two half brothers, R. A. Knowles of Waco and Rev. S. B. Knowles of New York City. Twelve grandchildren and six great-grandchildren also survive.

Active Pallbearers were Paul Ford, Roy A. Sanders, Billie Burt, Giles Kemp, C. V. Payne, Raul English.

Centennial (Continued From Page One) has as its leader in this section of Texas, the Rev. R. N. Hucklebee, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Haskell who is the chairman of the Interdenominational Committee of Cooperation of the Texas Centennial Revival.

The work done by the local pastor, in collaboration with other denominational leaders through out the States is making the Centennial Revival one of the most talked of projects in religious circles today. The national attention being given this project, is a fair example of the many features of the Centennial, its gigantic proportions that are creating such a furor among other interdenominational organizations.

Each local church in the state will arrange its own battle lines according to five major objectives worked out by the State Interdenominational Committee.

INTERMEDIATE ENDEAVOR The Intermediate Endeavor meets at 8:15. We had fifteen present and ten visitors from Abilene. We failed to get their names, but they were advertising the Endeavor Convention which meets at Abilene March 7th and 8th.

Veterans

Carl (Lone Wolf) McGregor made the prints for the veterans at the local Bureau of Identification up to a late hour, and then turned the fingerprinting equipment over to County Judge Charles M. Conner who made prints for the remainder of the day.

The total national expenditure will be $2,491,000,000 (Billion) to be paid to 3,375,840 (million) veterans. This is an average of $677.67 to be paid each claimant, or about $334,834 to be distributed in Haskell County.

Of course, from this amount will be deducted the loan made on all veteran claims which was made in 1931.

Some of the veterans will not cash their bonds as soon as received but by far the big majority will do so.

The appropriation of over two billion dollars, the federal government is asking for an additional appropriation of $7,500,000 for the expense of book-keeping and distribution to the accounts.

Over 200 applicants have been fingerprinted by Judge Conner, and there are approximately 500 veterans in Haskell County who will receive the money.

Mishap

(Continued From Page One) where Dr. Gordon Phillips made the examination. The full extent of the injuries could not be determined inasmuch as it was not advisable to operate at the time.

Mr. Whitaker is suffering from a bursted kidney and possible other internal injuries. His condition was pronounced grave but he had improved Thursday. Several months treatment will be necessary and possibly blood drainings will have to be resorted to in order for the man to become active again.

Court

(Continued From First Page) W. C. Webb, the father of W. L. was here at the trial, as was his wife and three years old daughter. Mrs. Webb broke down as the judge passed sentence on her husband but exhibited restraint.

The little girl, unaware of the tragedy being enacted upon her, toddled through the rail, crawled up in her father's lap and started playing with a watch charm, prattling of various things that had interested her.

W. C. Webb is a highly respected landowner near Paducah and is one of the leading citizens of Cottle County. He is most highly spoken of by the people from Paducah who were here for the trial.

It is believed that this action on the part of the court will put a stop to the series of hide thefts that have been prevalent in this section for the past few months.

Rochester Thief Sentenced L. C. Brush plead guilty to the charge of breaking into a filling station in Rochester on January 27th, and was assessed a two year sentence by Judge Ratliff. Sentence was suspended on condition of good behavior of the negro.

Only a few routine matters remain to be cleared up by the court in this session. The Grand Jury has adjourned for the term after returning 11 felony indictments, several misdemeanors and making a report of the inspection of the County property.

They had met last Thursday, January 30th, adjourned and met Wednesday, February 5th for their final report.

On Monday, Judge Isaac O. Newton of Seymour took the bench in the place of Judge Ratliff who was disqualified in two cases. Judge Newton gave a five year suspended sentence to Clarence Hillen, who plead guilty to the charge of burglarizing the Humble Oil Company's warehouse last summer.

Judge Newton fined Wash Raeburn, Lyman Smith and W. B. Lemmon $25.00 each on their failure to appear in court in the case of Felix Miller, charged with driving while intoxicated. The case was transferred to Baylor County.

J. L. Hair returned Wednesday night from a trip to Quannah, Childress and other points. While in Quannah Mr. Hair was loading his files on the Hospital job just completed into his car when passing motorists called that the house was afire. Several valuable records were destroyed before they could be removed.

SOCIETY and Club

The Magazine Club

The Magazine Club program, Friday, January 31st, "The Origin and History of Pottery", was dedicated to the memory of our beloved club member, Mrs. P. M. Baldwin.

