ANSON TIGERS' PASSING ATTACK DEFEATS INDIANS

Passes Net Tigers Three Touchdowns In Second Half

Bullet passes from the accurate arm of Willard Herndon to that lanky left end Kinne gave Anson a 18-0 victory in the last half over the Haskell Indians here Friday night.

The largest crowd of the season saw the Anson Tigers open an aerial attack in the second half that left the Indians flat-footed.

Shirley, 180-pound halfback found a gaping hole at left guard to score the first touchdown from the five yard line after Herndon had fired two beautiful passes, the first to Neville for 15 yards and the second to McClain who lateraled to McDuff for 12 yard gain Haskell blocked McDuff's try for extra point.

Again in the fourth period Neville, Anson quarter intercepted a wild pass from mid-air tossed by Zeldon Thomason and galloped 48 yards for the second counter. Ball's plunge for extra point was short.

The Tigers scored again late in the final quarter after a 60-yard drive when Herndon passing to Kinne for two first downs and McDuff crashing left tackle for another. McDuff, on a lateral raced the final 20 yards to the goal. His kick was blocked.

The Indian's nearest threat came in the second quarter when they advanced to the 8-yard stripe but were stopped by Anson's line.

Throughout the first half Haskell held Anson without first downs and had the ball deep in their territory twice. But the dazzling passing attack opening in the second half with Herndon eluding to Kinne and Neville who snagged them high or low, at a standstill or in full stride, was too much for the Indians. Josselot and Rogers made most of Haskell's yardage.

Statistics show that Anson made eight first downs to Haskell's four. The Tigers made 81 yards rushing to 76 for the Indians. In passing they had a wide margin over the Braves, completing nine for 103 yards, while Haskell completed only one for 13 yards. Anson's twelve punts averaged 28 yards and Haskell 11 kicks for a 31 yard average.

Starting line-up: For Haskell: Jenkins, lg; Thompson rt; Scott lg; Ballard c; Carmichael rg; Barnett rt; Hayes re; Thomason q; Josselot lb; McMillin rh; Rogers fb.

JOB FOR WORKERS

The depression may be over, but the young chap fresh out of college is still apt to find it hard to get a job. So says a report issued by investigators at the University of Buffalo, who finds that although there are more jobs now than formerly, employers are getting increasingly careful about the men they pick to fill them.

"Employers, through improved personnel services, are requiring that graduates 'sell themselves' more than ever," says the report. "This means partly by the possession of good manners, neatness, confidence and apparent ambition. Above all, it is dependent on a submissive willingness to work hard as an apprentice."

It might be a good thing for this year's college seniors to bear that disclosure in mind. There are jobs to be had, for ambitious young men—but a college diploma is no longer a passport to a soft snap.

ARMY WAR CHIEFS PASS

Slowly, but surely, the United States army is outgrowing the generation that fought the World War.

When Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced his forthcoming retirement, the other day, it was pointed out at Washington that on his return to civilian life the army's active list will no longer contain the name of a single man who commanded a division in the A. S. F.

Younger officers a plenty who saw active service in France still remain in the army, of course. But the high command has thinned out. Nineteen years have passed since the war ended. The men who had positions of high responsibility in 1918 are pretty well beyond the age of limit now. Their places are being taken by men who were majors, colonels, and brigadiers in war days.

QUARANTINED WAR

No person ever caught smallpox by staying away from an infected house. It's the one who goes near, if only to tack a "quarantined" sign on the doorpost, who runs a chance of taking the disease.

As long as the United States stays completely away from a war, isolated half-way around the world, there is little chance of being involved. But any move, however worthy, carries a threat of ultimate, dire results.

"We can't be neutral and write sassy letters," fiery ex-Marine Maj.-Gen. Smedley Butler declared in speaking of the Far Eastern situation, warning that similar steps led to America's entrance into the World War.

If a "quarantined" sign must be tacked on Japan's doorpost, let someone else do it. The United States caught the disease 26 years ago. The lesson should be fresh enough to remind the nation to protect the next generation.

QUAINT CUSTOMS

In the eastern part of the country is a religious sect whose members still cling to the quaint old beliefs that a man's word is as good as his contract, that one should not borrow more than he intends to repay, and that the simple things of life are best.

Queer, these people who are so far behind the times. They know not the joy of installment purchases, double dealing, onerous debt. Their beliefs set them entirely apart.

Yet they live in peace and contentment, in fellowship and friendship with their neighbors, unworried by tomorrow's reckoning. And the hurrying, blasé world might find the utopia it seeks in the life of these fortunate, carefree farmers.

