Marshall Davis, Prominent Farmer, Enters Race for Commissioner

A late-comer in the ranks of office-seekers—but an "old-tim-er" in the county, Marshall Davis, county resident for some thirty odd years—is introduced this week to the voters of Precinct No. 3 as a candidate for Commissioner of that precinct in coming primary to be held

Mr. Davis is the latest-and ony candidate—to be announced through the columns of the Free Press this week. His formal state-ment appears elsewhere in this Entry of Mr. Davis in the Commissioner's race of Precint Three swells the list of aspirants for that office to five. Four previously announced candidates include P. G. (Buck) Kendrick, the present Commissioner; H. G. Hamme W. Clanton and M. O. Field.

With forty-seven candidates for the various county and district offices, Precinct No. 3 ranks second in number of aspirants for Commissioner with the above five candidates—being exceeded in a single instance by the nine candidates seeking the post of Commissioner in Precinct Four.

$10,000 Bond Issue Would Be Used to Supplement Government Funds

Considerable interest in being manifest in a proposed $10,000 bond election to be held in Commissioners' Precinct No. 2 on Saturday April 11th.

The election was called recentby the Commissioner's Court following presentation of a pettition signed by a large group of property-owners of the precinct. Purpose of the proposed issue will be to supplement Federal and State funds in the construction of hard-surfaced roads within the Precinct of approved caliche or macadam type. Some misunderstanding as to the purpose of the proposed issue has become prevalent, proponents state, and for this reason urge all voters to consider the proposition

Advocates of the issue point out that the proposed bonds can be used only for the purpose of supplementing government funds on approved projects. Ratio of 85 per cent of money expended, according to those favoring the issue. In other words, the precinct would pay only 15 per cent of the cost building hard-surface roads. Bonds would be sold only as government aid and approval was given on projects-and in event such aid was not available, no bonds would be sold, as money secured through the bond issue can not be used for any other

Blow upon blow. Couldn't she see that the thing she was striking was dead?

There was a long, long silence. By the time it was over I had myself in hand.

At length-"Poor Bugle," said Helena slowly. "He did me a very good turn."

"By dropping the torch?" said L "I suppose he dropped it." she said. "But Rush was bullying me, and sometimes I think that Bugle was going to stop him. I don't know, of course. When it fell, I just new for the door. And in any event he walted to set me free. I think he was the best of the lot."

"I think you're right," said I. "I had a weakness for Bugle, to tell you the truth. Of course Rush showed him off."

"I know, I know. But he had a spark of feeling. More than a spark, I think. Very few men, placed as he was, would have troubled to let me out."

There was another silence.

from Vienna, a man called Latz. Had he lived, he would have been famous, for the picture is terribly good. Your cousin picked it out in an instant as being the best of the lot. Well, when the painter had finished, the count was so pleased with his work that he called for wine and drank the young man's health, and when he had drained the cup he called for gold. I suppose his treasurer brought it. Then he filled the cop with gold pieces and gave the painter the lot. I hope it was adequate payment. In those days it probably was. The next morning the painter left Yorick to make his way home. On his lonely ride to Salzburg the poor man was robbed and murdered-his body was found by the road. Now the thieves didn't break up the cup, but six months later they tried to sell it at Inns- | Hatchery.

"UTTER COLLAPSE" VS "SPIRITUAL AWAKENING"

The Honorable Roger Babson, statistical expert and well-known financial writer, after reviewing the economic forces of the world, comes to the conclusion that "business should continue to improve for a few more years.'

However, do not conclude that the business forecaster is optimistic. He believes that "eventually a 'receiver' must be appointed for this grand old world of ours, cutting down debts, wiping out trade barriers, and giving every country a fresh

Mr. Babson says, "This can come about either through utter collape or through a spiritual awakening." As far as we are concerned, we wish to go on record in favor of the "spiritual awakening" because we have no desire to experience whatever an "utter collapse" may be. Boiled down, this spiritual awakening means a little less selfishness on the part of individuals and nations, willingness and readiness to render service for just reward and the epousal of a "live and let live" policy.

A SOCIAL SECURITY DANGER

The people of the United States should understand thoroughly what is involved in the Social Security Law. At present, when the goals are discussed, few stop to think of the taxes and financial factors involved.

In 1937, however, the workers to be covered will begin to pay a tax of 1 per cent on their wage or salary and employers will contribute an equal amount, making a 2 per cent tax in all. Gradually increasing until 1949, the tax will finally become 6 per cent contributed equally by workers and employers. In 1942 old age pensions will begin, but the first income to the Government is expected to greatly exceed the money paid out, and by 1980 the reserve fund will reach the gigantic total of around $47,000,000,000.

While some critics have questioned the management of such a fund, another objection has been raised by M. Alfred Linton, life insurance executive, who thinks that the real danger will come fromthe failure on the part of Congress to keep its hands off the reserve fund. This actuary says that Congressmen, not understanding the essential principles underlying a present reserve to make future payments, will be tempted to liberalize payments and thus jeopardize the future of those who have contributed to the enormous reserve.

While the Haskell Free Press ardently advocates the principles of social security legislation, the fear voiced by Mr. Linton is based on something besides fault-finding. It undoubtedly will be a menace to the successful operation of old age pensions, un-less the people of the United States are thoroughly educated in regard to the function of an adequate reserve. Moreover, they must stand guard over the fund created. Just how this is to be effectively done is a problem.

STOCKS NOT A BAROMETER

The stock market has completed a full year of advancing prices, and the prospects are for continued gains. An average of fifty stocks, which stood at 33.98 on July 8,1932, the low point of the depression has now risen to 120.78. About a year ago ,the average was 77.92.

