WTC events say 'Howdy' to freshmen

Special Back-to-School Issue

The college's Student Senate has adopted the theme "You Are the Driving Force Behind WTC in '93" for the coming school year.

In line with this, a busy round of "Howdy" activities for both freshmen and sophomores are planned in the weeks ahead as the fall term gets un-

The dormitory will officially open for freshmen at 2 p.m. this Sunday. Sophomores will be moving in to the dorm beginning Monday morning and will register beginning at 1 p.m. that afternoon.

Registration for freshmen students will start at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday. Classes officially begin Wednesday.

Events during the first week of school are planned by the WTC Student Senate to acquaint incoming freshmen with the campus and to welcome back sophomores.

On Wednesday, an afternoon round of volleyball is scheduled just north of the Student Center.

On Thursday night, the year's first dance is slated, the traditional "Howdy Dance." It will be in the Student Center from 8:30 a.m. until midnight.

During September, Student Senate activities will focus on establishing student leaders for the coming year.

During this month, students will be encouraged to petition to run for the senate, joining the four-member slate of officers elected this past spring. Some 25 senators serve the student body on

WTC gains guard class expansion

Beginning this fall, WTC will expandits contract with the Texas Department of Criminal Justice to provide inservice training for prison guards employed at two of the state's newest prisons in addition to the Price Daniel Unit here.

Under the new contract, WTC will provide instruction for the French Robertson Unit near Abilene and the Preston Smith Unit in Lamesa also.

The agreement is expected to benefit both the college financially as well as the community of Snyder as an estimated 832 individuals will be on campus during a 46-week period which begins Sept. 1.

The in-service training will be taught in a newly renovated classroom area located in the southeast quadrant of the campus.

For an individual guard, the training will involve five days of classroom instruction totaling 40-hours.

The TDCJ has contracted to pay some $73,000 to the college for the training. The actual expense to offer the program is estimated at $56,000, so WTC is expecting to net some $17,000 for its general fund plus another $40,000 in state "contact hour" funding.

In addition, individuals traveling from Lamesa and Abilene are expected the community.

Instruction at prisons to expand

WTC is expecting to begin offering classroom instruction at the new Texas state prison now under construction in Abilene by this coming spring term.

This will be in addition to the continuation of classes offered the past three years at the Price Daniel Unit here.

By spring, three vocational classes and a full slate of academic courses are expected to be offered at the Texas Department of Criminal Justice's (TDCJ) French Robertson facility in Abilene.

This fall, an estimated 140 students are expected to enroll in WTC academic classes offered at the Price Daniel Unit. Early estimates are that as many as 170 might be counted on from French Robertson.

Assuming the French Robertson unit added this number, this would equate to a more than 14 percent increase in total enrollment for the college.

New college instructors are to be hired for the vocational classes and these are expected to be employed by December. Vocational classes to be offered are heating and air-conditioning, automotive and data processing.

Regarding academic classes, WTC officials expect to mirror those currently offered at the Price Daniel unit. These include study in history, psychology, fine arts, mass communications, geography, Spanish, business law, English and computer science.

Existing staff and part-time instructors are expected to be used for the academic classes.

WTC's Men's Golf Team finished 11th in the nation for junior college teams and placed two of its members on the Community College All-American squad this past summer.

The team competed in the national finals in junior college golf June 5-12 in Phoenix. The event is sponsored by the National Junior College Athletic Association.

A five-man WTC team competed and golfers Mark Wood and Ryan Teague, both Pampa sophomores, tied with four-round scores of 220 to finish among the Top 20 golfers in the nation for the All-American honor.

Also representing the college were Mike Torres of Sweetwater, who will return this coming year, John Gatlin of Midland and Greg Slicker of Houston.

Twenty-six teams had advanced to the national event in Phoenix, a number winnowed down from 263 junior college golf teams in the nation.

Four of the 26 including WTC were from the Western Junior College Athletic Conference, to include the nation's Number 1 team, Midland College. Others were Odessa College, fourth; and McClennan Community College in Waco, ninth.

Oklahoma coach relocates here to lead Dusters

Ron Jones, head girls basketball coach at Guthrie High School in Guthrie, Okla., will be the new head of the WTC women's basketball program this fall.

