

All Around
The Town

By Mary Ann Sarchet

As the Christmas trees come down and the crumpled gift wrappings go into the dumpsters, we would like to pause to wish each of our friends a Happy New Year. In many ways it would be impossible in the farming communities not to look forward to a year better than the previous one.

With all this snow on the ground, the prospect for a wheat crop should be bright and the moisture should be as good as a pre-plant watering for the spring crops to be planted soon.

Does anyone have a WPA outhouse they would consent to get rid of?

No, we're not having any problems at our house.

One of our nephews and his wife recently have built a new home at Shallowater, and it is completely around an extensive collection of antiques and memorabilia from days gone by. They have been wishing for an outhouse to convert into a tool shed in a corner of their yard. If you have one you would be willing to part with, please contact me at 823-2333.

Winners in the home decoration contest sponsored by Briscoe County Activities Association have been announced this week.

We were told that some of the prettiest places didn't have their lights on when the judges came around on Thursday night of last week.

Calvin and Carolyn Shelton were winners of first place.

Second place went to the Jeff Smiths.

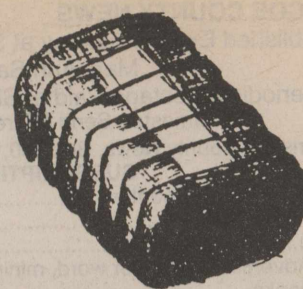

Third place was won by J. E. and Mary Jane Patton.

I spent a lot of Christmas Day birdwatching--one of my favorite hobbies. In addition to several kinds of sparrows, there were red-wing blackbirds, starlings, slate-colored juncos, house finches, American goldfinches, field larks, a cardinal, blue jays, pine siskins, a roadrunner and one pheasant rooster who casually walked by. It takes a lot of seed to feed them all day, but the pleasure they give me is tremendous.

You know me: I'm the one who likes to buy two or three loaves of bread to feed to the geese and ducks in Maxey Park in Lubbock.

At this time, we hope you are warm, not too discontent with eating your Christmas leftovers, and are still enjoying your Christmas gifts and guests. Let's hope that Thursday will arrive with clearing weather and the Hoot-Out will not be affected by ice and snow.

Honors Pile High for Owl Gridders

The Silverton Owls went 3-7 in 1999. In 2000, they went 8-2 and missed a state playoff berth by one point. Thus they earned the "Most Improved Team" honored bestowed by the sportswriters of the Amarillo Globe-News.

In addition, the Globe-News writers chose Isaiah Ivory as end on their Golden Spread Super Team. Isaiah had 25 catches for a 22-yard average and nine touchdowns during the season. He is the son of Clarence and Diana Ivory, and is a senior in Silverton High School.

His brother, Red Ivory, was chosen as safety on the Super Team. He made 90 tackles and intercepted eight passes during the recently-completed season. A sophomore in Silverton High, he is looking forward to getting to play again next year.

Dewayne Lee turned the Owls around from 3-7 to 8-2 and a near playoff berth. Coach Lee was chosen by the Gobe-News as Coach

Post Office Open House a Success

The Silverton Post Office held an open house Tuesday, December 19, for Christmas and Customer Appreciation, and it was a tremendous success. Postmaster Hoot Barker said, "We had over 150 folks to sign our guest book. And, there were some who were not in the book who attended. We also had a good number of children who visited the Post Office that afternoon who had the opportunity to visit Santa and receive grab bags that contained coloring books, crayons, a frisbee and candy."

The Post Office experienced a flurry of excitement throughout the day as postal patrons enjoyed holiday music and refreshments provided by Barker, his wife, Katy, and the post office staff. Tina Davis, Claudine Peery, Lucy McDaniel, Connie Simpson, Fred

Arnold and Dock Wallace were the lucky winners of door prizes donated by Jan Curry's Magic Memories Gift Shop in Silverton. Terry Grimland was the lucky recipient of a beautiful throw blanket that was donated by Karol's Kountry Korner in Quitaque. The Postmaster said that he "appreciated the gifts that Jan and Karol donated. It helped to make the open house a real success."

