Bids Will Be Opened
Judge Conner This Afternoon

Contractor's bids for construction of the Haskell county hospital building, proposed $75,000 project, are being received by County Judge Conner today, with final bids for submission of bids scheduled at that time for award of contract if a suitable bid is received.

Assignment for the bids was made several weeks ago in compliance with the acceptance of a WPA grant which provided for work had been done on the building under plans and under a $60,000 bond construction work had proceeded to a considerable extent, a large amount of building material had been purchased when the bids were notified that the application for the WPA grant had been allowed.

Contractor under the WPA project, waived his claim in order to allow the work on the building to proceed. The WPA grant which is enlarging of the hospital building from its original plan, increasing capacity of the institution to 200 patients.

H. H. Huseman Co., Lubbock, is contractor for the building, and specifications drawn by it as a basis for bids to be opened today contemplate one of the most modern and best hospitals in West Texas.

ASSIGNMENTS FILED TRANSFER BLOCK TO AMERADA OIL CORP.

Section Has Been Extensively Explored by Seismograph Surveys Recently

Indications for an early drilling test in the section east and north-east of Haskell appeared more certain this week, with the filing of assignments on a 13,000 acres block lying almost due east of Haskell, the southwest corner of the block roughly about six miles from this city.

The block, originally assembled by F. S. Cornette for McElreath & Suggett, Fort Worth, was re-assigned to the Amerada Petroleum Corporation of Tulsa, Okla., in seventy-five instruments filed for record in the office of County Clerk Jason W. Smith Saturday.

It is reliably reported that little work is now being done for the Tulsa corporation, with considerable portion of the work already completed, pre-saging drilling operations on the tract in the near future. Original lease on a half-section tract owned by Gum Brothers of Oklahoma City which is embraced in the block also stipulates that drilling operations be commenced not later than Dec. 4, 1938, on an oil test to be located within two miles of any point in the boundary lines of the North 7/8 section of block 4, H. Tidwell Survey No. 60.

The entire block transferred to Amerada has been extensively explored by surface seismograph during the past several months.

Three Charged After Officers' Raids Saturday

State liquor control board officers and local officers joined forces Saturday for several raids which resulted in the confiscation of a quantity of "home brew" and contraband beer, with resultant charges being preferred against three persons.

At the home of Mrs. Blanche Yancey in the east part of town, officers reported seizing approximately 10 gallons of home-made beer. A smaller quantity was confiscated at the residence occupied by Lamont Smith, also in the east part of town, while canned and bottled beer in excess of the quantity allowed under state laws was confiscated from C. F. Jones in the south part of town, officers said.

Pleas of guilty to violation of state liquor laws were entered by Mrs. Yancey and Jones, in a hearing before County Judge Conner, and each of the defendants was fined $25 and costs, which was paid and they were released.

Smith entered a plea of not guilty to charges preferred against him. Bond in this case was fixed at $500, and the case scheduled for trial Wednesday August 17th.

Officers conducting the raids were J. M. Allison of this city, and Richard Weinert of Crowell, inspectors for the State Liquor Control Board. Deputy Sheriff Riley Lewellen and Constable J. H. Ivey, with Sheriff Kemp assisting in the last raid.

Population of the state prison at the present time is in the neighborhood of 7,400. Crane said, an increase of 120 per cent since 1927, when 3,400 convicts were held in Texas. The officer attributed the heavy increase to tax law enforcement, pointing out that population of the state had increased only 20 per cent during the same period.

A Straw Suggests the Wind Blows Away From Fascism

The next time you wake up in the night to worry about the danger of Fascism, and comfort yourself with the thought that it can't happen here, you might wind up by offering a word or two of thanks to the American voter.

For that gentleman, despite the fact that he often gets a flighty streak and puts some unaccountable hams into office, is our first and last line of defense against the idea of a dictatorship. And in his engagements to date he has done pretty well by himself.

There was, for example, the recent primary in Kansas.

The Rev. Gerald Winrow was seeking the Republican nomination for U. S. Senate. A week or two before the election, strange tales began to circulate: first, that he had dismaying and unmistakable Fascist tendencies, and second, that he was rather likely to walk off with the nomination.

But when the voters got through with him at the polls, the Rev. Mr. Winrow was just another pre-arranged and trying to capitalize on every variety of discontent, he placed a poor third. And it is now apparent that the wheat belt offers very slim pickings for home-grown Hitler.

Which isn't so very surprising, of course, when you stop to think about it. Yet the thing to keep in mind is the fact that it is never the demagog who is dangerous; it is the people who listen to him and fall for the line he hands out.

