Over $100,000 Subscribed Towards County's Goal of $263,000

Haskell county neared the halfway mark in the 2nd War Loan Drive in the first four days of the campaign, launched Monday April 12, according to partial reports made to R. C. Couch, county drive chairman Thursday morning.

Not only are Haskell county citizens and business firms responding loyally in the current War Loan Drive, but non-residents who have interests here are helping the county meet its quota of $263,000. Mr. Couch reports.

The United Fidelity Life Insurance Company, through its local representative, W. Q. Casey, purchased $5,000 in War Bonds to be credited to the Haskell county quota and State Representative A. H. King of Throckmorton purchased a $1,000 bond to be credited toward the Haskell quota.

From faraway Africa, came word from Lieut. Marvin E. Gholson to his father, J. W. Gholson, to purchase a $1,000 bond for the officer's account, a substantial boost toward reaching the county's goal, both in a financial sense and as an incentive from our fighting men.

Among other purchases of $1,000 Bonds was the City of Haskell, already a big investor in Government Bonds, whose Aldermen authorized the additional purchase Tuesday.

Weekly Health Letter

By Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer

Austin, Texas—In checking the results achieved by school dental programs in Texas, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, announced today that such programs have proved to be highly effective in lessening the permanent teeth mortality rate, reducing it in some cases more than 75 per cent in a period of only five years.

In one city, the permanent teeth mortality rate was reduced from 24.37 per cent to 3.5 per cent in less than five years' time, with a full-time dental health program in effect.

"If the mortality rate of permanent teeth is a dependable unit of measurement in the evaluation of dental public health programs," Dr. Cox said, "it is obvious that there is unlimited value in the type of programs now carried on by the State Health Department."

Dr. Cox expressed the opinion that the increase in the volume of dentistry for children in local dentists offices was directly attributable to the influence of the school dental programs, and added that the improvement of children's attitudes as patients was very noticeable.

"I believe that as time goes on," Dr. Cox stated, "the results will be even more noticeable. As the public becomes aware of the possibilities in this field there will be an even-growing demand for at least some type of dental health program in every community."

The Northern View of Cotton

IT SEEMS FUTILE to argue against the northern view that cotton is strictly a fiber crop, but spokesmen for the cotton-growing states cannot afford to be silent.

In spite of the fact that 48 per cent of the edible vegetable oil produced in this country last year was derived from cottonseed, Washington officialdom refuses to recognize cotton as a wartime food crop. The words, "You can't eat cotton", are chanted throughout the cornbelt and dairying sections of the North and are echoed by the bureaucrats in Washington. And Secretary Wickard is criticized for authorizing an increase of 7 per cent in cotton acreage.

In a recent editorial on the food situation, The Commonwealth, a magazine of national circulation, published in New York, said, "Cotton fields could well be converted to produce food, vegetable fats, or green vegetables. . . It is scandalous that cotton acreage has not been reduced but has actually been increased, when this same land could be much more usefully planted in other crops."

Yet vegetable oil, nearly half of which is obtained from the cotton fields, is being rationed. It is true that you can't eat lint cotton, but, for every 500 pounds of lint produced, there is an accompanying yield of 900 pounds of seed. From the arguments made in the North, one might think that cottonseed was being dumped into the gulleys, as it was five or six decades ago.

The facts are on record, but they seem to mean absolutely nothing to the stubborn disparagers of the crop that the South is best able to grow and process. In spite of the record, it is argued that, because there is an ample supply of short staple fiber at this time, southern farmers should abandon cotton growing and turn to peanuts, soybeans, or some other crop with which they have little or no familiarity.

The facts being so stubbornly ignored are these: from each bale of cotton produced, there is added to the supply of consumer goods, not only 500 pounds of fiber, but 140 pounds of the finest type of edible oil, 400 pounds of excellent protein feed for livestock, 240 pounds of ideal roughage feed, and eighty-one pounds of ideal material for smokeless powder, plastics, and other essential products.

Regardless of all arguments to the contrary, cotton is a highly important war crop. Refusal of bureaucrats and dairy and agricultural interests of the North to recognize this is not due to ignorance on their part. It looks more like a deliberate attempt to carry on, during the war, the fight against cottonseed that was waged in time of peace.

In the last decade dairying has expanded rapidly in the Southwest. So has the practice of fattening livestock for the market. In this area the principal livestock feed is derived from the cotton. Is it possible that the corn belt and the northern dairy section are trying to stifle competition from the South and Southwest? It would seem so.