Postmaster Relief Katy Bomar, Juanita Howard, Rural Carrier Janinne Brooks and Katy Barker provided various refreshments that were enjoyed throughout the day. The Barker's infant son, Cole, got special treats from Katy Bomar and Juanita Howard. Santa brought Cole a replica 1940 Ford Pepsi-Cola truck that Cole enjoyed rolling across the workroom floor of the post office.

Barker said that he "really enjoyed visiting with everyone." He also said that he "felt lucky to have such nice folks to serve in the Silverton community. I also have been blessed to be able to have the quality people I have working for me here in the Silverton Post Office." The staff includes Katy Bomar, Postmaster Relief and Rural Carrier Associate; Janinne Brooks, Rural Carrier; Juanita Howard, Custodial Services; Steve Wilson, Highway Route Contractor 2, and Lupe Grubb, Highway Route Contractor 3.

Barker finished by saying that he "appreciated the feedback this year with the kids' letters to Santa and being able to help provide this service." He also said that he will be offering an added service for See Post Office Open House--Continued on Page Two of the Year.

Chosen from the Valley team to be members of the Super Team were Justin Davis, runningback; Wes Henson, center and blocker for Davis; Vance Chandler, kicker. All of the Valley players are seniors.

Isaiah Ivory was also named offensive end on the Avalanche-Journal All-South Plains Six-Man team. He was the main target in the Owls' spread offense and caught 25 passes for a gain of 529 yards.

Red Ivory received honorable mention as offensive end on the All-South Plains team.

From Valley, Ryan Wellman, a senior linebacker, was chosen, along with Wes Henson, Justin Davis and Vance Chandler, all of whom received honorable mention.

Energas Company Informs Customers Of Rate Increases

Energas Company wants its customers to be aware of the continuing increase in natural gas market prices this winter. Wholesale natural gas prices nationwide are continuing to increase, along with the wholesale costs of heating oil, propane, and other energy sources. This increase combined with colder than normal weather, means customers' heating bills will be significantly higher than 1999.

Based on current gas price projections, the average residential customer's peak winter bill may

Senior Citizens To Have Birthday Party January 2

Silverton Senior Citizens will have their monthly birthday party at the Center on Tuesday, January 2, 2001.

Those who have birthdays in January will be honored at the party.

Those who had their birthdays celebrated in December will be hosting this party.

To offset the impact of higher gas prices and cold winter weather, Energas customers may choose to enroll in the company's Budget Billing program which offers an excellent way to even out monthly gas bill payments. In addition, some states offer energy assistance through local funding agencies.

Making and Breaking New Year's Resolutions

What new year's resolutions should we make for the year 2001? The usual ones like trying to exercise more, going on a diet, or giving something up, just do not seem to work that well with most people. I very seldom get past January before my determined resolutions have gone along the wayside. Perhaps we should make resolutions that are not so demanding and that are more enjoyable for everyone. For example, we could try to be more positive and expect only good things to happen to us; every day we could tell our spouse that we love them; we could try to be a better listener and not do all of the talking; we could say something nice to someone each day; we could pray, praise and thank God throughout each day for all of His many blessings; and we could try to live a better life and set good examples for our family, friends and coworkers. Although making and breaking our new year's resolutions helps to show us our faults and shortcomings, by following the love of our Lord and striving each day to be a better person, we will meet with God's approval.

I can do all things through Christ which strengthen me.

Obituary

D. M. COGDELL, JR.

D. M. Cogdell, jr. died Tuesday, December 19, 2000 near his home in the Cedar Hill area of Floyd County as a result of a single-vehicle automobile accident. He was 78 years old.

Funeral services were conducted a 1:00 p.m. Friday at the First United Methodist Church in Floydada. A graveside service was held in the Snyder Cemetery at Snyder at 4:00 p.m. following the funeral service.

