CHAPTER I-Edward Thomas farion Lawton Hargrove, feature receives notice from his draft board that he is to be inducted into the ermy. Before he begins an accounting of his actual experiences in training camp he issues his quota free advice to prospective intuctees. After his induction Harfor Fort Bragg, where he is to receive his basic training.

CHAPTER II-Private Hargrove tells of the physical exam, the first few days of army, how he was out-atted with his uniform, and how on the sixth day he received his first EP duty. He is classified as a semi-ekilled cook.

CHAPTER III-Hargrove relates his conversation with his sergeant who is trying to find out why he spends so much time on KP duty. He also reports on the session the trainees are put through by the exereise sergeant. He has trouble ng how to handle his rifle and given plenty of special attention the sergeant and corporal.

CHAPTER IV-Private Hargrove solates some of the incidents surrounding the advancement in rank by some of his friends. Why he falls to so advance is a puzzle to his sergeant, who inquires about it.

CHAPTER V-Hargrove is given a review of his faults by his sereant who tells him to snap out of and start working for his corporal's stripes. He also gets a lesin the art of goldbricking.

CHAPTER VI-Private Hargrove lists a series of army slang definitions for the enlightenment of the civilian population. He also tells bow he and two of his pals spoil a perfectly good date for one Private Zuber. Going home on furlough he goes to visit a newspaperman friend who dominates their conversation recounting his experiences in the first World War. He also undergoes another trying experience at

It's enough to drive a man to drink. You get a ten-day furlough and head for New York. You mooth a due bill on an ultra-swank hotel. You say to yourself that for those ten days you will be an all-out civilian, you will squander your substance in rioutous living, you will forget altogether the fact that you

You wake up at six o clock, no matter how late you stay out the night before. Then you can't go Thank to sleep. You have to buy enormous quantities of civillan food to keep up with your Army appetite. You look in shop windows and see for, but you think of your purse in terms of $36 a month and the inner man convinces you that you can't pass. We exchanged the prescribed comments on the smallness of the world and I saw a sparkling opportunity to spread a thick layer of hokum. I could make the lad think I was one of these filthy-rich privates you so often read about in the papers.

"Won't you have lunch with me?" I asked. Then I added, quite casually, "I'm stopping here at the

His eyes popped faintly, but good soldier never passes up a free meal. We went back into the hotel and into the terrifyingly smart dining room. I smiled condescendingly at the headwaiter, to make him think I was a cash customer at the hotel, and he led us to a table.

"I'm afraid you'll find the food ere depressingly 'dull,' I told my comrade-in-arms. "No ortolans or nummingbird tongues. They seem to go in for plain but wholesome foods. Won't you try the breast of guinea hen, with a sip of Onion Soup Reine?"

"I don't care if I do," he said. 'I ain't particularly particular about what I eat."

"My nerves are all shot," I re marked airily. "New York tires me dreadfully. I have to run about nolens volens-that's Latin for willynilly-from one night club to another, brushing up on old friendships. And I'm getting so tired of shows and cocktail parties! Won't you have a slug of hootch with me? 've got to have one."

He gulped nervously and replied that he didn't care if he did. I noticed with satisfaction that he was taking in all the propaganda about night clubs, shows, and cocktail par-

"I'm a man of simple tastes myself," I said, lifting both eyebrows to give my face that bored expression. "I can't stand these silly mixed drinks. I like my liquor straight. I'm partial to Scotch.

"I'm a rye man myself," he said. The waiter, who had been standing by with a growingly disgusted face. shrugged his shoulders and fetched two tiny flagons of the Old Enemy. His face sank a little at the sight, out I managed to keep up a sophisticated front. I took a sip of soda and lifted the glass. "Well, here's looking at you and going down me."

"Corn on the corn," he said, wincing at the toast. I downed the yellow poison and so did he. I bungled the job, though, and had to use two gulps. Occoh! I shuddered violently, but he didn't see. He had turned his face and was coughing with real fervor.

