Death Occurred Wednesday Night at Family Home

45 REGISTRANTS LEAVE FOR ARMY SERVICE MONDAY

Majority of Men Accepted Return for 14-Day Leave Period

A group of forty-five Haskell county registrants left this city Monday afternoon for the Army induction center at Camp Berkeley, Abilene, where they received their final examination prior to induction into the Army. Out of this group, it was reported that seven men failed to pass the examination and were rejected. However, an official list of the men accepted or rejected had not been received by the Local Board up to Thursday morning, and for that reason names of the registrants inducted or turned down was not available for publication. This is in conformity with revised regulations of the Selective Service Board.

All of the registrants who were accepted were given the privilege of returning to their homes on 14-day leave as enlisted reservists, and a majority of the group leaving Monday have taken advantage of this extension before beginning active training in the Army.

Called to Sweetwater

Rev. Williams Accepts Call to Sweetwater

Rev. Clifford W. Williams, minister of the First Presbyterian Church in this city since November, 1938, when he came here as student-pastor, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church in Sweetwater and will assume his new charge the first of next month. After serving the local church as student-pastor for six months, while completing his studies at Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Rev. Williams was ordained on May 7, 1939, and since that time has served the church as full-time minister.

During his ministry here, Rev. Williams has been instrumental in greatly strengthening the church, and during this time the beautiful new building of the church has been completed. In addition to his work in the religious field, Rev. Williams has been an active worker in civic and community affairs, in the Boy Scout work.

In accepting the call to the Sweetwater church, Rev. Williams will be entering a larger field of religious work for which he is eminently fitted and the best wishes of not only the members of his congregation but hundreds of friends throughout the community will follow him.

Rev. and Mrs. Williams and their young son, Bob, expect to leave July 30 for their new home in Sweetwater.

Many Records Turned In During Drive By Legion
Praising the response to the call for used and discarded phonograph records made last week by the Press Rogers Post of the American Legion, George Neely, Post Commander, and other Legionnaires said this week that several hundred records had already been brought in and that they were anxious for everyone else who would contribute used or discarded phonograph records to bring them in at the earliest possible time.

Purpose in gathering up these records is to select the ones suitable for further use and to use the remainder in making training soldiers in the Army camps throughout the world. Mr. Neely explained the material in worn-out or broken records can be salvaged and made into new records for entertainment of our soldiers, it was pointed out.

Persons who will donate records may leave them at any of the following places in Haskell: Jones Dry Goods Store, Payne Drug Store, Haskell Motor Company, Haskell Abstract Company, or with any member of the American Legion.

In Weinert, records may be left with Dr. J. F. Cadenhead, and in Rule and Rochester with any member of the American Legion.

Local Banks and County Offices To Close On July 25
Both Haskell banks will observe a Legal Holiday Saturday July 25, date for the first primary election, and in addition to the bank holiday all offices in the courthouse will remain closed for the day.

Conner Horton, athletic coach of Haskell High School and acting Principal in the absence of C. B. Ramsey, has resigned from the high school post to accept an appointment as Civilian Instructor at Sheppard Field, Texas. His resignation to accept the Government post was given the School Board this week and in accepting it the trustees were joined by Supt. Second resignation announced by Supt. Breedlove was that of Miss Ruby Sue Persons, teacher in the North Ward school, who has accepted a civilian service position in San Antonio.

New members of the faculty for the coming term will be Mr. and Mrs. Sam S. Greene of Rotan, Texas. Mr. Greene will be assigned to the athletic department, and Mrs. Greene will be given an assignment on the teaching staff.

Two remaining vacancies on the High School faculty will likely be filled before the beginning of the coming term, Supt. Breedlove said Thursday.

206 ABSENTEE VOTES LISTED FOR PRIMARY

Large Number of Voters Register Ballot In First Primary
Providing an index to interest of voters in the coming primary election Saturday, is the fact that a total of 206 absentee ballots had been returned to the office of County Clerk Roy Ratliff before expiration of the deadline for absentee voting Tuesday night at 12 o'clock.

