

All Around The Town

By Mary Ann Sarchet

Briscoe County Activities Association will have its regular meeting on Friday, April 25, rather than on Thursday night as usual. The group will meet at 7:00 p.m. at the Showbarn in Silverton.

The 12th annual Meals on Wheels Car & Motorcycle Show in Plainview is Saturday, May 4, 9:00 a.m. until 9:00 p.m.; Sunday, May 5, 9:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. at the Ollie Liner Center, south I-27 business route (South Columbia Street) This event is sponsored by the Plainview Roadrunners.

A team of Rock Salt youth and adult sponsors are planning and preparing for a summer Mission Trip to Mexico. July 1-10, the team will travel to Trinidad, Colorado to a Youth With a Mission base to begin five days of missions training which includes dramas, puppets, worship, team building exercises and cultural evangelism teaching. Then it is off to Mexico to work in Juarez. The group plans to build a house for the homeless, work in an orphanage, perform gospel dramas and puppet shows, as well as worship with and serve local churches in Mexico.

To raise money for the trip, Rock Salt will be having several fundraisers in the coming months. This month, they will be selling Krispy Kreme doughnuts. Each person helping to raise funds will be selling Krispy Kreme doughnuts for $6.50 a dozen. Those selling the doughnuts will give each person buying them a voucher for each dozen they purchase. On the voucher, it will give the time and place that the doughnuts will be available for pick-up. Each person simply brings their voucher to the Rock Salt building on Saturday, May 4, between 7:00 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. to pick up their doughnuts. Adult sponsors will be traveling to Dallas on late on the evening of Friday, May 3, to pick them up fresh from Krispy Kreme and will deliver them promptly to the Rock Salt building for pick-up Saturday morning. Each voucher will have all this information printed on it so no one will forget.

Krispy Kreme doughnuts are a very hot fundraiser right now. Everyone seems to love them.

(NAPSA)-Controlling the air quality in your home may be good for more than just your health-it may preserve your furniture as well.

Chairs, tables, pianos, floors and other wooden household furnishings are all sensitive to the amount of humidity in the air.

"Dry air affects all wood furnishings," says Sean McCarthy, director of the Aprilaire® Center for Indoor Air Comfort. "Very dry air can promote warping or splitting and it can stress paint and finishes."

Too much humidity at some times and too much dry air at others is even more harmful.

"Variations in humidity from season to season cause tremendous stress on wood furnishings," explains McCarthy. "Excessive humidity can cause doors and drawers to bind and stick."

To help protect their furnishings, many homeowners use an automatic, whole house humidifier.

An automatic humidifier is part of your heating and cooling system. McCarthy's company makes one that is computer equipped to measure the outdoor temperature and indoor humidity more than 86,000 times a day.

Welcome the Lord!

We Can Always Learn

I once worked for an automobile dealership and it seemed that I was always being sent to various classes and seminars. The owner of the dealership told me that he wanted me to learn as much as I could, and someday perhaps I'd realize how little I know. He didn't mean this in a derogatory way, he just wanted me to realize that there was so much to understand and learn in this world.

In the Bible, the Lord appeared to Solomon in a dream, and asked him "what would you like me to give you?" Instead of asking for wealth or long life, Solomon asked for wisdom. The Lord was so pleased that He gave Solomon not only wisdom and understanding, but also wealth, honor, and long life.

Just as important as being educated in our chosen occupation, we should also be knowledgeable about our faith. A wise person will walk in the ways of the Lord, and reading God's word, the Bible, will help us learn and gain wisdom.

For the Lord gives wisdom; from His mouth come knowledge and understanding.

Caprock Canyons State Park Announces Trailway Challenge

Are you a hiker, biker or horseback rider? Well, the Trailway Challenge may be just what you are looking for this Spring. The Trailway is 64 miles long, and if you are one of the first 100 people to travel the entire Trailway, you are entitled to a patch and certificate as a reward for your accomplishment.

Caprock Canyons State Park currently manages the old railroad that once ran from Estelline on Highway 287 to South Plains, near Floydada. The Trailway, as it is now named, has been converted for use as a hiking, biking, and horseback riding trail that spans 64 miles of scenic and historic countryside. The Trailway passes through Turkey, home of Bob Wills, the King of Western Swing, and Quitaque, home of Caprock Canyons State Park and the Texas State Bison Herd.

Caprock Canyons has installed etched plates between the seven parking lots along the Trailway for the Challenge. As evidence that you have traveled the entire length, you can make a rubbing of each of the etched plates and send them in for verification. Call ahead to let the staff know your intentions to take the Challenge, and they will send you a detailed map and the exact locations of the etched plates.

