Recent Bride Is Honored At Bridal Shower in Weinstert.

Mrs. Gordon James, formerly Miss Elizabeth Hargraves, English teacher of the Weinstert High School, was honored with a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. G. C. Newsum Thursday afternoon, January 19. The house was decorated in red and white with the bride's chair placed at one end of the living room and draped with red and white crepe paper. The guests sat to the right and left of the bride.

After the guests had assembled, a short program was given. Two bridal poems were rendered by Gerry Eggleston and Henry Sargent. Then Myrtle E. Brittain, dressed as a Mexican wash woman, entered the room carrying the gifts, which were placed in front of the bride. The bride unwrapped the gifts and showed them to the guests. After the showing of the gifts, hot chocolate and cakes were served.

Doctors Know!

... and they use liquid laxatives

You'd use a liquid, too, if you knew how much better it makes you feel. A liquid laxative can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

Just ask your own doctor about this. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help—and the right amount of help. When the dose is repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without aid. People who have experienced this comfort, never return to any form of help that can't be regulated! The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara, and these are natural laxatives that form no habit. It relieves a condition of biliousness or sluggishness without upset.

To relieve your occasional upsets safely and comfortably, try Syrup Pepsin. The druggist has it.

CARD OF THANKS

We come with feeble words to try and express our appreciation to those who administered with loving hands and deeds to our Mother during her illness and death. We find we are at a loss to do so, for words seem so hollow when we try to express to those, her friends and ours, in this sad hour. But God in His tender love has made us rejoice to see and know her going was in answer to her prayers. The lovely flowers were just another one of God's messages of love for her.

We especially thank Dr. L. P. Taylor for his patient, watchful care of her all these years. Also for the high tribute paid to her life by Rev. H. R. Whitley, Rev. I. N. Alford and Rev. W. H. Albertson; for the tender care and service rendered by Mr. Holden. Again we wish to thank each and every one for every thoughtful act and deed. Should sorrow ever come to your homes, we truly sympathize with you, and our prayer is God will give you the comfort as He has us in this trying time. (Signed)—J. J. Stephens, Kirby Stephens, Lee Stephens, Mrs. C. C. Basham, Mrs. V. A. Duncan, Mrs. Chas. Pouts, Mrs. Jesse Josselot, Mrs. Walter Rogers.

MOTHERS GONE

We have not our dear sweet Mother. She no more on earth shall roam. And there'll never be another Who can take her place at home. Oh dear Mother how we miss you. But no more on earth you'll roam. Some sweet day we'll all be with you, In that bright eternal home. Mother's life was true and faithful, And her heart was filled with love. Trusting Jesus as her Savior, 'Till she'll join Him up above. Some day we shall go to meet her, Where there'll be no more good-byes. We can say there's nothing sweeter Than our meeting in the skies.

Mrs. Roy Watson of Wichita Falls is here visiting with her mother, Mrs. J. F. Kennedy who is ill.

Coiffures for Young Sophisticates

The smartness of restrained sophistication is evidenced in the coiffures of seven students at Texas State College for Women (CIA) who offer the latest styles in hair dressing. The pictures were posed by: top row, left to right, Mary Helen Johnson, San Angelo; Mary Eugenia Dunn, Abilene; Winifred Crump, Walker; second row, Gladene Parr, Mary Catherine Beck, Winfield; bottom row, Christine Chandler, of Troup; Cleon Manley, Houston.

DENTON, Texas—Just as the new year brings an abundance of resolutions, it also sets up new ideas for unusually coiffures, and the interest manifested in them by young sophisticates is fast equaling that incited over a new frock.

Coiffures, like clothes, offer an unlimited number of styles, and for handling that so-called "mop" on your head, coeds at Texas State College for Women (CIA) give their ideas. One of the most popular ways is the impish "boy cut" (top left) that has only a suggestion of femininity in the long roll that winds from the forehead toward the back. The closely chopped hair over the ears and at the back certainly gives a mischievous look. Depicting a young street urchin, the gamine style (top center) of hair-dressing, which shows a mass of curls playing low over the left eye, might also be termed a "saucy" coiffure. Nothing is more suggestive of pertness or impertinence than this way of dressing the hair.

Then the smart sophisticated appearance of a young modern is best expressed in the coiffure featuring a braid encircling the head. This braid can be effectively worn with a knot (top right) swung low on the neck or with a mass of curls (second row center).

The hairdress showing a mass of curled bangs (second row right) is a clever adaptation of smartness without the jaquered woodiness that is usually so obvious. This coiffure is strictly 1935.

The "jeune fille" bob shows bangs curled up (bottom left) into a close roll while the long bob (bottom right) set in loose waves gives an ultra-modern restraint in sophistication that certainly denotes "up-to-dateness."

By Haskell High School Students

TO OUR ELDERS

year the Senior Class of Rule school presented their class in the night of February 23. The receipts amounted to some odd cents. Then, on the night of February 27—less than a week later—the Senior Class presented their play, and the receipts amounted to $1.00.

The weather was fair and on both occasions, and the price was the same; we had that the play at Rule was better, and we know that the Haskell play was highly entertaining. These things being practically a rapid mental calculation that the receipts at Rule were double what the Haskell received.

Are we to think, Haskell? Are the people of the small town so much the richer—or are they more loyal to their high school and more appreciative of effort?

DEBATE IN ASSEMBLY

Wednesday, January 6, the school students and many visitors heard the first girls' debate in the Haskell High School. The debate was well balanced between Alberta Orr and Mary Chapman, negative, with Maydell Barnett and Ava Grindstaff, affirmative. This was not only a debate for these girls; it was also their mid-term examination.

"GANGWAY"

Do you hear that expression? Do you know what it's all about? Well, that's the name of the Senior play, and it's under way. By the way, that's a title for a play, don't you? And it's a play that fulfills the title promises in excitement and human interest. Members of the cast are working hard and we expect to have it presented at an early date; your attendance will help and help the Seniors—you'll be a Senior some day, as you were one once. And that, you will receive a full and delightful entertainment.

