FIFTH WAR LOAN QUOTAS LARGEST TO BE ASSESSED

Quota of $464 Million Is Largest Given Texas To Date

A state quota of $464 million dollars for the Fifth War Loan, June 12-July 9, has been announced by State Chairman Nathan Adams of the War Finance Committee of Texas. This is the largest sum yet and the drive will be "a big and vital effort." Adams said. Of the total, $236 million has been set for individual Texans alone, $125 million of this to be in Series E Bonds. Counties throughout the state are announcing their quotas now. "It is going to be big and tough — the biggest and the toughest drive," Adams said in warning that all of the nearly seven million people of Texas must face the facts. But "it can be done," Adams insisted. "It has been proved." He pointed out that during the Fourth War Loan more was raised than the total quota for the Fifth. The over-all goal for the Fourth was $395 million and Texas subscribed $480 million. "No one is exempt," Adams said. "Our boys are dying for you and for me. Think of the invasion and you cannot think of not buying war bonds. Our victory volunteers must, of course, do a large part in cutting out the great Texas market," he said in praising the past efforts of the victory volunteers. "It will be a severe home-front test for every person in the state," he said.

Senior Day

Senior Day started with a bang when the seniors presented the assembly program. Gypsy Rose Hayes read the class prophecy to Doris Lowe who was hunting for her class mates ten years later. The Barber Shop Quartet composed of Raymond Mobley, Lonnie Davis, Vaughn Ray Stuart, and Bobby Dulaney, and with Earnest Wilfong as the customer sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." The Beauty Shop Trio then joined and sang. This was composed of Doris Lowe, Carolyn Williams, Wanda Caldwell, and Sue Wair was the customer. The class will be read by Margene Sellers. Royce Adkins then presented a gift to Mr. Scott and Mrs. Byrd. This climaxed the program.

Immediately after the program most of the seniors met in front of building and then ate lunch on the lawn. Each then went his own way. Some went to the creek, some went out of town and others just loafed the rest of the afternoon.

To climax the day a class party was held in the activity building at 8:30. Games of all kinds were played and everyone had lots of fun.

Refreshments of chicken salad and pimento cheese sandwiches with cokes were served to about twenty-five members and teachers. After a hearty "good night" every one went home after an exciting and eventful Senior Day.

THE SENIOR CLASS IS THE BEST CLASS IN THE WHOLE DARNED SCHOOL!

JUNIOR JUNK—
 Say, why so glum, chum???? Those "finals" can't be very hard, I say as I shake from fright!!!!

Austin was a very honored city last week when seven Haskellites journeyed down for the track meet. Now don't you agree, Horace????

All this talk of waves, chicken, gangplanks, and the new formals could mean only one thing—that Super-doooper Junior-Senior Banquet which comes off tonight!!! Don't forget as if you could!!!!

All the Juniors paused (in the "hustle and bustle" characteristic of H.H.S.) today to breathe a sigh of relief 'Cause those horrid American History Summaries are finally finished and turned in!!!

HEY!! What HAS happened to "Fun Nite"??? Has it been stopped or something??? I hope not 'cause EVERYONE enjoyed it so!!!

TAKE NOTICE, GIRLS!!! That TRUETT REEVES has finally gotten over being so bashful!!! He would be a good deal for some livin' gal!!!

"RED," DICK, & FOSTER certainly looked "down" last Monday when Mr. Scott game them "10 per cent off and 10 days"!!! Buck up, boys. In one week and two days you will be dignified Seniors and can do as you please!!!

FLASH! FLASH! "CHUNKY" Johnson has decided Haskell girls are just as good as Lubbock girls!!! At least that's the impression I got since he and MARIE IVY are seen together so much!!!

The Seniors weren't the only ones who went to the creek Friday!! Several super seniors went Friday evening!! Such as DUSTY, RUBY, ROYCE, JIMMIE, TOMMY RAY, and CATHERINE??!!

