LARGE THRONGS EXPECTED FOR PARK DEDICATION FRIDAY NIGHT

District Lions Mascot Goes 'AWOL' During Banquet

The two hundred and twelve Lions who attended the District meeting here Tuesday night are in mourning over the loss of 'Ross' the mascot goat, that went A. W. O. L. during the banquet hour.

While Lions from Haskell, Abilene, Sweetwater, Merkel, Albany and Roscoe, roared and made merry in their quarterly meeting 'Ross' was tethered outside of the banquet hall, looking in. He had been in the custody of the Albany Club for the past three months and were the Lions from Albany pleased with 'Ross' appearance? He had lived on the fat of the land—the club had lavished more than $300.00 on his menu and as the result of such good care, he had gained 55 pounds in weight.

Program for the special day is only tentative, Miss Hall stated but will likely include a radio broadcast by members of the visiting delegation, prominent recognition in all Festa entertainment programs for the day, and widespread publicity through Fort Worth newspapers and distribution of literature to all visitors to the exposition on that day.

Our Class

The seniors of 1937—how significant that name sounds to some few of us who are included in this group! As this school year of 1936-37 draws to a close we are proud indeed to know that we have about completed eleven years of school work and that we are just about ready to enter into other various walks and phases of life.

Our senior class is one of the smallest in many years having only forty five members on it roll. Although small in number, we feel big in other ways and are just as proud of our class as any class could be. We feel that this year has been a success in almost every way, although handicapped by the fact that we were forced to attend school our last year in churches.

We are indeed glad to have this week's edition of the "Warwhoop" and as we graduate from school we wish the lower classmen much success and happiness in the forthcoming years.

They're Seniors Now

In 1926 there was quite a large number of children to enroll in the first grade at South Ward. As the years flew by it found students, one by one, moving from Haskell thereby registering in other schools.

Of all those students enrolling together at South Ward in '26 only three have climbed the eleven grades together. The three are none other than Addie Lee Hayes, Don Barnett and Duffer Crawford. Until shortly after Christmas there were four of the students sticking together trying ing to finish their H. H. S. days together. Beverly Gilbert left here and will complete her high school education in California. We sincerely hope that we shall have the pleasure of seeing Addie Lee, Don, and Duffer receive their diplomas at the same time.

Seniors Attend Hardin-Simmons

Saturday, April 24, members of the senior class journeyed to Abilene in order to be guests of Hardin Simmons University. As each of the schools reached the campus, "Hardin Simmons" tags were pinned on all the seniors by members of the Cowgirls Band. Then everyone hastily rushed to the stadium—Paramore Field—in order to be entertained by the sponsors of the senior day program. The first of our entertainment was rendered by the world famous Cowboy Band. Next seniors were given a very hearty welcome by Dr. R. N. Richardson. Other forms of entertainment were songs given by the Golden Girls Quartet and the H. S. U. Cowboy Quartet. Also, xylophone solos and accordion solos were given. All of these were very interesting. One of the most interesting forms of entertainment we witnessed was a pantomime given by members of the Speech Art department. The gymnastic and tumbling exercises were also very interesting. All during the afternoon there was "Open house on the campus". Every building was open for inspection by the members present.

Cracks From The Senior Section

James Roy—Mr. Baldwin, your daughter has promised to be my wife.
 Mr. B.—I'm sorry Jimmy, but it was your fault. What else did you expect if you kept hanging around so much.
 Mrs. Bailey—Delmon, how dare you to kick Quinton in the stomach?
 Delmon—Gee, I'm sorry, mom, but it was his own fault. He turned around.
 Ruby Strickland—I like to have a man about, don't you?
 Anita Brooks—Yes, provided I know what he is about.
 Duffer—So your first name is Elsie? What might your last name be?
 Elsie—Don't know yet. I ain't married.
 Mr. W. (In biology class)—Now class since we have described what tree, flowers and plants are, who can tell me in their own words what grass is?
 Capitola Larned—I can, Mr. Wimbish. Grass is whiskers on the earth.
 Jack Harris—Dad, what is bankruptcy?
 Mr. H.—Bankruptcy, Jack, is when a man puts his money in his trousers pocket and let's his creditor take his coat.
 Mr. Bowers—"If there are any dumb-bells in the room, please stand up." A long pause, then Don Barnett stood up. "What! Do you consider yourself a dumb-bell?"
 Don—Well, not exactly that sir, but I hate to see you standing all alone.

