Members of Victory Corps Will Have Military Drill

A large number of the students now belong to the High School Victory Corps. So far, their membership is in the general division, but before long some will be eligible for membership in some of the special divisions.

It is planned for each club to receive military drill once a week. This drill will be directed by the Texas Home Defense Guard, Legationaire A. L. Steil, Director General of this Area.

Boys Have Outing On Creek

Eleven of the second-year V. A. boys enjoyed a hunting and fishing trip over the week-end. They left Friday at noon and set up headquarters at Scott's Crossing.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Women at War today are saving for Women at Peace when the War is won. They are buying War Bonds as thrifty housewives, saving to buy those handy, convenient and necessary electrical appliances when their Bonds mature.

Women know that money saved now will help win the peace, putting their menfolk to work in our domestic factories when the war is over.

Hobby Show Exhibits Numerous Interests

The hobby show, sponsored by the Warwhoop Staff, afforded quite a bit of interest to the student body last Thursday and Friday.

An interesting picture postcard collection was that of Carolyn Williams' which consisted of over 150 cards.

One thing was learned about Doris Holmely—she has a talent for sketching that few people seemed to know about.

Charles Crandall and Ruben Jones both entered stamp albums. In them were stamps from all over the world.

J. C. Barnett, Jack Akins and Jake Whiteaker entered model airplanes. There were some very small ones, no larger than half your hand, and others eight to twelve inches across.

An interesting bird egg display was shown by Jerry Gannaway. Very tiny and odd eggs were among those shown.

W. J. Adams entered several very good figures of Popeye that he had sawed and then mounted on wood.

Karleen Anna McGregor entered some of the dolls in her doll collection. There was an original Scarlett O'Hara doll, a Chinese doll, and an old-fashioned china-faced doll.

Unusual ability for wood carving was shown by E. A. Howard in his display of small tools, etc. They were all carved from solid blocks of wood.

New Goal Is Set

Miss Couch's second period study hall reached their goal of $95.00 last Friday. This amount was set to buy one Garand rifle. The class selected another goal of $93.75, which is to be reached by the end of school.

What a Spot for a 'Block-Buster'!

Although there is little to laugh about among the citizenry of Germany these days, there are smiles all around among the top ticks of the military machines gathered around Hitler.

Homemakers Have Silver Tea

A silver tea was held in the Homemaking Cottage last Thursday afternoon from four to six. It was sponsored by the mothers of the Florence Field Chapter of Future Homemakers.

When the guests arrived, they were taken by the homemaking girls on a tour of inspection through the rooms of the cottage and shown the new furniture recently acquired for the combination living-dining room.

A sum of $42.60 was donated to the club. This included liberal contributions made by the members of the Chamber of Commerce.

The hostesses for the tea were Mrs. Bill Richey, Mrs. Hallie Chapman, Mrs. C. G. Burson, Mrs. Roy Ratliff and Mrs. G. C. Bartlett.

Indians Win and Lose In Double Header

Haskell won the first of the two games played here Friday night with Bomarton. Starters for the first game were Harrell and Helweg, forwards, King center, and Adkins and Eveett, guards.

For Haskell H. Everett was high point man, making 10 points. Hot man for Bomarton was Tucker with 12 points, 5 goals and 2 free shots.

In the second game, which ended 32-15 in favor of Bomarton, the winner's forward, Moore made 8 field goals and one free pitch for a total of 17 points.

The Indians never seemed to get started. They had other bad luck, too. Besides losing two men by personal fouls, Roy Everett, first string forward, suffered a fractured collar bone in Thursday evening practice.

Here Tuesday night, Haskell is coming back with blood in their eyes and revenge in their heart to take the Old Glory five in what promises to be a fast and close game.

Sales Take Upward Turn

War is our job and freedom our pay. Buy stamps today and every day.

The stamp sales for last Friday were quite a bit better than those of the week before. The amount this time was $138.85, an increase of $60.35 over the last stamp sales.

The class buying the most stamps and bonds was the Homemaking 1A Class in which the sales amounted to $66.10. The student buying bonds were: Eugene Risley — $18.85; Mildred Chapman — $38.50; and Louise Spencer $18.75.

