Government Class Talk of Impressions

As a government lesson Monday morning, the students were asked by Mrs. Wimbish to tell things they did the past week and that were important and things that we would never forget. When Duffer was called on he seemed to be rather worried because his little brother had a slight collision in their car. Now Duffer, don't get excited, maybe your Dad will get you the car sometimes. Lowell Shelton didn't miss the carnival on account of rain, either. Strange as it seems, Albert thinks he won't forget helping his sister (name) and a few more girls out of a mud hole. Albert also seemed to enjoy the race—of course he wouldn't think of doing such a thing as sitting on top of a girl and watching them. Maybe his pocketbook is low, too. Sunday night Marva Lena went to Abilene to hear Gypsy Smith. I think she arrived on time since she was late to know what he said and also to be able to remember any of the songs he sang. She probably wasn't familiar with them. At any rate she had the pleasure of seeing him. Helen Mable was ill but just the same she had friends to go see her—for instance, Jim Roy, J. J. and W. B. will never forget their visit to the Centennial. They seemed to have enjoyed it very much, and who wouldn't? Marva said she didn't do much of anything, but that's what you think. If I'm not mistaken we and some gentlemen were at the show Friday night. She wouldn't tell about how muddy the roads were and how she liked not to have made it home over them. I think Addie Lee was an on that deal, too. Even though she didn't admit it. Then there was Boyke who didn't know whether he was using Ben Hur perfume or not. Last, but not least, Eleanor said she went to the Supper Club Saturday night. When asked by Mrs. Wimbish who attended she said five girls—Dorothy Larson, Marvina Post, Gerry Conner, Helen Mable Baldwin and herself. No, Mary Eleanor don't tell us there wasn't any gentlemen friends there!

These impressions were discussed in class not wholly in a trivial way, and not merely to find out how students were spending their social life, but also to help students to be more interested in each other's individual and spiritual lives.

Ex-Student Receives Honor

Last week C. B. Breedlove, Jr., who is a Senior in McMurry College at Abilene, was elected to membership in the James Winfred Hunt Chapter of the Alpha Chi National Honor Society. C. B. was one of four to be elected out of about 50 Seniors. C. B. will graduate from McMurry in January and receive his B. S. degree with a major in Biology and a minor in Chemistry. He has been for the past two years laboratory instructor of Freshman Biology at McMurry.

C. B. graduated from Haskell High School with the class of '33, completing his high school work in three years.

Ex-Student Accepts Position

Clifton Crawford, a 1931 graduate of Haskell High School, has withdrawn from Texas Tech, where he majored in Chemical Engineering, to accept a position with the Standard Oil Company in Cleveland, Ohio. He will be under the supervision of Jerome Sanders, also a graduate of Haskell High School, who finished a similar course in Texas Tech several years ago. Clifton was graduated from Texas Tech last spring with a Bachelor of Science degree, and this fall he re-entered to take some advanced Chemistry and had been in school only five weeks when offered his present position with the Standard Oil Company.

Pep Squad Takes On Military Air

The Pep Squad took on a military air Wednesday afternoon when they accepted the invitation of the Artillery Unit of the U. S. Army from Wichita Falls to ride with them in the parade.

The girls all enjoyed the ride in a real army truck and were proud of the honor of representing Haskell High in the parade. They were backing up the Haskell Indians with songs and peppy yells as they rode around the square in their colorful black and gold uniforms. The little Pep Squad mascots were there too, helping cheer the Indians.

We all missed rooting for the team last Friday night, but we'll all be for them double strong when they play Albany Friday night.

She Wins!

Miss Mary Frances Woods of San Benito smiles triumphantly as she looks over the "spoils" from the recent freshman presidential election held at Texas State College for Women (CIA). After a vigorous campaign, approximately 1000 freshmen chose this diminutive brunette to guide their class activities.

Just In Fun

Gene R.—Does Gerry Conner have her own way much?
 Marva—TH say she does she writes up her diary a week ahead of time!

Boyle H.—I'm going to marry a girl who can take a joke!
 Ed R.—That's the only kind you'd get!

Lula Fay G.—That McMullin boy working in the drug store is a real trace man!
 Eva Jo.—Yes, isn't he atrocious? I wish he were on my track!

Bob Mc.—Mother, can I have a new drum like C. J.'s?
 Mrs. Mc.—No, you'll make too much noise around the house!
 Bob—Oh, no I wouldn't, I'd just play it when you're asleep.

Mr. Crawford—Paul, I want to talk to you. I want to discuss with you the facts of life.
 Paul—Well, Dad, what is it you would like to know?

Joe I.—See that girl in front of you?
 Thomas Lee—Well, what about her?
 Joe—She's fresh from the country and its up to us to show her the difference between right and wrong.
 Thomas L.—O. K. pal. You show her what's right.

Albert—Boy, I'm scared. I just got a letter from a man telling me he'd shoot me if I didn't stay away from his daughter.
 Annie—Well, all you have to do is stay away from his daughter!

