How Haskell Has Grown Since 1905

HASKELL INDIANS PLAY ROBY LIONS HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

These two pictures give a slight idea of how Haskell has grown. The top photograph, taken in 1905 by E. L. Huntsman of Knox City, shows the west side of Haskell's square 32 years ago. The bottom picture shows the typical Saturday crowd, shopping on the north side of the same square this Fall.

Fifth Non-Conference Game Of Season For Indians

Although hampered by unfit weather conditions the Haskell Indians have been holding workouts on a muddy field this week in preparation for their fifth game of the season with the Roby Lions Friday night.

Officers Seize Still and Liquor In Surprise Raid

Confiscating a complete still that had been in operation only a few hours before, and seizing 10 gallons of "corn" liquor, members of the sheriff's department also took into custody a well-known Haskell farmer Wednesday afternoon in a surprise raid on a farm five miles southeast of Haskell.

Wichita To Send Delegation Here Opening Fair Day

A delegation of Wichita Falls visitors will attend the opening day of the Central West Texas Fair, Wednesday, October 20.

Western States Shows To Be Here For Entire Week

Western States Show will arrive in Haskell Sunday and open their doors to the public Monday, October 18, two days before the Central West Texas Fair.

Wichita To Send Delegation Here Opening Fair Day

A delegation of Wichita Falls visitors will attend the opening day of the Central West Texas Fair, Wednesday, October 20.

PREPARATIONS FOR THIRTEENTH ANNUAL FAIR COMPLETED

Workmen Repair Buildings For Varied Exhibits To Be Shown

When the gates swing wide Wednesday morning for the opening of the thirteenth annual Central West Texas Fair all will be in readiness.

Workmen have completed the new roof on the livestock building making it rain proof for animals that will be exhibited by FFA boys from Rule, Weirer, Haskell and other livestock men.

The poultry building, destroyed by fire last year, has been replaced with a larger, improved building.

Construction of booths in the exhibit hall has been started and women will put delicate finishing touches to fine arts exhibits, needlework displays and home demonstration booths and others in their division before the Fair starts.

The 1937 fair has met a hearty response from Haskell merchants and concerns are contracting all available exhibit space.

The grounds have been cleared of all weed and rubbish and stalls have been removed from the rear of the grandstand. Extensive repairs are being made to the grandstand in preparation for the automobile races on Texas' fastest track.

Opening day will find agricultural exhibits, livestock exhibit, poultry show and commercial displays awaiting visitors.

Stage Set For Grand Pageant Wednesday Night

Outstanding feature of the Fair will be the grand pageant staged in a natural setting under glowing floodlights at the high school stadium Wednesday night, October 20, at 8 p. m.

Presented under the capable direction of Mrs. W. L. Richey, the pageant will be divided into six units with a cast of hundreds participating.

Chimexing event will be the coronation of the Queen of Months selected by a group of secret judges from among the honored parade entries. Her identity will be kept a secret until she is crowned at the pageant.

First unit in this glamorous event will be presentation of the twelve school entries—each an array of Fairy tale costumes under sweeping spot lights. This will be followed by pep squad stunts of the surrounding high schools. Next will be the marching bands followed by presentation of Cowgirl sponsors, then the crowning of the Queen.

Grand finale of the pageant will be massed formation of the bands playing in unison "Eyes of Texas" with the entire company joining in song.

A beautiful silver loving cup is to be awarded best performance of pep squad stunt and band stunt. First prize of $10.00 will be given to the outstanding school entry in the pageant, second prize of $5.00 and $2.50 for third prize.

RILEY LEWELLEN AGAIN MEMBER SHERIFF'S FORCE

Riley Lewellen, former deputy sheriff, who has been engaged in the tractor and implement business for the past eighteen months is again a member of the sheriff's department, having accepted a commission recently under Sheriff Giles Kemp. Personnel of the department at present includes Mart Clifton, chief deputy; Mrs. Hettie Williams, office deputy; Riley Lewellen, and Ollie Kitley, deputy at Rule.

MATTSON MUSTANGS TANGLE WITH MUNDAY FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The Mattson Mustangs will tangle with the Munday Moguls at Munday Friday afternoon for their second football game.

The newly organized squad upset Rochester in a 6-0 victory last week and the inexperienced boys will attempt to repeat the win over the strong Munday club.

Mrs. T. A. Williams of Monahans former resident of Haskell, spent Tuesday here with friends. She was accompanied by a son, Jim Williams, who is engaged in business at Monahans.

Five True Bills Voted Wednesday By Grand Jurors

The Grand Jury, reconvening for the second time during September term of court returned five indictments including charges of burglary, child desertion and adultery Wednesday.

Raymond Wilkerson and Grady Huffman, were both serving sentences in the penitentiary, were indicted for burglary of the W. P. Keyes confectionary here three years ago and another charge of burglary of Campbell's store at Weirer is against Wilkerson.

Sheriff Giles Kemp obtained confessions from the two criminals at Huntsville when he was returning a prisoner here for trial.

The grand jury indicted one man for child desertion, and one man was indicted for adultery. The morals offense allegedly occurred at a farm home near Haskell several months ago.

Safety Council For Community To Start Work

Officers of the newly organized Community Wide Safety Council met in the auditorium of the North Ward school Thursday, immediately following a safety session of the North Ward Parent-Teacher Association, and heard Sargeant M. C. Myers of the State Highway Patrol give a safety program. Mr. Myers is honorary vice-president of the group.

As a unit of the National Safety Council the officers will appoint committee that will immediately launch a county-wide safety program to lower accidents and fatalities in the homes and on the highways.

One of the first steps confronting the Safety Council is child safety. Already Junior Safety patrols have been organized and are directing traffic at high way crossings by the schools. Other activities to supplement and round out the elementary school safety program will be sponsored from time to time in period assemblies, safety essay and poster contests, and other features of educational nature, it is announced.