We can still increase that amount, students. Remember the good old days when we sold over $200 worth of stamps on several occasions? We can do that again, and we will if each and every one of you will pitch in and help.

There are 31 of these presses which divide their time between war and postage stamps. The War Stamps business is big enough to keep 55 men in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing busy.

An increase of 56 per cent was chalked up by the University of Texas in the number of new students registering at the beginning of the second semester.

Meet The Seniors

BRUCILLE GARDNER

Another senior who has attended all four years in H.H.S. is Brucille Gardner. During her four years in H. H. S., she has been a member of the Spanish Club for two years, and is now secretary of the club.

As her hobby, Brucille collects photographs. Her plans after graduation are a little uncertain, but she hopes to enter college.

HILDA GRAHAM

Another blue-eyed blond senior girl who has attended Haskell High School all four years.

Hilda has been active in baseball and volleyball. She has been in the Homemaking Club for three years, Gypsy Rambler club for one year, and Los Amigos Club for one year.

Her ambition after she graduates is to attend a business college and become a stenographer. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Graham.

Class Has Tacky Party

The second period History class was entertained with a tacky party in the home of Earlene Pearsey on Monday, February 8, 1943.

Refreshments were served to the following sophomores: Jimmie Lou Free, Ruby Grace McKelvin, Lucile Covey, Mattie Muriel Carruth, Deen Bartlett, Era Mae Roberts, Betty Maud Cawley, (who was the tackiest one), Truett Reeves, Billy Howeth, Joe Ray Smith, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Odell and Earlene Pearsey.

Hot Off The Press

When you begin pasting your War Stamps in your album, do you ever wonder anything about the making of all these extra stamps?

You have often heard of the term "hot off the press" applied to a newspaper that's just come out. Well, strangely enough, that term really does apply to those War Stamps you are pasting in your album.

Great pressure is also used in the process. The stamps pass between rollers on a continuous sheet, the paper moistened so that it will absorb ink better; the glue is applied hot to one side as the ink is pressed on the other; and the whole sheet runs through a long "oven" which dries both glue and ink.

There are 31 of these presses which divide their time between war and postage stamps. The War Stamps business is big enough to keep 55 men in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing busy.

Now history is repeating itself. America's war industry again is pouring out the weapons of war—meeting production goals that seemed fantastic at first.

Does anyone know where Nance Collins keeps herself on Sundays now? If you should call her up sometime you'd probably hear, "Who Nance? No, she isn't she is out of town."

Well, students, it's time for the world to come to an end, or anyway I've had all I can stand—J. W. in detention without Maxie. Maybe I just got in on the wrong?

Has Weimert stepped out-of-the-lime-light, or is a certain girl so love sick she can't talk? I'm sure it is the latter but come on, kid, find that voice before next football season.

"I'm Saving My Love for B" is Ylene's favorite song. I value my life so I'll let you fill in the blanks.

That little green buggy with white side-wall tires and a radio has been doing some flitting around lately. Stamford seems to hold the lucky number. Could the reason be "Kadets"?

A certain boy named Sonny, or rather that's his nickname, seemed to have "clicked" with at least two of our Haskell girls. My advice to you, Sonny, is take it slow and easy, and watch your step!

Ruby, "Inkie", and Jimmie gossip. Why goodness no, they just get around a lot and have a lot to talk about.

Do you know all the digital pressure points? Can you give artificial respiration? Do you know the definition of First Aid? These are the questions that the members of the "Hale American Club" are asking themselves lately.

What was the matter with Gordon Friday night? Could it have been Ruby?