SENIOR SKETCHES

In the alphabet and foremost esteem of his classmates, is Adkins. He was born in the year 1915 in this city, and has been a member of any school in the Haskell public school. A member of the Indian football team for two years he has helped honor to Haskell High. Covell is on the basketball team for years and has taken active part in the track events. He is a member of the Gypsy Rambler team. The Three Musketeers rushing in at a split second of 8:45—the other two having had to wait on Howard again.

The 8:45 bell and the whole building alive with students on their way to classes.

FLASH! FLASH!

Did you notice several boys last week wearing great big smiles—holding their shoulders high and feeling very proud of themselves? We (for once) can forgive such conceit for they received their hard-earned football sweaters. The Haskell High School is very proud of these football boys and hope that they will always live up to the standards for which these sweaters stand. We know that they really earned them because of the many victories they brought home. Boys, the whole population of Haskell is proud of you, and hope that in later years you will recall, in happy memories, the meaning of such a prize.

PERSONALS

Miss Joy Davis of Rule was a visitor at High School Wednesday of last week. She was exempt from her mid-term exams, and had the day off. It must be fortunate not to have to take mid-term exams, and we congratulate her; however, we wouldn't like it because we'd feel so sorry for the ones who were not exempt.

Alfreda Pogue, formerly of Sulphur Springs, is entering high school this week, and R. C. and Carl Henshaw are re-entering.

Monday was a shade cool and about three-fifths of the students stayed under cover? For shame, fellow students! Where is that old time pioneer spirit? Can't you "take it" any more?

Brantley Massie fell and broke his arm at noon one day lately. Just a shade unfortunate for Brantley right at mid-term exam time.

CROSS SECTIONS

Early morning and students angling in from every direction. Odell Williamson coming in at the west door and stopping by the office for the key to the library. Alvin coming into the hall with his hat still on, and in shirt sleeves. A freshman boy setting his Christmas watch by the hall clock. Hugh Shelly bending his senior dignity to a lower locker.

Two or three students (any two or three) waiting in the principal's office to check their absence.

Hazel and Wilma carrying their sewing boxes to the Home Ec laboratory.

Corene coming in, leaning slightly to one side on account of a sore thumb and the heavy Senior ring she is wearing.

Some boy (just any boy) stepping outside the north door to comb his hair by the reflection in the glass of the door.

Maxine Quattlebaum lingering at her locker long enough to apply first aid to her complexion.

Jimmy asking Bob if "he told us to turn in our notebooks this morning?"

Anne Ruth heaving off her coat and remembering out loud that she must go downstairs to hang it up.

The Harrisons coming in, both seeing to have grown another few fractions overnight.

Anna Belle Stanton going upstairs appearing light-hearted in a monstrous blue dotted tie on a new red smock.

A "little-bitty" dark eyed lad darting into the superintendent's office.

Maggie Lee slightly decrepit with skinned places received in the basket ball game last night.

The Three Musketeers rushing in at a split second of 8:45—the other two having had to wait on Howard again.

The 8:45 bell and the whole building alive with students on their way to classes.

CLASS ROOM CLASSICS FROM KAIGLER'S STUDIO

"To guild refined gold, to paint a lily,
 To throw perfume on the violet;
 To smooth the ice or add another hue,
 Unto the rainbow, or with tapers light
 To seek the beauteous eyes of heaven
 To garnish;
 Is ridiculous and wasteful excess!"
 —Shakespeare.

We think Mr. Shakespeare means to tell us in the above quotation that you can't improve on nature. And we also think that our director, Mrs. Kaigler, thoroughly agrees with him. We have been so inspired by talks on the beauty of nature, that we took time, recently, to look at a beautiful sunset and found it was worth the time.

We have been taught so repeatedly where to find the proper pronunciation of a word, that we are about to get the habit of going straight to the dictionary.

We gave three one act plays at our last chapel program and the South Ward P. T. A. asked us to repeat "The Daughter She Raised" at their regular meeting last week. We did so last Thursday.

Now, we are at work on our next chapel program, "Why I Never Married", a musical comedy that is full of fun and the latest songs. Besides our regular class, the following boys will tell, in poetry and song, why they never married: Carl Maples, Jack Kimbrough, Crockett English, Covell Adkins, Winston Watson, S. A. Moser and Jno. E. Fouts.

The class is also at work on declamation, preparing for the Interscholastic League Contest.

MUTUAL FEELINGS

(Earnest McMillin becomes poetic over the tragic situation.)
 Napoleon was a man of fame;
 His deeds were cloaked in mystery.
 He failed in life, but just the same,
 His name went down in history.
 Although I guess I am to blame,
 My flunking is a mystery.
 Napoleon failed; I did the same—
 And I went down in history.

OUR BRIGHT REPLIES

Mrs. Young—Can anyone name a food that contains carbohydrates, proteins, and nitrates combined?
 Frankie Dorris—Hash!

C. T.—You know that new girl in our class, she surely did smile at me today.
 Rex—That's nothing. I laughed out loud the first time I saw you.

Miss Davis—Correct this sentence: "It was me that split the ink."
 Artie Pippen—"It wasn't me that split the ink."

Lyndell—Only fools are certain. Wise men hesitate.
 Tom—Are you sure?
 Lyndell—Yes, yes; certain of it.

Billy—I didn't deserve a zero, did I, Mr. Richey?
 Mr. Richey—No, but that is the least I can give.

Thomas Lee—How can you get your mind on your lessons?
 Albert—Well, you just tell yourself that you have as much brains as anybody, and you'll get them.
 Thomas Lee—Yes, but I know what a liar I am.