While it is interesting to observe this evidence of confidence on the part of investors, we should not mistakenly assume that stock market prices accurately reflect general conditions throughout the United States. While the nation, as a whole has made tremendous improvement from the depth of the depressions, reflected in the price of stocks, it is possible for large portions of our population to suffer economically in the midst of a rising

THE PUBLIC FALLS AGAIN

The life of the American sucker seems just one grand scheme after another. It has not been long since the heyday of the chain-letter gag; and now lotteries under the guise of "sweepstakes" and "treasure hunts" are pulling the public leg for a new shakedown. So far-reaching has the lottery game become in recent weeks, declares William Hodson, commissioner of public welfare of New York, that "it appears potentially a more sinister racket than this country has ever before suffered. To put an end to this racket, Hodson suggests new legislation and intervention of the federal authorities. Because the American people do not mind being fooled if it is done under the guise of "chance, the Hodson proposals appear to be the only safe solution. It is too much to hope that the public will ever refuse outright to be hood-winked.

WE PAY FOR ARMAMENTS

Since the world finds itself again in a mad headlong race for increased armaments, have you considered your part of the bill, as an individual American citizen? Writing in the London Morning Post recently, John T. Flynn gave figures revealing the burden each individual in all the leading countries must bear for the support of armies. In Canada the cost is $1.24 a person; in New Zealand, $1.50; Denmark, $2.18; Australia, $2.40; Japan $3.70; Belgium, $4.10; Italy (at war), $8; Britain, which defends a vast imperial empire, $9.50, and the United States, $5.60. No statistics are available for Germany. But the United States for the first time since the war, has begun borrowing money for arms, battleships and aircraft. America wisly is at last caught in the maelstrom of arnaments that has burdened the Old World for so many decades. Whether it is the only way out it to be proved. At least we know that it is going to cost us plenty.

CURRENT COMMENT

HIGHWAY POLICY The Dallas News

The Texas Highway Commission made a flat pledge last year that it would provide Texas with an efficient cardinal route system for Centennial traffic. Probably ambitious communities translated that to mean that everybody would get all the roads he wanted. The commission meant what it said, however. Under the intensive program of the last ten months, Texas cardinal roads from border to border have been planned to meet the demands tourist traffic.

Now the commission points out that it must incentrate on completing this phase of the work by June. No new projects can be initiated and ended in time. It is probable that on the cardinal highways some detours must be arranged but these are to be made as attractive to the traveler as possible The commission has joined whole heartedly in the idea of selling Texas to America and theirs is the first commodity to catch the trade-good roads.

Today the commission has given Highway Engineer Gibb Gilchrist authority to finish the job. Its difficulty must be appreciated. A year ago there were few of the border-to-border roads which could be traversed from end to end on pavement. Some of the gaps were long. The Highway Department has been busy filling in the blank spaces and finishing out the necessary roads.

The Highway Department today is a splendid example of what can be done when politics is kept out and efficiency in.

GOLDEN TEXT: "Come: for all things are now ready.

(Lesson Text Luke 14:15-24.)

Seven miracles of mercy performed by Jesus on the Sabbath Day are reported in the gospels, four of them by Luke. One of the chief Pharisees had invited Jesus to dinner and his of the host he realized that the opponents watched him in order to find something to criticize and condemn. Seeing a man with the dropsy and realizing fully hypocritical legalistic rather strictness of the Pharisees regarding conduct in the Sabbath Jesus asked the critics two questions. The first was whether it was lawful to heal on the Cabbath and so the host must wait for them receiving no answer Jesus healed the afflicted man. Then, answering their unspoken disapproval, Jesus asked the second question. whether or not there were any present who would not rescue his ox fallen into a pit, even if it happened on the Sabbath Day, Once again, there was no answer, Observing the conduct of those who were also at the dinner Jesus used the situation there to hammer home vital spiritual truths. To the guests, who were vying with each other for favored places American Federation of Labor: "Business no of honor and prominence, he recommended humility. To the host, Jesus pointed out that hospitality to friends, kinsmen and rich neighbors in the expectation of a like recompense was selfish, whereas it would me a much more generous and friendly act to inrite the poor, the maimed, the lame and the blind, who could not repay socially, to such a gathering.

"Wherever today, amid the intricacies of a more complicated civilization, the hungry are fed, the naked clothed, the waifs and strays, provided for, the hearts that have done this" still be blessed with the Master's ancient blessing," says J. Our study hall seats are going to be most inconvenient for sleeping. You can't sit in the seat and lay your head over on the back of the seat in front of you like you did in old H. H. S. 'cause the rows are too far apart. It's dangerous to try to put your knees on the back of the row in front of you and lean back too boys, cause you might slip out and break your neck. About the only thing left to do is study in the study hall and sleep at night

Aren't you glad we had some heap big Indian braves who went in the building and saved our trophies. They should have a me-dal for that. That's something we probably could not have replaced but since we have a collection we can add to it. While we're talk-ing about trophies we might mention some of the trophies were won this year. The basket ball girls won the county meet and were awarded a trophy. The boys and girls Debate teams both won trophies at the County Interschoteam won the Invitation Meet and received a trophy and then at county meet they won a trophy ber had happened in that old even try to mention all the mefor winning their event. Don't forget we're going to have Warwhoop Books for sale the last of May. That's one thing the fire didn't destroy or even damage. We think the book will have more value to you now than it did before the fire, 'cause all the pic-tures in the book were taken on the steps of the old building and there's a picture of the building too. Then, just the regular oc-curance of the day that the "Pi-sen Arrow" and other columns have recorded will be in the Warwhoop Book. If you would like to have a book make arrange-ments now for one.