English Classes Write Stories

Miss Davis, teacher of Senior English, had each section of the class write a short story as a class project. Each section selected its plot, characters, and title. Groups of students write the introduction, incidents, and conclusion. In this way each member of the class had a part in writing the story. Section A chose as a subject "A Trip To The Moon" Section B entitled theirs "It Just Had to Happen." After reading each carefully Miss Davis selected "It Just Had to Happen" as better. This is an amusing story of a younger sister helping her older sister win an indifferent young man. A great deal takes place before the younger sister catches her man. And of course it ends well, and they live happily ever after. Since the seniors are free lance writers, they are willing to sell this story to any magazine or paper which offers them enough royalty. (Don't rush us please!)

Seniors Have a Joyous April Fool

Now it is only another of our pleasant memories but then it was serious business. On April Fool we were supreme beings for a day. In the morning, joyous and laughing the group arrived plus mascot, flag, and sign. After a parade around the study hall they proceeded to classes where the foolishness continued throughout the day. This is one of the most memorable days of our school life as far as we were rulers.

Senior Class of '37 Presents Gift To The High School

It has been an established custom for a number of years for the senior class to present a gift to the school. After the seniors learned this year that it would be impossible to give a senior play (as they usually do each year) to raise money for the gift and other expenses, they decided that perhaps the very nicest thing they could do for the school was for each senior to bring a book for the new library. The seniors wanted their contribution to be something that would be useful to every student; that is why they chose books. In the new school there is a fine new library already built, which, before the senior contribution, contained no books. Among this group of books are to be found such well known favorites as Stevenson's "Kidnapped" and "Treasure Island", Alcott's "Rose in Bloom" and "Under The Lilac", Herman Melville's "Moby Dick", Edna Ferber's "Show Boat", O. Henry's "Four Millions", George Eliot's "Romola" and "Mill on the Floss", Robert Burns' complete works, Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities", Booth Tarkington's "Penrod", James Oliver Curwood's "Back to God's Country" and Lew Wallace's "Ben Hur". There are, excluding the ones named above, seventy three books equally as well known and loved.

They Represent Our High School

The senior class is very proud of some of its members. Of course we are proud of all the seniors but there are a few who are really outstanding. These pupils are: Margaret Bredlove, Ruth Woodson, Addie Lee Hayes, Albert Barnett and Duffer Crawford.

Each of these pupils has strived, studied and given his very best in order to bring fame and recognition to dear old H. H. S. As we already know Duffer and Margaret represented H. H. S. in the interscholastic League meet which was held here April 2. Duffer and Margaret won here and then entered the tournament at Breckenridge. There are two excellent debaters and we are proud to have them in the senior class.

Albert Barnett also entered the league meet here as a runner. Winning first place here he was sent to Breckenridge. Since he placed there he entered the field meet in Abilene. Albert placed third there. We know he had some real competition and we are very proud of him even though he did not place first. What will H. H. S. do without him?

Many people think that spelling is easy. The spelling team which is composed of Ruth Woodson and Addie Lee Hayes doesn't look at it like that. These two girls put forth much effort to learn the words in the spelling list in order to win a place for Haskell. They won first place in the independent school district of Haskell county during the interscholastic League meet. We are very proud of the fact that they gave their best in order to bring points to our school.

After the delightful picnic lunch all the girls attended the show.

Senior, Will This Be You A Few Years Hence?

"What year did you graduate from Haskell High School?"
"I finished in 1937."
"I thought you were in our class. That was a great year, wasn't it? And the highlight of the whole term was that junior-senior banquet. Don't you think so?"
"I don't know, I wasn't there."
"What! You mean to say you didn't go to the junior-senior banquet the year you graduated? Well you sure missed one of the high spots of high school life."
"Yes, I just 'fooled around' and put off signing my name and making the necessary arrangements until the last minute, and then I decided I could get along without going. There was so much going on, it didn't seem as important then as it does now. I would give anything now if I had gone."

Geraldine Conner visited Miss Dorothy Morgan of Hamlin Thursday and Friday.