For years, the northern dairymen and corn and hog raisers have fought cottonseed oil. States, led by Wisconsin, have taxed it drastically and have induced the federal government to tax it. This fight is being continued and made broader. The guns are being aimed at the whole cotton crop. The Commonwealth editorial is only one of many of its kind. Unfortunately for the country at large, this short-sighted discrimination against cotton is retarding food production when there is danger of a national food shortage. Argument seems fruitless, but, in the interest of the victory program, spokesmen for Southern agriculture must continue to point out the facts.

Rationing Is Not Meant To Stop Buying . . . .

The Government neither asks, nor wants you to stop buying your actual needs. The Government will take—before the store or you have a chance to—everything it requires for the services. If you can find what you want in the stores, you need not feel that by its purchase you are depriving any soldier, sailor, marine or airman of his essentials. The Government saw to it that he got his first.

THE 2nd WAR LOAN DRIVE IS ON!

America...you've got to get tougher!

A MERICA — Let's be frank about it . . . so far, many of us back home have been fighting this war from an easy chair.

Many of us have bought War Bonds out of extra cash, out of money we didn't miss too much. We haven't been really tough with ourselves.

But this war is a hard, down-to-reality war. And many of our boys are dying in it.

We've got to buy MORE

So your government asks you to buy Bonds and more Bonds — to get really tough with yourself. We're asking you to give up the frills and "extras" for the rest of this war.

We know how human it is not to make sacrifices until the crisis drives us to it. In England they felt the same way until the bombs started falling. Now they can't do enough!

Bombs are such persuasive things. But just as persuasive ought to be the spirit of our brothers, sons, husbands — who are ready to give all. Think now . . . what are your dollars, compared to their lives?

can have a better, more decent place to live in when this war is won.

The drive is on

So during this month of April, if someone calls on you to ask you to buy War Bonds in this 2ND WAR LOAN DRIVE, will you buy to the limit—and then buy more?

Better yet, will you go to your Bank, Postoffice, or wherever you're used to buying your Bonds — and buy NOW? Will you lend extra money this month? Money that can hasten the day of Victory? Money that can help to save American lives—perhaps your son's or your brother's or your husband's—by helping to shorten this war?

Money buys money

Remember, what you're really buying with your money is still more money. For after all, these Bonds are money! Money plus! Every dollar you put into War Bonds will bring you a dollar plus interest.

So the more Bonds you buy the better for you. Americans — Get Tough — with yourselves — for your country.

There Are 7 Different Types of U. S. Government Securities — Choose the Ones Best Suited for You:

United States War Savings Bonds — Series E: The perfect investment for individual and family savings. Gives you back $4 for every $3 when the Bond matures. Designed especially for the smaller investor. Dated 1st day of month in which payment is received. Interest: 2.9% a year if held to maturity. Denominations: $25, $50, $100, $500, $1000. Redemption: any time 60 days after issue date. Price: 75% of maturity value.

2 1/2% Treasury Bonds of 1964-1969: Readily marketable, acceptable as bank collateral, these Bonds are ideal investments for trust funds, estates and individuals. A special feature provides that they may be redeemed at par and accrued interest for the purpose of satisfying Federal estate taxes. Dated April 15, 1943; due June 15, 1969. Denominations: $500, $1000, $5000, $10,000, $100,000 and $1,000,000. Redemption: Not callable till June 15, 1964; thereafter at par and accrued interest on any interest date at 4 months' notice. Price: par and accrued interest.

Other Securities: Series "C" Tax Notes; 7/8% Certificates of Indebtedness; 2% Treasury Bonds of 1950-1952; United States Savings Bonds Series "F"; United States Savings Bonds Series "G."

If you could see

Look at it this way — suppose you had a magic carpet that could take you to Africa and New Guinea. Suppose you could hear the groan of American boys wounded, and American boys dying . . . Say now, how many Bonds would you buy?

That kind of war

THEY . . . are dying. And they will keep on dying until we drown the enemy in an overwhelming torrent of bombs, bullets, guns, tanks, planes, ships, and shells.

That's why we're asking you, in this one month of April alone, to lend Uncle Sam 13 billions of dollars — by buying War Bonds. 13 billions of extra dollars — over and above any buying that you'd be doing anyway!