We managed to get through the meal all right, weakened though we were by the firewater. I continued to impress him. The only obstacle I hit was his reminder that I would be spending Thanksgiving on kitchen police.

We parted when I told him couldn't get out of a reception I had to attend at 2:30. I had sufficiently impressed him and, with the aid of Providence, I might be able to borrow money from him occasionally back at Fort Brage.

The meal cost me nothing, but always hock my watch. If I had a and I haven't been on KP yet."

Thanksgiving Day-with all its roast Vermont turkey, its pies and fruits, its candles, and free cigarettes-was just another day to me. Phoney to it.

Our mess sergeant, one Orville D. cut.' Pope, was disgustingly cheerful when he awoke me in the morning. Come, Private Hargrove," yelled gleefully, "the Day is here! Boy-o-boy, are we going to give those hash hounds a holiday treat!"

"Please go away," I said. "Just go away and let me gently curse." "Oh, Private Hargrove," "we have so much to be thankful for. So very, very much! We have food, and warmit, and Food we've got I growled. 'Including potatoes, with peelings to toes and washing dishes for the

'It is a glorious day," drooled Private Buchman. 'It does my old heart good to think of the expression on those boys' faces when they see that Thanksgiving dinner."

"Repress yourself, Pappy," asked him. "It is not to think of the dinner. I am thinking of the sinks overflowing with dirty dishes left by those gluttonous hogs. It was not enough that we had trays to wash. Now we have to have improvements. Now we have to have china plates. And cups. And soup bowls. And silverware. I hate progress!"

"Better leave the lad alone, Pappy," sighed Sergeant Pope, "He is pouting and wll not enter into the spirit of the day. He has done wrong and is paying for it now." Private Buchman and the mess sergeant busied themselves at the ovens. I sat there feroclously jabbing at potatoes and muttering wildly. Three times I scowled at the sergeant, but he wasn't looking. Maury Sher, my bosom compan racing in through the back door. Maury was slated to be transferred to a cook's job at Madison Barracks, New York, and would be leaving the following day.

"If you have come to extend the season's greetings, comrade," I told him wearily, "kindly do not trouble yourself. To paraphrase Dickens, any fool who goes about with 'Happy Thanksgiving' on his lips should be boiled in his own slumgullion and buried with a GI breadstick in his heart. Do not attempt to cheer me."

"I'm not going to Madison Barracks," he shouted. "I'm staying here. Right here in the Replacement Center! I'm going to be a mess sergeant in the antitank battery. A mess sergeant!"

I was dawdling over a huge choco late nut sundae the other night at the Service Club cafeteria when John ny Lisk walked in with someone who was a dead ringer for Simmons Jones of the Charlotte News staff Anyone who is a dead ringer for Simmons Jones can't be anybody

It was Simmons, all right. He ooked as if the two things he needed most at the moment were a haircut and a kind word of sympathy. He had the look of utter futility known only to those who have been in the Army for less than ten days. Poor mmons was in bad shape.

Well, boy," I asked him, "how do you like the Army? And you don't need to lie about it."

"I don't think I'll ever get used to it," he said. "I've been pushed and crowded and yelled at for a week now, and it doesn't get any better. Maybe I was just born to be a civilian."

"You should have seen Johnny and me when we got in," I told him. "That's been only four months ago, and here we are being condescending and fatherly already. Them were the days, weren't they, John-Simmons knocked on wood. "Well, up was staggering. If they must have forgotten me. I've worst should come to worst, I could been in the Army a week already "You will, brother," said Johnny.

More Nurses Needed

Many American hospitals cannot maintain normal standards of service today because of the lack of nurses according to reports made to the U. S. Public Health Service of the Federal Security Agency. A year from now America will need 359,000 nurses—or 100,000 more than are now available. Of this number 66,000 will be needed for military service and 293,000 for civilians. "Well, Simmons," Johnny said, "it's like they told you before you came in. The Army will certainly make a man of you. Look at Hargrove there. He'd never done a good day's work in his life before he got into the Army. Now he's the potato-peeling champion of five regiments."