A study of certain outstanding causes of accidents throughout the country is planned. What, how and why are they happening? Such information will be obtained by the Council. Other projects including extra-curricular activities in the schools, home educational study, and others will be taken up as the Council progresses.

FFA Chapters At Weirer To Stage School Carnival

A grand musical show of the Queen will be the featured attraction of the second annual Halloween Carnival sponsored by the Future Farmer and Future Homemakers chapters of the Weirer high school Saturday night, October 30.

Each class has nominated a candidate for the Queen: Clara Sue Mitchell, senior class, Inez Medley, junior; Rana Tankersley, sophomore; Joyce Clifton, freshman.

Plans call for several booths and side shows, where all kinds of eats, drinks and trinkets that ordinarily go with a carnival will be sold. In the side shows various stunts, with students performing will be given. The most popular stunt last year was the "faculty" side show, booked again this year, where students imitate faculty members.

This is the one night during the year that is dedicated to fun-making. Although the students are putting on the show, plenty of amusement for parents and patrons will be furnished. This show is for the community, according to J. B. King, president of the FFA chapter.

Commissioners' Court To Use $60,000 From Bond Issue

Building of the $60,000 Haskell County hospital will be started in the near future, announced officials today when report that the proposed $45,000 PWA grant has been turned down by government authorities.

Because "application for grant did not come within section 205 of the Public Works Administration extension act" it was refused. In other words, bonds for the hospital were not voted soon enough for the Federal grant to be extended for this project.

Commissioners' Court will meet Monday, October 18, and start a survey of local hospitals needs and specifications. The group, with doctors of the county and other interested citizens, will visit hospitals in West Texas, before drawing up definite plans for the Haskell County hospital.

Bonds were sold at par and four and one-fourth per cent accrued interest to the highest bidder a month ago, and architects have drawn tentative plans for the hospital but bids are not yet open to contractors for the construction work. Issuance of $60,000 bonds was authorized by Haskell county voters in a county-wide election last July. Site for location is still to be chosen by the Commissioners' Court.

A one story, twenty-five room hospital, completely equipped with the most modern facilities available can be constructed with $60,000, it is estimated. After the hospital is built and ready for operation, management of the institution will be under the supervision of a Board of Managers.

Workmen Erect Gin Building In Two Days

Hindered by continued rain this week construction of the Farmers Cooperative Gin No. 1, has been delayed several days but workmen will have the new gin completed by middle of next week, announces the contractor.

Material for the building arrived Wednesday night and by Friday afternoon it will be completed. Coming in sheet metal sections it is fastly assembled and the roof will be placed on in a few hours.

Machinery for the gin has been shipped from Dallas and will arrive in Haskell Thursday night. Installation will take, at the longest, five days, it is announced.

Because of rain, workmen lost Tuesday and Wednesday, and no night work has been done so far. Only a small crew of seven and eight men have been used.

This larger all-steel gin and gin house will have five stands and five more will be added when ginning necessitates it.

English Classes Correspond With Friends Abroad

The second year English classes are doing something new. Early last week Mrs. Wimbish received a letter informing her how her students could obtain corresponding friends abroad.

This letter came from Dr. Iven V. Knudsen in Boston, Massachusetts. He is the president of the directory of boys and girls of all nations, is a Dane and has his home in Denmark. He personally organized, directs and finances the Directory from his office in Europe and America.

The Directory has on file the names of boys and girls between 14 and 21 years of age of practically all nations who want to receive personal letters in English from American boys and girls. The American students write the first letters and in English. This language is what the students abroad want to read and to use for their replies because it is their native tongue, or they have learned it in school.

The American students write in their first letters, about personal matters such as school life, vacations, sports, chores, family, home, town, city and country and they often enclose snapshots.

Boys may write to boys, girls to girls, or girls to boys and boys to girls with the exception that no boy may write to French or Roumanian girls.

About 45 students sent their names from here to receive names of foreign students and expect to receive answers in about December.

Gypsy Ramblers Plan Big Year

Ruh! Ruh! Ruh! Three cheers for the largest and hardest working club in high school—the Gypsy Ramblers!

All members report that they will put forth all their effort to reaching any intended goal this year, and from the present indications we know the Ramblers will exceed all past efforts.

Although there are already approximately eighty-five in the organization the Senior Ramblers are planning to vote in new members sometime in the near future. The more the merrier.

Christine Lowe Saves The Day

The other day in Plane Geometry Mr. Wimbish said, "After I show you how to solve this problem as the book does, I will show you a different way." Well Mr. Wimbish worked the problem as the book did and said, "We have a few minutes left, so I will give you a test." Christine raised her hand and exclaimed, "Mr. Wimbish, you promised to solve the problem a different way!" She, Christine, saved Mr. Wimbish from having to grade a lot of papers and saved some of the members of the class a low grade.

Solve It If You Can

In government class the students were studying crime. A student made this suggestion—"If while a man was robbing a house the owner saw him and shouted at him and the man ran across the street, a careless driver ran over the man and killed him, who would be tried for the crime?"

Mrs. Wimbish, not to be left behind proposed this—"If two men were standing on the concrete sidewalk quarreling and one man becomes angry and snarls the other man down, he hits the sidewalk with his head and fractures his skull. An ambulance is called, and on the way to the hospital the ambulance has a wreck and the poor man is thrown out and breaks one of his arms, and crushes one lung. They carry him on to the hospital and on the way he develops pneumonia. After he gets to the hospital one of the nurses leaves the window up too high and he develops double pneumonia and finally he dies. Is anyone tried for murder? Solve it if you can.

Attention, Pep Squad!

