Proposed Measure Is Deemed Best Plan To Aid Agriculture

Provisions Program Be Discussed In Detail

A. A. Bill will be at the regular meeting of the Haskell county Agriculture Association next Saturday at 10 p. m., according to Mrs. Date, secretary of the county.

Members and farm women of a district meeting in Haskell last Friday June 4, time they heard Mr. Ribble and believed to be better than any other plan ever presented before. No changes will be made through congress and are urged to become acquainted with the plan now so they might have been a law. Members are urging that farmers and let them know toward the new plan. Farmer and rancher of Haskell are urged to attend here Saturday, whether they are members of the reformed agriculture association, in order that they be familiar with the proposed farm measure now.

The new bill will affect every producer of farm products, it is noted, through understanding measure can any objections be removed before the state. For this purpose meetings are being held at the state, sponsored by agriculture associations of the state.

Text of the proposed bill will be found on page 5 of this issue of the Free Press.

Farm Bill Will Be Explained At Meeting Here Saturday

PLANS COMPLETED FOR T-P SINGING CONVENTION HERE

Two Day Gathering Expected To Attract Several Thousand

All arrangements have been completed for the T-P Singing Convention to be held here Saturday afternoon and Sunday, according to local committees in charge, and if weather conditions are favorable Haskell will be "overrun with singers" to use the expression of C. B. Ribble, Caddo, Texas, who is president of the organization.

Mr. Ribble, in a letter to convention committee members, stated that the Haskell convention had attracted widespread attention, and that a larger number of representatives from the leading music publishing houses of the Southwest would attend the two-days session than ever before.

The T-P convention, organized at Eastland in 1926, has held annual conventions since that time, and each year the attendance has shown a notable increase. Mr. Ribble said. From present indications the Haskell convention will be the largest in point of attendance of any previous one he attended.

The First Christian Church will be convention headquarters and although the large building is not expected to accommodate the huge crowd expected, a public address system will be installed in order that all persons outside the building may enjoy the program.

Mr. Ribble, president, and other officials of the convention, including Roy Tuggle, vice-president, Albany; and Miss Ola Westbrook, secretary, of Sweetwater, are expected to arrive in Haskell Friday to perfect final arrangements for the two-days gathering.

FINAL APPROVAL GIVEN PROJECT WEDNESDAY BY PRES. ROOSEVELT

PROSPECT LOOMS FOR EARLY VOTE HOSPITAL BONDS

Petitions For $60,000 Bond Election Will Be Given County Officials

Petitions recently circulated throughout Haskell county calling for an election to vote $60,000 in bonds for the erection of a hospital for Haskell county will be presented to the Commissioners Court in their regular session Monday, it was indicated Thursday after a check of the petitions revealed that a sufficient number of qualified property tax-paying voters had signed the requests.

Agitation for a county hospital has been carried on for several years, and in 1933 an application for a PWA loan and grant was approved for the Haskell county project based upon issuance by the county of sufficient bonds to defray a part of the cost.

The movement was recently revived and has met with approval of taxpayers in practically all sections of the county after it was revealed that the bonds could be voted and retired without a raise in the county's tax rate. At the present time, and for several years past, according to available records, Haskell county expends annually a sum that would be sufficient to retire the $60,000 bond issue if it is voted.

If favorable action is accorded the petition, earliest date on which the bond election could be called will be July 10th, county officials said.

Project Will Be Started As Soon As Funds Are Available

Addition of a modern school auditorium to the recently-completed Haskell High School was assured this week, when the application for the proposed building as a Public Works Administration project was given the direct approval of President Roosevelt.

First knowledge that the project had been approved by the Nation's executive was contained in a telegram received Wednesday afternoon by John A. Couch, local lumber dealer, from Senator Morris Sheppard, who advised:

"Congressman Mahon and I have been advised by the PWA that President has approved additional school project for Haskell."

Mr. Couch went to Washington May 9th as a joint representative from the Haskell School Board and the Chamber of Commerce to urge approval of the project, and conferred with Texas representatives and congressmen. He was successful in securing approval of the application from several officials of the Public Works Administration, and final approval by President Roosevelt means that the local project will ultimately be completed.

Is $12,000 Project

Allotment of funds for erection of the building, which will cost approximately $12,000, will await passage of an appropriation bill now pending in Congress.

The proposed building will be 44x65 feet, with a seating capacity of over 400. The structure will be an addition to the northeast wing of the High School building, and plans for its construction were included in the original architect's specifications for the main structure.

At Work On Football Field and Stadium

Several crews of workmen have been busy during the past two weeks in leveling grounds and other preparatory work for a football field and stadium to be located northeast of the High School. The field, covering almost four acres, will be the center of school athletics when completed with a sodded football field, a stadium seating over 1,200 people, and a track circling the field on which track events will be staged. Lighting equipment will be installed on the football field.

The entire acreage will be fenced, with hedges planted to furnish a screen for the field.

The entire project, which includes beautification of High School, North Ward and South Ward school grounds, will entail an expenditure of approximately $7,000.

COUNCIL MEETING ENDED WHEN FIRE ALARM COMES IN

Routine Business Affairs Are Transacted At Regular Meeting Monday

A fire alarm caused hasty adjournment of the regular meeting of the City Council Monday night, coming after practically all business matters had been transacted, and several Aldermen accompanied fire apparatus from the City Hall to the scene of the fire in the west part of town.