SOPHOMORE KNOW-IT-ALL

 Where did Mr. Sullivan go to school?
 Cautiously,

Dear Mary Frances:
 Probably in a house used for the purpose of enlightening people on such subjects as Math, English, Agriculture, History, etc. Know-It-All.

Dear Know-It-All:
 Can the song "Got the Jitters" be applied to our school life in any way?
 Puzzled,
 Beatrice Wheeler.

Dear Beatrice:
 What about the night before mid-term examinations begin?
 Know-It-All.

Dear Know-It-All:
 Don't you think the song "I Ask You Again as a Personal Friend—What Does Know-It-All Know?" could be sung appropriately about you?
 Brightly,
 Woody Roberts.

Dear Woody:
 Now don't get things so mixed up; you're not Know-It-All.
 Know-It-All.

CYCLONE DAVIS MAY RETURN TO POLITICS IN ADVANCED YEARS

SULPHUR SPRINGS, Texas.—Eighty-one year old James Harvey (Cyclone) Davis, once a national political figure, plans to run for Governor and may re-marry.

His arrow-straight six-foot form is accentuated by slimmness and a long beard, snowy as his hair. His voice that once swung political audiences from Canada to Cuba now has a strange falsetto quirk at times, but four score years have not dimmed his clarity of thought, nor his enthusiasm.

Cyclone Davis burst into national fame with the speed of his name, as one of the organizers of the Populist Party. He ran for Congress unsuccessfully as a Populist. Later he was elected to Congress in 1914 as a Democrat. Defeated in 1916, he returned to his home here.

In his heyday, Davis was the most feared political debater of the state. He stump Texas and other states for Populism. He spoke for Prohibition in every state and lectured nation-wide for the Farmers' Alliance.

It was for his vigorous political attacks that he was called "Cyclone" as a nickname. When a state committee refused to put the "Cyclone" on an election ballot, he had a court make the name official and ran under it.

The above figures represent an improved condition of Road and Bridge Precinct No. 1 Fund of Jan. 1, 1935 of $812.23.

BYRON G. WRIGHT,
 County Treasurer, Haskell Co., Tex.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

Although the county has operated on approximately a 60% current tax payment in 1933 and approximately a 72% current tax payment in 1934, it will be seen from the comparative financial statement above that the indebtedness of the Road and Bridge Fund in Precinct One has been reduced during the two years from $1,328.69 to $516.46.

Believing that the present drought and the depression have made conditions the worst that this county has ever known, it has been my duty during the past two years to make the taxpayer's dollar go as far as possible and, as far as in my power, to keep this precinct out of debt. These two leanest years in the history of the county have been responsible for putting many families out of homes and out of work and causing many of our good citizens to be on relief rolls. With this in mind I have endeavored to keep the taxpayer's dollar at home and to hand it back to the taxpayer and the unemployed in remuneration for work done by them on the lateral roads of the precinct.

At all times I have had the best interest of Haskell County and Precinct One at heart and have made an honest effort to render the very best service possible. In this connection may I say that the major problems of the Commissioners' Court are a matter of public record, and I invite the public to investigate these records to see where I have stood on the major problems.

I wish to thank the good people of Haskell County for the spirit of co-operation and confidence given me during the two years I have served you, and especially do I wish to express my appreciation to those of you who reside in Precinct One who have so wholeheartedly given me your support. May I say that in the most humble way I knew I have endeavored to prove myself worthy of your confidence. Although there may have been mistakes made in handling the affairs of your precinct, I have at all times endeavored to work for the best interests of the taxpayers and the people at large and to this end have served you to the very best of my ability.

G. F. MULLINO.

WHEN YOU CASH A CHECK

When you cash or deposit a check for $100, drawn on a bank in some other city, you may not realize what it will cost your bank to collect that check.

For you the transaction is complete. It has not occurred to you that your bank has actually advanced you $100 of its own money for several days until it can get the $100 back from the bank in the other city, meanwhile losing the interest on this amount.

Also, during this process of collection your check must be recorded, letters written, verified, mailed and otherwise handled by many people.

This is only one of many valuable and costly services that bank patrons sometimes "take for granted."

School Lays 800 Feet of Tile

CHANNING.—Demonstrations in Hartley county in the use of concrete tile for subirrigation have been so satisfactory that the Channing High School has recently completed the laying of 800 feet of tile to water the trees planted on the school yard in 1932, according to E. R. Duke, farm demonstration agent, who had general supervision of the work. The tile was made and laid with relief labor, and the school furnished the material. Tile was installed on two residential lots in Channing in 1932 for the irrigation of trees, and both have proved satisfactory, Mr. Duke says.

Makes Profit on Turkeys

MULESHOE.—A net profit of $2.88 per bird was made by Levi B. Churchill, Bailey county, turkey demonstration, on his turkeys this year after all expenses were deducted, according to J. B. Waide, Jr., farm demonstration agent. The turkeys were charged market price for all feed raised on the farm, and 50 cents per hour for all time spent in taking care of them. The cost of raising the birds, including labor, feed and cost of points was $4.70 per bird. No birds were sold to breeders. The birds were all farm dressed, and more than 88 per cent were graded U. S. prime by government licensed graders.

Terracing Increases Yield of Oats

RELTON.—Fifteen acres of land terraced in September 1933 and planted to oats made better than an average crop, and I have noticed a 25 per cent improvement in the land as well," John W. Blankenship of Bell county told George P. McCarthy, farm demonstration agent, in explanation of the new terracing done on the Blankenship farm in December. "Immediately after the terraces were constructed we received a six inch rain, and I was pleased to find that my terraces did not break in any place. In this one rain, the old washes in the field were also filled in considerably," Mr. Blankenship added.