A lot of money

Of course, 13 billion dollars is a lot of money. It'll take sweat and tears to raise it. It'll mean going without now. But also—it will mean savings now—to buy later. It'll mean giving up everything you can't square with your conscience, so that we, us, our children,

 Odessa Sharp, the next senior in line, is a comparatively new student at H. H. S. She came to us at mid-term last year from Rochester.

This year Odessa is a member of the Physical Fitness Club and she was a member of the Future Homemakers for two years. As to sports, she played volleyball three years and baseball one year.

SHIRLEY WHITE

Elected by the student body as most beautiful girl is Shirley White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. White. Like many of the other seniors in H.H.S. she has attended all four years of high school here in Haskell.

During these four years of attendance in H. H. S., Shirley has been a member of the pep squad three years, and was a member of the Homemaking Club for two years. She served as parliamentarian of that club during her freshman year. Shirley now serves as reporter of the Gypsy Rambler Club, and has been a member of the club for three years. She has been on the Warwhoop Staff for two years, and this year is editor-in-chief. Also, she is assistant business manager of the annual. Incidentally, Shirley is the only girl serving as an officer of the Senior class, her office being that of vice president.

Junior Class of '42-'43

At the beginning of school the Junior class had twenty-two members enrolled. Our first one to leave was Burtha Uimer, who moved to Hamlin. She was a very good student in all of her classes.

J. B. Kuentler is the next to leave. He is a married man now and we wish much happiness for him and his wife. Johnnie Dalton, who moved to Nocona, and Billie Jack Ray who moved to Rule were both good students. Clyde Hendrix withdrew after being in school a short time.

What The Juniors Study

The Juniors all take the same subjects with a few exceptions. All take American History except one boy. All take Geometry except one pupil who takes Algebra instead. The girls take Homemaking III with the exception of one who has already had it. All of the boys take Agriculture except two who take Business Arithmetic instead. There are two taking Typing and two taking Choral Singing. The only subject which we all take together is English III. We studied grammar the first semester and are having American Literature now.

Our Accomplishments

We are very proud of our class because everyone has studied hard and at the same time has had a great deal of fun.

We have put on four one-act plays this year. Radio Impersonations, The Simple Things of Life and Pearls. These were given on chapel programs throughout the year. Everyone enjoyed Pearls so much that it was given as a repeat performance on a night program when the public was invited. At first we did not think we could have our Junior-Senior banquet, but finally worked out a plan. We carried out the Thanksgiving theme worked in with patriotic colors, and it proved to be very successful. Allen Overton and Charles Baker, two of our athletes received jackets and Curtis Cox received a letter. We are proud of them.

Junior Athletic Activities

The Junior boys took a very active part in football this year. Truett Kuentler played end and kicked extra points. Allen Overton played center and Curtis Cox played half back. Allen received a jacket and Curtis received a letter.

The boys also enjoyed playing basketball. Truett played center. Allen guard, Tick Elmore played forward, Roy Haley forward, and Curtis Cox, forward and Charles Baker, forward. Charles was awarded a jacket.

We have a baseball team now. We are looking forward to our last year in athletics next year.

Home Making III-B Our Cottage

The third year class is very proud of its cottage. We have been working hard to improve it since our other building burned. We have made new curtains and a dressing table. The curtains in the front room are white organdy with green tie backs. The dressing table and stool match the curtains. The curtains in the back room are cream colored with predominating stripes on them. We have four new machines with stools to go with them. We have two work tables and a clothes closet.

Looking Forward

The Juniors hope to have a good future. We all hope to be Seniors next year. We are going to help all we can in defense work. We are looking forward to vacation time. Joyce Grand is planning to visit relatives in Bryan this summer. Virginia Chapman hopes to visit on the 10X Ranch at Old Glory. Lula Marie Kuentler plans to visit relatives in Lubbock sometime during vacation time. Frances Perry wants to visit relatives in Mulshoe. Laverne Dean, Dorothy Shaw, Miriam Baker, Ima Jo Welsh and the writer of this article have no definite plans, other than to stay at home and work. The same plan seems to be for the boys: Curtis Cox, Allen Overton, Truett Kuentler, Edwin Lee Elmore, Charles Baker, Jimmie Joe Smith, Roy and Troy Haley.

Next year we hope that times will be normal and that we can have everything that Seniors usually have. We hope to all graduate together.

We are proud of our teacher, Mrs. Foote for she has made us enjoy the course very much. We have two hostesses each week who sweep and clean our rooms and answer the door. —Miriam Baker

GEMS OF THOUGHT

I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand as in what direction we are moving.
—Oliver Wendell Holmes

Remember Them!

