New faculty for fall numbers 10

Western Texas College begins its fall term with one of the largest number of new faculty members in the history of the school.

The addition of instructional programs at three prison unit sites accounted for a large share of the new additions—accounting for six of the 10 new instructors.

In addition, the school has added new coaching staff members as Brenda Welch-Nichols takes over the girls basketball team—newly named the West-erners—and Todd Danley is named to head the WTC Rodeo Team. (see related stories inside)

Vacancies in two other faculty positions accounted for two other hirings.

Duffy Wilks joins the social science faculty, teaching psychology and government, and Troy Lilly is newly named as a chemistry/physical science instructor.

Mrs. Wilks is a licensed professional counselor, in private practice since 1986, and taught on a part-time basis for WTC in the fall of 1992.

She has completed course work for her doctorate degree and is now enrolled for her dissertation program at Texas Tech.

She holds a BA degree in psychology and a masters degree in educational psychology from Texas Tech. She is a member of the American Counseling Association, Texas Counseling Association, International Association for Addictions and Offender Counselors, and from 1988 to 1991, the Texas Association of Counseling and Development Journal Editorial Board. She received the TACD Distinguished Service award in 1991.

Troy Lilly is a former Snyder High School biology and physics instructor. He has completed 20 years as a public school teacher, teaching also at Ira, Colorado City High School and Socorro High School in El Paso.

His undergraduate degree in vocational agriculture was completed in 1971 at Texas Tech. In 1989, he earned a masters degree in agriculture from Tech and he has completed additional graduate courses through Texas A&M and Sul Ross State University.

He is a member of Colonial Hill Baptist Church, where he serves as a deacon.

The six instructors employed for prison-related classes include

Jerry D. Haire, who was employed last spring as a nursery and landscape management instructor for the horticulture program at the Price Daniel Unit.

Haire received his bachelor of science degree in park administration from Texas Tech University, where emphasis was placed on landscape design, horticulture and park administration.

He was formerly employed as a sales representative for Kamco, See FACULTY, page 2

Campus divisions realigned Britt Canada named to division chair post

Western Texas College's instructional departments will be realigned as the fall term begins to include the creation of a new division and the appointment of a new division chairman.

Britt Canada, computer science instructor at the college, is the newly named chairman for the Science Division.

He will head the division which will now include departments for instruction in science, computer science and college-level math.

The creation of the new division prompted a further shuffling of other WTC Departments, explained Dean of Instruction Bettie McQueen. "This was basically done to keep the sizes and the number of instructors in each division relatively the same."

Last year, the Science Department had been included in the Social Science Division headed by Dr. Jim Palmer. This division will now add the Management Department, which was moved from the Business and Math Division. Other departments in this division include history, government, social science and criminal justice.

The Business and Math Division, headed by Bill Halbert, will now assume responsibility for all of WTC's preparatory classes in math, reading and English. These classes are designed to prepare students for college-level work in these three areas.

The Business and Math Division will retain responsibility for departments dealing with office system technology and business administration.

Other divisions on campus are the Communications and Letters Division, headed by Dr. Ed Barkowsky, supervising departments for college-level English, mass communications and Spanish; the Fine Arts Division, headed by Ty Brunson, supervising departments for art, music and drama; the Health See DIVISIONS, page 2

Tobacco products 'out' in all campus buildings

WTC begins the 1994-95 school year a "tobacco free" campus. The change means the use of all tobacco products—to include cigarettes, snuff and chewing tobacco—inside all WTC facilities is now prohibited.

Those inclined to either "smoke, chew or dip" will now have to go outside to do it.

With the new policy in place effective Aug. 20, there are still two exceptions on campus. College officials note certain floors in the dormitory and specific apartments will be designated for residents who smoke. Otherwise, the campus is "tobacco free."

The policy was passed by the WTC Board of Trustees at its Aug. 8 meeting. Until that time, the campus policy was mixed according to specific buildings and, in some cases, specific areas of the building.

Likely the most frequently used building affected will be the Student Center, where smoking and other uses of tobacco products were allowed up until the Aug. 20 change.

Justin Lester killed July 5...

Memorial student scholarship begun

A memorial scholarship has been established at WTC in memory of Justin Ryan Lester, 19, of McCamey, who died in an automobile accident July 5.

Donations to create the initial $2,000 fund were completed in early August and interest monies from this account will be distributed as a new WTC scholarship beginning in the fall of 1995.

In addition, a children's playground area at the First United Methodist Church of McCamey has been named in honor of him and plans are underway to establish both a sports award and a scholarship through McCamey High School.

Justin would have been a sophomore at WTC this fall. He died eight miles south of McCamey after his 1992 Chevrolet pickup collided head on with a 1992 Ford pickup.

There were no passengers in either vehicle and both drivers were killed instantly. The other driver, Dean Sueltenfuss, 26, was the assistant city editor of the Odessa American.

During his freshman year at WTC, Justin majored in journalism and was a sports writer for the campus newspaper. He was a member of the Student Senate and the campus food committee. He also participated in intramural sports and had been selected as a dormitory resident assistant for the coming school year.

At his funeral July 7, more than 30 WTC students attended and five of his nine pallbearers were WTC students. Among those serving as pallbearers were students Cody Hilliard of Sweetwater, Mike Hughes of Ira, Truett Standefer of Haskell, Michael Mitchell and Jon Seilhart of McCamey.

Justin was born in Abilene May 28, 1975. He attended school in Sweetwater before moving to McCamey in 1982. He graduated from McCamey High School in 1993.