Deputies in the office were completing a check of the ballots Thursday in sorting them for delivery to the various voting precincts in the county, with the ballots fairly evenly divided among the twenty-one voting boxes.

Applications for the absentee ballots totalled more than 250, but many voters failed to execute and return the ballots before the final deadline for voting, deputies in the Clerk's office said.

First Primary Sample Ballot In This Issue

In response to requests from a number of readers, a copy of the First Primary ballot is reprinted in this issue of the Free Press. The names of candidates for all state, district, county and precinct offices are listed in the order in which they appear on the regular ballot. The sample ballot may be found on page 7.

Majority of County Races to Be Decided This Week

Candidates for district, county and precinct offices in which Haskell county voters will express their choice by ballot Saturday, intensified their campaign efforts in Haskell county this week and despite the fact that all political rallies and speaking dates were abandoned early in the campaign, most voters are well posted on the candidates and issues involved that will be decided Saturday in a majority of the races.

With poll tax payments totalling 3,722 listed for the twenty-one voting boxes in Haskell county voting strength in Saturday's balloting is expected to be well above the 4,000 mark based on a comparison with the total vote in 1940 when a total vote of 4,482 was recorded in the first primary with poll tax payments listed for that year at 3,732.

Poll tax payments in the various voting boxes this year are as follows:

Former Governor Dan Moody Addresses Attentive Crowd of Voters Here Friday

Dan Moody campaigned for the United States Senate Friday in the heart of the rich farming country of mid-west Texas, presenting his message to good crowds at Anson, Stamford, Haskell and Albany during the day.

Speaking from the north steps of the courthouse here, where he was introduced by County Judge J. C. Davis, Jr., Moody detailed to an attentive crowd his conception of what should constitute winning the peace after war, and securing a lasting peace. He urged support for the reciprocal trade treaties advocated by Secretary of State Cordell Hull stressing free flow of world trade as necessary to a lasting peace.

"I don't know what you think about it, but I think that Woodrow Wilson's league of nations was the greatest ideal for peace ever advocated. I believe that there must be an association of self-respecting, peace-loving nations, led by the United States and pledged to the preservation of peace and order, and backing that pledge with the promise to use force when necessary to preserve peace."

"I have no quarrel with anyone who has voted for Senator O'Daniel," Moody said. "You were disappointed in the preceding governor's administration and you were tired of what you had had and dissatisfied with the handling of the pensions, which the people have voted by constitutional amendment. You were tired of pensions being used as a stepping stone of little men to high office."

Senator O'Daniel has voted in the senate against the best interests of America. The people of Texas do not know about his background and they cannot be expected in the light of his record, to have confidence in his judgment, Moody said.

O'Daniel's stressing of labor racketeers as a menace to America is only an attempt to draw attention away from his "pitiful" record, Moody asserted. "If labor racketeers were a real peril O'Daniel couldn't do anything about it. He is without leadership or influence in the senate. He's never been able to muster more than four votes for any measure he has introduced. He is as lost in the senate as I would be on a circus trapeze."

"Texans are in no mood for the foolish complacency being advocated at this time by Senator O'Daniel, who says that this war is not an issue in the senatorial campaign," Moody said.

"And O'Daniel's own words — words which follow the Nazi propaganda pattern, since they seek to array class against class, create disunity at a time national unity is most needed and stir up resentment against Washington — the seat of our government — are going to bring about his defeat," Moody charged. "O'Daniel is playing his last tune in Texas politics. He is on his way out."

Then Moody explained his formula for sending Senator O'Daniel to "the limbo of lost and forgotten politicians."

"All that is necessary to do this," Moody said, "is for every-

Weekly Health Letter

By Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer

WEEKLY—14

Austin, Texas—With the announcement of two deaths in Brazoria County, Rocky Mountain spotted fever has made its first appearance in this state. Four cases have been reported to the State Health Department in July and Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, today cautioned the public to beware of ticks, since Rocky Mountain spotted fever is transmitted by tick bite. While originally found only in the Rocky Mountains, this disease is now reported from a large number of states outside of that area, including some as far east as the Atlantic Coast.