Say, did you hear about the little Moron who keeps breaking his arm to see if there's any beer in the joint????!!

To whom it may concern at H.H.S. Here's proof of that old saying, "Two can live as cheaply as one".

That's addition. One plus one equals two. An addition is an annex. An X marks the spot. A spot is a scar.

A cigar is a smoke. Where there's smoke there's fire. Where there's flames there's sweethearts.

Where there's sweethearts there's marriages. Marriages are made in Heaven. In Heaven everything is free!

Therefore, two can live as cheaply as one.

Bye, now!!!

Helen Bagby Circle For Bible Study

On Monday evening, May 15 the "Helen Bagby Circle" met in the annex for a Bible lesson on the book of "Joel". With Mrs. Watson at the piano we sang: "I Love To Tell the Story". Mrs. Taylor gave the opening prayer and Miss Crawford gave us a very interesting lesson on this book with all ladies present reading and taking parts in the discussion. Joel declares God's judgments and a fast was prescribed, and Zion comforted, 3-16 verses says the Lord shall roar out of Zion and utter his voice from Jerusalem and the heavens and the earth shall shake, but the Lord will be the hope of his people and the strength of the children of Israel. So shall we know that I am the Lord your God, dwelling in Zion. Then shall Jerusalem be holy, Egypt shall be a desolate wilderness for the violence against the children of Judah because they have shed innocent blood in their land. But Judah shall dwell forever and Jerusalem from generation to generation for the Lord dwelleth in Zion. Mrs. Taylor then requested prayer for her brother now seriously ill at Memphis, Tenn. and Mother Crawford gave this beautiful prayer and this closed our most interesting lesson.

Slip Covers
 "Make it do," which is one of the points of Consumer's Pledge, apply to home furnishings as well as clothing or food. It is now considered patriotic as well as practical to slip cover furniture. Instead of being looked upon as dust covers for summer, slip covers are now worn with pride by the davenport or chair the whole year 'round. Although slip covers may be used to cover shabby upholstery, to mask scratched or worn wooden frames of a chair, or to conceal the lines of poorly formed pieces of furniture, they may be used to protect new furniture as well as to introduce a note of gaiety or give the right touches of color to a room.
 Select material which will stand up under constant wear since chairs and davenports usually receive hard use. Beware of using material which will slip or pull at the seams. Remember the use of material which shrinks or fades lessens the usefulness of the slip cover, so either buy material which will not shrink or shrink it before making it into a cover.
 A greater amount of material is required if there is a large pattern unit or a striped design than is required for unpatterned material, as each unit must be centered on the back of chair and seat. The pattern unit should not be wider or taller than the back of the chair to prevent the pattern having a broken look when the slip cover is completed. Measure your piece of furniture in order to know the amount of material to buy. Most large over-stuffed chairs require six to seven yards of 50-inch material and the average davenport requires fifteen yards of the 50-inch material.
 No special sewing equipment is required in the making of slip covers, however a cording foot makes a smoother finish if cording is used. Pin fit the cover right side out, mark lines, transfer the pins to the wrong side and stitch.
 "Make haste slowly" is the best maxim to remember in slip covering for hastily made covers usually have sloppy lines.
 Mr. and Mrs. Minard Fields of South Plains spent the weekend in the home of Mrs. Field's brother, Mr. Bill Johnston and family.
 Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Edwards and children, Billy, W. T., Patsy Jean, Stanley Weldon, Carolyn, and Sammy Earl, spent Sunday in the home of his brother, Mr. Haskell Edwards and family of this city.
 Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thomas and children, Roy Jr. and Jack, visited in Seymour Sunday.