In high school, he participated in several sports, playing tight end in football as well as being a member of the tennis and track teams. He played trombone in the MHS Badger Band.

He participated in U.I.L. debate and one-act play; was a class officer for three years; a student council representative for two years; and a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and the Speech Club.

He was elected Speech Club Beau his sophomore year and Student Council Beau his senior year. As a three-year member of the Industrial Tech Team,

Registration slated on campus Monday

Registration for the 1994 fall term is Monday and Tuesday with classes slated to begin Wednesday.

For freshmen, the dormitories open this Sunday at 2 p.m. and sophomore residents are expected beginning at 10 a.m. Monday.

Grant means extra $60,000

College officials have received word that an existing federal program offered through WTC has gained an additional $60,000 in local funding.

The monies are offered through the Carl Perkins grant program. For the coming year, these grants were to account for $103,000 and the addition brings the total now to $163,000.

The intent of Carl Perkins grants is to make vocational programs accessible See GRANT, page 2

Regarding registration, sophomores will register Monday afternoon and freshmen Tuesday morning in the Student Center. A special evening class registration is due Monday from 6:30 until 8 p.m. also.

WTC faculty gains 10 new faces

Continued From Page One Inc. in China Spring. Haire has also served as superintendent of parks for the City of Waco's Parks and Recreation Department.

Haire is a member of the Texas Recreation and Park Society and the International Society of Arboriculture.

Haire will be joined at the Daniel Unit by Mike Squires, former local staffer for the United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service. He will also instruct horticulture at the local unit.

Squires is a graduate of Texas Tech, earning a bachelor of science degree in 1982, majoring in wildlife biology and range management.

He served with the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture for 13 years, specializing in the agriculture and environmental field.

He is a member of the Society for Range Management, the Wildlife Society, the Soil and Water Conservation Society and the National Wildlife Federation.

Two other new faculty members will be nursery and landscape management instructors at the John Wallace Unit in Colorado City.

Randy Weaver is a 1976 graduate of WTC with a degree in golf course and landscape technology. He was the WTC golf course superintendent from 1978-80, leaving that post to open the Outdoor Dimensions greenhouse in Snyder. He has worked also in landscape maintenance for Patterson Drilling.

Weaver is a deacon at First Christian Church, a member of the Snyder Beautification Committee and a director of the

Dormitory's summer fixup said complete

The end of summer on the WTC campus means also the end of annual paint-up/fix-up repairs to the WTC Dormitory.

This past summer, three of the dorm's 12 bathroom/shower facilities were renovated, to include new plumbing, fixtures and tile. All rooms requiring new paint were also painted.

In addition, a concrete walkway was added to the dorm's north side. This sidewalk now connects the two parking lots located at the northwest and northeast corners of the dorm.

Linda Wright

Wright moves to dean's office

Linda Wright, named as WTC's registrar last fall, has transferred to the Dean of Instruction's office and will now assist in the duties of that office as well as that of the vocational-technical education program.

Her job responsibilities will include filing reports and documenting information related to the many vocational programs WTC has now embarked on with the addition of three prison unit extension campuses.

She will be involved also in the registering of prison students, evaluating inmate transcripts and the recruitment of vocational students for local programs.

Snyder Tee Ball Association. He is a member of the West Texas Golf Course Superintendents Association and the Texas Association of Nurserymen.

Also added at Wallace in the horticulture program is Tom O'Leary. He has 11 years experience in golf course operations and landscape management. He earned a degree in landscape architecture from Texas Tech in 1981 and graduated from the WTC Golf and Landscape Technology program in 1982.

He has been either an assistant superintendent or superintendent at golf courses in San Angelo, Scottsdale, Ariz., and Case Grande, Ariz. Most recently, he was the course superintendent at the Tierra Del Sol Country Club in Belen, N.M. He is a member of the Golf Course Superintendent's Association of America.

Two other new faculty members are connected with other prison-related classes.

Francisco (Frank) Alfaro will head the college's automotive technical program offered at the French Robertson Unit in Taylor County.

He retired from the U.S. Army in 1992 after 20 years service and rising to the rank of sergeant major. He earned his automotive technician certificate through Central Texas College in Killeen, where he also earned an associates degree.

Alfaro served in Vietnam, Germany, South Korea and Saudi Arabia during his military service. His career included serving as a drill instructor and as an instructor for a non-commissioned officer academy.

B.A. Autrey begins his first fall term at WTC after being employed last spring as an instructor in the correctional officer training program in Abilene.

He has been associated with the Texas Department of Criminal Justice's Institutional Division since 1987, most recently as a lieutenant of correctional officers. He is a chemical agents instructor and has received advanced firearms training.

Computer programmer new at registrar's office

Sam Lujan, a native of Colorado City, has been employed as a computer programmer in the WTC Student Services office. In this capacity, he will be responsible for all reports from the registrar's office.

He assumed the position full-time effective Aug. 8.

He is a 1983 graduate of the WTC petroleum technology program and a 1993 graduate of the computer science technology program offered through Texas State Technical Institute in Sweetwater.

A new recruiting position for the Registrar's Office remains to be filled, according to Dean of Students Duane Hood.

Carl Perkins federal grant plan adds $60,000 for WTC campus

The local program is coordinated through Special Needs Counselor Carolyn Osborn and the Special Needs Office located in the LRC.

Mrs. Osborn gained the extra $60,000 by applying through a grant process last spring. She was notified of the award in June.

