

Had a long talk with Uncle Ben from Benjamin the other day and he had the following comments to make concerning law enforcement:

Another meat head has just tied another knot in law enforcement officers hands. Come January 1st the law is apt to have to get a lawyer to even stop a man for a drivers license check. If he doesn't, it might infringe on his rights as a law-breaking American. Too strict and too ridiculous laws are making it open season on crime of all kinds. Too soft juries and judges are helping, too, by doing nothing.

When the average Joe wakes up one of these days to the fact that crime does pay and is paying more each day, and he finds it impossible to go out for an afternoon's drive unmolested, then and only then will we demand our legislators change the law to protect the innocent.

Right now it is only for the guilty, and the more guilty you are the more you can get away with.

Believe it or not but a perfect case including a confession, doesn't necessarily mean any thing except that the officers working on the case did a good job . . . chances for an indictment are usually slim any more without a confession, and by the time a guilty thief makes it to court, if he mismanages his business that much, he still has better than a 50-50 chance of acquittal.

Also, to soften legislators guilty conscience, prisoners will be eligible for parole when one-fourth of their sentences are served instead of one-third. In other words a life sentence only means 15 years now, after January 1st it will mean 11 years.

No one can argue the fact that to reduce crime, stiffer penalties have to be administered. Law enforcement agencies are going to lose faith one of these days and when they do—look out.

"None can argue the fact that to reduce crime stiffer penalties has to be dealt. Like in India, if a man steals they cut off his hand, for the fust offense, for the second time the other hand goes and finally his head is lopped off if he is another luser. 'Course our politicians wouldn't dare put a law like that in effect for fear someday it might backfire. Would be a sight to see the gov't run with a bunch of armless and headless critters, wouldn't it?" Uncle Ben remarked.

If the present legislation is any indication, we believe most of our lawmakers have already lost their heads!

YEA TEAM, FIGHT! It isn't possible but this year is over and next Friday the Hounds meet Wylie here for the first tussle of the season. We've been checking the boys over fairly closely and even though our big brother ranks us at the bottom of the heap, we'll bet a lot of folks get surprised.

Abilene makes its forecast by crystal ball, statistics, and crystal guesstimating, and on paper maybe we are undermanned this year, but what statistics can't tell or foresee is the desire to win.

Anyway, Knox City boys have always been formidable foes on the gridiron and this year is no exception.

Grass And Water Are Vital Ingredients For Ranching Too, Robbins Reports

Ranching as a money making enterprise has always required two very important ingredients, GRASS and WATER, one without the other has caused headaches for many ranch owners since the first barbed wire fence was strung and land divided into what we know today as a pasture or pastures.

Wesley Robbins, Soil Conservationist assisting cooperators in the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District at Knox City, reports that during the first seven months of 1965, ranchers in the Benjamin-Truscott area received less than six inches of rainfall and this coming in as many different rains. Water is not always available in this area by drilling a well, so the rancher has learned to rely heavily on the earthen type dam to store a permanent water supply in his pastures.

Robbins working with J. D. Brookerson, Sidney Alexander, and T. M. and Tom G. Westbrook, revising their basic conservation plans found that a permanent water supply was not available in some pastures.

Plans were made with Alexander and Brookerson to raise the spillways for pond enlargements on their ranches while a pit type pond was planned for the Westbrook ranch.

A permanent water supply enables the rancher to carry out better management practices to obtain Range Proper Use and also to get a better distribution of grazing of livestock.

One of the many technical services provided for by the Soil Conservation Service is the layout and staking of ponds for a permanent water supply. Cost Share assistance for pond enlargements and new ponds is available through the ACP administered by the A. S. C. I.S.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — As absentee voting gets under way for the September 7, election on the proposed constitutional amendment to increase size of the Texas Senate from 31 to 39 members, battle lines are drawn.

State AFL-CIO is leading the opposition. It charges that the proposal is a "pig in a poke" offering no guides as to where the new districts will go.

"Committee for Fair Representation," made up primarily of trade and industrial association representatives, contends that Texans would get proper representation without jeopardizing the interests of sparsely-settled areas" by adding eight new members to the Senate.

Lobby groups acknowledge they favor the plan because increased membership would cut down a senator's fork load somewhat and make it easier to communicate with him.

The enlargement amendment, which triggered one of the 59th Legislature's most bruising battles, was intended to take some of the sting out of legislative redistricting by making it possible for most incumbent senators to keep their jobs.

Big city forces are divided, while most interests tend to favor a 39-member Senate.

Whether either campaign affects the expected tight voter turnout remains to be seen. Most predictions are that the amendment will fail.

CRIME NEWS STUDY — First three members of the Legislature's 11-member "Interim Committee to Study News Media on Proceedings in Criminal and or Civil Courts" have been named by Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

They are Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, Culp Krueger of El Campo and Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi. Yet to be named are three members from the House of Representatives, three from the news media and two from the State Bar of Texas.