4,300 Cans Food Preserved

HUNTSVILLE.—A total of 4,300 cans of food have been preserved during the year for 35 Walker county families by Mrs. R. L. Williams of the Clines Prairie community in addition to food put up for use by her own family, according to Miss Frances Purnard, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Williams canned for her two children, and received 643 cans toll for services rendered in the canning plant in the community. She has traded canned goods for different supplies and has used some to pay a doctor bill and a hospital bill.

Refinishes Worn Linoleum

ELDORADO.—A decorative design worked out in the refinish of the worn linoleum on her floor was used by Mrs. Hugh McAngus, co-operator in the Schleicher county Home Demonstration Club, to make her linoleum look new and attractive, according to Miss Lora Parnsworth, home demonstration agent. Mrs. McAngus gave her linoleum two applications of under coat paint, added two coats of tan floor enamel, and then put on one coat of clear varnish. Following this she worked out a floral design in green enamel.

George Mahon Is Made Secretary of Texas Delegation

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—Honorable George Mahon, 19th District Congressman, was elected Secretary to the Texas Delegation at its first caucus this year. Honorable Fritz Lanham of Ft. Worth was elected Chairman. The Texas Delegation is made up of all the members of Congress from the State and it meets regularly every two weeks to discuss problems before Congress that peculiarly involve the interests of Texas.

Club Woman Makes Over Old Clothes; Pays Big Profits

Making over old clothing pays a big profit according to Mrs. H. H. Hines, second year wardrobe demonstrator of the New Cook home demonstration club. A swaggar coat that would retail for $16.00 was made from an old discarded wool coat by turning the garment and changing the style. She also makes knickers for her son from men's old trousers. Mrs. Hines is completing her storage by adding shelves, hat racks and shoe racks. She is keeping records of the clothing expenditure for the entire family.

HOT GRAPEFRUIT A RIVAL FOR 'HOT OIL'

MERCEDES, Tex.—"Hot" grapefruit may soon be as great a problem to Texans as "hot" oil.

R. V. O. Swarthout, Texas citrus coordinator, has put into effect a prohibition order limiting shipments of grapefruit from this state. The order was authorized by the Texas Citrus Committee, and is designed to prevent speculation in grapefruit in produce centers and to create a uniform price during the entire season.

Certificates have been issued to growers in the Rio Grande Valley, and as is the case with oil, producers must receive a "tender" before they can ship their fruit.

Boise Resumes Curfew

BOISE, Idaho.—After a lapse of two years, the curfew bell rings again here. The city council ordered enforcement of a 60-year-old ordinance requiring ringing of the bell at 9 p. m. in summer and 8 p. m. in winter.

Spring Is Here?

PERNDAL, Wash.—A calla lily forgot its seasons and has bloomed at the home of Mrs. J. W. Morris. The stalk is 50 inches long, the blossom eight inches in length and six inches across.

YOUR HEALTH

By John W. Brown, M. D., State Health Officer

AUSTIN, Texas.—Smallpox can be eliminated as a cause of illness and death if every person would be vaccinated against this disease at least every five years, declared Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. There were almost eight hundred cases reported to the State Department of Health in 1934.

Smallpox occurs most frequently among young children under 14 years of age. The incubation period averages from 8 to 14 days, and the disease begins suddenly with a severe headache and a high fever. The severe headache and the intense pain in the joints, back and extremities are more characteristic of smallpox than of any other disease occurring in temperate climates. At the end of 3 or 4 days of these preliminary symptoms, an eruption appears which, within a few hours, becomes distinctly raised above the general level of the skin. With the appearance of the eruption the fever subsides and the patient becomes more comfortable. In contradistinction to chickenpox, the eruption does not occur in crops, but goes through its development in a characteristic fashion nearly simultaneously all over the body.

At present there is an increasing lack of vaccination among school children, and they contribute of menace to our State. It is right to sit complacently by and allow this disease to gain a foothold when a very simple weapon is in a position which would make the occurrence impossible? Every community is in a position to determine the amount of smallpox it wishes to have. Vaccination is an economical measure easily within the reach of all and brings protection. The disease is within human control, and our advice to the people of Texas is to get vaccinated if you have not been within the last five years.

TEXAS HISTORY IN THE MAKING

Espada, Where Texas' First Army Gathered

In 1771, two hundred and three years ago, the Franciscan fathers built Mission San Francisco de Espada near San Antonio. Continuously since that time, Mission Espada has been used for worship. The top picture shows the mission at the close of a recent Sunday service, while below is its interior. Here, in Espada's court yard, the first army of Texas gathered under James W. Fannin and James Bowie during October, 1835, and from here 300 men were sent to capture San Antonio. A glorious victory resulted, the Texas routing 1,000 Mexicans with the loss of only two men, one of them San Fannin, whose infectious enthusiasm had inspired the success. The back and adobe houses bordering the large Mission de Espada court yard are still intact and occupied. (Photos by R. M. Hayes, Texas)

Important That Births Reported

Citing the fact that many people are careless about reporting births, Raymond Brooks, local justice of the peace and recorder, urges that more care be taken in such matters.

According to Brooks, the law requires that the birth of every baby born in Texas, whether in wedlock or out, be reported to the local registrar, because a birth certificate may be needed to prove many important items, such as right to inherit property, citizenship, school age, age under child labor laws, legal age for marriage, right to vote, right to hold public office, prove nationality while in foreign countries, secure passports, qualification for jury service, establish proof for pensions, insurance, and compensation, and to determine birth rate in state, county and city.

Reports of births are required to be made by the physician or midwife in attendance, or if there is no attendant, by the father, mother or householder.

TTC Made Library Depository in 19th

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special)—The announcement has been made from the office of George Mahon, Congressman of the 19th District, that Texas Technological College, Lubbock has been named as the Government Depository Library for his District.

After contacting the Government Printing office, Mr. Mahon found that he was entitled to designate one school in his District to serve as a depository for all Government documents and official publications. In answer to a written request that a selection be made, he sent his official choice to the Superintendent of Documents, naming Texas Tech. Mr. Mahon expressed pleasure at being able to cooperate in aiding the College in this matter.