The $60,000 is specifically earmarked for single parents, displaced homemakers (widows, divorcees, and homemakers forced to enter the marketplace) and single pregnant women.

To qualify, the student must be enrolled in a vocational program and be classified as "disadvantaged" by federal standards.

Those qualifying can receive funds for child care assistance, a gasoline allowance, tutoring, career and personal counseling, books and supplies.

The largest amount of funding is normally through child care, Mrs. Osborn noted, which the government program reimburses at a rate of 50 to 75 percent. "If you have a $250 monthly bill for child care, this assistance can often make the difference between going to school or not," she noted.

It is expected the program might assist from 15 to 20 new students who previously thought they could not afford college.

Vocational programs offered through WTC include office system careers, management, vocational nursing, criminal justice, correctional officer training, diesel mechanics, welding and golf and landscaping technology.

In addition, Mrs. Osborn noted that tuition assistance is generally available through a separate federal program administered through WTC—the Pell Grant program.

Students qualifying for Pell Grants are often also qualified for Carl Perkins grant money. Other uses for Carl Perkins' funds in the past have included reimbursing commuting students for gasoline, the purchase of tools to be used in diesel mechanics and the purchase of vocational nursing uniforms.

For more information about funding, contact Mrs. Osborn's office at 573-8511, ext. 397.

WTC faculty association names executive board

Officers for the WTC Faculty Association's executive board were named last spring.

Serving as president for 1994-95 will be Jan McCathern, assistant professor for speech. Vice president will be Mike Harrison, assistant professor for physical education, and secretary will be Bill McGlothing, assistant professor for English.

The executive board consists also of the chairmen of six committees. These are:

—Faculty Welfare Committee, headed by Jack Price, assistant professor for government/management.

New scholarship begun for Justin Lester

In 1993, he was selected "Mr. Barbade" as part of the Rankin Chamber of Commerce Scholarship Pageant, held as part of the first annual World Championship Barbados Cookoff.

This past summer, he was employed with Superior Engine Repair Company of Odessa, a contract company for Shell Oil Company of McCamey, where his father is employed. He participated in a softball league at McCamey also.

—Academic Affairs Committee, headed by Rockford Burris, assistant professor for math.

He is survived by his parents, Bill and Bobbie Lester; his sister, Amy; his grandparents, Mrs. W.C. Lester of Colorado City and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson of Seymour; his great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G.C. Wirz of Seymour and Mrs. Ernest McCoy of Seymour; several aunts, uncles and cousins.

WTC admission policy noted

All high school graduates may be admitted to Western Texas College, but college officials remind that certain requirements must be met before students may register for classes.

Students must provide an official transcript or GED to WTC; submit their scores from the ACT or SAT admission exam or take the college's placement test; and complete the application for admission.

WTC offers also an early admission program for high school seniors. Those who have completed their junior year may enroll in classes to earn college credit.

Application forms for both regular and early admission are available in the Student Services office located in the front of the Learning Resource Center. Transfer students from another college must make application and present a transcript of their entire college record before they may register.

Financial assistance offered

A wide variety of financial aid is available to WTC students and those interested are urged to contact personnel with the financial aid office located in the south wing of the Learning Resource Center.

Dennis Carlton, financial aide officer, stresses that early application is the most important aspect of receiving aid.

Students who qualify for aid have this amount credited first against tuition and fees during registration. Next, funds are applied against payment of campus housing, if applicable.

According to Carlton, students needing help in paying for the cost of an education should begin by picking up a 1991-92 Family Financial Statement (FFS) Packet from the financial aid office in the Learning Resource Center.

The form enables the student to apply for money from the federal government, state agencies, colleges and other programs.

Western Texas College scholarships are awarded in most departments on campus. A brochure listing the various grants and scholarships available at WTC can be found along with the FFS in Carlton's office.

Four wing dorm houses 192

The WTC dormitory is comprised of four wings—two to house men students and two to house women—and has a total capacity for 192 residents.

Each floor accommodates 16 students and there is a large common area between the four wings to serve as a meeting place for occupants and their guests. These furnished living areas include a color television and a telephone for local calls.

Each dorm room is wired for telephones, although students must bring their own phone equipment. Laundry facilities are offered plus vending machines and pay telephones also.

The dorm includes an "honors floor" for students with higher GPAs.

Residents are required to purchase meal tickets which entitle them to eat the 15 meals prepared each week in the college cafeteria located in the Student Activities Building.

The cost for room and board is $1,025 if it is paid at the start of each semester. A pay-out plan is available also.

These plans consist of an initial payment of $575 at registration and two installment payments of $235 due Oct. 1 and Nov. 1. A $50 deposit must be sent to the WTC Housing Department before a student can be considered for dorm residency.

Televisions, stereos and small refrigerators are allowed in the resident's rooms.

There is a $25 charge for cable per semester for a television and a $25 charge per semester for electricity if small refrigerators are used.

Microwaves are not allowed in the student rooms, but there is one available in the main lobby area.

A completed housing file is required before a student can move in.

These forms consist of the $50 dorm deposit plus completion of a dorm contract, medical form, proof of insurance coverage and immunization records.

Apartments are available also

For students who meet specific criteria, WTC offers on-campus apartments rather than the traditional dormitory housing.

The apartments are available to all students, but preference is given to those enrolled in quarterly rather than per-semester programs; to foreign students; and to students living out-of-state or in-state students living a far distance from home.

Meal tickets are available but not required for apartment residents. Each apartment is fully furnished and including telephone jacks. Televisions are not provided, and students provide linens and other personal items.

