Beauty baskets of large yellow chrysanthemums with pots of lacy ferns formed the backgrounds for the altar. White tapers in floor candelabra lighted each side of the altar and were used at the piano and organ.

Proceeding the ceremony, Lottie Mae Thompson and Velma Frierson gave as vocal solos, "The Sweetest Story Ever Told and I Love You Truly." They were accompanied by Mrs. John W. Pace at the piano and Carrie Williams at the organ. Mrs. Pace and Williams also played the wedding music which included Mendelssohn and Lohengrin's bridal theme. Soft strains of "To A Wild Rose" were played throughout the ceremony.

The blonde beauty of the bride was emphasized in her wedding dress of tuscum grays with teal blue trim. Fashioned along princess lines, the afternoon frock held rhinestone clips at the neckline. Her accessories were black and included an off the face hat with pastel velvet streamers. She wore a gold locket, a gift of the groom, and an heirloom bracelet which had been worn by her mother in her wedding. Her arm bouquet was of pink briarcliff roses.

Helen Mable Baldwin of Haskell was maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of teal blue with bustle back and full shirred front. A heavy gold chain necklace was the only trim. Black accessories and canary gloves with a shoulder corsage of Talisman roses completed her costume.

Woodrow Wiseman served his brother as best man. Bill and Earl Wiseman, other brothers of the groom were ushers.

Enjoyed by Members of Magazine Club

On Friday evening November 17 a "Musical Rainbow" was the treat enjoyed by invited guests and members of the Magazine Club.

The art committee had arranged bows and vases of lavender, yellow and white chrysanthemums everywhere and clusters of roses added their fragrance. A most realistic rainbow, lighted with tiny electric bulbs of the rainbow colors spanned the east wall.

The decorations, rainbow and the handsome evening gowns over which the many pastel candles shed their light was indeed a beautiful picture.

The president, Mrs. Fields, in her own charming and graceful manner welcomed the guests and introduced the director and commentator, Mrs. Bill Richey, who responded most graciously to the very complimentary remarks of the president. At this time the vice president, Mrs. C. L. Lewis, in a few well chosen words introduced the guest artist, Mr. Maurice Harkens of Eastland. Mr. Harkens is a soloist of note having been granted an audition by the great singer, Lawrence Tibbets, who Mrs. Lewis related predicts a great future for this West Texas boy. The wonderful personality, combined with the singing of this artist captured the entire audience.

With Mrs. O. E. Patterson at the organ a program of songs was given. Among these were "Deep Night," "There's A Gold Mine In The Sky," "The Day Is Dying In The West" and many more, which, owing to lack of space cannot be mentioned.

After the program Judge J. C. Davis, Fred Sanders Jr., Mr. Kimbrough, director of the N. Y. A. in Haskell and Wallace Sanders shared with Mr. Harkens, the honors of the evening.

Delicious sandwiches, wafers, mints and tea was enjoyed. A handsome silver tea service graced each end of the table from which Mesdames Alfred Pierson and R. J. Reynolds poured tea.

We were delighted to have as our honor guests the Senior-Junior Magazine Club and the Harmony Club. Also present was Miss Faucett, society editor of the Abilene Reporter and Miss Eudora Hawkins of the West Texas Utilities, also of Abilene.

TRAVELIN'?

Yes, we know the vacation season's over, but the holiday season is coming up, and besides, there are thousands of our friends and customers who earn their living "on the road." . . . So the question isn't out-of-place, after all. Nor is the suggestion which follows: when you travel by car, you'll find it more comfortable if you'll fill up at Humble stations on the way. . . . They are, first, clean. Driveways are scrubbed, brightwork shines, and restrooms are as spotless, as sanitary, as your bathroom at home. Second, they are fully supplied with products which are second to none in performance. Humble offers you your choice of three LEADED gasolines, one for every car, every pocket-book: Humble's Balanced 997 Motor Oil gives perfect performance. . . . Third, you'll like the neatly uniformed Humble Station salesmen you meet. They're capable, prompt, courteous, genuinely helpful. . . . To the traveler by car, the Humble Service Station is a real oasis of the highway—stop for service where you see the Humble sign!

GEMS OF THOUGHT

Failure In News

We never have taken much stock in the old saying that it is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all. Better, perhaps, but certainly not easier. The thought was evoked by consideration of the case of a New York couple who leaped together from the 27th story of a New York hotel a few days ago. They had been happily married, very much in love with each other, for 15 years. They had been prosperous, living in comfortable apartments, driving good cars, wearing good clothes, eating regularly of the best foods—in short, a typical happy couple "in the money."

Then adversity overtook them. Income dropped off. They moved into cheaper quarters. Their clothing became a bit frayed. The rent was overdue. They were down to their last few dollars. Finally, after hours of agonizing indecision, the leap.

It is easy to generalize about such incidents. So they couldn't take it, eh? Lost their nerve, eh? They were all right while things were breaking their way, but caved in when Old Man Trouble stepped into the picture.

It is easy to pick flaws in the sort of philosophy, or lack of philosophy, which leads to such tragedies. But who is qualified to criticize? Who can say he wouldn't cave in, too, under the bludgeonings of chance?