"I told you so" Hindenberg was a soldier who had little taste for politics... and little love for Hitler, forced on him as Chancellor. This shrewd old Prussian summed up Germany's defeat: "America's brilliant, if pitiless, war industry had entered the service of patriotism and had not failed it... They understood war." Now history is repeating itself. America's war industry again is pouring out the weapons of war—meeting production goals that seemed fantastic at first. Back of this fast-growing military power is electric power, turning the machines that turn out everything from bullets to battleships under the American system of free enterprise... a way of life where free men are encouraged to invent, invest, create and produce. And everybody benefits—something the little rabble-rousing dictator will never understand... until, perhaps, in some shadowy hereafter he hears his old commander mutter: "I told you so." Along this same vein were the prophetic words of Thomas A. Edison who, late in life, said: "... Electric development has only well begun. Electricity will have an even greater part to play in the world's future, granted that it is an unfettered, with full opportunity for largest possible individual initiative and energy..." By "unfettered" he meant freedom from political bureaucracy and socialistic control which throttles individual initiative and enterprise. His successors in the electric field have done a great job in carrying out his prophecy of an even greater future for electricity. But unless it remains "unfettered," his voice, too, may be heard: "I told you so." West Texas Utilities Company INVEST IN AMERICA — Buy War Bonds and Stamps!

The Japs Made "Shortening" Shorter!

On December 7, 1941, the Japanese cut the United Nations off from large supplies of oils that essential for food and industrial uses—fats and that help to win wars.

Fortunately, America is a great fats and oils producing region. Our animal fats, such as butter lard, and our vegetable oils, such as cottonseed peanut oil and others, are great national assets. We are producing more fats and oils at home—and can produce much more.

Cottonseed is one of our major oil seeds—because of climate, experience and other factors, many farmers can produce needed vegetable oil more efficiently in the form of cottonseed than in any other way. For this reason, we all owe a debt of gratitude to our cotton farmers who are keeping shortening, salad oil and margarine from being too short.

By growing more cotton per acre in '43, and marketing every acre we can, we'll help to supply fats and meet war needs.

Helen Bagby Circle Meets for Bible Study

Monday evening, Feb. 15th the Central Circle met in the Fidelis class room for a Bible lesson. With Mrs. Ellis at the piano we first sang I Love To Tell The Story, followed with prayer by Mother Crawford.

Mrs. Reynolds then taught our lesson The Song of Solomon with Mrs. Ellis discussing the last chapter. This book being a puzzle to many readers we know each one present really solved a problem by being there and hearing our efficient teacher explain this book to us. It teaches the mutual love of Christ and his church and the love of the church for Christ.

Solomon, who succeeded his father (David) as king of Israel and reigned 40 years. He was noted for his wisdom and the principal event in his reign was the building of the Temple in Jerusalem. He was also famous for his riches and his character in his early life but in his later days he was led into idolatry and sin by his numerous and foreign wives. In the last chapter we find these words "Love is strong as death and many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it. After our lesson we sang, Love Lifted Me and Mrs. Tettler gave the closing prayer.

Ladies present were: Mmes. Reynolds, Ellis, Couch, DeBard, Bailey, Sides, Yantis, Tettler, Crawford, Taylor and Miss Ida Crawford.

Proof of the Pudding

After Pearl Harbor a plan had to be worked out for war risk insurance. Here was a chance to put government into the insurance business on a grand scale. To the credit of those in charge and to the lasting benefit of the country, this was not done.

Congress provided that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation could invest up to a billion dollars in the capital stock of the War Damage Corporation then created. Instead of building a gigantic new bureau to handle these war risks, the voluminous details of insuring the property of the American people is handled by directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation through 546 insurance companies acting as fiduciary agents. These companies had in existence more than 150,000 insurance companies reporting to more than 1,400 policy issuing offices. Arrangements were made to pay small commissions and reimburse insurance companies for actual out-of-pocket expense in connection with war damage business. The RFC accounting department takes care of the figures and the Federal Reserve banks receive the funds. This was an indispensable service provided without great cost to the taxpayers.

This is the way government and industry should cooperate in a free country where the government exists for the people rather than the people existing for the government.

This emergency job was carried out with the use of machinery created by private enterprise, thus proving the flexibility of our American system. We don't need to junk our American way of doing things, as some have suggested, to fight the dictators.

Coordinating Food Resources

"Food will win the war and write the peace," says Claude R. Wickard.
Food must not only be raised and prepared for the consumer, but it must be distributed so he can get it. At the opening of 1942, there were 603,000 food stores in the United States. At the end of the year there were 570,000.
In order to meet the countless problems store face today, the National Association of Food Chains has created a "Food Industry War Committee" to deal with the acute food situation, and cooperate with the food administrator in solving distribution problems.