Hints Worth Remembering
 All previous records are expected to be surpassed this month in enlistment of 17 year old boys in the Naval Reserve at the Abilene Naval Recruiting Station. Chief T. O. Gaston announced today.
 With the end of the present semester of High School the latter part of May, an unprecedented number of 17 year old boys is expected in May and June, and it is announced that all of the many Navy Trade Schools are available to those who qualify for this training. These Navy Schools offer a training in such trades as radio, diesel engineering, aviation trades, and numerous others that will prove valuable in civilian life after the war.
 All interested 17 year old boys are urged to apply either at the Abilene Naval Recruiting Station, or visit the Navy Recruiting party which will be in Haskell at Post Office each Thursday at 4 p. m.

The Pinch Hitter

The war is aking millions of people aware of relative values. Products and services, more than money, gain in importance. Recently a man with a pocketful of money wanted to go from Portland, Oregon, to Salt Lake City to see his son in the Army, who was being shipped overseas. All means of transportation were swamped. But, as usual, the railroad squeezed on one more passenger. In addition to handling its regular business, the railroad is always supposed to, and always does absorb excess traffic which turns to it like a drowning man grasps at a lifeboat. The people take it for granted that the railroads can absorb whatever burdens are thrown on them, including war, and their record in not disappointing the public has been outstanding.

People are prone to forget the most essential things in life until their relative importance is dramatically brought to their attention. The old locomotive whistle is some thing we all take for granted. When other means of transportation are blocked, we expect to be able to "take a train" to any desired point, just as we expect to take our next breath. The man who wanted to see his son in Salt Lake found that being able to take a train meant more to him than money, for the money alone could not get him there. Our daily lives depend on products and services which are the least obvious and sensational. And among these, the American railroad system is outstanding. Never has this been demonstrated so graphically to millions of travelers and shippers as during this war. Without the railroads, we would all have been sunk—figuratively and literally. For without our railroads, our ships would be idle.

Revive County Court Houses

According to the National Grocers Bulletin, regulations governing the food trade now fill 7,800 pages, of about 2,000 words each. It would take about six months to just read those regulations, and it is doubtful if any two district OPA offices would construct them the same. Washington, D. C., has been aptly referred to as the court house of the nation, as well as the capital. Commenting on this, the Missoula, Montana, Times says: "All violations of countless regulations reach an ultimate goal for settlement in Washington, D. C., where some unknown clerk scratches off a verdict. Recently a firm that was found guilty of several thousand OPA violations spent $25,000 to take the case to the United States Supreme Court. That body dismissed the case on the grounds that the rulings and regulations were so multitudinous that no business could be expected to comply with them all."

"However, no business man should take this as permission to violate OPA regulations—unless he has a surplus of $25,000 to defend himself in the United States Supreme Court." It is for such reasons as these, and not because of opposition to the principle of rationing, that public demand is insistent that OPA practices be revised so they will operate along constitutional lines and provide the right of court appeal from its arbitrary edicts; that it be made to commodate, instead of destroy history and traditional methods of doing business; that the so-called "no higher price line limitation" be eliminated in favor of a system that permits a nominal mark-up above cost and that state OPA officials be given much more authority to solve local problems, solution of which can now be delayed indefinitely in Washington, and that methods and regulations be simplified.

Disgraceful Abuse of Power

Seizure of the Montgomery Ward store in Chicago at the point of a bayonet, was a disgraceful example of the use of military power. Hatred of the Nazi regime has been engendered by military "seizures" of national, private property and individuals. The Nazis offered the same general excuse for their acts—war necessity. It has never before been claimed in this country that a private retail store in a war industry, it has been treated in exactly the opposite manner from the standpoint of priorities for both goods and labor. One of the reasons given by our government for forcibly dispossessing owners of private property in the present case, is that the chairman of Montgomery Ward refused to comply with orders of the War Labor Board and the President in a labor controversy, although there was good reason for believing that the facts justified his refusal. During the recent disastrous coal strike which most seriously affected war production, John L. Lewis refused to comply with decisions of the War Labor Board and the President. But, instead of throwing Lewis bodily out of his office and occupying his quarters, at the point of a bayonet, his defiance was rewarded with higher wages. Now, the opposite course is taken with the operator of a non-war business. This time it was a big store, next time a little store may feel the mailed fist. Also, bayonets can be turned on labor as well as on business executives. Nationally and internationally, this latest example of bureaucratic ruthlessness may awaken the people to the dangers involved in delegating untrammelled authority to officials to make, interpret and enforce rulings having the force of laws. As a people, we can be thankful that we still have a free Congress with the power to correct such abuses.