A decrease in city deposits, as revealed by the daily balances over a period of several months resulted in granting by City officials of a reduction in the amount of securities required to be pledged by the Haskell National Bank, depository for city funds.

Two members of the Haskell school board, T. J. Arbuckle, and D. H. Persons, appeared before the Council to discuss settlement of costs accruing from changes made some time ago in the sewer and water lines serving the High School and North Ward buildings. After an agreed settlement had been decided upon, sewer rate for each of the school buildings was set at $12.50 per month during the regular nine-months school term.

Reductions in valuations for city taxes sought by several property-owners on small tracts of land near the city limits were also discussed by the Council members and bills against the city amounting to several hundred dollars were allowed during the session.

All members of the council, Mayor F. G. Alexander and City Secretary Coburn were present for the meeting.

INCREASED PRICES FOR POULTRY, EGGS FORECAST FOR FALL

Shortage of Laying Hens Due to High Feed Costs Given As Cause

A heavy shortage of laying hens, with a corresponding increase in egg and poultry prices, is in prospect for the fall of 1937 and the early part of 1938, according to reports received by county agent B. W. Chesser from George P. McCarthy, assistant poultry husbandman of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service.

McCarthy said that high feed costs and low prices for poultry products had resulted in the heavy shortage.

$5,000 TO BE SPENT ON IMPROVEMENT OF NEW P-T STORE SITE

Long-Term Lease Taken On The Robertson Bldg By Department Store

Contracts for remodeling the entire front and interior of the large Robertson building on the west side of the square, recently leased for a long period to Perkins-Timberlake Company, were awarded Wednesday to John McMillin of this city as general contractor. Contract for building materials and supplies went to the Spencer Lumber Company of Haskell.

Proposed improvements to the building will include a complete modernization into quarters for the Perkins-Timberlake Co. department store. Cost of the improvements will range between $5,000 and $8,000, according to estimates of F. P. Timberlake and R. M. Tittle of Wichita Falls, executives of Perkins-Timberlake Company who were in Haskell Wednesday to approve the contracts.

Work of tearing out the front of the building and removal of interior fixtures was started by a crew of men Thursday, and the entire project will be completed within sixty days, it was estimated. The new store front will be of faced brick, with modern display window arrangement, architects plans reveal. Dixon & Voelker of Wichita Falls have been employed as architects. Interior of the building will be arranged to accommodate latest type of department store fixtures. New Grand Rapids fixtures will be installed throughout the store, along with modern lighting fixtures, and the entire

Charges and Counter Charges Fly As Result of Three-Sided Altercation

Misunderstanding between a tenant sharecropper and the two young sons of his landlord resulted in an altercation Sunday and the subsequent filing of charges and counter-charges of aggravated assault, assault, and theft—in which all three of the men were involved.

As related by officers, the two young men had gone to the tenants house to discuss a settlement over the sale of grain recently harvested on the farm, and for which the tenant had collected the money. In a controversy which followed a dispute over the settlement the three men became involved in an altercation and the tenant farmer's nose was "almost bitten off", officers said.

Immediately after the occurrence the two younger men reported the affair to a member of the sheriff's department, and farmer's tenant over which a dispute had arisen, and one of the young men signed a complaint of theft against the tenant.

Later, complaints of theft, assault and aggravated assault were filed against the younger men, according to officers.

In a hearing before Justice of the Peace Bruce Clift Monday, division of the money in dispute was made, one of the men paid a fine for assault, trial of the aggravated assault case was set for July 5 in County Court, and principals named in the theft complaints were placed under bond to await Grand Jury action.

FREAK HAILSTORM STRIKES SECTION COUNTY TUESDAY

High Winds, Hail and Rain Strikes Small Section Tuesday Evening

A freakish hailstorm accompanied by high winds, light sprinkles of rain in some spots and veritable cloudbursts in other sections of a small area, struck a narrow strip ranging through the east and northeast parts of the county late Tuesday afternoon.

Little damage to grain and young feed crops nor to property resulted from the storm, but reports of some of the largest hailstones even seen were made by numerous farmers in the affected section. Hailstones "as large as saucers" fell in the Vontress section. Near the Atehison ranch, some twelve miles east of Haskell, several farmers reported that hailstones "to large to get into a gallon bucket" fell in a small area.

GOVERNMENT SHIPMENT GRASSHOPPER POISON IS DELAYED

County Agent Advises Farmers To Continue To Poison Insects

No definite word has been received as to when the grasshopper poison being furnished by the Federal Government will be shipped in, according to reports received by county agent B. W. Chesser.

Mr. Chesser said that the shipment likely will consist of about 240 sacks which will cover only a small area. He is encouraging the farmers that are being bothered with hoppers to continue to poisoning them and not wait for federal help. The Haskell county commissioners court has offered their help in distributing the poison when it does arrive.

"Hic—I Told You I'd Come Back—Here's My Fine"

"I'll be back in fifteen minutes and pay my fine if you'll let me go home to get the money" was the plea Wednesday in Justice Clift's court of a young farmer who had spent the night before in the county jail "sleeping off" the effects of his indulgence.