Very Much Improved After Taking Cardui

"I have suffered a great deal from cramping," writes Mrs. W. A. Sewell, Sr., of Waco, Texas. "I would chill and have to go to bed for about three days at a time. I would have a dull, tired, sleepy feeling. A friend told me to try Cardui, thinking it would help me—and it did. I am very much improved and do not spend the time in bed. I certainly can recommend Cardui to other sufferers."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit you, consult a physician.

NIRB Will Announce Price Control Policy Soon; Public Hearings Due

WASHINGTON.—At the conclusion of a 4-day general hearing on code-price provisions conducted by the National Industrial Recovery Board, Blackwell Smith, legal adviser and ex-officio member, declared that the Board hopes "to make a definitive announcement" on price control at an early date.

"The NRA," said Mr. Smith, "will make a careful analysis of the material and information presented at this hearing. On the basis of that analysis it will formulate the issues, the alternatives, and the actions growing out of this material."

The forthcoming announcement Mr. Smith explained, will be calculated to clear the way for the next in the series of public hearings planned by the NIRB on major questions of policy to guide it in the working out of the contemplated revision of code structure on a more permanent basis.

The National Industrial Recovery Board "must take a comprehensive view of the conditions on which profits depend for business as a whole," Leon Henderson, ex-officio member of the Board and director of the NRA Research and Planning Division, said, reviewing the testimony.

"So far as profits to business have figured in the discussions," Mr. Henderson continued, "business as a whole has not been asking Government protection for anything beyond the ordinary minimums necessary to maintain wage standards, to avoid bankruptcies but not necessarily to perpetuate inefficient producers, to permit reasonable business spending, replacements and betterments of capital, and maintenance of normal inventories."

"The Board has no definite disagreement with that objective, as an objective. But as to the weight to be given to that objective, as against the correlative objective of increased employment and physical output and sale of goods, I assume that the Board believes that satisfactory business as a whole except through a 'stimulation' of production, and through an enormous stimulation of demand."

Business wants some form of price control, most of its spokesmen at the hearing told the Board. In all, 276 witnesses had a chance either to say their say or file their statements as briefs. The big fellow and the little fellow were there. Those heard differed as to ways of controlling prices. Some thought a requirement for the open filing of prices would provide adequate control. Others said provisions for the declaration of minimum prices during limited emergencies have worked well in the few industries which have tried them.

A number of witnesses urged that control be limited to a prohibition of sales below cost—in some instances, the average cost for a whole industry, in others the cost of the individual seller.

The Board was informed by others that production control was an effective measure of price control in certain industries. There were a number of others who said the codes provisions for minimum wages and maximum hours were all that was needed to control prices, because they limited or eliminated price cutting at the expense of labor.

S. Clay Williams, chairman of the Board, said at the opening of the hearing that the Board was equally interested in reactions to its announced policy and "in facts lying beyond our present policy."

"This study traces back to the National Industrial Recovery Act itself," Mr. Williams said. "One of the primary objects of the act is the elimination of unfair competitive practices."

"So what we are after is to find where that line lies which does eliminate unfair competitive practices which militate either against the general good or the specific purposes that this act is trying to serve and yet stop short of any destruction or partial destruction of your competitive system."

"The search for that line, to give us the ability to draw that line and to write the provisions that will establish that line, is the purpose of this hearing."

LIVESTOCK ON THE HIGHWAYS

There have been many complaints about farm stock grazing on the highways in Haskell county. Especially between Haskell and Wichita Falls on Highway 30. There have been numerous accidents and several animals have been killed in addition to the damage done to automobiles in the collisions. Running into an animal on the highway is very dangerous and many times causes people to lose their lives. The highway department has asked that stock be kept off the highways and there are very rigid laws against stock grazing along the state highways. The sheriff's department issued warnings to livestock owners last summer and asked that they co-operate in this matter but it seems that little attention has been paid to the warning. Stock should be taken up when found grazing along the highway and charges preferred against the owner. Cooperation in this movement may be the means of saving a life and that life may be your closest friend and neighbor.

SHORT TIME LEFT TO PAY POLL TAX

Only a short time remains for people in Haskell county to pay their poll tax in order to be able to vote on any issues that may come up during 1935. It is true that this is not a general election year, but other important issues may be presented upon which every citizen will want to vote. There is little doubt but that the prohibition question will be voted on some time during the year. Also an amendment to the state constitution regarding old age pensions.

For those who live in Haskell, a city election will be held in April.

January 31 is the last day a poll tax receipt can be secured.

TIME CHANGES VALUES OF OUR LABELS ON BELIEF

The American people are quite ingenious in the matter of inventing labels for describing various human activities and characteristics and such words as "radical," "conservative," "progressive," and so on come in mighty handy as a sort of card-index for the classification of intangibles, but the interesting thing about them is the fact their value changes from year to year without our being aware of it.

An example is President Roosevelt's recent address to Congress. Half a dozen years ago this speech—calling as it did for a network of old age pensions, unemployment insurance schemes, collective use of natural resources, and the addition of 3,500,000 men to the Federal payroll—would have sent shivers up and down some millions of honest American spines. But coming when it did, it was generally accepted as a "middle of the road" venture, and many people even saw it as a swing to the right.

The labels which we attached to such things a few years ago have lost their meaning because our conceptions of these things have changed with the years. The depression has altered our viewpoint. We no longer see things as we used to and before we pin any more labels on new proposals we would do well to examine the labels carefully and see if they mean the same things they used to mean. We simply have moved out from under many of our favorite figures of speech.

SPACE GRAFTERS

A waste paper basket mounted high with "junk" from the morning mail convinces us again that no one receives the amount of propaganda, canned material, free readers and plain efforts to graft space, than a newspaper editor does.