COURAGE TO LIVE

Challenging science to "remake man" as the only remedy to save modern civilization, Dr. Alexis Carrel, distinguished surgeon and Nobel prize winner, astonished a Dartmouth College audience with the assertion: "The civilized races are losing the courage to live . . . the reproduction of gifted individuals is decreasing."

Improvement of the race is possible, Dr. Carrel declared, through institutes of "psychobiology" to produce leaders of government and education rather than the specialists the present system yields.

But, while science can aid, the future of the race seems to rest more upon the individual. Only in the courage to live to the best advantage for self and fellow man, in justice, peace, and health can civilization survive.

MUSSOLINI'S DEMOCRACY

If you can make your own definitions, you can make any statement in the world and get away with it. So when Mussolini declares in Germany that Italy and Germany are "the soundest democracies that exist," it is necessary to look at his definition of the word democracy.

"Elsewhere," he says, "politics are dominated by the great powers of capitalism, by secret societies and political groups which work against each other under the pretext of the so-called inalienable rights of humanity."

If you accept that statement, and accept the corollary that Hitler and Mussolini really embody, in all unselfishness, the hidden will of the masses, you may be able to accept the statement. Most Americans, however, will continue to define democracy, and to practice it, in the traditional manner.

WALL STREET PROTEST

The recent drop in the stock market has caused Wall Street to renew its protests against the government's attempt to regulate the exchange. The Securities and Exchange Commission is being blamed for recent inactivity in the market, and it is being charged that the Federal Reserve Board's tight margin restrictions are keeping the public out of the market.

With this last protest there is not apt to be a great deal of public sympathy. What happened just before the 1929 crash is fairly good evidence that it doesn't do the country a great deal of good to have the public "in the market."

NO BOONDOGGLE JOKE

Chalk up one genuine and permanent gain to the credit of the Works Progress Administration. A good-sized slice has been cut in America's disgracefully large illiteracy problem.

Sometime during the next few months, the millionth adult to learn to read and write in federal aid classes is expected to be enrolled. In the last four years, these classes have taught reading, writing and arithmetic to 700,000 persons; an additional 300,000 will be taught during the coming year.

The WPA may have a long list of boondoggles to its credit, but there is no laughing off this achievement. Our democracy will be on a sounder and more workable basis because of this attack on illiteracy.

'WAY BACK WHEN

RADIO STAR RAN A CONCESSION

FORTUNE'S favorites do not always bear marks to distinguish them from her failures. Bob Burns, who with his "bazooka" has become nationally known for his radio broadcasts and motion picture work, for many years looked like a failure. He was born in Van Buren, Ark., in 1896, and was always fond of music. His first "bazooka" was a horn made from a piece of pipe welded to a funnel, because he had nothing else to play. After two years in college, he joined some friends in Oklahoma raising peanuts. Bob gave that up to go back to Van Buren where he joined a minstrel troupe at three dollars a week. He tried to get a theatrical job in New Orleans, next he tried New York with no luck, and went to Little Rock, Ark. There, he failed at trying to sell advertising on commission.

During the World War, Bob Burns was in the marines, was a crack rifle shot, and entertained the soldiers with his "bazooka." After the war, he started a concession on the boardwalk at Atlantic City, running a game of chance. He married a girl who worked in another concession and, together, they started a dance hall; but it failed. Failure after failure. And in the midst of his troubles, his son was born.

But then Bob Burns got a job in vaudeville, and in a few short years he was at the top of the entertainment world, with contracts for stage, motion pictures, and radio. His "bazooka" in which he had such faith, but which seemed such hopeless comedy to many people, is with him today and nationally known.

Mattson Ties Rule 6-6 In Conference Game Friday

Mustangs Outplay Bobcats

Mustang fans are rejoicing over their victory in the conference game played against the Rule Bobcats last Friday afternoon at Mattson football field. The game was a tie, 6-6, giving sport a wallop, as the score had predicted 18-6 in Rule's favor. More than that in some ways. The Bobcats made a touchdown early in the game by a punt behind the goal and the Mustangs followed with a touchdown made by a forward from McGuire to Massie. After the first quarter the game was a tight fight, the Mustangs outplaying the Bobcats—so says the All. All agree that it was an even game.

MUSTANG'S CORRAL

Mustangs went to Munday Friday afternoon October 15, suffering a loss of 20 to 6, in the Moguls. The Mustangs had not practiced since the game with Rochester, because of weather. You can call this a fluke if you wish, but it still shows that the Mustangs outplayed the Moguls to the last one. Rule Bobcats will play the Mustangs at Mattson Friday afternoon. The Bobcats have a team and are predicting a victory but the Mustangs won't stop until the last whistle is blown.