Deputy Sheriff Mart Clifton, accommodating to the extreme despite his hard-boiled appearance at times, gave his assent to the request and the defendant was released.

Fifteen minutes passed—fifteen more—and several hours. Around noon he made it—just barely did—into the sheriff's office. Some of the hurdles in the courthouse corridor were a little tough, but he crawled over them. And the double doors were tricky obstacles, too. Then he was undecided as to which one of the dozen entrances to the sheriff's entrance office was used on Wednesday.

Anyway he came back just like he promised, and proffered the money for his fine to all three Mart Clift's.

The fine was accepted—and another one assessed on a second charge of drunkenness.

Merger of Cliff-Weinert Schools Is Up To Voters

Consolidation of the Cliff common school district with the Weinert Independent Consolidated District will be decided by qualified voters of the two districts in an election to be held Saturday, June 26th.

Merger of the two districts has been proposed by school patrons as a means of securing better educational facilities for the smaller rural district, and little or no opposition is expected to develop against the proposition.

A new high school building was completed at Weinert last year, and the consolidated district now has one of the most modern school plants in the county.

Agricultural Sections of South Are Favored In Proposed Farm Legislation for

(The following bill has been drawn after a group of agricultural commodity leaders from various sections of the nation appeared in Washington and conferred with various national officials. They also appeared before the Senate and House Committees and presented their views on the proposed permanent agricultural program. Texas was well represented during the preparation of the proposed bill by legislative representatives of the Texas Agricultural Association. The bill now is before the Agriculture Committee of the House and the Senate. It is being printed herewith in full, so that Texas farmers may study and understand its various proposals. Just what future action may be taken on the bill, and what changes may be made, depend largely upon the continued co-operation of Southern farmers.—The Editors.)

tic consumption and export, and parity of income for farmers marketing such commodities; and, without interfering with the maintenance of such parity prices, to provide surplus reserves and available supplies of the major agricultural commodities adequate to meet domestic consumption and export needs in years of drought, flood and other adverse conditions as well as in years of plenty.

(b) For the purposes of this Act—
(1) The "major agricultural commodities" shall be cotton, wheat, field corn, tobacco and rice (or any regional or market classification or grade thereof) produced in the United States;
(2) "Parity", as applied to prices for a major agricultural commodity, shall be that price for the commodity as will give to the commodity a purchasing power with respect to articles that farmers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such commodity in the period from August 1909 to August 1914, or, in case of tobacco, July 1914, or, in case of tobacco, August 1919 to July 1929.

(3) "Basic", as applied to income, shall be that net income of farmers that bears to the income of individuals other than farmers the same relation as prevailed during the period from August 1909 to July 1914.

Contracts With Farmers
Sec. 2 (a) In order more effectively to carry out the declared policy the Secretary is authorized and directed to prepare adjustment contracts and to tender such contracts to farmers producing for market any of the major agricultural commodities, the production and marketing of which affects commerce. A major agricultural commodity shall be deemed to be "produced for market" if the farmer is engaged primarily in the production of such commodity for disposition otherwise than as follows: By consumption by his work stock; or by consumption by his family, employees or household; or by feeding to poultry or livestock on the farm to be consumed, or the products of which are to be consumed by his family, employees, or household.

(b) Under adjustment contracts there shall be made available to contracting farmers (hereinafter referred to as "cooperators"), first, Soil Conservation Act payments hereinafter specified; second, surplus reserve loans; and, third, parity payments.

(c) The adjustment contracts first prepared under this section shall cover farming operations with respect to commodities planted for harvest in 1938, 1939, and 1940. For years subsequent to 1940, new adjustment contracts shall be prepared for such additional periods as the Secretary shall determine. Adjustment contracts shall be tendered to farmers during the last five months of each calendar year but shall be binding only with respect to major agricultural commodities planted for harvest in the subsequent calendar years covered by the contract. There shall be in force with respect to any farmer for any period only one contract with respect to each farm but such contract shall apply of all major agricultural commodities produced on the farm for market.

(d) For the purposes of adjustment contracts, the "farmer" shall be deemed to be the person owning the land comprising the farm, except that if the farm is leased to a person having full control of cropping operation thereon for one or more years during the period covered by the adjustment contract, then such lessee shall be deemed to be the farmer during such year or years. In preparing and entering into adjustment contracts, the Secretary shall take into consideration and protect the rightful interests and equities of tenants and sharecroppers.

Soil Conservation Act Payments
Sec. 3 Commencing with the 1938 agricultural-conservation program, no soil-conserving (class I) payment under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, shall be payable with respect to cotton, wheat, field corn, rice, or tobacco, but in lieu thereof cooperators shall receive the parity payments under adjustment contracts. All such soil conserving payments with respect to other agricultural commodities, and all soil-building (class II) payments under said Act shall, if the farmer is eligible to enter into an adjustment contract, be paid to him only if he has entered into such a contract.

Surplus Reserve Loans
Sec. 4 (a) The Surplus Reserve Loan Corporation established by title III of this Act (hereinafter referred to as the Corporation) is directed to make available surplus reserve loans upon any major agricultural commodity produced for market, at the loan rates prescribed in schedule A of this title. Such loans shall be made only to cooperators and on security solely of the stocks of the commodity insured and stored under seal in warehouses meeting the requirements of regulations of the Secretary. The terms and conditions of such loans shall be such as the Corporation determines most effectively will carry out with respect to the commodity the declared policy of this Act.