Germany is the principal case in point. We do a lot of talking about the recession which exists there—about the way nobody dares express any discontent, about the supervised rubber-stamp elections, about the snoopers and tale-bearers, who make it unsafe for any man to voice the least dissatisfaction with Herr Hitler.

Yet the indisputable fact remains that the Germans embraced the Nazi cause with their eyes wide open. Hitler got into office by vote of the people. The election which followed the Reichstag fire was, of course, manipulated brazenly by the Nazis; nevertheless it is unquestionably true that a majority of voting Germans gave Hitler the mandate to go ahead and do his stuff.

People get just about the kind of government they ask for, these days.

Dictatorships exist because people invite them. The one and only defense against them is the good sense of the electorate.

If it can happen here, the sole reason is that the American people are intelligent and alert enough to keep it from happening. And the Kansas election is a straw indicating that the wind is blowing in the right direction.

Some people seem to make money easier than friends.

International Boundary—North American Style

A big commercial transport plane was flying from Cleveland to Detroit the other day. Taking the shortest route, it swung northwest across Lake Erie, flew over a sizable corner of Ontario, and then glided down to a landing at the Detroit airport.

One of the passengers was a young man who recently spent upwards of a year in Germany with the branch office of an American firm. When he got out of the plane he remarked:

"That was the most thrilling thing that has happened since I got back to America."

"What—this flight?" asked an acquaintance. "No, said the young man. 'The way we flew over the international boundary without anybody noticing it. We crossed from the United States, flew over Canada, and then flew back—and nobody said a word. That's the sort of thing that couldn't happen in Europe. Planes don't cross international boundaries there, not without a lot of negotiation and formality. They go far out of their way to avoid flying over a little strip of foreign territory. If they didn't the pursuit planes would go after them.'"

Which is just another way of saying that we who live in North America never realize how lucky we are—until we see what we would be up against if the European system prevailed over here.

But perhaps it isn't entirely luck, after all. When you stop to think about it, there is nothing to prevent the United States and Canada from distrusting each other and glaring sullenly across the border in the European manner—nothing except the fact that each nation uses good sense and neighborly forbearance.

The United States, for instance, could easily claim that it "needs" the raw materials which Canada has. It could argue that unless it "controlled" the supply of these things its whole economy would be endangered. And it could go ahead and lay plans for the conquest of the Dominion.

Canada, on the other hand, could point out that liberty was endangered by the colossus to the south. It could complain about the disruptive influence of American visitors—those C. I. O. organizers who have disturbed Ontario's premier, for example—and it could close the border with patrols, forts and so on.

The situation that would result would be every bit as logical as the situation which is commonplace on almost every European border.

That peaceful boundary between the United States and Canada is, as the young traveler remarked, an immensely thrilling thing. But it doesn't exist by accident.

It is what it is because the people of the two countries have chosen to act sensibly.

Mattson Home Demonstration Club

"The two ways for mixing cup cakes or muffins are by the 'Butter Cake' and the 'All bowl' methods," said Miss Mildred Vaughan while giving her demonstration to Mattson Home Demonstration club, at the Home Economic cottage, Thursday, August 11.

As the "Butter Cake" method had been previously demonstrated, the "All in one bowl" method was used at this time. This method is faster but the texture of cake will not be as fine. Following the "all in one bowl" method, sift all dry ingredients, place liquids in bowl, including method butter. Add liquid to dry ingredients, beating only until smooth. The recipe used was: 2 cups cake flour, 1 cup sugar, 1-4 tsp. salt, 3 tsp. baking powder (level), 1-2 cup butter, 2-3 cup milk, 3 eggs, 1 tsp. vanilla. Cookies may be made from either soft or stiff dough. The soft dough is usually used as drop cookies while the stiff dough is rolled and chilled then sliced and baked as needed. Honey is being used a great deal in cake baking, but hasn't reached the height of its popularity. Cake flour may be used for cookies but is not essential, and the all purpose flour will be less expensive. Handle cookie dough as little as possible.

Council report was given by delegate. Plans were discussed for encampment at Goree, August 18-19.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Jim Stanford, Floyd McGuire, Vern Derr, Otis Matthews, J. O. Merchant, E. A. Miles and Miss Mildred Vaughan—Reporter.

FARM RECORDS ADJUNCT OF SUCCESSFUL FARMER

COLLEGE STATION. — "Running a business without records is like running a clock without hands," F. R. Timm, farm management specialist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, recently told the 430 Texas whole farm demonstrators in the course of a radio address. "It is running, but you can't tell whether it is gaining or losing or in what direction it is going."