Seniors of 1937 Present Program

On last Wednesday, April 21, the Seniors of 1937 performed their last show before students of H. H. S. and believe you us, it was the best one of the year, so we think. Some of the best talent never before known in H. H. S., was exhibited by our dignified selves in this rip snorting non-serious bit of melodrama that lasted almost an hour.

The program given was in the form of a program within a program, so to speak. Duffer Crawford was announcer and the program began with an imitation of a typical day in school for seniors with senior student representing teachers for each pupil. The first period class was that of Economics with Mary Eleanor Diggs taking the place of Mrs. Wimbish. Next came the second period study hall with the one and only C. T. Fields impersonating Coach Mason and was he good? Our answer is yes. Following this was another study hall, kept by Gerry Conner, acting as Miss Riley. Then came the fourth period English class with Ruby Stodghill as Miss Davis. Afternoon, came the fifth, sixth and seventh periods with James Roy Akins as the versatile math teacher, Mr. Bowers, in the fifth period arithmetic class, Woodrow Perrin as Mr. Sullivan in the sixth period study hall, and Murl Lancaster as Miss Vick in the seventh period study hall. Then came announcements with T. Watson acting in Mr. Wimbish's place. Following announcements made by teachers and students came the assembly program. A "kids" quartet composed of Delmon Bailey, Winnie Darnell, Thomas Lee Donohoo and Elsie Gholson sang "School Days". Then we had music by the "Silly Symphony" orchestra, which was composed of the following boys: C. T. Fields, who is noted throughout the radio land as being the world's most famous orchestra leader, W. B. Harrison, Don Barnett, Clovis Keaton and R. V. Earles. These boys played several numbers which were soft, slow, melodious music and was enjoyed by each listener.

Then we had a debate between Margaret Bredlove and Evelyn Adcock on the subject, Resolved: "That a fly had rather light on a man's bald head than in an empty sugar bowl". Another girl's quartet composed of Lottie Mae Thompson, Gerry Conner, Corene Laird and Annie Barnett sang "Boo Hoo." Mary Lena Tubbs played "Wahoo" on the piano and Jim Roy Akins played "Horses Lullaby" alias "Old Grey Mare" on the trombone. Then we had a rhythm band of nine members conducted by Thomas Kaigler. After this the charms of the senior class sang the chorus of "Ain't

Reflections

We, the Seniors, challenge the Junior's statement of last week that they are the most important class in H. H. S. Of course the Juniors are a good class, and are important and we think a lot of them, but we don't rate them above ourselves, just yet.

The more you use your brain, the more brain you'll have to use.

If you notice any little Senior girls (and some boys too) with full time blushing faces and rosy red noses, you'll know that they attended the Senior Day program at Hardin-Simmons Saturday.

Have you ever thought how well our school has gotten along to have been in churches for more than a year?

The Juniors and Seniors have been helping Mr. Graham grade papers lately. (That's how important we are).

That old saying about, "Whatever you want done, do it yourself" holds true even today in High School does it?

The Seniors feel pretty proud of themselves, having so many days honoring them. Already there has been Senior Day, April Fool's Day, last week's assembly day, and then there will be our all day picnic, not to mention May 30 and 31.

Personals

Elsie Gholson was not in school Monday because of illness. Frank Kirkpatrick has the ever dreaded "mumps".

Anita Jo Simmons, Wilma Whalley, Frances Fouts, LaVern Bynum, and Eulamae Watson accompanied the seniors to Abilene Saturday. Dorothy Mae Carr made a business trip to Dallas last Wednesday.

We Crazy with a boys and girls quartet singing a verse of each. The program was finally brought to an end when our class president, James Roy Akins, presented the senior's gift to the school which was a contribution to the library of the new Haskell High School of eighty seven books.

Hooley

It seems as if Evelyn Adcock is quite a heartbreaker. First she stole "O'Brien" from Ruby Sue, and then stole "Stamford" from June Bunkley.

And was Geraldine glad to see a certain boy from Cisco in Abilene Saturday?

Ruth Woodson certainly is a cosmopolitan young lady. She corresponds with citizens of California, Oregon and Rule.

Wanted: Several dates for each night of the week. Of course I'll stand the boys up, but I do so love to be popular. Please, give me a chance to stand up some very prominent people, so I can feel as if I accomplished something.—Dorothy Mae Carr.

At the conclusion of the program the social committee, composed of Mrs. Ben Bagwell, Mrs. W. G. Forgy and Mrs. Austin Coburn served refreshments to the guests and club members.