No one would think of asking a clothing merchant for a $20 purchase gratis; or a grocer for $5 worth of produce; or a garage for $4 in free service. Yet individuals, corporations, causes, churches, societies, manufacturers, inventors, and just plain nuts write in daily to ask for more space as "free matter" than the average newspaper is able to sell at advertising rates. If one out of every thousand gained one-thousandth of what they ask, every newspaper in the country would be in the hands of a receiver before the six months had ended.

And if all the effort and expense represented in this never-ceasing effort to graft free space was devoted to the purchase of legitimate advertising, the message that these varied agencies have, or think they have, might be conveyed to the public in a fair and business-like manner.—Chillicothe Valley News.

"Chances Good for Increase in Population"—reads headline in Dallas News. Someone else is Winchelling.

Pity the girls in the county agent's office. Day after day, they hand out checks to farmers, but cannot cash in on all that money. And "tips" are so few and far between.

If the federal government cares so much for plans whereby money is handed out on cotton, corn, hogs, cattle, wheat, et cetera, et cetera, several Haskell merchants wouldn't mind if the said FG paid for NRA assessments.

BRIEFLY—Most of us claim we like truthful people, but its most generally when the "other fellow" is being discussed. . . . The trouble with most of us is that we want to be the fellow who is on the sidelines doing the cheering when work is to be done. . . . A lot of people love children, but you wouldn't think so by the way scores of them drive past schools at a fast rate of speed. . . . Some young folk honestly think they have a hard time, but the only thing hard is that dad doesn't have the money he formerly had and therefore is unable to give it out. Dad is really the one having the "hard" time. . . . Men who study such things carefully believe that some form of sales tax is in the offing soon.

I thought I had heard about all the "rumors" regarding the NRA violation in Haskell last week, but they continue to come—and the stories grow wilder and the amounts paid grow larger. There's a lot of unadulterated hokey somewhere, if you ask me—which you won't.

"Is your baby registered," asked Raymond Brooks, our local justice, recently. I hastened to inform him that he must have the wrong person, but his question had not been finished, he informed us. All he wanted us to do was to write a story concerning "Is Your Baby Registered?"

In a news article from Austin, I read where a mite more tax money is needed for the various counties and a few more cents will be added on to the gasoline tax. I've read many articles which explained how taxes could be raised, but very few—so very, very few—relative to any lowering of taxation. It is an old American custom now to place as much tax as possible on the shoulders of the people. If I remember correctly, the FIRST American revolution was caused by unfair taxation and corruption in high places. It might be well if many so-called "great minds" remembered the same thing.

Do You Remember When . . . ?
Coal oil and sugar was a "fine" medicine. . . . Chewing gum was sold in long sticks that resembled candles. . . . Women's corsets were laced from behind and were long. . . . Girls took the bows out of their sweetheart's hat and placed them on their garters. . . . Church dates for young people were the rule and not the exception. . . . Everybody joyfully took part in the church picnic. . . . Women pinned their watches to their shirt-waist on the left side. . . . Women wore "rats" in their hair and made their hats resemble an airplane in full flight. . . . Practically all boys went barefooted in the summer-time and were eternally sticking nails in their feet. . . . Straight knee trousers were worn by the youngsters and two buttons sewed on the sides at the knee. . . . Men took pride in their barber shop mugs. . . . Mothers pushed baby buggies. . . . When you bought coal oil and had it delivered, the spout of the can usually had a potato, or a gandy gundrop, placed on it, and how disappointed you were, if you were a boy, at the waste of said candy. . . . Women used white chalk, which came in small cones, for face powder. . . . Male lovers sent their lady friend gorgeous Valentines. . . . Glace (pronounced glassa and I'm not sure about the spelling) was THE drink and was made from shaved ice and any old kind of flavoring. . . . Milk shakes were milk shakes. . . . The old fashioned editor wished every newly-married couple "a long and happy life together". . . . What fun it really was to meet the train every Sunday afternoon. . . . Young couples would go walking Sunday afternoons down the railroad track, perhaps to a large bridge where they would have their pictures taken. . . . Most parlors in homes were kept dark and seldom used only for very formal occasions. . . . Families could be seen going to church Sunday morning, usually with Bible in their hands. . . . Chicken and bread were sold at the trains in Bowie, Texas. . . . Practically every grocery store had a gasoline pump in front of the store. . . . Elijah's Manna was a breakfast food. . . . Men wore button shoes. . . . Bakeries sold as high as eight loaves of bread for a quarter. . . . Postmasters took their time and read most of the postcards that came through the mail—and wondered like heck what might be in a letter. . . . Lamp chimneys were washed regularly. . . . Devout people knelt in church while praying, and, if you raised your head a trifle and kept one eye open, you could

PLANNING FOR TEXAS

(Semi-Weekly Farm News)

President Roosevelt is planning for a new social order and Governor Alfred has in mind a new deal for Texas. Broad plans naturally require expert planners combined into boards, so as to co-ordinate their studies and present programs based on a knowledge of exact facts. The Federal Government has its Natural Resources Board (National Planning Board), forty-five States have planning boards, and, throughout the United States, aside from States, at the close of 1933 there were 739 city, and 85 county and regional planning boards. Obviously, scientific planning based on careful investigations are to be part of the new deal and of the new social order.

In Texas Ex-Gov. Miriam Ferguson appointed last May a Texas Planning Board under the chairmanship of Marvin C. Nichols of Fort Worth. Later, Terrell Bartlett of San Antonio and Major E. A. Wood of Dallas were appointed as consultants to the board and six committees organized out of the board membership. With this organization the board is studying the State's natural resources, its land, water, and timber, its systems of transportation, population trends, public health and a host of kindred matters, all with the purpose of making recommendations for State improvement that should result in a speeding up of the normal rate of progress.