This is the pep squad girls. By owning a pep suit you have the right of being in the pep squad; of joining in all the fun that goes inevitably whenever a group of girls start out to do something. Not only is it a right to wear a pep suit, but it is a privilege. The whole high school is solidly allied behind the Indians team, but you girls have gone a good deal farther to show your loyalty. You organized into a definite society and worked up yells and songs and field stunts to tell those boys on the football team and everyone else that you were backing Haskell High School—win, lose or draw.

What all of this has been leading up to is if you ARE in the pep squad, BE in it, in every meeting and at every football game with your suit on, prepared for anything the leaders may ask you to do. They won't be unreasonable in their demands and if there is anything that will give spirit to a pep squad, it is an attitude of willingness on the part of every girl.

Remember this the next time you are tempted to miss a meeting. ("Just one meeting won't matter. They aren't going to do anything much"). Think this: If the meeting wasn't important, it wouldn't be called in the first place. Go, and everyone, even you, will be in a better frame of mind because you didn't skip that meeting!

OUR APPRECIATION TO THE BUSINESS MEN

In appreciation to the merchants who contributed to the Gypsy Ramblers Club by buying advertising space for the football programs, the Gypsy Ramblers wish to express their sincere thanks. Also they wish to thank Mary Louise Holland, Wynona Frances Post, Frances Fouts, Christine Lowe, Madge Leon and Anita Jo Simmons, who participated in selling these ads.

Football For Little Girls—And Some Big Ones

Backfield men do not carry the ball forward on every play by any means. Sometimes they "punt" and sometimes they "pass" according to the situation at hand. Let us see when and why the "punt." For convenience we'll name our teams A and B, and we'll suppose that A gets possession of the ball down close to their own goal line—just in time maybe, to keep B from scoring on them. What is A team going to do? They are nearly the distance of the field from the chance to make a touchdown, and if they risk taking their four downs there so near their own goal line they face the risk of fumbling or losing the ball, and letting the other team have a glorious chance to score. It is too great a risk even if they are as far out as their own twenty yard line. So on their first down when the backfield man receives the ball from center, he "punts" or kicks it as far as he can down the field; he intentionally lets it go to the possession of B team, rather than to put it in play in dangerous territory. If the punter makes a good kick he gets it out in midfield, or toward the other goal, where it is caught or picked up by some backfield man on B team—usually the "safety" or man who plays farther back. The carrier runs with it as far as he can towards A's goal and at the point where he is brought down, B team gets started on four downs.

"Oh, too bad!" you say if you're on A's side and if the punt goes out of bounds down past B's twenty-yard line. Save your sorrow; that's what they want. If A can punt out-of-bounds behind B's twenty-yard line, B cannot return it; it must be put in play on B's twenty yard line. That is better for team A than for a B player to catch it and bring it back to the thirty or maybe the forty yard line before he is brought down.

So far, this discussion on punts has considered the condition under which the team punts on first down. But that is not the only time a team punts. Even in mid-field or past it, if team A has tried unsuccessfully for three downs and hasn't much hope of gaining a "first down" on their fourth, it stands to reason that B team will get the ball on downs anyway, so A sets them back as far as possible, on the punt.

Spectators who half way understand the tactics of the game can begin watching for punts and soon will learn when to expect them as a general rule. But don't spoil the good impression your seeming superior knowledge may have made on all the other spectators around you, and don't embarrass your "date" by saying "Now they're going to kick off again." They're not going to "kick-off", they're going to punt. After the kick-off that starts the game, there isn't another kick-off until a touchdown and a try-for-extra point has been made—or until the second half begins, if no score is made in the first half.

Watch this column next week for a discussion of the "pass"—the play that makes "mark-to-mark" the specialty of the Southwest Conference and the story of "Sinain Sam" Baum.

Well, a beauty contest can do things can't it. Easy, don't start stammering; Martha did kinda remind one of a good dream come true.

Dope on the fish; definition of a double date! It's when you go with two different people in one night with two different people. Well we knew they were dumb—but...

Oh yes, I almost forgot, would three certain sophomore girls like to meet some Crowell boys? Hunt!

Campus Spotlight

We turn the spot light on these very particular people, of which two of them are high school students, Jimmie Crawford is supposed to have Eula Fay Glass for his girl friend, but Red Watson doesn't think so. Confidentially, neither does Eula Fay.

We wonder why Roy Wiseman looks so gloomy now-a-days. We know it's not because Mayre Lena left—(Not much).

Majerie Ratliff has really been going to town with 7777 since Lynn Pace has been in the Stamford hospital. But still she gets mad every time she thinks of him being so close to one of his former girl friends.

All of the high school students know about it by now, but I'd like to give it to all readers of the Warwhoop. It was a very unusual thing for a girl to do but a certain sophomore girl asked Fay McKennon to go steady. (Imagine that). If she only knew him like I do, she would know better than to ask a boy that dates other girls so much anything like that.

We wonder what Frances Myrl Edwards would do without those "cute" bangs.

Scouting Around

I think Dorothy J. and Woody F. want to go to California—not especially together though.

Joe Maples is getting good at standing Eula Faye up. (P. S. Jake).

Peas from the same pod—Frances Reese and Leatrice Wheeler.

Peas from different pods—Anita Jo and Frances Kaigler.

Doris W. is stuck on a certain boy from "Arkansas."

We don't think Kinzie is doing T. L. D. from Abilene just right. "Neba" meet the cutest boy from Munday.

Mr. Banks just can't hide the second period from some juniors wanting help on physics.

We need to change "The Royals" name to "The school kid's holiday."

Zug says that Squab has a girl. How about you, Zug?

Marjorie is getting good at leading girls at pep squad practice.

Sophomore Chatterbox

Eula Hayes surely does believe in the old saying, "Variety is the spice of life." Only she applies it to girls. Catch the drift?

It seems as though Doris just "oh" makes up her mind. But "those two" don't seem to care, so we shouldn't.