WHAT THEY THINK!

(Before The Game)

General opinion of the Mustangs is that they will give the Bobcats a long hard fight. Many believe that if they will play the field with a strong determination to win and each boy cooperate with the other will be hard to beat.

Coody has been "putting through" this week. They have been working doubly hard. An experienced football player with some excellent line. If the Mustangs can only have these strong linemen, I will be O. K." is Mr. Coody's opinion.

Loyalist Sub Stranded at Brest

Pictured above in the harbor of Brest, France, is the Spanish loyalist submarine C-2, left stranded by its crew which divided into Red and anti-Red groups. A rebel plot to seize the submersible failed and the boat is now awaiting a new crew to take it back to Valencia, Spain.

sympathy with the football "faithfuls" since they stayed there to prepare for the battle with the Bobcats.

It is a wonder that Lawrence isn't deaf for the pep squad girls happened to be on his bus. After the bus reached Haskell, it was not long until the parade began. Mattson was represented by several units in the parade. The Mattson pep squad marched two abreast. This scene was very interesting to look upon. The Mattson float followed not far behind. A trailer was decorated as a pumpkin patch. Little Roda Thornton rode in the pumpkin while Rex Atchison stood outside.

The silver buses from Mattson came next.

Mrs. Bud Derr was the sponsor from Mattson. She rode a pretty boy horse.

After the parade most of us went to see what entertainment we could find at the fair grounds. It may be truthfully said that we certainly found it. Just ask the group of girls who rode the Merry-Mix-Up. From the fair grounds some of the "bunch" went to see the races, some to the movies and some went in search of a place to rest. The buses and some of the students returned to Mattson about four o'clock. The pep squad and a group of others remained.

We whiled away the time very easily. When seven-thirty o'clock came the pep squad was ready to go to the football stadium for the pageant. Mattson pep squad was first to put on their stunt. They formed a cartwheel and then an "M" for Mattson. We had intended to light candles when the "M" was made but as luck would have it the wind was too high. We feel the pep squad did excellent. The other squads, Rule, Munday, Haskell, and Weinert put on stunts. Haskell, we learned, was the winner. Congratulations!

This concluded Mattson's Fair Day. We feel that it was well worth the while.

AN APPRECIATION

Something happens sometimes in a person's life he really appreciates. It may happen to a vile criminal, who has learned to be really human; it may happen to the best of people.

The people and the school of Mattson really appreciate the "backing" Haskell is giving them. At both of Mattson's football games, Haskell has been well represented. They were standing on Mattson's sidelines rooting for the Mustangs. Besides the excellent attendance Haskell gives Mattson's football games they have been heard to say some really nice things about the school. We, the people of Mattson, appreciate this more than we can tell you in words.

Mattson has won one game and lost another. We lost to Munday. We have no other excuse except that the Moguls have a better team. There is only one way Mattson can remedy that weakness: To strive with all determination and patience we have to improve our team. Mattson's next game is with the Rule Bobcats October 22. Haskell, stand behind us as you have been, and we will do our best to show you a good game and to show you the "stuff" and spirit of which the Mustangs are really made.

FAIR DAY

The buses loaded up with the pep squad, high school students and teachers Wednesday morning. They were bound for the fair. All the pep squad was in bus No. 1 while the remainder of the students were in the other two. Our

THE BEACH AS I FIRST SAW IT

(The best theme in Freshman English this week, by Margaret Oldham.)

Gradually the ship came into sight, white sails glistening in the sunlight. The sand on the beach shone just as brightly and as white, while the gentle breeze stirred the green trees in the distance. One lone tree stood close to the shore as if watching for something.

Two lone sea gulls circled above

DRAMATIC CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Monday evening, October 18, at 7:00 o'clock several patrons of the Mattson Rural High School met and organized a dramatic club under the leadership of Miss Gladys Crume. Miss Crume is to be director and Mr. Alvey Mitchell is business manager. A committee was appointed to select a name for the group. Plays and make-up were ordered and the talented group of actors will soon be entertaining you. Now we know that you will be looking forward eagerly to further announcements from this group, so watch the paper.

THE BUSY WORKERS

Our club consists of first year Home Economics girls. The name of "Busy Workers" was selected. The following officers were elected:

President — Verna Mildred Mapes.
Vice-President — Margaret Oldham.
Secretary and Treasurer — Dana Marie Atchison.
Reporter — Jerry Wilfong.
Program committee — Wanda Mapes, Fayne McClure, and Aleta Bell Boring.