(b) Each adjustment contract shall include a provision that the Secretary shall, whenever he finds it necessary in order to carry out the declared policy of this Act with respect to any major agricultural commodity, require a cooperator so to store under seal his stock of the commodity for any marketing year up to an amount not exceeding 20 per centum of his production of the commodity for such year, in which event the cooperator shall be entitled to obtain from the Corporation with respect to stocks so stored surplus reserve loans as providing in sub-section (a).

Parity Payments
Sec. 5 (a) Promptly following the close of each marketing year for any major agricultural commodity the Secretary shall make parity payments to cooperators engaged in the production of such commodity for market during such marketing year. Such payments shall be computed at the parity-payment rates prescribed in schedule A of this title based on the total supply and parity price proclaimed at the beginning of the marketing year just closed. Such payments shall be paid on the aggregate normal yield of the acreage devoted to the production of the commodity during the marketing year just closed.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (a), if the difference between the current average farm price for the commodity during the marketing year just closed and the maximum income rate thereof is less than the applicable payment rate, then the parity payment shall be computed at a rate equal to the difference between such current average farm price and the maximum income rate.

This subsection shall not apply to tobacco.
(c) The first parity payments made under this Act with respect to any major agricultural commodity shall be those made following the close of the marketing year, thereafter ending during 1938.
Consumer Safeguards
Sec. 6 (a) For the purpose of protecting consumers from the excessive prices for any major agricultural commodity the Corporation is directed, whenever the total supply for the commodity is below the normal supply level, to call surplus reserve loans secured by such commodity to such extent as the Corporation determines to be necessary in order to carry out the declared policy of this Act. Commodities acquired by the Corporation in connection with any surplus reserve loans shall, under such regulations as the Secretary shall prescribe, be insured, stored, and disposed of to meet the needs of consumers if the total supply of the commodity (excluding the supply held by the Corporation) is below the normal supply level; otherwise for industrial, human relief, export or surplus reserve purposes.

(b) Whenever the current average farm price for any major agricultural commodity as proclaimed monthly under section 14 (d) is more than 10 per centum above or below the parity price so proclaimed for such commodity, then the Secretary shall further proclaim the amount of such difference. Effective the day following such proclamation the specific rate of duty imposed by law upon the corresponding dutiable commodity, namely, wheat, corn, or maize including cracked corn, wrapper tobacco and filler tobacco, or paddy or rough rice and brown rice, as specified in the proclamation, shall be decreased or increased, respectively, by the amount of such difference. Whenever the current average farm price so proclaimed for such major agricultural commodity no longer differs by more than 1 per centum from the parity price so proclaimed for such commodity, then the Secretary shall proclaim that fact, and the decrease or increase in rate of duty shall cease to be in effect on the day following such proclamation.

Bases and Normal Yields Sec. 7 (a) There shall be established with respect to each farm or any farmer (whether or not a cooperator) a soil depleting base acreage and a normal yield per acre, for each major agricultural commodity produced for market thereon.
(b) The national soil-depleting base acreage for any major agricultural commodity shall be an acreage for the commodity, the national average yield of which will equal the supply (as determined by the Secretary from the latest available statistics of the Department) required to be produced annually for domestic consumption and exports, adjusted as follows: First, so as to maintain surplus reserves and available supplies in accordance with the declared policy; and second, so as to take into account acreage formerly but not currently required for exports. The Secretary shall make such determination as of August 1, 1937, with respect to each major agricultural commodity, and thereafter as of the same date in each year, in which a new adjustment contract is prepared and first tendered to farmers producing such commodity for market.

(c) The national soil-depleting base acreage for any major agricultural commodity shall be allotted by the Secretary among the several States and among the counties or other local administrative areas therein deemed the most effective in the region for purposes of the administration of this Act. Such allotment shall be made on the basis of the acreage devoted to the production of the commodity during the preceding ten years, with adjustments for abnormal weather conditions and for trends in acreage during this period.
(d) Each such local allotment, after deducting the acreage for farms on which the commodity is not produced for market, shall be allocated, through local committees of farmers, among the farms within the local administrative area on which the commodity is produced for market. Such allocations shall be equitably adjusted among such farms, according to the tillable acreage, type of soil, topography, and production facilities.

(e) The normal yield per acre for any major agricultural commodity on any farm shall be the average yield per acre for the commodity thereon during the preceding ten years, or if there is no actual yield, or the data therefor are not available for any year, then an appraised yield to be determined by the regulations of the Secretary. The normal yield per acre shall be first computed during the period in which adjustment contracts are first tendered to farmers under this Act and thereafter shall be recomputed during any period in which new adjustment contracts are first tendered to farmers.

Normal Supply Level and Total Supply Sec. 8. For the purposes of this Act, the normal supply level for the several major agricultural commodities shall be as follows:
Cotton, a normal year's domestic consumption and exports, plus 40 per centum thereof as an allowance for an ever-normal granary;

Wheat, a normal year's domestic consumption and exports, plus 20 per centum thereof as an allowance for exports and for an ever-normal granary.
Field corn, a normal year's domestic consumption and exports, plus 5 per centum thereof as an allowance for an ever-normal granary.
The total supply of any such commodity shall be the carryover at the beginning of the marketing year plus the estimated production during the calendar year in which such marketing year begins.