The Shape of Things to Come

The record-breaking flight of the Lockheed Constellation from coast to coast in less than seven hours is not only historic, but is a portent of things to come. The performance graphically illustrates that we will have a more closely knit world and we must think in terms of time rather than space. Furthermore, it proves that the United States must be ready with the planes and with the fuel, for what we can do, others will do. According to an analysis published by The Index, quarterly publication of the New York Trust Co., aviation, a 20-billion-dollar industry last year and ranking as the largest in the country, is due for an additional 50 per cent increase in 1944. "In 1934 passenger transportation for the first time represented the source of more than half the total revenue of the airlines—55.2 per cent, compared with 42 per cent for mail and 2.8 per cent for express. Seven years later, the breakdown showed passenger revenues contributing 76 per cent, mail about 21 per cent and express approximately 3 per cent." Total revenues of the air transport companies in 1943 were estimated at 125 million dollars, of which 72 per cent was passenger traffic, 21 per cent mail and 7 per cent express. "These figures reveal a story of unusual progress. Aviation faces a future in which millions of individuals in this country and abroad will have personal knowledge of what airplanes can do as a transport agency; a vast number will know how to fly and repair them, and the general public is convinced that new improvements will soon provide safer, cheaper, more comfortable and more dependable air transportation for a peace-time world. Few industries face such an expansive outlook with such a legacy and such an obligation." The companies responsible for developing the Constellation deserve the highest praise for achieving another milestone on the roads of the sky. Again private enterprise blazes the way.

PAUL IN CORINTH

LESSON TEXT—Acts 18:1-4; 1 Corinthians 13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Put now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love.—1 Corinthians 13:13.

Who is a Christian? One might answer in a number of ways. He is one who has been saved by the redeeming grace of Jesus Christ. He is one who seeks to live a life in accord with the will of God. He is a witness for God, and so on. But the answer that the whole world needs is a life in which the redeeming love of Christ begets a true love for one's fellow man.

I. An Example of Christian Love (Acts 18:1-4).

Teaching and preaching are God's ordained way for presenting the truth. They are effective, but only when done by one whose life exemplifies the truth. In his letter to the Corinthians Paul gives the greatest discussion of love known to the world, but before he wrote it he had lived that truth before them. The Holy Spirit spoke through him of love, because he had already lived the truth out in the preacher.

Two things appear here: Paul was:

1. Working (vv. 1-3). The world's most distinguished missionary and preacher had arrived in Corinth. Where was the welcoming committee of local dignitaries? There was none. Whose comfortable home would receive him? None was offered. His was the lot of the pioneer for Christ. He had to hunt up a Jewish fellow craftsman and go to work to earn his bread.

Paul, like every other Jewish boy, had learned a trade, something he could do with his hands. He was a tent and sail maker, and was not ashamed to work at his trade. A more recent follower of Christ put it thus: "My business is to preach the gospel, but I pack meat to pay the expenses."

But notice that Paul did not let this work become the chief thing. As the Lord prospered him he did not decide to "go back into business." No, for his real business was:

2. Witnessing (v. 4). He began, as was his custom, in the synagogue, presenting Christ to Jews and Greeks. The Jews opposed him (see v. 6), and then Paul addressed himself to the Gentiles.