Emma Pearl, we want to ask you, "Does that Garland have a twin?"

Harrison, we've heard that you're trying to grow up. Is that true?

Well, a beauty contest can do things can't it. Easy, don't start stammering; Martha did kinda remind one of a good dream come true.

Dope on the fish; definition of a double date! It's when you go with two different people in one night with two different people. Well we knew they were dumb—but...

Miss Mend-It

(Introducing Miss Mend-It, otherwise known as Use-a-Needle And-Thread-If-All-Else-Fails. She will solve your problems, be they social or financial, class difficulties or heart troubles. All are invited to tell everything to her, which she will in time tell to everyone, through this column).

I was very pleased with the number of letters I received this week although I would like to hear from every one of you. Please feel free to write me and ask me to advise you about problems of all sorts.

I received the two following letters which I would like to answer and I wish them complete success:

Dear Miss Mend-It: Last Sunday afternoon I saw Mexican senorita but as I can't speak Spanish I can't tell her of my love for her or obtain her address.

Will you please advise me what to do and how to learn Spanish quick?

Yours truly, Sam (Gotta-Have-Her) Henshaw

I am enclosing an address from which you can learn to make love in Spanish in 10 easy lessons, but as you are the enthusiastic type I'm sure you will be prepared by the fifth lesson.

As a tip on the side, she is camped at Roadside Park, Adios, Senior, Miss Mend-It.

Dear Miss Mend-It: I am conveniently supplied with admirers, but there is one beyond my reach, a Mr. Phelps.

Will you please assist me in this difficult situation to make him have eyes only for me.

Forlornly, Mary Jo Free.

Perhaps if you would purchase an ample supply of ice every day, he could not help but melt under your "Come-hither" gaze. Wishing you a warm success.

Miss Mend-It.

QUAKER OATS

For years we've eaten QUAKER OATS. They're the "BIG TEN" Commissioner of Athletics, JOHN L. GRIFFITH, great American athletic authority, President of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Alert mothers everywhere give children this warm, tasty breakfast because it has the extra value of Nature's Vitamin B. Doctor's say you and the youngsters should have this precious vitamin every day to combat nervousness, constipation and poor digestion. Yet this wonderfully wholesome breakfast costs only 1/2 cent per serving. There's no other oatmeal like it. Today many grocers offer Quaker Oats at a special price for 2 packages.

BRACES UP NERVES & DIGESTION

Mrs. H. F. Monke had as her guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Nickols of Red Springs, Baylor County. Mrs. Nickols will be remembered as Miss Bill Burt, a very popular teacher of the Weinert school several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Jones and daughter, Miss Roselle of Union Chapel community were in town Sunday. Miss Roselle has recently returned from an extensive trip to numerous places of interest.

The Hillbilly Life Of Bill Smith

Bill Smith, christened William Jonathan Silas Smith, was born on a farm in Arkansas. He was never off the farm until he was twenty-six years of age and then he only went to town to buy a pair of shoes, and the only reason he did that was because he felt his feet might get too big if he went barefooted, the reason for that being that he already wore size 12 1-2 DD. Bill loved a girl but she loved another hillbilly so he never married. He lived to a ripe old age—the age being 89. Thus ended the fruitful life of Bill Smith. He might have lived to be old had it not been that when his shoes wore out, he caught cold going without them, the reason for that being he was used to wearing them.

Do You Know?

1. What hands can a farmer get that will work twelve hours a day, rain or shine?
2. Why is a dog's tail like the heart of a tree?
3. What shoemaker makes shoes without leather? With all four elements put together, fire and water, earth and air; Every customer has two pairs.
4. What goes uphill and downhill and always stands on its head?
1. Clock hands.
2. Both as far as possible from the bark.
3. The blacksmith.
4. Horseshoe nail.

Personal Column

The Seniors regret to say that one of their number, Lynn Pace Jr., is in the Stamford Sanitarium where he was operated on Sunday morning for appendicitis. He is making steady recovery. Kinzie Tucker is absent from school because of illness. Miss Vick, due to illness of her mother, was absent from school on Monday. The freshmen have a new member of the class. She is Alta Mae Johnson and she comes to Haskell

High School from Throckmorton. Also, the sophomores are proud to say that Ruby Sharp of Gilliam community has registered as one of their rank.

Pep Squad Squawks

Anita Jo is seen these days with several boys. Which one does she take seriously?

Who is the boy from Stamford who comes to see Christene Lowe?

We all are wondering why Eva Jo doesn't trifle as much as Lon. Gladys Catherine's heart is still at Weinert.

Martian is so cute when her hair has been rained on. (For that matter, aren't we all?)

Some of us wish we could be Kinzie some Thursday night when she goes to Abilene.

We haven't heard any scandal on Jean C. this year—is she fading?

Wynona P. Louise P., and Frances Edwards would like to (or do they?) yell for certain old flames on the Indian team.

We wonder if Frances Fout's feet stayed dry all Friday night. Who was that boy looking for Francis Kaigler Sunday night?

"Keep my pipe for I may yet have a smoke in the beyond," said George Polson of Waukegan, Ill., in a note he wrote before committing suicide.

Robert Sogren of Duluth fired a pistol as a salute to a newly-wedded couple, shooting off a guest's finger and slightly wounding the bride.

Mrs. J. U. Fields Instructing Class In Unique Study of Glass

Mrs. J. U. Fields, prominent social leader, held Tuesday the initial meeting of perhaps the most unique of educational study classes—a group study of glassware by Haskell women, using her own fascinating and priceless collection as material.

Meeting twice each week on Tuesday and Wednesday from nine until ten thirty a. m. Mrs. Fields will give a series of six lessons to local visitors and others from surrounding towns on this unusual and interesting subject. During the lecture courses she will impart useful information concerning old and modern glass. These classes are for all who are interested in glassware.

strange mysterious beauty of glass, there is a magic that causes the enchanted to continue and appreciation to develop for these treasures.