Caprock Partners Foundation, the park's friends group, is hosting the Trailway Challenge Kick-off on April 27, Bob Wills celebration weekend in Turkey. The Kick-off is an event for bikers who want to ride the Trailway in one day. There is a $25 registration fee for the Kick-off event that includes refreshments along the way, a sag wagon, dinner at the end of the trail, and a shuttle back to your vehicle. The Kick-off will begin at the South Plains Terminal of the Trailway and end at the Estelline Terminal. Call the state park office, 806-455-1491, for a registration form.

This spring, if you are looking for something challenging, rewarding, and fun, find a friend and take the Trailway Challenge.

Cotton  News
from Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

House Conferees submitted a new Conference proposal to their counterparts from the Senate Thursday, April 18, in an effort to reinvigorate negotiations between the two sides.

The House proposal, which retreated slightly from some previously reported proposals, appears to stay within the confines of the current budget agreement and includes several interesting changes from their original legislation.

Among the more interesting points are a slight increase in loan rates and the addition of a partial yield update for growers who elect to update crop acreage bases.

Unfortunately, Senate Conferees led by Senator Tom Harkin (D-IA) did an apparent about-face on many issues including loan rates, payment limitations.

As a result the Senate counterproposal returned to provisions that would actually lead to less than current support for producers of crops such as cotton and rice. Low prices have made loan deficiency payments and generic certificates the only lifeline available to help them meet the minimum price supposedly guaranteed by the marketing loan program.

In the latest Senate counterproposal all of the apparent progress that had been made over the past couple of weeks to find a workable compromise appeared to have been tossed out the window.

Where the process goes from this point is a matter of speculation. House Ag Committee Chairman Larry Combest has pledged to continue to work to find that elusive middle-ground which will provide U. S. farmers and ranchers a dependable, market-driven safety-net. Whether or not Senate conferees have the same motivation is unclear and only time will tell what will happen.

For producers two key points still drive the need for completion of the Farm Bill effective in 2002.

The first point is that even though legislation authorizing supplemental assistance have been filed, automatic approval by Congress is not a given. Any supplemental assistance bill that is debated will no doubt face the same uphill battle for legitimacy that is plaguing the Farm Bill.

The second point is that abandoning the effort to complete the legislation in favor of another band-aid fix creates serious budget implications for a Bill initiated with the 2003 crop.

The House Ag Committee leadership has not given up and will continue to fight for a Bill this year. It appears that negotiations and meetings will continue through the weekend and into next week.

Members of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. Board of Directors came together April 5 to elect the organization's board for the 2002-2003 growing season.

The PCG Board elected Mark Williams of Farwell as the organization's 23rd president.

Also elected to officer positions were Rickey Bearden of Plains as vice president and Mike Hughes of Lamesa as secretary-treasurer. PCG By-laws limit terms of service for each officer position to two consecutive terms.

Also selected at the PCG Board of Directors meeting was the 2002-2003 Executive Committee.

We made $336.70 on the hamburger cook-out. Thanks to all of you who supported us and a special thanks to those of you who donated money. This will help us with the expense of the building.

Those who quilted last week were Joy Stodghill, Laverne Stephens, Ann Norris, Lallie Patton, Nadyne Childress, Wanda Strnge and Bobbye Bean. Sybil came by for a few minutes. They were going to Ruidoso for the weekend.

Diane Norris stopped by for a visit and we got to meet her. I think she may join us in a few weeks.

Ada and Lee are back home and we expect to see her at quilting this week.

Ninety-five youth gathered at the Texas A&M Extension and Research Center Saturday, April 13, to apply their critical thinking and decision making skills gained in the 4-H consumer life skills project. Prior to the contest, youth studied several items to determine which is the best product to purchase in a specific situation.

Cotton Market weekly

A Service Provided by Plains Cotton Cooperative Association

Market participants remain wary of several factors in the background that might affect prices in the longer term. These include the pace of cotton plantings, weather in the U. S. and China, domestic and overseas demand, technical factors and the farm bill.

On the farm bill front, farm groups have been putting pressure on Congress to finish the bill in time to apply it to this year's growing season, but when the conference committee will finish its work still is anyone's guess. Several times this week it appeared that a final farm bill soon would be agreed upon, however, negotiations continued through Thursday, April 18.

Meanwhile, USDA released another healthy U. S. export sales report. According to the department's weekly data, net export sales of 2001-02 crop U. S. cotton for the week ended April 11 totaled 119,700 bales, two-thirds higher than the previous week and 24 percent above the four-week average. Turkey was the major buyer of U. S. cotton with purchases totaling 27,300 bales. Indonesia and China rounded out the list of top three buyers with acquisitions of 16,200 and 14,300 bales, respectively.