Well, thank God, very few persons do give up so easily. Most of them fight back with everything they have—and as often as not, they lick Old Man Trouble to a fare-ye-well. If they didn't the world would soon be depopulated; for every mother's son of us has his troubles. Adversity is a sort of challenge, a battle for men's souls. We either give up or fight back, according to our nature. If we give up, we can't win for being licked; if we fight back we have better than an even chance to win. A person who refuses to be licked can't be licked. He may lose but mercifully he never is aware of our being, every instinct of our nature urges us to fight, fight, fight!

Our victories are never publicized, for they are commonplace; it is only when we fail that we become news.—Abilene Reporter-News.

W. T. JOHNSON
W. T. is one of the most popular boys in high school. He has attended Weineert continuously with the exception of two years at Howard. He is one of the outstanding athletes of W. H. S. He was captain of the junior basketball team during his freshman and sophomore years. He played on the senior basketball team for three years. His winning first place in vaulting, javelin throwing and shot put, and second place in broad jump in the county and first place in javelin throwing in the state was an asset to the school. He is fullback on the football team. Last year he served as co-captain of the team.

His acting ability is greatly appreciated by the whole school. Another of his assets is playing a cornet in the band. His winning personality and amiable disposition make him a friend to everyone. CHURCH OF CHRIST

J. G. Malphurs, Minister

Christianity is a social religion. It can't exist without promoting fellowship and good feeling among men, especially among its believers.

To promote this fellowship it is absolutely necessary for believers to have a certain time and place to gather together for mutual edification. The Lord has appointed the day, and the church sets the place. In such gatherings Christ is the center of attraction, the Guest of honor. The Christian who neglects these assemblies is on the road to apostasy; he has snubbed the fellowship of both his Lord and the faithful members. (Heb. 10:25).

The number present last Lord's day was seventy-two per cent of the total membership. We wish to urge every member to help us bring up the attendance to eighty per cent perfect next Sunday.

Preaching at eleven and seven-fifteen. All other services at usual hours.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

On Thanksgiving Day, The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and its branches throughout the world hold special Thanksgiving services, to which the public is cordially invited. The order of service includes the reading of a Lesson—Sermon on the topic of "Thanksgiving." Opportunity is also given to those present to express gratitude to God for blessings which have come to them during the past year.

The Golden Text is: "Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you" (I Thessalonians 5:16-18).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson—Sermon was the following from the Bible: "O give thanks unto the Lord; call upon his name: make known his deeds among the people" (Psalms 105:1). The Lesson—Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christians rejoice in secret beauty and bounty, hidden from the world, but known to God. Self-forgetfulness, purity, and affection are constant prayers. Practice not profession, understanding not belief, gain the ear and right hand of omnipotence and they assuredly call down infinite blessings" (page 15).

Mrs. H. K. Thornton and son, Jackie visited her mother, Mrs. R. C. Primm in Sweetwater this week end.

Who's Who In The Senior Class

ANNA ROSE CHAPMAN

We now turn to a very valuable officer, the reporter, who is none other than Anna Rose Chapman. As she is more interested in journalism than any other profession, one can readily see that the seniors made a wise choice in selecting her to represent them in writing.

During her high school years, Rose has held several offices also. She was secretary of the freshman class, reporter of the sophomore class, a columnist on the Warwhoop staff her junior and senior years, and is now treasurer of the Spanish club. Besides these honors, she has been in the Home Economics club two years and Gypsy Ramblers four years.

Anna Rose is not only brilliant, but also very artistic and as for her appearance, her pretty brown eyes are the greatest assets to her attractiveness.

Hats off to you Anna Rose Chapman and we the seniors join together in saying:

"Here's hoping that on Fortune's fall,
 You'll never see a frown,
 And may the corner of your mouth,
 Never be turned down."

FREDDIE LEE BARNETT

Good old Fred! Haskell High School is proud of him; we seniors are proud of him; and so is every one else who has luckily come in to contact with him. His curly hair is admired by all and his hearty laugh brings cheer and happiness to all.

Fred played football three years and to prove his ability as a good sportsman lettered every year.

At the present he is "Farm Watch Dog" of the Future Farmers and we have been told that he is fulfilling all responsibilities that have been placed in his hands in that office.

May you reach every goal that you strive for in the years to come. You have proved to us in many ways that you are capable, Fred, so set your mark, and go to it. We'll be sitting on the sidelines (in spirit) cheering you on to victory.

National Book Week Is Observed In Assembly

In observance of National Book Week, the Junior girls gave a very educational assembly program on Thursday, each girl showing and discussing briefly a certain book contained in our library. The object was to further acquaint our student body with various valuable books in the library that do not seem very well known. Very little fiction was included.

The theme of the program was "Books Around The World". It was presented in panel discussion form, consisting of six panels. The group subjects were: Books Around The World, Books of Historical Value, Biography, Scientific Achievement, Nature and Wild Life, Books of Miscellaneous Nature.

Panel chairmen were: Jeffe Maude Tolliver, Virginia Heath, Margie Busby, Betty Blake, Connie Jo Norton, Alta Faye Larned. The junior boys did not participate in this program due to the fact that they had formerly given panel discussion in the class room. The student body enjoyed this educational program and we give the credit to the splendid work of the junior girls.

 Josephine P.: Why, I have an aunt whose blood is so blue that she can't tell whether her fountain pen is leaking or whether she cut herself shaving.