Acreage Diversion
Sec. 9. (a) Whenever the total supply of any major agricultural commodity as finally ascertained and proclaimed by the Secretary exceeds the normal supply level therefor, the Secretary shall require cooperators engaged in the production of the commodity for market to divert from the production of the commodity during such marketing year such percent of the soil-depleting base acreage for the commodity as the Secretary determines and proclaims to be necessary in order that, at the end of the marketing year, the total supply for the commodity shall be substantially at the normal supply level therefor. The Secretary shall further require that the farmer engage in such soil maintenance, soil building, and dairy practices with respect to his soil-depleting base acreage not devoted to the production of the commodity as are provided by his adjustment contract.

(c) If the acreage actually devoted by the farmer to the production of the commodity during the marketing year is more than 90 per centum but not more than 100 per centum, of the acreage permitted to be so devoted, then the farmer shall be conclusively presumed to have devoted 100 per centum of the permitted acreage to the production of the commodity.

(d) If any farmers during any marketing year produces any major agricultural commodity on acreage in excess of his soil-depleting base acreage for such commodity or fails to divert from the production of any such commodity the percentage of his soil-depleting base acreage therefor required pursuant to this section then such operator and shall not be entitled to the surplus reserve loans or parity payments with respect to his production of the commodity for such marketing year.

Marketing Quotas
Sec. 10. (a) Whenever on the thirtieth day prior to the beginning of the marketing year for any major agricultural commodity the Secretary has reason to believe that the total supply thereof, as of the beginning of such marketing year, will in case of tobacco, exceed the normal supply level therefor or will in case of any other agricultural commodity exceed the normal supply level therefor by more than the following percentage: Cotton 15 per centum; wheat 20 per centum; field corn, 10 per centum or rice, 10 per centum then the Secretary shall vice, was in Haskell county recently and said that the most common error that farmers were making in distributing poison was that they were piling it too much. It is not only more effective but less dangerous if it is evenly distributed in pieces not larger than a pencil. Mr. Reppert said that generally speaking about 5 pounds of well mixed poison would cover an acre.

Farmer Hurt By Tractor Monday Is Recovering

Favorable report was given late Thursday on the condition of W. M. Cass, prominent Haskell farmer who was seriously injured Monday afternoon when he was struck by a tractor that he had started while the machine was in gear. Rushed to the Stamford Sanitarium, Mr. Cass was found to have sustained a serious fracture of the left thigh, injuries to his left ankle, a laceration on the left forearm and was suffering from severe shock. Hospital attendants stated Thursday evening that the fractured limb would be placed in a cast Friday morning. As a result of his injuries, Mr. Cass will be confined in the hospital for several weeks, it was reported.

The mother of Vivian Daly of Chicago lost a diamond from her engagement ring 11 years ago. Recently Vivian complained of a severe earache, and a doctor found the $335 stone in her right ear.

Mrs. Ida Alderman of Syracuse, N. Y., sued for damages for injuries she claimed she suffered when attacked by a neighbor's ram. The neighbor's attorney said, "It is our defense that this is a gentle and lovable ram."

Charging that her husband was so stingy that he would set his alarm clock, then awaken before it rang and shut it off to save the spring, Mrs. Helen Johnson of Chicago sued for divorce.

SEE TEXAS IN FOREFRONT OF FARM CHEMURGIC MOVE

Texas, as the nation's most versatile and prolific producer of both agricultural and industrial raw materials, should be in the forefront of the Farm Chemurgic movement which is sweeping through the South, according to a report of the All-South Development Council which summarizes possibilities of "putting chemistry to work for the farmer"—which is what Farm Chemurgic means.

At the recent national meeting in Detroit of the two-year-old Farm Chemurgic Council, Wirt Davis, Dallas banker, was awarded the Pioneer Cup "as the individual who had given greatest service in the field of chemurgic effort within the year," honoring his leadership of the group of Texans whose enterprise is bringing to this state the South's first newsprint mill—a $5,000,000 project.

In addition to the vast East Texas pine forests which constitute the primary physical resource making possible Texas' coming leadership in this field, the Lone Star state has "the makings" for virtually every other agri-mechanic conversion industry embraced by the growing chemurgic idea, and needs only to match its physical wealth with vision and enterprise to lead the whole parade, the Council's report said.

Photographic film "grown" in Texas rice fields sweet-potato automobile fuel, soy bean telephones and door-knobs, cotton-upholstered highways, cottonseed "milk" stockings, automobile fenders made from hemp, and "home grown" fireproof building materials—these are a few of the chemurgic possibilities which in the next decade will bring great wealth to agriculturists who can grow the products of the soil and merchandise them to those determined to make the marriage of agriculture and industry a lasting one, and bring an unprecedented wave of industrialization to the South.

At the Detroit meeting Carl B. Fritsche, national managing director, announced that 22 states had either set up or were setting up state chemurgic organizations. Thus it appears that there is competition among states in this field as well as for the benefits of general industrial decentralization.

