Donnie Rieger, Summit Supply honored by Chamber

by Caron Yates

The Haskell Chamber of Commerce held its annual banquet Monday, April 4 at the Haskell Memorial Civic Center.

Chamber Manager Mynea Short welcomed the large crowd and gave the invocation.

Following a dinner with steaks cooked by Judge David Davis, Pam Gibson's third grade choir from Haskell Elementary performed a delightful musical entitled "It's a Jungle Out There." The presentation, through speaking parts and songs, asked the question "What is the key to happiness and who has it?" This heart-warming musical play helps us see that the true meaning of happiness is not money, power or fame, but treasured friendships and life's simple pleasures. Teachers assisting were Vickie Bredthauer, Tonya Cypert, Vanessa Shipllett and Debbie Miller.

Mayor John Gannaway recognized special guests, including several on the upcoming political ballots.

Guest speaker Julie (Roewe) Goodenough was introduced by her dad, Conrad Roewe. A Haskell High School and college standout, she is a veteran head coach with more than twenty years experience. She has just completed a very successful fourth year as Abilene Christian University's women's basketball coach. A graduate of University of Texas-Arlington, Goodenough was the head coach at Hardin-Simmons University from 1993-2002, before going to Oklahoma State for three seasons. She was then the head coach at NCAA Division I Charleston Southern from 2006-2012.

by Caron Yates

One very important aspect of living in this great country of ours, is the freedom to dream for our future successes and then work hard to make those dreams come true.

Carl and Lisa Milburn of Summit Supply have recently seen one such dream come to fruition. In 1987, Carl was hired by A.C. Richardson, owner of Richardson Truck and Tractor Company, as parts manager for the International Harvester dealership.

Carl grew up in the mountains of southern New Mexico near Cloudcroft. He moved to this area his senior year, graduating from Rule High School. Lisa, a native of the area, was raised in Weinert.

The business itself has evolved over the past fifty-two years. It opened in 1964 on U.S. Hwy 380 east, moved to the old John Deere building near where the overpass is today, and finally relocated in 1992 to its present site. Through the years products and services

Lisa and Carl Milburn, center, of Summit Supply received the 'Business of the Year' award. Donnie Rieger, right, was named 'Volunteer of the Year' at the banquet.

Goodenough was inducted into the HSU Sports Hall of Fame, after guiding the Cowgirls to a 188-54 record. Her efforts earned her co-coach of the Year honors from the Lone Star Conference.

Her message, "Whatever you do, leave a legacy of excellence. Always strive to do your very best in anything you do." She recalled the blessings and influences of being raised in Haskell, and how that desire for excellence was imparted to her by so many.

Next on the program was the much anticipated announcement of the Volunteer of the Year and Business of the Year.

Lonnie Meredith introduced the new DCOH director, Jimi Coplen.

Coplen then presented this year's choice for Business of the Year. It is one that is fifty-two years old, and yet brand new. Summit Supply, originally Richardson's Truck and Tractor, first opened its doors in 1964. The new owners, Carl and Lisa Milburn, have been with the business for quite some time. In 1987 Carl was hired as parts manager by A.C. Richardson. In 2000, he was named general manager of the store, and in the intervening sixteen years played a vital role in the expansion and growth of the business. The business evolved from a tractor parts and repair shop to a "busting at the seams" hardware, auto parts, home decor and lawn and garden center. Lisa joined the team in 2005, bringing creativity and vision to the business.

Carl and Lisa Milburn have recently bought the business from Richardson. What began as Richardson's has become Summit Supply. What started with A.C. Richardson has now become a workforce or family of twenty-three people. What once was tractor parts has now become almost anything you need to repair or beautify your car or home. What Carl once thought was a job, is now a living testament to him and Lisa of the Lord's faithfulness and provision.

Christina Isbell presented Donnie Rieger as the 2016 Volunteer of the Year. The importance of volunteers to our community can not be overstated. They do everything from taking tickets at events to serving food at fund-raisers to coaching youth teams. Rieger has been volunteering for "a very long time." You know you have a true volunteer spirit, when you have been at it so long no one can remember when you started.

Among the many ways he volunteers, Rieger, a twenty-five year member, has held every position in the Lions Club, started the Warpath 5K and is presently the secretary/treasurer. He has also been vital in helping the Goodfellows by setting up and delivering food and toys to families. He currently is on the Small Business Association Board and Haskell's zoning board, and assists with the food bank.

Rieger is very active in his church, serves as a deacon, is on many committees, participates in various church ministries and runs the sound board. He was also elected to the Haskell CISD board of trustees. His unselfish and dedicated service to Haskell has made a significant difference in our community.