To rent an apartment, a deposit of $110 is required. The cost of the apartments is $725 per semester, which includes five meals per week through the WTC cafeteria.

An apartment file must be completed before the student may move in. This includes the deposit amount and filling out an apartment contract, medical form, proof of insurance coverage and immunization records.

LRC offers varied facilities

WTC's Learning Resource Center houses thousands of books, a computer lab and a reading center which is used for developmental reading students.

Also, the LRC houses a reference room complete with encyclopedias, research material, daily and weekly newspapers and periodicals.

The LRC contains also a microfilm area with magazine articles from past years stored and available. A copy machine is available to students and the library staff will make copies using the facility's microfilm copier. For both, the charge is 10 cents a copy.

The LRC also features an audio-visual department which will make copies of non-copyrighted cassette tapes for students at no cost. The students must provide a blank tape.

Cassette tapes and some movie videotapes are available. Cassette tape recorders are available from the circulation desk also with a three-day limit for use.

The LRC's operational schedule is: Monday-Thursday, 8 a.m. until 9 p.m.; Friday, 8 a.m. until 4 p.m.; and Sunday, 2 until 5 p.m.

Counts, Laney honored

Speaker of the House Pete Laney (D-Hale Center) visited the WTC campus April 19 as part of activities planned by the faculty association honoring State Rep. David Counts (D-Knox City).

The WTC Faculty Association recognized Counts with both a morning reception in the Student Center and a noon luncheon at the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Both events were attended by several hundred individuals from both the city and campus.

At the noon luncheon, two members of the community, Roy McQueen, publisher of the Snyder Daily News, and Scurry County Sheriff Keith Collier spoke.

Also offering comments about Counts and the assistance he has given locally were faculty members Marilyn Lancaster, who worked with Counts during her tenure as president of the Texas Junior College Teacher's Association; and Jack Price, who received Counts aid regarding reinstatement of Hazelwood Grants for Texas military veterans.

A special plaque was presented to Counts also by Dr. Harry Krenek, WTC president.

Drama group offers 4 plays

Shakespeare, Simon and visiting playwright

WTC's four drama department offerings during 1993-94 were sparked by a large cast production of Shakespeare and a season-ending Texas premiere of an award-winning drama which featured a visit by the play's author.

The season was marked also by a brief controversy and a canceled play in February, which was replaced by a Neil Simon comedy.

The department's first play of the fall term was "The Boys Next Door," a comedy by Tom Griffen. It was performed Sept. 30-Oct. 2 under the direction of WTC director Michael Endy.

The play dealt with four mentally disabled men learning to survive with their illnesses and coping with the society they live in.

The WTC Drama Department presented part I of "Henry IV" by William Shakespeare Nov. 18-21.

An elaborate stage was built for the production, consisting of several platforms at varying heights. Also featured was much on-stage action with several choreographed sword fights.

The spring play season opened with a note of controversy. An announced joint production between the WTC drama department and the local Ritz Community Theatre was canceled in February after some members of the Snyder community objected to portions of its subject matter.

The production, Lee Blessing's comedy "Nice People Dancing to Good Country Music," was canceled due to negative responses prompted by a brief description of the play which ran in a local newspaper article announcing auditions. The complaints were over the play taking place in a bar, and that two characters were living together out of wedlock.

Once the public criticism began, a play selection committee comprised of community theatre volunteers proposed changing some of the language and possibly rewriting some of the scenes.

Ultimately, however, both director Endy and members of the community theatre group felt that it was in everyone's best interest to move on and let the controversy die. The joint production was then officially canceled.

In its place, the department performed Neil Simon's comedy, "The Good Doctor," featuring the short stories of Anton Chekov. It was presented Feb. 17-20.

For the year's finale, award-winning playwright Harry Zimble Jr., author of "A Quiet Country People," visited the campus during the four-performance run of his play here April 14-17.

Director Mike Endy is a friend and colleague of Zimble's. While at WTC, Zimble met with both English and drama classes and critiqued the local production after its opening run.

"A Quiet Country People" won the Best Original Play Award at the American College Theatre Festival in 1982. The cast for that production included Endy.

Women Rodeoers finish 5th, men 9th at Nationals

Longtime Coach Bob Doty accepts new post as seasons ends

WTC Rodeo Coach Bob Doty's 13th appearance at the College National Finals Rodeo in Bozeman, Mont. ended with his Southwest Regional Champion

Girl's Team in fifth place and his regional runnerup men in ninth. It also marked Doty's final appearance as the coach of the WTC teams. On July 14, a few weeks after his teams' appearance at Bozeman, Doty announced he had accepted a similar position with Tarleton State University in Stephenville. The announcement ended a 15-year stint with the local program.

Doty served as faculty director for the Southwest Region of the NIRA for four years and was the national faculty president of the organization during the 1988-89 school year.

Both he and his wife, Darla, are past recipients of the WTC Founder's Day Award, given annually to honor service to students on campus.

Mrs. Doty was a 13-year employee of WTC, serving most recently as head of student recruitment. She has accepted a post at Tarleton State as coordinator for the "co-op" program involving student teachers.

At the national contest, which ended June 19, the WTC women's team was tops among junior college entries with its fifth place finish. Leslie Lewis of WTC, who was the Women's All-Around winner for the Southwest Region, also led her team at nationals. She won sixth place in breakaway roping.