"Private Lisk," I said coldly, "let is not bring personalities into this." Fortunately, Miss Scarborough, senior hostess of the Service Club, they put the two of us to cleaning and painting GI cans until past sun. her into the company. The discus-

> Reading thro paper the other day, I noticed stories written by Pvt. T. Mulvehill, Private Thos. Mulvehille, Pfc. Tom Mulvehill, Thomas Mulvehill (pfc.) and various other authors whose names bore startling resemblance to Thomas Mulvehill, Pvt. or Pfc.

> The collection of literary and journalistic contributions to the Fort Bragg Post were all marked by the same flair for rhetoric, the true gift of gab, and a certain rich and gorgeous sentimentality. In the midst of a factual story about a group of college girl choristers coming to Fort Bragg for a concert, the steady journalistic strain would suddenly burst into brilliant and majestic talion recreation hall will burst into golden sound next Tuesday night when the angelic voices of thirty lovely Zilch College young ladies present a recital . . . " or "the General's little eight-year-old son, awed by the solemnity of the occasion, clung to his daddy's hand throughout the impressive ceremonies." This is what is known as the Mul-vehill Touch. The Mulvehill Touch is supplied at Fort Bragg by the Public Reis. tions Office's irrepressible and inimitable whirling dervish, Black Tom Mulvehill, a fantastic and unbelievable Irish tyro, who came from New York City by way of Salt Lake City, Utah. Mulvehill of the great head and the shaggy locks, Mulvehill of the lumbering walk, the men of a thousand faces and a thousand voices-Mulvehill is the Public Relations Office's one spark of true glamour, our hope of immortality. Mulvehill is everywhere at all times. Out of every hundred photographs taken at Fort Bragg-official or personal, professional or amsteur-it is safe to say that the flexible face of Private Mulvehill will beam out at you from ninetyave of them. Photographers have no idea of how he gets into the pictures, but a picture of any "Rec" hall in the Center will show Mulvehill playing ping-pong. (He's the one nearest the camera.)

Mulvehill's next greatest talent is his ability to create wildness and confusion at will. His desk drawers bulge and spill great quantities of unrelated papers, old notes, newspaper clippings, and weird personal effects. His working schedule and methods are chaotic and unfathomable. He can write six stories at using every needed typewriter building. building. (TO BE CONTINUED)

A small service charge will be made if I make your Declaration of Estimated Tax.

What The Declaration 18 . . .

The "Pay-as-you-go" Tax Law imposes on the individual the following new requirements:

1. Individuals whose income exceeds certain limits must file by Sept. 15th, 1943 a "Declaration" of the estimate tax on their 1948 income.

2. The estimate tax, less certain credits must be paid in two installments on Sept. 15th and December 15th, 1943.

Come in early and avoid the 11th hour rush. I will take pride in working up your "Declaration" so it will be of great assistance in making your Income Tax return next March.

Nonsense Must Cease

One effective weapon against inflation is greater production of consumer goods. Taxes and bonds can never be made to absorb all of the war inflated earnings of the people, Moreover, it is becoming evident that price ceilings are a limited success. Therefore, to help maintain stability there must be sufficient production of necessities to furnish an outlet for consumers' dollars. If there is no such purchasing power ou let and wages continue to spiral upward, accompanied by astronomical government borrowing, the inevitable result will be more and more inflation.

Civilian production should not be curbed any more than is absolutely necessary to armament demands. The nonsense of artificial restrictions on production merely to make the people realize they are at war, must cease. Lengthening casualty lists carry their own tragic story.

In addition to stepping up production, the reams of red tape entangling retail distribution must be removed. Rationing and price regulations must be simplified. Attempts to stop inflation by bludgeoning retail prices back to lower levels regardless of costs, should be abandoned before the distribution industry is demoralized. The average merchan, chain s'ore in particular, operates on paper thin margins.