Whole farm demonstrations aim at improving the efficiency of all the farm and home operations, and record keeping is an essential part of the plan developed by the Extension Service and first put into operation in 1937.

"If nothing else, record keeping causes farmers to pay a closer attention to the business end of their enterprises," the economist said. "If a seaman notices a leak in his boat he quickly plugs it. All too often a farmer cannot find the leak in his business without records."

Studies made by several states show conclusively that a farmer's income tends to rise as he continues to use books, he pointed out. Among the many reasons assigned to these income increases are that a farmer will not keep on using equipment or continue a type of farm operation if his records show the enterprise is losing money.

Can Your Pineapple At Home Save Money

The pineapple is credited with being an aid to the digestion and a better source of protective food than most fruits, according to Miss Grace I. Neely, food preservation specialist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

"Pineapple is not only a good food, but when we consider that it may be bought and canned for one-half or one-third of the price we pay for a good grade of canned pineapple, it is also a good investment," she said.

"Home canning of pineapple is a regular practice with many home demonstration club members, according to the foods specialist. She pointed to the cooperative purchase of a truck load of pineapple by the home demonstration women of Parker county recently.

A committee there made arrangements to bring 100 dozen fresh pineapple, averaging 7 pounds in weight, at a price of $1.50 a dozen. The fruit, which was grown in Mexico, was gathered direct from the field and loaded in the truck. The entire load was disposed of between 10 A. M. and 6 P. M.

The women who canned the pineapple reported an average of 40 pint containers from each dozen fruits.

A similar procedure was used in McCullough county, where club girls bought 100 dozen pineapple and canned them for a total of 7-1-2 cents a pint.

All over the State 4-H club girls and home demonstration club members have been realizing savings and adding to the variety of their families' diet by canning this fruit. Directions on canning may be obtained from county home demonstration agents, Miss Neely said.

Auto Victims Young. More persons between the ages of 20 to 24 years died from automobile accident injuries than in any other age group, the U. S. Census Bureau reports.

10,000 Hemorrhoids. There were 10,232 hemorrhoids in the United States in 1936, according to the U. S. Census Bureau.

In a certain case in said Court, No. 4717 and styled George Ruppert vs. Mary L. Morrison and husband J. F. Morrison, placed in my hands for service, I, Giles Kemp as Sheriff of Haskell County, Texas, did, on the 9th day of August, 1938, levy on certain Real Estate situated in Haskell County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

LEGUMES AND GRASSES PROVIDE GOOD SILAGE

Excellent silage can be made from the legumes and grasses, and the trench silo offers a fine "second bet" as a means of saving these crops when the weather is unfavorable for curing, according to E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Texas A. & M. College extension service.

"Alfalfa has been stored in silos at the Luling Foundation farm for years, and the practice has been adopted by farmers in various parts of the State. Experimental work by the United States Bureau of Dairy Industry proved the worth of this system," Eudaly said. "Not only alfalfa, but soybeans, cowpeas, the small grains, and sudan, Johnson and Rhodes grass have been successfully stored as silage."

Crops with a high moisture content, especially the legumes, are likely to develop bad odors in the silo that may be milk when the dairy cows.

Through proper agricultural practices, silage is filled in more than with care than with care to one-fourth of the silage in the silo, and the silage in East Texas been chopped.

Edward Smith of San Benito, who was shot on the highway north of Weintert several weeks ago by the occupant of a passing automobile, is reported to be on the road to recovery and will be able to leave the Stamford hospital within a few days. Smith's assistants are still at large, but officers are confident that they will be apprehended soon, as two of the occupants of the car from which the shooting was done have been arrested and placed in jail.

Two negro women were seriously injured, one possibly fatally, in a knife fight Monday night. Officers report the women under the care of a physician, too dangerously injured to be placed in jail.

At a meeting of the City Council last Thursday Mr. J. W. True of Breckenridge was employed by the city as Traffic Officer or "speed cop" and entered upon his new duties Saturday.

A young man who gave his name as Clarence Franklin was placed in jail Tuesday and two indictments charging him with forgery were returned against him by the Grand Jury in session here Wednesday. He is alleged to have forged the name of Rev. H. R. Whalley of this city and Rev. L. B. Spaulwood, Rule minister, to check, which he passed at Rule and Haskell.

The Commissioners Court, in session the first of the week, lowered the county ad valorem tax rate 4c on the $100 valuation, with an additional reduction in Precinct 1 of 5c, making a total reduction in that precinct of 9c. Rate for the present year will be 6c compared to 64c for the previous year.