Short presented Haskell Dollars, to four lucky winners, as well as an all inclusive sports package donated by Haskell CISD.

Congratulations to the Chamber members, Volunteer of the Year and Business of the Year for their dedication to the improvement and continued success of Haskell.

Summit Supply to host grand opening Thurs.-Sat.

by Caron Yates

have been incorporated into the business. After moving to their new facility, True Value was added to their product line and in 1997 they further expanded with NAPA Auto Parts. A greenhouse area was opened in 2010.

It was in 2005, after the closing of the local lumber yard, that lumber and building supplies were stocked. In fact, Carl's business philosophy has been, "If someone is already offering a service or product, then let them continue, likewise if a product or service need arises, then we want to work to meet that need."

Lisa joined the team in 2005, when the home decor line was added. Among other contributions, she brings creativity and vision to the business.

By the end of 2000, Carl had been named the general manager of the store, overseeing the day to day operation. The next sixteen years gave him not only a livelihood, but an opportunity to hone and expand his business and management skills.

Although the Milburns had set an earlier goal of buying the business when Richardson was ready to retire, things did not fall into place as easily as they had hoped. It was through the ups and downs of this process that they came to realize they must let go of their will, rely on their faith and let God take control of the situation.

Lisa was charged with naming their new business, and eventually came up with a short list. Since Carl was raised in the mountains, summit was on the list. However, she continued to reflect and pray on the test of faith this major event in their lives had taken. She read in the bible about a summit of faith, when God tests us to surrender to Him that which is most precious to us, counting on Him to keep His promises. It seemed a perfect fit, hence Faith Summit Supply became the official name of the business.

They intend to operate Summit Supply on three major principles: meet the needs of the community; provide a healthy work environment for their twenty-three employees; and give God the glory.

A grand opening is planned this week on Thursday through Saturday. Thursday is Ladies' Appreciation Day, with gift bags given throughout the day, as well as discounted items of interest to the ladies.

Friday will include a "bucket sale." Everything that fits in the bucket will be discounted. The big event takes place on Saturday, with a ribbon cutting at 9:30. The Noah Project will have a face painting fund-raiser, while the Haskell Fire Department will cook BBQ sandwiches and fries, beginning at 11:30.

SKIN CANCER FACTS

How many people get skin cancer?

Skin cancer is the most common of all cancers. It accounts for nearly half of all cancers in the United States. More than 3.5 million cases of basal and squamous cell skin cancer are diagnosed in this country each year. Melanoma, the most serious type of skin cancer, will account for more than 76,600 cases of skin cancer in 2015.

What are the risk factors for skin cancer?

Risk factors for non-melanoma and melanoma skin cancers include: Unprotected and/or excessive exposure to ultraviolet (UV) radiation (sunlight or tanning booths); Pale skin (easily sunburned, doesn't tan much or at all, natural red or blond hair); Occupational exposures to coal tar, pitch, creosote, arsenic compounds, or radium; You or other members of your family have had skin cancers; Multiple or unusual moles; Severe sunburns in the past.

What are the signs and symptoms of skin cancer?

Skin cancer can be found early, and both doctors and patients play important roles in finding skin cancer. Contact your doctor if you have any of the following signs/symptoms: Any change on your skin, especially in the size or color of a mole, growth, or spot, or a new growth (even if it has no color); Scaliness, oozing, bleeding, or a change in the way a bump or nodule looks; The spread of pigmentation (color) beyond its border, such as dark coloring that spreads past the edge of a mole or mark; A change in sensation, such as itchiness, tenderness, or pain.

Can skin cancer be prevented?

The best ways to lower the risk of skin cancer are to avoid long exposure to intense sunlight and practice sun safety. You can still exercise and enjoy the outdoors while using sun safety at the same time. Here are some ways to be sun safe:

- Avoid direct exposure to the sun between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Teach children the shadow rule: if your shadow is shorter than you, the sun's rays are at their strongest.
- Seek shade, especially in the middle of the day when the sun's rays are strongest.
- Follow the Slip! Slop! Slap! and Wrap! rules:

*Slip on a shirt: Cover up with protective clothing to guard as much skin as possible when you are out in the sun. Choose comfortable clothes made of tightly woven fabrics that you cannot see through when held up to a light.

*Slop on sunscreen: Use sunscreen and lip balm with broad spectrum protection and a sun protection factor (SPF) of 30 or higher. Apply a generous amount of sunscreen (about a palmful) to unprotected skin at least 30 minutes before outdoor activities. Reapply every 2 hours and after swimming, toweling dry, or sweating. Use sunscreen even on hazy or overcast days.