Jones, 34, was selected from 30 prospective coaches by a special search committee, which was formed to find a replacement for departing coach Kelly Chadwick, who resigned in March after six years at the college. The WTC board officially approved Jones' hiring April 13.

Athletic Director Milton Ham, who served as head of the search committee, said that Jones was selected from five finalists after personal interviews on April 8, and was then recommended to the board the following Monday.

"I think he's the best person he said.

Drama group earns recognition at El Paso festival

The Western Texas College drama department was awarded Outstanding Ensemble Performance at the American College Theatre Festival in El Paso Nov. 4-9.

In addition, two cast members were singled out for honors for the play "Long Day's Journey Into Night."

Snyder's Amber Adams and Richard Lack were nominated to compete for the Irene Ryan Scholarship in February on the campus of Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Also at the El Paso festival, Snyder's Wade Freeman won the Critic's Workshop competition and advanced to the regional contest at Texas Tech in February, where he won an Award of Excellence from the Critics Institute

Freeman competed with other Region 6 drama students from New Mexico, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma. A national finalist and alternate finalist were chosen and Freeman essentially placed third at the event.

At the El Paso competition, The University of Texas at El Paso's production of "Roosters" was nominated by the critic judge and the directors to advance. It was the only performance out of the festival that traveled to the regional festival in Lubbock.

Marley wrote of WTC's play, "This performance illuminated new meaning and excitement in a script I know very well."

During last school year, the drama department took on two theatre masterpieces, classics by Ibsen and O'Neil, and interspersed these two with a modern American comedy.

The first offering of the year was the ACTF entry, Eugene O'Neil's "Long Day's Journey Into Night." It ran from Oct. 31-Nov.

Principal players in the WTC cast were Amber Adams as "Mary," the morphine-addicted mother; Richard Lack as "Tyrone," the drunken father; Brandon Neeley as "Jamie," the older brother; and Scott Clark as "Edmund," the younger brother patterned after O'Neil himself. Also in the cast was Sherri Cribbs as "Cathleen.

During the spring term, the drama group presented an experimental version of the classic drama "Hedda Gabler" by Henrik Isben.

This production featured two actresses playing the lead role and saw the Fine Arts Theatre re-arranged so that the stage area was "in the round." Performances were April 16-20.

The lead character, "Hedda," considered one of the first feminists in literature, was played by Kristi Mize and Amber Adams "to express the duality of the character."

Playing "George Tesman," Hedda's "husband of convenience," was Richard Lack; and Wade Freeman played "Judge Brack," the man who hopes to use Hedda for his own designs. In the role of "Juliana Tesman" was Kathy Johnson; Sherri Cribbs portrayed "Thea Elvsted;" and Greg Combs played "Gilbert Lovborg."

To open the spring term, the department offered "The Nerd," a comedy by Larry Shue. Its cast consisted of Brian Martinez, Jennifer Hatley, Wade Freeman, Scott Clark, Mary Ann Cooper and Greg Combs. All productions were directed by Jim Rambo,

New campus group forms...

'Non-traditional' student targeted

Non-traditional students that is, students who are "older" than the average college student, those returning to school after some years or those with "unique" obligations—were recognized this past school year with the formation of a new campus organization.

A pilot meeting of the group was held March 31 and those present were asked to identify goals for the group, create a name and choose a form of leadership.

English instructors Janet

Halbert and Marilyn Lancaster, aided by Dean of Instruction Bettie McQueen, spearheaded the group's formation.

Marilyn Lancaster welcomed the 16 attending in March and began by saying that she "went back to school" at the age of 26. "It is a difficult decision," she said, "and I endured a lot of criti-

Janet Halbert also spoke to the group, explaining motives for initiating the group's start-up. "People that are in similiar situations can come together to support each other," she said. Out of this a sort of mentoring program may begin for newcomers.

When the formation of the group was initially proposed, Mrs. McQueen commented, "College should be a joyful experience, instead of an obstacle to overcome."

All three hope to create a core of "resource people" for nontraditional students, and so help the college experience for these students be more enjoyable.

Lancaster is leader of TJCTA

Western Texas College English instructor Marilyn Lancaster will serve as president of the Texas Junior College Teachers Association (TJCTA) this school year.