The Methodist Missionary Society

On April 26 the women of the W. M. S. met in the church. This meeting marked the beginning of our Mission Study. Mrs. Persons president, conducted a business session. At this time plans were completed for the serving of the junior-senior banquet, which will be held in the dining rooms of the church on Friday night April 30. At this time Mrs. Huckabee, who directed the lesson took charge. Mrs. Sowell gave a splendid devotional using as her theme the life of David Livingstone. For the Scripture lesson some of Livingstone's favorite passages of Scripture were read, and Mrs. Sowell concluded her remarks with a prayer.

Mrs. Huckabee as director told us many interesting things about Africa, that being the country about which we are studying. The title of the book is "Out of Africa" by Emory Ross.

Africa has made rapid strides in the last 50 years. Commercially Africa is a great country, controlling as she does the world's supply of gold, copper, diamonds and ivory. It has been said that the normal progress of 1,000 years has been crowded in to 50.

The meeting was dismissed by a prayer by Mrs. F. T. Sanders.

On Sunday night April 18th the W. M. S. sponsored the Sunday night service at the church. Mrs. S. R. Rike acting as hostess. For the opening hymn all joined in singing "Please God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

Rev. Huckabee offered a prayer. Mrs. Patterson at the organ gave a most inspiring program of organ numbers.

At this time Mrs. Rike introduced Mrs. J. U. Fields who was the speaker of the evening. Mrs. Fields delivered her famous lecture entitled "Symphony of Life" this being a description of the "Natural Bridge of Virginia."

This bridge and 157 acres of land was bought in 1774 by Thomas Jefferson on King George of England for $80.

Those who missed this splendid talk certainly missed a treat. Mr. Bert Welsh next favored the audience with the song "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life".

A quartet composed of Messrs. Manley Branch, Hayden McDonald, Pete Frierson and Joe Maples rendered two vocal numbers: "Holy, Holy, Holy" and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

The congregation joined in singing "God Be With You, 'Till We Meet Again." Rev. Huckabee announced the benediction.

The Missionary Society will meet on next Monday for a continuation of the Mission Study.

The following ladies were present for the first lesson, Mesdames Persons, Graham, Cahill, Breed, love, B. Cox, Sanders, Isbell, Wallace Cox, Sowell, Murchison, Darrell and Huckabee.

Demonstrations on Food Preservation Given To 12 Clubs

Demonstration on "Bringing Food Preservation Up-to-Date" was given this month to the following twelve Home Demonstration Clubs: Rose, Center Point, New Cook, Mattson, Hutto, Foster, New Mid, Midway, Jossalet, Bluebonnet, O'Brien and Sager-ton. A total of one hundred and seventy eight women attended these meetings.

A garden with fresh vegetables three hundred and sixty five days in the year should be the goal of every homemaker in Haskell County. This can be accomplished by a Seventy Square Yard Garden, with eight inches of board showing on each side of the square. The plot of ground then is covered with tobacco cloth which is thin enough to permit the sun to shine through yet protects the vegetables from the extreme heat of the sun. The cloth may be rolled back, the vegetables gathered, watered, worked and replanted. At all times keep the garden covered as it serves as a protection from the sun, wind, sand and helps to conserve the moisture.

Methods used to control flies was the subject discussed by the Mattson Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. E. C. Watson Thursday afternoon at 2:30 p. m.

The members joined in a round table discussion of flies, their germs and their breeding places. There are many different ways to kill flies.

The meeting was opened with the club prayer, pledge and motto led by Mrs. D. F. Nicholson. Mrs. Ellis Miles had charge of the singing program, accompanied by Mrs. E. C. Watson at the piano.

Two new members were enrolled, Mrs. Lee Brown, Miss Gladys Crume, 1 visitor, Miss Mildred Blackburn.

Fly Control is Discussed at Jossalet H. D. Club

"A common thing as kerosene makes a good fly preventative when sprinkled or sprayed around the doors," said Miss Eloise Toliver to the Jossalet Home Demonstration Club last Tuesday, April 27 at 2:30 in the club house with Mrs. Cliff Ammons and Mrs. Adell Thomas as joint hostesses.