The report notes that southern states are vying strenuously and making strong representations of friendliness and fair treatment to industries—a competition in which Texas has figured only casually, largely because her rising trend of industrial taxation at present gives little reassurance.

Chemistry, in its new role as matchmaker for agriculture and industry, will soon create a new South, utilizing an additional 50,000,000 acres of land and employing 3,000,000 more people in the creation of new wealth amounting to $1,225,000,000 annually, officials of the Farm Chemurgic Council predict.

The Farm Chemurgic Council's national program is, briefly: preserve the American market for the American farmer; encourage crop diversification; cultivate new crops or substitute crops in place of commodities now imported; advance the industrial use of American farm products through exhaustive applied science; stimulate a scientific soil-building program, and make possible a more secure stake in the land for the tiller of the soil.

One major objective of the chemurgic council is to procure the establishment of research institutes to discover new uses for products of the soil. Research laboratories are needed for sweet potatoes, rice, sugar cane, peanuts, soy beans and tung oil.

"SLOW" DEATH

The extent to which simple carelessness causes traffic accidents is graphically illustrated by a recent bulletin from the Association of American Railroads, which points out that fatalities from grade crossing accidents are going up. In most cases, probably, a grade crossing accident is due principally to the motorist's carelessness. But this bulletin contains added proof of that theory by showing that in 79 per cent of last year's grade crossing accidents the speed of the train involved was less than 40 miles an hour. In other words, the auto in such accidents is not struck down by a thunderbolt which comes on the driver so fast that the driver cannot get out of the way. In practically four-fifths of the accidents, the train is moving at a moderate speed. It is almost impossible to escape the conclusion that just a little care on the motorists' part would do away with nearly all of these disasters.

WHO JUDGES LAWS?

It is a fairly safe bet that there never would have been any agitation to increase the size of the Supreme Court if the court had always observed the maxim laid down by Justice Cardozo in his opinion on the Social Security Act. "Whether wisdom or unwisdom resides in the scheme of benefits set forth in Title II, it is not for us to say," said Justice Cardozo. "The answer to such inquiries must come from Congress, not the courts." An excellent rule, that. Demand for "reform" of the court arose principally because many people had become convinced that the court in fact did frequently rule on the wisdom or unwisdom of legislation rather than on its constitutionality. If Justice Cardozo's advice be followed, it is a safe bet that the demand for "reform" will dwindle to a gentle zephyr.

POET LAUREATE OF ENGLAND WAS A PORTER IN A SALOON

WHAT romantic occupation could you possibly predict for a boy so adventurous that no one could control him, so reckless that the aunt who took care of him after his father and mother died indentured him to a merchant ship at the age of fourteen to curb him? That was John Masfield's start in life and today he holds the highest honors England can give any poet.

Born in Ledburn, Herefordshire, England, in 1874, he sailed the seas for three years. Leaving the ship in port at New York city, he took any odd job he could get. He worked in a bakery and in a livery stable. He was porter in Luke O'Connor's saloon at the Columbian hotel near Jefferson Market jail. Then he moved to Yonkers, at the north end of New York city, where he worked in a carpet factory, rising to the magnificent position of "mistake finder" at $8.50 per week.

It was at this time, in his early twenties, that Masfield started to

Transferred to Fort Worth Customs Office

C. W. Williamson, former teacher of the Midway school who has been an inspector of customs with the station at Laredo since 1931 has been transferred to the Fort Worth customs office, as deputy collector of customs, by Customs Collector Harry P. Hornby, according to advices received here from San Antonio Friday. C. W. is a brother of Alvis Williamson of this city.

By shouting so loudly that his voice was heard, according to judges in three states at the same time, a distance of eight miles, Lee Chrisman, Kentucky farmer, set what is claimed to be a world's record.

A stray hen strutted into the jewelry store of E. B. Roser in Wellington, Kan., and laid an egg on the work bench.

write poetry and in 1897 he left for London. His first volume of verses, "Salt Water Ballads," was published in 1902 opening with "A Consecration," in which he announces himself as the champion of "the dust and scum of the earth." Books of verse and novels followed, one upon the other, and John Masfield became established as one of England's greatest poets.

So, remember John Masfield before you pass judgment on that neighbor's boy who is such a holy terror or that young scamp who works in the saloon across the railroad tracks. Some day his poetry may draw a tear to your eye, a lump to your throat.

that fact, and after due notice and opportunity for public hearing to interested parties, shall, to the extent necessary to meet such emergency, increase the marketing quotas within any producing area. No allocation to any farmer shall be reduced by reason of the authority conferred by this subsection.
Excess Marketing Penalty Sec. 11. (a) It shall be an unfair agricultural practice for any farmer (whether or not a cooperator) to market any major agricultural commodity in excess of his marketing quota established for such commodity unless prior to such marketing (1) the Secretary shall have proclaimed that the total supply of such commodity is less than the normal supply level thereof; or (2) the farmer shall have diverted from the production of such commodity during a subsequent marketing year an acreage the aggregate normal yield of which equals or exceeds the amount of such excess marketings and in addition, if the farmer is a cooperator shall have diverted from the production of any such commodity the percentage, if any, of the soil-depleting base acreage proclaimed by the Secretary.
(b) It shall be a violation of law for any farmer to engage in any unfair agricultural practice that affects commerce, and for each such violation the farmer shall be liable to pay an excess-marketing penalty at the following rates per unit of the commodity marketed in excess of his marketing quota: Cotton, 10 cents per pound; wheat, 60 cents per bushel; field corn 50 cents per bushel; rice, 2 cents per pound; tobacco, 4 cents per pound for flue-cured and burley, and 3 cents per pound for any other kind of tobacco. Such penalties shall accrue to the United States and shall be payable to and collected by the Secretary.
(c) Whenever, after investigation the Secretary has reason to believe that any farmer has engaged in any unfair agricultural practice that affects commerce and so certifies to the appropriate district attorney of the United States, it shall be the duty of the district attorney, under the direction of the Attorney General, to institute a civil action in the name of the United States for the recovery of the penalty payable with respect to the violation.
(d) In determining whether any farmers (whether or not a cooperator) has engaged in any unfair agricultural practice, the farmer shall be presumed to have produced for market from any acreage the normal yield for such acreage. This presumption may be rebutted only by the farmer.