It is inspiring that Texas is to take a definite part in Nation-wide planning and has already made a start in that direction. The comparatively slight expense of a planning board brings returns a hundredfold in the larger economies of State life. The board itself promotes by example greater efficiency in the planning of county and city.

Every county in the State should, after consultation with the State board, at once organize a planning board in preparation for the Centennial. This should be followed up by a program that will plan for local progress during the earlier years of the next century of the State's existence. Careful planning, whether in public or private business, is the essential to success.

Light Important In Plant Growth

(By George W. Woodbury, Assistant Professor of Plant Industry, Texas Tech.)

LUBBOCK, Texas. — What, you may ask, does light, or the lack of light, have to do with flowering plants. That most of our plants need light is generally understood. The amount of light needed for the best plant growth is more of a question. Even if one did know the exact needs of the average plant as regards light, he would be little, if any better off. For light, unlike water, fertilizer, and insect powders cannot be measured out in a bucket, a shovel or a teaspoon. We can exclude light entirely, but we have difficulty in apportioning out any certain quantity of light.

By shortening the period of daylight, the amateur florist is able to bring chrysanthemum plants into flower somewhat in advance of their regular blossoming period. By increasing the amount of light he has flowered stocks, calendulas, and snapdragons sooner than those having no treatment. There is a third group of plants which seem indifferent as regards length of day. The tulip and violet are some of these. The important thing to know is that all plants do not require the same light conditions. If they are classified as short day plants, long day plants, and plants not responsive to length of day, a few can be put into each class.

Short day plants include chrysanthemums and poinsettias; long day plants, calendula, snapdragons, cineraria, gladioli, corn flower, stock, and coreopsis; plants not responsive to length of day include cyclamen, hyacinth, paper white, easter lily, primrose, carnation, and marigold.

For amateur florists who have no greenhouse, and who wish to get our later varieties to bloom before frost, here are the possibilities: Set the plants by themselves in some part of the cutting garden. Putting them in a low frame built of narrow boards is a good idea. Build a frame work sufficiently high so that the shading material may be stretched over the plants at proper time and at the right height. Black saaten cloth is the material used for shading. The initial cost may appear somewhat high, but with care the cloth may be kept and used for several seasons without loss of effectiveness. The saaten should be of good quality so that sufficient shading will be obtained. The entire bed is shaded by stretching the cloth over the framework. Sides, top, and ends should all be covered. In order to facilitate handling of the cloth it is necessary to put up a good frame for its support.

The practice of shading chrysanthemums to induce early blooming is becoming popular more and more each year. With the previously mentioned shading equipment this may be done as follows: Plants which are to be shaded should be planted sooner than those not shaded, in order to get more stem length. From a month to six weeks after the plants have been set out the shading is begun. Some effect is also obtained by shading begun later. The shades are usually applied about 6 o'clock in the afternoon and removed at 7 o'clock in the morning. This continues until the terminal buds have been taken on the standard varieties. For pompons and other small sorts, it is recommended that the shading be continued until the buds actually show color. Earlier removal of the shades will cause the buds to stand still until the normal time for them to bloom. Under these conditions, mid-season varieties (Oct. 15 to Nov.

Gives Up Post

Judge John A. Murphy, who resigned as racing director of Arlington Downs, between Dallas and Fort Worth, was announced last week. A veteran of more than 20 years in the turf sport, Judge Murphy was director of three Texas meetings. His successor will soon be announced.

It can be made to bloom as much as a month in advance of the normal time. If later maturity is desired, shading may be started later with proportional results.

It is a matter of common observation that shading, if carried to the extreme will cause leggy, sickly growth, open to disease and insect attack; producing flowers of poor quality. Systematic shading could not be confused with these undesirable conditions. It is true that stem length and size are sacrificed to some extent in order to get the added earliness. The difference in size of the bloom usually is not great enough to lower the value of the cut flower.

In contrast to the chrysanthemums are those plants which respond to additional light — from lamps of various sorts. Ordinary incandescent lamps are usually used. The wattage of the lamps will depend on the space to be lighted. Quality of the light, that is, the kind of rays emitted, is not found to be of importance with most plants. As a matter of fact, excess ultraviolet rays or infrared rays often cause indifferent results. There is probably no definite length of time over which such plants should be illuminated. Time of blossoming will, in most cases, be hastened in proportion to the amount of light given; up to within certain limits. Most plants, however, require a rest period of a few hours each day.

WE DO NO SELLING

While our display room offers a wide selection of merchandise, we do not SELL these things. We prefer to mark prices in plain figures, and permit the family to make its own selection without being influenced by us.

If advice is needed, we offer it, but the family, knowing its means and wishes better than we possibly could, makes its own decision in our display room.

Advertisements Are a guide to value

EXPERTS can roughly estimate the value of a product by looking at it. More accurately, by handling and examining it. Its appearance, its texture, the "feel" and the balance of it all mean something to their trained eyes and fingers.

But no one person can be an expert on steel, brass, wood, leather, foodstuffs, fabrics, and all of the materials that make up a list of personal purchases. And even experts are fooled, sometimes, by concealed flaws and imperfections.

There is a surer index of value than the senses of sight and touch . . . knowledge of the maker's name and for what it stands. There is the most certain method, except that of actual use, for judging the value of any manufactured goods. Here is the only guarantee against careless workmanship, or the use of shoddy materials.

This is one important reason why it pays to read advertisements and to buy advertised goods. The product that is advertised is worthy of your confidence.

Merchandise must be good or it could not be consistently advertised. Buy advertised goods.

Unexpected Bull Fight Is Won With Pocket Knife By Armstrong Citizen

CLAUDE, Texas.—An exciting event in Armstrong county recently was a bull fight staged by J. L. Pafford, county commissioner-elect, with a neighbor's 2 year old 800-pound bull.

While strolling through his pasture one morning recently, Mr. Pafford noticed the stray animal among his herd and decided to try to separate it from the herd by driving his cattle into another pasture. But the bull objected and proceeded instead to drive Mr. Pafford out of the pasture.