Dr. Cox stated that the people whose occupations expose them constantly to tick infestation may partially protect themselves by being inoculated with a vaccine which is prepared from infected ticks. "An individual can avoid this disease by avoiding the bite of ticks," Dr. Cox said, "and the best way to do that, if living in an area where this disease has been noted, is to make a systematic search for ticks on the body, especially in the summer season."

The tick which is apparently the sole agent by which this disease is transmitted, usually makes its appearance with the onset of warm weather and should be considered as a health hazard until after the middle of the summer.

Dr. Cox advised that ticks should be removed without touching them with the fingers since infections have been acquired in this way by removing the insect from dogs or other animals.

CCC Announces Extension of Cotton Loans

COLLEGE STATION—All 1941 cotton loans have been extended for an indefinite period. Maturity date previously was July 31, 1942. The new plan, under which Commodity Credit Corporation permits producers to repay their loans and obtain possession of the pledged cotton or sell their equity after July 31, 1942, in the same manner as prior to the maturity date of the notes.

Lending agencies holding Certificates of Interest in 1941 cotton producers' loans will be permitted to carry certificates after July 31, 1942, under terms of agreement with CCC. The certificates will bear interest at 1 percent per annum. Cooperative marketing associations also will be permitted to continue loans held for their members under 1941 CCC cotton Form G after July 31, and the rate of interest to the associations on advances made to members will be the same as for lending agencies, according to P. C. Colgin, state AAA commodity loan specialist. The new agreement for lending agencies and amended cotton Form G will be forwarded to lending agencies and cooperative marketing associations by Commodity Credit Corporation, Colgin said.

To feed and clothe the troops in one Army Corps Area requires 98,000 miles of highway and 131 miles of government-owned railways connecting 20,000 buildings of nearly 2,500,000 acres of military reservations.

CURTIS F. POGUE
Unable To See You Personally, Earnestly Solicits Your Vote For COUNTY ATTORNEY
Haskell County

T. R. Odell Makes Statement To The Voters of County

To The Voters of the 39th Judicial District of Texas and to the Voters of Haskell County Particularly:

Emergency conditions have prevented me from seeing every one personally in my campaign for the office of District Attorney of the 39th Judicial District, and, if I have not been able to see you, I would like for you to take this announcement as my personal solicitation of your vote.

If elected to this office, it will be my purpose and constant effort to fairly and impartially enforce the laws alike to every one. In dealing with the youth of the District who may come before the courts, it will be my policy to temper justice with mercy, believing that in many cases a boy who has a previous clear record can be reclaimed to society if given an opportunity.

I am not inclined to say too much about myself, but with your indulgence, I will say that I was admitted to the bar in June 1919, and began the active practice of law after being granted the Bachelor of Law degree from the University of Texas in June 1920. As to my success as an attorney, I refer you to the many citizens and officials who have had opportunity to observe my work in the courts.

The Haskell people have done much for me. I came here in the midst of the depression when all of us were having a struggle with the very serious conditions. The public has given me good patronage and enabled me to take my place in your community for all of which I am very grateful. I stand ready to serve Haskell and the citizens of Haskell County in any way I can. Nothing could give me more real joy than a good vote in my home county.

If elected your District Attorney, I shall avoid useless litigation but will uphold and enforce the law to the best of my ability.

T. R. ODELL.

Side Glances at Texas History

Necessity—Parent Pioneer Invention

It wasn't priorities but necessity that made Texans 60 to 70 years ago hoard soap, candles, matches, lead, dye, flour, salt—in fact, almost anything except rawhide and fresh meat.

"Erzatz" was a word unknown in those days but the pioneer Texan and his lady did a pretty good job devising their own substitutes for practically every commodity and convenience considered essential in more "civilized" sections of the country.

Several accounts of these home made essentials are given in "Pioneer Days in the Southwest from 1850 to 1879," compiled by John A. Hart and Emanuel Dubbs, a copy of which is found in the University of Texas Library's voluminous Texas Collection.

Beds-In-A-Wall

Houses were of logs. Furniture was "bull-in", but not in the fashion of today's modern cabinet work. Sometimes a one-legged bedstead was constructed, using the log wall of the house for the head and one side. Again a four-legged frame would be built with green rawhide stretched across it.