Our aim is to help buy things the school needs.

None Perfect
John A.—I suppose you think I am a perfect idiot.
La Vern—Oh, none of us are perfect.

COURTESY

Courtesy is a word of extended meaning. It means more than to be kind. "Be kind one to another." This means for us to be courteous to our fellow man as an individual. Certainly you have seen people who are kind only to the ones they associate with most. Sometimes they are even rude to people they class as being lower than they.

Besides being courteous as an individual we can be courteous as a group. For instance, schools who are rivals should be courteous to each other. This is also true of clubs, organizations, etc.

Courtesy is a great respect to older people. The aged feel they are due a certain amount of respect. They are due respect plus courtesy.

DEFINITIONS

The following is a group of definitions of words which describe a good personality:

Dependability. What a lot of meaning is in the one word dependable! If a person is dependable, then he is almost everything he wishes to be in the way of maritality. He can be relied upon to do anything and if he is capable he will accomplish it.

Sincerity. To be sincere is a great trait. If someone is sincere he can accomplish ten times as much as the one who isn't. A person who is sincere in wanting to do a certain thing, then he is much more liable to succeed than the person who isn't sincere.

Loyalty. What does the word loyalty really mean? It is faithfulness and devotion. Be loyal to your school, club or any other organization of which you are a member. Don't talk about its weakness in front of your rival or even be aware of it.

Sportsmanship. The word "good sport" doesn't appeal to athletic sports alone. Of course it means to be courteous to your opponent, if you get angry do not show it, and other such traits. In the more ordinary walks of life, one should strive to be more sportsmanlike. Don't be rude, don't feel superior, don't brag, but take life "like a man."

Success. All of the qualities listed above are necessary in order to be really successful. Don't expect to gain success until you have those traits. Success is the acquiring of one's goal.

A SCHOOL BOYS' DAY AT THE FAIR

We are at Haskell. Here comes the parade, first the band, then the Mattson pep squad and next comes the floats. They are pretty. Here comes the sponsors, yonder comes the junior cowboys. Watch Joe hook old gray! Here comes the tractors. Watch the man ride that barrel with the saddle on it. Look at the people on the ferris wheel. Here comes a tough looking boy, do you suppose he is "bad"? There is a man putting a snake down a boy's collar! The big boy is about to drag the little boy off the stage.

Oh! The race car Number 6 is in the lead. He has gained a round on the others! Look! He nearly turned over! All of the judges are deciding on No. 6. So on and on go the thoughts of the boy.

OVERHEARD

Since when has Ben M. and Geraldine began getting so friendly? (Ask them).

Who is this good looking man Doris met Saturday night? Eddie Mae, just where did you go Thursday night, and who with? Juanita is day-dreaming of a far away, tall, dark and handsome.

Mr. Coody is getting after the boys for staying up so much at night and eating so much candy.

La Vera is telling Louise about a certain cute boy. (Not so far away).

Since when has Freida began

THE CHEAT

Henrietta M.—He was kicked out of school for cheating.
Gwyn—How come?
Henrietta M.—He was caught counting his ribs in a science exam.

WHY IS HENRIETTA ALWAYS TALKING ABOUT BEING HOME SICK FOR CALIFORNIA?

If the pep squad girls could walk like a certain boy in M. H. S. they would not have to practice.

Was it Jack's new suit or Jack himself that made the girl's heart flutter last Friday at the football game?

Why is it that La Vern and John A. are always together even on the staff?

Who is that old "certain one" Juanita was speaking of the other day?

Student body: "I hope we beat Rule!"

Jack Miles—My sister has a wooden leg.

Glen Edwards—That's nothing, my sister has a cedar chest.

Lou Etta and Freida talking very proudly of certain brothers.

Elva asking everybody if they knew anything about anybody to put in the "Round Up".

Everyone talking at once in the study hall when the teacher steps out of the room a minute.

HOSS LAFFS

Easy
Miss Perrin—Wald, how much does a twelve pound turkey weigh?
Wald—I dunno.
Miss Perrin—Well what time does the nine o'clock train leave?
Wald—Nine o'clock.
Miss Perrin—That's right. Now how much does a twelve pound turkey weigh?
Wald—Oh! I get it—nine pounds.

Often The Case
Mr. Coody—Clyde what is an adult?
Clyde—An adult is one that has stopped growing except in the middle.