Mrs. Fields possesses one of the most valuable and varied collections of glass found in West Texas, gathered in her travels over countries abroad and a few beautiful antique pieces which she has inherited.

One of Mrs. Fields' prized pieces is light green translucent spoon holder in oak leaf pattern, inherited from her great-grandmother. From her maternal grandmother she has a clear jelly dish with oak leaf pattern, a large clear fruit stand of bull's eye design and a cake stand in thistle pattern, all made of pressed glass.

It was during one of her endless tours among antique shops in a quaint town in Pennsylvania that she discovered one of the first lamps made in the United States. Her knowledge of historical pieces marked it at once as a possession to be added to her collection.

The lamp, square with a milk glass base, bowl measuring twelve inches with a pattern of U. S. Seals with the thirteen stars, representing the thirteen original colonies, between the seals.

On a jaunt to Mexico City several years ago she visited the famed Tlaxcala Market and purchased two very rare pieces, a fruit stand and matched cake plate of very light greenish yellow with opalescent border and sunburst pattern. Both of these exquisite pieces have registered numbers inscribed, only known pieces to be numbered made in Puebla, Mexico, and of undetermined age.

In Charleston, South Carolina, Newman, Georgia, Richmond, Virginia, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania and other places she has gathered an Amberina pitcher and five glasses with inverted thumbprint. These are beautifully decorated with enameled flowers.

and I think, are worthy to be museum pieces."

These enchanting treasures, too numerous to mention, but all priceless possessions are pieces of such glass found in the great museums of the world, intriguing, fragile beauty representing mastered craftsmanship in the art of glassmaking.

Harmony Club

The Harmony Club opened its new season Wednesday, October 8th with a six o'clock dinner at the Tonkawa Hotel and a concert at eight o'clock at the library.

The president, Mrs. Tommye B. Hawkins, presided at the dinner. She extended greetings and expressed an earnest desire for the cooperation of the members in making this year's work one of the best in the history of the club.

The dinner table was beautifully decorated with centerpieces of queens wreath and roses. A delicious four course dinner was served.

At the library the guests were greeted by Mrs. T. C. Cahill, and presented to the receiving line which included Mesdames Tommye B. Hawkins, Marvin Branch, J. E. Ellis, F. M. Squires, M. H. Post, D. Scott, Wayne Koonce, O. E. Patterson and C. L. Lewis.

Arrangements for the dinner were in charge of the entertainment committee, Mesdames Marvin Branch, Carl Power and R. L. Harrison.

The decorating committee, Mesdames O. E. Patterson, J. R. Ellis, Geo. Herren and J. A. Shriver were responsible for the beautifully decorated library.

Mrs. Jno. A. Willoughby was in charge of the printed programs and assisted in seating the guests.

The climax of the evening came when Lola Gibson Deaton, director of voice and choral music at Hardin-Simmons University, presented one of the most artistic and pleasing programs that the people of Haskell have witnessed in a long time.

Mrs. Deaton possesses a rich clear soprano voice of exceptional range, lyric smoothness, coloratura ability and a rare evenness of scale. She sang with an ease, an absence of mannerisms, a charming simple dignity, which held the greatest appeal. She prefaced the folk-songs in foreign tongues, by translations in English, her speaking voice as musically sweet as her singing tones. Her personality as well as her voice held the audience which responded with enthusiasm. The program was varied and well selected, the songs ranging from Handel's works to American composers of today. Each song was sung in its native language. The spicy encores were quite an attraction.

The accompanist, Miss Louise Buckler, shared honors with Mrs. Deaton, as she is an accomplished and talented musician.

Contract Bridge Club

Members of the Contract Bridge Club were delightfully entertained in the new home of Mrs. Clay Smith Tuesday afternoon at their regular weekly meeting. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. Martin Bryan was given the prize for highest score. Mrs. Smith served a delectable refreshment plate to Mesdames: Martin Bryan, T. W. Williams, B. C. Chapman, Jack M. He, W. G. Fergy, Ralph Durson, Buford Cox, Bill Ratliff, Bert Welsh, Virgil Reynolds, Clyde Ray, Walter Murchison and Mrs. H. K. Henry of Gatesville.

The Magazine Club Opens Thirty-Fifth Year With Luncheon

The Magazine Club opened its thirty-fifth year of study with a luncheon at the club rooms Friday. Members and guests were met at the door by Mrs. T. G. Cahill and greeted by officers of the Club. Those in the receiving line were: Mrs. Kenneth Thornton, Mrs. M. C. Culbertson, of Vernon, Mrs. Guy Mays, Mrs. Ben Bagwell, Mrs. Austin Corburn, Mrs. B. C. Chapman, Mrs. Wallace Cox, Mrs. C. L. Lewis, Mrs. Hill Oats stood at the dining room door.

After the invocation by Mrs. R. N. Huckabee, guests were seated at tables beautifully decorated with bowls and sprays of fall flowers. Places were marked by cleverly designed, hand-painted cards in the form of world maps, thus carrying out the theme of the year's study which is "Around The World With Recent Writers". Programs printed in gold and white also marked the places.

Following the three course luncheon, Mrs. Kenneth Thornton, president of the Magazine Club for the current year, extended her greetings and introduced Mrs. M. C. Culbertson as the guest speaker. Mrs. Culbertson's talk on "The Pleasure of Travel" was most interesting and instructive to those who heard it.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames: Frank Kennedy, W. E. Adkins, G. C. Irvin, Walter Rogers, Woodley Davis, Richard Massey, John McMillin, Jno. E. Robinson and the hostesses, Mrs. Hugh Johnson and Mrs. Author Bland.

Mrs. W. E. Adkins will be hostess to the club Tuesday October 19th.