God prospered that ministry and encouraged Paul by a vision, assuring him that the Lord had "much people" (v. 10) in that wicked city. The love of Christ in Paul thus shone forth as a light in the darkness of sin and superstition. Love was something which the heathen world of Paul's day had so misrepresented and distorted (even as it has today) that it needed definition and exposition. So we have—

II. An Explanation of Christian Love (1 Cor. 13).

This is one of the outstanding chapters of all Scripture. Its magnificent discussion of the greatest of all themes has drawn forth many choice expositions. The thought centers around the emptiness of the loveless life, the glory of the life of love, and the eternal unchangeable power of love. We gather it up in three words.

1. Indispensable (vv. 1-3) are without love man's attainments are empty. He may become an orator with a "heavenly" gift of speech, but unless he truly loves, his elegant and persuasive talk is just a meaningless noise. How true!
- One may also have marvelous gifts of prophetic insight and a wonder-working faith, and find that it is all a vain and empty experience without love. Our world leaders could well study that verse just now. Sacrificial interest in the needs of mankind is a fine trait in man, but it must have the love of Christ in it or it is too profitless. As we think of feeding the hungry nations of the earth, let us not forget to make it worth while by doing it in Christian love.
2. Incomparable (vv. 4-7). The standard for the life of a Christian is a very high one; in fact, it is impossible of attainment apart from the grace and power of Christ. Naturally, we find ourselves to be impatient, proud, suspicious, resentful, etc. The new nature in Christ is just the opposite, for love loves.

Note that phrase "endureth all things." We need that in these days when it is so hard to keep on going, or as someone said, "to keep on keeping on." Love endures all things.

3. Immutable (vv. 8-13). All things in life change and pass away. Love is eternal and unchangeable. Even the spiritual gifts have their fulfillment and pass from view, but love shall endure through all eternity. God, the Eternal One, is love (1 John 4:8, 16).

When we shall come to that perfectness of understanding which is to be ours one day, when we shall know even as God now knows us, then we shall see love as the supreme gift, eternal in its power and validity.

Rich Uncle

A young 4-F of my acquaintance works at a government-operated chemical laboratory in a distant state. He came home on leave a few months ago and scratched around considerably on his father's big farm collecting rocks. When he went back, he took the rocks with him, also notes on elevations and thicknesses of strata. He said he had always believed those shale glades might have value. Now he would find out!

More recently he was at home again with a business-like glint in his eye, discreetly silent on the subject of his mineral samples. After his first home-cooked breakfast he went horsey and saddled a nag. Not pleasure; it was a business trip. He cantered directly to the home of his mother's uncle, the richest retired capitalist thereabout. When he took to horse again, he was a sadder but wiser young man of affairs.

Had Bad News

Apparently the young man's home acres are full of a good grade of valuable ore, near the surface and not costly to recover. He had visions of incorporating a new, local industry soon after the war, offering jobs to the whole county's discharged service men and unemployed young workers. All he needed was capital—that's what he thought. He had even checked markets, demands, and prices for years back and had drawn probable production and profit charts for his prospect.

"Uncle Jeff knows his business," the lad said woefully. "He says he has $100,000 to put in such a venture if he can figure a way to come out whole. I showed him how we could gross $100,000 easily the first year, but he got out tax sheets and showed me that a 100% return on an investment of $100,000 is no good to him. The most he would be allowed to keep, along with his other income, is less than $3,000."

An Old Story

This young man went to a lot of trouble to learn what economists have been saying for two years. From his great uncle's point of view, a profit of $100,000 a year was only 2.8% return on a $100,000 investment, thus:

Net profit	.....	$100,000
Normal profit	.....	80,000
Normal tax 40%	.....	$ 3,200
Excess profit	.....	$2,800
E. P. tax 85%	.....	78,200
Total taxes	.....	$ 81,400
Net profit after taxes	.....	$ 18,600
Personal income tax 85%	.....	15,810
Income remaining	.....	$ 2,790

Of course a $3,000 yearly income is $80 a week, good pay if it is a salary with no investment and no risk of financial loss. When a man puts up the tenth part of a million dollars (or when ten men go together and invest a million) it is seldom in "a sure thing." There are always risks to run in industry.