Albert—Yeah, but he didn't sign his name.
 Elsie—I don't like riding with you. You're too darned reckless.
 Robert W.—That's right. We've had some pretty tight squeezes, haven't we?

A young lady went into a drug store. "Have you any Lifebuoy?" she asked.
 Lynn P.—Set the pace, lady; set the pace.

Mr. Mason, to study hall: "Why do I always find you talking?"
 Study Hall—"Because you always wear rubber heels."

W. B. Harrison—"Have a Camel?"
 J. J. Williamson—"No, but we keep a dog."

Paul Roberts—"I'm learning to read lips."
 Jack Simmons—"Really? How do you do that?"
 Paul—"I'm using the touch system."

College Students Visit Homefolks

Although our ex-seniors have gone to larger cities they all seem to enjoy "Ye Ole Haskell County Fair" as much as ever. Those home for the week end and Fair were:

Tom Clifton and Harvey Simmons from Lubbock.
 Gayle Roberts, Gerry Fouts, and Helen Ballard from Denton.
 Gladys Fouts from Abilene.
 LeRoy O'Neal from New Mexico.
 Ernest McMullin from Brownwood.
 Clifton Crawford of Lubbock.

The students extend sympathy to Faye Riley, Senior student, whose sister passed away last week.

As We Remember Claud

Last Friday, October twenty-third, the people of Haskell and especially we, the student body of Haskell High School, were very deeply hurt to learn of the death of a typical schoolboy, Claud Warren, Jr. Although he wasn't a student of our school at the time of his death, he was still with us in spirit.

The last hour of his life was spent with one of his best friends and he was still with that friend at the time of his death. That friend was his bicycle. Perhaps if he could have chosen his death and knew that he had to go at this time, he would have chosen to be with his bicycle.

Claud was known by every resident of the city of Haskell under twenty years of age. The negro shine boy knew him and loved him because of his friendliness. Color or race made no difference to him when he picked his friends. He was just plain "Shotgun" to everybody.

Some of us may remember him best with his Scout hat and his trumpet. He was fond of wearing his Scout hat because it reminded him that he was to do his duty at all times.

As for his talents, they were many; but the one he used most was his ability to speak before an audience. Haskell High School was proud to have him as their speaker because he always did his very best. He brought honors to us. His thoughts were clean and his morals were of the very best. Singing was another favorite pastime of his. A song was always on his lips and in his heart.

For his first two and only two years as one of our group, he was among the smallest members of our football squad. Size made no difference as far as he was concerned, because he was playing for the Indians. To him it was an honor.

Claud was always ready to have clean fun. Playful jokes were his specialty. He delighted in saying something to make somebody laugh.

His family meant a great deal to him and he to them. Never was he in too big a hurry to kiss his mother before he went out of the house or Coffee Shop. She was always his best friend.

To us, he is still the boy we knew him when we were in school together. We are going to remember him that way.

His funeral was exactly the way he would have wanted it to be. He was among his best friends. His Scout Troop paid him special honor and the boys he loved best were his honorary pallbearers.

Claud is gone and we shall miss him but with the hope that some day we shall again be with him, we console ourselves. In a rift of clouds his face is smiling through.

Gridiron Gab

Our game with the Roby Lions was called off last Friday night because of bad weather and muddy grounds. This game with Roby will not be played unless they do agree on some other date that is open for both clubs.

By the game being called off, Haskell will get a good rest. This will give the boys a chance to think twice before they tackle the Albany eleven. Albany has a fine football team and are out to beat us. I don't know what the Indians think about this but I think they are expecting to change their minds. They know they are going to have a hard game and are going to be in good shape to fight it out.

Albany beat Munday more than we did. In this game Munday did not have the strength that they had to put against us. Two of their best players did not get to play more than one quarter. Albany has a good running attack and a strong line. The Indians will find it plenty tough but here's hoping they come out winner.

The Indians still need more support and are expecting you at our next game. If we could just get the spirit more and think what the championship would mean to us, we would attend more of the games. Come on out next Friday night and yell yourself hoarse for the Indians.

Some of the boys were glad the game was called off and some wanted it to be played. There were some who needed the rest

SARAH ANN'S COOKING CLASS

Apples are grown practically everywhere and are one of the least expensive fruits and were considered a valuable health asset before anyone thought of vitamins. They add variety and flavor to the diet, served raw, cooked as an individual dish or as a garnish for a platter. These recipes will assist you in serving apples often and in keeping the family appetite satisfied.

Breakfast Apples

Wash and wipe 4 large tart apples, remove the core and slice in quarter inch slices without removing the skins. Melt 2 tablespoons of butter in a frying pan; when hot, turn in the apples and cover immediately. Cook briskly for a few minutes, when delicately browned, turn over and brown on other side. Sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Serve with ham and eggs or sausage and griddle cakes.

Apple Glace

6 or 8 apples. 1-2 cups sugar. 3-4 cup water. Juice and grated rind of 1-2 lemons. Cinnamon drops. Baked pie shell.