*Slap on a hat: Cover your head with a wide-brimmed hat, shading your face, ears, and neck. If you choose a baseball cap, remember to protect your ears and neck with sunscreen.

*Wrap on sunglasses: Wear sunglasses with 100% UVA and UVB absorption to provide optimal protection for the eyes and the surrounding skin.

- Sunscreen doesn't protect from all UV rays, so don't use sunscreen as a way to stay out in the sun longer.
- Follow these practices to protect your skin even on cloudy or overcast days. UV rays travel through clouds.
- Avoid other sources of UV light. Tanning beds and sun lamps are dangerous. They also damage your skin.

CHAMBER ENTERTAINMENT—Haskell third grade music students, directed by Pam Gibson, presented "It's a Jungle Out There!" during the chamber banquet Mon., April 4.

Jogging for Jillian, Sprinting for Spence event set June 4

The families of Jillian Thomas and Spencer LaBrie are again honoring the memory of their children with the 4th Jogging for Jillian, Sprinting for Spence event, to be held Sat., June 4.

The 5K Run/Walk will be held at Red Bud Park in Abilene, beginning at 9 a.m. Proceeds will go towards scholarships established at Wylie ISD and Texas Tech ROTC in Spencer's name and at Haskell CISD and ACU Speech Pathology in Jillian's name.

Last year, 52 generous sponsors and 150 participants helped make the 3rd Run/Walk a huge success, enabling them to award six scholarships.

Both Spencer and Jillian had a strong love for running, working out and living a healthy lifestyle.

Jillian, a Haskell High School honor graduate, was a cheerleader for four years, enjoyed cross country and track and was a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. After high school, Thomas attended Angelo State University for two years, before transferring to Abilene Christian University. She earned a Bachelor's Degree in Speech Pathology, as well as a Master's Degree. She was a very determined young woman, who worked hard to obtain her goals.

LaBrie graduated from Wylie High School. He not only excelled in sports, but was also a strong student. A very disciplined young man, he competed in baseball, basketball and football. He began his college work at Lubbock Christian University, later transferring to Texas Tech University.

In addition to playing college baseball, he received a full scholarship from the ROTC and was working toward obtaining his pilot's license.

There is still time to become a sponsor, a participant or buy a t-shirt.

The event is required to have a not for profit sponsor and the families are very pleased that Haskell CISD has agreed to be that sponsor this year.

Medals for the winners in the under 17, 18-25, 26-35 and over 36 categories will be presented. There are also gifts and prizes to be given away.

Registration fee for adults is $25, seventeen and under is $20 and T-shirt only is $18. Sponsors are needed for this event. Each sponsorship helps to ensure that 100% of the proceeds go to the scholarship funds.

For more information on sponsorship or to register to participate, go to www.active.com or find them on Facebook. Forms may also be obtained at local gyms and businesses or by contacting Eden by phone at (325) 721-3348 or online at eden.thomas@abileneisd.org. To ensure you receive a t-shirt, entries must be received by May 27.

You may pick up packets early on Friday, June 3 from 3-6 p.m. at Red Bud Park.

The families of Jillian and Spencer invite everyone to come out to Red Bud Park on Sat., June 4 and be a part of the "Jogging for Jillian, Sprinting for Spence." It will be a time to remember and celebrate the joy for life these two held, while helping to provide scholarships for others.

April is 9-1-1 education month

This month, the Regional 9-1-1 Program of the West Central Texas Council of Governments (WCTCOG) began a month-long campaign to help Americans of all ages recognize the importance of 9-1-1 and the role they play in ensuring effective and efficient emergency response in times of crisis. Groups including the United States Congress and the National Emergency Number Association (NENA), a leading public safety association, have also recognized April as National 9-1-1 Education Month, and are encouraging the media, the 9-1-1 community, the wireless industry, and public information providers to engage in 9-1-1 awareness and education activities this month.

As consumers utilize new communications technologies and devices, 9-1-1 education takes on an increased importance for everyone, but especially for children, teens and parents. Joe Rogers, director of the WCTCOG's Regional 9-1-1 program says: "It is vital that those who disseminate 9-1-1 information have the tools to educate the citizens that the 9-1-1 system serves, especially in light of an ever-evolving telecommunications market."

