Attending National WHEAT FARMERS

Marketing Quotas Will Be Decided By Nation's Farmers

Wheat marketing quotas, which strengthen acreage allotments and make 85-percent of parity loans available will be decided in national referendum, Saturday May 2, and all Haskell county wheat farmers are eligible to vote in the referendum, according to John Brock, chairman of the Haskell county AAA committee.

Last year, in the first referendum, Texas wheat farmers approved quotas by 94 percent while Haskell county farmers approved quotas by 92 percent,

In pointing out the importance of Saturday's referendum, Mr. Brock explained that America has enough wheat to make 588 loaves of bread for every person in the country. "Translated into ordinary English that's lots of wheat and unless we control those giant reserves we'll probably run into a lot of troubles and headaches before we've disposed of it," chairman said.

For the referendum Saturday ten polling places have been designated in Haskell county and the polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 8 p. m., war time, and all eligible wheat growers are urged to vote in the referendum. Polling places in the county have been designated as follows:

Rockdale schoolhouse Mattson schoolhouse Weinert schoolhouse Haskell, district courtroom Irby schoolhouse. Sagerton schoolhouse Paint Creek schoolhouse, Brushy schoolhouse. Rule City Hall. Plainview schoolhouse.

Foods List Same As During April

There will be no change in the Agricultural Marketing Administration's blue stamp foods list in car. May, according to Richard A. hristal, area supervisor, AMA distribution branch.

Participants in the food stamp rogram will be able to purchase he same blue stamp foods during May as they did in April. The complete list of blue stamp foods, as issued by the Agricultural Marketing Administration for the period May 1 through May 31 in stamp program areas, is as llows: butter, shell eggs, fresh grapefruit, pears, apples, oranges and fresh vegetables (including potatoes), corn meal, dried prunes ominy (corn) grits, dry edible wheat flour, enriched wheat flour, self-rising flour, eniched self rising flour, and whole heat (graham) flour Mr. Christal pointed out that through the food stamp program American farmers have a ready market for the foods they graw, thereby assuring them a fair return on their full food production. He said all the activities of the AAA are designed to give farmers a fair price for their products in order that they may be able to continue producing the food and fiber so necessary to win the war and write the peace. At the same time, he explained, these programs help build America's home defense by providing health building foods to needy American families.

Rain Sets Back Stamp Sales

The students and faculty of Haskell high school are still trying to do their part for VICTORY by buying all the saving stamps and bonds possible.

Last week the total purchase amounted to only $65.35, however which was quite a drop from the amount of $80.80 for the previous week. This decrease is no doubt due to the fact that a large number of students missed school on Thursday and Friday of last week because of the heavy rains.

Students, since a ten-cent saving stamp may pay for the ammunition to save a soldier's life and a twenty-five cent stamp may buy the bullet to shoot down an enemy bomber, let's make next week's purchase greater than ever

Baptist Women Honor Seniors

Almost every member of the Senior Class was present at the banquet given in their honor by the Baptist women, on the evening of April 21. This is an annual affairs which every group of seniors looks forward to, and this year it came at just the right time to begin a round fo social activities which they have in store for them. The members of the faculty who teach senior classes were also included on the guest list this

Seated at a V shaped table beautifully decorated to carry out a patriotic theme, the guests were served a delicious repast. The program was brought by several very talented students from Hardin-Simmons; it consisted of vocal and Marimba selections, and some dramatic readings. A heart-toheart talk was given to members of the class, especially the boys by a young man student who stressed the importance of the graduates beginning further training without delay. Mr. Harry Hayes of the Hardin-Simmons faculty, introduced the college

Snort Patterson won fourth in the discus event and Tommy Davis won second in the broad jump. by three inches The crowds saw a real show of Haskell talent and, though we didn't place Breckenridge this time, our boys left everyone sure there was a place called Haskell in the competition.

Though all the Indians didn't win, we're sure they were all doing their best in every event. Our hats are off to you, boys, for carrying our colors as far as the regional and being the best track stars Haskell has had in many

Through the Looking Glass

To hear them tell it, Fort Worth was over-run by Marigene Sel-lers, Carolyne, Betty Jo and Ross last Friday and Saturday. With the Blackstone Hotel as their headquarters they toured the town among flood, Cadets, and gobs of Presbyterians. You should hear about the 12:00 party, and the 2 a. m. trip about the town.