"Export sales continue on their sizzling pace, and shipments, too," a cotton trader noted. "Sales are aided by the current lower prizes and by the fact the U. S. dollar is coming off its highs," he explained.

U. S. export shipments for the week totaled 267,300 bales, according to USDA. The figure was just five percent lower than the prior week's marketing year high but 15 percent above the four-week average. Primary destinations were Turkey, Mexico, Indonesia and South Korea.

Meanwhile, online sales of cotton by Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas producers were lower in the week ended April 18. The week's 3,025 bale sales total was considerably lower than the previous week's sales of 5,892 bales. Prices received by growers selling their cotton online ranged from 25.91 to 30.65 cents per pound compared to a range 28.25 to 39.38 cents per pound the prior week.

In other news, an estimated nine percent of the prospective U. S. cotton crop was in the ground as of April 14, according to USDA. The figure closely compared with eight percent planted a year earlier and the four-year average of eight percent.

Blowing sand and dust are harming many young cotton plants in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Some irrigated farmers are attempting to dampen soils in an effort to limit the damage. Moisture levels remain at a deficit throughout the region, and plant growth will deteriorate rapidly if no measurable precipitation falls in the next two weeks.

Approximately three-fourths of the expected cotton acreage has been planted in the Upper Coastal Bend and Winter Garden districts, and emergence has been witnessed on some of the earliest-planted fields. Statewide, 13 percent of the crop was in the ground by April 14, up two percentage points from the average.

Warmer temperatures and a decrease in precipitation occurred across the lower half of the U. S. Delta this past week resulting in much improved field conditions for pre-planting and early planting fieldwork. Meanwhile, northern parts of the Delta remain too wet for planting. In fact, cotton planting already is off to a slow start in the Delta due to too much rain in the final days of March and early April.

Planting of this year's cotton remains most advanced in California, Arizona and Texas, although nationwide, only a little less than one-tenth of the anticipated crop has been planted. However, the total acreage that ultimately will be planted to cotton in the United States remains uncertain. With a broad selection of crop alternatives and the absence of a new farm bill, many growers have cut back on cotton acreage since they reported their intentions to Washington just six weeks ago.

Project Graduation Donations Being Sought To Help With Party

Donations are being sought to help with Project Graduation 2002. Door prizes, gifts, food and admission charges for the activities are paid for with donations made by the parents, friends, and supporters of this project.

It was determined that traffic crashes, half of which involve alcohol and other drugs, are a leading cause of death and serious injury for young people (ages 15-19). Therefore the State of Texas and interested citizens are supporting "Project Graduation," a program promoting drug/alcohol-free parties for high school students. The Texas Department of Transportation pledges $250.00 each year to provide mini-grants as "seed money" to high schools who support Project Graduation activities, and concerned citizens are asked to join in.

Project Graduation committee's purpose is to offer students the opportunity to have drug/alcohol-free celebrations in lieu of traditional drinking parties. It is hoped this effort will curb deaths and disabilities associated with drinking, taking drugs and driving.

This year's Project Graduation will be held following the graduation exercises Friday, May 24. All high school students, who have signed up to attend, will board school buses for a trip to Lubbock.

Skating will be the first activity on the agenda, followed by Cosmic Bowling. Food will be provided throughout the evening with pizza being served at the skating rink. The group will return to Silverton around 6:00 a.m. for breakfast at the First Baptist Church fellowship hall before going home.

All high school students will be required to submit a permission form signed by themselves and their parents by the sign-up deadline. No one will be allowed to leave the group before breakfast on Saturday morning.

Monetary donations may be given to Michelle Francis, Route 1, Box 54A, Silverton, Texas 79257. If you would prefer another type of donation, the committee

Turkey Jamboree Is Saturday, May 4

Turkey's next jamboree is May 4 at the Bob Wills Community Center Gymnasium. There are several new entertainers. Laura Ford is a very attractive young lady from Alvord who sings traditional oldies but goodies of Hank Williams, Dolly Parton, Johnny Cash, Loretta Lynn, etc.

The Southern Angels from Malvern, Arkansas are sisters Jordan Lacey and Jessica Jackson. The girls are teenagers and have performed at the Mel Tillis Theatre in Branson, the Loretta Lynn Ranch in Hurricane Mills, Tennessee and their song "Tradition" written especially for them by Steve Myers, has fast become a hit in Europe. It is currently No. 12 on Europe radio stations.

Then there is The Texas Duo, 18-year-old Masie Keylon from Mesquite, and 18-year-old Jennifer J. Lee from Poetry. Robert Blackshear from Longview sings a lot of traditional country classics, and some rock and roll.

Showtime is 7:00 p.m. There will be a concession stand with lots of good food.