Mrs. W. M. Reid acted as hostess for Mrs. Baldwin. Evolution of Pottery—Mrs. T. G. Cahill. Story of Coloring and Glazing—Mrs. Ben Bagwell. Sketch of American Pottery—Mrs. W. M. Reid.

The potteries exhibited Rockwood, Van Briggie, Roseville, Nilook, Mexican, Anton Lang, Haeger, Stangle, Japanese, Indian Majolica, Salt and Crackle Glaze, Chinese and Japanese Porcelain and Rockingham ware.

Mrs. Wallace Cox read a tribute to Mrs. Baldwin written by the director, Mrs. Hunt. "I would liken her to a lovely piece of pottery, moulded by the Master Potter, and as such the first requisite is beauty, such as the beauty of her character."

"This lovely piece has symmetry of plans and purpose, though many did not come out as she hoped; neither does the clay the potter plies on wheel or with fingers."

"As well fired pottery is the most durable of all substances, so was the durability of her faith, friendship and loyalty. She always did far beyond her strength for her family, friends, church and club."

"As a potter first frees his clay from all impurities and grit, she was ever striving to free her thoughts of all impurities, her deeds and words of all harshness."

"Gems from her scrap-book reveal the beautiful colorings she was mixing and mingling into her life; this coloring ranges from the somber hues of grief and pain to the brilliant tints of happy anticipation and a fine sense of humor, that helped her, over many seemingly impassable barriers."

"Like unto a true glaze, the body may be seen through it, just so, her courage, tolerance, patience and steadfast hope shown through the glaze of this lovely piece, the Master Potter wrought."

Viola Humphrey Circle The Viola Humphrey Circle met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Chas. Quattlebaum, in a royal service program with Mrs. Ed Cass directing. Everyone present took part and a very interesting program was enjoyed. Our next meeting will be Monday, February 17th at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. Maok Perdue at which time a Bible lesson from the first chapter of Ethians will be taught. Every Baptist lady in the south side is earnestly requested to come and enjoy this hour of worship. Those present Monday were Mesdames, Jno. Fouts, Bledsoe, C. P. Cook, Joe Maples, Bill Humphrey, Ed Cass, J. M. Crawford, I. N. Alvis, Mack Perdue and the hostess.

Howard 4-H Club The Howard 4-H Club met February 3rd at 10:30 at the Howard school house with Mrs. Penn. New officers were elected as follows: President, Capitola Larnard; Vice-President, Christine Wells; Secretary, Maurine Walker; Reporter, Thelma Landess; Sponsor, Mrs. Clay Hattox; Assistant Sponsor Mrs. Penn. The club voted for Thelma Landess, bedroom demonstrator and Virginia McLean garden demonstrator.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Clay Hattox at 12:30 o'clock. The first problem the club will make is a pair of pillow cases.

The following members joined our club: Maurine Walker, Christine Wells, Thelma Landess, Capitola Larnard, Virginia McLean, Letha Mae Tidwell, Ina Mae Aaron, Mozelle Cox, Mary Tidwell, Bonnie Dell Hisey, Mammie Tidwell and Audrey Green. Everyone is invited to attend.

(Continued from First Page) as a whole, such as the membership in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the recent Santa Claus Parade, office rent for the Re-employment forces and all other incidentals. The Budget committee will endeavor to arrive at a safe figure for the amount of money necessary to meet these obligations and will apportion the solicitations accordingly.

The next meeting of the general body of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce has been set for Monday night, February 10, in the District Court Room at Haskell. D. A. Bandeen, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been extending an invitation to address this meeting and to help in the organization. The Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce will send a delegation to the meeting as will the Abilene group.

The meeting last Monday night was successful inasmuch as there was a larger number of members of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce present than at any other time, in spite of the adverse weather that prevailed.

The new Chamber of Commerce is being formed to help speed the construction of the dam across the Brazos River as well as other work that can be done only by an organization of this nature.

There has been some discussion as to the advisability of hiring a secretary and this will be further discussed at the meeting next Monday night, however the general consensus of opinion seems to be that the local group will have to make haste slowly and wait a more opportune time to hire a man. The expense will be more than can be safely contracted for at this early stage.

The board of directors appointed for the first term are A. M. Turner, J. A. Couch, T. C. Cahill, Oscar Oates, Guy Collins, Courtney Hunt, N. I. McCollum, O. E. Patterson, Hollis Atkinson, Emory Menefee, Roy Sanders, Johnnie Banks, Server Leon, Virgil Reynolds, J. D. Montgomery, W. A. Holt, S. Hasen and Lynn Pace.