So the senior play is to be given Friday—well isn't that nice? Then those members of the cast can just be plain Roy Clay and Mamie Jean, and Dale and all the rest. And they won't be running around the school murmuring their lines any more either. And maybe Brock and Dale will forget that silly love scene, and stop calling each other "honey" and "darling" But the one who is the most thankful for the end of the play is Miss Couch. Of course hasn't said a word of complaint, but we know! And who wouldn't? This play cast has developed more amazing complexes than any cast that has ever existed. But oh, it was fun, wasn't it?

No wonder Jack Thornton has become so popular lately. He has a Model T with four good tires! Does any boy have any more to offer than that? Of course, Jack does have more to offer than that in the way of personality, etc., but his qualifications will be hard to beat. But don't worry boys, those tires are bound to wear out, and when they do-well, take your pick. (Of the girls, I mean).

The Junior-Senior Banquet is just around the corner. And from sports and has been on the valley rumors, it is really going to be something big! The Juniors are really exerting themselves to give the present seniors as nice a banquet as these same seniors gave the ones last year And they are just the students that can do it. All the seniors are looking forward with anticipation to May 8, the scheduled date. But not one would kick if it were postponed in order that Snort and Tommy (who are eligible to go to Austin in track) will not miss it.

Summer School

This year there's an "all out" effort in education just there is in war. Institutions of all classes and grades undertaking to provide every possible opportunity young people who want to go to school-who want to use precious time that is here today and gone tomorrow.

In line with the needs of industry, business, and Government, we are carrying our classes through the st mer and ordinarily can receive and schedule students Monday. We have the assurance that our summer sch will be filled. This country is blessed with a great host young men and young women who believe in education who believe in getting an education when it is available them.

Perhaps summer vacations may have to be shorten for all of us, but many of our summer students have told that the change from some other type of school or in some uncongenial employment is the full equivalent of vacation.

Before you deliberately waste the precious summ months, soberly consider how much better it will be for to spend your time in school.

Soldier's Unprecedented Flight An Epic of American Ingenuity

Out of Java and Melbourne comes a story of American ingenuity and heroism which can make every American feel justly proud. Master Sgt. Harry M. Hayes of San Antonio, Tex., saved the lives of eighteen American, British and Dutch officers, women and children, when, without previous piloting experience, he flew a dilapidated and battered plane which had been repaired under his personal supervision from Java to Australia, 1,300 miles over ocean waves and seashore and desert sands

Sergeant Hayes had been left in Java, due to an oversight at the time when the American forces were evacuated Also several American women and children were there because thy had been too late to catch a plane. The Japanese were only ten miles away. An American volunteer flier of the Chinese Air Force, whose wife was also with him, appeared on the scene and inquired if there was any way of getting out of Java. Hayes and the volunteer flier went over to the airport and there they found four American planes, but they were all wrecked. There were three flying fortresses and

Sergeant Hayes was not a pilot though he had served for sixteen years in the United States Army Air Corps, and the volunteer flier was unfamiliar with the various controls and gadgets of the flying fortresses Hayes went to work on the B-18 In two days he had made considerable progress in getting it overhauled when Japanese fliers came over and undid his work, demolishing the B-18 If he and the rest were to get out of Java, nothing remained but to see what could be done with one of the flying fortresses. He rounded up a crew of sixty Hollanders and divided them into three shifts of twenty each

In three days two engines had been rebuilt, However, this did not complete the job by any means. The wings had to be repaired. The plane Incked flaps and there was no way of getting these. The tail had been blasted by the Japanese and required considerable work and skill to put it in condition again. In order to make the plane as light

When the time for the take-off arrived, each one who was going to venture on this one chance of escape left to them was fully aware that Hayes was not a pilot within the accepted definition of that term, but they did know, because they had seen with their own eyes, that Hayes was a man of daring plus extraordinary mechanical skill and experience, and they all felt justified in taking the chance. That he made good and landed his passengers safely is now a matter of history. How he was able to bring down his plane without flaps and still not damage the plane or injure anyone in it is a puzzle to experienced flying men.

Report On Hawaii Suppressed

In 1924 a seven-man report on conditions in Hawaii was suppressed at the instance of the State Department, because it was "unwise" to release the "dangerous and startling" statements.

The government of the United States, at the time, was nursing the disarmament project and thought that publication of the report might result in a rupture of Japanese-American relations. It would have been much better to have had the rupture then than to wait for it to occur, as it did in December, 1941.