Mr. Cogdell was born September 20, 1922 at the home of his grandparents in Jones County to the late D. M. Cogdell, sr. and Johnnye Kate Oldham Cogdell. He had resided in Floyd County since the early sixties. He was reared on ranches in Kent and Cottle counties, and attended high school in Snyder and college at Southwestern University in Georgetown and at Texas Tech. He graduated from the United States Navy V-12 Program at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois, for officer training in World War II. He served in active duty in the Navy as an officer aboard a combat vessel for an extended tour of duty in the Pacific.

He was a member of the National Cutting Horse Association, American Quarter Horse Association, Texas Cattle Feeders Association and the First United Methodist Church.

A well-known rancher, Mr. Codell was an oilman and philanthropist who generously supported many charitable activities throughout the area, including the Briscoe County Clinic and Silverton Volunteer Ambulance Service. His significant ranching heritage dates back to the turn of the century when his father, D. M. Cogdell, sr. began ranching near Abilene. During his more than 60 years of active ranching, he continued the family's ranching tradition by acquiring and operating Panhandle area ranches in several counties.

He is survived by two daughters, Connie Delle Cogdell of Lubbock and Carol Cogdell Courtney and her husband, John Patrick Courtney of Houston; a brother, Billy Cogdell of Silverton; and two grandsons, John Cogdell Courtney and David Martin Courtney.

Mr. Cogdell was preceded in death by two sisters, Martha Ann Cogdell and JoniSue Cogdell Bowden Stiff.

The family suggested memorials be to the Ranching Heritage Center, 3121 East 4th Street, Lubbock, TX 79403; Humane Society,

Cotton Market weekly

A Service Provided by Plains Cotton Cooperative Association

Holiday doldrums appeared to rule the cotton market this week as traders showed lackluster interest due to an absence of fresh fundamental news. All eyes were on USDA's weekly export sales report as large sales were expected, but even the realization of those expectations did not boost the market. A drop in U. S. cotton prices was expected to bolster U. S. export sales in USDA's weekly export sales report.

USDA did not disappoint most market observers as its weekly net export sales figure was within the range of expectations at 156,200 bales. The figure was 82 percent above cotton sales for the previous week and two-thirds higher than the four-week average. Canada was the premier buyers of U. S. cotton with purchases totaling 61,100 bales. Japan and Taiwan rounded out the list of top buyers as both countries purchased 22,700 bales each. Exports of 110,600 bales were up 12 percent from shipments the previous week and 19 percent over the four-week average.

Orders Are Being Taken Now For Windbreak Trees

Caprock Soil and Water Conservation District is once again taking orders for windbreak trees.

All varieties of evergreens are $2.50, hardwoods are $1.50.

A limited number of wildlife seedling packets for quail, pheasant, deer and turkey also are available for farmstead plantings. Each wildlife packet contains 100 trees and is available for $75.00 per packet.

Minimum orders are required on windbreak seedlings, but the Natural Resource Conservation Service will work to try to get what you need. There is no required minimum on the larger trees that are available. Order early, because many of the more popular varieties sell out fast.

Windbreaks properly located and containing the right tree species will provide wind and snow protection for farm homesteads as well as livestock. Living windbreaks also provide nesting places for small insect-eating birds as well as food and cover for numerous High Plains game birds. Windbreaks for shelter or wildlife habitat are permitted under CRP contracts.

Technical assistance is available from the Natural Resource Conservation Service in planning and designing your windbreak, drip irrigation systems and windbreak management. Drip irrigation systems and information on installation are available through the Caprock Soil and Water Conservation District.

Come by the Natural Resource Conservation office for a complete list of tree varieties. For any additional information, call 823-2431, Ext. 101.

Programs and services of the Soil and Water Conservation District and the Natural Resource Conservation Service are offered on a nondiscriminatory basis without regard to race, color, national origin, age, sex, religion, marital status, or handicap.