Money Plays Safe

All investors expect their money to work for them. For a man of much wealth, $100,000 earns only a small "salary." Such men are very careful therefore to put capital in a safe place with little or no danger of loss—like municipal bonds, for example. That's the gravest prospect facing the United States at the close of the war: Danger of having service men come marching back victorious over various armies of various dictators, to find no work at home.

The American people need a great many items, and are ready to buy them. Manufacturers know how to make them, good enough for anybody at popular prices. Making these things can provide good jobs for millions of men, but will it happen? Well—there is one sure way to spoil the prospect: Keep the taxing system exactly like it is now, so people who invest in industry can't benefit from it. Investments are absolutely essential to making jobs.

Perhaps the modern girl doesn't blush like the maiden of old, because she isn't told the same stories.

Rail Key Loss Perils Honan Province

Two critical situations face China as Jap drives along the Peiping-Hankow railroad (1) have resulted in the taking of Chengchow (2), both key points on the north-south line. As the map shows, Chengchow is on the northern rim of the Honan province, a great food-raising area. From Chengchow the rail line cuts across Chinese territory (indicated by dark areas).

Seabees Open Ice Cream Parlor

Destined for the scrap heap because many of its parts were worn out and could not be replaced, an ice cream manufacturing unit of Guadalcanal was salvaged and put in order by a naval construction battalion and now is turning out ice cream twice a week for Seabees and the marine unit to which they are attached.

Pvts. Joe and Edwin McElroy have returned to their army camp after being at the bedside of their mother for past four weeks.

Mrs. Brock has been released from hospital and is now with a relative in Wichita Falls and doing nicely. Both sons of Mrs. Brock have received good conduct medals.

WARTIME LIVING OUTLOOK

Uncle Sam has not forgotten that good old institution--Monday wash day. According to information received by Miss Louise Newman, County Home Demonstration Agent, from the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Demonstration Agent, from the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, production of galvanized tubs, wash boilers, pails, and bucket for home laundering will continue at a high level for the benefit of American homemakers.

Here are other bright and dark spots in the family living picture: Wire clothes hangers will continue scarce, despite a recent increase in production. There will be more repair parts available for electric refrigerators, but no metal beds or inner spring mattresses will be made for civilian use.

Manufacturers currently are warning of an impending match shortage because of lack of paper, glue, and lumber. But the prospects for increased soap production are bright, since 50 million pounds of lard were released to soap manufacturers last month.

In the foods field, homemakers can expect a small reduction in the ceiling price of enriched flour... 5 cents per hundred pounds. Packers soon will release nearly four million pounds of dried apples to the public, and nearly a million pounds of dried currants will make their way to the grocers' shelves.

This will be the first sizeable quantity of dried apples available to the public in two years. Experts in the Bureau say there will be slightly less pepper in the months just ahead but an increase in the supply of other spices. Currently the supply of seed potatoes is the largest in history.

Mr. John Franke of Abilene visited here Monday. Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dier, Gloria Jean and Miss Nora Druesedow spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Druesedow, in Haskell.

Household Hints

Handle With Care

Because strawberries bruise easily -- and lose some of their vitamins in the bruising -- Mrs. Julia Kiene, director of the Westinghouse Home Economics Institute, takes these precautions: Wash carefully, a few at a time, in a colander or sieve under running water. Don't remove hulls until after you've washed them -- prevents water-logging as well as vitamin-loss. And don't ever wash berries before storing them. They keep best if spread on a plate or flat pan, with stems on, placed on the middle or lowest shelf of the refrigerator where the cold is moderate.

Good Polish

When washing windows, Westinghouse home economists polish them with crumpled newspapers and are enthusiastic about the results.

Give Cords a Break

During Spring cleaning remove those lamp cords from under rugs and carpets. Not only do they cause an unsightly bulge, but Miss Myrtle Fahslinger, director of Home Lighting for Westinghouse, explains that if electric cords are walked on, or if furniture is moved over them, the tiny wires inside may be broken and can cause a short circuit.