The nearest protection was a barbed-wire fence, under which Mr. Pafford rolled as the bull plunged through it. His next and only refuge was a bois d'arc fence post which he reached in time to get his pocket knife open for the next round. The last charge broke the post off at the ground, knocked Mr. Pafford to one side and let the bull pass. It was then the county commissioner had his inning. He jumped to his feet, grabbed the enraged brute by the horn (the other horn had been broken off) and with a bulldog grip pinned the animal to the ground with one hand while he sank his knife into its throat with the other, finally puncturing the jugular vein.

And there the two wrestled until the bull bled to death.

The Magazine Club.

The Magazine Club met in the home of Mrs. J. U. Fields last Friday, Jan. 18. Mrs. Fields directed a very interesting study on the first Texas history. This was the first of a series of programs on Texas history. After a roll call on Texas history, Mrs. Hollis Atkinson gave the Early Background of Texas History. Mrs. Roy Sanders told of the Early Spanish Missions and Settlements in Texas, and Mrs. W. G. Forgy discussed the Pilgrusters. This study covered the history of Texas up to the time the first Americans began to make settlements. After a brief review and quiz on the lesson, Mrs. Fields served refreshments and the meeting was adjourned.

Ford Orders Five And Half Million For Improvements

DETROIT, Mich. — Henry Ford last week signed an order which will expend $5,500,000 in capital improvements during the next 10 months and double the power capacity of the Ford Motor Company's Dearborn plant.

The five and a half million dollars will purchase one 110,000-kilowatt generator, one high pressure boiler and the necessary auxiliary equipment. In addition one 15,000 kilowatt turbine generator unit has been ordered.

With the units installed during 1929-30, this will bring the capacity of the River Rouge plant up to 2,200,000 pounds per hour of high pressure steam for power generation.

The new installation is described as a duplication with improvements. The generator installed in 1920-30 was designed for a steam temperature of 725 degrees Fahr., but the new one is for 900 degrees. The high pressure boilers of 1929-30 were designed for a steam generating capacity of 700,000 pounds per hour.

This is believed to be the largest expenditure for capital improvement made by industry in several years and indicates that Mr. Ford's outlook toward the future is one of confidence.

The present expenditure has been made necessary by the enlargement of the steel plant at the Rouge. Some time ago Mr. Ford announced that he would increase the variety of the operations at his steel mill. This entailed extension of the mine operations and a greater consumption of coal. It is estimated that when all collateral requirements are fulfilled for this additional improvement, Mr. Ford will have expended $10,000,000 with other concerns throughout the country in machinery and services of various sorts.

One who thinks right will not act wrong.

On Texas Farms

"Thanks to my terraced and contoured land I raised enough feed to winter my cattle and won't have to sell them to the Government," said E. A. Oberst, who lives five miles southeast of Canyon, to W. H. Upchurch, farm demonstration agent of Randall county. This feed enables Mr. Oberst to avoid sacrificing a herd that he has spent years developing.

A Nieman, Pecos county, planted 45 acres of cotton which a July hail storm demolished. He plowed under the cotton plants and late in July planted beans which produced an average of five tons per acre at a cost of $11 per acre. Mr. Nieman had his crop at the rate of $17 per acre, netting a nice profit.

Peach trees that are going into new orchards on land released from cotton in Van Zandt county are being protected from rabbits by the use of paper cylinders. Ellbertas and Georgia Belles are favorites for planting in this county and 2100 more trees went into the ground in December.

C. H. Millinger of Llano is installing several hundred feet of concrete tile for subirrigation around his home. Mr. Millinger secured the tile from Walter Roberts, a 4-11 club boy of Llano county who learned to make it as a part of his club work undertaken under the supervision of D. D. Steele, Llano county agent.

Raising 720 pounds of cucumbers, submerged with tile, and bringing 63 gallons of them for pickles, encouraged Mrs. Paul Johnson of Hale county to lay another 75 feet of concrete tile for subirrigation over which to plant watermelons. Results were 79 large sweet juicy watermelons and many smaller ones.

THE BRAZOS RIVER PROJECT REPRESENTS $50,000,000. PART OF ITS BENEFITS WILL BE REALIZED BY THIS COUNTY!

Grasp These Facts:

This project has been recommended to the president by the National Resources Board. It is based on an engineering plan of view. It will protect from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 acres from overflow, will make possible the irrigation of 500,000 acres. It will provide new sources of both power and municipal water supply.

The Brazos watershed is larger than Ohio or Indiana or Kentucky or Tennessee, comprises one-sixth of Texas with 37 per cent of its population. It is the longest river within any one state and is this state's most dangerous in flood times.

The problem of harnessing the Brazos and its tributaries requires your help. If you have influential friends in other states, have them contact their congressmen for you.

Urge your Congressmen to bring the bill before the present session of congress and vote YES!

FLOOD LOSS IN ONE YEAR FOR PROPERTY IS IN EXCESS OF A $2,000,000 AVERAGE

THREE COUNTIES LOST 400 HUMAN LIVES IN ONE YEAR (1924)

ANNUAL DROUGHT LOSS AS GREAT OR GREATER THAN FLOOD LOSS

The Background and Idea of the Brazos River Reclamation and Conservation Program is 25 Years Old

- Thoroughly Thought Out
- Completely Studied
- Scientifically Planned

By the construction of 12 major dams, other smaller dams, and other means, it is hoped to control the flood waters of the Brazos and its tributaries and thereby save untold loss of life, property, and rich farmland.

The bill before congress will ask for a loan on a self-liquidating basis. The money will be paid back through sale of power and other rights.

Already the state of Texas has voted to divert taxes in 10 overflow counties for 20 years to help retire the indebtedness. The project is ready to go; it would mean much to this state. A golden opportunity is presented if it is passed.