The deadline for orders is Tuesday, March 13. The trees will arrive in Silvertown Wednesday, March 21, 2001.

Following the rally in natural gas prices have the market pondering production costs and acreage this spring. The cost of pumping water for irrigation will climb dramatically if these prices hold, and cotton uses less water than many other crops which could raise acreage. Therefore, the price of natural gas will be watched closely by cotton market observers for the next several months.

Fifth Grade Curriculum Teaches Others About Plant Water

Fifth grader David Dean of Woodway is teaching others that tap water is not best for house plants. He devised a water filtering system for plants and wrote a lesson aimed at showing other youngsters how to do it.

Dean won first place in a contest from the Junior Master Gardener, or J-M-G, program. J-M-G is a youth gardening program developed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It uses fun, hands-on activities to teach horticulture and environmental science concepts.

Level One of the J-M-G program is geared for students in third through fifth grades.

Level Two of the program will be available next year and is for sixth through eighth graders. Dean says his involvement began after master gardeners visited his home schooling co-op. The group taught the youngsters how to attract monarch butterflies with certain plants. His interest in plants grew and soon he was pondering ways to help them flourish. For more information, visit the J-M-G web site at jmg.tamu.edu.

Cotton News

from Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

After being invited to one of the first sit-down meetings on Agriculture policy by President-elect George W. Bush, cotton industry representative Robert E. McClendon discussed a number of issues that affect severely distressed cotton producers in Texas and across the United States.

McClendon described to Bush, and Secretary of Agriculture nominee Ann Veneman, an economic scenario that threatens to critically wound a significant segment of the Texas cotton industry.

McClendon reiterated the fact that authority for a third wave of disaster assistance does exist under the "Severe Economic Loss" section of the 2000 Crop Disaster Program approved by Congress as part of the FY2001 Agriculture Appropriations Bill.

The primary arget of much of the problem are a large number of producers, whose production in 2000 exceeded the 65 percent Crop Disaster Program (CDP) trigger level but still suffered significant quality deductions on the heels of wet, harvest-delaying weather in October and November.

The net effect is less income from a short crop that was more expensive than expected to produce.

Without the benefits provided through the 2000 CDP these producers will be unable to generate enough income at current price levels to cover operating expenses which skyrocketed due to increase insect pressure and energy costs during the growing season.

The bulk of the impacted growers in 2000 are located on the Texas High Plains and Plains Cotton Growers has been pushing hard to find both short- and long-term solutions that will ultimately keep farmers in the game in 2001.

The most significant hurdle will be the financing options available to growers in 2001. Most observers are indicating that producers will be hard pressed to demonstrate a positive financial outcome in 2001 based on current prices and expense projections.

Irrigated producers trying to figure out how to finance both carryover debt from 2000 as well as 2001 operating expenses will have an especially hard time. Dryland producers also will face an uphill battle.

The central battleground seems to be the loan office for many producers and PCG is working to formulate some type of plan that would help producers project positive cash-flows from next year's crop.

Central ideas involve the pursuit of increased loan rates on the 201 crop to raise the floor price that producers can realize; increasing the 2001 Ag Market Transition Payment rate to 1998 levels and authorization of the use of modified producer yield and crop acreage base figures for cotton.

The general consensus is that updating the program in these three areas would provide enough of a boost in projected income levels to allow full financing of operating expenses in 2001. The other avenue for short-term assistance that is still in need of further pursuit is the authority for "Severe Economic Loss" payments under the current Disaster program.

PCG and the NCC will be encouraging the new Administration to find some way to implement assistance under this section and target some help to growers who have suffered significant economic losses over the past two to three years but have been cut off from disaster assistance in the past.

Cotton's invitation to sit at the table with President-elect Bush is certainly an encouraging sign that he and Secretary of Agriculture nominee Ann Veneman are interested in helping agriculture and cotton get through this very difficult period.