For the ninth place finishing men, WTC's calf roper Leddy Lewis and bareback rider Cleve Schmidt qualified for the finals. Lewis was fourth overall while Schmidt finished the rodeo in sixth place.

Overall men's team winner at Bozeman was Southwest Region competitor Vernon Regional Junior College (VRJC). For the women, Southwestern Oklahoma State won the top title.

The WTC Women's Team finished in first place as conference rodeos ended, while the men finished in second behind VRJC.

The WTC Golf Team's effort to return to national competition fell just inches short of the green April 27.

WTC finished in 4th place in the qualifying Region 5 NJCAA tournament held this year at Hobbs, N.M.—five strokes away from a 3rd finish which would have guaranteed a trip to nationals.

Twelve teams had qualified for the regional event representing three junior college conferences. The ultimate top three winners which advanced were all representatives of the Western Conference which includes WTC.

Winning the Region 5 tournament was Midland College, followed by New Mexico Junior College and Odessa College. For the 54-hole, three round event, Midland scored 870, NMJC carded 887 and Odessa College totaled 900. In 4th place, the WTC team score was 905. This ranking closely followed the conference standings with Midland in 1st, Odessa, 2nd, NMJC, 3rd, WTC, 4th, and New Mexico Military Institute, 5th.

At regional, the top WTC individual player was Chris Rogers of Sweetwater, a sophomore who totaled 221 with three rounds of 75, 74 and 72. Other individual totals were freshman Monnie Soto of Seminole, 80, 69, 73 (222); freshman Corey Stone of Pampa, 81, 76, 76 (223); sophomore Isabel Soto of Seminole, 73, 76, 80 (229); and freshman Charlie Garcia of Big Spring, 73, 74, 83 (230).

WTC's top medalist for conference was Monnie Soto, who finished in 12th place. Medalist winner for both the conference and the tournament was Midland College's Chad Campbell.

New rodeo coach trades banking for rodeo arena

WTC's new rodeo coach is an alumnus of the local program who is trading in a career in banking and financial advisement to return to the rodeo arena.

Todd Danley was named to replace Bob Doty, who has accepted a rodeo coaching position at Tarleton State University. Danley competed for Doty at WTC in 1986-87.

Danley comes to WTC from Comanche, where he was an assistant vice president at Comanche National Bank.

He earned a master of business administration degree in 1990 from Tarleton State University in Stephenville.

During grad school he was a teaching assistant in the Business Administration Department.

He earned his BS degree in agricultural economics from Tarleton State also, graduating in 1989 with a perfect 4.0 GPA from that school.

Danley has earned similar summa cum laude honors upon his graduation from WTC in 1987, where he was a member of the Number 1 team in the Southwest Region two years in a row.

His rodeo experience dates to the age of 6, winning Junior Rodeo belt buckles, the first of more than 60 belt buckles and four saddles won in competition. During his high school years, he was the New Mexico High School Rodeo Association's State Champion All Around Cowboy and the states finals All Around Cowboy in 1985.

He was a member of the Tarleton State Rodeo Team from 1988-89, years when his team finished 2nd and 3rd respectively in the Southwest Region.

Since his graduation, he has completed training for the Edward D. Jones & Company investment firm. He worked as an investment representative for that firm in San Antonio.

He also worked for the Cullen/Frost Bankers, Inc. of San Antonio and was promoted to an administrative officer position at that company in May of 1992.

He joined the Comanche bank in September of 1992 and was an assistant vice president before resigning to return to WTC.

In Comanche, he was a member of the Kiwanis Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

Intramurals compete at 'Hoops'

Eight WTC students traveled to Arlington to play in the Super Hoops collegiate basketball event March 4-5.

The Super Hoops consists of intramural winners from other colleges and universities. The teams are comprised of three players with an alternate allowed.

The men's team consisted of sophomore Joe Gordy and freshmen Monnie Soto, Mitch McCalib and Bill Breitweiser.

The women's team consisted of sophomores Neally Hernandez and Regina Dever and freshmen Janie Anaya and Shannon O'Neal.

These teams were chosen after winning the intramural 3 on 3 games played during the fall semester.

Honors end '94 for Duster players

Murrell is AC winner

Four of WTC's Lady Dusters received recognition from the Western Junior College Athletic Conference for success during the 1993-94 basketball season.

Paulita Murrell was the only Duster named to the all-conference first team. In addition, Shrae Johnson, a sophomore, and Tammy Wilson, earned an honorable mention.

Murrell, a 6-0 sophomore from Oklahoma City, was one of the conference leaders in both scoring and rebounding. She scored an average of 13.5 points and grabbed almost eight rebounds per game.

Shrae Johnson from Guthrie, Okla. and Carri Moss from Norman, Okla. combined as two of the league's top 3-point shooters.

Johnson had a 73 percent free throw and 32 percent 3-point range conversion. She also added a block a game.

Moss had a 35 percent success rate for 56 of 159 3-point attempts.

Tammy Wilson, a 5-9 freshman point guard from Lampasas, was both an offensive and defensive standout also.

Royce Chadwick of Howard was voted Coach of the Year in the WJCAC. The Most Valuable Player was Odessa's Laticia Morris.

Team awards given

The annual WTC sports banquet was held Thursday, March 24, at the 37th Street Church of Christ.

Paulita Murrell, a sophomore from Oklahoma City, collected the Most Valuable Player plaque from Duster Coach Ron Jones.

Murrell, along with four other members of the women's basketball team, were honored at the banquet.