Please keep the following tips in mind when calling 9-1-1 in an emergency:

- Know your location. When calling 9-1-1 be prepared to provide your phone number and the exact location of your emergency. When giving directions, use county and city names, cross streets, mile markers and landmarks.
- Briefly state your emergency. Seconds count!
- Be ready to give details, confirm information and follow instructions that could save a life.
- Never hang up unless 9-1-1 the call taker instructs you to hang up. If your 9-1-1 call is disconnected, dial 9-1-1 again and let them know you were disconnected. Don't wait for the 9-1-1 call taker to return your call.
- Pull over when making a wireless phone call. Do not put yourself or others at risk to make a call.
- One of our biggest problems can be prevented! Always remove batteries from old cell phones before giving them to children to use as a toy. Adults should lock the keypad when your phone is not in use. Stop accidental calls that tie up emergency phone lines.

For more information about the WCTCOG Regional 9-1-1 program, go to http://www.wctcog.org/wctcog/911_index.php.

Rehab trail ride set April 22-23

West Texas Rehabilitation Center's "Trail Ride for Rehab" is coming to Haskell County, April 22-23. This year's ride will be on the Circle S Ranch located in eastern Haskell County and hosted by owners Jackie and Sandra Sanders.

This fund-raiser for the Rehab was started in 1994 and has been held each year on numerous ranches throughout West Texas. This is not the first time the Sanders have hosted the ride but this year has special guest Red Steagall, Texas' Official Cowboy Poet, who will ride on Saturday and provide a little entertainment around the wagon Saturday night.

Jackie and Sandra Sanders are Haskell County natives that have seen their dream come true. Jackie says he remembers growing up in Haskell County and wishing someday to own a 1,000 acres. He left Haskell in the 1960's to start S & S Tile and built it into a company providing tile installation in construction jobs from Boston to Arizona. The Sanders bought the first 125 acres in Callahan County in 1972 and added acres as they could through the years.

In 1999, they purchased a ranch in eastern Haskell County along the California Creek and Jackie's dream of owning a thousand acres had come true. Since that purchase they sold the Callahan ranch and have added to the Haskell ranch which now comprises 13,000 acres. The ranch is a cow calf operation providing quality beef for the dinner table. Lots of improvements have been added to the ranch including miles of water lines to provide water in all pastures along with brush and cactus management. The ranch also is home to white tail deer, turkey, quail and probably a few feral hogs.

This year's Trail Ride will start gathering at 9 a.m. Saturday morning and will leave the camp at 9:30. After a couple hours of riding, lunch will be provided on the trail. The evening ride will end back at the main camp. The evening meal will be at the main camp provided by the West Texas Rehab Chuck Wagon Crew and then a little auction and entertainment by Red Steagall. Sunday breakfast is served 7:30-8:30 only followed by a worship service at 8:30 a.m. Then off to another short ride that will get you back to camp by noon.

The 2016 trail ride is sponsored by Total Feeds with Central Texas Farm Credit as t-shirt sponsor. Others providing underwriting for this year's ride are Larneds Sales Center, Stamford Insurance Co., Key City Veterinary Clinic, A.E. Nelson Real Estate, and Thomas Hicks Construction.

For more information about the ride go to westtexasrehab.org or call Archie Jobe at 325-660-8334 or visit us on our Facebook page.

Project Fair to be held in June

The Wild Horse Prairie Days event coming up the first weekend of June, has an added attraction this year.

New this year will be the First Annual WHPD Project Fair. Three categories including food, textile, as well as hobbies, arts & crafts will be offered for both youth and adult divisions. The age divisions are grades K-2, 3-5, 6-8, 9-12 and adult (19 years and older).

The WHPD Project Fair is open to all Haskell County residents and school students as well as employees/family members of participating ranch teams in the Wild Horse Prairie Days Ranch Rodeo. All entries must have been made by the exhibitor within the last twelve months. First, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in over 120 classes.

All entries will be accepted at the Haskell Memorial Civic Center on Thursday, June 2 from 4:30 p.m. until 6 p.m., as well as on Friday, June 3 from 8 to 9:30 a.m. Judging will begin at 10 a.m. on Friday. Entries will be on display Friday and Saturday of the WHPD event.

First, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in the more than 120 different classes. Rosettes will be awarded in Youth Combined and Adult categories. Blue Rosette recipients are eligible for the Best of Show Youth Combined Award and Best of Show Adult Award. Each of the Best of Show winners will be presented a championship belt buckle and two free WHPD Ranch Rodeo tickets for the Saturday night performance.

All entries must be picked up from 5 to 6 p.m. on Sat., June 4. Only one entry per person per class, names will be displayed after judging and superintendents will have the final say in all category interpretation.

All canned foods must be properly sealed and labeled using standard canning jars with the name of the product and date of preservation. All baked goods must be wrapped in plastic wrap and displayed on a disposable container. It is requested that a copy of your recipe be exhibited with your product. No refrigerator pies or cakes will be accepted.