A round table discussion was held on Fly Control. Mrs. Louise Merchant and Mrs. Cliff Ammons talked on "How Flies Carry Germs and Spread Diseases." A fly de-mo-nstration of flies being placed under a strong microscope to show how they carry germs and filth was told by Mrs. G. R. Couch Jr. If people could get just part of the vision of a lady's thoughts Mrs. Leon Gilliam hold about who once looked through a microscope was afraid to eat afterwards when she saw a fly. We may all be more particular about getting rid of flies.

Mrs. C. A. Thomas and Mrs. Joe Fraley discussed "Fly breeding places." Mrs. Thomas said, "Never allow the men to put feed stacks to close to the house for they are a very good breeding place for flies. Mrs. Fraley said, "Dilute Crisot dip and spray in breeding places is about as good a fly spray as can be found."

One new member, Mrs. Opal Alsbrook was added to our club. Refreshments of sandwiches and soda pop was served to Mesdames, G. L. Walker, Adell Thomas, Larry Bass, Cliff Ammons, Louise Merchant, G. R. The Foster Home Demonstration Club

The necessity of vitamins in the diet was the demonstration given by Miss Vaughan to members of the Foster Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. J. E. Adams April 22nd.

There are five different vitamins which "Bring Food Preservation up to Date." They are as follows:

Vitamin A—For growth and prevention of infection, which includes vegetables, leafy and starchy.

Vitamin B—For appetite and good muscles. Includes fruits.

Vitamin C—Healthy gums and teeth, includes milk, tomatoes, raw cabbage, turnips and onions. Cavity of teeth can be filled by proper diet.

Vitamin D—For bones and teeth includes rich food (other than milk) lean meats, eggs, mature beans and peas, and butter.

Vitamin G—For general well being includes milk, eggs, cereals, cheese and green vegetables.

In summer months you can store vegetables so you can get these vitamins in winter. For carrots: (1) Have a jar filled with soil which covers the carrots and then water, cover with cloth and let the corner dip in a container of water; (2) For any fall vegetable put in a trench as large as you wish and cover with stalks and soil. (3) For storing food in cellar, but must be ventilated properly.

Miss Vaughan also says you can't eat enough of vitamins today to last you tomorrow. Milk, poultry and gardens are very important every day in the year.

Preserves, jellies and jams are not fruits but classes as sweets.

Mrs. J. O. Yarbrough gave a report on what we made at the ball tournament at Foster April 17. We made a profit of $11.76.

We regret to lose Mrs. C. L. Hicks from our club. She and her family have moved to the plains. We adjourned to meet with Mrs. A. H. Allen May 13.

Fruits, vegetable salad, potato chips and cakes were served to the following: Visitors Misses Dorothy Best, Inez Adams, Lois Best. Members, Mesdames, L. G. Server, J. O. Yarbrough, M. G. Martin, A. H. Allen, John Hamilton, A. C. Sego, H. A. Gauntt, Taylor Sego, J. R. Wade, Geo. Best, J. E. Adams, Jim Best and Miss Vaughan.

The privilege is afforded to those who want further study as well as to those who for some reason did not have the opportunity to remain in school.

The educational and job training phases of the program of the National Youth Administration is being given more thought and attention and it is planned to enlarge on these activities.

THE TRAGEDY IN SPAIN

The war in Spain continues with reasonable certainty that it will last some months longer. The rebel leaders now admit that recent events have deflated the high enthusiasm that Madrid would fall soon and the government claims that it has been helped by a "rush" of volunteers into the army.

Americans who read of the battles naturally have their own opinions as to which side should win but let us not forget that it is a tragic affair any way one looks at the struggle. Thousands of men are being killed and countless women and children are suffering with others certain to endure the agony of war.

The ruthless butchery of men and women is deplored by us very deeply and we mourn over the fate of women and children in bombarded cities—the victims of both sides—as well as over the death and suffering of priests and nuns who were slain in the fury—mysterious as it seems—of a Catholic people. The butchery of mass executions has not been the exclusive monopoly of either side.

How thankful should we be that in this country the ballot box serves to settle our differences and that the people here are, apparently, educated in the ways of democracy and ready to accept the expressed will of the people? How long will it take the other nations of the world to learn the same lesson no one knows but the question should make us more determined than ever to safeguard democratic process in this country.