(e) Any person engaged in the business of purchasing major agricultural commodities from farmers or of processing such commodities for farmers shall from time to time, on request of the Secretary, furnish the Secretary with such information and keep such records as the Secretary finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out the provisions of this section. Such information shall be furnished and such records shall be kept in accordance with forms or reports to be prescribed by the Secretary. For the purpose of ac-certaining the correctness of accounting and record kept, or of obtaining information required to be furnished, the Secretary is hereby authorized to examine such books, papers, records, accounts, correspondence, contracts, documents and memoranda as are relevant and are within the control of the person. Any person failing to furnish any information or keep any records as required by this subsection shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof be subject to a fine of not more than $1,000.
(f) Farmers engaged in the production of any major agricultural commodity for market shall furnish such proof of their acreage, ports, storage and marketing cards, reports, and under seal, or otherwise as may be necessary for the administration of this section and prescribed by regulations of the Secretary. Any farmer failing to furnish such proofs in the manner and within the time provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof be subject to a fine of not more than $100.
(g) All information furnished to or acquired by the Secretary pursuant to subsections (e) and (f) shall be kept confidential by all officers and employees of the Department of Agriculture and only such information so furnished or acquired as the Secretary deems relevant shall be disclosed by them, and then only in a suit or administrative hearing involving the administration of this Act.
Publication and Review of Soil-Depleting Base Acreages, Normal Yields, and Marketing Quotas
Sec. 12 (a) Under regulations of the Secretary, each local committee of farmers shall publish in a newspaper of general circulation within the county a list of the soil-depleting base acreages, normal yields, and marketing quotas, if any, for every farm within the jurisdiction of the committee; and shall file for public inspection a certified copy of the list with the recorder of deeds or similar county official.

(b) Under regulations of the Secretary, any farmer dissatisfied with the determination of any soil-depleting base acreage, normal yield, or marketing quota for his farm, may, within fifteen days after newspaper publication of such determination as hereinbe-fore provided have the determination reviewed by a review committee whose membership shall be composed of farmers but shall not include any members of the committee of farmers making the determination. Unless application for such review is made within such period, the determination of the local committee of farmers shall be final.
(c) Under regulations of the
with a determination of the review committee may, within such reasonable time and in such manner as the Secretary shall prescribe, file with a reviewing officer to be designated by the Secretary a written petition alleging that the determination made by the local review committee was not in accordance with law and praying for a modification thereof; and the petitioner shall thereupon be afforded an opportunity for full hearing on the petition at a place of hearing within the county in which the petitioner's farm is located. After such hearing the reviewing officer shall make a report in writing stating his findings and conclusions, and an order confirming or modifying the determination of the review committee of farmers. A copy of the report and order shall be served on the petitioner by sending the same to him by registered mail.
(d) The petitioner may, within fifteen days after receipt of a copy of such report and order, file a bill in equity against the Secretary as defendant, in the United States district court for the district in which the petitioner is an inhabitant or operates his farm, for the purpose of obtaining a review of such order. The bill of complaint in such a proceeding may be served by delivering a copy thereof to the Secretary or to any person within the district in which suit is brought who may have been authorized by the Secretary to accept service of such a bill, and thereupon the reviewing officer shall certify and file in the court a transcript of the record upon which the determination complained of was entered. The review by the court shall be limited to questions of law, and findings of fact by the reviewing officer when supported by substantial evidence shall be conclusive.
No objection to the order of the Secretary shall be considered by the court unless such objection shall have been urged before the reviewing officer, or unless there was reasonable grounds for failure to do so. If application is made to the court to leave to adduce additional evidence, and it is shown to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for failure to adduce such evidence in the hearing before the reviewing officer, the court may order such additional evidence to be taken before the reviewing officer in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as to the court may seem proper. The reviewing officer may modify his findings and conclusions and his order by reason of the additional evidence so taken, and he shall file with the court such modified or new findings, conclusions, or order, which findings, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive.
At the earliest convenient time the court shall hear and determine the case upon the original record of the hearing before the reviewing officer, or upon such record as supplemented by further hearing before him pursuant to an order of the court, and the court shall affirm the reviewing officer's order, or the order as modified by him, if the court determines that the same is in accordance with law. If the court determines that such order or modified order is not in accordance with law, it shall remand the proceeding to the reviewing officer with directions either to make such order as the court shall determine to be in accordance with law or to take such further proceedings as in its opinion the law requires.
(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of the law, the jurisdiction conferred by this subsection to review the legal validity of a determination made by a reviewing officer pursuant to this title shall be exclusive. No court of the United States or of any State shall have jurisdiction to pass upon the legal validity of any such determination except in a proceeding under this subsection. The commencement of judicial proceedings under this subsection shall not, unless specifically ordered by the court, operate as a stay of the reviewing officer's order.
(f) In the event of an increase with respect to any major agricultural commodity of any depletion base acreage or marketing quota for any farm as a result of the review of the determination thereof under this section (then all other depletion base acreages or marketing quotas, respectively, for farm in the same local administration area shall be reduced pro rata in accordance with regulations of the Secretary.