Dr. J. D. Smith of this city, who has been in a serious condition in the Stamford hospital following an operation, is reported slightly improved at this time, with an excellent chance for recovery.

The city has contracted for the construction of fifteen concrete bridges and culverts to be placed at needed points on city streets.

The Commissioners Court passed an order this week to employ a county agent for Haskell county. The agent is to be named at a near future, according to a representative of the State Extension Service.

Assurance of a maximum of romantic beauty has been established by the selection of Loretta as it allows easier filling of the silo. The straw should be cut just as thick as the silage and immediately hauled away by scraping it up from the bottom of the silo before loading commences.

In the case of high-grade silage earth should be placed over straw and then moistened and packed to insure air-tightness. The packing should be slightly higher in the center than along the sides, so that water will not stand.

Recent Study Reveals Great Milk Industry

The $100,000,000 dairy industry of Texas in all its ramified branches, from the geography of dairy cow distribution to location of cheese factories, ice cream plants, creameries and what-not, received authentic presentation in a study just released by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas. Author is Dr. Frederick A. Buechel, assistant director of the bureau, and an economist of note fully familiar with the Texas agricultural scene. Name of bulletin is "Manufacture of Dairy Products in Texas," embracing about 100 pages of carefully prepared statistics and detail tables of cows, milk production, crop land and, lastly, an index listing every manufacturer of dairy products in any form in Texas. The publication sells for a dollar.

Associated with Dr. Buechel in the preparation of the work was Elmer H. Johnson, economic geographer of the university, who has specialized in recent years in the geographic evaluations of Texas as dictated by climate, soils and markets.

Curtailment of cotton acreage is leading definitely to increased dairy farming and that to increased manufacture of cheese, creamery butter, ice cream, evaporated and condensed milk. Texas stands sixth among the States in cheese manufacture now, showing a significant trend away from a former one-crop cotton-farming system.

Texas Spends Million More Than It Earns

The 109 accounts carried in the State's bookkeeping of its fiscal affairs disbursed $1,075,510 more than received last month, Comptroller George Sheppard reported at Austin.

Largest turnover of any fund was in that for highways which received $3,121,581 and disbursed $4,248,505, reducing its cash balance to $10,423,375 on Aug. 1. Heavy disbursements are the result of the Highway Department's current campaign to put construction programs under contract as rapidly as possible to provide more employment.

Improvement was reported in the deficit-burdened general revenue fund, for it received $2,455,322 and disbursed $1,774,885. Property tax collections put more than double the revenue into the Confederate pension fund than disbursements. Receipts totaled $257,423 and disbursements $124,757, trimming the deficit to $3,873,205.

The old-age assistance fund spent more than received, $1,532,421 to $1,434,266, and a result was an increase in its book deficit, occasioned by money owed to a Dallas bank, the Old-Age Assistance Commission follows a policy of retaining sufficient funds in the account to meet current pension payments. Last month the Federal old-age assistance account was credited with $17,963 and no disbursements, raising the balance to $866,004 to match State funds.

According to the Comptroller's statement, the various funds received $17,912,130 last month with disbursements totaling $18,987,641. The cash balance decreased from $20,893,026 on July 1 to $19,616,116 on Aug. 1.

TEXAS CORN PLANTINGS LESS THAN OTHER YEARS

Corn plantings in Texas this year are more than a half million acres less than they were in 1933, according to corn acreage figures recently released by the Bureau of Agriculture Economics and forwarded to E. N. Holmgren, administrative officer of the State AAA office at Texas A. & M. College by I. W. Duggan, director of the Southern division of the AAA.

Texas farmers planted about 4,728,000 acres to corn this year, as compared with 5,372,000 acres in 1933. For the Southern States as a whole the figure was 28,095,000 acres in 1938 and 28,951,000 in 1933—or about 909,000 acres less.

"Although the farmers in the ten principal cotton-producing States planted only about 26,900,000 acres of cotton this year, as compared with around 40,250,000 acres in 1933, 1933 they planted slightly less corn this year than in 1933," Duggan pointed out.

"The acreage of cotton which Southern farmers grew in the past would normally produce enough cotton seed for livestock feed to equal the feed value of 65,000,000 bushels of corn.

"At the normal yield of about fifteen bushels of corn per acre in the South, which is less than half as large as the yield in the Corn Belt, more than a 4,000,000-acre increase in Southern farmers' corn planting would be required to make up for the livestock feed lost through the cotton acreage adjustments."