Freshman Carri Moss was awarded the Dusters' Offensive Player of the Year, freshman Tammy Wilson received the Dusters' Defensive Player of the Year, Sophomore Shrae Johnson claimed the All-Around Player honor, and freshman Christy Cates earned the Lady Duster Award for her academic accomplishments as well as her dedication to the team.

These team members played a role in leading the Lady Dusters to a third place finish in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference and a 19-13 overall record. Athletic Director Milton Ham served as master of ceremonies and also presented his college golf team.

Ham presented plaques to the four sophomore members of his golf squad, Mike DeLos Santos of Seminole, Chris Rogers of Sweetwater, Jimmy Flores of Sanderson and Isabel Soto of Seminole.

WTC Rodeo Coach Bob Doty also introduced members of the men's and women's rodeo teams and had a few comments about the NIRA region-winning women. The mens rodeo team finished in 2nd place in the conference.

The WTC Cheerleaders were recognized also, Neally Hernandez, a sophomore from Sunray, and freshmen Hilary Johnson of Howe, Melanie Duncan of Hobbs, N.M., Shauna Wells of Zephyr, Sarah Halsell of Crowell and Amy McCord of Anson.

Ex-Duster assumes role of head coach

Brenda Welch-Nichols, a former Lady Duster All-American, was named March 31 as the new head coach for the WTC women's basketball team.

She was chosen from a field of five finalists, replacing Ron Jones, who accepted the head coaching post for the newly formed Midland College women's basketball team. She relocated to Snyder from her post as full-time assistant women's basketball coach at Pensacola Junior College in Pensacola, Fla.

She was a much-honored player for WTC during the 1985-86, '86-'87 seasons. She served as team captain from 1985-87 and was named to all conference honors and all region honors before being named a Junior College All-American.

She was also active on campus, being named Miss WTC in 1987.

Nichols majored in physical education here and earned her associate in arts degree before moving on to Sam Houston State, where she graduated in 1989 with a B.S. degree in physical education and a minor in art.

At Sam Houston, she earned all conference honors as well as serving as team captain for the women's basketball team. Nichols was also a member of the track team and set a school record in the 400 meter dash.

Nichols entered the masters degree program at the University of West Florida in Pensacola, Fla., where she was a part-time assistant basketball coach for some three years. She received her masters in education with a major in sports science in 1992 and was named a full-time assistant coach in 1993.

Nichols was selected from an initial list of 16 candidates by a special search committee. Five finalist for the coaching post were interviewed on campus March 27.

Finalists interviewed were Charles Mancil, women's coach at Tyler Junior College; Jay Kelly Howell, an assistant coach at Mississippi State University; Terry Gray, an assistant coach at Howard College in Big Spring; Ranger JC Coach Arthur Portley; and Nichols. Following the interviews on Sunday, Gray removed his name for consideration.

Nichols was the only candidate with no head coaching experience. She has worked, however, in one of the country's most successful juco programs, helping PJC to a Top 25 slot in 1993-1994.

Brenda Welch-Nichols

New coach wants support and titles

A good recruiting class and community support is what former Duster player and new head coach Brenda Welch-Nichols sees as the key to maintaining a winning tradition for the WTC women's basketball program.

The biggest concern for the first-year coach is recruiting, especially at the post position, she said. This spot had been filled by sophomore standout Paulita Murrell.

"I'll recruit where the best athletes around are," she said, noting that her native state of Louisiana will be a "big tool for me."

Another goal Nichols cited is both faculty and community support for the players.

Regarding the role of faculty she said "If players see teachers and staff supporting them, they will feel more comfortable." She also noted the importance that a large crowd of fans makes to a team.

Nichols also said she hopes her success as a player and person will continue as a coach.

"I want to take it game by game, one day at a time and hopefully get a winning record," she said, then added "and beat Howard." She referred both to the conference winner for the past two years and the team coached by one of her former coaches, Royce Chadwick.

Nichols thinks being a female coach of women's basketball is an advantage, especially in the important area of recruiting. She noted how a woman can more easily relate to the problems of the players.

Regarding her own playing experiences, she said, "I felt more comfortable talking to a woman or a woman assistant instead of a man."

As for how long she hoped to stay at WTC, Nichols said she would like to be here for a while and would hope to eventually win the top honor. "I would like to follow Nolan Richardson to a National title," she said.

As a coach, Nichols sees herself as disciplined on and off the court. She said she also tries to be fair to her players. She said she has taken a little coaching philosophy from all of her coaches, but noted she will basically be "own coach."

Nichols and her husband, Barry, have an infant son, Brady. Nichols was a basketball All-American in '86-'87 at WTC. She was a member of the first WTC women's team to advance to the NJCAA National Tournament.

Adding baseball dropped after long discussion

The addition of baseball as a new collegiate sport for WTC was much discussed last fall term, but trustees backed away from it at a Jan. 10 board meeting, apparently because of negative remarks from people in the community.

The issue—which had been at least considered for the previous two years—was dismissed without a vote at that January meeting.

At the time, WTC President Harry Krenek commented, "Unless one of the trustees brings it back up at another meeting, nothing more will be done." He noted the board considered five basic questions in relation to the addition of baseball here:

—Would there be support on campus and in the community?

—Would there be a field for practice and play?

—Would there be enough area or regional players to successfully recruit winning teams?

—Would a baseball program break even or generate revenue?

—Would adding a baseball program have an impact on "Title Nine" regulations—a federal law stating that college athletics should basically reflect gender equally.