Legislative Findings
Sec. 13. The Congress herewith finds as follows:
(a) The production and marketing of the major agricultural commodities—cotton, wheat, corn, rice and tobacco—constitutes one of the great basic industries of the United States with ramifying activities which directly affect commerce at every point, and stable conditions therein are necessary to the general welfare. Such commodities are the Nation's basic source of food and fiber and of feed for livestock, for human consumption and such commodities and livestock produced for market are sold on a Nation-wide market and with their products move almost wholly in commerce from the producer to the ultimate consumer. The farmers producing such commodities are subject in their operation to uncontrollable natural causes are widely scattered throughout the Nation, and are not so situated as to be able to organize effectively, as can labor and industry, for joint economic action; and in many cases such farmers carry on their farming operations on borrowed money or lease-hold land. For these reasons, among others, the farmers are unable without Federal intervention to control effectively the orderly marketing of such commodities and livestock and products thereof, with the result that abnormally excessive supplies thereof are produced and dumped indiscrimi-nately on the Nation-wide market.
(b) The disorderly marketing of such abnormally excessive supplies affects, burdens, and obstructs commerce by (a) materially affecting the volume of such commodities marketed therein, (b) disrupting the orderly marketing of such commodities therein, (c) reducing the prices for such commodities with consequent injury to and destruction of commerce in such commodities, and (d) causing a disparity between the prices for such commodities in commerce and industrial products therein, with a consequent diminution of the volume of commerce in industrial products.
(c) Whenever an abnormally excessive supply of any major agricultural commodity exists, the production and marketing of such commodity by the producers affects directly and substantially affects commerce in such commodity and its products, and the operation of the provisions of this title become necessary and appropriate in order to promote, foster, and maintain an orderly flow of such supply in commerce.
Miscellaneous Sec. 14. (a) For the purpose of this Act—(1) "Normal year's domestic consumption" shall be the yearly average quantity consumed in the United States during the preceding ten marketing years, adjusted for current trends in such consumption.
(2) "Normal year's exports shall be the yearly average quantity exported from the United States during the preceding ten years, adjusted for current trends in such exports.
(3) The term "marketing year" means, for cotton the period from period from October 1 of one year to September 30 of the succeeding year.

(4) The term "commerce" means sales, marketing, trade and traffic between any State or Territory of the District of Columbia or Puerto Rico and any place outside thereof; or between points within the same State or Territory or within the District of Columbia or Puerto Rico, through any place outside thereof; or within any Territory or within the District of Columbia or Puerto Rico.

(5) The term "affects commerce" means in commerce, or to burden or obstruct commerce or the free and orderly flow of commerce, or to create or tend to create a surplus of any major agricultural commodity which burdens or obstructs commerce or the free and orderly flow of commerce.
(6) The term "United States" ritories and the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

(7) The term "State" includes the Secretary of Agriculture and the term "Department" means the Department of Agriculture.

(9) The term "market" means

(10) The terms and conditions of adjustment contracts and loans thereunder, and the regulations under this Act or with respect to such contracts, and the time and manner of keeping records and making reports shall be prescribed by the Secretary only after opportunity for public hearing help upon not less than three days' notice and at a convenient place within the principal area or areas where the major agricultural commodity or commodities concerned are produced.
(c) The Secretary is authorized to such extent as he deems appropriate to provide for the administration of this title through State-wide and local committees or associations of producers, or through State public or private agencies adequately empowered by State laws.
(d) The Secretary shall, on the first day of each month (or on the ensuing business day if said first day is a holiday in the District of Columbia or a Sunday) ascertain and proclaim the parity price and the current average farm price for each major agricultural commodity. The Secretary shall, within forty-five days after the beginning of the marketing year for each major agricultural commodity, ascertain and proclaim the current average farm price for the commodity during the preceding marketing year, to be weighted in accordance with the quantity of the commodity marketed. Within such forty-five day period the Secretary shall also ascertain and proclaim the total supply of such commodity as of the beginning of the marketing year.
(e) The latest available statistics of the Department shall be used by the Secretary in ascertaining the "total supply," "normal year's domestic consumption," "normal year's foreign consumption," "normal year's exports," "parity" as applied to prices and income, and "current average farm price."

HORSE TURNS IN ALARM
New York—A horse, whose nose was itching, caused a lot of excitement. Selecting a fire box to soothe the itching, she inadvertently turned in an alarm. Firemen responded to find a milk wagon, horse and driver, but no fire.