Apparently there were a series of "racial" strikes in Hawaii in the 1920's which paralyzed much of the agricultural industry of the islands. The investigation disclosed Japanese preponderance in the population of five to one, that parental adoption and picture brides were nullifying the immigration agreement between Japan and the United States and reerred to a military menace that could be verified by the records of the Federal depart-

The report pointed out that there existed definite necessity of "providing some means of guaranteeing American control (cf the islands) through a permanent plan formulated and established for the white race." It was shown that Japanese aliens made their homes near vital power plants, forts and harbor entrances. The prevalence of Japanese domestic servants robbed "families of much of their privacy and freedom of frank discussion of the problem."

Our Ignorance of Russia

The people of the United States, together with those in Great Britain, are gradually revising their ideas about Soviet Russia.

The splendid showing of the Soviet Army against the Nazis, together with evidence that the people of Russia are behind the Red Army, creates presumption that the people of Russia are firm their support of Joseph Stalin and the Communst government.

Incidentally the Russian dictator has surprised Americans by his grasp of world events. There is no reason for surprise apparently except our own ignorance of the world situation and our retusal to make any intelligent effort to understand Russia and the Russians. For example in 1936, Mr. Stalin, in an interview with an American newspaper man, discussed two points of danger, "one in the Far East in the zone of Japan, and the other in Europe in the zone of Germany

From this distance, after the lapse of six years it appears that Mr. Stalin scored a bull's eye. Certainly, it was not his fault that the people of this country were not able to accurately check the tar-

The same observation can be made in respect to the ideas that the people of Soviet Russia were against their government and that the Soviet Union would collapse under attack

U. S. Wheat Bins Are Full

World War II finds the United States well supplied with wheat, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. As the chart indicates. the supply is double that of 1917 when America entered the first World War. It is estimated that on July 1, the Nation's supply will be nearly 1% billion bushels, enough for two years of domestic use. Instead of plowing up new land and expanding wheat acreage, farmers are able to use land, labor, and equipment in turning out other war commodities more vitally needed-such as dairy, poultry, and meat products. vegetables, and oil crops.

This has resulted in more of the parents becoming vitally interested in the continued operation of the project. Each sponsor and all workers are more conscious of the urgent need of the project and each to do a better job.

The mounting food prices have made the communities realize that more food must be raised and conserved in order to assume the continuance of the program Everyone is interested in making a stronger America, and this interest certainly comes from the fact that to have a stronger America the children must receive well balanced meals in order to grow into strong men and

The cook takes an inventory of all commodites on hand as of that date and attaches the inventory to the SL-2 before the latter is forwarded to the office of the Assistant Project Supervisor. The supervisor checks her menus to determine the approximate amount of the commodities on hand that will be used before the next commodities are received. ## Insurance F. L. Daugherty "The Insurance Man" ## after 10 years of something for nothing!

IMMIE, too young to know about the newfangled theories of the past 10 years wherein you get something for nothing, is simply amazed at getting even double for his money. A double-decker brings a "Gee-Whiz!" and bulging eyes.

And Jimmie is right. The war is disproving all the socialistic theories of the last decade. The country is paying in blood for the sweat and toil to expend in honest work during a period when political boonloggling and perpetual e-motion substituted for labor to make our nation trong and virile.

The awakening is painful.

Today we are straining every ounce of energy in the wartime effort while proving the old theories wrong... working night and day to get something for anything! Today we know that PRODUCTION, not reduction, makes a people strong, a nation free.

We are paying dearly for producing too little, too late!

We will win, of course.

No other country can compare with America's potential war production. No other has the men, the machines-or the electric power.

America's electric companies, under trained and experienced business men, are supplying power for the vast wartime industries where it's needed when it's needed . . . a supply that is greater than the combined total of all the enemy nations.

While most everything else has gone up, electric rates remain the low-

In fact, like Jimmie, you are getting a double-decker... double for your money. The average price of electric service today is about balf of what it was just 15 years ago.

It's true, maybe, that your bill hasn't been cut in balf.

The answer is, of course, that you wie more and better lights, more new and useful appliances. But right now for two nickels a day a majority of West Texas homes operate lights, radio, cleaner, toaster, washer and refrigerator.

No, you don't get "something for nothing," But the electric nickel buys just about the world's biggest double-decker!