Remember Java where a Texas soldier prayed for the sight of just one American plane while Japanese Zeros and dive-bombers were dropping death and destruction all around him?
Haven't heard from him since then. His people hope that he is a prisoner of the Japs, as horrible as that may be.

Maybe you have a son, a brother, a friend on some battle front. Don't force him to utter the same prayer.

Planes, tanks, guns, ships. Our boys must have them. They will lose without them.
It takes money to make them. Your money.
You can lend that money to the government and get it back with interest in ten years.
If you hang on to it and we lose this war your money won't be worth much anyway.

Buy a war bond today. Do it as often as possible. You can't lose and it will help win the war.—Dallas Morning News.

Horse Sense

The Portland, Oregon, Journal says editorially, "If John L. Lewis wins $2 a day pay increase for his miners, he will lose it. He will start an inflationary spiral in which the increased wage will be worth less in buying power than the present wage. He will release a torrent capable of sweeping wage floors and price ceilings into chaos. He may cause the loss of the war. Collapse of internal economy would leave no possible way to strike blows heavy enough to crush the Axis."

The Lewis miners get a base pay of from $6.00 to $8.60 a day for a 35-hour week, says the Journal, and the way for them to get more income "is to work more and produce more."

History's Biggest Job

When this war is over the United States will be in no position to return to isolationism. Hard-headed economists agree that a broad program of international trade is the only sound method by which American people can hope to service the crushing war debt now accumulating. In plainer words, we will either trade with the world, thus helping to maintain maximum production and employment for American industry and American workers in order that they may pay the taxes that will be needed by a debt-burdened government, or we will retreat toward isolation, bankruptcy and another war.

We have everything to gain by taking the lead in establishing a just and permanent peace, and in breaking down artificial trade barriers between nations. Millions of men now in the armed forces will bring home with them a new understanding of the problems and needs of the rest of the world. These men will have seen demonstrated the hopeless plight of people broken under tyrannical governments. They will have seen why our forefathers fled the old world to set up the American Republic. They will bring home with them a realization that war is a destroyer of freedom; that recurring war abroad will ultimately clutch with bloody fingers at our own freedom.

As good American business men, they will realize that we have ahead of us the biggest organizing and selling job in history if we are to help prevent future wars and save ourselves from bankruptcy and enslavement. We will have to help formulate and enforce a lasting peace, while leading the way in rehabilitating the world through trade.

This job has already commenced under the foreign trade policy of the American government. It should be carried forward in preparation for the day when peace returns.

Guarding A Powder Keg

More than a year before Pearl Harbor, oil company executives, engineers, and safety supervisors were faced with the problem of protecting oil against enemy attack, principally sabotage. The task before them was akin to guarding an open powder keg in the midst of a forest fire. Included in the physical plant of the oil industry are 30,000 bulk storage plants and terminals, nearly 500 refineries, nearly 700 natural gasoline plants, and 70,000 miles of trunk pipe lines. Obviously it would have been impracticable to secure the necessary steel and other strategic material for fencing fighting and guarding the entire facilities of the oil industry. Consequently efforts were concentrated upon key plants or plants which might constitute a source of fire exposure to other defense industries.

Employees were fingerprinted and required to prove citizenship. They were investigated to determine the nature of their activities and associations prior to employment. Badge and card identification systems were established. Guard forces were enlarged and trained for wartime conditions. By fateful December 7 the oil industry was prepared for war.

The complete record of American industry in the war effort will never be compiled. Its achievements and praiseworthy actions are too numerous to record. But they all add up to one fact—private enterprise does not let the nation down, in war or in peace.

On The Home Front . . . . .

In its annual report to the nation (and, to be sure, it was told to the Axis people), the Maritime Commission announced that the United States shipbuilding industry has broken every world record for volume shipbuilding.

The industry has not only fulfilled the 1942 mandate of President Roosevelt for 8 million tons of shipping, but has exceeded the Presidential directive by a considerable amount, the report said.

The Maritime Commission has set a shipbuilding goal for 1943 of 1.9 million dead-weight tons, and adds that this can be stepped up to 2.0 million tons if materials and supplies are available.

The total announced as delivered in 1942 did not include some 800 smaller craft and other vessels delivered to the armed services.