Panel resulted from controversy over deletion of a provision from the new Code of Criminal Procedure which would have severely restricted pre-trial news coverage. New code takes effect January 1.

Study committee was authorized to take a sharp look at existing coverage.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — In requested opinions, Attorney General Waggoner Carr has held that:

● Texas Western College cannot use money appropriated by Legislature for tuition scholarships to aid students living in Juarez, Mexico.

● Sections of a new instituting jury wheel system in Young, Titus and Kerr counties are unconstitutional "local and special laws."

● El Paso County commissioners have no authority to grant an easement across T-scarte Park for an underground gas pipeline.

● A city, after annexing an area including a county road, does not need permission of the county to abandon and close such road or street.

SCREWORM BATTLE INTENSIFIED — Federal-state air invasion against the screwworm fly was stepped up during July with the release of 632,000,000 sterile screwworm flies over Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California and 12 Mexican states.

Dr. S. B. Walker, Director of the Texas Animal Health Commission, and Dr. John Wilbur, Veterinarian for the Animal Health Division of U. S. Department of Agriculture, report that 115,800,000 sterile flies were released over Texas where 63 confirmed cases of screwworm were reported. Special "hot spotting" was directed in Texas and northern Mexico river beds.

Largest number of confirmed cases in Texas — 25 — was in Zavala county.

New Mexico confirmed 29 cases; Arizona, 94; California, 3; Mexico, 800; where 438,600,000 sterile flies were released.

BRUCELOSIS PROGRAM MOVING — At the end of July, 182 of Texas' counties were engaged in some phase of Brucellosis Eradication program, with 128 qualified for certification. So reports federal and state animal health authorities.

In Atascosa, Bosque, Brooks, Coryell, Duval, Erath, Falls, Hood, Milam, Parker, Potter, Somervell and Williamson counties, area testing was in progress, but some of the heaviest livestock population areas in the east of the state were among the 72 counties not yet in stride, they said.

LABOR DAY TRAFFIC TOLL PREDICTED — Department of Public Safety estimates 35 will die in traffic accidents in Texas during the three-day Labor Day holiday.

Violations of Texas traffic laws will be apparent in nine out of 10 of these accidents, says Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director.

As part of stepped-up efforts to curb the toll, DPS will add 150 men from other uniformed services to supplant its regular Highway Patrol force.

INTERBASIN CANAL FUNDS ASKED — Funds for more planning on the proposed 418-mile interbasin canal along the Texas Gulf Coast from the Sabine river to the lower Rio Grande Valley are included in preliminary fiscal 1967 budget plans of U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

Budget calls for planning of Sinton and Baffin Bay diversion works and study of Lower Rio Grande Valley irrigation costs.

Funds also are sought for study of proposed pumping of water from the canal up the Colorado River and pipelining to West Texas cities.

SHORT SNORTS — Texas Employment Commission reports that a breakdown of 60,328 farm placements made during July showed 41,894 workers placed in cotton farming activities; 10,888 in vegetable harvests; 1,448 in grain; 811 in fruit and nut trees; 487 in livestock work; 2,652 in general field crops; 1,225 in non-seasonal farm work; and 923 in dairy and poultry jobs.

The 1,600 teenagers who attended the third annual Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime will distribute their findings on causes of juvenile crime and school drop-outs to youth and community organizations.

Texas Water Commission set October 25, for hearing on application of North Texas Municipal Water District, Wylie to triple Lavon Reservoir conservation storage.

Federal water system loans totaling $24,000,000 have been granted 213 Texas communities and 218 more are seeking loans, according to Sen. John Tower.

Texas Hospital Association has received a U. S. grant to conduct research on planning of community health resources for disasters.

Monday saw the last meeting of Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools, now replaced by new State Department of Mental Health.

Texas Railroad Commission hearings are set September 8, on request of National Bus Traffic Association, Inc., for a 10 per cent hike in local and interline rates and charter services.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has announced that 531,000 acres will be offered at the third oil and gas lease sale of 1965 on October 5, in the General Land Office.

None of the 8,000 braceros who will be admitted from Mexico to the U. S. between September 1, and October 1, will work in Texas, according to Texas Employment Commission.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

BARGAIN DAY CROWDS

Just after World War II, in the heyday of scarcities, a grocery store received a shipment of hard-to-get margarine. The manager dropped a carton in a narrow aisle and sang out:

"Oleo, Come and get it!"

In the ensuing stampede, a woman shopper was injured. In due course she sued the market, pointing out that the manager should have known — from two previous stampedes — what to expect. And the court granted her substantial damages.

A store does not guarantee each customer absolute protection from the actions of other shoppers. But a store may be held liable if, by its own negligence, it permits a crowd to become dangerous.