Since winning the office in the spring of 1991, Mrs. Lancaster has served as president-elect of the association, which consists of 6,000 members state-wide. It was founded in 1948.

The organization represents the interests of junior college administration, faculty and students when pending legislation and other issues come before the Texas legislature.

Before being elected president, she had served as TJCTA secretary in 1989 and vice president in 1990.

When her presidency term is over in the spring of 1993, she has still another term to serve as immediate past president. She will assist the president-elect, Brian Dille, who takes over the new position in April, 1993.

As president, Lancaster has been meeting with the members of the executive council and to create an agenda for the coming year.

She has also made appointments to committees to include the professional development committee, which discusses educational issues; the legislative committee, which deals with legislative decisions; and the membership services committee, which serves the members.

In the fall, the association will make preliminary goals and decide how to achieve these at the close of the legislative session in 1993.

Mrs. Lancaster's agenda in- ries. cludes meetings with the committees "almost every weekend" tion held in February.

Another goal of the association, says Mrs. Lancaster, is to fer" marked the second appear-"sell the efficiency of junior colleges as a better place to get an education than a four year college.'

Literary magazine again set

The annual publication of WTC's literary magazine, "Aquifer," is scheduled for the spring term this year and the entry deadline for works of fiction, poetry or essays will be by the end of the fall term.

A creative writing class to be implemented by the English Department this fall is expected to serve as a springboard for many of this year's entries.

WTC student Anita Brown won two third place awards from the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association (TIPA) for an essay published in last year's "Aqui-

Instructor honored for service

Phi Theta Kappa and the Western Texas College Student Senate honored Bob Doty during the annual Founder's Day Celebration Nov. 19.

Doty, latest recipient of the award that has been handed out since 1983, was chosen on the basis of "exceptional service" to students at WTC.

He was chosen by a vote of both PTK and student senate members.

Doty, employed by WTC for 13 years, is assistant professor of agriculture and the immediate past president of the WTC Faculty Association.

He was also National Faculty President of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association for 1989-90. He has been the faculty director for the Southwest Region of the NIRA for four years.

This June, Doty will take the WTC Rodeo Team to the College National Finals for the 11th time. His team won the national title in 1986. He also serves as the sponsor and advisor to the WTC Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

A Leuders-Avoca High School graduate, Doty received his bachelor of science degree from Abilene Christian University. He received his master of education degree from Sam Houston State University.

Gibson switches WTC roles

John Gibson, former art instructor and chairman of the Fine Arts Division, begins this year as the new director for the Continuing Education Department. As director, Gibson will work with Mike Thornton, dean of continuing education.

"We saw an increased demand for this position with the addition of the French Robertson unit," said Dean of Instruction Bettie McQueen. She noted Thornton's workload has increased as the correctional office training program has rapidly expanded.

Gibson will focus much of his time in the new position on extending and building extention units, said Mrs. McQueen. WTC currently has a total of 23 approved sites where academic and adult vocational classes may be offered.

This past summer, Gibson helped established new extension center classes at Stamford, nursing courses tied in with the hospital there.

He has also obtained a campus grant for the Mainstream program. This is designed to aid disadvantaged high school

Campus newspaper wins again

For the third year in a row, WTC's The Western Texan placed among the top three newspapers in the "best overall" category in state-wide competition sponsored by the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association (TIPA).

The Texan competes in Division 3, going against more than 30 two-year and four-year college newspapers serving a student enrollment of up to 3,000 students.

In 1990, the newspaper placed second in the "best overall" category and in 1989 it placed third. The contest is based on five complete issues of each entering newspaper.

In addition this year, the newspaper won two first place awards for students and two honorable mention prizes. All were announced at TIPA's annual convention April 9-11.

In individual awards, Chad Blake Garlington and Kerri Carter received first place honors in the newspaper advertising campaign category for their ads on several WTC drama productions.

Also winning first place honors in the newspaper sports news category was Paul Davidson for his spring, 1991 article on WTC trustee Bill Wilson and his opposition to the renewal of the college's basketball program.

An honorable mention award was also given to Sheri Hunter for last fall's newspaper sports feature story profiling Canadian cowboys Travis Whiteside and Dusty Beaton.