Add to this some 100,000 war planes which will be produced in the United States this year and you have only a quick glance at the meaning of total war. Thousands of tanks, guns and other weapons are rolling down the assembly line this year, headed for the many fighting fronts of the world. To be sure, such mammoth production costs money. This is a key reason behind the Treasury drive for the Second War Loan, which opened on April 12.

The 13 billion dollars to be sought in the drive will support our fighting men with all they need in war weapons and war materials. These dollars, taken directly from our pocketbooks and pay checks, will be tangible evidence of our personal stake in the war for freedom.

Another purpose of the loan drive is less visible but not less essential. It has to do with checking inflation. It is estimated that the national income this year may reach the gigantic figure of about 135 billion dollars. In times of peace a constantly growing income calls for increasing expenditures for all kinds of goods and services. Under wartime conditions—especially those of a total war when all resources must be mobilized for war purposes—we are faced with a steadily shrinking volume of goods and services available to civilians. With many of these goods we are rapidly exhausting reserve stocks and replacements will be on a much smaller scale than when they were accumulated. In addition, a great number of fairly expensive machines and gadgets are not to be had at all, or only in very small quantities. Furthermore, "luxury" travel and vacations, which used up a good part of our surplus income, are out for the duration.

Altogether we have vastly more money to spend than we have means of spending it—a surplus spending power, it is believed of around 40 billions. Unchecked by price controls, rationing and stabilization of wages and prices of farm products, this surplus as it competes for scarce goods would soon result in that dangerous and swift rise in all living costs which goes by the name of inflation.

A contribution of 13 billions by the people of this country will by that much reduce the pressure exerted by the 40 billions. It will do more, however, for this sum is not lost to future use. It is set aside as savings at a comfortable rate of increase.

Your banker will advise you that U. S. war bonds are an excellent investment. In 10 years every $18.75 invested in a war bond grows to $25. For every $75 spent now on Series E war savings bond, $100 will come home in 1953.

By investing our "fighting dollars" in the Second War Loan, we are not only placing our extra earnings at the disposal of the government we are placing them at the disposal of our children and family at a future date when they will be most welcome.

Sugar for home-canning of 1943 fruit crops will be available to housewives on approximately the same basis as last season, the Office of Price Administration has announced. No deduction of blue point stamps will be made from War Ration Book Two for sugar obtained for this purpose.

In the 1942 season, housewives applied to their local War Price and Rationing Boards for allotments of sugar on the basis of one pound for each four quarts of fruit that it was planned to can, and, in addition, for one pound for each member of the family. Roughly the same pattern will be used to give home-canning sugar allotments this year, although there will be some refinements in procedure. Under present regulations, local boards have authority to set the time and place for registration.

All shoe establishments with a checking account having access to ration banking facilities must open a shoe ration bank account before April 18 and file its inventory at the bank by that date, regional OPA officials announced. Shoe firms were supposed to take an inventory of shoes and ration currency on hand at the close of business Saturday, April 10. Late filing of inventories must be approved by an OPA district office.

An Open Letter To All Haskell County Citizens

Haskell, Texas
April 6th, 1943.

Dear Fellow Citizen:

Beginning April 12th your country and mine is calling on us to take in the biggest financial drive in all history. They must raise in the next fifteen billion dollars. Of this amount the companies, large and small, corporations, individuals both you and I are to raise Eight Billion. This is to be no little job.

It is possible that up to this time you have already bought some bonds contributed to the RED CROSS, the U. S. O., all other reliefs and paid an income tax. But as yet you have not made the least sacrifice. If you have all of this, you still have more net profits left than you did for any similar period before the war. The writer enjoys the making of money as much as you, but how can we, as honest to GOD American Citizens, do this with clear conscience and not answer every call made upon us by the best Government on earth. For all that you have done you will have due credit, but this in mind—you have not finished; you have just begun.

During the past few years this country has enjoyed every material thing known to or wished for by man—good rains, fine grass, big crops, prices, lots of hogs and more cattle. Last year Haskell was among the cotton-production counties of the state. Every man was his own king, enjoyed the freedom of a country which has no equal. It has always done a lot for me, and it always will, if permitted to stand. Being on the receiving end just the easy part of it. That we might appreciate this we must get on the end and help carry the load. The Government is no stronger than its people. Because, 'It's we and we are it'.