The Mattson H. D. Club

A home is where physical rest and creative comfort are the highest objectives, stated Miss Vaughn to the Mattson Home Demonstration Club at Mattson in room 3 September 30th.

Homemaking is a creative calling where the idea is not to make life easier but to make life better. Homemaking is no more limited to women than to men. It is not specifically woman's work nor man's work. It is a human effort, grossing. His duty is not discharged when he has provided financial support, not her's when she has cooked, cleaned and mended. The main concern is that husband and wife shall feel equal responsibility for action participation in the work of forming a new generation better than the present one. Life is our high and gay adventure, the only one we have except death. Mrs. Cliff Chamberlain stated that children should be taught to address parents as "Mr. and Mrs. Jones" and Mrs. Mrs. Jess Chamberlain stated that children should be taught to respect the 4-4 A round table discussion followed on "Train a child to be orderly and tidy". The club song was directed by Mrs. Ellis Miles. Mrs. J. L. McGuire led the club prayer, pledge and motto.

The Methodist Missionary Society

On October 11 the women of the W. M. S. met for the first lesson of the Mission Study of which Mrs. Leon is chairman. With Mrs. Huckabee at the organ all joined in singing "I Love Thy Kingdom Lord". This was followed by the devotional given by Mrs. Breedlove. Her scripture reading was the 15th verse and 2nd chapter of Genesis. Comments were very appropriate. Prayer by the speaker concluded this splendid devotional. Mrs. Leon next taught the first lesson in this most interesting book, the title of which is "Rebuilding Rural America" and was written by an Englishman, Mark A. Dawber. This book deals with two problems concerning the decay of the country churches and the wiles attending same. Every woman in the church, and especially those of the Missionary Society are urged to be present for these lessons for this is a subject which is of much concern to all.

At the conclusion of the lesson

Mrs. Huckabee very graciously invited us to the parsonage where delicious refreshments of cake with whipped cream and tea were enjoyed. The coziness and charm of the parsonage with the added graciousness of the hostess causes us to realize that we are indeed fortunate to have Mrs. Huckabee as "our pastor's wife". Mrs. Martin announced a very successful "Rummage Sale" on last Saturday. We plan to have another and ask that every woman in the church take a part in this. We meet again on next Monday at 3 p. m. Be sure to hear the next chapter in this most interesting book. Reporter.

PLOW RESEARCH STILL TURNING NEW FURROWS

Although the plow is perhaps the oldest of agriculture implements, says R. B. Gray of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Engineering, improvement still goes on to meet changing needs. The American Society of Agricultural Engineers rates the plow 40 percent more efficient than it was in 1913.

Problems confronting farmers because of the growing insect hazards have resulted in some of the most recent improvements in plows. In controlling such insects as, for example, the corn borer, it is desirable to have plows that cover stalks and weed effectively. Agricultural engineers have made good progress in this direction by the simple expedient of designing plows with more clearance between the beams and the plow itself and moving up out of the way the parts that would catch stalks and weeds. Bureau engineers have developed trash guides that help to get crop residues down under the furrow slice where they rot and where they are less desirable shelter for certain pests. In addition they have designed a self-aligning disk jointer which aids in securing better coverage, dodges obstructions such as stones, and always comes back into line. It also reduces draft 10 to 15 per cent as compared with plows fitted with standard jointers and coulters.

Such improvements in the last decade," says Mr. Gray, "give us ground for the belief that plow research will turn still more new furrows."

Parishioners of Rev. R. R. Kenney of Leeds, Eng., who is a non-smoker, presented him with a $500 smoking cabinet on his retirement.

Competition Keen In The Agriculture Exhibits For Fair

Competition will be keen when farmers exhibit their very best products at the Central West Texas Fair in Haskell October 20-23. County Agent B. W. Chesser, general director of the Agricultural department, says that indications point to one of the best agriculture exhibits ever shown in Haskell county.

Fifty dollars of extra prize money being offered by the Lankhart Bred Seed Farms for the best stalk of cotton and the best box of twenty bolls of cotton has greatly increased interest in the cotton show. Any variety of cotton is eligible for these prizes, and the judging will be done by the regular judge selected by the fair officials.

As outlined in the rules found in the official premium list all community and club exhibits and individual farm exhibits must file an entry sheet by next Saturday October 16. These entries may be made at the county agent's office, Haskell Chamber of Commerce office, or with Calvin Frierson, superintendent of these departments. A letter to one of these will be sufficient. This is being done so spaces in the exhibit hall may be allotted Sunday by H. T. Sullivan, superintendent of the hall. Merchants and other commercial concerns are anxious to purchase surplus space if any for their exhibits.

Community and club exhibits must represent products of several farms in the community and be put in by representatives of the organization representing that community. Checks for the prize money will be made to the organized group that put in the exhibit and can't be made out to any individual.

THE TRUE SPORTSMAN

Some of the characteristics of the good sportsman are enumerated by Tom Ford, secretary of the Alabama Wildlife Federation, in a recent statement in which he tells what the conscientious hunter does and does not do:

He obeys the hunting laws and insists that his fellow hunter does likewise. Respects the rights of the landowner and complies with the law by obtaining a permit to hunt on his lands. Cuts no fences, shoots near no barns, homes or other buildings; tramples no crops, and endangers no livestock by wild or careless gunfire.

He takes only a lawful amount of game, as his license does not permit him to shoot for another. Stamps out all campfires, including those left by careless hunters, and throws no lighted matches on the ground.

He does not shoot the last two pairs in a quail covey or a doe, fawn or turkey hen, but leaves them to replenish the game crop. For the same reason he feeds the birds and other game in winter. Finally, he gives all game the sporting chance to escape that he would like if he were being shot at.