Pare, core and quarter apples. Cook slowly in syrup (made of sugar, water and lemon) until tender, but not mushy. Remove from syrup, drain apples and cook the syrup until it will drop from spoon like jelly. For cinnamon flavor and red color add 1 tablespoon cinnamon drops. Remove from heat and cool slightly. Arrange cooked apple quarters in baked pie shell or in individual tart shells. Pour enough syrup over it to glaze it entirely. Place under flame for about 5 minutes or in a hot oven for 10 minutes. Serve cold. If desired, top with vanilla ice cream.

Apple Crunch

Fill a baking dish with peeled sliced apples. Sprinkle with tablespoon of cinnamon and the grated rind of one lemon. Add 2-3 cup of water and cover with the following mixture: 1 cup of flour and 1 cup of sugar blended with 1-2 cup of butter to a crumbly consistency. Bake uncovered. Serve with a hard sauce made by blending until light, 1-4 cup butter, 1 cup confectioners sugar and 1 tablespoon of brandy.

Apple Betty

Put in a buttered casserole a layer of apple sauce, then a layer of crumbs made from toasted bread, stale cake, cookie or Graham crackers. Repeat with apple sauce and crumbs. Top with a generous sprinkling of brown sugar, bits of butter and cinnamon. Bake until hot through. This may be turned into a refrigerator dish by using whipped cream instead of butter. Let stand overnight.

Apple Duff Pudding

2 cups flour. 1 cup milk. 1 egg. 3 cups sliced apples. 2 teaspoons baking powder. 2 tablespoons melted shortening. Salt. Mix into a batter and add the sliced apples. Put into a greased pudding mold and steam 2 hours. Serve hot with hard sauce.

Apple Pudding

Stew and sweeten 8 large apples. Flavor with cinnamon and nutmeg. Make a boiled custard, using 2 cups of milk, 2 egg yolks, and 1-2 cup sugar. Pour over stewed apples. Beat 2 egg whites stiff, add 3 tablespoons of sugar. Put on top of custard. Bake in a slow oven 15 minutes. Serve hot or cold.

Apple Ring and Carrot Salad

Cut large, rosy apples into inch slices. Core but do not pare. Place on lettuce. Fill the centers with grated raw carrots. Top with a green pepper star. Serve with French dressing.

Jellie Apple Sauce

2 cups strained apple sauce. 1-4 cups sugar. 2 tablespoons red cinnamon candy. 1-4 teaspoon nutmeg. 1 teaspoon gelatin. 2 tablespoons water. 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

Heat the apple sauce to the boiling point and add the sugar, cinnamon candy, nutmeg and gelatin which has been softened in cold water. Stir until gelatin and the cinnamon candies have been dissolved. Cool and add the lemon juice. Turn into molds and chill until firm. This is very good served with cold meats.

Apple Salad

1 cup chopped apples. 1-2 cup nuts, chopped. 1 cup shredded cabbage. 1-2 cup chopped olives. 1 package lime gelatin. Dissolve gelatin in a pint of boiling water. Stir until dissolved. Cool. Add apples, cabbage, nuts and olives. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

CENTENNIAL AT FORT WORTH TO CLOSE SATURDAY

Arlington Downs, Frontier Centennial Combination of Amusements

Texans still have a few days in which to witness both the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial and Arlington Downs Races at the same time. The Frontier Centennial closes Oct. 31st, while the Arlington Downs Races continue from now until November 28.

New acts have been inserted in the fall edition of the Casa Manana Revue at the Fort Worth Frontier show and those who have seen the revised edition say this sensational show is even better now than the summer edition. With the recent closing of Jumbo and the Last Frontier wild west show, Casa Manana and the West Texas Building remain as the feature attractions of the Fort Worth Centennial. Over 600,000 people have visited the free Will Rogers Memorial Exhibit which is located in the West Texas Building at Fort Worth.

More than $200,000.00 in purses will be distributed at Arlington Downs to owners of the Nation's best thoroughbreds. Eight races will be run each day except Sunday, with the $15,000.00 Waggoner Memorial Handicap scheduled for November 14. Located midway between Fort Worth and Dallas, Arlington Downs makes it possible for visitors to attend the races and see both the Fort Worth and Dallas Centennial Expositions in one trip.

Plenty of Amusement for the Visitor to Fort Worth

Downs. The Fort Worth show closes soon, while the Arlington Downs races are now in progress and will continue through November 28.

Mrs. E. G. Post of Paris is here visiting friends and relatives this week.

Mrs. Roy A. Sanders of Abilene visited a part of this week here with friends and relatives.

Rochester

This is a beautiful Monday morning after the spell of rainy weather, which slowed down crop gathering. The wind being from the north will dry things up in a hurry. If we get a few days of fair weather, gathering of crops will be finished by Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wadzeck visited relatives at Rule Sunday. Mr. T. B. Bagwell was brought home from the Knox City hospital Saturday where he has been under treatment for several days. We are glad to state Mr. Bagwell is improving.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Shaver October 16th, a fine 7 1-2 boy. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Britton of Floydada spent last week end here with their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Bell.