In another case, a large crowd jammed the entrance of a department store on the opening day of a sale. The management let only a few shoppers in at a time, allowing the rest to surge impatiently against the glass show windows. There were no guards, no barricades, no warnings of danger.

Finally the glass cracked, and a woman was badly cut. Here, too, a court held the store liable for failing to prevent an accident that it could reasonably have averted.

However, the mere presence of a crowd does not necessarily make the store liable for mishaps. Not only must there be negligence on the part of the management but also there must be a sufficient cause-and-effect connection between the crowding and the injury.

For example:

A woman was seated at the hostess counter of a department store that was swarming with bargain hunters. Suddenly she was bumped off her chair by another shopper, going past in a hurry. The woman sued the store, but to no avail. The court noted that the injury was not really caused by the crowd at all, but by the recklessness of one particular individual.

Besides, some discomforts must be tolerated as part of the shopping process. As one court put it:

"Crowds are often found in large stores at the time of special sales, and during holiday seasons. They are an unavoidable feature of mercantile life in large cities."

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS IN COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

The Industrial Team selling a community to industry

WTU area development representatives are available to assist growth-conscious communities in planning economic development programs

When a community prepares itself to attract new industry, a strong industrial team is essential. Industry representatives want all the facts. And only informed team members can sell a community's story accurately plus solving the industry's problems on a new location.

Team members must be thoroughly and completely informed on labor . . . taxes . . . utilities . . . transportation . . . sites . . . insurance . . . city commitments . . . and financing . . . thus indicating a minimum of seven members on the team.

As a PATTERN FOR PROGRESS a permanent Industrial Team is a definite requirement in a community's economic development program.

WTU's area development representatives have information about the organization and operation of an industrial team. This service is available to growth-conscious communities on request through your local WTU manager.

Violations Of Traffic Laws Cause Nine Out Of Every Accidents Says Garrison

"Violations of the Texas traffic law will be apparent in nine out of every ten accidents which claim a human life over the Labor Day Weekend," said Col. Homer Garrison today in a statement concerning the upcoming holiday.

Col. Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said that DPS statisticians estimate that 35 persons will die in traffic during the three day holiday.

"To combat carelessness and attempt to hold down these needless deaths," Garrison said, "the DPS will conduct the regular special emphasis program, 'Operation Motocycle.' From 12:01 a.m. Sept. 4, through 11:59 p.m. Sept. 6, the Department will use every means at its disposal to reduce traffic accidents."

As a part of "Operation Motocycle" a tabulation of fatal accidents will be released from DPS headquarters in Austin three times daily to focus attention on the dangers of holiday travel. Garrison also noted that an additional 150 men from other DPS uniformed services will be on duty to supplement the activities of the Highway Patrol.

Garrison pointed out that almost all the accidents during the 1964 Labor Day Weekend, which killed 39 persons and injured hundreds more, had violations of the law as contributing factors.

"The most common violation," he reported, "was the failure to yield right of way, followed closely by violations where the driver exceeded a safe speed for existing weather or road conditions."

Other common violations contributing to accidents were:

- Exceeding posted speed limits;
- Failure to stop or turn in time;
- Driving while intoxicated;
- Driving on the wrong side of the road.

Labor Day, 1965, can tell a different story from last year's," Garrison said. But we must have the help of every motorist in observing traffic laws and in driving sanely to avoid this tragic loss."

Several other state agencies and public service organizations will participate in efforts to cut down on death and injury during the holiday period. Among these are the Texas Highway Department, the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Motor Transportation Association, and the Texas Junior Chambers of Commerce.

The Highway Department will carry on a continuing information and education program stressing the freedom of mobility enjoyed by drivers of today and instructing motorists in freeway driving.

The Texas Safety Association will conduct a public information program stressing the need for courtesy and caution. TSA vice president W. F. (Bill) Leonard of Dallas will coordinate the efforts of over 12,000 members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce over the state in operating 'rest stops' for fatigued drivers to whom free coffee will be served.

And the Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Texas Motor Transportation Association will sponsor an expanded 'Holiday Road Patrol' to assist stranded motorists over the state.

This 'road patrol' is manned by the safety directors, safety supervisors and safety engineers of the trucking industry who comprise the membership of the council. The purpose of the patrol is to help relieve highway patrolmen for enforcement work by aiding motorists in distress.

RAMP S: An Action Program For Texas By Director Truett Lattimer

Below is a speech made by Mr. Truett Lattimer of Austin, Executive Director of the Texas Historical Survey Committee recently in Austin.

Back numbers! That is what the very young call all of us above age 30. (And maybe that is the revenge of the young for what we sometimes call them!) But the Texas State Historical Survey Committee owns up gladly to being in the category of back numbers to this Beatle-loving phase of history, because we are old enough to know that the Beatles will go out of style — just as Anna Held's wasp waist went out of style.