If all hunters would observe the rules of conduct outlined by Mr. Ford, the cause of true game and forest conservation would be greatly advanced—and there is no excuse for not observing them.

GOING UP

If one is gaining a little in the right direction, he is making progress, no matter how low down the scale of his ambition he may be. "From the lowest depths there is a path to the loftiest height," Carlyle said. If one's feet are in that path and his direction is upward he has great cause for rejoicing.

Many a man who has achieved great success in his chosen field of activity will tell you that his happiest days were those in which he was making a start upward. The sacrifices which it was necessary to undergo, the hardships he had to meet, the long hours of labor he was called on to perform were pleasant, because he was making headway.

There is much of comfort and inspiration in Carlyle's thought. There is a reminder that we never can be so low down the scale of depression but that we may find a path upward. Some of the greatest of men and women have begun their lives under the most discouraging circumstances. They have attained the heights by a slow process of climbing, more often a little at a time than by sudden leaps or long gains.

The same clear thinking and righteous endeavor will help any of us to advance to greater heights.

INVESTMENT IN TREES

Until recently, America looked on its timber resources as it did on its mineral deposits—as veins to be exploited until they were exhausted. Now the nation is beginning to see that they should be treated as crops, with the future's yield taken into account.

The current issue of Forestry News Digest tells of a sustained-yield plan that the U. S. Forest Service has worked out for a 130,000-acre stand of hardwood timber in upper Michigan. This timber is now being cut at the rate of 14 to 20 million board feet a year. It will be all gone in about 20 years.

The Forest Service's plan calls for a system of cutting under which only about 56 per cent of the merchantable timber on each acre would be removed. This would reduce the annual yield—but reforestation would make the yield permanent. That part of Michigan would always have a timber crop, just as Iowa always has a corn crop.

Such plans are not hard to work out. It should not be hard to get industry to accept them. And how infinitely superior such a scheme is to the old cut-'em-down-and-move-on program!

As Revealed by the Files of the Free Press 20, 30 and 40 years ago.

40 Years Ago

Mr. John Jones has ginned over 600 bales of cotton. He thinks he will gin 1200 bales this year.

Mrs. R. E. Sherrill, Sr., left Wednesday for Alabama where she will spend some time visiting her daughter, Mrs. Sherrill has many friends here who wish her a pleasant trip.

Mr. J. H. Meadors left Tuesday for Dickens where she will visit relatives for a week or two.

The gin took fire Monday but was promptly extinguished with fire apparatus. The fire originated in the north stand, burned down the lint flue into the condenser, and into the press where there was a half bale.

Mr. Walter Meadors and Miss Ethel Hills were married on last Sunday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Anthony.

Messrs. A. C. Foster and W. B. Anthony left Monday on their wheels for Dallas.

The people of Fort Worth have almost ceased discussing the local fever situation, there being nothing in that line to discuss.

Still the chase after parties who stole Butler Carpenter's horses Sunday night at Sherman goes on.

The thieves have circled and crossed their own trail several times. Up to the present time the chase has covered at least 300 miles of actual riding. The officers express no doubt of being eventually able to overhaul and take both thieves and horses.

Judge H. G. McConnell attended court at Rayner this week.

30 Years Ago

Thomason Bros. are converting their natatorium into an opera house. They have had the swimming pool emptied and are flooring it over and say they will provide a seating capacity for 600 persons. They have an expert scenic painter at work painting drop and side curtains and will fit up a regular stage, dressing rooms, etc.

A number of our citizens took in the Ringling Bros. show at Abilene—went down to take the children.

A new and very interesting feature of the Haskell Fair this year will be the parade of farm wagons loaded and decorated with farm products of every kind. Each of the twelve or fourteen Farmers' Union local lodges in the county has agreed to furnish one or more wagons.

Mr. G. R. Couch of the Haskell National Bank went to Austin last Saturday returning Thursday.

On Sunday Oct. 6th, at the home of the bride's parents in Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Howard, Mr. Jno. B. Nanney and Miss Lila Howard were united in marriage. Rev. J. T. Nicholson performing the ceremony.

Mr. W. H. Parson returned home Thursday night with his bride, Mrs. Padgham, to whom he was married at Weatherford a few days ago. Mrs. Padgham is a sister of Mrs. J. T. Lemmon and visited her some time the past summer.

"IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN — IT'S YOU!"

If there is one idea I like to harp on, it is that which says that a town is a reflection of its citizenship, and that when they say that a town is "dead," they are simply declaring that the "business men of that town lack nothing but decent burial."

It is a thought that should be pounded into the heads of the business men everywhere. House-store buildings, churches, theaters, etc., don't make a town. It is the MEN of the town that ARE the town. If the town is dead, it's its business men that are in that condition. Pound that thought eternally home, and the merchant will be slow to say, "My town is dead." He doesn't like to feel that he is declaring himself ready for embalming.

Remember this. When you see a big rock rolling ponderously up a hill, you will know without question that behind that rock is a man pushing to beat the band; and when you see a town that is going forward steadily and surely, overcoming the obstacles that all growing communities have to encounter, riding down its little, old-time, good enough for father and good enough for me, obstructionists, you will know without the question of a doubt that good men and true are behind that movement, and that they have their shoulders to the job.

There may be exceptions to that rule—and if so, they only serve to prove the rule—but the fact is that towns and cities are only what their citizens make them, and in such matters, "Citizens" means "business men."

You say, "That town has great possibilities," and it is all bosh. Human possibilities are man-made; nothing else. They say, "You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear," but the truth is that a skillful man can make a purse out of a sow's ear that has a silk purse skinned to death. It isn't so much what you have, as what you think you have. AND WHAT YOU MAKE OTHERS THINK YOU HAVE. Half a loaf to a wise man is worth more than a whole man to the man who does not realize the value of his possessions.