Without concerted action by the stores, such as they are giving no food rationing program could ever be successfully carried out. Our whole industrial and military success depends upon the rationing and distribution of food.
The nation is fortunate in having coordinated leadership in the retail food distribution field that can gear its plans to those of the food administrator so as to render the maximum service, to the housewife, war industries and armed forces.

One More Demonstration

Probably no industry ever faced such a world wide job as has oil during the past year. Overnight oil producers were called upon not only to keep the domestic needs of the greatest oil and gasoline consuming nation in the world supplied, but in addition, they found themselves called upon to provide undreamed of amounts of fuel and lubricants for our armed forces and those of our Allies on the seven seas and every part of the globe.

Delivery of oil, due to submarine sinkings of tankers, has been a problem beyond the control of the oil producers. Seventy-two oil executives drawn from companies in every part of the nation have cooperated with the government's petroleum administrator to assure an unflinching supply of indispensable petroleum products to our armed forces. Our domestic needs, although hampered by tanker shortages, have been met in the most vital cases, although rationing had to be applied to personal use of oil products.

Already tires made from synthetic rubber, which the oil industry is also relied upon to produce, are being advertised as going to the armed forces and essential users. It is safe to say that the ingenuity of the oil industry in cooperation with the government, will solve this country's oil and rubber problems.

This is another great industry, motivated by American enterprise and ingenuity, demonstrating that it can meet all obstacles when and where they arise.

Living Up To Tradition

The medical profession hasn't done a lot of talking about the "sacrifices" its members are making. And yet doctors, perhaps more than any other group next to the service men, are making real sacrifices in this war.

Thousands of them have voluntarily given up their practices. They live in the foxholes with the soldiers. They fight and die with the navy and the marines. They perform miracles amid blood and suffering. Gone is the business for which they spent so many years in preparation, often on a financial shoe string.

The doctors left at home are making sacrifices too. Men who should be enjoying the leisurely aftermath of useful careers are back in harness working at a killing pace. They are on duty 24 hours a day—and they don't yell for time-and-a-half when Mrs. Jones is having a baby at 3 A. M.

The doctors are carrying out the tradition of American medicine in every emergency. Their example might well be followed by workers in other fields.

Encourage the Taxpayers

Stripped of all political camouflage, Congress faces two inescapable duties in formulating future tax policies.

First, a tax law must be perfected which will provide a practical method for millions of individuals who never paid taxes before, to pay taxes on income as earned.

Second, the tax structure must not destroy productive enterprise and profit, thereby eliminating tax income for the government at its source.

This will not be so difficult to do if politics can be eliminated from the formula.

A MESSAGE FROM DR. ALBERT EINSTEIN

THE INSTITUTE FOR ADVANCED STUDY
SCHOOL OF MATHEMATICS
PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY

It is hard for me to believe that anyone needs to be convinced by what anyone else says; that in our present situation we must each use our money to serve the common good, if this war does not end in success for our side, then the well-being of all of us will be a thing of the past and with it our money possessions. The French, the Belgians and the Dutch have learned by experience that every individual shares, willingly or unwillingly, in his own person and all the time, in the misery of the whole people. So it is quite simply a counsel of common sense to put every dollar we can possibly spare at the service of our defensive war; since the fate of every one of us immediately depends on its successful outcome.
A. Einstein.

Dr. Albert Einstein, one of the most famous of all refugees from Nazi persecution, shows by the above handwritten statement how he feels about the purchase of War Bonds.

"The French, the Belgians, and the Dutch have learned by experience," says the noted scientist, "that every individual shares, willingly or unwillingly in his own person and all the time, in the misery of the whole people. So it is quite simply a counsel of common sense to put every dollar we can possibly spare at the service of a defensive war; since the fate of everyone of us immediately depends on its successful outcome."

U. S. Treasury Dept.

Pay as You Go

Before this year is half gone, unless all signs fail, the United States Government will be collecting taxes on 1943 incomes as they are earned. The President, the Treasury and leaders in both the House and the Senate favor some kind of pay-as-you-go plan for income tax collection. Specific provisions have not been worked out. The law is still in the making. But features of suggested plans are much alike and are being discussed freely.