"The dining table was built on the same fashion as the four-legged bedstead," Hart wrote, in his recollections of the early days of Weatherford, Parker County. "Boards were shaved out with a drawing knife for the top and when visitors came, a tablecloth was used, made of domestic, woven by the housekeeper herself.

"Some were lucky enough to get hold of a few chairs and had stools enough to make out the set; some had all stools or benches. A tree was cut and split open and faced with a broad axe, four holes were bored and legs put in and the stool or bench was completed."

Hand-Made Light

Candles were all made by hand, sometimes several hundred at a time. "There were two ways to make them, one was to get as many sticks as was needed and tie strings to them, usually about half dozen to the stick for wicks and dip them in a pot of warm tallow, life them and dip them in a pot or bucket of cold water and back into the tallow. Some had molds, drop the wicks in the molds and pour the tallow in the molds." "I remember when matches sold for ten cents a box which contained twenty-five matches," Hart went on. "Only travelers or freighters could afford to use them. Matches were not used only in extreme cases. Many times I have walked a mile to borrow fire. Everybody kept a piece of punk and a flint rock to strike fire, and by placing the flint on the punk and striking it with a pocket knife would produce fire. Some times we would take raw cotton, place it on a skillet lid and sprinkle powder over the cotton, take a case knife and strike the lid, knock fire out of the lid and catch the powder, and we had a fire."

Mrs. Tilatha Wilson English of Gainesville, writing her reminiscences in the same volume, had another method of striking fire. "I have spun fire many a time, and I will tell you how I did it. I took deep copper thread and doubled it several times, and twisted it a little and then held it in the whirl if the wheel and turned the wheel right fast, and it would mighty quick set it on fire. I would have some cotton ready and stick in it. I would soon have plenty of fire."

Rawhide and Gourd—Indoors and Out

Raw hide—an abundant natural resource—was truly a frontier substitute for any cord or rope, for shoes or even for clothing. "Rope hobbles, bridle reins, clothes lines, bed cords were nearly all made out of raw hide," according to Hart's account. "Some hair rope was made out of hair by cutting the bush of cattle's tails off and twist the strands into a rope. People were considered quality when they could have a pair of hair bridle reins.

Like raw hide, gourds also filled many uses. "Lots of them would hold half a bushel," Mrs. English explained. "We put lard in them or anything we wished. Spanish gourds were large at both ends and small in the middle. We would saw off both ends about half way, clean them out good, tie a cloth over one end, and it made a good strainer. We had gourds to milk in, drink water out of, and other things too numerous to mention."

A Vote for COURTNEY HUNT

For County Judge is a vote for Economy, Efficiency and System in County Government.

If I have failed to contact you in person, PLEASE accept this as my personal solicitation for your vote and support. I have not attempted to make a house to house canvass because I don't believe you expected it. I didn't feel it consistent since our National and State Rationing Directors have requested that we dispense with all political rallies in order to conserve rubber. I naturally wanted to cooperate in this patriotic request. Then too, I feel the sovereign voters are thoroughly capable of selecting their County officials without undue pressure.

And with our Nation facing the gravest struggle in its history I feel that the voters will choose the candidate they believe best qualified for the office of County Judge during the present national emergency.

W. N. Bill Corry

CORRY

"The Man to Vote For"

Texas needs a good Commissioner of Agriculture to serve during the present crisis and the years ahead. Bill Corry is the kind of man you want to vote for,—a man of experience and action, capable and loyal,—a good man for the job. Corry, native Texan, 41, during an industrious life has had 25 years of practical farming experience, served with Federal Farm Board's Cotton Division and as a Legislator. When the present Commissioner, who now seeks a seventh term, deserted the party in 1940, Corry was called on by Texas Democrats to run in a 10-day write-in campaign and received 453,573 votes for this office even though his name was not printed on the ballot. Corry, as Commissioner, will provide the leadership and aid agriculture in all-out production, in solving many basic farm problems, and in the expansion of our agricultural industries.