The 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Herndon underwent an operation last week in an Abilene hospital for throat and nose trouble. He is getting on nicely.

The home of Gene Bittick, together with its contents, was destroyed by fire last Thursday morning.

Tommy Greer, student in McMurry College, spent Sunday here with homefolks.

The twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jones died last Tuesday in a Stamford hospital after a brief illness. The little body was buried in Rochester cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones friends deeply sympathize with them, and hope that if it is God's will the one left, who is gravely ill may soon be well.

Mrs. P. W. Bell of Plainview visited her father, Mr. R. A. Greenwade and other relatives here last week.

The McMurry football team came over last Tuesday and played the Rochester steers. Our boys were defeated, but being "good sports" they took it "OK" and are ready to try it over.

Mr. Carmack died last Thursday at his home west of Rochester and was laid to rest Sunday in the Rochester cemetery. The relatives have the sympathy of their friends.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH — Sunday Nov. 1st. Bible School—9:45 A. M. Worship and Lord's Supper — 11 A. M.

Young Peoples' Meetings: Juniors—4 P. M. Intermediates—5 P. M. High School—6:30 P. M.

How Many Boys and Girls Have Cut Bible School and the Lord's Supper Because of My Example? This is something for the grown-ups to think about. Are you setting the right example before your own children, or the children of your friends and neighbors? Your own children are stepping in your tracks. Why not be loyal? It is expected that a member of the congregation will speak on the subject of "Loyalty" Sunday morning preceding the Lord's Supper.

Mrs. Booth English and son son Crockett and daughter Mrs. Lanham Williams and son Barry of Wichita Falls were in Dallas last week attending the Centennial. They were accompanied home by the former's nephew, Charles De Ford of Terrell, for a visit.

A Tribute To Claud Warren, Jr.

(By Mrs. C. M. Kaigler)

"My body is only lent to me, I carry it with me tenderly; I have given it sleep, I have given it sky; So it will not be afraid to die.

I have taught it how to lie so still It can hear the heartbeats of the hill. I have given it every gentle care, I have washed its hands, I have brushed its hair.

And I think when it goes down with earth, Something beautiful will have birth;

A bit of grass or a willow tree, My body is only lent to me." —Mable Simpson.

The above bit of verse came to me when I knew little Claud Warren must surrender his body back to earth.

It was my privilege to have Claud as a pupil practically the whole time he lived in Haskell. The picture of him that will always hang in memory's hall is of a boy well groomed, face and hands clean and with nicely brushed hair. With a countenance shining with an interest in things worthwhile.

Claud was justly proud that he was a Boy Scout, often saying that he must get so much sleep or fresh air, or certain required exercise, or else refrain from doing certain things, so that he would be a good Scout.

Claud Warren was not only a talented speaker, he was a student and prepared well any work assigned him. He won first place in the Haskell County Interscholastic League declamation contest, four consecutive years, twice as a Junior grade school reader and twice from High School.

In our mind will always be associated when remembering Claud the last declamation with which he won first place honors. We called him into our studio one morning and told him that we had a declamation that just seemed to fit him, the title being "Father Remembers" Claud said, "Is that a declamation?" "Oh, yes," was the answer, "Anything that savors of good citizenship is a declamation." Then his answer in his characteristic way: "Alright, I'll do my best."

His best won him first place and his picture with the other winners in the Annual. He was invited to deliver his declamation before the adult assembly of the Methodist Sunday School, and those who heard him remember his fine interpretation and delivery of the reading.

Then, in March of this year Claud moved with his parents to Oklahoma City. To the family, whom we also knew well, we will say, rarely have we known an entire family who dealt with each other in everyday living, so tenderly as did you. We know there is a spiritual beyond but we leave that phase of his going to those more competent than we, and claiming the privilege, to weep with those who weep, we cry out with you dear hearts: "He loved life so, and He was so young to die; So much did he love wandering, So much he loved the open and the sky, That it will be a piteous thing, In one small grave to lie."

Meeting of Troop 35 — Next Wednesday night at the home of A. D. McClintock Scoutmaster. We urge all boys to be present because have our Scout building done.

IF you've been under the impression that Bread is a fattening food, consider what science has recently discovered.

Leading doctors and nutritionists, in a series of laboratory tests, have found that Bread, itself, is not fattening. In one test, a large group of women were given the same amounts of the same foods, and one-half of all the food they ate was White Bread. The women of normal weight neither gained nor lost. The overweight women lost weight!

Bread helps to burn up body fat, protects the body from acidosis, and supplies energy for being active.

Let science be your guide when it comes to eating Bread. And science says that Bread is your best and cheapest energy food!