Regarding support of baseball's startup, there was support on campus but "a lot of negativity from the community," according to Krenek. Two on-campus groups endorsed the startup. The WTC Faculty Association unanimously endorsed the addition of baseball and the WTC Athletic Committee endorsed it by a 5-2 vote. On the negative side, a newspaper telephone poll indicated 63 percent of readers responding opposed baseball.

Regarding playing and practice fields, Krenek noted cost was a factor. "Moffett field could be used for games and the North Park field for practices, but it would cost an estimated $10,000 to $28,000 to get the North Field in good condition," he said.

Recruiting local or area players was deemed a problem also. Three rosters from schools with baseball programs showed at least a dozen out-of-state players.

Another cost consideration was the determination that adding baseball would not generate revenue and more likely would operate under a deficit each year. Regarding "title nine" implications, "If we add men's baseball, then we'd likely have to add women's softball," Krenek said.

Texan wins 1st at TIPA

The Western Texan won first place in the Overall Newspaper competition sponsored last spring by the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association.

The award saw the Texan named to the top of the list for Division 3, comprised of two-year and four-year colleges and universities with enrollments of up to 4,000 students.

The publication has placed among the top three of "best overall" newspapers three out of the past four years. The win announced April 8 marked the first time the Texan finished first in the statewide competition.

Contest results were revealed at the annual TIPA convention, held this year in Corpus Christi. The Texan finished ahead of second place winner The Flare, published by Kilgore College in Kilgore; and third place winner The Skyline, the Sul Ross State University newspaper in Alpine.

Two college publications received honorable mention in the Best Overall category, the Midland College newspaper El Paisano; and the Texas Lutheran College newspaper Lone Star Lutheran.

The newspaper competition is judged by out-of-state professional journalists.

Judge's comments about the Texan included "(It) used no spot color to dress up its pages. It was simply a black and white presentation with great overall story balance."

In addition to the first place win, two Texan staffers were singled out for individual awards and the WTC literary magazine, Aquifer, won for its illustrations.

Texan writer Marci Regalado of Colorado City won second place in the sports news competition for a piece she did in the spring of 1993 on the demise of the men's basketball program at WTC.

Staff artist Otis Thompson of Aspermont won second place also in the illustration category. His drawing depicted "spring break" 1993 on campus.

For the Aquifer, Bryant Thomas of Snyder won second in the literary magazine illustration contest. His piece profiled a poem called "Whist'lin Man."

The 1994 staff of the Texan attended the TIPA convention in Corpus.

Staff members were Jeff Corkran, Toni Evans, Sandra Hall, Lisa Nix and Wacey Parks of Snyder; Mike Hughes and Lindsey Northcott of Ira; John Campos of Colorado City; Michelle Romero of Roby; Neally Hernandez of Sunray; Justin Lester of McCamey and Will Gray of Midland.

Adviser for the newspaper is Donny Brown.

Ray Robbins
writes new textbook

Robbins writes own textbooks

Last spring, WTC Professor of Criminal Justice Ray Robbins published his second college textbook—his sixth book overall—dealing with the criminal justice procedure in law enforcement.

When Robbins first noticed the cost of criminal justice textbooks was getting too "overpriced" for students to afford new books each semester, he decided to do something about it.

This decision in the mid-1980s prompted his first book and, for the past several years, he and his writing partner, Larry Nichols of South Plains College in Levelland, have collaborated on four different books. These are used in various state police academies during basic training today.

By cutting out all of the fluff—meaning "no fancy pictures, charts or diagrams, just strictly meat," the price of Robbins' required textbook went from around $55 to $36.

The first police academy textbook they wrote, "Texas Peace Officer," is used by "virtually every police academy in the state," according to Robbins. It is now about to be released in its fourth addition, having first been published in 1986.

In 1988, Robbins and Nichols published their second book, "California Peace Officer." An estimated 75 percent of California academies use this particular text. It consists of three volumes and is presently in the revision process for the third edition.

"Illinois Law Enforcement Officer" was the third academy book produced, published in 1991, consisting of two volumes. It is currently still in its first edition.

The last book Robbins co-wrote with Nichols, "Florida Peace Officer," was published in 1991 and is also still in its first edition.

The fifth book in Robbins' collection, "Introduction to Criminal Evidence and Procedure," is now in revision for its third edition. It has been adopted by 115 other Texas schools.

It actually predates his other books and was co-authored with Florida judge Julian R. Hanley and Wayne W. Schmidt, the operating director of Americans for Effective Law Enforcement. Both men are now retired, Robbins noted.

Robbins' most recent book, "Criminal Investigation Procedure," is his only solo project to date. Published in 1993, it is being used for the first time this semester at WTC in classes taught by Robbins himself.

Overall, the book-writing process takes about two years, Robbins noted. Although it costs him no money to write a book, "only time and energy," the money he receives is split equally among the co-authors. In the end, he said, it's "about like teaching summer school."

All of Robbins' books are published by McCutchan Publishing of Berkeley, Calif.

Endy is newest addition to Founder's Day listing

Drama instructor Michael Endy was honored Nov. 18 as part of the annual celebration of Phi Theta Kappa's Founder's Day here.

The WTC PTK Chapter, in conjunction with the Student Senate, uses the date to honor an employee of WTC for outstanding service to the students. The event honors the founding of PTK in 1918 at Stephens College in Missouri.

As the recipient, Endy was honored with a reception and his name was added to a plaque which hangs in the Student Center.