If the "get tough" theorists persist in hunting for excuses to curtail production and dis ribution, instead of hunting for means to achieve greater production and more efficient distribution, the country will have not only inflation but thousands of crippled industries. And instead of being able to sit in Washington issuing decrees from swivel chairs to cooperative, organized retailers, the price fixers will be forced to chase up and down the back alleys of the nation in a vain attempt to catch black market operators.

Labor Bosses Not Needed

United States Senator Rufus C. Holman has called on the Senate Committee on Education and force, violence intimidation, and racketeering and stead of discouraged as the chains were by special says it should be ameded to "save he good fea- taxes which rob consumers.

tures of it and yet reform the mischief-making provisions contained in it.

"The National Labor Relations Act as it now reads and is administered, permits and encourages racketeering of a most vicious and un-American character.

"By means of force and violence, cit'zensboth employes and employers-are intimidated by legalized gangsters, so that many good American citizens no longer are permi ted to engage in free enterprise either by use of their labor or capital.

'All this is wrong and immoral, in my opinion, and it is my honest hope that the commi tee will promptly offer the reformatory amendments which the existing chao ic and un-American situation demands. The present law, in effect, sets up labor-bosses or strikemasters or racketeers who are parasites on the earnings of the workers and an effective force in regulating the freedom and liberty of American citizens."

The Senator raises an issue which must be settled iniriy for employes as well as employers if freedom of opportunity and liberty for the individual survive in this nation.

Keep "Digging"

Harold L. Ickes Petroleum Administrator for War, has said that: "We must keep digging to find as near a billion and a quarter barrels of new oil eech year as possible." But the plain fact is that we are not "digging" and this nation which is geared to the use of huge quantities of oil, faces a dangerous crude oil shortage.

Main reason for new well shortage can be found within the government. Restrictions on material and equipment, together with inadequate crude oil prices set by government officials, are threatening our oil supply.

John M. Lovejoy, president of the Seaboard Oil Company, alarmed at the complacency of authorities, shows that "wildcat" drilling, far from being sufficient, should be immediately more than ripled. He warns that: "If new discoveries are to keep pace with withdrawals, which is a reasonable desideratum, and assuming a continuation of the percentages of hits and average size of new fields as shown for the years 1941 and 1942 . . more than 10,000 wildcat wells should be drilled in 1943 . . Any statement carrying the implication that currently equaling 1942 exploratory activity is sufficient, is misleading and will not bear even casual

Oil men know the facts about oil resources. Their advice should be heeded.

Open the Way For Progress

A fundamental issue with respect to retail distribution must be understood before the nation plunges into the post-war era, or progress loward higher liying standards will be unnecessarily deayed. The issue is whether or not politicians and pressure groups are going to continue forcing the passage of punitive ax laws against specified types of progressive retailers. In the past they could do this because many people did not understand the underlying issue clearly-they were led to believe hat punitive tax laws to penalize chain stores were legitimate measures to curb alleged monopolies.

The ordinary citizen often failed to discern the utter inconsistency of this carefully nourished belief. He failed to realize that whereas monopolies are supposed to control sources of supply, the chains actually did nothing of the kind-that whereas monopolies tend to create higher prices, the chains tended to reduce prices. And, too, he did not realize that monopoly charges based on size alone were rank ho; air, when independent merchants do close, to three-quarters of total retail business in the United States.

When he war is over there will be many more innovations in retailing initiated by resourceful individuals. These innovations will make an even more efficient distribution system. Some will be dled against man's transgression Labor to amend the National Labor Relations Act and protect the American laborer from "exploita-some by newcomers in the field. Weekly Health Letter

By Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer

Austin-A steady increase of deaths in Texas from all forms of cancer is disclosed by the fact that over 45,000 persons have died from this dreaded disease within the last 10 years, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"The public should be warned against cancer 'quacks' and socalled cancer cures," Dr. Cox said. Advertising of medicines and socalled cancer doctors puts dangerous misinformation before the public. Undoubtedly," Dr. Cox declared, "there are many persons who being thus delayed in seeking proper medical advice, unnecessarily lose their lives to this dis-

According to the State Health Officer there are two recognized scientific ways of treating cancer namely, surgery and the use of radium and X-ray. Treatment must be started early and be carried out by a competent surgeon In almost two-thirds of the cases, surgery is relied upon to remove cancerous growths, while X-ray or radium is used to good advantage in approximately one-third of the cases successfully treated. Frequently the two methods are combined.