"Your Pastor Next Year" Will Be Subject at M. E. Church

"Your Pastor Next Year" will be the Methodist Pastor's subject for Sunday.
Sunday is the last day of this Conference year. Naturally, the thought of the local Methodist Church is turning toward the events of the Annual Conference to convene at Houston next week where reports of this year's work are made and pastors are assigned to their fields of labor. Hence, the appropriateness of the subject which has been chosen by the local pastor for the Sunday morning service. "Who should this pastor be? What kind of sermons should he preach? Should he talk a lot about sin or primarily encourage and dwell on the positive side of Christian character and conduct?" These and related questions are important and are to receive consideration this last Sunday of the Conference year.

FARM PROSPERITY HELPS INDUSTRY

We have long wondered why the so-called business experts did not recognize the dependence of industrial prosperity upon a reasonable prosperity for American agriculture. Any resident of an agricultural community, who has witnessed the drying-up of business when farmers failed to make money, has also observed that merchant in such areas do not buy from manufacturers.

It ought to be plain that farmers, whose income is from the soil, create new buying power and that their money is naturally expended for the things that they cannot manufacture. This being true, it follows that the more money the farmers of the nation have, the more products of the factories they will desire and appreciate.

The curse of American agriculture, in the past, has been unwieldy surpluses of basic money crops. Naturally, the price went down and with it the farmers' opportunity to continue to consume factory-made products. Obviously, if the world is able to buy all the products that American farms can produce there will be a new meaning to prosperity in this country. It is interesting to observe that both political parties are impressed with the necessity of obtaining, as soon as possible, foreign markets for American agriculture products.

Having said so much we would not be misunderstood. While the farmer is important to the industrial workman the latter is also of great value to farmers. When the workman has employment, at good wages, he can afford to buy farm products, either directly as food or as commodities manufactured from farm products. The circle is round and both farmer and laborer help each other if they have the purchasing power that they should have.

LET'S START THEM RIGHT

There was a day when every young American was assured that he had a chance to become President of the United States, and if he failed, that, at the worst, he would probably make a million dollars.

The result of this teaching has probably been evil. The generations that have grown on such notions have been inclined to grab for themselves and get all that the law allows and some of the fruit that the law prohibits.

It is about time that education include the idea that an individual attains satisfaction, not by getting everything or the highest honors, but by serving society in his or her place with distinction. The development of men and women into intelligent creatures, with an understanding of man and nature, is a task that most of us complete late in life, if at all. Maybe by starting early with the youngsters we could help them attain a greater goal earlier in life, and that, we admit, is what life is intended to accomplish.

THE CAMPAIGN IS CLOSING

The campaign of 1936 is now in its final stages, with both candidates and their supporters confident and most of its history completed. President Roosevelt and Governor Landon have traveled extensively through a number of states, where party strategy dictated major appeals, and in less than a week the voters of the nation will go to the polls and determine who is to be the winner.

Naturally, there is much partisan feeling and men and women, under the stress of political battling, have become overwrought. They have made foolish charges and predictions. There has been some ill-feeling engendered but most of it will blow away with the count of the ballots. Luckily for the nation most of the dire prophecies will not come true, regardless of who is elected.

HOW TO AVOID FIRES

Now that Fire Prevention Week has passed and the people of this county have settled back with the conviction that, after all, it was just another one of those kind of weeks, it might not be amiss to make a few reflections in the hope of saving some lives in this county during the coming winter.

Two-thirds of the fires that occur in this country blaze up in dwellings and are responsible for the loss of 7,000 lives, half of them children. Statistics show that there are eight major causes of fires in the homes: rubbish, defective chimneys, combustible roofs, defective heating apparatus, matches and careless smoking, gasoline, kerosene electrical defects and hot ashes.

Householders might keep the list in mind and by taking care in regard to these dangers avoid a fire which might cause death. They should remember that individual carelessness is the greatest menace to safety, whether from fire or other hazards, and should not ignore safeguards to prevent fatal mistakes.

SAFETY ON THE HIGHWAYS

Seldom does a citizen take a long automobile journey without coming home with some story of danger as he tells how he narrowly escaped injury when another vehicle forced him off the road or barely averted crashing into his car.

The fact is that something must be done about highway accidents but nobody knows what should be done. Should high speed automobiles be outlawed? Few people agree that this would be the right remedy although most of them acknowledge that speeding is the cause of most accidents.

Of course, one way highways would cut down the accidents but the cost of such a system of roads is prohibitive in many areas. Rigid enforcement of all traffic regulations would also help but, too often, the highway patrolman is not available because of the simple truth that he cannot be everywhere.

On contribution to safety on the highways, however, can be made by every motorist. You can obey the traffic regulations, observe warning signs and drive courteously at all times. This is what everyone of us can do to assist in meeting a dangerous situation although the objection immediately comes up that all the care possible will not save a considerate driver from a fool on the roads.

Charles W. Taussig, Chairman, National Advisory Committee, National Youth Administration: "The preservation and reinforcement of our democracy should be the major objective of education."

Daniel C. Roper, Secretary of Commerce: "We have spent to save and rebuild a national economic and social structure which had collapsed in the four years from 1929 to 1933."