During the drouth of 1917-18 we had these similar campaigns on, the people of this county worked and bought bonds until it hurt. Under the conditions we would be hurting now. Get in your mind the difference between now and then, and this work will be a pleasure in comparison. In this drive are not asked for a donation. You are asked only for a loan which you will be repaid. If you have invested your earnings, you can borrow the money the bank, lose the difference in interest, and feel that you are a better citizen for having done so. If you want the other fellow to do the giving, if we want the other fellow to do the work, if we want the other fellow to hold the bonds, if we might want the other fellow to fight and die while we hold hands, then deep down in the secret hiding places of our heart and hide we not the good loyal citizens that we ought to be. Remember "The conscience still remains after the witnesses are all gone."

In the words of Webster may we "Let our object be our Country, whole Country, and nothing but our Country. And by the blessings of God that Country itself become a vast and splendid monument, not of oppression and terror, but of wisdom, of peace and liberty upon which the world may gaze with admiration."

With you as one of the many good workers of Haskell County, your patriotism, and your never failing loyalty, Your County will not fail.

"We lend the money while they give their lives."

This letter went out to all worker committees last week. The work suggest that the public should have the same letter.

War Finance Committee

They GIVE Their Lives We LEND ur Money Put Haskell County War Bond Quota OVER THE TOP

THEY'RE ON THE JOB . . . ARE YOU?

We Americans have got the toughest job on our hands that ever faced the modern world. The cost is going to be staggering . . . the cost in lives, heartbreak and in money.
It won't be easy . . . not this war.
It is not going to be easy for you to buy your share of War Bonds, for your share is bigger now than it was a few months ago. And no matter what else you do for victory . . . Red Cross, Defense, Air Raid Precautions . . . NOTHING TAKES THE PLACE OF BUYING WAR BONDS TO THE LIMIT OF YOUR ABILITY.
It is your responsibility, and ours.

House Rejects Tax Proposals in Wild Session

The house of representatives climaxes a fiery session by refusing to accept the Ruml plan to forgive ten billion on 1942 income taxes to put taxpayers on a pay-as-you-go basis, as well as the administration's collect-at-the-source tax bill which would have started collecting 20 per cent from paychecks on July 1. The ways and means committee was ordered to bring out a new bill that would help put the nation's income taxpayers on a pay-as-you-go basis. In this photo, made after the votes had been counted, Representative Robert L. Doughton of North Carolina, supporter of the administration tax plan, and its leader, is congratulated by Representative Frank Carlson of Kansas, leader of the Ruml forces, who had embodied its proposals in his plan.

Jungle Fighter

The U. S. army jungle issue is something to behold—when it's visible. It is designed not only to conceal, but to meet other necessities in the dense growth of the tropics. This soldier is all set for island fighting. If it's raining he has his poncho to drape around him. His face is protected from insect pests by a mosquito netting.

This Dinner-Table War

Is Your Family in Fighting Trim?

OF COURSE it's more trouble to feed a family in wartime! . . . That's what war is: trouble. But even so, aren't America's dinner tables banquets, compared with those in the other nations that are fighting to save mankind's freedom? That's why American women can swing market baskets and count ration points, and think nothing of it. They are helping to win. And in this war, we win or we die.

LAMB PIE

War-time version. As seen in the casserole above. More vegetables and less lamb.

- 1 Pound lamb shoulder, cut in cubes, rolled in seasoned flour
- 2 Tbsp. bacon drippings
- 2 Onions
- 3 Cups boiling water
- 1 Bay leaf

- 1 Cup diced potato
- 1 1/2 Cups peas
- 1 1/2 Cups carrots, sliced
- 1/2 Cup chopped celery

Biscuit dough

Brown the cubes with onion, in bacon fat; pour off fat and add boiling water. Cover and simmer slowly 1 1/2 hours. Add vegetables for the final 30 minutes of cooking. Taste, to be sure it's seasoned right, then transfer to a casserole. Place tiny baking-powder biscuits on top, and bake until biscuits are brown. Makes a fine main dish for 6.

Are you giving your worn-out kitchen fats to the Government?

Strain through fine mesh into metal container. Keep in cool place. Rancid fat makes fewer bullets. Sell to butcher when you have one pound or more.

Gas Ranges Simplify Nutrition

If you take good care of your modern Gas Range, it can feed your family for years and years. Put it through its paces. Use the simmer-burners, for instance, for flawless vegetables; the thermostat-control for correct baking and roasting; the smokeless broiler, on ball-bearings, for sizzling foods in their own juices. Follow a Nutrition Guide. Even with war restrictions, you can have good-tasting meals that guard the health and good looks of your family.