Employees are nominated and voted on by members of PTK and the Student Senate. The Founder's Day award has been given since 1983. Franklin Pruitt received the first award. He instructed government and history for 14 years before retiring in 1988. He continues to teach part-time for WTC.

Mike Otto was awarded in 1984. He resigned his associate professor of science position here at the end of fall, 1993.

The honoree in 1985 was Martha Gist. She was secretary and assistant of student activities for seven years, from 1981 to 1988.

Dr. Gil Fleeer, professor of psychology-sociology, was awarded in 1988. He retired from WTC at the end of the fall 1993 term.

In 1989, Mickey Baird re-

Faculty

ceived the award. She is an associate professor and director of student activities.

Dr. Mary Hood, the director of counseling services and director of testing, won the award in 1990. She also serves as sponsor for the local PTK chapter.

Agriculture Professor Bob Doty received the honor in 1991. He is also the men's and women's rodeo coach for WTC.

In the fall of 1992, Director of College Relations Darla Doty was given the honor.

Two retirements affect WTC faculty in '94

Staffer who set up WTC library retires

Kathleen Stephens, associate director of library and media services, retired at the end of the spring semester after 23 years with Western Texas. She had been with the college since its opening in 1971.

Born and raised in North Carolina, she married Dr. Marvin Genuchi, who was then teaching in Hyattsville, Md. The couple had three children, Larry, Marvin C. "Skip" and Vena Beth.

While living in Nebraska, Dr. Genuchi's doctor recommended that he move to an area with a warmer climate due to a heart condition.

After arriving in Texas, they learned of the new junior college opening in Snyder soon. Dr. Genuchi was hired by WTC's first president, Robert Clinton, to serve as the first chairman of the Fine Arts Division. Mrs. Stephens was also hired as a library technician. In this position, she handled the ordering of books and helped move the library four times before the LRC was completed.

After two years in Snyder, Dr. Genuchi passed away. Mrs. Stephens chose to remain in Snyder and to continue her education. She received her master of library science degree from Texas Woman's University in Denton in 1974. She was promoted to associate director of library and media services in 1983.

Her decision to remain in Texas permanently was made when she met local businessman Sam Stephens on the golf course at the Snyder Country Club. The two have now been married for 14 years. Her husband is the president and co-owner of Rathole Incorporated here.

Of Mrs. Stephens' three children, all are currently involved in educational occupations. Her oldest son, Larry Genuchi, is employed by Brownsville ISD in the social science department. Her son, Marvin C. "Skip" Genuchi, is head of the physical education department at Kingwood College in Kingwood and is currently completing his dissertation for his doctorate at Texas A&M University. Her daughter, Dr. Vena Beth Genuchi Alesio, is chairman of the fine arts division at Southeast Community College in Lincoln, Neb.

Teacher/counselor retires in January

"People don't really retire, they just change activities," said Dr. Gilbert Fleeer, professor of psychology-sociology and a longtime counselor at WTC.

Dr. Fleeer, who had been a member of the faculty here since 1975, retired effective last January. He and his wife, Ruth, returned to their native state of Missouri.

During his retirement, Fleeer said he would like to keep enjoying his life, to still be a "source" to people and to never stop learning.

"I'm not sure how I can achieve this yet, but I have lots of options," he said.

The two things Dr. Fleeer will miss most at the WTC campus will be the dialogue with students and the association with his fellow faculty members. Fleeer also noted that teaching and learning at WTC has been "a wonderful part of the past 19 years."

Fleeer has been a member of the American Association of Marital and Family Therapists since 1975. Dr. Fleeer was also a staff member of the Lovers Lane United Methodist Church in Dallas from 1967-71.

Dr. Fleeer "applied his sociological and psychological experience" to the 7,500 members of the church. As a result of these experiences, he noted, he has had "a fair amount of personal and community counseling."

Dr. Fleeer received his bachelor's degree at Central Methodist College at Missouri in 1955.

Dr. Gil Fleeer

He then attended Seminary Theology School at Drew University and was named a Methodist Clergyman in 1958.

He was a faculty member at Central Methodist College from 1959-65.

He then earned both his master's degree and his doctorate in education from East Texas State University, attending the school from 1971-75.

Regarding his thoughts concerning retirement, Dr. Fleeer referred to a verse of a hymn, "To serve the present age, My calling to fulfill."

"The blessed person is the one with the capabilities to respond to that task...my task is to keep teaching and learning," he said.

Mike Harrison in 'Barefoot in the Park' role

Instructor Harrison catches acting bug

WTC's Intramural Athletic Director Mike Harrison learned the joys and the problems associated with the acting bug last fall term.

Harrison made his acting debut as Victor Velasco in the Ritz Theater fall production of "Barefoot in the Park."

Even though it was Harrison's first performance on the stage, he said he wasn't nervous.

"Actually, I was a lot more nervous in practice," said Harrison.

What makes a 39-year-old man suddenly decide to act?

"It was something I always wanted to do," he said, adding "I was in band in high school, and never got the opportunity after that."

Harrison said he began watching the WTC plays when he moved here eight years ago and thought acting would be fun.

He said his biggest problems were developing an accent for his part and memorizing his lines. "I came up with a West Texas-French accent," he said.

To help him memorize his lines, he recorded them on tape.

"I listened to it (the tape) everywhere I went...even when I mowed the lawn," he said.

Harrison also had a difficult time finding time to rehearse. He would often leave his job here on campus at 6:30 p.m., then have to make a 7 p.m. practice

"I would like to do another one (play)," he said, adding "I would really like to do funny roles."