"The greatest defense against death by cancer is early diagnosis," Dr. Cox stated. "Every case is an acute emergency demanding instant attention, and it is unforunate that so many persons suf-fering from cancer do not seek medical advise until beyond possibility of cure."

Dr. Cox pointed out that any unusual bleeding from any body cavity, any lump in the breast, or any surface sores, especially on the face and mouth, changed appearance of any wart or mole, and even chronic indigestion may be symploms denoting the presence 34:4-9) Aaron had only a weak "alibi" to offer. The golden calf had practically made itself (see Exod. 32: 24). How quick man is to justify himself instead of admitting his guilt. No doubt our excuses sound just as silly as Aaron's in the ears of God.

Moses knew better. The sin was dealt with in drastic fashion. When one deals with a wild ravenous beast, there is one remedy-"shoot to kill." Not only were the leaders of the wickedness slain, but the ground gold of the calf image was vealed in Christ and the redemption put into water, which all Israel drank. Thus were they all marked as sharing the guilt of this idolatry. There is a lesson here for us. America is far from God. We need to seek His face in repentance. But let us remember that we (that is, Christian men and women) are a part of America. It is our guilt, and we ought to be on our faces before God, pleading for God's mercy upon our land. Moses was now ready to seek the Lord's mercy for his wayward people. He is the intercessor, the intermediary. God had a man who had compassion and love in his heart, and the Lord heard him. Loving-kindness and tender mercy flowed forth in place of flaming

There is no need for despair in the heart of the one who deals with God. The missed opportunity for obedience and blessing may be gone forever, but God is still on the giving hand ready to meet the returning prodigal, ready to give beauty for ashes (Isa, 61:3) and to restore the years that the locust has destroyed (Joel 2:25). Amazing grace!

In the keeping of these commandments, Israel was assured of the blessing of God. As we pointed out last week, the real fulfillment of the law came in Jesus Christ, who did not set aside its requirements, but met them all, for all who believe in

Farmers Will Need Help

Harvesting America's war-time food and fiber crops will require the employment of at least 750,-000 more persons on farm by October 1. The farm labor force on August 1, was approximate 11 million. Throughout the country, business men, girl scouts, boy scouts, townspeople, women and high school students have been helping farmers. To insure that there will be no important crop losses because of labor shortage, farmers will need the help of many thousands of U. S. Crop Corps volunteers. The Crop Corps is established now in most agricultural counties and civilian groups in most large cities have the machinery for enlisting volunteers. Recruitment of workers is handled locally by the agricultural extension workers and the U. S. Employment Service. Volunteers are paid established

Car owners who still hold the old type "B" and "C" gasoline ration coupon books should exchange them for the new mileage ration sheets of coupons between August 23 and September 1, OPA announced recently. Old type "B" and "C" coupons become invalid September 1, and gasoline dealers cannot accept them on and after that date. The old type coupons are identified by the words "Permits Delivery of One Unit of Gasoline". The new type say "Mileage Ration" plus a large "B" or "C".

A total of 110,000 average tin cans will provide an amount of scrap steel normally required to produce the steel used in one medium tank or two light tanks.

The Easy Way To Shop . . .

If your food shopping is a difficult task, try the method that has been adopted by a large number of thrifty housewives -buy everything at the Cut Rate Cash Grocery instead of of shopping for "specials" here and there. You'll be surprised at the difference, shopping will become a pleasure, and better still, you'll find that you are getting quality foods at money-