All textile entries must be clean and clothing on hangers. Machine division consists of items made using some type of machine, while handwork division must be done entirely by hand.

Paintings must be finished for hanging or display and photography entries must be 8x10 in picture size and be inserted in a clear plastic sheet protector. There should be no over mat, framing or writing on the front of the poster board.

Project Fair superintendents are Darlene Hopkins and Michelle Thane. For questions or more information on specific classes for the project fair, call (940) 256-3625.

Start now gathering your entries of handwork, clothing, canned and preserved goods, baked goods, photography and arts and crafts projects, and the list goes on. It's just one more reason to look forward to the Wild Horse Prairie Days event in Haskell.

Coach your kids to financial literacy

April is National Financial Literacy Month. It's the perfect time to start talking to your kids about financial education and basic money matters. Parents are responsible for setting their children off on the right financial foot. However, research shows that only one-third of parents discuss financial issues with their kids. Additionally, only one out of seven parents believe their children have a solid understanding of financial matters.

The majority of children determine their attitudes about money by the time they finish the fifth grade. While schools are beginning to recognize the need to teach personal financial education to kids, many don't have programs in place yet. Whether parents realize it or not, children learn by watching the financial decisions made at home. It's never too early to start teaching your children about money. Below are basic tips to help kids begin on the path to financial success.

The jar system

Especially for younger children who don't yet have a savings account at their local bank, the jar system can be helpful. Young children are encouraged to set aside their money in three jars—one for short-term spending, one for savings and one for charitable donations. Having clear jars is a good visual for kids to understand how money grows with time. With your child you can determine what goes in each jar. For example, allowance money can go in short-term spending, birthday money can go in savings and money earned through chores can be split between the three jars. Pick a charity your child is interested in—perhaps the local humane society if your child is an animal lover—and go there together every few months to donate the money. This will help emphasize the importance of giving back by letting them see the impact firsthand. For the savings jar, set a goal for something your child is building toward so it's a tangible goal.

Open a savings account

Once your child is a little older, it's time for a savings account. If he or she has shown the ability to manage the three jars, especially the savings one, an elementary-age child can open a special kid's savings account that most community banks offer. They will feel special going to the bank with mom or dad to open the account and then again every few months to deposit their saved money.

Help teens establish a credit history

If you have a responsible teenager, a credit card is one of the best ways to help establish a credit history. The length of one's credit history is factored into the credit score. If the child is under 18, an adult will need to be a co-signer on the credit since minors do not have the legal capacity to contract. Perhaps your teenage child only uses the credit card for gas, and then it is paid in full every month. That is a good way to teach your child about interest, late fees and other pitfalls that come with a credit card.

Teach by example

Have your child sit with you at the beginning of every month when you create your budget and again at the end of the month when you're paying bills. Look at how much was actually spent in certain categories versus what was planned, and discuss how to improve the next month. This is also an opportunity to teach them about online banking as most consumers pay at least a portion of their bills online. Parents can also do small things like clip coupons before they go to the store or wait until something is on sale to buy it. This will instill in children the importance of looking for a good deal. Small things like this can shape how children view money and more importantly, how it is spent.

The good news is that it's not difficult to start teaching your child about finances—it merely takes effort. Encourage them to ask questions along the way and make suggestions if they have them. This will be a good exercise for both parents and children, and it will help ensure everyone in the house has a good financial understanding.

This Week's Devotional Message:

A common sight in any newspaper is a picture of a beautiful bride or a starry-eyed engaged couple. Yet in view of the mounting divorce statistics, we wonder how many of these marriages will last even a year, let alone a lifetime. The romantic euphoria can quickly melt in the heat of arguments about money, working wives, children and all the little everyday faults that went unnoticed during the courtship. If the couple would resume the good manners and good nature that united them in the first place, work out some areas of compromise and ignore minor irritations, they might have a chance. Above all, they should attend their house of worship and be reminded of what love means. It is quite likely that their marital problems could be solved at the very altar where they exchanged their vows. It is certainly worth a try.

The Hard Way.

Sure, you can stand in the street in the middle of a major intersection every day for a week with an item you want to sell, put a couple of huge signs on it, and hope someone takes you up on the offer. It might just get the job done. Or you might just end up looking foolish.

The Easy Way.

Or, you can place a Classified Ad with us and have people from all over the area clamoring to take your unwanted items off your hands for a handsome profit. Quickly and easily. And for a very small investment. So what are you waiting for? Call or email now!