The main idea in taking taxes out of current income is to collect revenue while the people have the money, which is sound. In the case of an employee, tax payments likely will be deducted directly from salary checks and pay envelopes, and the worker will never handle the money at all. Such a method might (but not likely) get started before March 15, when payments on 1942 income taxes will be due.

What About 1942 Taxes?

Fully three times as many people will be paying income tax this year as ever before. New taxpayers, as well as the old ones, already are wondering about 1942 taxes. They ask three main questions. (1) Will I be expected to pay last year's taxes at the same time I am paying this year's taxes? (2) Will we skip 1942 and, if so, will the government lose a year's revenue? (3) Will the 1942 taxes be suspended now and dropped on our necks right after the war when, most likely, we will be having a spell of hard times?

Matter-of-fact statements of some plain facts will answer two of those questions: The average American who earned anything last year is not able this year to pay taxes at current rates on two years of income. Especially is this true of a typical farmer. His last year's earnings are gone, because he had operated at a loss for several previous years, and obligations that were hanging over took his 1942 profits. Two years' taxes in one year will not leave him a living.

Postponement Is Worse

Suspending the 1942 taxes temporarily, and perhaps spreading them out over several future years, is a home Monday from a visit of several weeks with relatives at Austin. Mr. Meadors met her at Albany, where they stopped over a day with his mother.

D. R. Couch and family of Aspermont came over yesterday and are visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Brockman were up from Eliasville this week visiting their daughter, Mrs. W. L. Hills. They expect to leave in a short time for Idaho, where they have two sons residing.

Judge L. N. Frank of Stephenville was here this week making an investigation with reference to a murder case here. Judge Frank thought that $7,500 bail as required by the committing magistrate was excessive and talked for habeas corpus proceedings for its reduction if it could not be reduced by agreement with the State's attorneys. No further action has been taken, however, to date.

James Massie of Throckmorton was in Haskell yesterday.

The bad weather of the past few days has stopped the work of railroad grading.

At the regular meeting of the Commissioners Court this week R. E. DeSard was appointed Constable of Precinct No. 1, and has filed bond in the sum of $500 with H. G. McConnell, A. D. English and W. T. McDaniels as sureties, and qualified.

Sorry Suggestion

If the taxpayer, especially the farmer, is not able to pay two years' taxes in 1943 when he is earning something, certainly he can't lift such a burden in a post-war depression. Farmers were hit harder than any other group of citizens after the last war and they have every reason to expect the same thing to happen after World War II.

Question No. 2, above, is double-barrelled. The answer to the first half of it is "Yes." If the vast majority of people can't pay 1942's income taxes this year, nor in several post-war years, we should skip 1942 for them. It is the only sensible thing to do because it can be proved absolutely that skipping 1942 will not cost the government one penny in revenue. Let me start the proof with a homespun illustration:

1942 Is Only a Date
My first experience with income taxes came in 1931. The rules exempted me that year but I had a friend who paid a small amount

Old form 1040-A called it a tax on his 1930 income but that was really a misnomer. My friend, like nearly everybody else, had spent all he earned in 1930 and whatever tax he paid in 1931 came right out of his 1931 earnings. He knew it was his 1931 income that was "taxed" and that 1930 was nothing but a place to start figuring.

That plan is no longer suitable. Tax rolls are larger now, people earn more, rates are higher and exemptions are lower. Incomes are higher even than they were a year ago, and for that reason a pay-as-you-go plan will yield the Treasury more revenue in 1943 than could be raised by the old system. Under a pay-as-you-go plan, taxes will be paid this year just as in previous years. We will not skip a year of paying. We will only discard 1942 as a basis of figuring.

Every year since 1914 when Americans started paying income taxes we have pretended to pay on earnings of the year before. Thus e-

Weekly Health Letter

By Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State

Austin, Texas—Inasmuch as the incidence of whooping cough in Texas has shown a steady increase during the past two months Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today, that strenuous efforts should be made to control the spread of this debilitating childhood disease.