Fundamentally, what are democratic processes? Not the form and not the ceremony, but the actual protection of the welfare of the great mass of the people, whether it be accomplished by existing laws and institutions or new laws and new institutions. Let the fruits of democracy be tangible and no force can prevail against it; let the fruit of democracy be misty vapor and idle talking about rights and almost any movement can overthrow it.

The friend of democracy today is the man who wants it to succeed in the way that means something to the welfare of the average family. After all, that is the reason for government and its only justification.

VETERANS OF FUTURE WARS DISBAND
 The Veterans of Future Wars burst upon the public last year with their demand for a bonus of $1,000, payable to all male citizens between the age of 18 and 36, plus 3 per cent interest retroactive from June 1, 1925, to June 1, 1935, has disbanded. The association which once had 60,000 members, in 534 chartered posts, took the position that as all other veterans were getting something from the government they ought to have a bonus in advance of their participation in the next war. They wanted the money now in order to enjoy it before being killed abroad.

The college organization caught the public interest just about the time Congress had passed the Bonus bill. Its officers maintain that they did not oppose pensions or payments to soldiers injured in the war or to the dependents of those who died in the struggle. What they objected to was the payment of pensions to men who were unhurt in the war, but who were injured later, and to those who never had been injured.

National officers in announcing the end of the organization declare that it was impossible to finance the work on the same scale that the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars and that, from the looks of bills now before Congress, the rival organization "will soon have everything but the cobblestones down Pennsylvania Avenue and there will be nothing left with which Congress can pay our bonus demands."

MAY ALL COURTS TAKE HEED
 Associate Justice Sutherland, in his vigorous dissent from the majority opinion filed Monday upholding the Washington minimum wage for women statute, said that with regard to certain speculations "we have nothing to do." He added "we are concerned only with the question of constitutionality."

The Supreme Court and other inferior courts of the nation, including the State courts, would be better off if they rigidly followed the uka e of the dissenting Justice. Unfortunately, in the past that has not been the example set by the Supreme Court, which has often gone far beyond the constitutional limit of measure and attempted to pass on their "reasonableness," which means their effect upon certain litigants.

Even Senator Borah, staunch constitutionalist, realizes that something is wrong with the decisions of the Supreme Court. He recently proposed that an amendment be added to the Constitution to prevent the Court from using the due process clause to invalidate laws because of the effect of the law. He would confine the "due process" clause to matters of procedure, which, after all, is what the clause was originally intended to cover.

SNAP SHOTS

The world will generally give a decent living to any man who has the stuff to go out and get it.

There are a lot of women who are convinced you can't reform a man by marrying him.

"Run-Off" From Bare Slopes Is Flood Invitation

Barren slopes are a big flood hazard. Studies by the Department of Agriculture show that run-off from a watershed covered with forest or other soil-binding vegetation. A half inch of water flowing off a bare slope 12 miles long and 2 miles wide could fill every cellar in a city of four or five thousand homes.

Records of stream flow from 23 small watersheds, made by the Appalachian Forest Experiment Station of the Forest Service reveal that during a 12-month period, the average maximum flow from forested watersheds was only 38 cubic feet per second for each square mile. On completely denuded land, the average maximum flow was more than 34 times as much, or 1,304 cubic feet a second per square mile.

Varying types of forest and other vegetative cover were represented in the 23 small watersheds where studies were made and stream measurements recorded. In no case was it found that the run off from forested watersheds as uned critical flood conditions, whereas the maximum flow from unforested watersheds rose to serious flood proportions in numerous instances.

Gain, Feel Better During Hot Months, Specialist Urges

A "hearty breakfast" every day was given by Miss Mary Carter, Hardin-Simmons food specialist, as one of the greatest aids to promotion of better health and weight gains. Too few people realize how much better they would feel if they added several pounds—"up to or slightly above theoretical normal", she added.

"Children—and even adults—burn up much more energy in the spring and summer than during fall and winter months. The result is loss of weight and 'pep' unless diet, are changed to supply the increased demand on body fuel.

The Hardin-Simmons home economist includes in suggested diets for gaining weight plenty of milk, egg, and meat raw vegetables such as lettuce, cabbage, celery, and tomatoes, and generous servings of rest. The latter, she says, is a very important factor in better utilization of what food we do eat.

"Both young people and adults will feel better during the warm spring and hot summer months if they eat more than the customary 'snack,'" Miss Carter declares.