CURRENT COMMENT

PASSING THE BUCK

(Abilene Daily Reporter)

Governor Allred, by submitting the question of deliberalization of the old age pension law to the legislature, passed the buck squarely up to house and senate.

Declaring it "now appears utterly impossible to raise" the necessary amount of money to take care of the expected 150,000 who can qualify under existing laws, the governor asserted that the only alternative to a deliberalization would be a general sales tax.

Texas, he says, faces eventual bankruptcy if it persists in keeping the present over-liberal pension set-up.

The federal government could not be expected to match the $15,000,000 annually required to finance Texas' half under existing regulations.

The legislature did a sloppy piece of work in writing the pension law and in failing to make adequate tax provisions to finance it. It probably will make the suggested revisions only under protest, but it is difficult to see how anybody can draw a worthwhile pension unless such payments are confined to those actually in need.

Haskell County History

[As Revealed by the Files of the Free Press 20, 30 and 40 years ago.]

Twenty Years Ago—1916

In a gasoline explosion at Sagerton last Saturday, a young girl was so badly burned that she died several days later in the Stamford Sanitarium. The girl was cleaning a skirt with gasoline when the fluid became ignited.

D. C. Coldiron, farmer living a few miles out of town on the Stamford road reports that he had a good work horse shot and killed by hunters in his pasture.

Close on to 400 Haskell county people have visited the State Fair at Dallas to date and several more will probably go down before the closing date. It has been estimated that over 200 from Haskell county were in Dallas last Sunday.

S. W. Blount of Nacogdoches was in Haskell looking after his land interests in the northeast part of the county.

J. T. Tucker and family and Mrs. Carl Burkhalter, all from Throckmorton came over in Mr. Tucker's automobile Thursday and spent the day shopping in Haskell.

Mrs. G. W. Waldrop of south of town returned from Abilene Saturday, where she had been visiting her mother, Mrs. M. S. Pierson and attending the Taylor County Fair.

Spence Beaver left Tuesday morning for a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Soule Elliott of Dallas, and will attend the Fair while there.

Thursday night, Oct. 26th, Sir Knight L. G. Hawkins, Grand Junior Warden of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of Texas, inspected the local Commandery.

Rabbit hunters of Haskell county will meet in the office of Justice of the Peace S. A. Hughes on the First Monday in November at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of arranging for a rabbit drive in the near future.

Thirty Years Ago—1896

We are reliably informed that the Wichita Valley is considering the advisability of putting on a through train to run over the Ft. Worth and Denver and W. V. railroads from Fort Worth via Wichita Falls and this place to Abilene.

Mr. W. S. Fouts gave us the following figures on some cotton picking done on his place one day last week by four young men: Jim Fouts picked 550 pounds, Ross Adams 578 pounds, Edgar Fouts 500 pounds, and Charley Jackson 400 pounds, which is a pretty good record and it also indicates that the cotton in which they were picking was pretty good.

Mr. J. R. Miller, who was bitten by a rattlesnake about four weeks ago was in town Thursday. Mr. Miller said he was picking cotton and put his knee on the snake and was bitten before he saw the reptile. He immediately ran about three hundred yards to his home, when his son promptly sucked the poison from the wound which was no doubt the means of saving his life.

Mr. R. B. Fields says his grape vines now have the second crop on them. He stated that one bunch of the grapes is very large.

Mr. Wiley Robertson of Wichita Falls was in Haskell several days this week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Robertson.

Mr. Cave Reynolds of Pembroke, Ky., is visiting his sister, Mrs. H. S. Wilson.

The Haskell Lumber Company sold a bill of lumber to a party in Young county last week. If all the business men in town will pull together, Haskell ought to get a large share of the Throckmorton county trade. The roads are good between Throckmorton and Haskell and if put in good repair will greatly benefit our town.

Forty Years Ago—1896

Mr. W. L. Hills came near a serious accident Thursday night. He was in a carriage driving a spirited team, going to bring a bridal party to the Presbyterian Church, when, in turning a corner, it being quite dark, he ran into a post and shattered a wheel. A runaway was only averted by the doubletree breaking and releasing the team, which he succeeded in holding. A change was quickly made and the party arrived nearly on time.

Our old townsman, Mr. H. C. Dillahunty, came down from the Indian Territory this week to move out the cattle he left here.

On Thursday night, the 29th inst., at 8:30 p. m., at the Baptist Church in this place, Rev. R. E. Sherrill of the Presbyterian church officiating, Mr. S. W. Scott and Miss Fannie Tandy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tandy of Haskell, were united in marriage.

More rain fell this week and a cool northwester struck, but no frost yet. The prospect is that all the late forage will be saved.

Mr. Rose brought us a stalk of milo maize the other day grown on Mr. Fitzgerald's place by Mr. Higdon. Notwithstanding the terrible dry year, this stalk is as fine a one as we ever saw. It has ten good heads on it, several of them large and well filled with plump grains.