Keitha St. Clair's fall semester article on the dangers of date rape received an honorable mention in the newspaper editorial category.

Admission policy noted

All high school graduates may be admitted to Western Texas College, but college officials remind that certain requirements must be met before students may register for classes.

Students must provide an official transcript or GED to WTC; submit their scores from the ACT or SAT admission exam or take the college's placement test; and complete the application for admission.

WTC offers also an early admission program for high school seniors. Those who have completed their junior year may enroll in classes to earn college credit.

Application forms for both regular and early admission are available in the Student Services office located in the front of the Learning Resource Center.

Transfer students from another college must make application and present a transcript of their entire college record before they may register.

Financial aid available here

A wide variety of financial aid is available to WTC students and those interested are urged to contact personnel with the financial aid office located in the south wing of the Learning Resource Center.

Dennis Carlton, financial aide officer, stresses that early application is the most important aspect of receiving aide.

Students who qualify for aid have this amount credited first against tuition and fees during registration. In order, funds are next applied against payment of campus housing and credit at the WTC bookstore for textbooks.

According to Carlton, students needing help in paying for the cost of an education should begin by picking up a 1991-92 Family Financial Statement (FFS) Packet from the financial aid office in the Learning Resource Center.

The form enables the student to apply for money from the federal government, state agencies, colleges and other programs.

Western Texas College scholarships are awarded in most departments on campus. A brochure listing the various grants and scholarships available at WTC can be found along with the FFS in Carlton's office.

College dorm will house 192

The WTC dormitory is comprised of four wings—two to house men students and two to house women—and has a total capacity for 192 residents.

Each floor accommodates 16 students and there is a large common area between the four wings to serve as a meeting place for occupants and their guests.

These furnished living areas include a color television and a telephone for local calls. Laundry facilities are offered plus vending machines and pay telephones. The dorm includes an "honors floor" for students with higher GPAs.

Residents are required to purchase meal tickets which entitle them to eat the 15 meals prepared each week in the college cafeteria located in the Student Activities Building.

The cost for room and board is $1,020 if it is paid at the start of each semester. A pay-out plan is available also. These plans consist of an initial payment of $545 at registration and two installment payments of $237.50 due Oct. 1 and Nov. 1

A $50 deposit must be sent to the WTC Housing Department before a student can be considered for dorm residency. Televisions, stereos and small refrigerators are allowed in the resident's rooms. There is a $25 charge for cable per semester for a television and a $25 charge per semester for electricity if small refrigerators are used.

Microwaves are not allowed in the student rooms, but there is one available in the main lobby area.

A completed housing file is required before a student can move in. These forms consist of the $50 dorm deposit plus completion of a dorm contract, medical form, proof of insurance coverage and immunization records.

Apartments are option also

For students who meet specific criteria, WTC offers oncampus apartments rather than the traditional dormitory housing.

The apartments are available to all students, but preference is given to those enrolled in quarterly rather than persemester programs; to foreign students; and to students living out-of-state or in-state students living a far distance from home.

Meal tickets are available but not required for apartment residents. Each apartment is fully furnished except for a television. Students provide linens and other personal items.

To rent an apartment, a deposit of $110 is required. The cost of the apartments is $495 per semester, which must be paid in full at registration.

An apartment file must be completed before the student may move in. This includes the deposit amount and filling out an apartment contract, medical form, proof of insurance coverage and immunization records.

LRC's facilities are varied

WTC's Learning Resource Center houses thousands of books, a computer lab and a reading center which is used for developmental reading students.

Also, the LRC houses a reference room complete with encyclopedias, research material, daily and weekly newspapers and periodicals.

The LRC contains also a microfilm area with magazine articles from past years stored and available. A copy machine is available to students and the library staff will make copies using the facility's microfilm copier. For both, the charge is 10 cents a copy.

The LRC also features an audio-visual department which will make copies of non-copyrighted cassette tapes for students at no cost. The students must provide a blank tape.

Cassette tape recorders are available from the circulation desk also with a three-day limit for use.

The LRC's operational schedule is: Monday-Thursday, 8 a.m. until 9 p.m.; Friday, 8 a.m. until 4 p.m.; Sunday, 2 until 5