You say, "My town is dead," and you immediately contribute monies. Your town is what you and your other townspeople think it is. Reverse your attitude. Instead of thinking it's dead—think it's alive and you will immediately begin to contribute towards its enrichment. Say it's alive, and soon others to saying it. They will begin to believe it, and when they begin to believe it, it will become a fact.

Remember, IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN, IT'S YOU.

Make your town what you would like to see it—Jack Dionne in The Gulf Coast Lumberman.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membrane and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

'WAY BACK WHEN

FARLEY WAS ONCE A BOOK-KEEPER

NOT everyone can be an individualist and blaze his own trail to fame. Some of us are better fitted for falling into line as part of an organization. James A. Farley's rise in politics is an example of the rewards which may come to the good lieutenant.

Farley was born in 1889 in Grassy Point, N. Y., a small village on the Hudson river. There were five children, and the father was a saloon keeper. When Jim Farley was ten years old, his father died and his mother started a combination saloon and grocery store. The boy often tended bar or worked as grocery clerk on the other side of the store. Through these jobs he learned to meet the public, be friendly with strangers, and show sympathy for their problems. He attended the Stony Point high school and the Packard commercial school in New York. Graduating in 1906, he was employed as a bookkeeper. Jim was always interested in politics; and before he was old enough to vote, he called house-to-house, getting out the Democratic vote in Stony Point.

His first political job was as town clerk of Stony Point. He was courteous to all, jolly, a hale-fellow-well-met sort of man who had a pat on the back for everyone. Through Alfred E. Smith, whom he helped elect governor of New York, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, for whom he was faithful lieutenant in the Presidential campaign, Farley forged steadily ahead. He won the top political plum in the United States, post-war general.

Even though he has few other qualifications for success, there is a lot of hope for the fellow who cooperates. —WNU Service.

What Haskell Needs

Citizens of Haskell have made comment on the various needs of the city. The growing possibilities and necessities of Haskell will be expressed in a series of articles by prominent business and professional men and women who are perhaps better informed in their own field to give ideas of what Haskell needs. These articles are simply intended as "thought provokers". (Editor's Note).

BY W. L. SCOTT

Just as it is very easy for a sideline to tell how a football team should be coached or for an old maid to tell how children should be raised, it is easy for a "new comer" to point out what Haskell county needs.

Since close to 85 percent of the population of Haskell county is engaged in farming and most of the other 15 percent "prosper as the farmer prospers" the chief need of Haskell county is more farm income. Much can be done to boost farm prices by limiting production, in cooperation with the government farm programs. It is very necessary for farmers to organize themselves so they may discuss, promote, and administer the programs in this section to the best interest of producers and consumers. Instead of just taking what is handed down from Washington farmers should hand the program they want to Washington, and they can't do this individually.

Even though the Federal government can be counted on to help farmers boost their prices now, producers should not depend on this too much. Income can be increased by lower cost of production as well as higher prices. The man who makes the most money per acre on his farm in 1937 in Haskell county is the man who produced a good quality of product at a low cost. It costs very little more to work and harvest an acre that will produce a bale of cotton per acre than it will to work an acre that will average only one-fourth bale.

Sunlight, water and plant food are the three elements used by plants in the process of growth. Haskell county is fortunate in having reasonable fertile soils and certainly has plenty of sunlight. Moisture is the thing needed most. One farmer said recently that he had rather conserve the moisture that he gets rather than pray for it after a drought hits. Practically all the streams and lakes in Haskell county could be dried up except when we have extra large rains, by terracing and contouring all fields and pastures. C. T. West, a farmer one mile west of McConnell, has lost practically no water off his place since it was terraced nearly twelve months ago.

Since the economic system of the entire world has reached the stage of uncertainty that it has it is very risky to depend upon one cash crop. For example many producers in Haskell county made good money this year with beef cattle, sheep, hogs and wheat. Those who depended on cotton only, are not "getting rich." Haskell county is also favorable for poultry raising and dairying. Of course before these enterprises could become very profitable on a large scale more efficient markets would have to be developed. Some of us "sideliners" might help out there. In order to have more livestock some good barns and trench silos would need to be built. The trench silo is becoming one of the most popular facilities for storing feed in many places.

Another way to lower the cost of production is to eradicate such bad weeds and grass as Johnson grass. The county and state "road men" can help to do this by keeping this grass out of road ditches. It is very characteristic of our Americans to think only of money when we begin to analyze our needs. A few flowers and shrubs as well as a little paint could improve both the rural and urban sections. I recently heard an old man say that his chief aim had been in life to make the little spot on earth that he occupied a little more productive and beautiful than he had found it, and by looking over his farm you could see plainly that he had achieved his aim.

Many times a home can be made more attractive and comfortable at very little cost and just a little labor.

Every time a "pencil pusher" maps out a beautiful and prosperous picture for a county such ugly blots as the tenant question and low prices spot the picture. Close to seventy percent of the farmers in Haskell county are tenants and most of them are now wondering if they will be able to get a place for next year. This is another question that should be analyzed and discussed in the farm organization meetings, and then something done about it. We "smart" Americans have let so-called backward countries like Denmark get far ahead of us in the tenant problem and growing quality products.

Haskell county would profit by improving the quality of all products. For example we produce some of the poorest quality cotton in the entire world and deliver it to the spinners in the poorest condition. We "town boys" have helped to encourage this condition and could help to remedy it. Quality beef, pork, dairy products, eggs, and other farm products always demand a premium, and farmer can always use this premium.

In order for Haskell county to receive higher prices for its products, have more attractive and comfortable homes, produce goods at a lower cost, demand premiums for our products, and conserve our soil for future use, it will take the unified effort of the baker, banker, merchant and professional man as well as the farmer. It would be well for business and professional men to change their unwritten slogan of "I'm after you dollar" to "I'll help you get a dollar."

Assistant in Agriculture Conservation.