LAW AND LOVE

International Sunday School Lesson for November 1, 1936.

Golden Text: "It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth."—Romans 14:21.

(Lesson Text: Romans 13:1-14)

Paul wrote his letter to the Romans from Corinth, in Greece, about the year A. D. 57. The larger part of this Epistle deals with spiritual fundamentals but the latter part takes up some of the practical questions of the day.

In the thirteenth chapter Paul discusses three topics: (1) The place of government in the Christian's life; (2) The effect of love upon the Christian's relationship with others; and (3) the obligation for a sober, Christian life. Our lesson text emphasizes the reciprocal obligations of the Christian and his government.

The Jews, as a race, had been traditionally patriotic; they resented domination by any other race or people. Paul's letter may have been to offset the belief on the part of some early Christians that they should have no part in political affairs or to prevent Christians from laying themselves open to accusations of rebellion or opposition to Roman authority.

When Paul wrote this letter the Roman administration was very good, exhibiting toleration and wisdom and the treatment of such problems was not severe. At this time the government had not turned upon the Christians in Rome and elsewhere—on the contrary Roman authorities had some times protected Christians against the inflamed prejudices of the Jews and the Barbarians.

The interesting speculation arises whether Paul would have written quite so strongly for government as divinely ordained if he had lived in the subsequent age when the Roman emperors began burning and executing Christians. While much can be said for the viewpoint that any government is better than anarchy therefore, it is the duty of the Christian to obey constitutional authority, this cannot be taken without caution because to do so would deny forever the individual right to exercise his own conscience and the political right of abating terrific injustice by the fundamental resort to revolution.

Certainly, in a Democratic state where the voters can control and change government peaceably as they desire, there is no excuse on their part, whether Christian or otherwise, should render obedience to the government instituted and maintained by the support of a majority of the voters. But, Paul was writing in a day of autocratic authority and his utterances have been cited through the ages as substantiating the historically proclaimed "divine right" of kings.

The proper view of the obligation of a citizen in a Democratic country is put forward by Galus Glenn Atkins. "The state is still ordained of God; government is a part of the growing order of any world fit to live in. Our Christian loyalties ought not to defeat, they ought rather to increase, our civic loyalties. Christian citizenship is a Christian duty. If our laws are not Christian, then it is our business to make them Christian; if those in authority do not represent Christian ideals, we are not to deny authority, but to secure legislators and governors whose ideals are Christian. The majority of the voters at every election are either actually or nominally Christian voters, and if we are not making America Christian state, we have no one to blame but ourselves."

Certainly in such a government the Christian owes certain obligations to the government in which he participates and receives undoubted benefits. Police protection, improved roads, educational facilities, the maintenance of private rights against aggressors, and many other necessary safeguards and conveniences come to us as a result of the cooperative unit which we call government. As long as the popular will is fairly reflected in elections the avenue for peaceful reform is open and certainly no Christian, under such circumstances, should be engaged in treasonable or seditious activities. Personally, we would not apply so wide a doctrine to those living under autocratic and dictatorial authority, for in this case the will of one man is no better than the decision of the citizen on the subject.

Certainly, no one would go far enough to maintain that a good Christian should feel himself morally bound by every edict of government, even in a Democratic state. There may be some questions upon which the state legislates in such a way as to violate the conscience of a Christian citizen. Theoretically, the Christian should refuse to violate his own conscience, regardless of the command of law. Practically, however, this should be modified by the further observation that the beneficial effects of government are so great and the necessity for authority so apparent that this individual right of nullification should be exercised very cautiously. It would probably be far better for society as a whole for Christian citizens sometimes to suffer in patience rather than to precipitate disorder. Only the continued and grave violation of Christian conscience and the certain absence of any reasonable expectations of peaceable improvement should justify a Christian in rebellion and disobedience to the constitutional authority. Paul emphasizes the law of love as the controlling rule in human lives. If every citizen was actuated by this rule there would be no need for government or compelling authority. Love, certainly, represents the entire fulfillment of all law which has for its purpose the good of humanity. If every citizen considered this, and sincerely practiced it, there would be no need for hundreds and thousands of statutes which have been passed to protect members of society against the aggression and wrong-doing of others.

OUR AIMS.

A new and the only Rural School in Haskell county, has many aims which we hope to accomplish in the year 1936-37.

We wish to accomplish something which the old and young generations to come will look upon with admiration.

Our boys and girls of Mattson have one of the best, if not the best, basketball teams in the county. They have received new suits and everyone is proud of them. The students have entered into this year's work with the intention of making an mark toward the goal—an excellent rural high school.

We hope to have our new building closed by the end of the year. The students understand the importance of the building and with their willingness and help we hope to get Mattson in the near future, the strong faculty, willing body and faithful assistance of the patrons of the school we hope to accomplish great things at Mattson.

FAIR DAY.

The twenty-first day of October was a great one for the inhabitants of Mattson, especially for the students of Mattson School.