NOTICE ASKING BIDS ON REPAINTING HOSPITAL

Sealed bids on repainting the interior of Haskell County Hospital will be received by Mrs. W. P. Trice, Supt., of Haskell County Hospital at any time not later than 8 o'clock p. m. Sat., May 27, 1944. In submitting bids, submit for labor and paint, also for labor alone. The Hospital reserves the right to let contract on either plan preferred by the Supt. thereof also reserves the right to reject all bids. Mrs. W. P. Trice, Supt.

Every Leaf Counts

Get out of the habit of throwing away the dark, outer green lettuce leaves, for they're actually richer in vitamins and minerals than the inner bleached leaves, say Westinghouse home economists. Shred into bowl salads, or if there are enough of them, serve wilted with a hot bacon dressing. Only one or two leaves. Then cook with green peas -- they make the peas a brighter green.

Savage fighting between Chinese and Jap forces in Honan, west of the strategic rail point of Chengchow, now centers on Hulao Pass, which the enemy is reported as rapidly fortifying, following its capture, to prevent counter-attacks. Arrows in the map indicate centers of fighting outside Mhsien, where the Chinese have circled the enemy, and Yingshang where the Japs have been more successful. Diagonal lines in map at right indicate the general zone of action in relation to China.

Fred Stockdale Asks Re-Election For Second Term. The Free Press is authorized this week to announce the candidacy of Fred Stockdale for a second term as District Attorney of the 39th Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

Terry Roberson Asks Re-Election As Commissioner. County Commissioner Terry Roberson of Precinct 1, this week authorized The Free Press to announce his candidacy for re-election in the coming Democratic primaries.

Mr. Stockdale said he had no formal statement to make at this time, but that he wished to thank the voters and citizenship of the 39th district for their support in the past and for the cooperation extended him during the time he has held the office. A practicing attorney in this section for a number of years before he was elected to the responsible office of District Attorney in 1942, Mr. Stockdale is well and favorably known throughout the district which he serves and needs no introduction to the majority of voters in Haskell, Throckmorton, Stonewall and Kent counties which comprise the 39th district.

Mr. Roberson, farmer and long-time resident of Precinct 1, needs no introduction to the majority of voters in his precinct, and during the time he has served as County Commissioner he has discharged the duties of that office in a capable and efficient manner, clearly shown in the records of the Commissioner's Court. We feel free in stating the belief that at all times Mr. Roberson has endeavored to handle all affairs coming under his jurisdiction in an impartial manner, consistent with the best interests of his precinct and the county as a whole. He is a veteran of World War I and served overseas with U. S. forces, and now has two sons in the armed service.

Letters have been received from Lieut S. L. Davis, Jr., stating that he arrived in England safely on last March 23— incidentally this was his 26th birthday. Lieut. Davis wrote that England was a very beautiful place and that he was enjoying himself. He commented that things are very different in that country from the United States, and he noted that the English cars and rains were much smaller than ours. He said the English people were very kind and friendly to the American boys and made them feel very welcome. Lt. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Davis, Sr., of this city. His wife, the former Sibyl Highnote, is making her home with her parents here while her husband is in the service.

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe S. Chapman for "Mothers Day". All the children being present but 2, Mr. and Mrs. John Firestone of Fort Worth and Miss Marie Chapman of Abilene. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Firestone, Billie Jean, Sharon and Linda Gail, Grandbury; Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Sims, Carla Ann and Carole Dan, Hensley. Capt. Hermann Surratt and Mrs. Surratt, Herman and Darlene, Salina, Calif.; Mrs. W. O. Gore, Las Animas, Colo.; Mrs. Elsie Hampton, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Johnson, Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Bird, Gerald, Ernestine, Jean and Robert, Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Burson and Linda, Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. Surratt left Sunday afternoon for some camp in Calif. He has been transferred from Camp Barkeley.