"The only source from which whooping cough may be contracted is another case of whooping cough, and isolation of cases must be universally practiced to prevent its spread," Dr. Cox stated.

"The infectious agent or germ of whoop cough is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing, or speaking," he declared. "The discharges from the nose and throat are dangerous and need for early recognition, careful isolation of cough is obvious." The first sign of the usually a dry cough, persists night and day and become increasingly distressing. Vomiting of food and accompanying the paroxysms, Dr. Cox stressed, should not attend contact with other children for three weeks after the cessation of typical signs of the disease.

"Prevention and control of whooping cough, especially in infants and small children, is accomplished through the use of vaccine and serum," Dr. Cox asserted. "It is important that such be taken to protect the child's health."

every taxpayer has stayed technically in debt to the government for a year or more of taxes. Millions of people never did pay the debt, of course. Every year a certain number have died or suffered from illness or drought or fires. These have quit earning incomes and failed to pay tax on the previous year.

Now, to Catch Up
A good pay-as-you-go plan will save the government these paper losses and lift a technical debt from the taxpayers. This is important because after the war all taxpayers and especially farmers have a depression to face. Depressions are calamities, like fires and sickness and drought. They mean years when (under the present plan) we would be asked to pay taxes on a by-gone year of good income and have little or nothing to pay with.

Some types of workers might escape back taxes if they had no money but a farmer can't escape. He has land that can be levied upon. It was wisdom that led the National Grange and the American Farm Bureau Federation both to go on record recently in favor of pay-as-you-go income taxes.

As Revealed by the Files of the Free Press 20, 30 and 40 years ago.

20 Years Ago—Feb. 23, 1923

Rev. C. Jones of this city, who is pastor of the Rockdale Baptist church in the Cobb community, reported holding the first services last Sunday in the new church recently completed by the people of that community.

At the regular meeting of the City Council last week, G. Glenn was employed as a full-time paid fireman for the Haskell Fire Department.

Construction work on the laundry building is progressing rapidly, and plans have been made to install machinery and equipment for a modern steam laundry as soon as the building is ready.

G. W. Kennedy of Weinstert was in the city Monday. He is a brother of J. F. Kennedy of Haskell, and recently moved to the Weinstert section from Jack county.

John Earles was in the city Saturday from the Post community. He says they have a splendid season in his section and that it has been so wet that he has been able to plow but very little since the last spell of rain and snow.

30 Years Ago—Feb. 22, 1913

William Wells has leased the Callahan building and will put in a stock of furniture.

G. W. Brantley has opened up a barber shop in the Lynch building on the south side.

Judge Jas. P. Kinnard left Tuesday for Belton, where he was called on legal business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bernard of Stamford were visiting with Mrs. Theo Wright of this city this week.

Mrs. Lowrey of Seymour who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Draper of Haskell returned to her home Monday.

Mrs. Plants of Seymour, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. V. Robertson, has returned home.

Ross Hemphill has returned from a trip to Fort Stockton. He saw Tennessee Jones while there and reported that he was selling land right along at $200 per acre. He also stated that it was tough on the border and the ranchmen were being stolen out by the red flaggers and revolutionists.

Mrs. Pat Lewis had a severe attack of appendicitis this week and was taken to a sanitarium on Wednesday for an operation. She was accompanied by her husband and Dr. D. L. Cummins, their family physician.

M. L. Lynch has moved to Grandview to put in a bakery and his restaurant here is now in charge of Mrs. Isam Lynch and Miss Jewell Yoe.

Judge A. J. Smith and brother, C. C. Smith were called by wire to the bedside of their father who is seriously ill at his home in Temple.

L. C. Kinney made a business trip to Wichita Falls Monday. Mr. Kinney is the gentleman who has the process for briquetting coal. He is getting his process in operation at several mines in this state.

40 Years Ago—Feb. 21, 1903

The government has issued a new 2-cent postage stamp. It has on it the portrait of George Washington and is said to present a more ornamental appearance than the one now in use, but is of the same color. It has not yet been put on sale at country offices.

Marshall Pierson and wife left Thursday evening for Galveston to see the warships, and from Galveston they will go to San Antonio and Austin for a brief visit.