As the buses made their appearance on the school campus Wednesday morning, students came forth with gay laughter and merry shouts. Everyone assembled to their classes and everything became quiet for a while.

About eleven o'clock students, teachers and everyone climbed aboard the buses. It would have been interesting if a person could have hidden somewhere on Bus Number One and heard the conversations and arguments that were being enacted. This may be explained when it is said that the high school students occupied that particular bus.

Upon arriving at Haskell the buses drove around the square. Of course there were many heads lifted with pride as people stopped their occupation for the present to look at the beautiful new silver colored buses from Mattson Rural High.

The buses were in the parade, and afterwards parked close to the fairgrounds. The students filed off to "see the sights" in groups of two's or three's.

While the students are visiting the fair let us examine some other interesting events. Mattson's mascots were not missing! Little Miss Nancy Ann Furrh and Billy Couch with their black cowboy boots and white hats, their silver blouses and black riding trousers, mounted on small Shetland ponies constituted a very becoming spectacle!

"Miss Mattson" (Mrs. G. V. Stratton) won the beautiful expensive saddle, awarded by the Chamber of Commerce to the best riding and best dressed sponsor.

Raymond Couch, won second place in the Junior Boys contest. He was awarded a dollar bill. It might be mentioned—to show he has the cowboy spirit—that after receiving his dollar he walked over to a hardware store and purchased him a lariar rope.

About four o'clock students began to gather around the buses, most of them noticing the cold weather, especially some who left their coats behind.

Not half so much shouting and laughing was heard on the return, as at the beginning. Everyone was tired and cold. Each person reported a grand time, so the day was enjoyed by all in spite of the weather.

MATTSON "HOSS LAFFS"

Miss Crume—Did you ever see "Oliver Twist?"
 Rip—No, I never go to dances.

That Guy From Denton—A kiss is like gossip, it goes from mouth to mouth.
 Miss Perrin—Well, pass it on, tch, tch!

Elmer C.—When is your sister thinking of getting married?
 La Vera—Constantly.

John F.—May I marry your daughter?
 Mr. Stanford—Do you drink, young man?
 John F.—Well—er—let's settle this other matter first.

Alice (at the Fair)—Don't those peanuts smell good?
 Bob—Yes, let's stop and smell awhile.

Gwyndola—I wonder if any one loves me.
 John A.—Oh, yes, God does.

Mrs. Watson—This is our thirtieth wedding anniversary. Shall I kill the turkey?
 Mr. Watson—Of course not. The poor bird is not to blame.

Brantley—Jack, why are you so little?
 Jack—Well, when I was small they fed me canned milk. Now I'm condensed.

Miss Dawson—Who was ruler of France during the French Revolution?
 Henry D.—Louis fourteenth. No, Louis sixteenth—No, Louis fifteenth. No, well, anyway, he was still in his "teens!"

Bud—I took a drink of moonshine the other day.
 Nellie K.—What was it like?
 Bud—I find I can get the same result by kissing a spark plug when the motor is running.

Mrs. Bert Welsh and children spent the week end in Dallas with relatives and visited with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Chrisman, who were there from Oberlin, La.

SENIOR CLASS OF MATTSON.

The large Senior Class of Mattson elected their officers Tuesday morning. Miss Henrietta Perrin is our class sponsor. We hope she enjoys being our sponsor as much as we enjoy having her as our sponsor. John Melvin McGuire was unanimously elected as our president. The class wishes him success as a president of the class and will try to cooperate with him in every way possible. Nellie Kate Derr is our secretary-treasurer. Elva Couch was elected reporter.

As we are members of the first Senior Class of Mattson High School, we will endeavor to set a good example for the Senior Classes to follow.

JUNIORS ORGANIZE CLASS.

On Tuesday, October 20th the Juniors of Mattson Rural High elected their officers for the school term of 1936-37.

By popular vote of the class the officers were elected as follows: President, Clyde Crume. Vice-President, John Aleck Mayfield. Secretary-Treasurer, Lou Etta Stanford. Reporter, Henry Druesedow, Jr.

The Juniors intend to be the leading class at Mattson this year.

FRESHMEN CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS.

The Freshman Class met Oct. 15th and elected the officers for the following year.

They are as follows: President, James Robert Massie. Vice-President, Bobbie Louise Haynes. Secretary-Treasurer, Robbie Jo Tolliver. Reporter, Verna Mildred Mapes.

The Freshmen Class plans to be on the top for Mattson this year.

HALLOWE'EN CARNIVAL.

Everyone is looking forward to the Halloween Carnival, which will be given at Mattson school house Friday night, October 30th. There will be plenty of spooks around, so you had better be careful.

If the Fair at Haskell was rained out, you still have a chance to have some fun.

If you are hungry and cold the Home-making girls will be at your assistance behind booths with sandwiches and coffee. And there will also be plenty of good old butter-popped pop corn, roasted peanuts, and all kinds of candy.

Don't miss the startling side-shows. Go through the craziest crazy house you have ever seen or ever will see.

The public is invited to attend and spend plenty of money!