As we see fads come and go, evaluation of history becomes our privilege. One philosopher has said that as people experience more years, they find themselves loving life more.

All of this reasoning enters into the evaluation that Texas is placing on her state history. Here we are, 129 years older than we were when we declared our independence. We're getting old enough to know what life is all about, and we like life better than ever.

But some of us know very little about life in the past in Texas.

We hear stories of college freshmen who do not know where the Alamo is located . . . or that Texas once had a president by the name of Mirabeau Lamar . . . We hear about other stories about people who do not know that on their own farms are sites of pioneer settlements.

To correct that sad state of affairs, Texas has designed the program called RAMP S: Recognition, Appreciation, Marking, Preservation and Surveys.

RECORDATION — applies to histories of individuals, families, towns, counties, churches, schools, business and other community institutions. Workers are making tape recordings of memories of elder statesmen and many other individuals. They are copying privately-owned data from family bibles, letters, and diaries. They are cross-indexing by names of early people the land deeds, records of births, deaths, marriages, divorces, and wills to be found in county court-houses. For centuries to come, all these indexes will aid students of history. APPRECIATION — programs are to be planned year after year in order to acquaint the public with Texas history. School programs, club programs and various publications will call public attention to the facts that our traditions, customs and political institutions.

MARKING — is being done in Texas towns and along public highways. Hundreds of the granite and metal markers that call attention to sites and personalities in Texas history have been placed. This part of the program may be said to have just begun, as it relates to the plans for the future — so wide is the scope of future plans.

PRESERVATION — projects have included awards of recognition to historic buildings that should be saved rather than scrapped in the general emphasis upon progress. One phase of this preservation activity is the "Recorded Texas Historic Landmark" plate which not only informs the public that here is a building that is worthy of preservation, but has wording that tells the history of the building — often with information about the builder or early owner who contributed to the development of Texas.

SURVEYS — keep marked sites and preserved buildings from being neglected. As a result of continuous TSHSC surveys, dozens of mutilated markers are being repaired. The toe of Sam Houston's statue is being repaired. Families and communities are cleaning stones in parks and cemeteries. A real reverence for the past which has formed the prologue for our present has grown out of this survey.

Annual publication of a comprehensive guide to Texas markers was the goal of our first survey. The guide helps local citizens, students, tourists and other interested people find the sites and the monuments that tell so graphically the what and where of Texas history.

Our Committee has also been making a survey of 5,000 sites, topics and personalities that ought to be memorialized with markers. During the years 1965-70, at the rate of 1,000 a year, the marking of these events and personalities should go forward.

To date we are on schedule.

Even in the formulation of a county plan to mark historical sites, many of the people making the survey have suddenly acquired more respect for the home county and its spot in history. Recordation, Appreciation, Marking, Preservation and Surveys . . . this, then, is the program for action that has been christened RAMP S, a far reaching and an inspiring program.

The word RAMP comes from an old Romance-language verb which meant "to climb." In our day, a RAMP is used to launch a boat, load a truck, or form the base of a rocket that is to vault into outer space.

The Texas program is not concerned with just one, but with many RAMP S — one for each of the 254 counties . . . and all working together we can make this an undertaking worthy of the fame of the only state that ever was for a decade an independent republic!

Streams In Desert Places

Today we see tribulation, anguish upon the souls of man. Destruction and misery are in the ways of many. The wicked travail with pain. Disaffection and unrest are in the minds of thousands.

"In the morning thou shalt say would God it were even and in the evening thou shalt say would God it were morning, for the fear of thine heart, wherewith thou shalt fear; and for the sight of our eyes which thou shalt see (De. 28:37). Because of the lack of simple faith in our God and the failure to read His Word we have fear in our hearts and see these conditions prevailing in our beloved land of America.

Let our prayers be continually that thousands will turn from their wicked ways and call upon the Lord God for comfort and strength. Remember the WORDS of Jesus, "Let not your hearts be troubled: Ye believe in God, believe also in me. I will not leave you comfortless: I will come unto you. These things have I spoken unto you, that in ME ye might have peace."

nard, Abilene, Gayle Youngquert of Stamford, Jane Horn, Santa Anna, Joan Shaver and Martha Kay Waldrip, Knox City, Mrs. Keith Fry, O'Brien, Brenda Buie of Stamford and Mrs. Jerry Rowan registered the guests.

For a trip to North Dakota, the bride wore a white wool suit with white accessories.

While at college she was a member of the Delta Beta Epsilon Club, cheer leader, sweetheart of Ko Sari, Totem beauty nominee, senior class vice president, listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and received her B.S. degree this past June. She will be employed by the public school system of Larimore, N. Dak.

Seago was a member of the Ko Sari Club, member of the Student Association, Science Club and is now a lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force at Grand Forks, AFB, North Dakota.
